O R E W O R D

Now has come the time for the staff to present the Senior Class with a final record of eleven years of achievement. The book is planned in the divisions which will reflect the Senior in his full years at Jefferson — School, Classes, Organizations, Features, and Athletics. His work, his attainments, and his interests are all recorded for posterity's eye in this, our year book.

In format, the ACORN has become larger and more streamlined with the aid of candid cameras, modernistic designs, and varied color schemes.

To the 1938 Senior, then, in the name of friends, faculty and school, the ACORN staff bids you Godspeed.

DEDICATION

MISS NANCY LUKENS

You, Miss Lukens, in your quiet, individual way, have been a steady, guiding hand for us in all our ventures. Your unlimited energy and interest have been a challenge to us who accept your counsel. Your unselfish spirit has been an inspiration in all we have done.

To you, then, we, the 1938 ACORN Staff, dedicate this, our final issue.

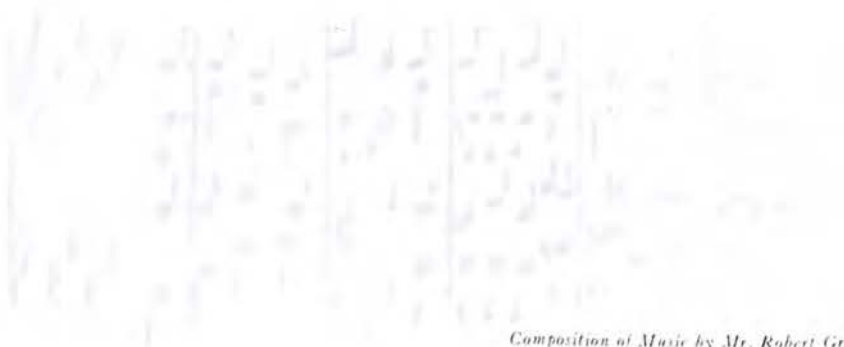

Best wishes
Nancy E. Lukens

A Senior's Quest

Stay! Whither goest thou,
O, lone, courageous traveler?
'Tis one step ventured, one breath drawn,
And thou wilt tread the road alone—
The past is ne'er remembered now—
What thou hast done, over and forgot,
'Tis only "Do" that the world accepts,
Thou, with ardent smile and conquered fear
Wilt face it in thy youthful arrogance,
Wield the axe, fell the mighty forest,
The strength, the tool, the will are in thy hand
And thou wilt do the rest—
The way? Oh, yes, 'tis long, and slow, and rough,
With failing strength
Wilt thou be tempted e'en
To cease thy valiant climb
And rest along the way in sweet repose,
With open heart and bolder strength
Thou ne'er wilt stoop to cooler shade,
But keep the course straight forward with
"On, on, on,"
And still remember in thy daring flight,
The world—so infinite—hath yet reserved
A place for thee to fill—
'Tis only now to brush the others by,
And fearless, take thy long awaited goal—
'Tis there, The world doth whisper softly,
"Come!" 'Tis for the strong,
This, concealed with veiled adversity,
Is thy hopeful Eldorado.

SUSANNE HAYWARD.

