Petra—

Your being at Jefferson has helped to make 1960-61 the BEST EVER. We hope this year has been memorable for you as well. We feel that now we know more about German students; perhaps you better understand America and American youth. In these Acorn pages, we have presented Jefferson and Jeffites hoping you will proudly show both to your family and friends in Berlin. So now—not Good-bye, but Auf Wiedersehn.

Mr. Secord dons snow togs before leaving to attend the Detroit meeting of the Secondary-Principals Division of the National Education Association.

Mr. Secord and Mr. R. P. Via, formerly Director of Activities at Jefferson, guard the North Gate during football season.

To Mr. Harold L. Secord we dedicate our 1961 Yearbook.

You accept us as we come to you . . . but you prod, prompt, spur us. (We respect those long legs that take you everywhere in our buildings.)

You keep us for a while . . . but you talk, inspire, urge us on. (We know that your constant presence spells interest and concern.)

You send us out . . . but with your good will and best wishes. (We recognize that you are our companion and friend.)

Dedication

Mr. Harold Secord, Principal, and Mr. Jerald R. White, Assistant Principal, of Jefferson Senior High School.

The academic life of Jefferson is supervised in the main office. Here all curricula are set up; students and teachers are assigned into classes; and all records of past and present students are kept in the big gray files in the office of the administration staff. These records are constantly being added to and referred to by staff members, colleges, and employers.

Not only are these administrators in charge of the overall activities but they supervise the school's day by day events, accepting and delivering messages, consultations with parents and students, and carrying out the directives of the school board.

Mr. Houston B. Sizer, Manager of Student Activities, and Mrs. Evelyn Foley, his assistant.

Mr. Houston Sizer and his assistant, Mrs. Evelyn Foley, are responsible for the scheduling and managing of students' activities. Their books account for all team events, extra curricular affairs, all publications, textbooks, class aids, and every cent of money that comes into or out from Jefferson.

The secretaries in the main office, Mrs. Una White, Miss Edna Chesney, and Miss Barbara Graeser, assist Mr. Secord and Mr. White in carrying out the curricular affairs of Jefferson.

Miss Barbara Graeser, Miss Edna Chesney and Mrs. Una V. White, Secretaries in the main office.

Senior guidance counselors, Mrs. Ruth Staton and Mr. James Bishop, help Seniors in the final step before college and give advice about applying for scholarships.

The Juniors prepare for their all important senior year under the guidance of Mr. Don Bartol and Mr. Howard Emmons.

THE GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT ... ALWAYS READY TO SERVE JEFFITES.

The services of the Guidance Department are based on the principle that guidance is a fundamental part of the school program. It serves all individuals and helps the student adjust to the school curriculum and social life connected with it. The counselors assist the pupil in making an occupational choice, in securing information concerning the possibility of further schooling, finding specific abilities and skills which he might possess, and understanding responsibilities of being a good neighbor and citizen in the school and community. The guidance counselors offer recommendations and suggestions to the individual so that he may make his own decisions, plan his own course, and solve his own personal problems. In addition to the advice given by homeroom and classroom teachers, each student is assigned to a grade-level counselor, with whom he remains until graduation.

Counseling is most important for the bewildered Sophomores. Mrs. Margaret Martin and Mrs. Elizabeth Ward, Sophomore counselors, help work out anxieties of the first year at Jefferson.

Mrs. Martha Crute, Director of Girls Attendance, explains procedure to P.T.A. mother, Mrs. A. N. Matthews. A volunteer P.T.A. mother is in the clinic each day to act as nurse.

Mr. George Graybill, Director of Boys Attendance, and his assistant, Jimmy Brandau, faithfully check attendance each morning.

The Attendance Offices at Jefferson are the link between school and home activities. Regular attendance on the part of all students is necessary for successful accomplishment in high school. Arriving late or after an absence, a student reports to either the Director of Girls or Director of Boys, who is in charge of the Attendance Offices, to receive an ADMIT SLIP to class. Where the Guidance Department is in charge of counseling with students about scholastic problems, the Attendance Offices take over the personal side. Mrs. Martha Crute and Mr. George Graybill are always willing to help with any problems students may have. This year the Parent-Teachers Association started a new project. Each day a volunteer mother works in the clinic acting as nurse and assisting Mrs. Crute. A usual day consists of giving out aspirins and attending to cuts. The students seem to enjoy knowing there is a substitute mother near by.

Petra—

Here are students at work in various classrooms and Labs. Teachers of these groups are presented with them. Some faculty members instruct in a second department; those assignments and sponsorships are listed under their names. Other staff members are introduced on pages 28 and 29.

Classes

In Mrs. Nina Cooper's first period Sophomore A class, Mrs. Kathryn Young, student teacher, and Bill Mangus distribute new books. Norma Milam is in the foreground. Mrs. Cooper's three Sophomore and one Junior classes have this year purchased over two thousand Scholastic paper backs for their name libraries.

Jefferson's largest department, English, counts eighteen teachers, offering sixty regular Academic, General, and Commercial English classes. In addition Mrs. Cronise teaches special reading classes; Mrs. Staton, World Literature and Newspaper production; Mrs. Sadler, Creative Writing and Staff work for the Acorn Magazine; and Mr. Cohron, speech classes and related stage activities. Our students enter various drama, forensic, and writing competitions, usually winning honors. Alice Estes, Judy Kessler, and Jimmy Korte have been recognized as Virginia 1960-'61 winners of Achievement Awards by the National Council of Teachers of English. Our Publications always receive high ratings at Southern Interscholastic Press Association (SIPA) and in the Columbia Press Association listings. This year the Acorn Magazine and Jefferson News received Medalist Awards at Columbia. Our one act play won District and state honors, as usual.

and Bill Hoffman discuss math without bothering others working independently.

Margaret King, Judy Kessler, Wayne Jesse (first row) and Peter Munger, Judy Williams, Danny White and Bill Turner waste no time in second period experimental programmed trig class.

It is not often that nationwide recognition reaches a school in the span of one short year, but Jefferson Senior High School has attained it by being the nation's largest participant in the experimental mathematics program. This program is sponsored by the Encyclopedia Britannica Films, Inc. Almost every week educators, ranging from classroom teachers to college professors, and representing schools as far away as the Pacific coast, come to Roanoke to see Jefferson students in operation.

The new programmed math courses, consisting of plane and solid geometry, algebra II, trigonometry, college algebra, and introductory calculus, are designed to shorten and simplify the learning of mathematics without daily instruction from a teacher. However, the teacher does make and give many tests of her own in order to grade the students. These are supplemented by standardized tests which are given at the end of the course. Best of all, there is NO HOMEWORK!

Of course, Jefferson also offers traditional math classes in which programmed material is not used. Students may choose from algebra, plane and solid geometry, trigonometry, modern mathematics, basic math, and consumer math.

Three members, Johnny Johnson, Alice Estes and Buddy Robertson were Roanoke City Science Fair award winners. Particularly interesting were the field trips to the University of Virginia Engineering Open House, the General Electric Salem plant, and the Radio Telescope at Green Banks, West Virginia. Stimulating guest speakers and films were presented at regular meetings. The club enjoyed a membership of over 100 students, with interests varying from Biology to Astronomy.

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

Six hundred and fourteen of Jefferson's students or over thirty-six percent, study a second language. Perhaps in your Berlin school, Petra, a greater percentage study a second language. Here at Jefferson, four years of Latin, three of French, three of Spanish and two of Russian are offered. Each language group has it's own club, the Junior Classical League, Fleur-de-Lys, Pan American League and the Russian Club. Two groups have their own newspapers, The Roanoke Roman, winner of a second place at Columbia Press Association Conference and L'Echo de Roanoke, winner of a medalist rating.

Marty Fant, Yvonne Crouch and Mac McNulty smile as they finish their language classwork.

Gynetha Coxwell and Jimmy Maddox are first violinists in the Jefferson String Ensemble accompanying the choir's Christmas Concert. Gynetha and Jimmy are members also of the Roanoke Youth Symphony and the Roanoke Symphony.

