Below: Margaret Akers and Martha Wilhelm begin the 1977-78 school year by practicing their routines for upcoming football game half-time shows.

More Than a Place to Play . . .

More Than a Place to Eat . . .

Our cafetorium and gymnasium have many purposes. Besides being an eating place, the cafetorium is the center for dances, such as the Homecoming dance, the Christmas dance, and the Masquerade Ball. School plays are performed on the stage of the cafetorium. Once in a while, students are entertained during lunch by the stage band.

The gym is used mostly for basketball and volleyball games, but pep assemblies are held there also. The choir presented a Christmas program in the gym, and in the fall we had the opportunity to see and hear the United States Naval Academy Glee Club.

Our cafetorium and gym offer many recreational activities, and when the new auditorium is completed, students will have another place to gather for plays, concerts, and other extra-curricular programs.

Bottom Left: Patrick Henry was fortunate to have a visit from some folk performers. Here, Lee Jennings, David Smith, and other students listen to them perform.

Top Left: Jan Haga and her date, David Love, have an interesting conversation at Hidden Valley Country Club at a dinner honoring the Lewis Gale Hospital volunteers.

Bottom: Brian Assenat, Kenny Mitchell, and Robert Poore, a few of our new male cheerleaders, look on as cheerleader sponsor, Wendy Campbell, and Dana Harman lead a cheer at a pep assembly.

The Pie's The Limit

Having had a fantastic season, the Patrick Henry Varsity Basketball team was successful in reaching the finals of the Regional basketball tournament. So, it was only natural to have a pep assembly honoring the team's accomplishments.

With Brian Dunbar posing as an "ordinary" Northside basketball player, it was Senior player Ricky Wright's job to climb the ladder and smash Brian in the face with a pie.

Top Right: Kenny Mitchell instructs the crowd to yell if they want Brian to get the pie in his face.

Seniors Battle

on

On March 14, 1978, students from Patrick Henry and William Fleming and other interested onlookers filled the Roanoke City Council Chambers for a bi-weekly School Board meeting. Their argument — Graduation had been postponed to June 14th because of snow. Since it was originally planned for June 10th, students had made beach reservations, job commitments, etc. for the following week. J. B. Gurley and David Summers approached the School Board and asked the members to move graduation back to June 10th. The School Board decided to consider their proposal.

The result — on March 28th, the School Board decided to make graduation on June 10th, and have students go to school on three Saturdays in the spring.

to Graduate

Time

Buildings for

Bottom Left: The new auditorium is still in the process of being constructed, whereas the new main office building is receiving its finishing touches.

Top Right: Construction workers connect the library and the main office.

the Future

Above: The morning sun breaks through the opening between the library and the main office.

Transportation

Top Left: Many of P.H. students arrive and leave by buses. Buses also transport vocational students to Jefferson.

