JERRY SCOTT AND BRUCE MCCOLLOUGH

DEDICATION

How do we love you? Let us count the ways, if we can:
 You were one of the very first to welcome us to Lee - you made us feel we belonged. You explained our many opportunities to us, and pointed us in the direction we should travel. You have cautioned us along the way, patiently guiding, urging us to desire the best, to learn the most, to set our goals high, in order that our education might fit us for a happy and successful life. Your quick wit and ready smile have brightened many of our days. We shall remember, always, the sincerity of your efforts, and be grateful for your interest. With our deepest appreciation, we wish to dedicate the 1966 General to you, Mrs. Mary Bernard.

Lawrence Baxter being in insane mind--leaves a fire alarm to Mrs. McCowan so she can get attention from goof offs. A people catcher to Miss Temple so she can catch dishonest students and teach at the same time. A draft card to Mr. Monk. A nice class to Mrs. Hoal so she won't blow her top and have to buy tranquilizers by the barrel. A bottle of French wine and some women to Mr. Adams so he can imitate James Bond. To all my teachers, I will them my sincere thanks for making my time at Lee an unforgettable one.

Delores Webber--leaves Mrs. Hoal a real, cool, tree climbing Art Club with some more wild ideas, and all of the hints we left at Dr. Rushton's office for a bigger art room, leaves Mr. Turner a room full of students with a lot of nerve so they can hold up my protest posters and page 531, leaves Mrs. Rader all of her hair so she won't get cold next winter.

Pat Martin--leaves Mr. Turner Page 531 out of her Math book, so next year Judy, Wesley, D.K., and Pat will have something to copy for looking out the window, leaves some of the best memories she has of roaming through the halls and living in the office to a bunch of wonderful teachers and hopes that good, ole Lee will never be torn down, at least not before the teachers wear out.

James Williams--leaves all five, long suffering years at Lee to any young hood that thinks the world owes him a living and he wishes that his body may come back as a dead tree to please his master and slave driver--Madame Hoal.

Virgie Price--leaves Lee Junior a match so a "new you" can be built, leaves Mrs. McCowan a trip to Egypt as that's all we hear about, leaves Mr. Turner Essential Math, as Modern has you beat, leaves Mrs. Hayes some new chairs that don't ruin hose.

Catherine Dingus--leaves her cheat sheets for geography to anyone who has a lot of luck and a brain to go with it, leaves her gym suit to the G. A. A. hoping the next person who wears it will love gym as much as I do and try to work as hard.

Peggy Gearheart--leaves Miss Temple a tape measure so she can measure all the girl's shirts to see that they are not too short.

Donna Sink--leaves Mrs. McCown and Mrs. Dillard new classes that won't give them as much trouble, leaves Miss Temple a trash burner so she can burn up all the hall passes, so she can catch people without them.

Theda Fairfax--leaves Lee Jr. a policeman to keep order in the halls and sound proof walls.

Gail Johnson--leaves to all the teachers of Lee Jr. some non-chewers to make up for all these chewers.

Darlene Poindexter--leaves Mrs. McCown all my ole papers on the floor so she'll have something to do next year besides ring her little ole ding-a-ling bell, leaves Miss Temple an automatic hall pass catcher, and takes many fond memories of all.
