MOTTO: B-2

EMBLEM: Bee

COLORS: Blue and Gold

SONG

*So hail to William Fleming—
On with your game;
Your colors waving—
Blue and gold above the rest,
Because they're best.
So hail to William Fleming—
On with your game;
We're back of you, old school,
You'll sure win fame.*

HISTORY

William Fleming High School is only three years old. In this brief period of time it has changed from a mere building on a plot of ground to a larger building with an enrollment of two hundred and fifty pupils. The grounds have been landscaped and beautified. In every respect, ours is one of the most modern and beautiful schools in Roanoke County.

*Into the days that used to be
Another year has passed;
In these few pages the things you see
We hope will always last.
The future holds for you and me
Open pages clean and vast,
Which we must fill, wherever we be,
With deeds that will always last.
We hope that in some future time
Our book may call to mind,
By mistake, picture, joke or rhyme,
The life we're leaving behind.
And as the heights we try to climb,
God grant that we may find
Example in His life sublime,
Who taught us to be kind.*

Song

*High school days are nearly o'er,
These days are best of all—
Happy have they all been to us
And soon we'll part to meet no more.*

*Then give a toast to Fleming High,
And to the good old times,
Give to her, our Alma Mater,
Praises that reach to the sky.*

*To our friends—To our class—
To our school that will always be dear to us,
To the boys—To the girls—
To the teachers that worked patiently with us,
To the sports—To the clubs—
To the organizations that interest us,
To the youth—To success—
To the life that is waiting and calling us.*

*Oh! hail to this, our Senior year,
Better than all the rest,
May it never be forgotten,
And always looked upon with cheer—
So let us part with happy hearts,
Until we meet again,
May each not forget the other—
As from Fleming each departs.*

Senior Poem

We come with great rejoicing
On this, our day of days
Let every heart be eager
To go forth without praise;
Let's be thankful for fellowship,
For leaders, tried and true,
For call to worthy service
For strength to dare and do.
But gone the past forever
On swiftly flying wings;
The future lies before us
With call to greater things.

Awake to great and new ideals,
More work, more time, more care,
More earnestness of purpose,
More willingness to share.
The field of labor is ready,
Our purpose in life is begun,
Put forth our new morals of living
And half of Life's battles are won.
Help others when they are discouraged
When they're down and out, too,
And you will be rewarded by Him
Who all your life has guarded you.

—HARRY SPEESE

Senior Class History

In the fall of 1933, the Senior Class of 1936 first came together in William Fleming High School, as the first sophomore class of the school. At that time, there were thirty members in this class. The process of changing, and meeting each other and getting started, made this year seem rather vague.

In the fall of 1934 we came back as the Junior Class, with an enrollment of practically the same as the year before. Some of the original members had dropped out, but new ones were filling their places. We were a very active Junior Class. The most outstanding event of our junior year was the Junior-Senior reception. We remember Virginia Polley as our class president for that year. The curtain fell on the Junior Class, and left us eagerly looking forward to the fall when we would occupy the Senior seats.

Time passed quickly, though, and in September, 1935, "The Senior Class" starts out its fourth and last year. This year has seemed short, indeed, too short. We feel that we have many things to our credit.

In April, 1936, "Black Cats," a three-act comedy, was presented by the Senior Class. For its great success we are indebted to Mrs. Powell, our advisor. We feel, and also hope that you feel that the Seniors have whole-heartedly supported every school activity this year. We are taking with us, as we graduate, quite a number of the school's most talented, most versatile, and most athletic boys and girls.

We have the honor of being the largest graduating class of William Fleming High School.

We also have the honor of editing the first printed BEEHIVE.

We also have the honor of being the first class to wear the class ring, which has been adopted by the school.

—VIRGINIA GOFF, Historian

Last Will and Testament

We, the members of the Senior Class of William Fleming High School, hereby present the last will and testament.

