THE 1965 ADDISONIAN

Published by the senior class
and the publication committee

As we, the members of the senior class of Lucy Addison High School, approach one of the most important events in our lives, we must stop and face a reality. The seniors of this class are not just plain seniors, but instead, we are something special--we are American Negroes.

During our high school career we have witnessed the passing of a document. We have become first class American citizens' which a great many people in the past have taken for granted.

These rights will give us an opportunity to assure every task that we pursue. This must be done to satisfy ourselves to the extent where we feel we are equal. We must also realize that the prejudices of the past were only used as psychological methods to bound our minds to a restricted state. Now we are preparing to reach the zenith of our ambitions.

Through the inspirations of our parents, teachers and many other members of our community we have gained knowledge, acquired strength and developed creativeness, for which we are grateful. We are willing to open our minds and hearts to the advancement of a society in which we will play major roles.

As a beginning to the many endeavors of our future, we now present to you the 1965 Addisonian as a record of our achievements during the past four years, thus climaxing our success here at Addison High School.

In deep appreciation of all the guidance, patience and encouragement you have shown us, we, the members of the graduation class of nineteen hundred and sixty-five, would like to dedicate this annual, the Addisonian of sixty-five, to The Senior Advisors 'as a small token of our gratitude and love.

ADMINISTRATION

Graduation from high school marks another important milestone in the life of each of you. I congratulate you on this accomplishment. Your diploma means approbation of your teachers, your principal, your assistant principal, and other school officials. I trust, however, that this is just a prologue to greater accomplishments and that you will be challenged to better preparation for service to the needs of your community, state, and nation.

Education in this country has steadily improved since the systematic study of the science of education about the turn of this Century. No doubt it will continue to improve and schools in the year 2,000 will be better than they are today. How much better will they be? The answer depends to a great extent upon the determination of the graduates of the Addison Class of 1965.

And now, I wish for each of you a full measure of health, happiness and success in your ever enlarging fields of endeavor.

E. W. Rushton
Superintendent of Schools

To the Seniors -

As you leave the doors of Addison High School for the last time, you will face many doors of opportunity - in college, at work, and in the community. Let RESPONSIBILITY be the key with which you will open these doors - responsibility for self and for others. It is only as you have interest and concern for the needs and the welfare of others that you will be able to make your community, your country, and your world a better place for all people to live and work. This is your challenge.

'Tis hard to take the burden up
When these have laid it down;
They brightened all the joy of life,
They softened every frown;
But, Oh, 'tis good to think of them
When we are troubled sore!
Thanks be to God that such have been,
Although they are no more.

CLASS HISTORY

In the Fall of 1961 three hundred and ten students entered Lucy Addison High School with hopes for success in the coming years. We were a joyous group and from the start participated in many activities. Thornton Smith won third prize in the Western District Math Conference in Geometry.

The day finally came when we were "wise" sophomores. Our class officers were: President, William Welcher; Vice-President, Thornton Smith; Secretary, Bettye Holland; Assistant Secretary, Carol Brown; Treasurer, Joyce Finney; Chaplain, Roserine James; Sergeant-at-Arms, William Terry. Karetha Rice and Sonja Hall were selected to play on the All-State Band.

As Juniors, the heralds for the 1964 Class were Joyce Finney, Sonja Hall, Sharon Edwards and Patricia Jones. We were very honored when Diane Carter won the title of Miss Homecoming. Our class officers were: President, Thornton Smith; Vice-President, Charles Hurt; Secretary, Bettye Holland; Assistant Secretary, Carol Brown; Treasurer, Lois Dooley; Chaplains, William Terry and Narcissus Miller. After working hard for two years Toni Divers, Sonja Hall, Brenda Jones, Lois Dooley, Rebecca Brandon, Mary Crenshaw, William Welcher, Joyce Bolden, Patricia Randolph, Gwendolyn Brown, Sandra Johnson, Bettye Holland, Mary Powell, Carol Brown and Mary Roseborough were inducted into the National Honor Society. We were very proud when Sonja Hall was elected secretary of the state S. P. A. We had several juniors become officers in the S. P. A., President, Jerry Thornhill; Vice President, Sonja Hall. Sharon Edwards, Cordelia Boland, Barbara McClarrin and Diane Word placed in the Science Fair.

