Hey Cousin,

Just think

3 more years until we graduate. Yeah! Yeah!
At least we have finished
Jr High. You go to Lucy
Addison and I go to Blennor Jr. High. Good luck in the future at
W. Fleming, while I hope
I have good luck at Salem
High. Have a nice summer.

Your Cousin,

LUCY ADDISON JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Roanoke, Virginia Vol. VII 1980

EDITORIAL

We, the 1979-80 yearbook staff, have attempted to make this annual the best that has ever been done. We have tried to interpret the attitudes of the students, faculty, and administration toward scholastic achievements and athletic accomplishments. We have chosen to take a more serious path in our annual because we wished to instill within the minds of our fellow schoolmates that school is a place of learning and a place wherein each of us is given the opportunity to prepare for the challenges of life that lie ahead. We have attempted to help the students at Addison realize that our school is an institution designed for the exploration of all aspects of life, the enhancement of knowledge, the broadening of horizons, and the development of an inquisitive mind.

We hope that as each of you look through the pages of this annual, you will understand what we have tried to accomplish, and you, as an individual, will try to improve yourself as a student at Lucy Addison Junior High School.

WE HONOR

*Lots of luck and good wishes
I love you.
Mrs Harmon
5/28/50*

DEDICATION

The foundation of our school would be incomplete without the irreplaceable hands of a woman who is very dear to many Addisonians. She is seldom recognized for the vital part she plays in the daily functions of running a busy office. She serves as a secretary, accountant, receptionist and as a confidante, just to name a few.

She is undaunted by the challenge of keeping the business end of Addison in order. She is always busy. You can walk into the main office at any time and find her working busily at her desk. She is the bright cheerful voice we hear in the morning, when we may not be as cheerful.

She plays a very important part in the true spirit of Addison. Therefore, it is a supreme honor for the annual staff to dedicate our 1979-1980 Bulldog to Mrs. Yolanda A. Harmon.

NINTH GRADE CLASS OF 1980

remembers Addison as . . .

An empty building impatiently waiting for the excitement and vitality only its faculty and students can fulfill. Barren halls are devoid of the chatter and bustle of its pupils.

As the morning emerges, teachers prepare their agenda for the in-coming students. They slowly fill the halls with the exuberance of youth. They hurry to their lockers, cheerfully, or somewhat reluctantly, to prepare for a day filled with learning and pleasure only a day at school can bring.

At different points around the campus, groups of students gather together, to share secrets, to meet new friends, to tell of past experiences, to laugh over the newest jokes and just to spend that special time together.

Bells ring, class doors close, the regular old grind of school commences. Hands start to raise as they try to understand new problems presented to them in class. Anxiety sets in as a teacher announces a term paper will be due soon. Students with hearts full of ambition set out to meet the challenge of making a good grade. Self discipline is exercised when they realize they have to slow down to meet that new challenge.

Leisure is spent with books, not friends. Finally a feeling of success is felt when they can proudly say, I have achieved my goal.

After the joy of school has worn off for one day, students gradually begin to think about after school activities. They realize that sports, as academic studies, are an important part of their growth and development. They also accept the agony of defeat and the joy of winning as a part of athletic and academic competition.

All activities have ceased. The students and faculty have gone home. The school is empty once more, impatiently awaiting the arrival of another day.

NINTH GRADE

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

I, Jay Altizer, being of sound mind and body, leave to Mr. Poff all of my wise cracks. He needs to learn some new ones.

I, Gail Anderson, being of sound mind and body, leave to Mrs. Fuller all of my willpower and to Mrs. Sheppard all my trash for file 13.

I, Michelle Arch, being of sound mind and body, leave to Mr. Bailey all of the greatness I had in doing my proofs in Geometry class.

I, Kevin Brower, being of sound mind and body, leave to all the students who will have Mrs. Whitaker for science next year a small note. Be ready for a lot of hard work.

I, Thomasine Brown, being of sound mind and body, leave to my best friend Trina Minnis all the great years I had Addison, and I leave to Mr. Polk the memories of hearing me scream in his office.

I, Karen DeHaven, being of sound mind and body, leave to Pam Kelly all my attentiveness. (which is very little).

I, Tammy Ferguson, being of sound mind and body, leave to Lisa Doyle hope for the future (because she'll need it).

I, Patrick Gobble, being of sound mind and body, leave to nobody, nothing.

I, Tony Hogan, being of sound mind and body, leave to Lamanda Argabright all of my love.

I, Kathy Hudgins, being of sound mind and body, leave to Ms. Perdue another threesome like me, Karen and Fran, so she can get mad at them when they don't want to dress out.

I, Sam Hughes, being of sound mind and body, leave to Dorlene Taylor my love and a happy 9th grade year.

I, Ferrie Ingram, being of sound mind and body, leave to Tulsa Alexander my best of luck in her 2 years of time at Addison.

I, Steve Johns, being of sound mind and body, leave to Robert Cochran my little blackbook and to Michael Jackson my many great talents

I, Antwyne Johnson, being of sound mind and body, leave to my two brothers my athletic ability.

I, Othelia Kasey, being of sound mind and body, leave to all the students at Addison, the will and determination to strive for high goals and make a success of their lives in the future.

I, Korena Lovelace, being of sound mind and body, leave a daily shipment of freshly popped popcorn to Mrs. Shifflett to help perk up the movies shown in her class.

