Dear Students,

We, the Annual Staff, with hard work and determination from every individual, have produced this Bulldog Yearbook for the school year of 1983-84. The following pages in our yearbook reflect the growth of each Addisonian as an individual with the faculty's guidance throughout the school year. The yearbook is a memorandum of our achievements as students and athletes to make this school number one.

Although we have had many misfortunes, we truly believe that everything, academically and athletically, has turned out for the best. Many personal goals were achieved through learning from one another and we have realized the difference between right and wrong.

We hope you will enjoy this annual and will have fun in the future years looking back over the pleasant memories that you, as an Addisonian, had in the school year of 1983-84.

Thank you and enjoy this special yearbook.

Yours truly,

The Yearbook Staff
1983-84

DEDICATION

The 1983-84 Addison Bulldog Yearbook is dedicated to a lady who has spent her life attempting to improve the daily lives of her neighbors. She has worked on various projects to improve the standard of living within the Black community of Roanoke.

She was born in Asheville, North Carolina. It is our good fortune that she chose Roanoke as her home, where she married and raised two daughters. She has been employed by the Roanoke City School Systems for thirty years. She is a member of the Greater Mount Zion A.M.E. Church, where is an active member of the Willing Workers. She is also active in the V.F.W. local 144.

Our recipient is the founder and director of Charity Community House which is a neighborhood center located in Northwest Roanoke. Among its many activities are a summer day camp for young children, an annual Sweetheart's Ball for junior high students, and a senior citizens' park now under construction. She also was instrumental in starting the Loudon Melrose Community Group which is an affiliate of Roanoke's Neighborhood Partnership.

We are proud to take this opportunity to let her know that we, the Addison student body and staff, appreciate the time and effort she has demonstrated throughout the years.

Mrs. Georgia Croson, we, the Yearbook Staff, proudly dedicate our Bulldog Annual to you. Thank you for your dedication to the betterment of our community.

Mrs.
Georgia
Croson,
Thank
you.

REMEMBERING MISS ADDISON

CONGRATULATIONS

Miss Lucy Addison was born in the northern part of the state on December 8, 1861. Most sources say she was a slave. Even though she was a slave, she became one of the greatest educators in Roanoke's history.

She went to local rural schools and had private teachers. In order to get to school, she had to wake up at four in the morning and ride a ferry or boat. She also worked part-time after school.

She was never very healthy, but continued going to school anyway. She moved to Philadelphia and went to the Institute for Colored Youth. She graduated from the Institute in 1878. Then she took courses at the Virginia Normal School in Petersburg, the Cook County Normal School in Chicago and Howard University in Washington.

In 1886, she came to Roanoke to teach. At that time, there were no black high schools in Roanoke. Blacks could only attend school until the seventh grade. In 1917, a new Harrison School was opened. Miss Addison became the principal. Harrison was the largest black school in Virginia with a woman as principal.

The city named it's newest high school after Miss Addison in 1928. That building later became Booker T. Washington Junior High School. The new Addison High School opened in 1952 and became a junior high school in 1973.

Miss Addison taught Sunday school at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church. She organized citizens to provide food and clothing for the poor. She was the vice-president of the Burrell Memorial Hospital Associations, the city's first black hospital. She died on November 13, 1937 in Washington, D.C.

The pupils and faculty at our school have a Founder's Day honoring Miss Lucy Addison in February. One special teacher is elected every year by the Student Council Association who has given outstanding service to the pupils. Congratulations to Miss Anne Sheppard, the recipient of the 1983-84 Addison Award.

GREETINGS

Dear Students,

It is with a deep and sincere sense of pride that I commend and compliment the sponsor and Yearbook staff for having worked so laboriously, diligently, tirelessly, and effortlessly in achieving their goal in the compilation of the 1984 Yearbook. Without your stalwartness and dedication in giving of yourselves so unselfishly, the manner and performance in which this project was consummated could not have been perfected.

Allow me to quote an old saying which magnifies your expertise and success: "If you love to listen, you will gain knowledge, and if you incline your ear, you will become wise."

This, you have done, CONGRATULATIONS!

Sincerely,

Nadine Wheaton Principal

Dear Students and Parents,

It has been my privilege to work with you this year. I hope our working together has in some way made it possible for you to achieve suitable goals. Being Assistant Principal of Addison has been a new phase of my educational career. This year has been a real challenge that I have enjoyed and found to be both educational and rewarding. I have met many fine students, parents, and educators who have worked hard to make Addison the type of school that functions in the best interest of the students. To those departing students, I wish you the very best; and, to those remaining, I hope you will set even higher goals for yourselves in the years to come.

Sincerely,

W. G. Wright
Assistant Principal
