She taught at an elementary school in Floyd County before accepting a position in Washington, D.C. There she worked in the State Department in Foreign Service. In her retirement years she lived in Floyd, where she enjoyed studying local history and compiling genealogies. Miss Tise was well-respected by genealogists and historians alike and was considered an expert on Floyd County's history and people. She was an active member of the Floyd County Historical Society. She was also a member of the Floyd Courthouse Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She attended Zion Lutheran Church, where she was a member of the Zion Ladies Aid Society. Marguerite Tise passed away on August 8, 2002.

Scope and Content:

This collection consists of research compiled by Marguerite Tise on the history of Floyd County, Virginia and its people. The majority of the collection is composed of genealogical research related to many families of Floyd County. The collection includes newspaper clippings, obituaries, marriage announcements, funeral programs, birth announcements, lineage charts, copies of vital statistics, manuscripts written on specific families and topics, correspondence and photographs. Much of the information was compiled as a result of Miss Tise's visits to courthouses, genealogical societies and libraries and by talking to individuals who lived in Floyd County. A large portion of the collection consists of handwritten notes. The collection is divided into five series: Series I: Surnames; Series II: Floyd County Records; Series III: Other State and County Records; Series IV: Miscellaneous Research; and Series V: Manuscripts.