THE ARTS

The Band and the choir received a shock last fall when the Fire Warden forbade presence of more than 39 persons in Room 300, traditional practice hall. After weeks of homelessness and rehearsal on lawn and front steps, both found rented space in Cavalry Church. Orchestra class continues in Room 300. The Art Lab hums with activity. Classes in Basic, Advanced and Consumer Art, art staffs of Magazine and Yearbook, stage craft and design committees for all stage productions—all work simultaneously in Annex 2.

Mr. Feusler conducts in 6th period band class.

Alice Johnston and Carolyn Bell, absorbed in experimentation into collage and mixed media in the Art Room.

Chris Carton and Joe Hodges, after campaigning vigorously for their candidates, cast their ballots in the November 4 straw-vote.

Three units in history are required for graduation: in American history, American government and one unit in either World history or World Geography. History and government classes are organized on three levels. In history, there are B classes, the standard courses; A classes for those students who show superior ability in the social studies field; and the Honors History for those who evidence even higher scholastic achievement, ability and interest.

In Government study, there is one special class which covers curricular material, regular classes in which the majority of students are enrolled, and one group of students taking Honors Government.

This year students engaged in many activities leading up to a straw-vote on the Presidential Candidates. They studied platforms, made posters, campaigned, handed out literature, and urged adults to vote.

Another project was the collection of articles for an exhibit to mark the beginning of the Centennial Celebration of the War Between the States.

HOME ECONOMICS

The purpose of Homemaking Education at Jefferson is to help students take part in homemaking activities in their paternal home and to prepare for establishing their future homes.

The Home Economics Department offers four years of Home Economics to girls and one year to boys. Included in these courses are food and nutrition, child care and development, housing, nursing care, clothing, management, and family relationships. Homemaking plays an important role in our educational system. It is practical, interesting and broadening. Since the home continues to be the foundation of our democratic way of life, homemaking has a very vital part to play in training students.

Pupils enrolled in homemaking may join the Future Homemakers of America, State, and National organizations, which provide additional opportunity for the development of leadership. These organizations stress the importance of being good members of the family, the school and the community.

THE VOCATIONAL DEPARTMENT

A student who enters the Vocational Department and completes requisite courses for graduation is prepared to enter his trade as an advanced apprentice, or, should he go to college he will find this background beneficial in such fields as engineering, architecture, and industrial education. Students who are not planning to go to college but follow a trade of their choice will be given two years credit toward an apprenticeship program. Three year courses are offered in Automobile Mechanics, Printing, Mechanical Drawing, Cabinetmaking, Electrical Maintenance, Welding, and General Sheet Metal.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

The Business Department works chiefly to develop necessary skills and traits of character and personality which will enable Jefferson Business graduates to secure and hold jobs. Courses are offered in bookkeeping, office practice, stenography, salesmanship retailing, English, and typing.

As part of Vocational Office Training and Distributive Education courses, students are employed a minimum of fifteen hours per week in business offices, retail, wholesale, or service businesses. Here supervised students receive job training and academic credit toward graduation as well as very welcome wages. Many continue in the same employment upon graduation. Business subjects, especially shorthand and typing are offered to as many non-business students as our equipment and facilities will accommodate.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

In the girls' physical education class Leonora Talley goes down with a cry as Janet Adams, Margaret Hodges, Bobbie Allen, Gail Oliver, and Harriet McGavok collapse, ruining a perfect pyramid.

Among the educational objectives of the Physical Education Department three stand out: to provide opportunities for participation in physical activities that will result in educational experiences; to develop the organic systems of the body so that each may live at the highest level; and to develop skills in activities with favorable attitudes toward play that will carry over and function during leisure. A program to provide for the achievement of these aims is set up to include dance, team, and individual sports. An intramural program is offered to meet the interest and needs of the students for further participation in the activities included in the program.

LIBRARY AND STUDENT WORKERS

The groups which serve the greatest percentage of any student body are the administration, library, custodial and cafeteria staffs. They serve all and are concerned with the welfare of the entire school family. While the administrative offices plan and oversee our curricular efforts; while the custodial and cafeteria staffs are concerned with our bodily needs; the library, the heart of the school, nourishes our minds and encourages intellectual curiosity. Value of the library can be gauged by its constant use before school, during every period and after school hours. No textbook studying is allowed. Space must be saved for those doing research for classes or general reading. Yes, the library is the heart of the school.

Dozens of monitors, library, class, and lab student assistants serve Jefferson on a 7:40 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. schedule. Pictured above are only some of them.

Mrs. Virginia Wright

Mr. Edward L. Gillespie, Head Custodian, and Mr. William E. Smith, check and approve the electric control that operates the motorized overhead crane, which in turn empties coal buckets into furnace hoppers.

CUSTODIAL AND CAFETERIA STAFFS

Mrs. Willie B. Moses checks off the day's duties with members of her staff: Esse Page, Marion Johnston, Viola Davis, Mary Shank, Ethel Falin, Mildred Slusser, Pauline Poindexter.

Our service staffs continually take advantage of new techniques which benefit and protect their charges. Metal fire doors were added last fall; all stairwells were enclosed.

Not only does the Cafeteria feed hungry Jeffites, but it acts as a training school in lunch Management. The lapel green T worn by most of our cafeteria workers indicates that they are management trainees, doing their classwork too—in Food Preparation. Preliminary classes are completed; studies in care of equipment, Sanitation and Nutrition form the next parts of Management in-service training.

Petra—

Here are your Jefferson classmates of 1960-1961: first the officers of each class, then class members. You have learned to know many of these 539 Sophomores, 585 Juniors and 530 Seniors. We hope you will always remember us. We will remember you.

Students

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

As we Sophomores look back into the past year, we recall many things: the apprehension we felt when we first entered those big doors to Jefferson, the warm smiles and helpful attitudes of the older Jeffites, hops, football and basketball games, pep assemblies, the Snow Queen Dance, and final exams.

Next year we'll be a divided class when many of our new-found friends will go to the new Patrick Henry High School. We shall be the standard-bearers of Jefferson then, and we shall strive to keep up the tradition and we shall take on more of the responsibilities of our school.

We really feel a part of Jefferson now. We anxiously await the coming year with all its hopes and promises. At last we'll be Juniors!

At the first orientation program last fall, Mr. Cohron, Director of Speech and Drama, took a hurried look through the stage curtains at assembled Sophomores. He seems to have thought the Sophs a rather unpromising lot. He says now, however, that they've turned out better than he expected.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

In our twelfth year the present Junior class will be separated; some will go to the new school while others will remain at Jefferson. Each class will start anew with many new teachers, students, and traditions, and we will strive to maintain the high principles set by the previous classes at Jefferson.

We will recall our Junior year with many fond memories—the fun we had working on the Junior-Senior Prom, the class meetings, and the elections.

A lot will be expected of us next year and we will strive to do our best. We'll be Seniors at last!

Junior Class Officers: Bobby Cooper, Treasurer; Yvonne Crouch, Vice-Pres.; Tommy Holcomb, President; Bonnie Bayse, Secretary, and Mr. Carl Nave, Advisor.

Red Cross officers Sybil Morris, Treasurer; Judy Bondurant, Secretary; and Anne Spencer, Vice-President paste Christmas cards into notebooks which are sent to local hospitals. President San Kummer is not in the picture.

The Junior Red Cross Council is comprised of representatives from all Jefferson homerooms: sixteen seniors, fifteen juniors, and nineteen sophomores. In addition to having a meeting each month, the J.R.C. aids the Senior Red Cross in many varied projects.

At least once yearly a variety program is presented for patients at the Veterans' Facility in Salem. Service is given by many members as Junior Gray Ladies or as assistants at the County Red Cross Chapter House and the Blood Center.

THE CLASS OF 1961

Seniors at last — and with that title comes the responsibility of learning to be an adult. As we look forward to graduation we suddenly realize that we are ending the first phase of our life and beginning a second one. So it is that, although we are happy to be graduating, there is a tint of sadness at the thought of leaving our friends and Jefferson, our home for three years.

Danny White, Pat Humphries, Alice Estes, and Eugene Angle admire the trophy won by Jefferson at the Jefferson-Fleming Sandlot Benefit Game.

Petra—

There are many organizations at Jefferson. Some meet in the afternoon; others, in the evening. Some meet monthly; others, more often. Language clubs are open to language students only. Members of the Band and Choir are accepted after they pass stiff auditions. Other organizations are open to all.

