ACORN TO OAK, THAT'S ROANOKE

Dwight Eggleston McQuilkin

In the days of Pocahontas, long ago,
By a wigwam lay an acorn, in the snow.
Many winter winds have blown,
Many summer suns have shone,
Now the acorn is an oak tree, fully grown.

But the wigwam long since vanished to the west,
And the warriors on the long trail seek their rest.
Many battles here were fought,
Many gains were dearly bought,
Ere a city from the wilderness was wrought.

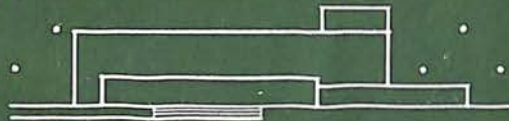

Now a city in her splendor points her spires
From the valley of "The Daughter of the Stars,"
Many prospects for great fame,
Many honors to her name,
But her learning will her glory most proclaim.

Like the germ within the acorn, source of strength,
Always knowledge gains ascendancy at length,
Many students, hour by hour,
Many leaders filled with power,
Such our city pass the future for a dower.

As the oak tree that endures from age to age
Sees our history in the making, year by year,
Many elders now behold
Many golden dreams unfold,
And success for virgin efforts is foretold.

Thus the old is ever a light to the new,
As the masses gain the knowledge of the few,
Ever upward - Roanoke,
Live the acorn to the oak,
And the blessing of All WISDOM ever invoke.

ROANOKE PUBLIC LIBRARY

As the hub is the central part of the wheel, so is Jefferson the center of much of the activity of Roanoke city. Its convenience in location enables Jefferson students to participate in downtown affairs, and its facilities are utilized by numerous civic groups.

Because we are proud that our school is a part of the backbone of the Roanoke Valley, that it can and does serve the downtown area, and that Jefferson and community affairs are closely interwoven, we focus the 1965 ACORN on Jefferson as an essential part of downtown Roanoke.

THE 1965 ACORN of Jefferson Senior High School

Mr. White talked with "Downie", Gail Schoonover, and "Townie," John Smith, the two elves from Jefferson who worked throughout the year in cooperation with Roanoke merchants, about their plans to promote downtown Roanoke.

DEDICATION

It is very appropriate that, with a theme pertaining to our school and downtown community relationship, we dedicate our yearbook to one who has spent over half of her life at Jefferson, both as a student, and as a teacher—one who devotes herself to education—has served as state chairman of mathematics, the field in which she has specialized for the past several years, held various offices in the Parent-Teacher Association at Jefferson, served as the sponsor of the National Honor Society, and maintains many close ties with downtown Roanoke. It might be interesting to know how many outstanding men and women received solid foundations in Business, English, and Math on the high school level from her.

A world-wide traveler, she taught one year at Liverpool, England, and another at Istanbul, Turkey. She has not hoarded her treasures of knowledge gained from these trips, but has willingly shared them with Jefferson students and the community by giving lectures and showing slides.

In appreciation of your service to and love for Jefferson, we take pride in presenting this, the 1965 ACORN to you—MISS LELIA STALKER.

CREED

We, the students of Jefferson High School, believe in purity of living, obedience to authority, courteous manners, achievement through effort, loyalty, service, and integrity of character. We believe in living up to the best that is within us at all times, whether alone or with many, and in keeping the faith with ourselves, our homes, our school, city, country, and our God.

Frank Caldwell, David Childress, Cornell Bowling and Kenneth Vaughn composed Jefferson's color guard.

ALMA MATER

To Thee, our Alma Mater,
Our hearts will e'er be true;
And so with lifted voices,
We sing our praise to you.
Still thru thy halls we wander,
Our friend You'll always be,
Forever we'll be faithful,
Dear Jefferson, to Thee.
Hail to our Alma Mater,
To us You'll always be,
A symbol of our happy days,
Our heartaches and our glee.
Within your walls fond mem'ries,
Grow dearer day by day,
All hail our Alma Mater,
Grant us courage on life's way.

ULTY

From the desk of our principal, Mr. Jerald R. White

Jefferson Senior High School is a comprehensive school. Our aim is to train the student to live a happy, and useful life by offering a curriculum appropriate to the students' individual needs and interests, and by offering learning situations that will enrich his life.

The student may select a course that will prepare him for college entrance, for further training in the secretarial and clerical field, for further training in retailing and store management, for further training in vocational fields, for homemaking, and a well-rounded general education.

Mr. Houston Sizer, Mary Lou Stafford, Robert Kahle.

Mr. Houston Sizer, assistant principal, and his secretary, Mrs. Mary Olinger, (at left), were constantly busy this year keeping up the affairs of the Activities office. As the name of the office implies, Mr. Sizer and Mrs. Olinger were in charge of handling a majority of the activities at Jefferson High. For instance, they took care of publications, they kept the school calendar of coming events, issued textbooks, sold school supplies, and kept an accurate account of all money spent or received by the school.

Miss Edna Chesney and Mrs. Lucy Doud, our two efficient secretaries, were important figures in the main office at Jefferson Senior High School year.

They started off the year with scheduling the student's classes. Among their other duties were typing notices, working on student report cards and records, supplying information for employers and investigations, and working with Mr. White to perform the many office requirements of each day in our busy school.

Waldron, Mr. Ebert, Mrs. Osterhoudt, Mrs. Kurtz, Mr. Johnson, Baird, Mrs. Whitley, Mrs. Cooper, Miss Goodwin, and Mrs. Edwards frequent meetings to plan the English program for the year.

In addition to the required courses, the English Department at Jefferson offered a variety of electives; vocabulary building, creative writing, advanced grammar, world literature, speech, drama, and journalism.

This year, an all girl class was taught literature by Mrs. Whitley, and were especially trained in reading improvement; at the same time an all boy class was given instruction in grammar and composition by Miss Sarah Goodwin. These classes "switched" each six weeks.

Bible was offered as a new course, not to teach the book from a religious standpoint, but as a part of our cultural heritage.

Science Department

The Science Department, under the direction of Mr. Wilson and his associates, Mr. Layman, Miss Sandidge, Mr. Nucholls, and Mr. Lemon, again this year worked with all students enrolled in science courses, both required and elective. With the aid of chemicals donated by the Slauffer Chemical Company, chemistry was made much wider in scope and more interesting. Also enriching the science department was electronic equipment which Jefferson received from the Federal Government.

Looking back on the science fair, which was held during the first week in March, Mr. Wilson regretted that we did not have a large quantity of projects, but felt that the quality was excellent.

Both the Junior Classical League and the Fleur de Lys publish their own newspapers. The Latin publication is the Roanoke Roman and the French publication is L' Echo de Roanoke.

This spring, the annual language banquet was held in the S&W Cafeteria and a program was given. All students who participated in a foreign language were invited to attend.

For those students who want to learn more than what is offered in class, the language laboratory is most beneficial since numerous tapes and recorders are provided for this purpose.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

This year, through the guidance of the Vocational Office Training and Distributive Education courses, many seniors gained experience needed after graduation in business offices, retail, wholesale, and service capacities. These business courses gave students an opportunity to work in the business world a minimum of fifteen hours a week in close correlation with his other high school courses, under the guidance of experienced supervisors and teachers.

Courses held during the year at Jefferson were typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, clerical practice, general business, and office machinery, most on three high school grade levels.

Vocational Department

This year our shops have offered many fields of vocational training to the boys and girls at Jefferson interested in following this phase of Jefferson's high school education.

Students had a choice of woodwork, sheet metal, auto mechanic, welding, machine shop, printing, and mechanical drawing.

In the shops, the boys and girls were taught a trade which they could follow after graduation, or continue on the college level.

Fine Arts Department

The Art Department gave much pleasure to Jefferson students by presenting frequent art exhibits of interesting pieces of work.

The Dramatics Department offered a variation from daily routine by the fall and spring plays. A television play and a play for district competition were also on the agenda for this year's work.

Our choir added flavor to various assemblies this year, and also entertained the student body by the annual spring concert.

Miss Virginia East, Miss Carol Sandidge also were in charge of the school's driver's education program.

Among the required courses a student must have to graduate from Jefferson are four years of physical education.

Our physical education department has three main objectives: to provide opportunities for participation in physical activities that will result in educational experiences; to develop the organic systems of the body so that each student may live at his highest level; and to develop skills in activities with favorable attitudes toward play that will carry over into future careers and leisure hours.

Girls' Physical Education

The Girl's Physical Education department participated in many fields of athletics this year. A few of the activities were new to some of the girls and they found them to be beneficial.