First, the Senior Class of '36 bequeaths their earnestness and willingness to work to the Senior Class of '37. Second, Leonard Peters wills his athletic ability to Wayne Wood, James Stokes leaves his height to James Salmon.

Lawson Patterson leaves his cute smile to Charles Harris. Howard Kidd leaves Lois Webb to anyone who will take care of her. Philip Schenk leaves his "crooning" voice to none other than Harold Bowers. Calvin Schenk leaves his "carrying on" to Herbert Dallas.

Roy Hylton leaves his personality to Albert Jones.

Charles Deaner leaves his blue-eyed Elsie to anyone who treats her as well as he does. Harry Speese wills his curly hair to Charles Crouch.

Robert Hannabass wills his physique to Robert Doss.

Junior Goff wills his "good times" to Henry St. Clair.

Ray Layman leaves his place as Sports Manager to Clarence Caldwell.

Charles Nininger wills his aeroplane to Jack Hughins.

Raymon Hill bequeaths his knowledge in books to Grady Lyons.

McDonald Little wills his black hair to Gordon Powers.

Ralph Bowles wills Miss Ridgway a cake to pass him.

Prentice Peters wills her "good grades" to Frances Peters.

Elizabeth Fralin leaves her athletic form to Lilian Porter.

Audrey Hairfield wills her "sweet ways" to Geneva Kendrick.

Helen Archer bequeaths her "wise cracks" to Thelma Dent.

Margaret Gray wills her "quietness" to Elizabeth Gay.

Virginia Polley wills her ways of "carrying on in class" to Hazeltine Shepherd.

Claudine Vernon bequeaths her musical talent to Juanita Hannabass.

Virginia Bowers wills her "studying" to Margaret Sisson.

Helen Prillaman wills her desire for baseball to Bernice Kendrick.

Martha Board wills her beautiful voice to Mildred Jones.

Irene Bandy wills her crazy ways to Bernice Akers.

Virginia Goff wills her dark eyes to Frieda Wathall.

Mildred Davis leaves her "Southern drawl" to Frances Hackett.

Pauline Woody wills her curls to Daisy Crusow.

Signed this the 13th day of May, 1936

Senior Class of William Fleming High

Senior Prophecy

When we finished high school, it was with a will to teach,
Whether there should be members, or just one each to each;
And thinking of my classmates now, I often wonder why
Roy Hylton, who ten short years ago, a dentist aspired to be,
Is now happily married, and children has he three.
Take Virginia Bowers for instance, whom we know couldn't carry a tune,
But whose success in Opera is soaring upward to the moon.
Look at Foster Sheets, who was as lazy as could be,
But now rides in a limousine, and wears fine clothes you see.
And Martha Board whose sole object was winning her a spouse,
Has built a home for old maids, and calls it "Laughing house."
Then Claudine Mae Vernon, who wished to win renown,
Is traveling with a circus and acting as a clown
To spread Mr. Saunders' philosophy was Speese's one ambition;
But now he pussy-foots around enforcing prohibition.
Nor Charles Deaner, remember, a butler wished to be,
Is now a soap-box orator, expounding liberty.
James Stokes, our Class President, who never was a shirker,
Has now become a minister and is a pious worker.
Doesn't it seem strange that Raymond Hill, who was a shark in Math
Is now end man in a minstrel, and making people laugh?
Helen P. wanted an easy job, teaching High School French,
But now she is a famous judge sitting on the bench.
And P. Peters whom we all esteemed so high;
Is now a crooked doctor, selling liquor on the sly,
Liz Fralin's only ambition was to become somebody's wife;
Has discovered a cure for kinky hair and now is "fixed" for life.
Leonard Peters, whom we thought would never pass,
Has become United States Senator ahead of the rest of the class.
Here's to Junior Goff, he's accomplished his ambition
By teaching, though it's only one, 'twas his high school mission.
Margaret Gray kept this end in view, to be a millionaire;
A teacher's job looked good to her, and so she's landed there.
Fred Poff would be a lawyer, but found the job too hard
And now he's in Sears-Roebuck, selling cheese cloth by the yard.
To be a movie actress, was Irene's fondest hope
But now she works in a drug store concocting a wicked dope.
In high school "Little Charlie N." always made his mark,
Behold him now a peddler selling pop corn in the park.
Blair and Berkley Riley, who both were students rare,
At present have a side show in Roanoke County fair.
Calvin Schenk had no thought, but to gather lots of jack
But now he scrapes a living with a Lizzie as a shack.
Said Polley, "As a teacher I'll make the world stand still."
Can't say much for the teaching but she's at it still.
To be a great musician was the wish of Pauline Woody,
But now she's leading lady in "Goody Goody."
Philip Phlegar always wished to take a trip to Mars,
But he's given up that ambition and is now studying stars.
Being treasurer of our class has helped Pat a lot,
For now he's a leading banker in the city of "Detrot."
Howard Kidd, who was quite the berries in the golden days of yore;
Is now at the University taking courses in folklore.
McDonald Little whom we always thought would surely reach the top;
His dreams were rudely shattered and now he's just a traffic cop.
Virginia Goff and Ray Layman who consuls wished to be,
At present are in Rocky Mount selling Lipton's Tea.
Mildred Davis and Helen Archer, who we always thought so quiet,
I see by the papers are the main leaders in a riot.
Robert Hannabass an artist wished to be,
Has long since left his fooling off, a blessing to humanity.
And so it is the whole way through, as you did read and see
They've none done what they should have done, or been what they should be,
But thru it all no one can say, however bold,
That any one of them disgraced the blue and the gold.