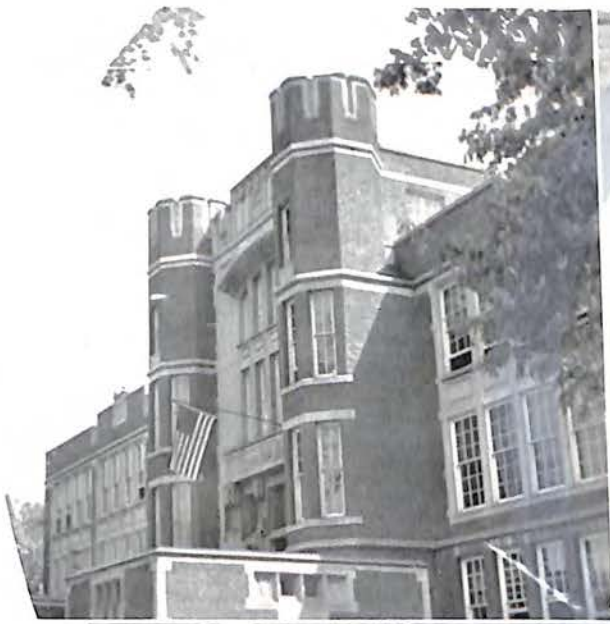

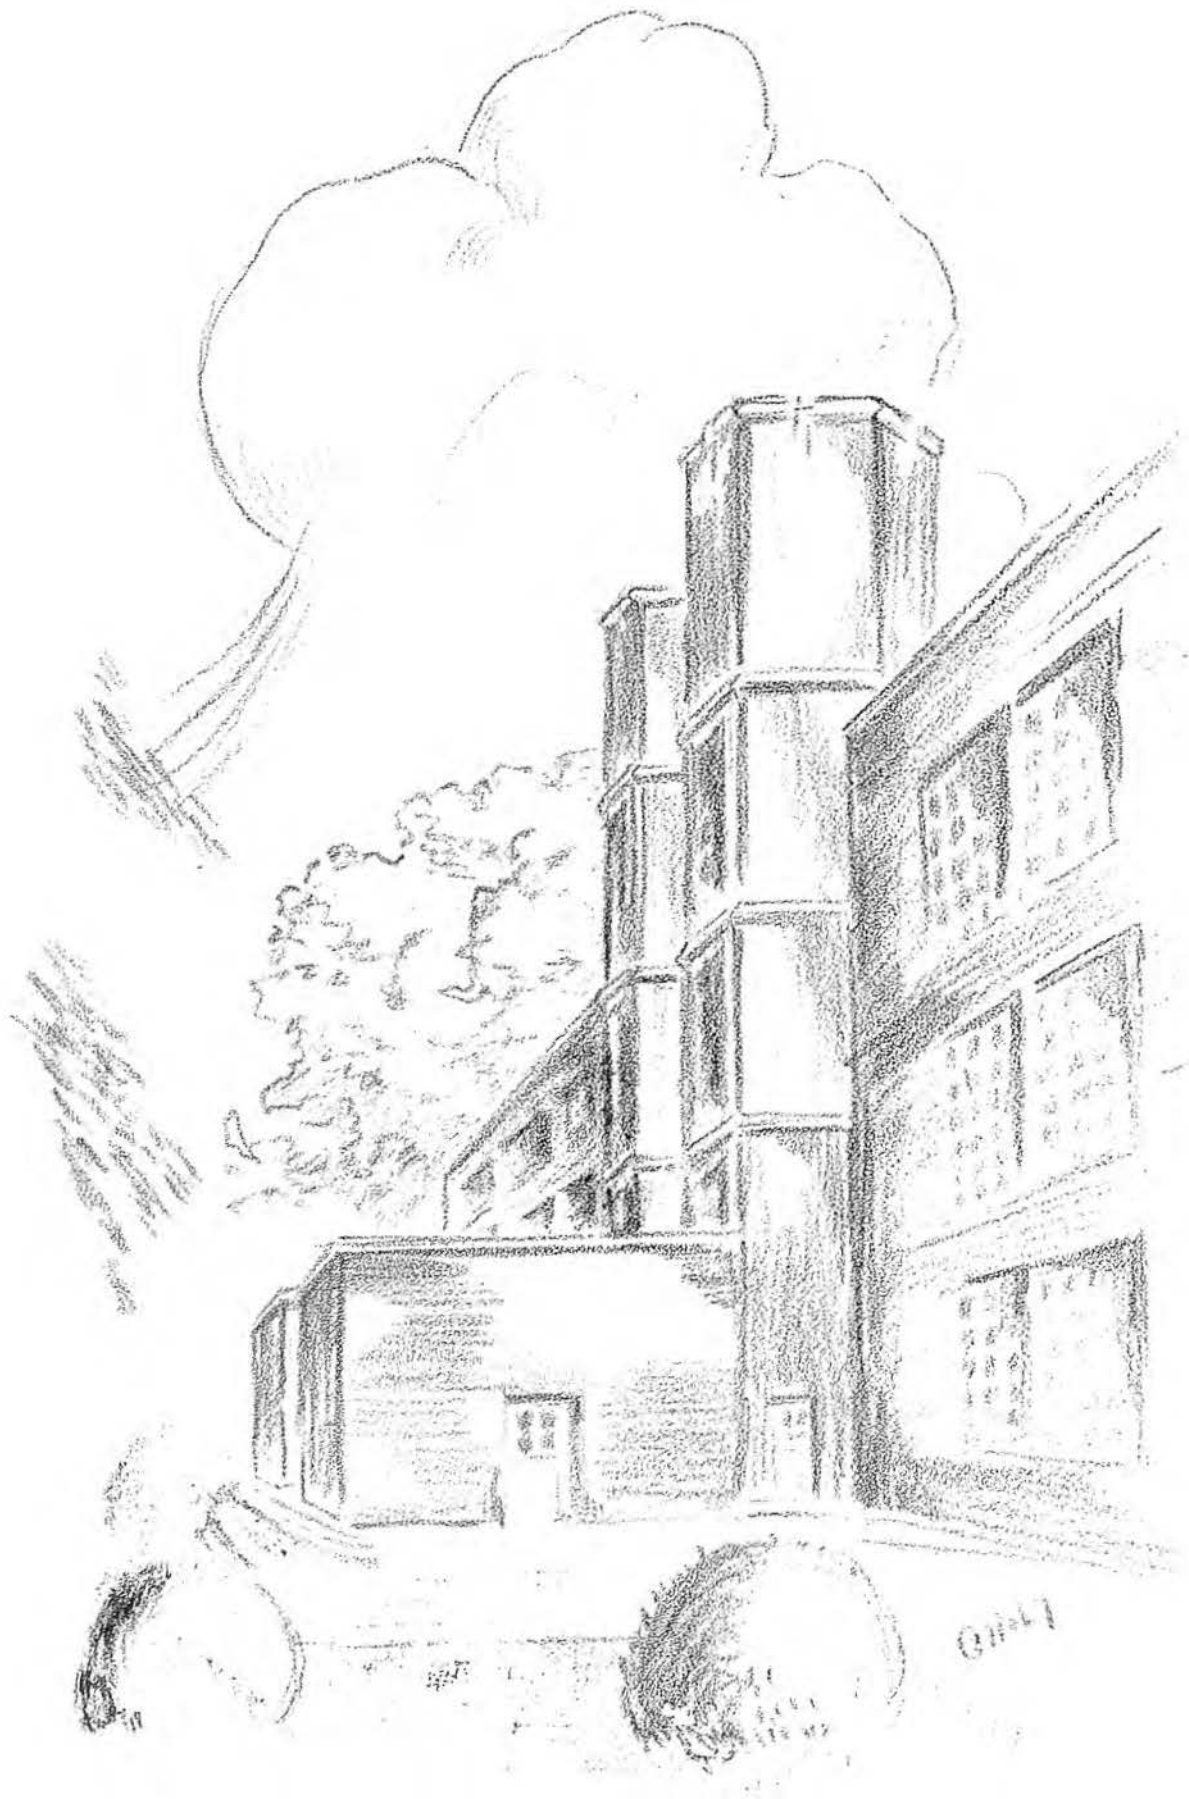

Composition of Music by Mr. Robert Griffith. Words by Music Students.

ALMA MATER

To you, our Alma Mater, our hearts will e'er be true;
And so, with lifted voices, we sing our praise to you,
Still through thy halls we wander, a friend you'll always be;
Forever we'll be faithful, dear Jefferson, to thee.

JOHN D. RIDDICK
Principal

MR. RIDDICK, OUR PRINCIPAL, AND FACULTY MEMBERS: We carry away memories of you, not only as guides and instructors, but also as friends. You've been a vital part of our days at Jefferson. For your interest and help we shall always feel a lasting gratitude.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OF JEFFERSON

The Jefferson Sophomore Class, with hopeful and eager eye, watches the Seniors as they don caps and gowns and courageously take the last steps of high school life. With thoughts of the future and 1940, they'll once again resume their work next fall as Jefferson Juniors!

In comparison to the other classes, however, the Sophomore Class is rather small and, consequently, has not become so well known; but this has not kept them from being represented in a great number of school activities. Several members of this class played on the varsity football team this past year, while others were participating in baseball, track, and other sports open to the Sophs. Some were members of the Prefect Council and Student Council, and quite a few of them contested in literary, athletic and music meets.

This year the Sophomore Class has been headed by a most competent group of officers. The list includes:

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS OF LEE JUNIOR

The Sophomore Class is one of the largest in the history of the school. Its members have participated in all school activities where they have shown in many ways that they are worthy of responsibility and capable of leadership.