This year Jefferson for the second year continued a gymnastic program which included special instruction in the use of the horse, uneven parallel bars, and the balance beam. The girls on the team spent many long hours improving routines to prepare themselves for the state meet in Norfolk which was held in April and included both state and regional competition on the high school level.

The girls also participated in a number of sports and activities such as basketball, volleyball, the physical fitness program, and tennis.

Our boys physical education staff is made up of experienced men in the athletic field. Mr. Byrd, Mr. Hamerick, and Mr. Nuchols worked with the sophomores and junior boys to build them up physically and keep them fit. They taught the boys health and physical education on alternate days. During the school week the boys took regular exercises and learned how to keep their bodies in good working order by learning what to eat and how to take care of their bodies. Also they learned about health, diseases of the body system and how to prevent and cure them.

The physical fitness program inaugurated by our late President John Kennedy was a part of the over all program.

This year Jefferson's Guidance Department had three counselors. Miss Margaret Brown, the senior counselor, worked very hard with the senior students trying to help prepare them for college. After the students took their College Board Exams it was her responsibility to discuss the results with the students. The juniors were counseled by Mrs. Carolyn Abbitt. Her main job was to evaluate the scores of the P S A T and the S T E P and S C A T tests for each student.

They helped students to select suitable books for various book reviews and reports. They were always ready with suggestions for leisure reading.

Many new and interesting books became a part of our library this year, which was also kept well supplied with various current newspapers and magazines.

Attendance Office

The Attendance Office was under the supervision of Mrs. Beverly Osterhoudt, Mr. Joe Byrd, and Mr. Leeson Nucholls. They issued our admittance slips after absences, and checked our excuses for being absent. They were not only interested in our being punctual, but also in us as individual students.

Students at Jefferson enjoy a very active school life. There are courses to meet every need and clubs and activities to fit each individual interest.

We have an excellent athletic program beginning with football in the fall and ending with baseball and tennis in the spring.

Homecoming, dances, hops, plays and many other activities are participated in by the majority of the student body.

From the time a Jeffite first enters the doors of Jefferson High School as a "rat" until he proudly leaves with that coveted diploma, Jefferson offers him a challenging scholastic and extra curricular opportunity to develop in to a mature well adjusted young person.

STUDENTS

SENIOR CLASS

We, the Senior Class of 1965, leave Jefferson with regret and with many happy memories of our years here. We will never forget our Senior privileges and varied activities.

As Seniors we participated in more academic, athletic and social functions. Always we shall remember the privilege of leaving assemblies first, the traditional Senior Week and the opening of the Senior Lounge, but most important the long-awaited prom and coveted diploma.

We leave with eagerness to meet the challenges of adult lives, further our education and the hope of later taking active parts in the business world of Roanoke.

We know that these years at Jefferson Senior High have given us the background and confidence to meet these challenges.

JUNIOR CLASS

This year as Juniors, we began preparing ourselves for our senior year at Jefferson. Last year there was the election of junior class officers, who took over their duties at the first of this school year. Then came the election of the junior steering committee and the first junior class meeting. On the third Wednesday of every month we had Kiwanas Guidance.

The highlight of our junior year was receiving our senior ring which became the official ring of Jefferson this year for the first time.

As the year came to an end we had the fun and expectancy of preparing for the junior-senior prom, which was one of the "greatest" thrills of the entire year.

We are eagerly anticipating our senior year, when we will be leaders of our school, with all of the responsibilities and pleasures which are part of reaching an important goal, being seniors and candidates for graduation.

OFFICIAL JEFFERSON CLASS RING SELECTED

Mr. White and two members of the ring committee, Brenda Duff and Robert Kahle, discussed sketches of the new Jefferson ring after they were received in the fall.

The junior class this year became the first class at Jefferson to receive an official class ring of Jefferson High. A contract was signed with one company and the rings can not be ordered other than through the school. This makes it impossible for anyone other than qualified students to receive the Jefferson Class Ring. The new design is modern in concept and over two hundred juniors ordered one. The selection, arrival, and distribution of the rings was a highlight of the year for juniors.

We, the sophomores of 1964-65, have respectively upheld high standards and goals for ourselves and our school, Jefferson High.

We have enjoyed participating in and contributing to school spirit, sports, plays, assemblies, dances, and all other school activities, as well as working hard for more knowledge and good grades. We have studied hard to make this, our first year at Jefferson High, a successful one for us.

As we conclude our sophomore year, we look forward to our junior year with the satisfaction that we have now become true "Jeffites".

The cafeteria staff is a necessary and important part of our school life.

Each staff member was well qualified in order to prepare good and nutritious meals for both students and teachers. Under the head of Mrs. Dixon they were always ready to serve us and we were usually ready to have them serve us by lunchtime, after a busy morning of varied learning processes.

Neatness and cleanliness characterize Jefferson in all its phases. The custodians do more than their part in order to keep the school neat and clean.

During Clean and Sweep Week the Student Cooperative Association, through posters and projects encouraged us to take pride in our school by keeping it neat and clean. However the entire year the custodial staff, headed by Mr. Woodford Flowers kept the school well heated, clean, and in good operating condition.

It Is Also Thriving At Work

On the way to their next class, students hurried to beat the tardy bell.

Many seniors will always remember decorating and attending the 1963-64 Prom, "Un Soirée a Paris."

"Anyone for an elevator pass?" Steve Church and Wayne Wiseman, sophomores, purchased elevator passes from senior Gordon Willoughby.

"Oops, smile, you're on Candid Camera!" The camera caught Mr. Sizer as he was busy at work.

An Individual School Community and At Play

It appeared that Mrs. Cooper had had enough for one day and was in the process of getting rid of two of her study hall problems.

Principal Jerald White crowned Gail Schoonover as Homecoming Queen during the half time ceremony of the Jefferson-E. C. Glass game in November. Gail's escort was Jim Ragland.

Miss Sandidge demonstrated the lay-up shot for one of her gym classes.

Mr. Hamerick batted back the ball during the Varsity-Faculty volleyball game as Mrs. Edwards stood by to give her assistance.

Students gathered on the blacktop during lunch for a little fresh air and to exchange the latest bits of news.

ORGANIZATIONS AND

Jefferson's clubs and organizations went through a major change this year that sparked new interest and added vitality to the clubs. With the introduction of the Activities Forum and activities period, more students joined clubs and participated with enthusiasm.

Clubs were not only active here at Jefferson but they performed many services throughout Roanoke. Many of these clubs were associated with downtown Roanoke, one of the foremost being the Y-Teens.

CLASSES

Student Cooperative

A new Student Government took shape this year, under the provisions of a new Constitution, which was adopted in May, 1964. This Constitution created three branches of student government: the Executive Council, Student Forum, and Activities Forum.

The Executive Council is the main governing body of Student Government. It was through this branch that such campaigns as "Clean Sweep Week" and decorating doors and bulletin boards at Christmas had their origin. Twice a month the Council met with Mr. White to discuss school problems and to propose and work out solutions for these problems. The Executive Council also sponsored the Faculty Tea, Sophomore Orientation Day, the Student Directory, the Christmas Dance, and the Spring Project. Aside from this, it was in charge of class elections and the elections of the various queens and their courts.

The Student Forum, composed of homeroom presidents, and the Activities Forum, composed of the various club presidents, worked hand in hand with the Executive Council. These forums served as a link between the Executive Council and the homerooms and clubs. Through these forums, more students had an opportunity to take part in student government affairs.

Gail Schoonover, Miss Brown, and Glenn Dillon completed a bulletin board display after their return from the Southern Association of Student Councils Convention. Grady Saunders, president, was absent when the picture was made.

The Acorn Yearbook

Meeting each day since September, the Acorn yearbook staff has been constantly busy turning out the 1965 Acorn. We have learned, not only the major factors which go into producing the yearbook, but the minute details as well.

There were many afternoons spent in room 102 in order that deadlines be met. This was

Jefferson News

The Jefferson News was issued sixteen times during the school year. It was an important part of Jefferson High life, and students who read it found the facts they needed to know in order to be well informed Jeffites.

The paper was completely written and edited by the students.

The newspaper commented editorially on many facets of life at Jefferson in addition to the regular news on clubs, sports, and assembly program.

Students honored by various groups and publicity on many extracurricular activities such as plays, concerts, forensics and special programs were also featured.

The students who worked on the newspaper received valuable training in journalism that will help them both now and in the future.