Activities

In the receiving line for the Faculty Prefect Tea are the officers of the S.C.A., Miss Velva Wood, Sponsor; Jo Ann Floyd, Treasurer; Mary Stone Copenhaver, Secretary; Tom Amos, Vice President; and Peter Munger, President.

STUDENT COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

The Student Cooperative Association is a vital part of Jefferson High School's activities. Homeroom representatives and Prefect members are the voice of the individual students. The presidents of each homeroom compose the Student Council, which meets at designated times during zero period. This is the link between each homeroom and Prefect Council, which meets sixth period twice a week. Projects included a Faculty Prefect Tea, Orientation Day for sophomores, and publishing a Sophomore Handbook and Student Directory. The S.C.A. sponsored Commandment Week, a clean-up campaign, the Snow Queen Dance, and an honor campaign. The main event of the year was the annual Spring Project, which displayed talents of the entire student body. August of last year brought us a German foreign exchange student. The S.C.A. sponsored a campaign to raise money and through the American Field Service we brought Petra Profé to Jefferson. As an ex-officio member of Prefect, Petra takes part in all phases of the S.C.A.

Prefect members James Stutts, Betty Davis, Linda Combs, and Danny Hogan proof-read names for the Student Directory.

One of the responsibilities of the S.C.A. is to promote school spirit. Here, Prefects Eric Heiner, Gynetha Coxwell, and Julia Stanley keep the S.C.A. bulletin board up to date with coming events.

Putting up Spotlight on a Jeffite for this week are Prefect members Tommy Holcomb, Hope Sink, Joyce Lunsford, and Butch Robertson.

Homeroom representatives are B. Allen, B. Ashley, B. Baldwin, V. Barton, J. Bolger, J. Brust, K. Bullington, D. Colbert, J. Collie, B. Cooper, S. Craig, S. Crawford, D. Denson, B. Dixon, M. Emick, M. Ewers, S. Findlay, B. Foster, C. Grossman, J. Grove, B. Hall, W. Hatcher, J. Hobbs, M. Johnson, D. Kaplan, S. Kern, G. Leigh, T. Lovell, B. Luckado, G. Mauney, C. Mackie, H. McGavock, M. Moses, N. Nicodemus, L. O'Bryan, D. O'Neill, D. Price, H. Quekemeyer, R. Richardson, T. Roberts, H. Secord, J. Sledd, F. Sours, B. Stephens, J. Stone, D. Tate, R. Terry, J. Toler, J. Trent, S. Turner, B. Wright, G. Wright, B. Young.

Prefect members Billy Edwards and Jeanne Williams explain the Jefferson handbook to German foreign exchange student, Petra Profe.

The Hi-Y Induction is an impressive ceremony in which new members are inducted into the club. Above Buck Cuddy presides at the ceremony.

THE HI-Y CREATES, MAINTAINS, EXTENDS . . . CHRISTIAN CHARACTER

Issuing books at the beginning of school year is one of the jobs for the Hi-Y. This seems to be enjoyed by Mike Haynie, Nicky Nicodemus, Bob Sumner, Buck Buddy, John Stone, and Johnny Edwards.

The Hi-Y is one of the most active clubs in the school. Perhaps one of the most interesting activities is the trip taken by several members to the Model General Assembly in Richmond. At Christmas, Christmas baskets are delivered by the Hi-Y and the members treat a group of underprivileged children to dinner at the S and W cafeteria.

This year's officers were Buck Cuddy, president; Johnny Edwards, vice-president; Mark Moses, secretary; John Stone, treasurer; and Bob Sumner, chaplain. The advisors were Mr. M. G. White and Mr. C. L. Pitzer.

This year's Hi-Y had a variety of well planned programs. The advisors, Mr. C. L. Pitzer and Mr. M. G. White, seem to enjoy one of them.

MEMBERS OF THE HI-Y

This year's Hi-Y officers were Mike Haynie, Corresponding Secretary; Buck Cuddy, President; John Stone, Treasurer; Johnny Edwards, Vice-President; and Bob Sumner, Chaplain. Absent was Mark Moses, Secretary.

Judy Baker, Janet Petty, Carolyn Mackie, Anita Dodson, Barbara Lubirski, Pat McDowell, Carolyn Gibson, Becky Dillon, Izetta Beckner, Nancy Mundy, Tommy Ann Sellers, Mary Amos and Marty Jett wait for members to bring items for the Y-Teens bake sale.

SENIOR Y-TEENS

The Senior Y-Teen Club is an organization of junior and senior girls interested in the community, school, and home. In these fields members seek to serve under Christian principles. The Jefferson Y-Teens are a branch of the national Y.W.C.A.

Some of the activities of the Y-Teens are participating in March of Dimes drive, sale of TB seals, half-day conferences, a mid-winter conference, bake sales, candy selling, world fellowship programs, "Hanging of the Greens" ceremony, and the Y-Teen recognition service. The Senior Y-Teens meet the second and fourth Thursday with Mrs. Martha Crute as advisor.

MEMBERS OF THE SENIOR Y-TEENS:

Barbara Lubinski, Dian Colbert, Carol Schricker, Carolyn Corlette, Tina Catron, Greer Wright, Patty Pratt, Mary Johnson, Ellen White, H. V. Ellis, Anne Foster, Mary Belle Emmick, Gloria Peyton, Sue Little, Becky Lovern, Diana Kane, Becky Mabe, Claudia Beck, Jeanne Williams, Jackie Wimmer, Grace Mauney, Anita Dodson, Carolyn Hartman, June Mowbray, Carolyn Kephart, Janet Hale, Bonnie Bayse, Bonnie Wilkerson, Shirley Borden, Verna Barton, Julia Stanley, Peggy Driscoll, Mary Council, Nancy Ross, Betty Davis, Marguerite Alvis, Barbara Dixon, Bonnie Bussey, Connie Campbell, Shirley Carr, Sandra Craig, Yvonne Fisher, Leonora Cunningham, Bette Evans, Dottie Hess, Janet Knox, Susan Markley, Judy Markley, Sharon Thornton, Janef Adams, Joyce Lunsford, Linda O'Bryan, Missy Keller, Susan Britton, Cookie Nininger, Marty Jett, Nancy Mundy, Pat McDowell, Medie Sims, Jo Ann Floyd, Judy Baker, Zetsie Kidd, Harriet McGavock, Ellen Sandefur, Becky Dillon, Carolyn Mackie, Judith Stoller, Dian Copty, Alice Kavanaugh, Susan Kavanaugh, Judy Johnson, Carolyn Gibson, Janice Vandergrift, Pat Roupas, Judy Dingman, Izetta Beckner, Anglea Gamble, Janet Petty, Paulette McCall, Mary Amos, Donna Martin, Patty Martin, Sally Albergotti, Suzanne Frances, Peggy Atkins, Ruth Allfather, Pat Stokes, Joyce Najjum, Joyce Rutledge, Jeanne Spradlin, Margaret King, Frances Sours, Kitty Downs, Jeanette Naff, Pat Hartman, Gynetha Coxwell, Barbara Johnson, Shalmir Glenn, Carolyn Anderson, Patra Floyd, Janet Blake, Donna Gray, Caroline King, Donna McLain, Sybil Norris, Marty Spigel, Susan Waldrop, Dian Watts, Betsy Gwynn, Sheena Garrett, Judy Bondurant, Cora Jane Davis, Gaye Pleasants, Barbara Kefauver, Joan Weaver, Glenna Sullivan.

Meeting in the YWCA office of Miss Priscilla Gingrich, teenage director, Y-Teen officers Judith Stoller, Treasurer; Patty Martin, Program Chairwoman; Ellen Sandefur, President; Harriet McGavock, Secretary, plan their fall activities.

Officers of the Junior Y-Teens, Dianne McKendree, Interclub Council Representative; Pam Jones, Corresponding Secretary; Susan Flora, President; Brenda Ashley, Recording Secretary; Judy Harris, Treasurer; Judy Coverstone, Vice-President; and Carla Walton, Program Chairman; get a breath of fresh air after a strenuous cabinet meeting.