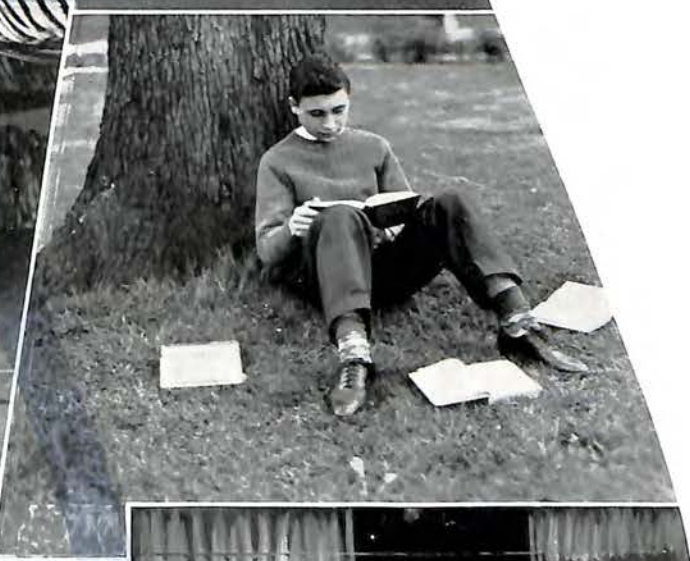

The Sophomore Class has contributed to the following activities of the school: Glee Club; Orchestra and Band; the production of "Chimes of Normandy," an operetta by the Music Department; "Anne of Green Gables," a three-act play sponsored by Student Government, and all athletic teams and contests.

The members of this class have often presided over assemblies and introduced speakers at chapel exercises.

The Sophomore Class has been especially active in the Student Government at Lee Junior. The following are its home room representatives: Leslie Davis, Shirley Ann Witt, Marian Wilson, Lois Maddox, Melvin Atkinson, Anna Boon, Jane Roberts.

JEFFERSON STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student Government in Jefferson High School has now seen ten years of successful service, its tenth anniversary having been celebrated with Student Government Day held this spring.

Each year the Prefect and Student Councils promote a number of projects, the main one being the Point System, which serves to divide the work and honors of the extra curricular activities. Others, such as the regulation of the stairs and cafeteria, have helped make this a distinctive year. Last fall Student Government gave the first dance of the year and sponsored the first play, "Seventeen." The magazine drive, to secure uniforms and instruments for the Jefferson High School Band, brought forth new talent and established a closer sense of unity and loyalty within the Student Body. This year the Fourth State Student Government Convention was held at Jefferson High School.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

One of the outstanding achievements of Student Government this year was the establishing of a chapter of the National Honor Society in Jefferson High.

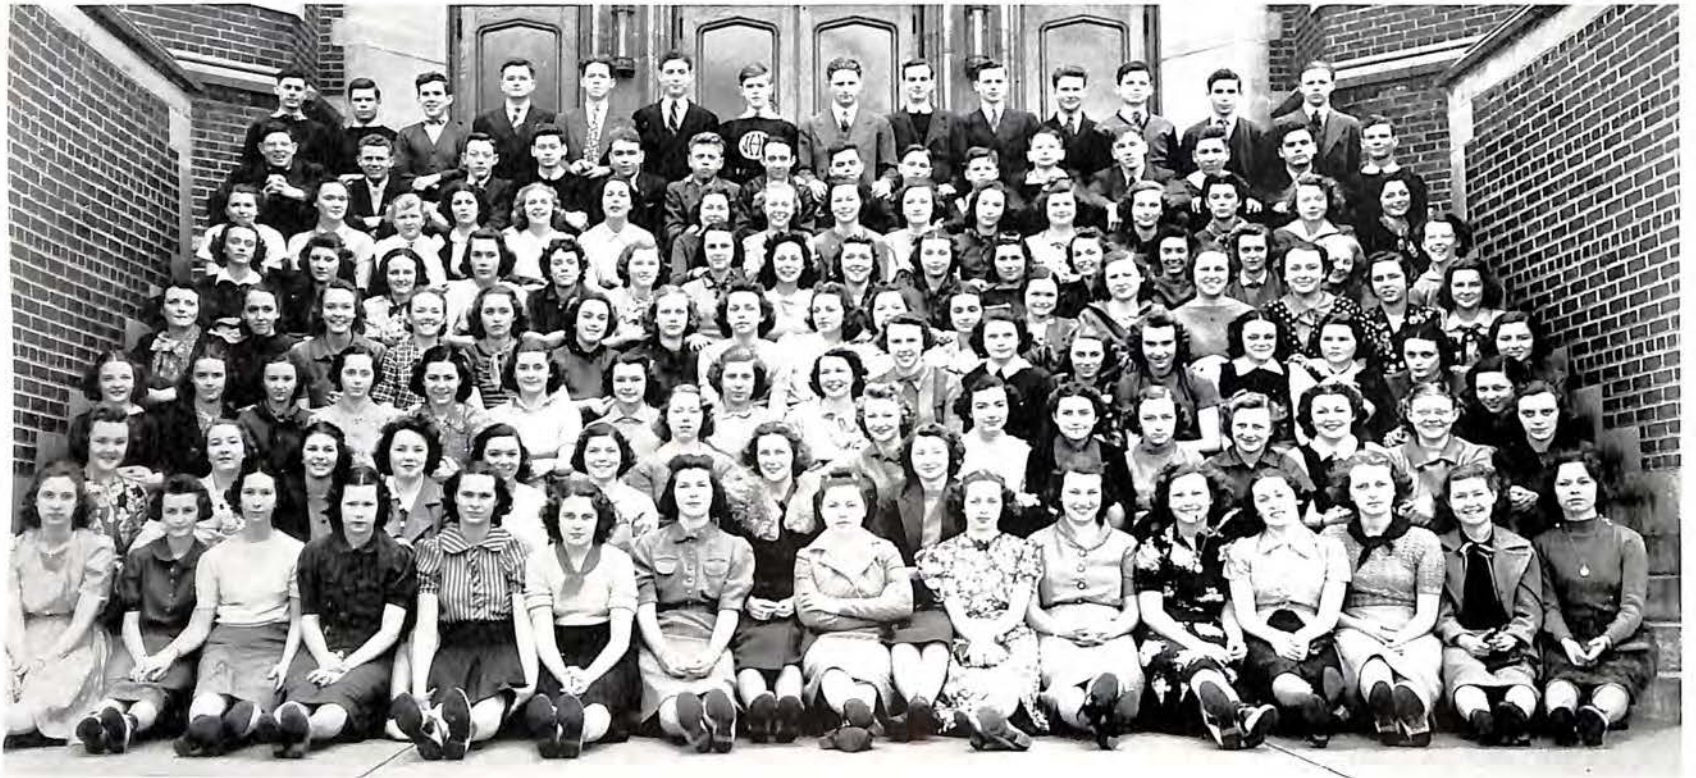

This Chapter of the National Honor Society was established this year in order to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character.