This association and the Columbia Interscholastic Press Association are both national publication services which judge and rate our newspaper and other school publications on their merits.

Jefferson's students looked forward to the Fridays when the Jefferson News was distributed.

Dorothy Supthin, Harold Castleman, and Joe Smith assist Joyce Dillon in proof-reading the newspaper dummy before it goes to press.

Mr. Johnson, the advisor of the Jefferson News, went with his staff to the Southern Interscholastic Press Association Conference, in Lexington, Virginia, in April.

Acorn Magazine

David Hillman, Katherine Gillespie, Norman Wilfong, Wayne Shay, Ruth Sweeney, Bonnie Phelan.

The Acorn magazine is a literary and art magazine, published by the students of Jefferson, with Mrs. Staton as advisor.

The Acorn was distributed both in the spring and the fall. Both issues contained short stories, essays, poetry, and reviews of plays and books, as well as distinctive illustrations and excellent art work.

The combined efforts of the creative writing class, and the art department plus student contributions from the school at large made this year's Acorn magazines outstanding in quality.

The art staff under the direction of Mrs. Carol Abbitt work on illustrations for the magazine.

2nd row: Joe Turner, Vickie Nicely, Norman Wilfong, Delores Moses, John Smith, Hayman Smith, Mrs. Abbitt, Eddie Terry.

Photography Club

The Photography Club was one of the new clubs which were organized this year.

Mr. Victor Layman, the advisor, shared his knowledge of this field through various photographic projects with the club members.

The club was offered for those students who were interested in learning the proper techniques of using the camera, developing and printing negatives and getting the most enjoyment from the knowledge of these processes.

The students took a field trip to the World News Building in order to gain more knowledge of the different types of cameras and equipment used in photography.

Developing pictures was the main class room project of the club.

The Club, with a membership of fifteen active "shutter bugs" got off to a good start during its first year at Jefferson High.

Wayne Deel, President; Virginia Graybill, Secretary; Kenny Watson, Treasurer; Ronnie Williams, Vice-President.

Many teen-agers have found that happiness comes from helping others. The Red Cross sponsored by Miss Mildred Kerlin and Mrs. Hester McCabe gave students a chance to help those less fortunate than themselves.

The club promoted a "Great Pumpkin" Blood Drive October 24, 1964. Parents and relatives were encouraged to give a pint of blood, and several students, who were old enough, helped out by making donations.

"Volunteers" were also sponsored by the Red Cross. They gave their time and energy in many different ways—Junior Gray Ladies assisted at local hospitals, teen drivers provided transportation for blood donors, and girls worked after school at the Red Cross Center, filing and typing reports. A cookie drive, game period, and variety show were held at the Veterans' Administration hospital.

Officers attended a city-wide meeting monthly at the Red Cross Center. They were able to report on the work of other chapters, throughout the city, at group meetings. Members which were representatives from each home room, kept the school informed on club activities through meeting reports and journals.

Y-Teens

The Y-Teens sponsored the mock election held at Jefferson. Melinda Jackson enters the voting booth as Jozan Garst, Sandra Blount, and Dorothy Sutphin wait in line. Bonnie Austin registered the students for voting.

The Y-Teen Club of Jefferson, a Christian organization, is sponsored by the central YWCA.

They took an active part in school life by participating in the campaigns sponsored by the Student Government. On Teacher Appreciation Day during "Clean Sweep Week", they served coffee and cookies to the teachers.

The Y-Teens took part in many fund raising projects throughout the year. In the fall, they participated in a sale of the Roanoke Star Newspaper sponsored by the Central YWCA. The money raised, financed a cabin at Camp Craig, the YWCA Camp, in memory of Miss Jean Umberger, a former Y-Teen sponsor at Jefferson. They also sponsored a car-wash in March which proved not only to be fun, but profitable as well.

The club organized a dramatics club which acted out various stories and presented them to the children at various homes and hospitals.

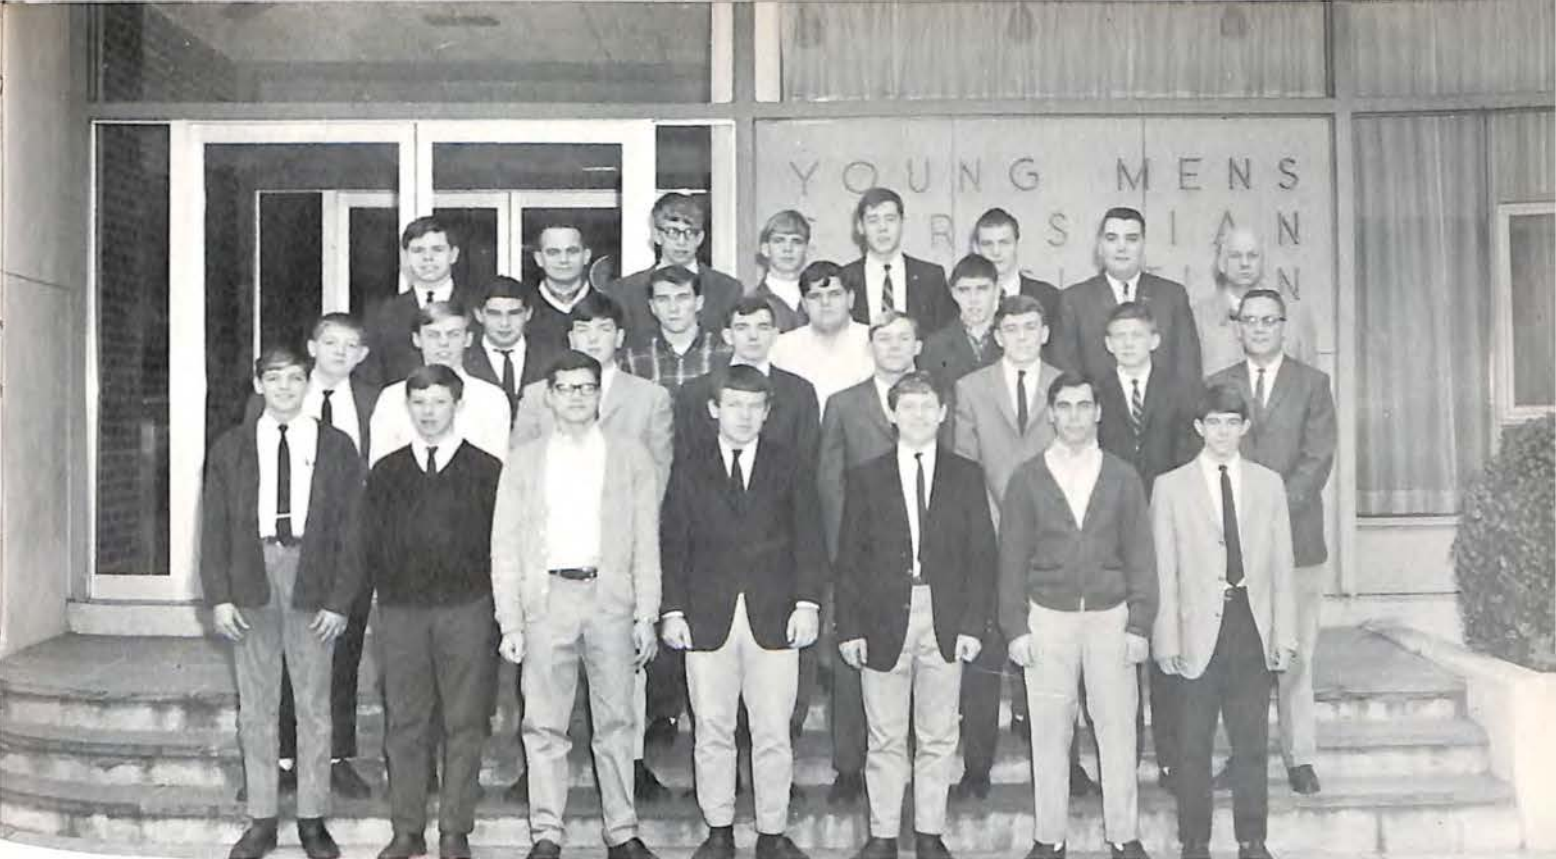

This year proved to be a very active and worthwhile year for the members of the Y-Teens.

The Jefferson Hi-Y is one of the oldest clubs at Jefferson, and also one of the most active. To start off the year, the officers were sent to an officers' training conference at Blue Ridge, North Carolina, during the last week of July, 1964. Mr. Adams, and the newly elected officers attended that conference and brought back invaluable information for the coming year.