The Junior-Senior Prom with the theme "These Precious Moments" was a great success. The preparations were wonderfully carried out by Carol Brown, Christopher Stewart, Billie Bumpers, Rita Petty, Joyce Finney, Bettye Holland, Johnella Terry, William Welcher, Frances Reeves, James Hurt, Carolyn Toney, Ikey Ogden, William Terry, Narcissus Miller, Brenda Robinson, and Delores Ferguson.

Finally the glorious day arrived when we were seniors. We carefully elected our officers: President, William Terry; Vice-President, Narcissus Miller; Secretaries, Diane Word and Patricia Jones; Treasurer, Lois Dooley; Chaplain, Jimmie Rhodes. Lois Dooley was selected as "Miss Addison". Carolyn Toney was crowned "Miss Homecoming" and Johnella Terry was a runner-up. Sonja Hall won the Voice of Democracy contest and Sharon Edwards won third prize. Richard Turner was voted all Western Defensive tackle. William Terry was voted all-District Quarterback. Jimmie Rhodes and William Terry were Co-Captains of the football team.

The Seniors that are officers in the choir are: President, Patricia Jones; Secretaries, Joyce Finney, Beverly Beamer and Rachel Henderson; Treasurer, Narcissus Miller; Sergeant-at-Arms, Reginald Duckett and William Terry. Senior officers of the Band: Vice-President, Karetha Rice; Secretary, Billie Bumpers; Assistant Secretary, Sonja Hall; and Chaplain, William Ross.

Wanting to keep our memories to look back on, the school decided to publish an annual. Without the help of our parents, teachers and others, this would not have been possible. We thank them sincerely.

We have come a long way in four years. Although we are looking forward to going into the world of new adventures, our hearts are saddened at the thought of leaving. We hope others will have as much success as we, the class of "65", have had.

Class Prophecy

The year is 1984, and we are at the campaign headquarters of Senator Howard Hopkins, who has decided to vie for the Presidency of the United States. Many of his former high school classmates, now leaders in their own field of endeavor, have thrown their support behind his candidacy for President. As campaign manager, Jackie Robertson, one of the nation's top public relations experts, is making his presence felt. And as we look around this somewhat cavernous room, we notice, too, that some of the finest secretaries, stenographers, and clerks all devoting their time and effort toward the success of the campaign, are gathered here. We see Janet Warren, Antoinette Cunningham, Margaret Johnson, Joyce Finney, Diane Carter, Melva Booker, Phyllis Craig, Constance Johnson, Linda Lanier, Sherry Penn, Estherline Hampton, Mildred Carson, Mary Crenshaw, Shirley Jackson, Carolyn Hayes, Cynthia Neal, Marion Terry, Anita Dennis, and Cecile Bentley busily typing letters, preparing pamphlets and addressing other literature to be mailed to prospective voters.

The clack of typewriters and the steady hum of voices suddenly cease as Randolph Croson, successful fund-raising chairman, and his committee composed of Beverly Beamer, Judy Hale and Kathryn Smith enter the room. The look of success mirrored on his face is bolstered by the $50,000 check Gwendolyn Brown, president of the National Teachers of America, turned over to him an hour ago at a luncheon attended by such educational luminaries as Alvin Thompson, Robert Walker, Richard Carter, George Williams, Raymond Banks, Rufus White, George Gates, Marilyn Dudley, William Terry, Freddie Mills, Samuel Terry, Willie Mae Cousser, Rita Petty, Rebecca Brandon, Carol Brown and Kathryn Jumper.

To give visual impetus to the campaign, world renown Christopher Stewart and his guild of equally famous artists, Harding Turner, Walter Lester, Rebecca Lovings, Sarah Trigg and Ikey Ogden have volunteered to do a series of paintings and sketches to be employed in a nationwide program of eye-catching publicity. Working with them will be Charles Hurt and Michael French whose paintings now grace the walls of the famed Paris Louvre.

Senator Hopkins has left for strategy meeting with prominent leaders of the nation such as Nobel Prize winning Biologist Brenda Jones, statistician Bettye Holland, the well-known chemist Howard Gross, electronic-data processor Franklin Marsh, the famed corporation lawyer, LaContiss Allen and the world renowned mathematician William Welcher.