High Juniors and Seniors, who have spent at least one year in this school, who have a scholarship average of "G" on all credit subjects with no failures and who have attained a minimum number of points on activities, are eligible for membership.

There are eighty-five active members and officers this year.

The officers are:

- |                             |   |

THE SPEECH DEPARTMENT

In this age of broadening conceptions of education, a well-organized speech department fills a vital need. In its functions, it contributes to the creative, the dramatic, and the individualistic in our make-up. We have such a department at Jefferson. It includes classes which provide for specialized work in debating, public speaking, reading, spelling, and dramatics. Teams were organized to compete in the various literary meets, and the play, "The Unknown Dimension," was sent to Charlottesville for the State Contest. The general outcome, on the whole, has been very favorable for the Jefferson contestants.

The dramatic department, covering all the phases of stage work, is complete in itself. The classes begin with expression, graduating to stage craft, and from thence to the more advanced class in play production. These classes acquaint students with a knowledge and an appreciation of dramatic art and with the intricate workings behind any stage production. The students study plays, prepare skits and cuttings from long plays, build sets, experiment with make-up, and study voice, diction, lighting and stage effects. The material is particularly adapted to individual expression and it provides an opportunity for the participation of a large group. In the practical application of the knowledge acquired in the classes, plays and assemblies have been presented and managed by students, under the direction of Miss Clara Black, who heads the department.

"MRS. MOONLIGHT"

The major production of the year was the three-act play, "Mrs. Moonlight," by Benn W. Levy. The production was entirely in the hands of the students and was directed by Miss Black. To give more students an opportunity for a part in the play, it was presented on two evenings, each with a different cast. Student directors were assigned to each cast. It was an interesting experiment to note the different interpretations given the parts by the separate casts. The advertising, tickets, contact, costumes, make-up, props, and the house were managed by the students, and the stage crew was comprised of students. Each department in the school contributed toward the finished production.

The time of the play covers more than forty years, giving unlimited opportunity to apply all knowledge of make-up, costuming, setting and characterization. The moods of the play run from hilarious comedy to stark drama, combining romance and pathos. The enthusiasm with which both student-actors and the assisting committees went into the work, and it was hard work assigned them, and the capable instruction through which they were qualified were solely responsible for the success of the play.

Gordon Willis and Mary Stone Moore in a scene from the play; Bert Moss proposes to Jane McGinnis, Mrs. Moonlight's lovely daughter; Mrs. Moonlight and daughter indulging in a bit of Little Apple between scenes; members of the first cast for "Mrs. Moonlight"; make-up before curtain; second cast for "Mrs. Moonlight."

FLEUR DE LYS

The Fleur de Lys, the French club organized to advance fellowship among its members and promote community and school interest in the language, presented a radio program, an assembly, and several parties. An outstanding feature of the club this year was the issuing of gold pins to members.

L'ECHO DE ROANOKE

L'Echo de Roanoke is the publication, in French, through which the work of the French department is displayed. It has won unusual distinction this year, taking second place at the C. I. P. A. at Columbia University and Honorable Mention at the S. I. P. A. convention in Lexington.

THE LATIN DEPARTMENT

In the fall a chapter of the Junior American Classical League was formed at Jefferson. This is affiliated with the American Classical League, with headquarters in New York University.

It has sponsored a lecture, "The Roman Forum," by Prof. Miles Masters, of Roanoke College, and a broadcast entitled, "The Value of Latin Study," by Randolph Pillow. The officers of the chapter are Sara Cline, Homer Sieber and Billy Yost.

The Roanoke Roman is the paper issued by the Latin department. It is published about four times yearly and sent to the Latin departments of different junior high schools. This paper won second place in the C. I. P. A. convention at Columbia University. Sara Cline is the editor-in-chief.

Arlene Witt, Robert Decker, Billy Yost, Mary Grady Ayers, Paul Stonesifer and Lewis Pitzer represented Jefferson in the State Latin Tournament.

MARTHA WASHINGTON LITERARY SOCIETY

The Martha Washington Literary Society develops its members along literary lines, in debating, in public speaking, in reading, in writing short stories and verse. Membership in the society is attained by passing a literary try-out, either oral or written. This year's membership is 120, about half of whom are seniors.

Members of this society have seldom missed contributing to the literary points received by Jefferson since the institution of the Virginia Literary and Athletic League.