The Southwest District conference was held at Pulaski in November. Glenn Dillon, the district vice president presided over the business meeting. Robert Kahle was elected the new district vice president, and Jefferson was chosen to be the district host school next year.

The annual distribution of "White Christmas" baskets was again done by the Hi-Y members. The Easter Service was another service project carried out by the Hi-Y. In April, the Hi-Y sent representatives to the Model General Assembly, which is held annually in Richmond, Virginia.

Fleur de Lys

The Fleur de Lys held its organizational meeting in October; officers were elected at this meeting.

At the November meeting, Mary Leigh Smith told us of her trip to France, and showed us many interesting souvenirs from Paris.

At the December meeting, a special Christmas program was given. Madame and Monsieur Santa Claus, Rudie and Dasher Reindeer were contestants in a game of "Password" played in French. Carolyn Graham, Gary Carter, Donnie Jarrett, and Billy Altizer represented these famous people and animals. At other meetings songs were sung, dramazations, speeches were given, movies shown and games played, all in French.

OFFICERS: Jozan Garst, Mr. Carroll Adams, Shirley Carson, Linda Iddings, Mary Leigh Smith.

In April, a language banquet was held at the Greene Memorial Church. The French Club helped provide entertainment for the evening with song and a drama-zation. To understand more fully France and its people, one has only to belong to the Fleur-de-Lys. After attending a meeting, members even found themselves thinking in French.

Fleur-De-Lys

Publishing a French newspaper was something complicated as editor Mary Lou Stafford, and her staff found out. However, the results in the form of L'ECHO de Roanoke proved to be well worth while.

The newspaper, written entirely in French, contained articles on every conceivable subject related to Jefferson. Crossword puzzles, cartoons and quizzes were also included.

Two issues of L'ECHO were published, one at Christmas and the other in May. During the year, almost every French student contributed at least one article to the paper.

Pan American League

This year the Spanish Club was under a new director, Mr. Mather. The Club was organized exclusively for student taking Spanish.

This year for the first time Spanish clubs from the city and county met jointly at the various school.

The Jefferson club was very busy this year and some of its activities were: Christmas caroling at Jefferson Hospital followed by a social, informative talks throughout the year, a banquet with the French and Latin clubs in the spring, and the year was ended with an outing at Fishburn Park in May.

Junior Classical League

The Junior Classical League is the Latin Club at Jefferson. Meetings were held once a month during activities. Programs were presented which pertained to Roman life and the Latin language. Some of these programs were in the form of plays while others consisted of games and reports all in the Latin language. The Junior Classical League also sent delegates to the Virginia Junior Classical League Convention held at Charlottesville.

Roanoke Roman

The Latin Club annually publishes the newspaper Roanoke Roman, which was forty years old this year. In it there are poems and special features written by Latin students.—It is strongly felt that the paper stimulated students to further their study and appreciation of the Roman culture and language.

Roanoke Roman Staff: Linda Minter, Mrs. Baird, Jennifer Self, John Smith, and Sharon McDonald admire the Latin Club's bulletin board for Thanksgiving.

The Voice of Christian Youth and its advisor, Miss Sarah Goodwin, met this year on the fourth Wednesday every month during activities period. During the meetings the members sang songs and had programs of a religious nature which were centered around points of interest to modern youths.

The Voice of Christian Youth was in charge of the annual Thanksgiving program this year. The Reverend Jerald R. White Jr. assistant minister of the First Baptist Church, was the guest speaker.

In December the group sent a donation to the American Bible Society to help in their work of furnishing Bibles and portions of the Bible to people throughout the world. Christmas, as in previous years, the Voice of Christian Youth gave small booklets, containing the King James version of the Christmas story, to interested students.

The VCY, as a special project throughout the year, kept an attractive bulletin board which gave a definite Christian message to the students at Jefferson.

Officers: Cynthia Fisher, President; Bruce Wood, Vice-President; Gail Bush, Treasurer; Linda Croy, Secretary.

Science Club

The Science Club at Jefferson was under the direction of Mr. Robert B. Wilson and his associates, Mr. Victor R. Layman and Mr. Douglas Lemon.

Students who belonged to the club went on various field trips to Washington, D. C., Chapel Hill, North Carolina, and Sugar Grove, West Virginia.

The members who were especially interested in majoring on the college level in some fields of science went on two trips to Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and Virginia Polytechnic Institute, at Blacksburg, Virginia.

These varied trips along with many purposeful meetings and some social activities rounded out a very educational year for the members of the club.

Officers: Glenn Dillon, President; Robert Kahle, Vice-President; Miss Sykes, Secretary; Warren Lucas, Treasurer; Mr. Wilson.

This year our choir participated in many school and community activities. They sang for a special television program during Christmas.

Choir

Officers: Mr. Skeens, Director; Mike Andrews, Librarian; Brenda Duff, Librarian; Sandra King, Secretary; Connie Weaver, President; Bruce Woods, Vice-President; Gale Hancock, Accompanist.

The Jefferson Choir has approximately fifty members and is under the supervision of Mr. Ronald Skeens, a newcomer to the Jefferson faculty.

The Choir participated in the Thanksgiving program and in the annual Christmas assembly. They also took part in the annual Crossroads Mall Christmas program, and sang special selections during the annual Christmas band concert. The choir went caroling through the halls the last day of school, before the Christmas Holidays, in keeping with the Jefferson tradition of many years.

The District All-State Choir met in Pulaskee, Virginia during February. The students chosen to go had to audition and were selected by Mr. Skeens.

At Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises the choir gave its last performances for the school year 1964-65.

The Future Teachers of America

The Future Teachers of America Club had a very successful and progressive year. A new program introduced to the F.T.A. members, a point system through which the members could earn a pin by being active and showing interest in all the club activities and projects.

Two of the monthly meetings included interesting talks in connection with F.T.A. Miss May Hoover, supervisor of the student teachers at Hollins College, presented a most inspiring installation service in October and Miss Lelia Stalker, head of our Math Department at Jefferson, showed films of her travels abroad and talked on international relations, at our December meeting.

Other activities included the state convention November 20-21 in Richmond, the annual Dutch Treat Supper at the S&W cafeteria co-sponsored by the Delta Kappa Gamma, and Career Day in April. At this time all F.T.A. members were delighted to visit other schools to observe how the teaching, scheduling, and everyday activities were carried out.

Club members also visited W.S.L.S. Television Station in the spring as one of the culminating activities.

The Future Homemakers of America is a national organization for students who are interested in prompting better home life. The theme for the year was "You and Your Values." Mrs. Lawhorn was the advisor.

At the January meeting, a prominent Roanoke lawyer, Mr. Richard Pence, talked to the students about their individual growth with emphasis on values.

This year, as in the past, the students held bake sales around the school to raise money for their club. Part of this money was sent to their "adopted" girl at the Baptist Children's Home.

In the Spring, a potluck supper was given for the members of the F.H.A. and their mothers.

The F.H.A. Honors Banquet topped off the year with awards given to students for outstanding achievements in F.H.A.

Mr. Jack Smith, Executive Vice-President of the Chamber of Commerce, discusses the industrial growth of Roanoke with the advisor and officers of the FBLA. They are Mrs. Reid, Alanda Howery, Karen Settles, Ginger Shepherd, Joyce Hyatt, Linda Jamison. Seated: Sue Graighead, Linda Overstreet.

Future Business Leaders of America

The Future Business Leaders of America is an organization for high school and college business students. They gain experience in dealing with local, state, and national business problems, which helps to prepare them to assume adult responsibilities in similar organizations. This business group is sponsored by the United Business Education Association, a department of the National Education Association.

The Regional Future Business Leaders of America Convention was held at Radford on April 4. The State organization had its annual convention April 24-25 at the Golden Triangle in Norfolk, Virginia. The local NOMA Chapter assisted FBLA activities by serving as judges, consultants and by administering the National Business Entrance tests.

Future Business Leaders of America helps improve education through closer school and community relationships and supplies a valuable source of recruitment for business employers. Vocational Office Training students are active members of FBLA and assume leadership in many activities.

Eddie Lawhorn, Jane Bain, Judy Gray, Gary Fulton, Carolyn Fralin served as the officers of the Distributive Education Club this year.

This year the Jefferson chapter of the Distributive Education Club, headed by Mr. James Mundy, carried out numerous projects. A survey was conducted to determine how the teenage consumer is accepted in business. A research into the history of Jefferson's Distributive Education department revealed that it was founded in January, 1938 and is the oldest in the state. In November, a fashion show was given by Jeffites.