The Junior Y-Teens is a nationally active organization with an important goal—to instill in the hearts and minds of its members a feeling of fellowship and brotherhood.

Among the yearly projects of the Junior Y-Teens are a bake sale, a Christmas Open House, a candy sale, pen pals chosen from Y-Teen clubs in other countries, and a Christmas basket for a needy family. The most important of the activities of our Junior Y-Teen Club is the adoption of an orphan for the club to support. Along with service projects, the girls have fellowship and fun working together. At each meeting a program is planned to illustrate the club's ideals.

VOICE OF CHRISTIAN YOUTH

Officers of the VCY are Susan Sweeney, Treasurer; Geoff Hubbard, President; Nancy Pringle, Vice President; Darlene Brown, Secretary.

To promote Christian ideals and fellowship, the VOICE OF CHRISTIAN YOUTH meets twice a month . . . for Bible study, quizzes, films, song fests, and constructive recreation. Emphasizing the importance of religion in life today is the theme of many of the club's activities. The goal is the ideal—"To know the Lord Jesus Christ and to make Him known."

MEMBERS OF VOICE OF CHRISTIAN YOUTH

THE BIBLE CLUB

Members of the Bible Club are Sandra States, Bertha Overfelt, Bonnie Washburn, Joyce Bain, Paul Wilson, Dorothy Beckner, Bobby Lou Jones, Allen Childress, Izetta Purdy, Pat Banks, Martha Gibson, Nilah Taylor, Patricia Robertson, George Thomas, and Mr. J. N. Harker, sponsor. Officers of the Bible Club are Wayne Barber, president; Norma Milan, vice-president; and Bea Lavender, secretary-treasurer. Not pictured is Billy Shaffer.

The Bible Club, students who have taken or are taking Bible classes and those who are interested in the further study of the Bible, is a necessary organization here at Jefferson, for it satisfies the spiritual needs of Jeffites.

The Bible classes spend the first half of the year studying the Old Testament and the history of the Bible, while the second semester is devoted to the study of the New Testament and the life of Christ.

Other members of the Bible Club gather around the piano at the Cavalry Baptist Church for a singing session.

Fleur-de-lys officers Mary Claire Rankin, Secretary; Marvin Smith, Treasurer; John Stone, President and Mary Johnson, Vice-President backed by representatives and club chairmen look over the clothes to be sent to a needy French family.

FLEUR-DE-LYS PROMOTES INTEREST IN FRANCE

The Fleur-de-Lys meets the second Tuesday of each month. During the meetings students enjoy films on French speaking countries, discussions of the language, panel discussions of the Institute of Languages at Hollins College, and lectures by college students who have spent a year in France.

The Fleur-de-Lys also tries to create a closer relationship between teachers and pupils, and between pupils with a common interest.

Some of the activities of the club include the Christmas party, the Language Assembly, and the picnic at the end of the year. In order to create a better understanding between France and the United States, some of the students correspond with French pupils who have had at least two or three years of English. The club adopted a needy French family and sends clothes, money, and checks at intervals.

The French publication, Voice of Departure, gives many an opportunity to express themselves in the language and bring to the classroom articles on cultural, scientific France.

Miss Mary D. Chomeau talks to the Fleur-de-lys about her trip last summer to Canada.

Lynn Davidow does a dance routine for the Christmas party at the Appalachian Building.

Robert McDaniel, posing as the tape-recorder, talks back to Ann Farris when she says "Dites-moi pourquoi, pourquoi . . ." Steve Snedegar, Julia Trent, and Leigh Buckner await their turn.

The officers of the PAL are Diane Dugan, Treasurer; Johnny Johnson, Vice-President; John Aldrich, President; Judy Baker, Secretary; and Bonnie Washburn, Program Chairman.

PAN AMERICAN LEAGUE

The aim of the Pan American League is to create a greater international interest in the American Countries. The organization sponsored this year two picnics. The traditional high light of the year is always the Christmas program with Spanish carols, the pinata, and fun. Mr. Harker has been an honorary member for many years because of his interest in the program.

Putting up a poster for the November meeting of the PAL are John Allman and Kathy Robertson.

Officers of the J.C.L., Nancy Echols, President; David Caplin, Treasurer; John Bolger, Vice-President; and Susan Crawford, Secretary, await delegates to the annual J.C.L. Convention.

The J.C.L. promotes a better understanding and appreciation of the culture of ancient Greece and Rome. With this goal in mind, programs for club meetings are planned and various projects carried out. The most important of these projects is the publishing of the Latin - English newspaper, The Roanoke Roman, now in its thirty-seventh year of publication.

In October, 1960, Jefferson's J.C.L. Chapter was host to the annual Virginia Junior Classical League Convention. At this time a Jefferson chapter member, Patty Martin, was elected Vice-President of the State J.C.L.

Through J.C.L., Jeffites help "hand down the torch" of classical civilization.

THE JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE ENCOURAGES AN INTEREST IN ANCIENT CIVILIZATION

Mrs. Peterson explains the declension of Cmyr

In September Mrs. A. Calvin showed and explained some slides on her trip to Russia. Then on February 14 Mrs. Shirlee Young gave a lecture and showed slides on Byzantine Architecture which is used widely in Russia. Some of the Activities of the club include a trip to the Greek Orthodox Church, compiling a book of Russian recipes for American cooks, and the annual picnic at the end of the year.

In order to understand the Russian people one must see their ways of life through their music, literature, art, religion, and food. To do this the students listen to many of their records, read much of their literature, look at their art, discuss the Russian religion, and try out many of the recipes used on such occasions as Easter and Christmas.

The Art staff of the Acorn Yearbook, Carolyn Gibson and Don Wimmer, Co-Editors, Barbara Dixon and Rocky West design and draw layouts for the 1961 Acorn.

THE ACORN YEARBOOK SUMMARIZES ACTIVITIES OF '60-61

Jackie Wimmer
Editor-in-Chief

Aylett Stone, Brenda Peyton and Buddy Robertson manage to find a moment to rest from their yearbook labors.

Mr. Houston B. Sizer and Shirley Pratt decide on the pagination for this year's edition of the Acorn.

Julia Trent and Mrs. Elisabeth Drewry write notes to people whose picture accounts are delinquent.

On Senior Day the Acorn Yearbook is presented to the students and faculty of Jefferson. In it is a record of the school year from September to June compiled into one big edition. It is a book of memories, a book to be kept for enjoyment and reference.

The Acorn Yearbook staff tries to make the Acorn an attractive and worthwhile publication. Meeting each day the art staff with the help of Mrs. Shirlee Young and the literary staff with the help of Mrs. Elizabeth Drewry work on ideas, organization, copy and layouts. It is a happy day for students as well as the staff members when the Yearbook comes out.

The first play of the last game of the season put Sports Editor Billy Edwards on the inactive list. Staff members, Jo Ann Floyd and Gary Mitchell visit him bringing the latest school and yearbook news.

Mary Council
Editor-in-Chief

Laughing, talking and thinking, members of the Acorn Magazine Staff choose poems for their Spring issue. Seated are Catherine King, Georgia Laughlin, Alice Kavanaugh, Joyce Lunsford, Gail Oliver, and Rebecca Mullen, Carol Edwards, Roy Nelson, Mac McClure and Charles Kennedy are standing.

ACORN MAGAZINE—OPPORTUNITY IN WRITING

Some members of the Acorn Magazine Staff talk over ideas for stories in their next issue. They are Lenora Talley, Judi Williams, Ellen White, Phillis Wilson, Judy Smith, Sue Ellen Scott, and Suzi Reynolds, seated, Tommy Smith, Nick Smith and Harold Secord, standing.

Ellen Sandefur, copyist, Barbara Lubinski, Exchange Editor, and Judy Dingman, Assistant Editor, confer about a story while Mary Council, Editor in Chief, cuts out a picture to be used. Cathy Robertson and Sudy Matthews, Co-Art Editors, and Kay Ann Bullington, copyist, try to decide on a cover.

Twice a year the Acorn Magazine is issued to the students of Jefferson. Articles, stories and poems in it may take the reader anywhere from the wild-'n-wooly West to the awesome Himalayas, for such is the extent of the imagination of the Acorn Magazine Staff. The group is given every opportunity to experience the difficulties and joys of creative writing.