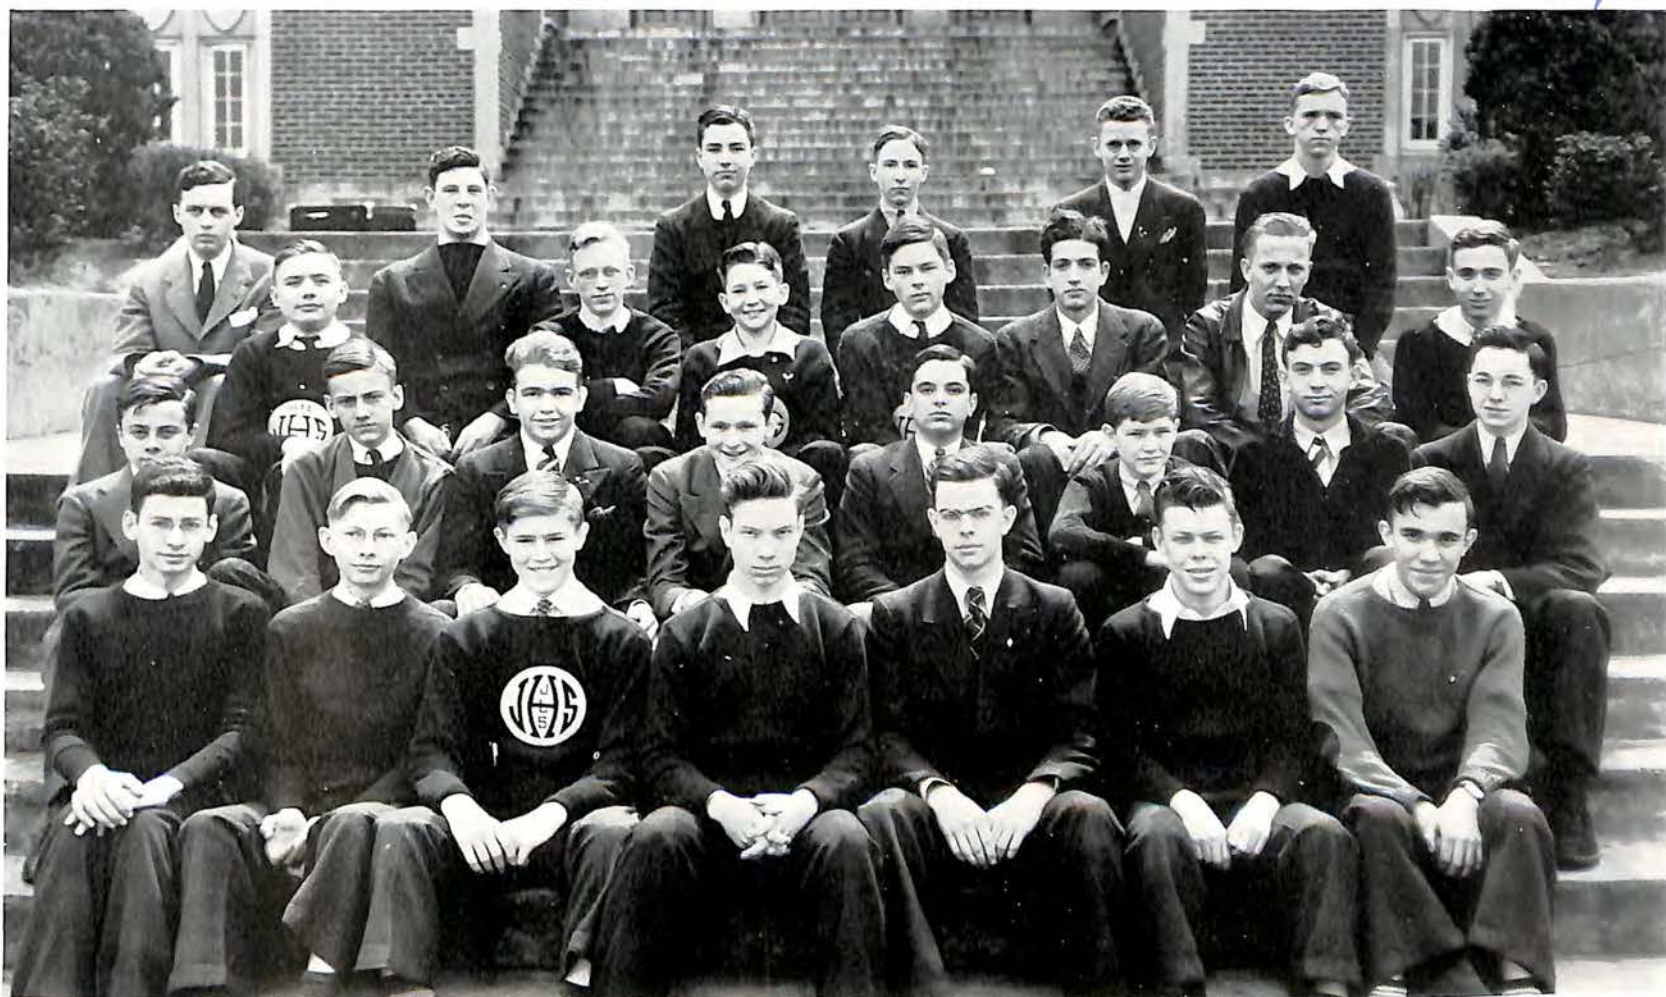

The social events this year have included a membership tea, a successful Hallowe'en party jointly with the Jeffersonian Literary Society, and a charming Valentine banquet.

JEFFERSONIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The Jeffersonian Literary Society believes that it has fulfilled its purpose. The society was inaugurated primarily as a literary society and, throughout the year, emphasis has been placed upon literary activities. A short story contest has been conducted and the programs have provided training in public speaking and debating.

The Jeffersonian Literary Society operates in connection with the Martha Washington Literary Society and the societies have held two joint meetings this year. Debating and other literary activities have been predominant at these meetings.

THE GIRLS' CLUB

The largest organization of its kind at Jefferson is the Girls' Club, which is sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. The past year has been an eventful one for the club. Miss Elizabeth Conwell began the year as the new Girl Reserve secretary and served as supervisor to the club. A recognition service was held at Greene Memorial Church, in which all the Girl Reserve clubs in Roanoke participated. The service was one of the most impressive ever held in the club.

To begin the activities of the year, a setting-up conference was held at Camp Tree Top, which was attended by the members of the cabinet. Many social events were held by the club, beginning with a Membership Tea and concluding with the Sweetheart Banquet, to which all Girls' Club members look with anticipation. Among others, a skating party, a kiddie dance and a dance honoring the delegates to the State Student Government Convention, which was held here, were given. The annual affairs of the Father - Mother - Daughter Banquet, the Hi-Y - Girls' Club Banquet, and the Faculty Banquet were high points in the year's program.

The latter occasion was a merry meet of students and teachers—so merry, in fact, that Mr. Sanders was compelled by the determined students to hop on one foot around the banquet table and Miss Stalker to "truck" around it.

The closing down conference and the installation of new officers were held again at Camp Tree Top—a sad occasion for the graduating members, but an inspirational one for those left behind.

At Thanksgiving, baskets were given through the local Welfare work, to needy families and, at Christmas, a tree was placed in a ward of the Roanoke Hospital and gifts distributed. Throughout the year the Girls' Club has worked in coordination with the Red Cross and the Roanoke Community Chest, as well as with the Welfare organization. Miss Nellie Smithey has served capably during the year as the club's general adviser.

Each member has striven, through her own efforts, to live up to the high ideals of the club to find and give the best that is in her life. Through the enriching friendships and experiences which the club makes possible, each member has received a great spiritual and moral enlightenment. The Girls' Club will continue its work next year with the same spirit it has shown ever since its beginning.

Not only by good pictures, but by that good personality, will I remember you
My Testimonial

JUNIOR HI-Y

The Junior Hi-Y serves as a junior department of the Hi-Y work in this school, and holds as its purpose to spread the principles of Christian living to the students of the school.

During the fall the club lost an able president in the person of Mallory Binns. However, Eugene Peterson quickly and efficiently assumed the duties. Gordon Highfill fulfills the duties of vice president. William Flora keeps the club records, while Joe Angell handles outside correspondence. James Yeatts is keeping the finances out of the red. Mr. Griffey served as the Hi-Y adviser for the year.

One of the first events on the year's program was the Christmas banquet, when the club was host to a number of under-privileged boys of Roanoke. The Hi-Y Clubs were also host to the clubs of the state at the convention held on February 20th-22d. Early in the spring the boys enjoyed an overnight trip to Camp Johnson. At the conclusion of the school year, the Truth Conference and Ladies' Nite were held also at Camp Johnson.