During November 11-18, National Distributive Education Week was recognized by 30-second radio spots on local stations and a television spot on WDBJ. The students in Distributive Education work in 23 different stores in the Roanoke area and four of the members are also members of Armed Service Reserve Units. In January, the members of the Distributive Education Club went on a tour of the Roanoke World News and later visited the Kroger and Mick or Mack Distribution Centers to study warehouse operations.

On March 10, the District Convention was held at E. C. Glass High School in Lynchburg, and in April the State Leadership Convention was held. The annual Employer-Employee Banquet was given later in April.

The stage crew is an essential part of Jefferson High School Theater. Props, scenery, lighting, and stage maintenance were all responsibilities of our stage crew. Georgia Gregory, James Cunningham, Dorothy Guilliams, Mr. Laban Johnson, Rodney Brown, Tommy England, Becky Hendrick, Buddy Thompson, and Cheryl Deyerle take time out from their work to clown on stage.

This past year Jefferson High Theater was under the direction of Mr. Laban Johnson. The theater consists of National Thespian Society members and another group, the Masquers, working toward membership. The dramatics and speech classes were also active participants of the Jefferson High Theater.

A fine year began when "You Can't Take It With You," was presented November 13 and 14, 1964. At Christmas time, "Why the Chimes Rang," was presented, in keeping with Jefferson tradition.

The students worked hard to prepare for their entry in the District One-Act Play Festival and the television play, presented in March.

Finally the year came to a close with the presentation of the spring play and the annual initiation of new members into the Thespian Troup 1006 of Jefferson High School.

Bill Powers, David Rohrer, Donna Wilkins, Brenda Duff, Mike Wright, Ginni Moomaw, Malcolm Rafferty, Dorothy Sutphin, Lewis Mills, and Ronnie Showalter are shown in a scene from "You Can't Take It With You."

Library Club

Students, with an increased membership in the Library Club this year, had a very successful and informative program. The student assistants volunteered their time during study hall periods and after school to work in the library. They checked books in and out of the library, mended, shelved and prepared books for circulation, and also made out over due slips.

The members met once a month. Occasionally instead of business meetings they would have some type of social gathering. In May, the Library Club had a picnic for the members and their guests.

Under the guidance of the sponsors, Mrs. Mary Stevenson and Mrs. Sara Palmer, the members of the Library Club gained a thorough knowledge of library operations.

Terry Parcell, Danny Jones, Buddy Hannah, Allan Hillman, David Hillman, Norman Wilfong, and Roy Crook give their viewpoints on books they have read.

Great Books Club

A small group of students met every two weeks at activities period to discuss selected readings. The students selected one book or play each month. They discussed this selection for two periods of forty-five minutes. Students conducted the discussion period and the emphasis was not on the literary genre or on the story but on the ideas advanced by the author.

Quill and Scroll Society

The Quill and Scroll is an international literary honor society for high school journalists. Any student who participated in the magazine, yearbook, newspaper, or foreign language publications and met the requirements of the society was eligible. In order to meet the requirements, it was necessary to be in the junior or senior year and have a high M average. The students also had to be recommended for outstanding work by their publication advisors.

In February, the students were received into the Quill and Scroll.

Debate Team

The Debate Club, under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Staton, completed its second year of existence successfully.

The topic of debate for all schools in the Virginia High School league this year was "Resolved: that nuclear weapons should be controlled by an international organization."

The main event of the year was the annual forensics meet. This contest was participated in by students in the Western District IA schools.

The Jefferson High Band, has well represented our school this past year.

The annual band concert was presented December 10, 1964. The Jefferson Band was also the official band for Virginia Polytechnic Institute in the Harvest Bowl festivities. The band participated in the Shrine Bowl Parade also.

At Christmas time, the band participated in out of town parades. They took part in the annual Christmas Parade in Roanoke.

At the close of the school year the band took part in the Dogwood Festival Parade in Vinton.

JEFFERSON BAND

The Magicianettes is the drill team of Jefferson under the leadership of Mary Stump, head magicianette.

Girls on this drill team must be chosen at tryouts in early spring and must practice during the summer months.

The Magicianettes helped to add color and life to our band and school. They marched in all parades with the band and attended football and basketball games to help cheer and boost the spirit of our team and students.

ACTIVITIES

Honors and Activities

1965 has been an outstanding year in the fields of both honors and activities at Jefferson Senior High School.

Gail Schoonover was our annual homecoming queen this year. Toni Lantz was "Miss Teenage Roanoke" and represented our city in Dallas, Texas in the National Competition. City-County football honors were won by John Gregory, Phil Davis and Richard McGeorge. Scholarships were not available at the time this section went to press.

New to Jefferson this year was the activities period, during which the clubs met every second and fourth Wednesdays from 9 to 9:45 a. m. On the second Wednesday of the month, clubs associated with school subjects met for regular programs and trips, parties, and other activities which took place after school.

Clubs not linked with school subjects, such as Y-Teens, Hi-Y, and the Key Club met on every fourth Wednesday for programs, discussions, and planning sessions. The first Wednesdays were reserved for assembly programs and other special features.

Not new to Jefferson, but new in form was the Kiwanis Vocational Guidance program for Juniors which also met from 9 a.m. till 9:45 a.m. Instead of meeting in one or two small groups, the whole Junior class met together, to hear speeches by outstanding business leaders of Roanoke, and to participate in informal question and answer periods with them afterwards.

This activities program set up by Mr. Jerald White and a special committee last summer, was more successful in that more students were able to participate in the many phases of extra curricular activity so important to a well-rounded high school life.

Top Honor Graduates
 Pat Campbell and David Hillman achieved the highest academic averages in the graduation class of 1965. No wonder they face the future with happy smiles.

Grady Saunders, Judy Crouch, Vicki Null, David Taylor, Reid Bolling, Bill Powers, Gail Schoonover, David McCray, and Pam McGregor were our delegates to Girls' and Boys' State last summer. Perhaps some day they will help represent our city government, as was suggested by this shot.

HONORS

National Honor Society

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to recognize Character, Service, and Scholarship. To attain membership in the National Honor Society, one must have an 4.0 scholastic average, no semester F's, and faculty approval. If these standards are met, a student may be tapped into the Society in the annual tapping assembly. This ceremony was one of the outstanding events of the year.

This year, members of the National Honor Society sold stationery and held a banquet. Miss Leila Stalker was the sponsor of the Society.

David Hillman taps Mike Andrews into the National Honor Society during the annual tapping assembly. Linda Minter taps an unidentified junior.

Key Club

The Key Club, under the direction of Mr. Douglas Lemon, was sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Roanoke.

In order to become a member, a student must go through a trial period and then be voted in by the members. A member must maintain a 3.0 scholastic average.

The objective of the club is to serve the community. The club undertook many projects for the year 1964-65. Among these were selling doughnuts, and sponsoring the Faculty-WROV All-Star basketball game.

Officers: Mr. Douglas Lemon, Advisor; David Taylor, Vice-President; Donald Kessler, President; Grady Saunders, Secretary; Charles McKay, Treasurer.

The Holly Daze Court consisted of Kathy Hurst, Malinda Jackson, Judy Crouch, Mary Lou Stafford, Pam McGregor, Gail Schoonover, Lana Stone, Mary Stump, Jozan Garst, and Brenda Duff.

Pam McGregor was the Holly Daze Queen

The theme of this year's Christmas Dance, held December 18 in the girls' gym, was "Holly Daze". The music for this annual event was provided by the Chordinators.

Mary Stump, a senior, was chosen by the members of the Jefferson Band and magicianettes to represent our school in Roanoke's annual Christmas Parade.

Jozan Garst, Lana Stone, Gail Schoonover, Mary Stump and Kathy Hurst made up the Homecoming Court.

The student body chose Gail Schoonover for the 1964 Homecoming Queen. The homecoming festivities preceded the game with E. C. Glass of Lynchburg.