Plans are being proposed for concerted efforts in local politics. Franklin Marsh submitted a proposal that guarantees the support of the United Tradesmen Union. He also has reports submitted by Arthur Brooks, president of Electronics Inc. Some of Brooks' top associates are Maceo Brooks, Jimmy Rhodes, Eugene Henderson, Grover Poindexter, William Ross, Ronald Barlow, Freddy Fox, and Ronald Bowens. The Mechanics Union headed by Charles Perry and assisted by subordinate officials Raleigh Harris, Charles Mitchell, Robert Long, and Gerald Sayles and William Edwards are working together with the Apex Lumber Company whose controlling stockholders are James Dent, Richard Webb, and Napoleon Bailey.

It seems that everybody agrees that Senator Hopkins is the best man for the job. At a recent meeting of the National Convention of Medical Researchers and Practitioners, Brenda Jones met some of her former classmates who definitely pledged their support for him. At the convention those famed cancer researchers Billy Jean Bumpers and Mary Powell made public their findings on cancer. Awards were given to the top nurses of the nation. Those receiving awards were: Barbara Hobson, Matilda Lee, Maxie Taylor, Jean Brown, Cynthia Forrest, Brenda Hicks, Shelba Murphy, Frances Reeves, Estel Brown, Sylvia Murphy, Barbara Johnson, Diane Jordan, Gaye Montree, Linda Hairston, Diane Word, Constance Brewer and Sandra Curtis, and outstanding pharmacist of the year was awarded to Rhoda Walker. There was so much talk about Senator Hopkins that delegates to the World Medical Society were almost overlooked. However, this matter was quickly noticed and to head the American delegation Lois Dooley, Joyce Bolden, Brenda Robinson, Cordelia Bolden, Sandra Johnson and Mary Roseboro, noted clinical psychologists, and zoologist, Willard Claytor were selected. Amid the speculations of Senator Hopkin's outcome, officers for National Convention of Medical Researchers and Practitioners were selected; President: pediatrician Reginald Hoffler, Vice President: obstetrician Wayne Brown, secretary obstetrician Dianne Cunningham, assistant secretary: Dentist Freddie Jones, Treasurer Physical Therapist Sharon Edwards, and delegates at large: Speech Therapists Sonja Hall and Brenda Fairfax. Best wishes for a successful convention were sent in by morticians Richard Williams and Ronald Manns who were unable to come because people were just dying to see them.

It is now 2:00 P. M. and Senator Hopkins is at a reception held in the luxurious penthouse apartment of the illustrious interior decorator Madelene Glasby. In the receiving line, the Senator greets former high school classmates such as now General Reginald Elliot, Commander William Penick, and those celebrated astronauts Eugene Hayes, Walter Wheaton and Gerald Phanelson who have just returned from interplanetary travel. He is surprised to see that eminent criminal lawyer Tonie Divers and her partner Raymond Jones are taking time out from their busy practice to attend the affair. Madelene's house guest, the famed fashion designer, Barbara McClarrin makes a grand entrance in her latest creation, accompanied by one of the nation's leading modiste Carolyn Saunders. Barbara's lovely coiffure, she confides, is the creation of "La Maison des Jeunes Femmes". Employed there are some of her former classmates;

Shirley DeHaven, Patricia Andrews, Paula Blake, Sylvia Gunn, Barbara Calloway, Sharon Waller, Eunice Carpenter and Lewis Perry.

Across the crowded room, standing near the punch bowl, is that dynamic football player Richard "Jelly" Riles, talking enthusiastically to that versatile basketball player David "Buck" Johnson. Arriving late as usual, were Charles Price and Marvir Barbour, indispensable architects at Amalgamated Homes, Inc. A delegation from The Regional Parent Teachers Association consisting of Jerry Watts and teachers Patricia Jones, Nancy Tyler and Coach Everette Boyer was present. Among the other distinguished guests are private teachers Nancy Stewart, Donald Shovely, Reginald Randolph, Andrea Woody, Rachel Henderson, Delores Ferguson, Constance Cooper, Gwendolyn Ferguson, Delores Drew and James Saunders.

The reception for Senator Hopkins has attracted a number of members of Social Workers and Public Service Department. Such illuminaries as Loretta Ford, Willie Waddell, Hensil Rosborough, Eddie Wallace, Lawrence Bonds, Robert Eaves, Linda Daniels, Audrey Deane, Narcissus Miller, Reginald Duckett, Duquesne Rogers and Elizabeth Thompson. Refreshments for the occasion were furnished by Johnson's Catering Service, owned by Diane Johnson.