One of the main objectives of the Junior Hi-Y is to train the younger boys of high school under the same standards as the senior department. The meetings are held once a week and various members of the faculty as well as outside speakers give interesting talks to the members.

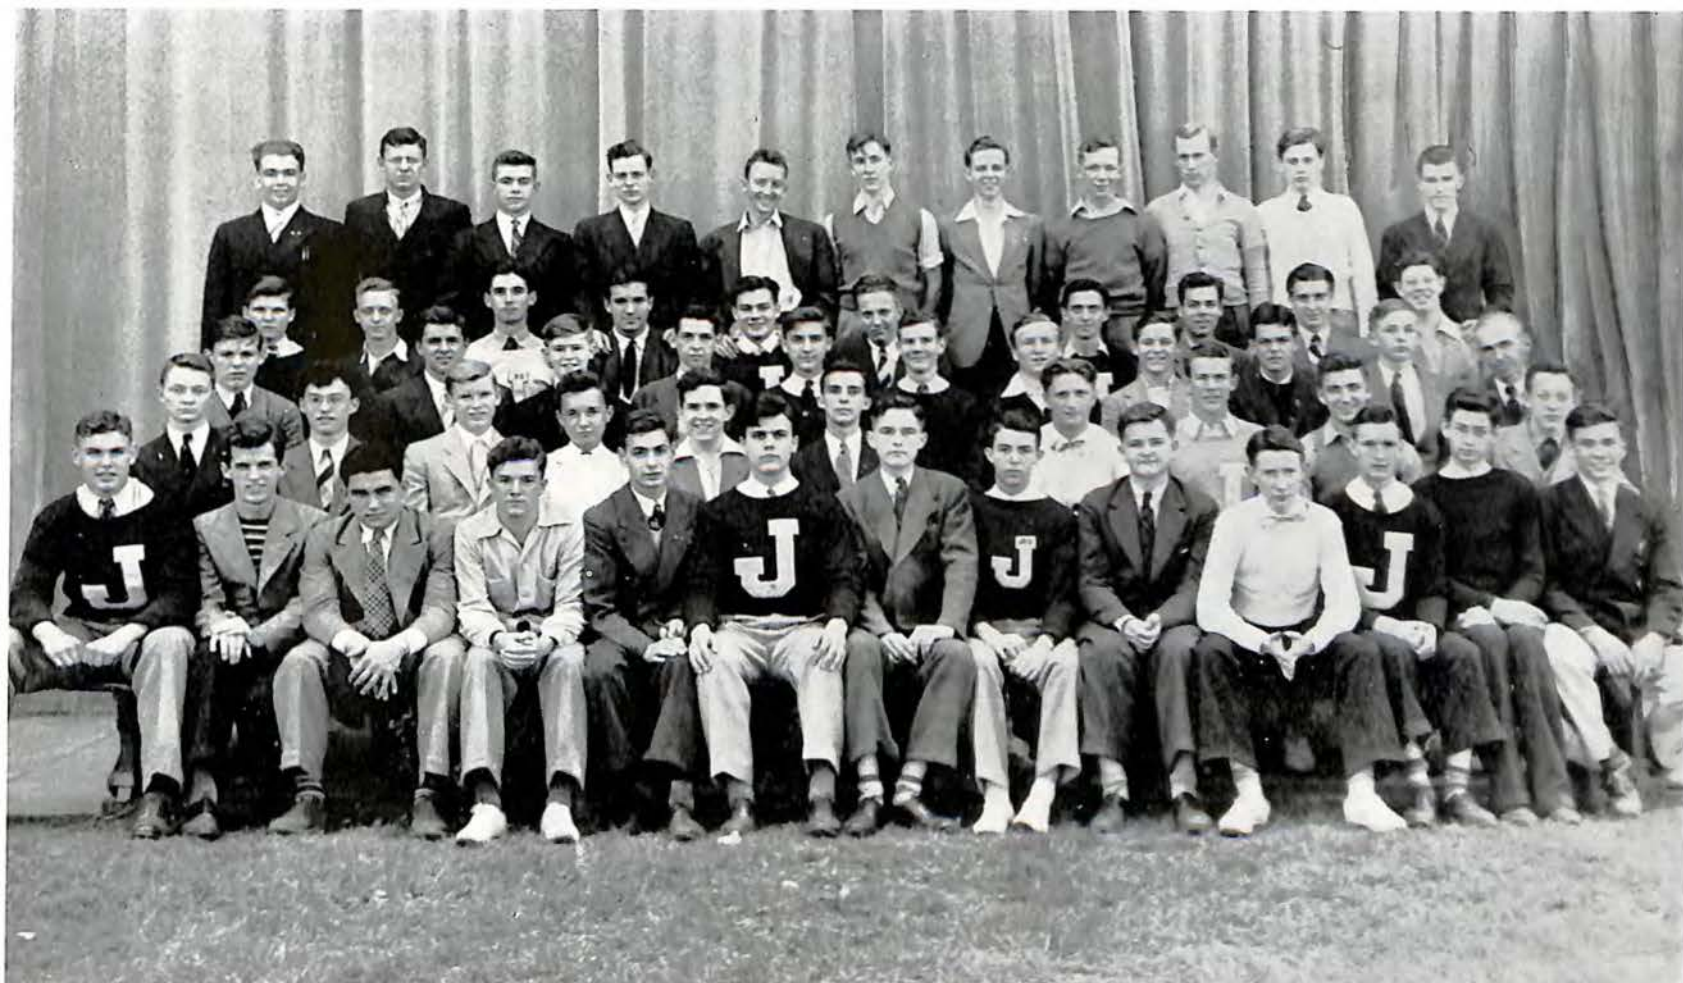

The club is unusually proud of its exceptional accomplishments along this line.

SENIOR HI-Y

The Senior Hi-Y for the '37-'38 session has enjoyed a most successful year. Under the new ruling, membership is open to all senior boys who can meet certain requirements for the first two weeks of both the fall and spring terms.

The four objectives of the fall term were accomplished with great gusto by the club. Regular chapel services were held every Wednesday morning in Society Hall during the fall. This was the first activity sponsored.

Christmas season contained the foremost objectives of the club. The first was the delivering of some seventy-five or eighty baskets to the poor. The second was the banquet for the under-privileged boys, and the final event of the season was the Alumni Banquet. The club was justly proud of their two winter celebrations.