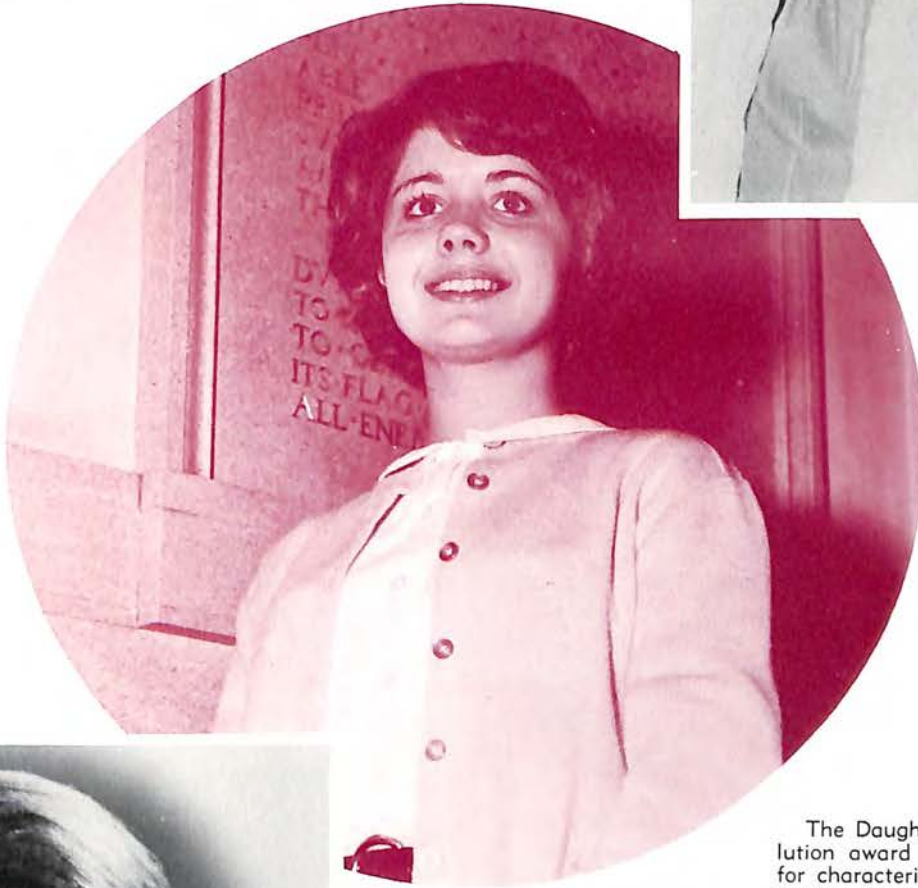

This year the annual Christmas assembly, "Why the Chimes Rang," was presented to the student body.

Mary Stump was chosen by the members of student body to portray the Madonna.

Honors

The Daughters of the American Revolution award is an annual award given for characteristics such as dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. This year Gail Schoonover received this outstanding citizenship award, one of the highest honors of the school year.

This year Jefferson was honored to have a member of the student body, Toni Lantz, represent Roanoke in Dallas, Texas, as Miss Teenage Roanoke.

Selected from ten Roanoke semi-finalists, she spent a week in Dallas, Texas, competing for the title of Miss Teenage America. She will reign as Miss Teenage Roanoke for the year of 1965.

Jefferson's football team didn't have a winning season this year, but the boys all developed skill by working hard and by the end of the season they had won two games and tied one.

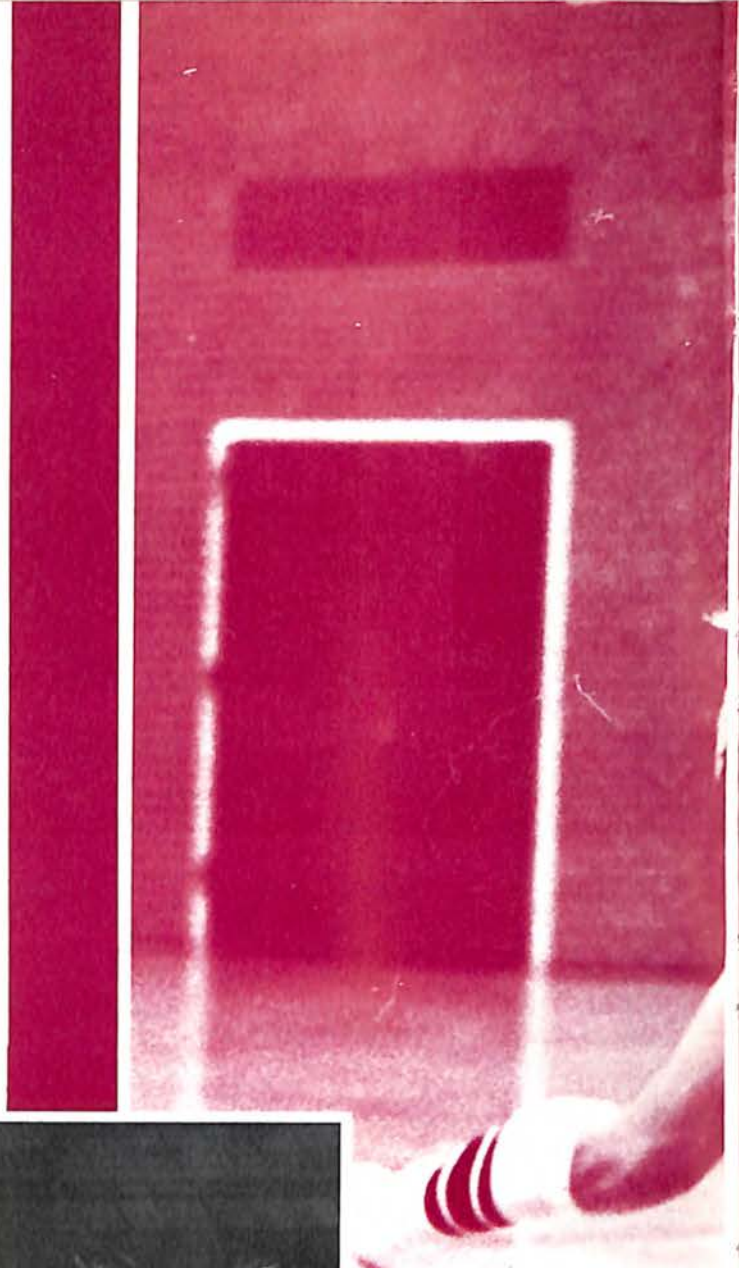

On this year's team were a number of good juniors who will be coming back next year with high spirits to work hard and play their best for Jefferson High School.

The Varsity Girls' Volleyball team did it again! For the third consecutive year they brought home the city championship.

These two major sports, along with basketball, baseball, tennis, and wrestling were well supported by the devoted and high spirited student body.

We will always remember the thrills of the "pep assembly" and hear the ringing cry of GO, GO, GO that flavored this year at Jefferson High School.

Jefferson's champion volleyball team consisted of Elizabeth Dyer, Becky Cassell, Linda Andrews, Julia Mitchell, Dianne Janney, Peggy Price, Pam Wingfield, and Dorothy Alls.

In order to become a member of the G.A.A. it is necessary to maintain 100 points a year. These points may be earned by participating in varsity and junior varsity sports, cheerleading, and intramurals. This year there were about 55 club members under the leadership of Miss Carol Sandidge.

For the third consecutive year, the volleyball team won the city-county championship. On December 4, a slumber party was held at the Y.W.C.A. and later in the month the girls went ice skating at Traveltown Arena.

During Jefferson's basketball games and wrestling matches the G.A.A. attended and gave their support as a group. This spring, a Powder-Puff football game was played with the Y-Teens.

Earlier in the year, the girls elected Becky Cassell as their President, Linda Andrews as Vice-President, Julia Mitchell as Secretary, and Libby Nackley as Treasurer at one of the regular meetings which are held on the fourth Wednesday of each month during the activities period.

The Jefferson Senior High School Varsity Cheerleading squad backed up our athletic program at Jefferson. They were always present at the football and basketball games to boost the school spirit and led their schoolmates in cheering. Their other duties included perfecting their cheers, planning pep assemblies and making posters.

The cheerleaders, under the direction of Miss Virginia East, were chosen early last spring. Later in the season the squad attended a cheerleading clinic in Martinsville, Virginia. Also, as a member of the National Cheerleading Association, the cheerleaders were present at the National Cheerleading Camp at Camp Farrar, Virginia Beach, Virginia. Here the Jefferson cheerleaders placed third in their division in the state.

The Magicians had a very rough season this year. They played some very good teams including Lane High School, State Champions, 1963-64, and Andrew Lewis High School, State Champions this year.

One of the most outstanding high school football players to come from Jefferson was John Gregory. He had many offers from various colleges but is seriously considering the University of Miami.

Despite the teams record of 2-6-1 the boys all practiced hard and played good, sportsmanlike football.

