THE STUDENT BODY

Jefferson Senior High School

ROANOKE, VIRGINIA

The magnificent role played by America at war has made the dream of Tomorrow's World a coming possibility. The Jefferson graduate will help build that world.

In it, helicopters land on his roof, great commercial planes carry American products to the ends of the earth, passenger planes make him a neighbor of the East and West, and new materials of plastic turn his particular village, town, or city into a veritable architect's dream.

The graduate, still a realist, will be alert to the need of self-protection. In the words of Thomas Jefferson, "Eternal vigilance is the price of freedom."

Tell

O thou, New World, Tomorrow, and your sons,
A lovely thing you are—a dream of hope!
For men DO dream amidst their war, and tons
Of shells could not displace the shining rope
Of faith in men's ability to build
Again the world they tear about them now.
The cost? Ah, no, the debt will be fulfilled—
Completely paid 'ere cannon cease. And how?
The dead. The boys we sent from this high school
Who died, still clinging to the faith we tell
Of now, have paid! The Retribution Rule
All mankind must observe produces hell.
Remember, in that great new world of peace,
The payment that we sent, to gain the lease!

—SHIRLEY SAMPSON

G. I.
Bill of Rights
1944

The architect has gone back stage to draw experimental plans for a great tomorrow. A bulletin now and then informs us of scientific progress in our great laboratories. Architect and Scientist are both at work. By the G.I. Bill of Rights, each G.I. is given the chance to come home and train himself for the place awaiting his particular talent.

Jefferson, mindful of this New World, has broadened some courses and intensified others.

The doors of Jefferson swing wide in welcome to the boy in service as he returns on furlough. Whether he be seeking his favorite teacher, a former classmate, or his best girl, he receives a hearty greeting from each student. He realizes that during his absence he has not been forgotten.

Dedication

*W*ITH pride and appreciation, the "Acorn" Staff dedicates the 1945 Annual to one who for ten years has maintained the proper balance between progressive and conservative education, to one who has stood for scholarship and discipline, to one who has never been too busy to discuss informally the smaller problems of the students, or to meet them on friendly terms —

Geneva, in its clean beauty and unmarred record, may or may not be the scene of a new and successful League of Nations. At any rate, Internationalism is the only basis for a world-wide peace.

Many of our graduating class have attended Roanoke's Forum Lectures -- Stirring, international events have stimulated their interest in affairs of other nations. Jefferson's Senior has begun to realize that in this world of Tomorrow, his interests will not be merely local or national, but world-wide.

JUNIOR

Out of the Revolution came a young government prepared to struggle against further odds to make itself a nation—a young government with a strong back—a Constitution—a document so wise in conception as to have no contemporary equal. Here was a bond of understanding between states, drawing them together into a union, assuming the share of a national government, yet allowing each state to settle its local problems.

By the time we are Juniors, we, too, begin to develop the possibilities of a group working as one for the good of all. Each Junior, after working out his personal difficulties, brings a new wisdom to the intricacies of class government.

Sophomore

William Penn's Quakers, the New England Pilgrims, and our colorful Williamsburg Colony tried to gain protection and power without a centralized government.

Like them, Sophomores at Jefferson will outgrow the idea that interest centers around them alone, and their private activities.

Organizations

There is much time spent today by our leaders in planning great international security organization. They are not waiting for postwar peace conferences. A basic organization uniting all nations calls for the most delicate perception of one nation's problems by another.

At Jefferson, each club, serving as a unit, must, nevertheless, find its place as a part of the whole school organization.

The Acorn Magazine, featuring short stories, articles, poetry, a Rostrum Column, In Review, and Alumni Column is Jefferson's school magazine. It is mainly the work of the Journalism students in the creative writing classes conducted for training in creative writing.

Because of the paper shortage, the Acorn Magazine has had to eliminate its winter issue for two years. The same staff is responsible for the planning of the Annual.

Student Government

Student Government at Jefferson this year has been earnestly working toward an ideal. Along with its regular projects, such as Old Grads' Day and Student Day, the Prefect Council has been concerned with improving the spirit and condition of the student body.

From its plans and work on a Student Court to obtain better conduct in the halls came the conviction that an Honor System should be established.

Committees met to work out the details and, with the approval of Student Council, the System was presented to several clubs, the faculty, and finally, the three classes. The Prefect Council this year is firmly convinced of the need for and desire of the students to see Jefferson among the schools possessing an Honor System.

Classical League

The Junior Classical League is a Latin Club whose members covenant to hand on the torch of classical civilization in the modern world. Its chief project is the publication of the "Roanoke Roman," a Latin-English newspaper whose editors are Betty Lee and Mary Holland. The patriotic service of the League this year has consisted of four waste-paper drives.