With the spring term came the District Hi-Y Conference, held in cooperation with the Junior Hi-Y and Lee Hi-Y during February 11th, 12th, and 13th. Following this the club held its annual Faculty Banquet on April 14th.

At this time the Club took in twelve members, increasing the membership to almost sixty.

Next on the calendar was Mothers' Nite on May 5th. The Truth Conference and Hi-Y Ladies' Nite were the successful terminating activities of the year.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The ultimate aim of the Music Department is to create a greater love and appreciation for music throughout high school. Under the excellent leadership of Mr. Robert M. Griffey, it has practically attained the established goal.

An A Cappella Choir has been organized, consisting of a mixed chorus of boys and girls. The choir won an excellent rating at the State Music Festival in Richmond. Some of the other schools received the same rating, but none received a higher one than we did.

The choir was also featured in the baccalaureate and the commencement programs, in order to give them a more beautiful and artistic aspect.

Every year the Department presents a musical play and this year the opera, "The Gypsy Rover," was given. It was a light comedy that proved a well-merited success.

The Glee Clubs and Choir have given quite a number of assemblies this year. One of their most impressive presentations is the chanting of the Lord's Prayer.

This is your most beautiful
year in school and you will be very proud of it. I am proud of you.

Joe Byrley

THE BAND

The Jefferson High Band started its 1937-38 season with the fall football games, flying colors, a volley of yells, and "On, Ole Roanoke" pouring forth from the trumpets and big bass horns. One of their outstanding feats in marching formation was the design "GHS" (Glass Hi School) which they performed for spectators at the Lynchburg game.

On April 29, Mr. Byrley took his troupe to the Virginia State Competitive Music Festival in Richmond. It was one of the leading bands to march in the final parade composed of sixteen bands from cities throughout Virginia. This parade ended with the entire group playing on the steps of the state capitol, led by the state supervisor of music. The Jefferson Band was awarded an excellent rating by the judges.

Besides its work outside the school, the Band has presented quite a few assemblies throughout the year. Soloists Sherrard Mosely, Price Hurst, and Freddie Huffman, were featured on the programs.

Several times a year they make a special trip to the Veterans' Hospital to give concerts to the patients.

THE LITERARY TEAM

The first literary meet of the season was the boys' declamation contest, held at Emory and Henry, February 22, at which Randolph Pillow represented Jefferson. At Radford State Teachers College, Margaret Anne Bunting represented Jefferson in public speaking, Helen Gregory in reading, and Anne Aldhizer and Emma Binns in voice. Margaret Bunting won first place.

At the Roanoke College tournaments, Bill Lyons, Thomas Clay and Marshall Fishwick represented Jefferson in debate on the affirmative side and James Payne, Dorothy White and Sidney Weinstein composed the negative team. The affirmative team reached the finals. Margaret Anne Bunting was the after-dinner speaker.

In Charlottesville, Randolph Pillow and Sara Cline represented us in public speaking, Henry Ikenberry in reading, Jean Shelton in spelling, James Payne, Dorothy White and Sydney Weinstein in debate, and Joe Gutheridge, Downman Carter, Stanley Benton, John Ridgeway, Frances Rosebro, Mary Stone Moore, Jane McGinnis and Jimmy St. Clair presented a one-act play, "Unknown Dimension." Jefferson brought back a Class A victory in boys' public speaking, spelling and play.

Rachel Williams' poem, "Storm," won first place in the field of verse and Bette Lee Bryant's story, "The Toy Shop," won honorable mention.

FOOTBALL

Football season started off with a whiz-bang this year as the Magicians, under the inspired leadership of French Houseman, got off to a running start with five straight victories in rapid succession. We've got to hand it to the powers that be for scheduling those warm-up games with Radford, Vinton and Elkton, which made a wonderful proving ground for an attack that was such a threat to all conference opposition.

Oh, boy! Was that Portsmouth game a thriller! Things started popping at the opening kick-off and didn't stop 'til the final blast of the whistle. The way those Tidewater bruisers opened up in the first half was wonderful to behold, even though it did cause us more than a little anxiety as to the final score. In the second half, however, the beautiful end runs by Rasmussen and Waynick, together with the vicious off-tackle slashes by Montgomery and exceptionally fine defensive work of French Houseman, combined to give us a thrilling victory by the margin of a safety at the end of the most exciting game of the season to date.

The way we went to Richmond and took the highly-touted Justices of John Marshall down a peg or two on their own field is a thing that will long be remembered by all those present on that memorable occasion. The Magicians, behind Johnny Waynick, opened up a surprise passing attack and ran and passed themselves to a score early in the first quarter and were never overtaken during the remainder of the game.

It was a wonderful sight to see the way our boys kept the Justices bottled up and the way our capable French Houseman kept dragging the surprised John Marshall backs down behind the line of scrimmage. Not only did the team make history that day, but Coach Moorman endeared himself to us for years to come by his strategy in letting our boys listen to the scathing remarks Dave Miller gave his team during the half instead

BASKET BALL

COACH HURT

CAPT. HOUSEMAN

Basket ball has long been a high spot in our athletic program and, from the happenings of this past season, it promises to be even more of one in the future.

Coach "Hunk" Hurt, one of the most popular coaches in the history of the school, turned out a team of championship material whose sterling play throughout the season did much to put Alma Mater on the map.

Rex Mitchell, one of the best high school players in the state, was a veritable "Dead-Eye Dick" and his sharp-shooting ability caused more than one foe to do a great deal more worrying than was good for him, while the steady and dependable defensive playing of his loyal teammates was wonderful to see.

Boy! We sure took Lynchburg and Salem down a few pegs! Serves 'em right for what happened in football season. Our boys uncorked a series of dazzling plays in such quick succession that their dazed opponents never did find out why they could not keep their hands on the ball long enough to roll up a score. Maybe we should send over a delegation to enlighten them.

We didn't do at all badly against Benedictine, either, splitting even with them with one loss and one victory, no mean accomplishment for any one, while we let quite a few college freshman teams know they had been in a real game.

Then we shouldn't forget that game with that Greensboro aggregation. It seems that the North Carolina boys hadn't suffered a defeat and were reported to have the best team around these parts. Every word of those reports were true 'til they met our boys, who changed the situation with such neatness and dispatch as surprised us all.

Yes, sir, everything was going along nicely until we began coming down the home stretch and found we were in a tie with Danville for the Western District Championship. There was the catch—there would have to be a play-off. You all know how that game came out—how the teams fought neck and neck all the way and how Kent Painter sunk the winning goal (or so we thought) late in the fifth overtime period.