The art staff of the Acorn Magazine furnishes the illustrations which add sparkle to the finished book.

Much time is spent by both groups studying models, learning techniques, and taking criticism. But it is a worthwhile experience when the members of the staff are rewarded by seeing their own work in print.

Becky Dillon, Business Manager, leaves school to secure ads for the Jefferson News.

Senior members of the "News" staff, Ray Ebbett, Bonnie Bayse, John Allman, Sue Little, Joan Kelly, Linda Krebs, and Linda O'Bryan, read letters to Sue Little who answers them as "Gertrude".

Looking at back issues of the paper, Ruby Chatlin, Judy Smith, Jo Anna Davis, Suzanne Francis, and Peggy Atkins, get ideas for features assigned by the editor.

Barbara Fuller, Copy Editor, and Cookie Nininger, Managing Editor, hold two positions which must be efficiently operated if the "News" is to be kept on schedule.

Every other Friday is brightened for students of Jefferson by the distribution of the Jefferson News. Full of the latest events, honors and sports, the Jefferson News adds greatly to school life. The Jefferson News is edited by a staff of twenty-one with the supervision of Mrs. Ruth Staton.

The staff has one week to write assignments posted by the editor, turn them in to page editors who assemble the pages and send the copy to press. Towards the end of the week staff members busily finish their work. The photographers retire to the dark-room to develop pictures for the current issue. By Friday the paper is at the print shop. It will be ready to be proofread by the following Wednesday. It is then with a sense of pride that the Jefferson News is handed out in home room on the next Friday morning.

The newspaper was submitted for judging to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association where it received a medalist rating, the highest award given by that association. The paper was judged on content and make up. This is the first medalist award received since 1957.

WORKING ON THE "JEFF" NEWS IS LOTS OF FUN!

Libby Devers, Linda O'Bryan, Dian Colbert, and Kay Davidson carefully proofread copy for the coming issue.

Michael Smith
Editor-in-Chief

Leaving for annual convention in Richmond, Va., are Jeanne Ostwald, Sue Ellen Scott, Pat Hartman, Judy Caldwell, John Allman.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Student teachers from Longwood College, Nancy Swann, Jane Freeman, Sue Ellen Sites, and Virginia VanDerite hold a panel discussion on education for members of the F.T.A.

The Future Teachers of America is open to all students interested in the teaching profession. This year members have been able to visit schools and observe classroom activities. During career month representatives were sent to West End School, Madison College; five members attended the F.T.A. Convention in Richmond. The project for the year was selling signature name cards for Senior announcements. Various programs given during the year were a panel discussion with the student teachers from Longwood, educational films and slides made abroad. As an added interest, Jefferson's German foreign exchange student, Petra Profe, spoke on education in her country. The F.T.A. ended a successful year with the traditional picnic.

Mrs. M. Barber, F.H.A. advisor, Glenna Barkley, Vicki Sigmon, Janie Campbell, Audrey Jarrell and Vickie Hudson sample punch before their Christmas party begins.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

The F.H.A., a national organization, is open to any boy or girl who has had one semester of home economics. Each year the members of the Jefferson chapter have an objective toward which they work. This year the members worked "To promote good will through getting to know our neighbors at home and abroad."

Their activities for the year included annual Emblem Service, entering a Homecoming Float which won second place, bake sales for students during lunch periods, P.T.A. Fashion show, and an Open House.

The F.H.A. furthers the training of its members in the field of home economics, a training which helps the girls either in the home or at college after graduation.

Members of the F.H.A.

Ruth Allfather, Mary Lou Amos, Brenda Ashley, Glenna Barkley, Wanda Barkley, Verna Barton, Kathryn Beard, Shirley Bordon, Muriel Brown, Jane Brust, Rita Burrows, Becky Byrd, Helen Cooper, Nancy Echols, Sue Etheridge, Beth Foster, Donna Gaines, Evelyn Garren, Maxine Gray, Carlie Sue Hall, Barbara Hill, Martha Hood, Susan Hood, Pat Hopkins, Nancy Lee, Bonnie Leonard, Diane McKindrick, Betty Mason, Shirley McNutt, Nancy McNutt, Judy Nichols, Sue Olinger, Senora Nolen, Patty Pratt, Pat Rankins, Pat Roupas, Barbara Ruck, Carolyn Vaughn, Patsey Weaver, Linda Wahlburg, Betty Whitaker, Susan Merkel.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

The FBLA is a business organization which works to develop competent, aggressive business leadership, to strengthen the confidence of young men and women in themselves and in their work, and to create more interest and understanding in the business world. This year the FBLA activities include installation of officers, Christmas Banquet, fashion show and State Convention at Richmond. Sponsors are Mrs. Elsam, Miss Anna Cronise, and Mr. Steagall.

D. E. EXPERIENCE-TRAINING-SCHOOL

Distributive Education develops leaders capable of handling important responsibilities in the business world. The Jefferson D.E. Club attends conventions, plans social activities, and has a banquet in honor of employers each spring. D.E. gives a student the feeling of being independent while he gains experience in his chosen field. He receives on-the-job training with earnings both in money and credits toward graduation. The D.E. Club at Jefferson helps to build the future businessmen and women in the Roanoke Valley.

Roger Saunders applies the principles of salesmanship at his training station.

The Distributive Education officers plan the year's coming activities. They are Donna Peters, Sec.; Phil Bailey, Pres.; Sandra Huff, Treas.; Betsy Harrison, Vice Pres.

JEFFERSON CHOIR PROVES MUSIC IS FUN!

A busy schedule was in store for members of the Jefferson High Choir when they met the first time in September. In the fall chocolate candy bars and soap were sold to make money for a weekend trip in April to Washington, D. C. On this trip the choir sang at several churches and toured interesting sights in and around Washington. At Christmas the concert, "This Is Christmas", was presented to the public, video tapes were cut for television stations WDBJ and WSLS, and outside appearances were made. This spring the choir presented a concert entitled "Let There Be Music." As always, the choir will end its year by providing the music at baccalaureate and graduation.

Members of the choir who went to All-West Chorus are Mary Ricks, Nancy Pringle, Dottie Hess, Eugene Angle, Suzanne Turner and Charles Roupas. Charles Roupas also went to All-State Chorus.

Officers of the choir are Charles Roupas, President; Dottie Hess, Vice-President; Linda O'Bryan, Secretary; Hope Sink and Doug Cooney, Treasurers; Bill Foster, Manager and Mary Ricks and Nancy Pringle, accompanists.

Rehearsing for the Spring concert, Mr. Griffey works with the tenor and bass sections.

Officers of the Thespians, Jack Richards, Vice-President; Bob Gaines, Treasurer; Lynn Davidow, President, and Mary Ellen Buchanan, Historian, sort out costumes which need to be altered.

Glenn McNulty, angel in the annual production of Why the Chimes Rang, climbs to her high backstage perch.

No, these are not the priests in La Plume de ma Tante! They are Bob Gaines, Joan Craig, Carlton Trout, and Jack Richards, members of the stage crew, taking a minute out for clowning.

Leading characters in the fall play, The Man Who Came to Dinner, were portrayed by Sue Little, Bob Gaines, and Glenn McNulty.

Diane Guilliams and Ronnie Richardson pin up pictures of the cast for the fall play, to be displayed in the front hall.

THESPIANS SPONSER DRAMATIC ACTIVITIES

Lights dim and the audience grows quiet as the curtain rises. National Thespian Troupe Number 1006 has started its year with the presentation of the fall play, The Man Who Came to Dinner. Soon after the fall play was over it was time to begin working on Chimes, an annual presentation. In the spring Act One of Outward Bound was given at the District One Act Play Festival and the spring play was presented. Under the direction of Joseph W. Cohron the group strives to advance its standards and to create an active interest in dramatic arts among the student body.

Any student who is interested in dramatics may work in dramatic productions. To be a Thespian, however, one must earn ten points by participating in various dramatic activities such as holding a major or minor role in a play or by being active in production work. Each activity carries a certain number of points. A prospective member must also have a good scholastic average and be approved by the advisor. Twenty-five students at Jefferson have earned membership into the Thespian Troupe this year.