Junior History

The present Junior Class was the first class to enter William Fleming High School as freshmen and will be the first class to graduate after having attended this school for four years. From a group of ninety freshmen, we have decreased to the present number of fifty-four.

The first year of high school life was new to us and we had a hard time getting adjusted, but we made names for ourselves as we went along our way.

The Freshman Class presented a three-act play, "Mrs. Tubbs of Shantytown," on May 18, 1934. The proceeds were given to the athletic fund.

The second year of our high school life ran more smoothly for the most of us, and we have the distinction of being the first class to have a party in the school auditorium. We do not think our conduct deprived other classes of being granted the same privilege.

As Juniors, we have chosen for our president, Ira Peters; vice president, Bernice Kendrick; secretary, Fred Lemon, and treasurer, Elsie White.

We presented a one-act play, "The Pampered Darling," directed by our sponsor, Miss Barnes.

This class may boast of having several members who are active in sports. They have made names for themselves that will long be remembered in the history of our school sports.

The present Junior Class is a very coöperative group, working to give its best to the school. Next year as a Senior Class, we hope to equal and surpass the records of the classes which have preceded us.

IS IT THE COAL OR THE PRICE?

Stop for a moment and join us in looking at two pictures. One of these pictures you will note is a picture of "value received." Happiness and contentment just naturally come forth to greet you and by observing it closely you will see that it looks well, regardless of how or where placed and looking at it from any angle, you will see that "satisfaction" seems to be its mission.

The other one is a picture of "price." When we stand directly in front of it, the first impression we get is that it is "fair" and "in line," but turn your head just a little and an entirely different view presents itself as "worry," "losses," etc., begin to show up very prominently. Turning around and viewing it from another angle we discover that it has lost its proportion to "value" and then it cannot help but dawn upon us that the entire picture is wrong.

To High School Graduates

Whatever you plan to do after graduation—whether you plan for college or business—your mental development must continue.

The National Business College is a distinctive, private school of professional grade. Day and evening courses prepare high school graduates for immediate earnings. Many graduates who have acquired experience are now presidents, vice-presidents, cashiers, secretaries, treasurers and controllers of large corporations—others are in successful accountancy practice.

The selection of a commercial school for your business training is of vital importance to you. Write for beautifully illustrated catalog.