Proudly, win or lose, we cheered the players on.

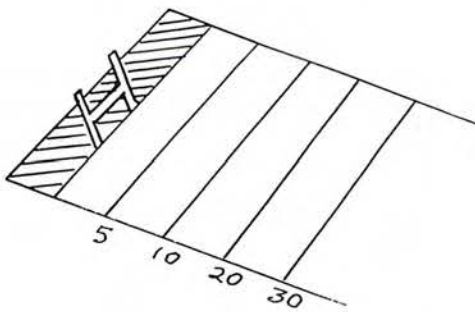

David McCray received pass as Fleming player Kyle Christian (31) closes in.

Larry Puckett ran off right end and gave tackle a stiff arm.

Mike Andrews was brought down by Colonel player No. (12).

Ronnie Robertson took a shot from the side of the key, as J. D. Robinson attempted to block it unsuccessfully.

Co-Captains Butch Church, and Benny Peyton.

Richard McGeorge went up for a rebound against Blackley Ballantine, and Elmer Craft, as J. D. Robinson, and Sherman Chisom waited for the outcome.

Benny Peyton goes up for a shot against Otey Heck of William Byrd.

The basketball team, under Mr. Joe Byrd's coaching and the able leadership of its co-captains, Butch Church and Benny Peyton had a successful season.

The victories that came during the long season were well deserved and hard fought. Even in defeat, the boys played and looked like winners. The team consisted of four juniors and six seniors, two of the starters were juniors.

The Junior Varsity Basketball team had a better than average record and should provide many good basketball players for next year's varsity team.