The officers are:

SOL KATZ . . . . . President
 DICK VIAR . . . . . Vice President
 EDITH SATCHWELL . . . . . Secretary

French Department

"L' Echo de Roanoke" entered the C. S. P. A. Contest and followed faithfully its motto, "Noblesse Oblige."

A main feature of each issue has been the correspondence from France by ex-Jeffersonians. Also published was the last poem of Andre Fallwell, ex-editor of "L' Echo," who fell under German fire in Luxembourg.

Co-editors for 1944-45 were Edith Satchwell and Judith Postman, with collaborators Jane Beasley, Martinia Lindsey, Bobby Fulghum, James Stephenson, and Ann Daniel.

Fleur-de-Lys

The purpose of the Fleur-de-Lys is to bring together in an informal way the members of the French Department to try out conversational French, invite guest lecturers who stress what the French language means to the world, and present phases of French culture.

The 1944-45 officers were: President, Nancy Penn; Vice President, Ann Davis; Secretary, Ran Hobart; Treasurer, Elizabeth Kirk; Social Chairman, Natalie Spigel; Publicity Chairman, Judy Postman. Madame Henriette Messenger Fallwell sponsors the club.

The Hi-Y Club

During the year the Hi-Y Club has conducted a series of very inspirational programs, featuring prominent speakers who presented the higher ideals of life.

At the Christmas season, the Club conducted the annual delivery of the Christmas baskets, prepared by the students of the school. A contribution of twenty dollars was made to the Community Fund, and a very successful sale of tickets to the indoor circus was held. The Hi-Y, along with the Girls' Club, shared the honor of presenting the Easter Assembly.

The year was highlighted by such social activities as outings at Camp Johnson, a Fathers' Banquet, a banquet for their favorite teachers, and two bowling nights. Joint meetings were held with the Junior and Senior Girls' Clubs, discussing ideal boy-and-girl relations.

THE SPEECH DEPARTMENT

The Speech Department, during the year, has done some very outstanding work on plays and assemblies. The costume play, "The Song of Bernadette," was so well done that the department was asked to test a play that had just been written.

The Verse-Speaking Choir, shown on this page, was also organized, and the students have made several appearances before different clubs.

With a membership of over a hundred, the Junior Girls' Club opened its fall program with a recognition service at Greene Memorial Church. Throughout the year the Club sponsored such social activities as: The Maroon and White Dance; St. Patrick's Dance, and joined with the Senior Club in the Easter Assembly and the Sweetheart Banquet. Many informal teas were held following the regular meetings.

The themes for the programs of this year have been varied. Among these were Boy-and-Girl Relationships, Juvenile Delinquency and current questions and problems in and out of school.

MRS. ETHEL J. FIELD      MISS VIRGINIA HARRIS

During this year, the Senior Girls' Club, numbering approximately 160, has participated in a varied program of activities, such as: The Get-Acquainted Tea, given for both the Senior and Junior clubs; the city-wide Recognition Service held at Greene Memorial Church; the Thanksgiving Party; the Easter Assembly, and the Spring Dance held at the "Y."

Highlighting the interesting and beneficial programs presented for the club members was the joint meeting with the Hi-Y. This program centered on Boy-Girl Relationships, and featured six topics for discussion.

Concluding a highly successful and enjoyable year for the Club, was the annual Sweetheart Banquet, a memorable event for all.

Bible Department

The officers are as follows:

Presidents: Margaret Brewer, Hobart Weaver, Ruby Hall, Feebee Stevens.

Vice Presidents: Charles Bennett, Rosa Oyler, Rachel Powell, Emory Newton.

Secretaries: Ann Patterson, Eleanor Bates, Jane Buddecke, Edith Hogan.

Treasurers: Norman Weinstein, Randolph Jewell, Virginia Milam, Jack Sumpter.

The Bible Department of Jefferson High, headed by Miss Mary DeLong, has consisted this school year of four classes, three in the New Testament and one in the Old Testament.

These classes have created a better understanding between students of the different faiths.

All students read three parallels relating to Biblical subjects during the semester, and class reports of these have given pupils knowledge of the contents of a variety of books. Memory passages are learned and recited by the students. There are many interesting class discussions of the Scriptures. The students have an opportunity to express their opinions and also to receive the guidance necessary in understanding the Scriptures.

They who have taken this course can feel the need in this busy, unsure world for the guidance, strength, and courage found in the Scriptures.

The Martha Washington Literary Society has the distinct honor of being the oldest organization in Jefferson High School, having been organized in November of 1911.

The aim of the M. W. L. S. is to broaden and develop the members intellectually, to enable them to consider all sides of a question and to express themselves. The goal is the development of elegance and the pursuit of truth.

