Foreword

As we bring our days at "Dear Old Addison" to a close we remember things that have happened in the four years we have been here. This Book will always serve to remind us of the smiling faces of our classmates. It will remind us of the teachers who have constantly tried to bring out the best in all of us and to make us aware of our own capabilities. To them we express our sincere gratitude.

From the beginning of school, not 1962, but 1954, there have always been people by our sides to give us guidance, assistance, and encouragement whenever we needed it most. They are our parents who have stood by us. We want this annual to also serve as a tribute to them, their undying patience, and to the sacrifices they have made for us.

Finally we want this annual to serve as a reminder of all of our past activities. These pages contain a record of all of the tears as well as the laughter we have shared at Addison. To those who continue their education we wish for you all of the good luck possible. We want to remind all of you that "you" are the future leaders of America. Always strive to be good representatives of our "Dear Old Addison."

We, the annual staff, present you the 1966 Addisonian and hope it will remind you of our many days at Addison.

Davey Houston
Editor-in-Chief

ADMINISTRATION

Graduation from high school marks another important milestone in the life of each of you. I congratulate you on this accomplishment. Your diploma means approbation of your teachers, your principal, your assistant principal, and other school officials. I trust, however, that this is just a prologue to greater accomplishments and that you will be challenged to better preparation for service to the needs of your community, state and nation.

Education in this country has steadily improved since the systematic study of the science of education about the turn of this Century. No doubt it will continue to improve and schools in the year 2,000 will be better than they are today. How much better will they be? The answer depends to a great extent upon the determination of the graduates of the Addison Class of 1966.

And now, I wish for each of you a full measure of health, happiness and success in your ever-enlarging fields of endeavor.

E. W. Rushton
Superintendent of Schools

To the Seniors

As you leave the doors of Addison High School for the last time, you will face many doors of opportunity - in college, at work, and in the community. Let RESPONSIBILITY be the key with which you will open these doors - responsibility for self and for others. It is only as you have interest and concern for the needs and the welfare of others that you will be able to make your community, your country, and your world a better place for all people to live and work. This is your challenge.

In Memoriam

God's majestic all powerful hand, has taken one of our band. Robert, lived for all, had never seemed to stoop or fall. Life for him was gay and carefree. He made his life joyous for you and me. Now he is gone, no more will we see - the boy who made life joyous for you and me.

In 1882 Edison had a great idea.

And it wasn't the electric light.

The whole idea of investor-ownership of electric light and power companies began when Thomas A. Edison and a group of investors financed his first power plant more than 80 years ago.

Since then, investor-owned companies like ours have become an integral part of America's Free Enterprise system. That explains why today we have at our fingertips more electric power than any other country in the world.

And it's this same Free Enterprise system that puts at your fingertips greater opportunity, greater expectation for success than can be hoped for by any other young people in the world.

Prophecy

Our magic crystal ball takes us to the year 1986. We are visiting the graduates of the School of Practical Nursing of 1966 of Lucy Addison High School Burrell Memorial Hospital. We are so pleased to find all the members of the class have stayed in Roanoke. Among the "Star City" a new medical center has been built. It is the Ogden Memorial Medical Center, named in honor of one of the classmates who did not want to stand by the rest.

We shall now take a tour of this great center. Starting in the administration office we find none other than Wayne Brown. Mr. Brown is in a meeting with the Board of Directors. As usual all his answers are "Well, you know". Among those present in the meeting is the Medical Director, Dr. Louise Brown, who hopes to find a husband among her patients. The chain-smoking Director of Nurses keeps getting up and going out to get a glass of water to take another miltown. Of course this is Melva Penn. In the secretary's office we find Janet Moore munching on a hot dog "with onions". She's still trying to find herself a husband among the orderlies.

The Center is really up to date. It has its own beauty and barber shop. The operators are Ruth Andrews and Patricia Smith, experts on wig styling. One of their most famous customers is Phyllis Jackson. She is in the hospital frequently as a patient.

In the dietary department we find that the dietitian has an assistant, Catherine Word. She consumes almost as much as she prepares.

Nancy Woody is still having a problem with baby-sitters so she brings all nine of her little boys to the Pediatric Department where she works. The boys are teaching the fracture cases boxing.

Matilda Lee is working in the operating room. She polishes her shoes at the last minute and tracks polish over the floors, then she has the Supervisor, Mable Hairston running around looking for "who did it".

In the Out-Patient Department we find Dorothy Ingram in charge. An ambulance is just coming in from Carter's Nursing Home. One of those poor elderly people must have had an accident. What! It's the director of the nursing home herself, Corinne Brooks. She has a dislocated patella. It all happened while she was playing a game of touch football with some old man.

In the Dental Clinic is Barbara Hobson. She and her co-worker Constance Brewer are always smiling and showing the effects of free time and experiments with cleaning agents.

In the nursery, where life begins, Maxie Taylor is still arching eyebrows, hers and the newborn baby girls.

From there we went to the Geriatric Ward, head nurse Gaye Montree is still bopping down the hall snapping her fingers. We followed her to the solitary or so called "quiet rooms". In one room there is Mary Hampton actually "smiling", and mumbling "I'm going to fix them". In the other room is Dorothy Bullock praying for Mary's forgiveness for whatever she is going to do to them.

We could not leave this new institution without paying a visit to our former instructors. They are now in charge of in-service education. The visit is a surprise and we find the two of them alone playing checkers. Mrs. Smith tells Mrs. Stewart she is a "selfish little imp" and Mrs. Stewart replies "I'm going to put you out of here". Famous last words if there were ever any.

The crystal ball now grows hazy. I wonder what our next visit will see?