I, Angela Lambert, being of sound mind and body, leave to my cousin Dorlene Taylor my skills in tennis and to my sister Kelly my brilliant brain.

I, Bonnie Lloyd, being of sound mind and body, leave to Lisa Overton all my empty notebooks from Mr. Bailey's math class.

I, Shawn Martin, being of sound mind and body, leave to Barry Campbell, all the good times I had at Addison.

I, Jackie Maynard, being of sound mind and body, leave to Miss Sheppard my love.

I, Don Meyer, being of sound mind and body, leave to Ms. Penley an egg scrambler to curl her hair.

I, Sheryl Ollie, being of sound mind and body, leave to all the teachers I've been taught by, my deepest gratitude for their hard work and to all the students my love and hope for a better tomorrow.

I, Sonya Pasley, being of sound mind and body, leave to Gerad Smith my great ability to play the violin.

I, Laura Peckham, being of sound mind and body, leave to Dale Peckham all the hardships of learning, and a few extra minutes in homeroom to finish homework.

I, Stanley Pullins, being of sound mind and body, leave to the 7th graders my meal ticket, which on Mondays allows you to have: soybean burgers, super crushed applesauce, half homogenized milk, unsalted stringbeans, and dried up french fries.

I, Fran Scott, being of sound mind and body, leave to Mrs. Wright a bottle of aspirin for all the headaches her 6th period gave her.

I, Donnie Shelton, being of sound mind and body leave to Brian Bailey all my wrestling abilities.

I, Annie Simmons, being of sound mind and body, leave to Mrs. Austin a picture of me so she won't forget all the problems she helped me with.

I, Barbara Tatum, being of sound mind and body, leave to Mr. Groves all the thanks in the world for helping me find a job this year.

I, Denise Terry, being of sound mind and body, leave to the whole school peace and happiness and to Hope Williams and Pamela Terry good luck in the future.

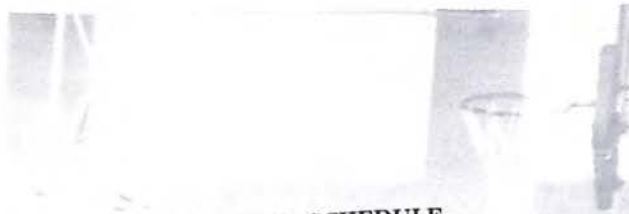

I, Shane Underwood, being of sound mind and body, leave to my sister Jenny lots of money because she's always on the telephone.

I, Ricky Williams, being of sound mind and body, leave — quietly.

I, Kelly Wormack, being of sound mind and body, leave to all the students of Addison, the best of education, health and welfare, so one day they will graduate and have a prosperous life.

I, Charles Yingling, being of sound mind and body, leave to Kenneth Kaplan my good looks, intelligence and all the luck in the future.

WE WILL REMEMBER . . .

Always bring your books to class.

I thought somebody said there was an assembly today.

Is this the real Mork from Ork?

Now if you get caught throwing snowballs . . .

Mr. Garber, Do you actually believe that this is the first time he has been late to class?

No! No! You saw with this end.

Girls! You have just one minute to choose date number one, two or three.

I would rather eat my thumb than these burgers.

Did you hear the one about . . .

How about a date?

Hi Mom! Wish you were here.

Gee Coach, I did wash my tennis shoes this week.

Let's see now, does W come before R or . . .

That is the last spider I'll ever eat!

If that bell doesn't ring I'm going to croak.

He just kissed her and his lips turned white.

What are you talking about Mr. Bailey?

Don't tell anyone, but I can't divide decimals either.

Come on out Mrs. Hunt, the kids have gone home now.

Maybe I can use this drill to unplug all the commodes.

I told you once about drawing all those dirty pictures in this class.

Would you all please whisper just a little louder?

Look fool, put the ball in the right basket.

I will give her a ten.

I need a Trac II shave.

Oh Lord, not another faculty meeting!

Last year I cut three fingers off.

Oops! Ripped them again.

We are not going to dance with any of those silly girls.

Can we go to the bathroom Mrs. Hunt?

About time you got one right Nathaniel.

Wow, does she need a pick!

Look who is in the trash can Mr. Cushing.

THANK YOU P.T.A.

We will long remember our P.T.A. this year for their conscientious efforts in working with our administration to improve both the quality of instruction and the condition of the physical plant here at Addison. Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Ella M. Waid, president of the P.T.A., a group of dedicated parents (pictured below) conducted a survey to not only assess the condition of our building, but to identify various academic needs of our school. Their efforts were rewarded in that Addison received some needed materials and textbooks and many repairs were made throughout the school.

Thank you, parents, for having helped the teachers provide a more adequate atmosphere for instructing and learning.

1. Mrs. Ella M. Waid, President.
 2. Mr. Robert S. Peckham, First Vice-President and Program Chairman.
 3. Mrs. Elizabeth R. Peckham, Cultural Arts.
 4. Mrs. Laura H. Cochran, Corresponding Secretary.
 5. Mrs. Juanita Langhorn, Second Vice-President.

A friend

Our very special thanks to the administration, staff and student body of Addison Jr. High for their cooperation and assistance throughout the year as we worked on the yearbook. The 1979-80 yearbook staff also wishes to express their sincere appreciation to Mr. Lewis Bailey of Williamson Road Photo Shop for his assistance with all of our photographic needs and to Mrs. Yolanda Harmon for keeping our financial records.