In the last minute rush before the curtain rises on The Man, John Boyd, Kitty Downs, and Sandy Cook get straight their final instructions.

Pictured above are the members of the concert band presenting their first symphonic concert. The concert presented the history of the development of band music, narrated by Mr. Fuesler. The band displays musical versatility by giving four concerts yearly.

MUSICIANSHIP – PRECISION – TEAMWORK THE JEFFERSON BAND

Danny Felty, student director of the band, warms up his bassoon before a practice session.

The Jefferson Band is a versatile organization which includes a marching band, concert band, dance band, pep band, and small ensemble groups. It has consistently maintained a record of excellent and superior ratings in all types of activity and competition.

The concert season of the Jefferson Band presents a well-balanced program of music for the community and students of the school. Two symphonic band concerts are given in addition to a coffee concert and spring band show. In all these programs the band presents outstanding performances of the best music.

The Magicianettes are a great asset to the band. They not only "beautify" the band during parades, football games, rallies, and the Spring Band Show, but they also serve as ushers and hostesses.

This year 90% of the band students that auditioned for the All-State Band were accepted. This is evidence of the excellence of the entire organization.

HIGH STEPPING BAND LEADERS

The Magicianettes, a precision marching team, perform at football games and pep assemblies. Members of the team are: Sr. head—Melinda Charlton, Becky Gravett, Phyllis Grasty, Medie Sims, Patsy Dove, Patra Floyd, Carolyn Anderson, Darlene Thomas, Joyce Stump, Carol Schricker, Judy Smith, Cookie Nininger, Bobbie Wright, Christine Catron, (Mascot) Nell Tucker, Sandra Akers, Greer Wright, Ginny Anderton, Edith Johnson, Susan Collette, Joan Kelly, Judy Blake, Cletta Deyerle, Nonie Corvin, Bev Hawkins, Marty Spigel, Sherri Hillman, Jr. head—Sherry Wahl.

Martha Daniels and Roger Brinkley repair books which have had their backs broken by hard working students.

Gloria Booth and Brenda Brizendine shelve magazines.

THE LIBRARY CLUB SERVES JEFFERSON

The Jefferson Library Club consists of fifteen members with Barbara Ruck as President. Each member spends one period a day in the Library shelving, charging, checking, and mending books. The assistant in charge of magazines checks, stamps, and shelves them as they arrive. Each new book is processed by a student assistant before it is put on the shelf to be used by some eager student trying to get his book report in on time. Sponsors are Miss Frances Miller and Mrs. Elsie McNeace.

Members of the club are Gail Masterson, Barbara Rush, Sue Etheridge, Roger Brinkley, Linda Weaver, Danny Woods, Sue Craft, Gladys Clifton, and Martha Daniels. Others are Mike Howell, Izetter Beckner, Brenda Brizendine, Geneva Gordin, Mary Camper, and Cathy Rakes.

Petra—

The variety of sports at Jefferson is extensive, including football, basketball, wrestling, track, golf, baseball and tennis. The latter four will be pictured in the summer supplement. Your enthusiastic support of games, matches and meets has helped greatly in 1960-61 promotion of school-wide spirit.

The Girls' Athletic Association promotes participation in athletics among girls at Jefferson. Basketball, volleyball, baseball, badminton games, and ping pong tournaments sponsored by the club are set up in school. The girls learn the rules and regulations of each game and are able to officiate themselves. Outside of school hikes and bowling parties are favorite activities of the G.A.A.'s. The club has a membership of twenty-three athletic minded girls who, with the help of Mrs. Bess Stephenson, have had a year of fun and wholesome activities together.

1960-1961 Varsity Cheerleaders: Frances Sours; Yvonne Crouch; Glenn McNulty, Alternate; Kay Epperson, Head Cheerleader; Sudy Matthews; Ann Stevenson; Vickie

Goodman; Kathy Heslep; Margaret Hodges, Alternate; Linda O'Brian; Teresa Nash; Brenda Peyton; Dian Colbert; Ronnie Lichtman and Judy Hensley.

CHEERLEADERS PROMOTE SPIRIT

In the spring each year at Jefferson, Varsity Cheerleaders are chosen from the next year's junior and senior classes. They are chosen not only on their cheering ability but also on their scholastic average, personality, and school loyalty.

Different members of the squad are responsible for the signs placed in the halls each week before a game. Cheerleaders are also in charge of pep assemblies, parades and of leading the school in support of football and basketball teams.

Sudy Matthews, Brenda Peyton, Ronnie Lichtman, and Peter Munger seem to be successful in arousing school spirit at pep assembly.

Victory is wonderful and here the cheerleaders lead a small part of the student body in a cheer as Jefferson wins its first victory over Benedictine.

At the end of the season comes most of the hard inventory. Here Coaches Tucker, Light, Byrd, and Graybill check over the equipment.

With Coach Tucker in his second year at Jefferson, the Magicians have compiled a 15-2-1 overall record. This record includes a tie and win over Kingsport and two victories each over arch-rivals William Fleming, Andrew Lewis, and E. C. Glass. The good strength in every position, which promotes a better team, was due mostly to the fine assistant coaching of end coach George Graybill, back coach Howard Light, and line coaches Joe Byrd and Leon Briggs.

The bench strength of the Magicians was unusually strong this year. Watching the Grundy game are Eddie Scruggs (41) and Bob Young (40).

Record

Jefferson	27	Wilmington	13
Jefferson	33	Grundy	14
Jefferson	27	Wm. Fleming	14
Jefferson	14	Kingsport	12
Jefferson	27	E. C. Glass	7
Jefferson	7	Andrew Lewis	0
Jefferson	0	Oscar Smith	7
Jefferson	27	Warwick	0
Jefferson	20	Danville	14

The Magicians' stubborn defense was the key to many of our exciting games. Here the ability in gang tackling is shown against Fleming with W. Ferguson (55), R.

Jackson (51), E. Scruggs (41), B. Gregory (56), and B. Edwards (45), assisting T. Lovell (81) and "Tank" Stephens (72) in bringing down the ball carrier.

MAGICIANS ARE WESTERN DISTRICT CHAMPIONS

The Eastern District, as in the preceding season, once again spoiled a perfect season for the Magicians. The only loss came at the hands of Oscar Smith of South Norfolk on a rain-soaked, muddy field. The season was outstanding though, as the team compiled an 8-1-0 record. The mighty Magicians defeated Kingsport for the first time since 1954 and ended the Indians' seventeen game winning streak. Another exciting game was the victory over the then undefeated E. C. Glass Hill-toppers. Other teams the Magicians defeated were Wilmington, William Fleming, Andrew Lewis, Danville, and Warwick. The 27-0 victory over Warwick was sweet revenge for the Magicians, for it was Warwick that ruined the Magicians' 1959 record.

This year Charley Gregory was fifth in the state in scoring with 73 points, but here he is stopped short of the goal in the Fleming game.

First row: Jerry Harvey, tackle; Danny Hogan, halfback; Eugene Angle, halfback; Bill Turner, guard; Bill Edwards, guard; Charlie Gregory, fullback; Roy Nelson, tackle.
 Second row: Jimmy Null, halfback; Dick Hodges, half-

 Third row: Bob Young, halfback; Tommy Key, tackle; Jim Spigel, halfback; Richard Gardner, guard; Everett Lynski, guard.

back; Jack Gregory, end; "Tank" Stephens, tackle. Third row: John Allen, guard; Eddie Scruggs, halfback; Jerry Cecil, halfback; E. B. Snow, fullback; John Hughett, end; Jimmy Milne, guard.

Speedy halfbacks were an asset to the Magicians. Above is halfback Wayne Ferguson shown eluding one tackler and sprinting for extra yardage in the Fleming game.

Charley Gregory proved to be the power runner for Jefferson again this year, but here he shows his ability in open field running.

This year's managers were Billy McAfee, Andy Stone, and Meredith Lovern.

Perhaps the hardest job on the entire team is to be a manager. This year's managers were Andy Stone, Meredith Lovern, and Billy McAfee.