This organization helps the girls to learn about and to appreciate many of the great works of literature and also to develop and cultivate interest in creative writings.

The Club's activities this year were highlighted by participation in the War Clothing Drive in which the M. W. L. S. challenged the student body.

Although the Club was late in reorganizing this year, it now has a membership of 45 girls.

The organization has great plans for next year and its aim is to obtain at least 100 members.

Members of the M. W. L. S. have secured many honors for Jefferson High School, among them medals at Interscholastic meets of Virginia.

The purpose of the Club is to develop in its members the love for good books and joy in reading as well as to give experience to those who are looking forward to a career in Library Science work. The membership includes all library helpers.

The Jefferson Science Club

The members of this group, realizing that the world looks to science and youth for future happiness and well being, have organized to promote more interest in science and the part it plays in the world today.

Membership: Science Clubs of America; Virginia Junior Academy of Science.

The Roanoke Distributors' Club

OFFICERS

MILDRED HARPER . . . . . President
DICK BURTON . . . . . Vice President
BOYD SUTTON . . . . . Secretary-Treasurer

The thirty-five members of the Distributors' Club have a common interest in that they are all students of Distributive Education (Retailing). This club is a member of a national organization.

The purpose of the Club is not only to promote the interest and advancement of its members in the retailing profession but also to provide social activities for the group.

The Concert Band

The Concert Band, which has played many interesting engagements very successfully this year, has established more musical interest throughout the school and community.

Conducted by Mr. Jerry R. White, the Band began its yearly program by rendering music and color for the football games. During the year, the Band has participated in a number of the school's assemblies, recreational gatherings, basket ball games and many community enterprises. The most difficult engagement a high school band can be called upon to play was performed by the Band for the Hippodrome Circus presented by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the third successive year. The Band sponsored the Magazine Drive in the school this year, which was very successful.

The Marching Band

The Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Jerry R. White, has had a busy year and its hard work was displayed on the football field by elaborate drills and in parades by precision marching. The Band showed much enthusiasm in the parade for the Thanksgiving Day game, the Women's Army Corps ceremony and parade, and others.

To the right are the students who were chosen to represent Jefferson High School in the Fourth Annual All-State High School Band which was held in Charlottesville, March 23-24-25. These students were chosen on basis of musical ability and experience from more than two hundred applicants.

Formed in February of this year, this, the Pilots' Club, is the newest of Jefferson's student organizations. Its purpose is two-fold: first, to promote interest in aviation through better and safer flying; second, to establish a fellowship among Jefferson's pilots.

Among its activities, the Club has had several speakers, prominent in local aviation, at its meetings, among whom was George Stathers, Civil Aeronautics Authority Inspector. Various social affairs have also been held. Club members, all of whom have a minimum of five hours' dual instruction, try to make aviation safer by improving their own flying habits.

Besides Miss Frances Denny, faculty sponsor, the Club has Mr. Wesley V. Hillman, flight instructor, as adviser.

Sports

Before the war, the Olympic games provided a worldwide spotlight on each sport and its nationally-known counterparts. It became necessary to curtail Olympic activities, but all high school sports training has, paradoxically, been stepped up to the hardest pace we have ever seen. Obstacle courses, strenuous exercises, the calling of cadence, all leave the few exempt a little breathless at what can be accomplished under pressure with growing young bodies.

Athletic activities for the girls of Jefferson High School are sponsored by the Girls' Monogram Club. During the past year the sports calendar included volleyball, basket ball, swimming, badminton, ping pong, paddle tennis, tennis, bowling, softball and horseshoes. The Monogram Club handled the sale of programs at football games and has taken an active part in all school drives, such as scrap paper and the collection of broom sticks which were made into canes for use in camp hospitals.

Monogram Club

The Jefferson Swimming Team demonstrates its ability with Blaine Van Sickler and Norma Bowman doing the crawl while Sarah Caldwell shows real speed in the back stroke.

Paddle Tennis, a fast-growing favorite with the girls, catches Dot Fridley returning a service to Barbara Boyle while Ramona Ferguson, Doris Arnold and Eleanor Weddle watch the game.

These broom-stick collectors led the school drive with more than 75 broom sticks to their credit. They are, left to right: Jeanette Dillon, Sarah Shockley, Blaine Van Sickler, Helen Woods and Ruby Kessler.

Our defending champions—Wanda Reed and Dot Redford shake hands with Betty Campbell and Louanna Shumate. Campbell-Shumate won the doubles in '43 while Redford-Reed reversed the decision in '44.

Rosa Oylar, badminton runner-up; Norma Bentley, twice ping pong champion; and Vilma Thomas and Jean Snedegar, horseshoe champions, are all contenders for top rating in these sports again this season.
