FOREWORD

As we approach the Halcyon days of 1963, the senior class finds its self fastly approaching the midpoint that marks our progress along the lengthy road to knowledge and success.

As we approach graduation we are conscious of our many short-comings, but more conscious are we of the educational progress we have attained since our arrival four years ago.

However, all the credit for our success we alone cannot take. For their help and patient understanding as we cross the stumbling steps to knowledge, we thank our teachers. For their encouragement, and tolerance of our blunders and careless mistakes, we salute our parents, and guardians, who have rejoiced in our victories, and suffered in our trials.

We realize, too, that graduation is an important step in our lives, but not the end of our pursuit of knowledge, understanding, and wisdom. We have come to recognize, also, that the road to knowledge and success is not smooth and free of obstacles. However, by forging onward inspite of numerous "road blocks" and false lights, we think we have manifested evidence of our maturity and the perservance necessary to achieve success.

As evidence, we now present to you, The 1963 Addisonian as a record of our advancements and activities during the past four years. However, it is more than just a record to us. It is a lasting reminder how far we have come along the academic road to knowledge and success.

To those who continue to pursue the course set by Minervah, the goddess of learning, we salute you. And to those who halt here, may the thirst for knowledge never slack.

Editor in Chief,

Earl Pullen

DEDICATION TO OUR PARENTS

As a token of our love, honor and gratitude, we, the members of the graduating class of nineteen hundred and sixty-three, dedicate this annual, the sixty-three Addisonian, to our parents and guardians whose inspiration, patience and encouragement have brought us to this mile stone.

ROADS TO SUCCESS

The roads to success all lead uphill. It will take real effort on your part to reach the top. Your parents, teachers and friends can give you some of the "know how" and encouragement, but the journey is all yours. Graduating from high school gives you a good start. May you continue to improve yourself, as you work to reach the goals you have set up.

You have our best wishes.

E.L. Phillips, Principal

Graduation from Addison High School is truly a milestone of progress in your pursuit of knowledge and understanding in becoming an educated person. I trust that this accomplishment is a prologue to even greater preparation for service to mankind.

I have confidence in you and believe that the latter part of the Twentieth Century will profit greatly by your contribution to the quality and character of living.

To each of you, I wish abundance of happiness, good health, and success in your endeavors.

PHILOSOPHY OF ADDISON HIGH SCHOOL

The primary aim of the secondary school is to prepare students to participate more effectively in a democratic society. This idea permeates the administration, organization, activities. Administrators, teachers, students, parents, and community participate in the school program.

Our school is concerned with assisting pupils to adjust intelligently to their present situation; to promote desirable changes; and to plan their future course of action in terms of their abilities, interests, and needs.

Therefore:

We teach the whole child.

We teach skills in the tools of learning.

We relate subject matter to everyday living.

We plan our program in recognition of community needs and improvement.

We teach basic skills with tools for occupational choice, initial employment and special training.

We aim to develop acceptable behavior traits through subject matter areas and guidance programs.

We offer opportunity for exceptional abilities and aptitudes.

We offer opportunity for reflective thinking through problem solving.

We offer opportunity for self-evaluation.

We believe that good physical and mental health are conducive to good citizenship.

We aim to help the student to enjoy more completely the world of which he is a part and to use the fine arts intelligently in his surroundings.

We believe that guidance is the responsibility of every member of the teaching staff.

We are concerned with helping students recognize and use resources to achieve happy family living.

A total of seventy-two and one-half units are offered at Addison. In addition, many activities during the course of a week contribute to the educational as well as social development of the student.

Throughout the country and the world, many of Her graduates hold responsible positions in industry and government. Through classroom instruction in communications, social science, physical education, mathematics, business, art, music, physical and biological sciences, domestic science and vocational subjects, Addison students are geared to enter into and make progress in tomorrow's ever changing economic and social order.

THE MOON... and beyond!

Bright, new horizons await today's students . . . new technologies . . . new medicines . . . even the moon and what-ever lies beyond.