Several Magicians virtually walked away with All-Star Team honors. Bobby and Charlie Gregory received recognition for being selected for the All City-County, All Western-District, and All State Teams, and Honorable Mention on the All-Southern Team. Roy Nelson and Richard Lovern achieved All City-County and All Western District Teams, and received Honorable Mention on the All-State Team, along with Johnny Franklin, who also received Western District and Second Team City-County Honors.

Jerry Baker scores against Andrew Lewis.

JEFFERSON BASKETBALL MAGICIANS

Jefferson's Magicians, coached by Don Bartol, completed the '60-'61 regular season with a mediocre record of eight victories to eleven defeats. The Magicians' schedule was undoubtedly the toughest in the school's history, as such powerhouses as Kingsport, Staunton Military Academy, and Mt. Airy, N. C. were played.

A majority of this year's team were juniors, showing promise for next year's squad with nine out of thirteen players returning, including Roger Kinsey (6'6"), Jerry Baker (6'6"), and Al Buckley (6'5").

Surprise is the word as little Jimmy Sledd grabs a rebound away from Roger Kinsey and an Andrew Lewis player.

Roger Kinsey (42) at 6'6" was the tallest man on the Magicians' team this year. Here he takes a shot against Danville as Bill Lester (22) and Eugene Angle (40) wait for a possible rebound.

Bill Lester (22), the team's most consistent scorer, scored thirty-two points against Danville. Here he puts in two points as Jerry Baker prepares to follow up.

With all their height Jefferson had little trouble in capitalizing on jump balls this year. Above Roger Kinsey controls the tap as Eugene Angle (41) and Jerry Baker watch.

Again this year Jefferson had a new wrestling coach, Marshall Denison, who came to us from Jackson Junior High School.

Coach Denison's young and inexperienced Red Raiders compiled a 3-5 record this year. All but four of the team will be eligible for action again next year. This year, special recognition goes to Jimmy Null and Bill "Tank" Stephens. Null, a sophomore, had an undefeated regular season (8-0) and advanced to the second round in the state tournament at Princess Anne High School. Stephens, a junior, rounded out the season with a 7-0-1 record and also advanced to the second round in the state meet.

Struggling in vain is Jefferson's Burt Palmer, as he is about to be pinned in a match with William Fleming.

Coach Denison points out to Jimmy Null and Bill Stephens the offense and defense of a sit-out.

Butch "Brunk" Robertson tries to maneuver out of the grasp of William Fleming's Edgar Knowling.

Petra—

In the following ten pages, you will see some of the people who have brought honor to Jefferson — in academic achievement, in sports, in citizenship. Some show the esteem of fellow Jeffites for each other, in such voting as for Snow Queen, Senior Spotlight and for Madonna. To be voted Christmas Madonna is the greatest honor a Senior girl can have. We are glad this honor came to you.

Honors

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society was started to stimulate an interest in Scholarship in the Secondary Schools of the country. Its purpose is to recognize Character, Service, Leadership, and Scholarship in high school students, and in doing so to try to inspire all members of the high schools to try to attain and maintain these attributes and elements of high standing.

The National Honor Society Chapter at Jefferson was started twenty years ago and gives recognition to outstanding students on the basis of these elements. Each candidate must have an average of 4.000 or better for his four years of high school, no semester F's, ten service points and faculty approval.

Shirley Pratt congratulates Margaret Hodges at the Tapping Assembly by presenting her with the National Honor Society seal.

New members are First Row: D. Martin, G. Coxwell, H. Sink, P. Grasty, J. A. Floyd, P. Hartman, T. Nash, J. Hensley, C. Catron, P. Martin. Second Row: M. Jett, N. Pringle, N. Mundy, D. Brown, M. Hodges, J. Williams, B. Abbuehl. Third Row: C. King, C. Wood, M.

Ricks, M. Camper, A. Stone, J. Baker, S. Matthews, M. Rankin, M. Sims, A. Jarrelle. Fourth Row: B. McAfee, J. Stanley, G. Wright, N. Echols, M. Moses, N. Nicodemus, J. Maddex, J. Bolger, J. Edwards, H. Quekemeyer, D. Felty.

Officers of the Honor Society are Linda Combs, Secretary; Ronnie Litchman, Treasurer; Alice Estes, President; Danny White, Vice-President.

New member "Medie" Sims, standing between Geoff Hubbard and Hope Sink, receives membership card from Alice Estes.

Petra Profe, Jefferson's German Foreign Exchange student was Madonna in the Christmas Assembly.

This section pictures students who have in various ways brought honors to Jefferson. The class of 1961 is proud of these students who were elected as Homecoming Queen, Snow Queen, Madonna, mirror representatives or to membership in the National Honor Society. These students are honored on pages 144-153.

INDIVIDUALS HONOR THEMSELVES AND JEFFERSON

Dr. Rushton, Roanoke School Superintendent, crowns Homecoming Queen, Dian Colbert.

Snow Queen, Sue Little, and members of her court, Mary Stone Copenhaver, Jo Ann Floyd, Yvonne Crouch, Joyce Lunsford, Maid of Honor Dian Colbert, Kay Epperson, Linda O'Bryan, and Judy Hensley. Greer Wright was also a member of the court.

Jimmy Korte, first place winner in NCTE contest.

Alice Estes, first place winner in NCTE contest.

Alice Estes, DAR Good Citizenship Award winner.

Each year four Juniors are nominated to compete in the National Council of Teachers of English contest. The best English students at Jefferson write themes and essays which are judged by the English teachers and nominees are selected. The choice is based on participation in class, knowledge of English grammar, facility with words, ability to write well-organized themes and papers, and evidence that the student is widely read.

The Daughters of the American Revolution annually present a good citizenship award to an outstanding senior. This honor is awarded to the senior who has proved himself the best all-around citizen at Jefferson.

The Science Fair yearly draws many Jefferson participants who, for their ability in applying scientific principles, bring back various coveted honors to Jefferson.

Judy Kessler, runner-up in NCTE contest.

Alice Estes, third place winner in girl's biology and Johnny Johnson, second place winner in boy's physics examine a new microscope recently purchased by the Science Department.

Sports played a big part at Jefferson this year with honors given to many athletes. On the football team, Joe Churchill was selected outstanding blocker; Wayne Ferguson, outstanding pass receiver; Ronnie Jackson, best linebacker; Eugene Angle, most team spirit and best punter; Billy Edwards, most improved; and Jimmy Sledd, most versatile. Bobby Gregory, Charlie Gregory, and Roy Nelson were voted to the All-City County and the All-Western District teams. Charlie and Bobby made the All-State first team while Roy received honorable mention.

The thought "Boy, we're glad that's over" passes through the heads of Bobby Gregory, Charlie Gregory and Roy Nelson after the game with George Washington of Danville.

Bill Lester, co-captain of the '60-'61 basketball team, was on the All-City County and All-Western District teams and received honorable mention on the All-State team. The coach of the Magicians' basketball team was Don Bartol, who received the "coach of the Year" award in the city-county area.

First place winners and Alternates on Jefferson's 1961 Forensic Team are (seated) Judy Kessler, Robert Lepper, Danny Felty, Tom Amos, Glenn McNulty, Lynn Davidow and Bob Gaines; (standing) Teddy Driesch, Judy Williams, Pat McDowell, Jimmy Korte, John Wilson, Mike Lloyd and Sandra Cook.

Jefferson participates with other Group 1 schools in Forensic competitions: Drama, Debate, Public Speaking, Oral Reading and Spelling. District winners go to the University of Virginia to take part in state-wide festivals. Our Drama entry, Act 1 of OUTWARD BOUND, won a rating of Distinguished at both District and State levels. Other 1961 events have not, at this writing, taken place.

The American Legion Auxiliary of Virginia sponsors Girls' and Boys' State. Representative rising Seniors, who have shown evidence of school leadership, character, courage, honesty, scholarship, cooperation and physical fitness are chosen to receive this summer training in American citizenship. Girls' State takes place on the campus of Radford College; Boys' State at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

1960 participants at Girls' and Boys' State were Alice Estes, Susan Matthews, Ellen Sandefur, Margaret King, Pat Humphries, Nancy Wilson and Jo Ann Floyd; (second row) Buck Cuddy, Eugene Angle, Tom Amos, Danny Hogan and Peter Munger, and (not pictured) Mary Stone Copenhaver, Ronny Lichtman and Mary Council.