An aide reminds Senator Hopkins about his engagement with the members of the Professional Women's League. Sharing the reception line are Darlene Ramey, Dicie Boisseau, Gloria Grigsby, Elizabeth Pullens, Marion Jones, Vivian Kasey, Patricia Hodnett, Doris Preston, Geneva Hodnett, Bernice Flowers and Peggy Murphy. Hostesses for the afternoon affair, Letitia Stone, District Chairman, Laverne Gibson and Sheila Jones are on hand to see that the Senator is properly introduced.

Entertainment at the Women's League affair was provided by gospel singer, Ingrid Smith, and the famous Rice-Saunders choir under the direction of Karetha Rice and Wallace Saunders.

Realizing that a day in a Senator's life is quite busy, the Senator's aide reminds him that it is time to leave. As he makes his way through the crowd, accompanied by his private detectives, Roserine James and Thomas "Booker T" Brooks, he is told by one of his former high school classmates, Patricia Randolph of the Randolph Times, that he must give a statement to the press. Approaching his car, he receives best wishes from Rochelle Rogers, Stella Wright, Calvin Perdue, Crayton Craig, Jerome Phanelson, Robert Ware, Glenn Ballou, McKinley Blair, Yvonne Carrington, Purnett Scales and Neil Dudley. Arriving home he finds more of his supporters hailing him to victory. They are Harvey Gravely, Terry Turner, Willis Cooper, Wilbert English, James Jefferson, Richard Turner, Jerry Thornhill and James Hurt. Thus ends one hectic day in the life of a presidential candidate. He is sure to win because of the faithful support of his former classmates.

ter so they will know that they are going too fast.

I, Mary Crenshaw, do will my brother Donald a drum to take home so that he won't have to beat on his chest all evening.

I, Ronald Barlow, do will all my memories of Addison High to any student who will cherish them forever.

I, Mildred Carson, do will my sister, Charlene, some Stop-It-All instead of some Geritol to slow her down.

I, Eugene Hayes, do will all of my girls to Bobby Tyler, after I am gone.

I, Barbara McClarrin, do will all my common sense and what little knowledge I have to my sister, Magalene.

I, Diane Carter, do will Richard Hall a Cheerleader on the football field so he can have much success in the coming year.

I, Barbara Hobson, do will Sandra and Colleen the best of luck in the coming years, here at Addison High.

I, Purnette Scales, do will Cornell Jones my sharp ties, so he will stop being jealous.

I, Timothy Lovelace, do will my younger brother, Roland, my sharp wit and my good taste for girls.

I, Patricia Jones, do will the Jr. Socialistic Teens, the same cool foxy characteristics of their sisters.

I, LaContiss Allen, do will my sister, my ability in first and second year French under Miss Thompson.

I, William Penick, do will all my under classmen all the success and happiness I've had here at Addison.

I, Willie Mae Couser, do will Stanley Sanderson five of my units so that he won't have any excuses for not graduating in "67".

I, Willie R. Waddell, do will the junior class a book on how to become a good senior like me.

I, George B. Gates, do will my ability in the field of football to James Saunders.

I, Randolph Croson, do will my two cousins, Larry and Savannah Croson, the best of luck in their senior year.

I, Thomas R. Brooks, do will Bill Manning my old book case so that he can carry some books home.

I, Frances Reeves, do will Muriel Taylor, and Dorothy Cooper some of my dignity, so that they may act as mature as I do.

I, Richard Carter, do will Sandra Witcher a jet plane so she can keep up with James Hurt.

I, Dicie Boisseaw, do will myself the best of everything with Eugene Hodges.

I, Charles Perry, do will Pies Samuel, my diploma so he can fool his mother when he's ready to graduate.

I, Jerry Althea Watts, do will my place as senior to Brenda Hampton so she can keep on making P's out of Addison.

I, Shirley Jackson, do will Bernard Colston some competition to compete with Melvin Smith for B. B. love.

I, Patricia LaVerne Randolph, do will my sister, Freda, a box of shredded wheat in order that she might have uncontrollable energy necessary to cheer.

I, Carol Brown, do will my brother, Milton Brown, and his friends a private telephone so that they will stop monopolizing the telephone every night.

I, Tonie Divers, do will my sister Brenda a louder voice so she can learn to speak up for herself.

I, Peggy Murphy, do will these lonely hearts, Willie Waddell, Don Shoverly, Crayton Craig, Jimmy Rhodes, William Terry, Willard Claytor and Everett Boyer, a girl so they will leave everybody else's alone.