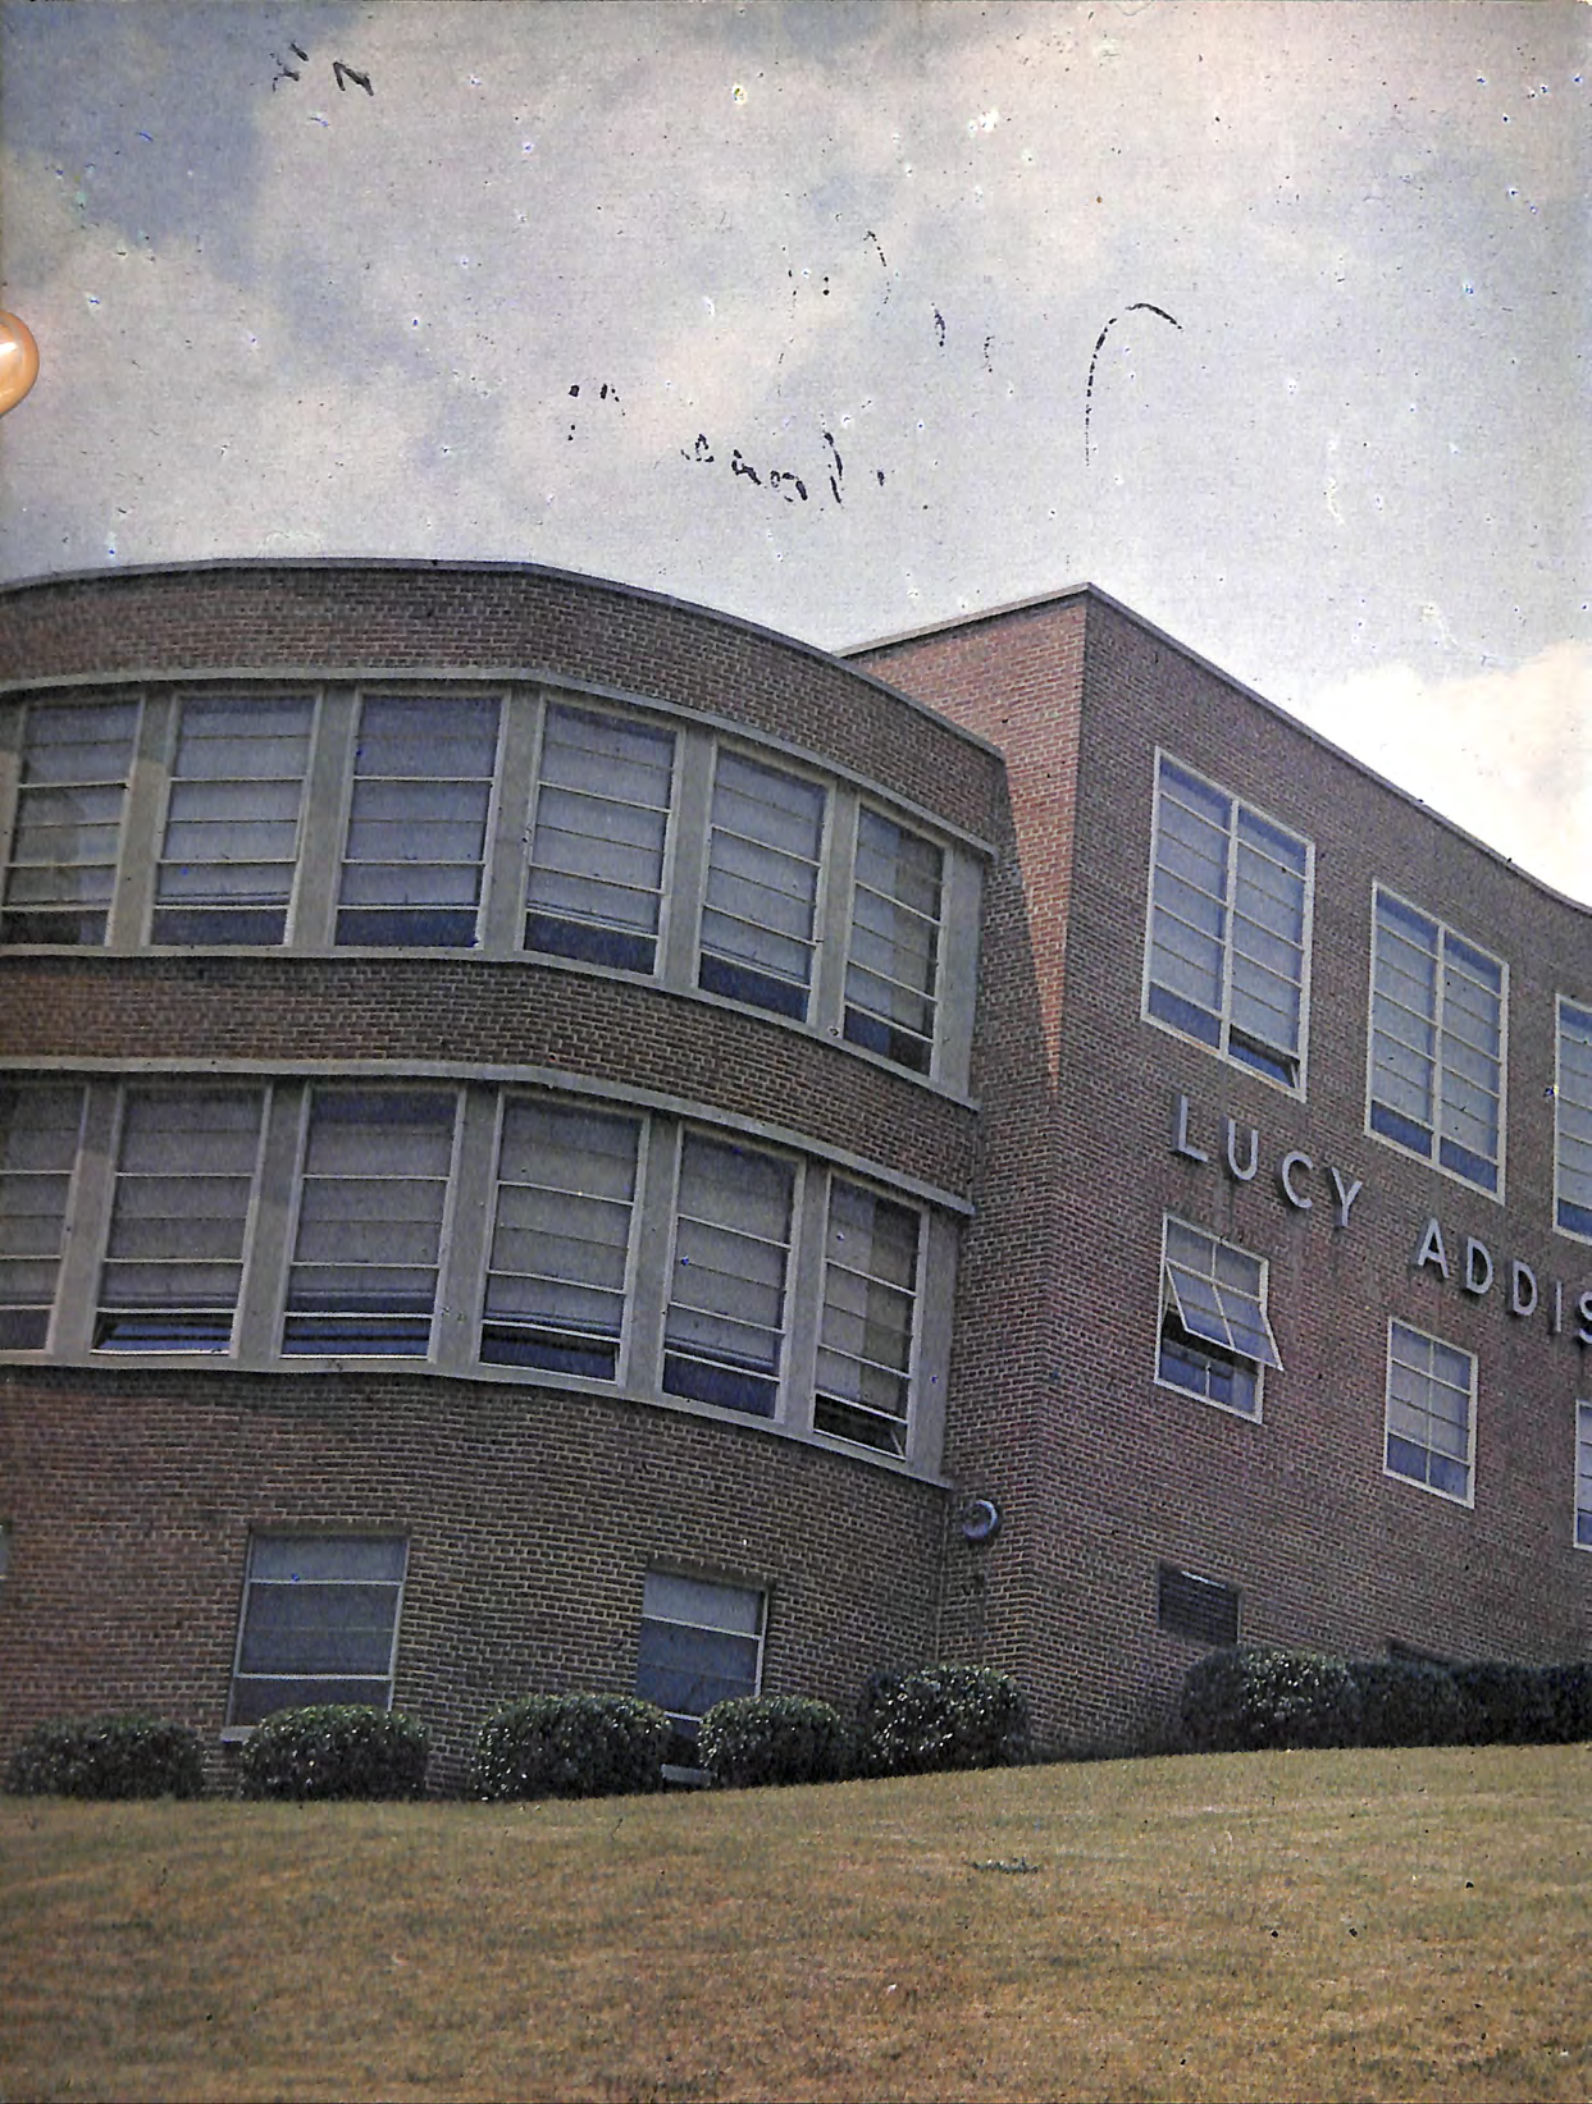

How far today's students go in this space age depends partly on their imagination but primarily on their training. Conquering new horizons will demand more of today's graduates — more knowledge, more skills, more training and more specialization.

Our Free Enterprise system, with its high living standards, gives everyone an opportunity to "shoot for the moon" in any field. Whether or not our target is reached depends on how well trained we are to launch ourselves.