The members of the quartet sent to Rocky Mount were Danny Felty, Jimmy Korte, Marian Parker and Bobby Burdette.

Bobby Burdette received a superior rating for a solo on the French horn.

The Jefferson Band has competed in several contests this year. At the Festival in Bristol the band received a one or a superior rating. A quartet and a solo instrument sent to the Music Festival at Rocky Mount received a superior rating.

Three of Jefferson's publications, the Jefferson News, the Acorn Magazine, and the L'Echo de Roanoke, received a medalist rating at Columbia Scholastic Press Association's Spring Conference.

Jefferson's presentation at the One Act Play Festival was mentioned on page 149.

THE "LIGHT" BRIGADE ENJOYS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The 1961 track team, under the coaching of Howard Light and Charles Tucker, proved to be one of the most promising teams in the school's history. With a majority of the team juniors, high hopes were given for next year's squad. Among these were Johnny Edwards, who set a school record in the pole vault at thirteen feet; John Stone, who ran the 100 yd. dash in 10.2 seconds; and Paul Forth, who ran a 4:37 mile.

The thinclads were edged out by Andrew Lewis in the City-County Meet but they came back to defeat A. L. four times during the remainder of the season. Jefferson also placed second in the Western District Meet, losing to E. C. Glass of Lynchburg.

Paul Forth finished second in the City-County and Western District Meets in the mile run.

John Stone, top sprint man for Jefferson, here edges out Wayne Hall of Andrew Lewis in the final leg of the 880 yd. relay.

BASEBALL

Jefferson Magicians warm the bench as their team mates take to the field.

The Jefferson baseball team had its ups and downs this year, but the Bombers ended on the upperside with a 7-6 winning season. The leading hitter was Eugene Angle who hit at a .459 clip. The annual Most Valuable Player Trophy went to shortstop Skip Salmon, who had a lead-off batting average of .295 with six doubles. He was also outstanding in the field, committing only two errors. Two rookies, Eddie Scruggs and David Price, brightened up the pitching staff. They were assisted by veterans Andy Goode, Dave Brammar, Ronald Leonard, Ray Huffman and Wallace Jamison.

Special recognition goes to Coach Joe Byrd who has coached Jefferson to many successful baseball seasons and next year will move to the position of head basketball coach. He will be replaced by Robert Price, coming to us from the University of North Carolina.

Skip Salmon takes a mighty swing in the first inning of the Fleming game, as Jefferson goes on to win 10 to 9.

Eugene Angle slides safely back to second base as Jimmy Benson of Fleming stoops to receive the ball.

The golf team was composed of the following: (standing) Skip Kern, John Wentz, Wayne Holley, Roy Smith; (kneeling) Steve Hazlewood and Bobby Somnardahl.

GOLF

This past season the golf and tennis teams were blessed with young talent. John Wentz, just a sophomore, was second in the state schoolboy golf tournament. The team as a whole placed fifth in the tournament.

David Burrows and Bobby Cooper, both juniors, represent the young blood of the tennis team. Preston Thomas, Sherman Helms, Ed White, and George Howell, all underclassmen, will be returning to next year's team; Doug Thomas was the only senior.

TENNIS

The tennis team was composed of the following: (standing) David Burrows, Sherman Helms, Preston Thomas, Ed White; (kneeling) James Allen, Bobby Cooper, Doug Thomas and George Howell.

Mrs. Drewry presents Forensics awards to Robert Leeper, Lynn Davidow, Bucky Cuddy, Glenn McNulty and John Boyd.

As you see in these pages, this has been an exceptionally good year for many Jef-fites. We did well in spring sports. In forensics, we won top state awards in Drama (Act I, "Outward Bound") and in Boys' Public Speaking. The spring play (see p. 8) presented a psychological study of a girl willing to die for a principle. The Acorn Magazine won highest ratings in both Columbia University and W. and L. (SIPA) University evaluations. Many of our Seniors were awarded scholarships—Yes, a good year.

Mary Claire Rankin receives a Certificate d'honneur for excellence in third year French from Mrs. Fallwell.

Jackie Wimmer, Editor of the 1961 Acorn Yearbook, receives the Southern Interscholastic Press Award for the 1960 Acorn Yearbook from Mrs. Drewry.

SENIOR DAY

As Senior Day began, Seniors marched into the auditorium in academic dress. At the assembly the Class History, the Last Will and Testament, and the Class Prophecy were read. The class presented a neck microphone and a trophy case to the school, an overnight case to Petra, and an FM radio to Mr. Pitzer, our class sponsor. Seniors then adjourned to Lakeside where they were welcomed by a thunder shower. After their fried chicken lunch they enjoyed the rides. That night many Seniors took advantage of the free movie given for them by the American Theater.

Who says girls don't eat much? Patty Pratt, Judy Dingman, Barbara Lubinski, and Pat McDowell are proving otherwise.

After a few rides Ronnie Richardson settles down to lunch and his piece of fried chicken.

Mr. Bartol hands a Senior Day ticket including a free lunch and a free pass to the movies to Ernest Whanger.

The dance spirit of '61, Rock an Roll, made up a large part of the evening's enjoyment.

"Mach IV" and the "Rhythm Fakers" anxiously await a song from our angel MC, Danny O'Neill.

STAIRWAY TO THE STARS

THE JUNIOR - SENIOR PROM - A NIGHT TO REMEMBER

Stars can be seen in the eyes of many as a romantic number begins.

May twenty-seventh finally arrived and with it the excitement and sparkling splendor of the Junior-Senior Prom. The Shrine Temple Ballroom, carefully decorated and ornamented by members of the Junior Class in honor of the graduating Seniors, was a glittering heaven accenting the theme, "Stairway to the Stars". Dancing, of course, was the main order of the evening and the music was provided by the popular "Divots", a local group.

The floor show, always an important part of an evening's entertainment, was a real success, capably MC'd by Danny O'Neill. Charles Roupas and Suzanne Turner, as "Charles and Suzanne", opened the program with a few songs. They were followed by the well known "Rhythm Fakers" and finally the show was climaxed by the pickin' and singing of the "Mach IV". All of these talents, added together, made up an evening that will never be forgotten.

David Barnhart, one of Jefferson's two valedictorians, addresses the 1961 graduates, their families, and their friends.

The 1961 Jefferson graduating class stands as the commencement program begins.

GRADUATION DAY

Some of the graduates shuffle nervously in the lobby of the American Theater as they wait for their entrance.

The Jefferson High School 1961 graduation exercises on June 9 at the American Theater were significant not only in the eyes of the Seniors but in relation to Jefferson, for this was the last undivided class to graduate from Jefferson.

We were very proud of our class of 536 of whom 81 were honor graduates. Our two valedictorians were David Barnhart and Alice Estes.

A quotation from Thoreau set the theme of the Commencement. "If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away." The speakers were David Barnhart, Alice Estes, Danny White, and Tom Amos, the top four honor graduates; Eugene Angle, the President of the Senior Class; Mr. Harold Secord, our principal; and the Reverend I. Landon Maddex, father of honor graduate, Jimmy Maddex.

Seniors stand outside the American Theater before graduation exercises begin.

FRIDAY, JUNE 9, 1961

The long awaited day finally arrived. Our faces showed our excitement. On this day we reached a goal that was set for us twelve years ago. We were filled with a sense of pride and achievement as we stood waiting to go into the theater. But on some faces there was a hint of sadness for this was also a day of parting. Thus it was—Graduation Day, the completion of one phase of our lives and Commencement Day, the beginning of another.

B. W. Jones, a 1961 graduate, plays the drums to help set the theme for the commencement addresses. Here he plays the tympani.

Mr. Harold Secord, our principal, congratulates Ray Ebbet who is receiving his diploma.

Petra—

Your being at Jefferson has helped to make 1960-61 the BEST EVER. We hope this year has been memorable for you as well. We feel that now we know more about German students; perhaps you better understand America and American youth. In these Acorn pages, we have presented Jefferson and Jeffites hoping you will proudly show both to your family and friends in Berlin. So now—not Good-bye, but Auf Wiedersehn.