I, Marion Terry, do will the Class of "66" much success in their senior studies.

I, Robert Eaves, do will Miss Keen a better homeroom than the one she had for the last four years.

I, Sharon Waller, do will Sylvia Waller my government notes and hope she will pass Mr. Honesty's class.

I, Sherry Penn, do will my sister, Jane, and brother, Stephen, a seat in Mr. Honesty's government class.

I, Geneva Deloria Hodnett, do will this class of "65" the best of luck and happiness through their years to come.

I, Hensil Roseborough, do will my brother, Stanley, all the success when he gets Mr. Honesty.

I, Raymond Banks, do will, Regina, and Linda, all the success they can possibly obtain in all their classes.

I, Shirley DeHaven, do will Jacquelyn Harris a boy doll to remind her of her secret love.

I, Janet Warren, do will Emily Webb her own gossip column in the Spotlight Press, so she can continue to talk about me.

I, Beverly Beamer, do will Maxine Beamer my position in the choir, in hopes that she will do as well as I did.

I, Marvin Barbour, do will my seat in Mr. Honesty's government class to anyone with the nerve to take it.

I, Billie Bumpers, do will Gwendolyn Rice and Savannah Croson, my place in the lunch line so that they will not have to run.

I, Lewis Brown, do will all my coolness to the fellows when I'm gone.

I, Sandra Curtis, do will my sister, Cecil Maria, a memo book so that she will not forget whom she is talking to.

I, Eunice Carpenter, do will Norris Kasey my ability to cut class without being caught.

I, Alice Price, do will Deloris Dickerson, my seat in government No. 226.

I, Linda Daniel, do will C. C. Morgan my government seat in summer school.

I, Madeline Glasby, do will the Lucy Addison Choir all the luck in the future.

I, Constance Cooper, do will the Kasey twins all the love that Alfred and David gave me.

I, Gaye Montree, do will Richard Hall a record book so that he can keep up with all his young chicks.

I, Linda Hariston, do will Allen Walker a girl doll so that he'll always have someone to jive.

I, Donald Shovely, do will Brenda Witcher, a box of sugar so that she will remain as sweet as ever.

I, Sarah Trigg, do will Claudia King my seat in Miss Pullens' government class.

I, Bernice Flowers, do will to Freda and Fredick Brown a car to get to school on time.

I, Audrey Maria Deane, do will everybody my favorite period, "recess".

I, James Saunders, do will Duke Rogers a new pair of eyes, so that his eyes can stop dancing.

I, Sylvia Gunn, do will Susie Nance, a boy friend of her own, so that she will stop fooling with everyone else's.

I, Rhoda Walker, would like to say, "When I leave this school, there will be plenty of room in the hall for everybody."

I, Diane Johnson, do will my brother, Harold Johnson, and Sandra Kirby, my two lockers side by side in order that they may be together throughout the school years.

I, Freddie Fox, do will Joyce Brooks, my government book.

I, Constance Brewer, do will my sister, Joyce, my seat in Mr. Honesty's room with hopes that she will do better than I.

I, Howard A. Hopkins, do will my brother, Norris, my tattered American History text.

I, Elizabeth Thompson, do will my sister, Grace, much success for the years to come.

I, Diane Word, do will my seat and knowledge in government to my sister, Carolyn Word.

I, Brenda Robinson, do will my sister, Ann, and my brother, Leon, some of my good sense and good luck.

I, Barbara Ann Johnson, do will the future nurses a shot of Liver Extract so that they may have untiring efforts.

I, Richards Riles, do will my sister, Elizabeth, my seat in Biology.

I, Ronald Manns, do will my brother, Charles, my position on the basketball court.

An Average Capitalist Discusses FREE ENTERPRISE

"I'VE THE RIGHT TO PLAN MY OWN LIFE, TO EARN A LIVING AS I SEE FIT."

" . . . I'm limited, of course, by my ability and determination. But, overall, I call the shots. I'll be paid according to what I contribute, too. If I'm valuable, I'll earn more; if lazy, less. But there's always the thought of working up. That's because I live in a Free Enterprise economy where I have freedom of choice and opportunity."

Our management employees and stockholders are united with this student under the Free Enterprise flag. We chose this business because we like it. But like other businesses, we must give the best possible service at the lowest possible cost.