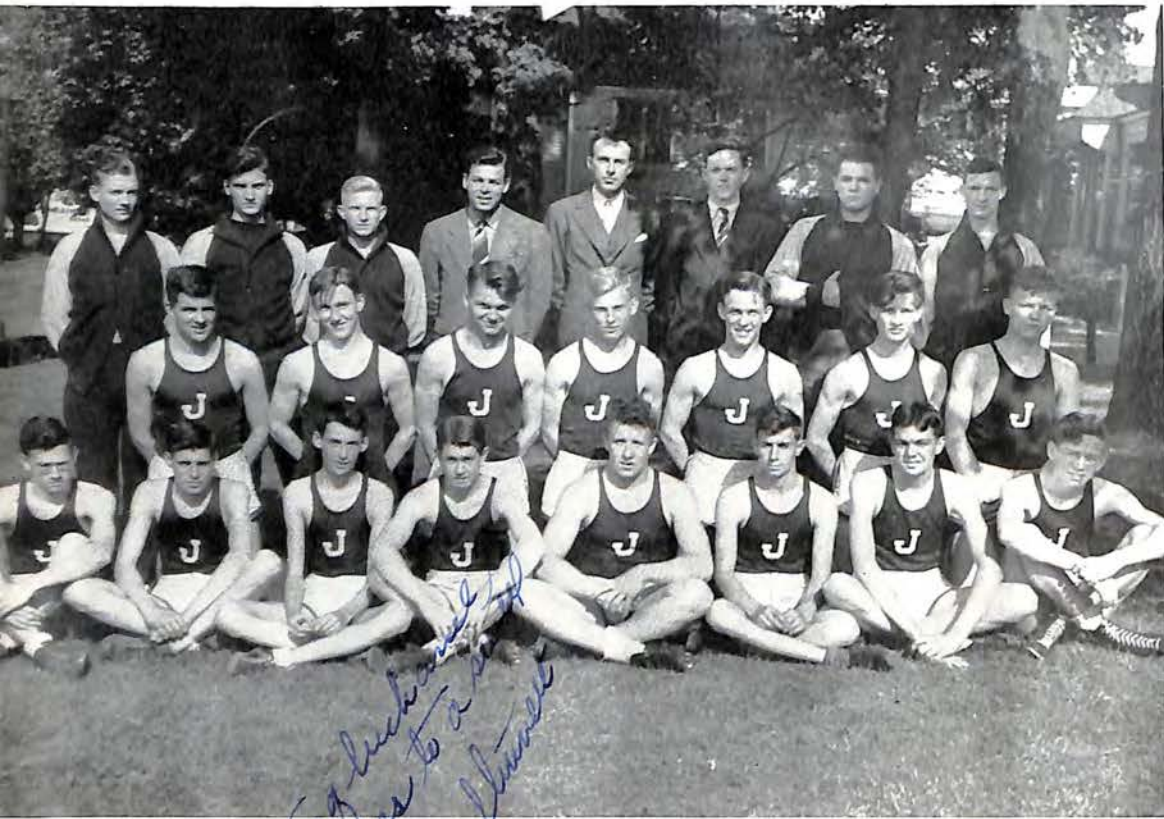

And, then, how Danville protested the game through a technicality, after first saying they were completely satisfied, is a matter of history, as is the State Board's decision in favor of Danville. That was a tough break but our team took it in a sportsmanlike way, which not only increased our loyalty to them but also put the school in a good light in the eye of the public—a thing well worth having.

TRACK

Coach Stanley Craft turned out a well-polished outfit this year, which bettered the percentage of last year's aggregation by a full .100 and won ten times as many points in the State Meet as did their predecessors. Led by such stellar performers as McGraw and Highfill, our boys tied John Marshall, our traditional enemy, at Charlottesville, something not to be sneezed at by anybody.

BASEBALL

This year's nine showed an enormous improvement over last year's squad and, at the same time, is leading the Western Division and has high hopes of being in the play-off for the state championship. One of the contributing factors to the team's success is Pitcher Rex Mitchell who, in addition to fanning opposing batters right and left, has spent a great portion of his time in disproving the old saying that pitchers can't hit. Yes—we truly have a swell team.

GOLF

Behind the superb playing of James Beckner, newly-crowned state champion, our golf team climaxed one of the most successful seasons it has ever known by going down to the big city and bringing home the championship to our domain. Coach Persinger turned out a great team and we're proud of them.

TENNIS

Coach Lewis Hoffman has succeeded in turning out a really fine tennis team this year. Competition among the candidates for team positions was keen, and the play-offs were hard fought all the way with no thought of giving in. It was because of this spirit that the team made such a good showing throughout the season.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

Plenty of new raw material turned out for Junior Varsity football this year and, under the expert coaching of Dick Bryant, turned in some excellent performances against teams of their own class. With a little more polishing on the rough edges these boys should soon be good varsity material.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKET BALL

The Junior Varsity basket ball boys had a season that could be aptly described by the well known Italian song, "Cosi Cosa," as they completed their schedule with the average of .467, by winning seven games and dropping eight. Although the season proved to be a fair one, we hope for a little improvement next year.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASEBALL

Junior Varsity baseball got off to a roaring start its first year at Jefferson, when 80 young hopefuls reported to Coach Hurt for duty. The great number of candidates necessitated the formation of four squads, which composed the "Banana League," from which the best players were chosen to make up the regular team. At the present time the team has a .500 average and is going strong.

CROSS COUNTRY

Under the capable direction of Coach Craft, this year's team built up an enviable record and are the probable state champions, being undefeated and conquering such opposition as the National Business College, the V. P. I. freshmen and the V. M. I. freshmen. This is an excellent record and one we hope will be retained as the years go by.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Besides the regular sports program of volley ball, basket ball, baseball, track and field—deck tennis, table tennis, bowling and badminton were played off between the Physical Education classes and between the Junior and Senior teams.

This year, for the first time, boys and girls participated in a mixed doubles tournament consisting of badminton, deck tennis, and table tennis. This program proved to be very popular.

The Jefferson G. A. A. had a banquet for the purpose of bringing together teachers and students in the Physical Education Department, from the Junior High School. The annual play day was held on May 11, with Woodrow Wilson, Jackson Junior, William Fleming, Lee Junior and Monroe Junior High participating. All the activities in the program were under the leadership of the students from the advanced Physical Education classes and officers of the G. A. A.

In place of the week-end camping trip, an all-day outing took place, which ended the year's work. The outing had a two-fold purpose, that of recreation and also the installation of new officers for the coming year