Varsity J Club

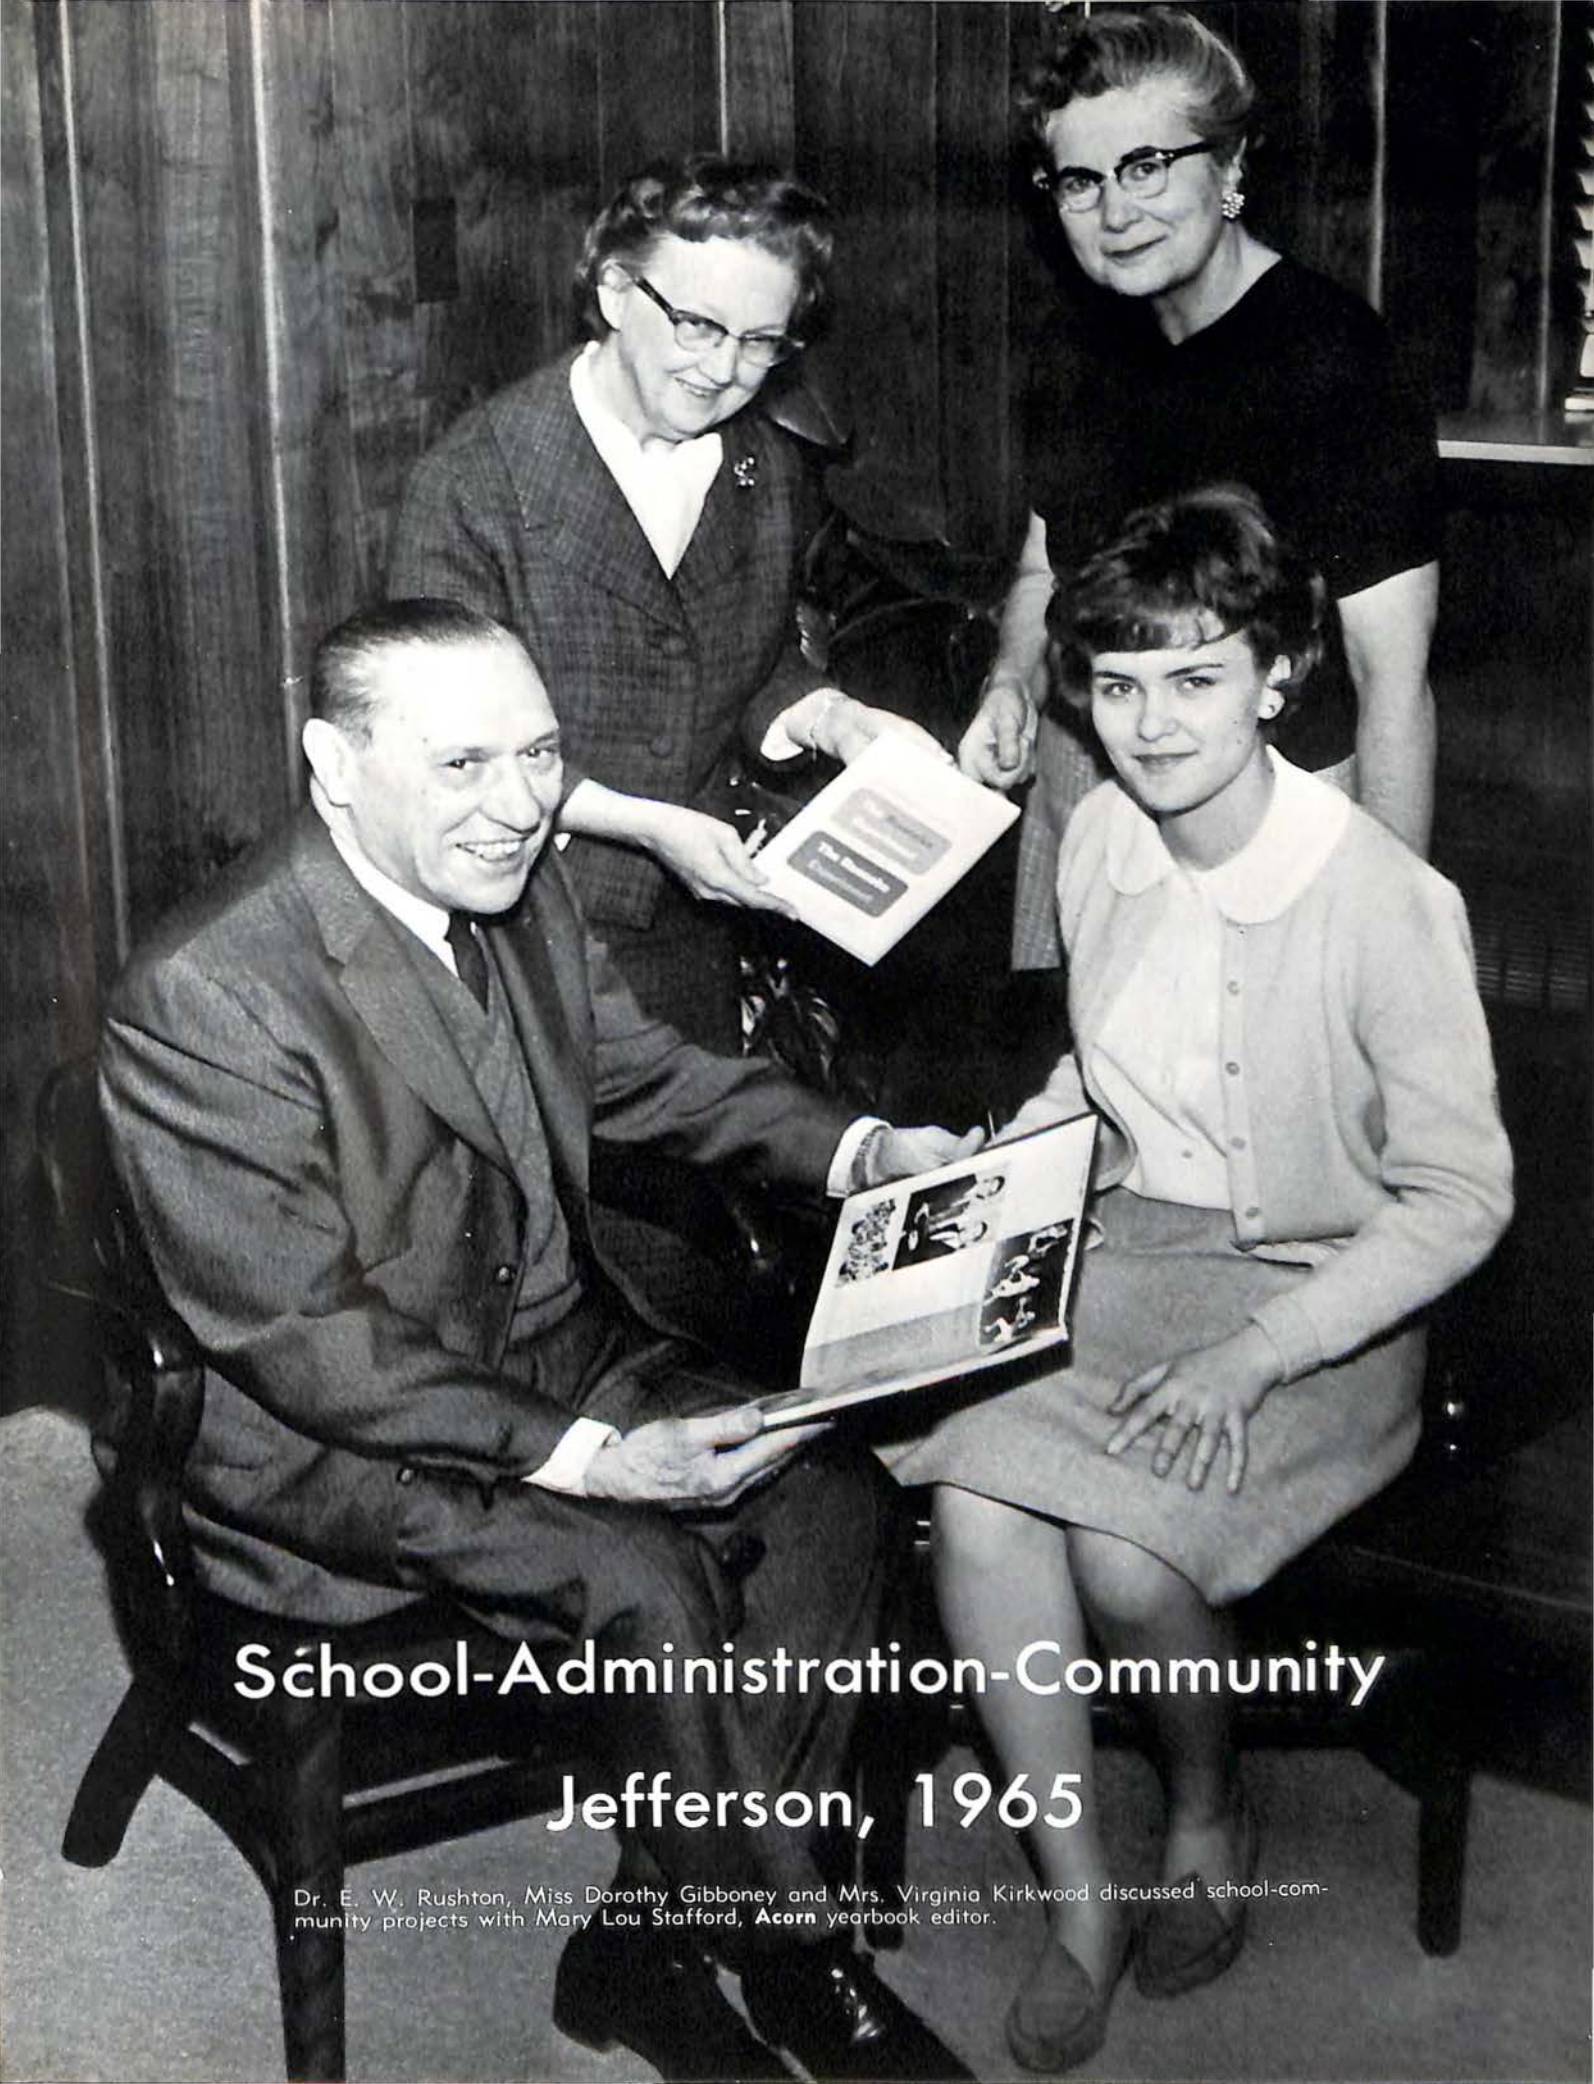

The Varsity "J" Club is an organization for the athletes of Jefferson. In order to become a member of the club a boy must earn a letter in any of the varsity sports. Upon lettering for the second time in the same sport, a member is presented with a jacket bearing the traditional "J" insignia.

The purpose of the "J" Club is to give recognition to those boys participating in varsity sports and to promote school spirit.

The club met on the fourth Wednesday during Activities period and its advisor was Mr. Marshall Ebert. The members sold tickets for the annual Fun Night, sponsored various hops throughout the school year, and participated in the many campaigns sponsored by Activities Forum.

Officers: Mr. Marshall Ebert, Advisor; Billy Altizer, President; Richard McGeorge, Vice-President; Wayne Hall, Secretary-Treasurer.

Mrs. Eva Aldhizer, Miss Leila Stalker, Mrs. Barbara Carter, Mrs. Ernest Wilkins, Mr. Jerald R. White, Mrs. Virginia Schricker discuss the Parent Teacher Association Fun Night which was held in March.

Parents and Teachers Association

Mr. Aldhizer, Mrs. Ruth Wilkins, Mrs. Eva Aldhizer, Mrs. John Cooper are shown with the walk sign, which the P.T.A. helped to obtain.

The Parent Teacher Association has as always, been very busy this year. Last summer, they sent two girls to Girls' State at Radford College and two boys to Boys' State at the College of William and Mary.

Fun Night, an annual event, was held in February and provided not only fun but was profitable. The PTA also took part in the tapping ceremony of the National Honor Society by presenting keys to seniors and scholastic letters to juniors with average of 4.2 or better.

We, at Jefferson, are aware of the intense effort and work that this organization has put forth for the betterment of our school and students. We hope it will continue its interest in our school and the student body.

Junior Achievement of Roanoke Valley, Incorporated was represented by an even larger number of Jefferson students, and other local high school students than in previous years.

Mr. S. R. Crockett was the executive director in the Roanoke area of this organization sponsored by outstanding local, state, and national concerns. In October organized business high school companies were organized. Each company had three local businessmen as advisors who gave their time to help the Achievers learn more about business operation and management on various levels.

Junior Achievers met once a week from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. at the Junior Achievement Center in downtown Roanoke. During these two hours they learned more about each phase of an adult business—the organization, making and selling of the product, keeping business records and the liquidation of a business at the end of the school year.

At the Future Unlimited Banquet in May, Achievers were presented awards and scholarships which they had won. Also in May, each Junior Achievement company liquidated and paid dividends to its stockholders, if the company made a profit.

Knowledge gained in this group has brought about an important and added experience to meet the many challenges of the business world.

Youth and Pilot

Youth and Industry Program

The members of Mr. Frank O. Smith's Honors Government class participated in a Youth and Industry Program sponsored by the Industrial Management Club of Roanoke. The program taught the students more about the basic concept of several industries in the Roanoke Valley.

Visits to community industries were made weekly from November 5th through December 15th. The students were given a guided tour through each plant and at the conclusion of each tour a discussion was held with the executives of each particular industry.

Mr. J. Richard Crowley explained the purpose of the Youth and Industry program at its first session. Row 1: Bill Miller, David Hillman. Row 2: John Carter, Carolyn Rich, Gail Schoonover. Row 3: Mr. J. L. Wyatt, Trena Bush, Mary Lou Stafford, Mary Leigh Smith, David Smith. Row 4: Mr. C. W. Sarver, Mr. E. R. Vaught, Bruce Woods, Kenneth Carter, Danny Chisom, Danny Barker, and Mr. Frank Smith.

ACORN TO OAK, THAT'S ROANOKE

Dwight Eggleston McQuilkin

In the days of Pocahontas, long ago,
By a wigwam lay an acorn, in the snow.
Many winter winds have blown,
Many summer suns have shone,
Now the acorn is an oak tree, fully grown.

But the wigwam long since vanished to the west,
And the warriors on the long trail seek their rest.
Many battles here were fought,
Many gains were dearly bought,
Ere a city from the wilderness was wrought.

Now a city in her splendor points her spires
From the valley of "The Daughter of the Stars."
Many prospects for great fame,
Many honors to her name,
But her learning will her glory most proclaim.

Like the germ within the acorn, source of strength,
Always knowledge gains ascendancy at length;
Many students, hour by hour,
Many leaders filled with power,—
Such our city pays the future for a dower.

As the oak tree that endures from age to age
Sees our history in the making, page by page,
Many elders now behold
Many golden dreams unfold,
And success for virgin efforts is foretold.

Thus the old is ever yielding to the new,
As the masses gain the knowledge of the few;
Ever upward, Roanoke,
Like the acorn to the oak,
And the blessing of All-Whispering Ave Maria.

Written for the 25th Anniversary of the Inauguration of the City of Roanoke