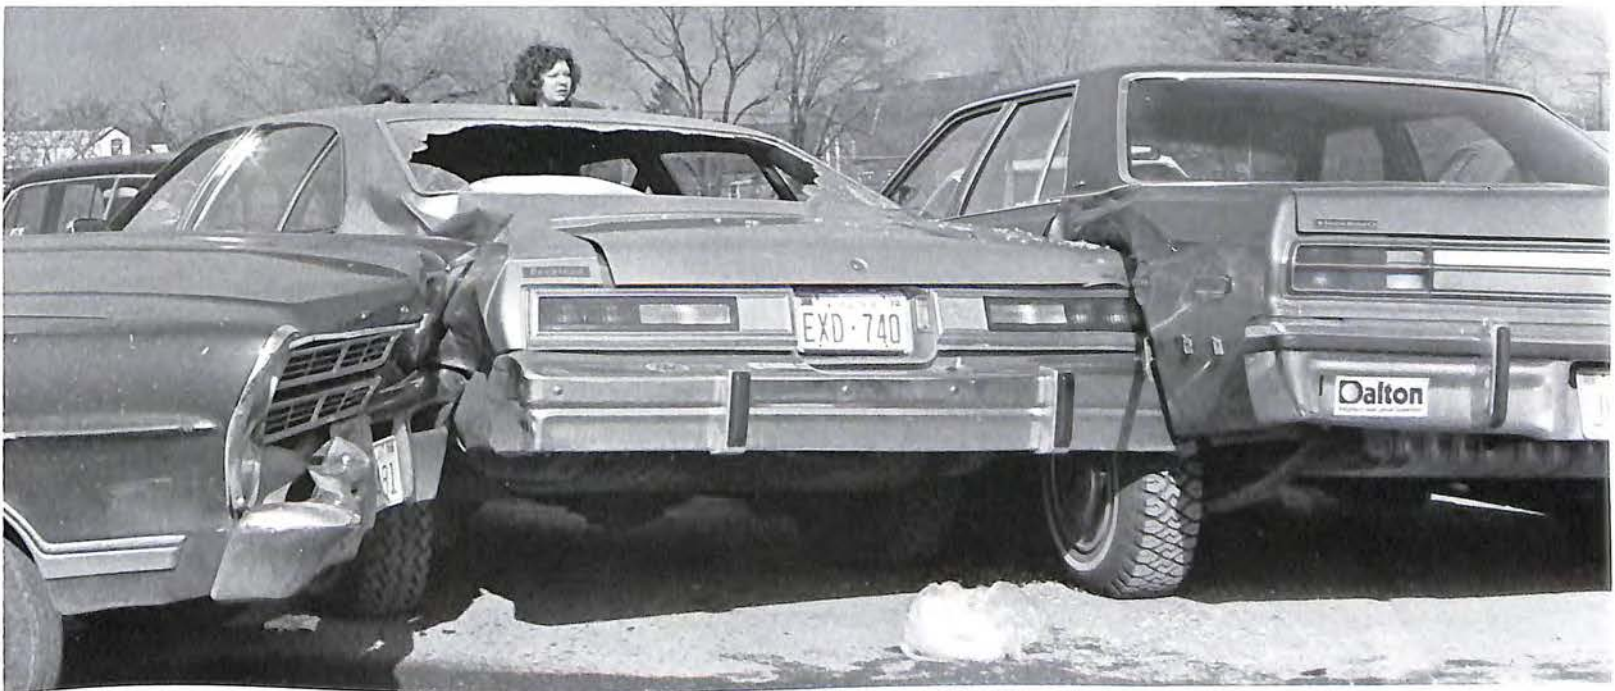

Top Right: The bicycle is another form of transportation, it requires pedal power instead of gas.

Above: What some people will drive to get attention.

to and From

Above: This is what can happen if you rush to get a parking space.

Top Left: This is one car in which few students ask the owner for a ride home.

Top Right: Many students own motorcycles; they are faster than bicycles and more open than cars.

The French Connection

Sam and Lee Panchèvre, two French Canadian brothers here at Patrick Henry, were born in Angers, France. When they were older, their family moved to Quebec. They lived in French-speaking areas where teaching English was almost outlawed.

During their early teens the family set out for Hot Springs, Virginia. After settling down, they were put into American schools with the sole consolation being sink or swim. They knew very little English, but learned quickly. By the end of six months they could understand everyone fairly well.

Now the Panchèvre brothers are students at Patrick Henry. Sam is a junior and Lee is a sophomore. According to both of them, American schools are less strict than their previous Canadian schools.

P. H. has treated them well, and they are active in the band, Modern Foreign Language Club, and Sam pioneered the International Students Club. In addition to all this Sam is interested in collecting stamps and is Vice-president of the Stamp Club at Patrick Henry.

The One and Only.

What are the requirements for a great basketball player? Height, weight, speed, coordination? Whatever it takes, Ricky Wright must have it.

Ricky started "playing around" with basketball in the third grade. He started serious playing in the seventh grade, when he played for the city league. Since then he has continued on to his last year at Patrick Henry. Ricky is undecided about his plans for college, but he is sure he wants to continue playing ball.

The basketball team will continue on next year and years after that. There will be many other Ricky Wrights to carry on the tradition. But there will never be one quite like our Ricky Wright.

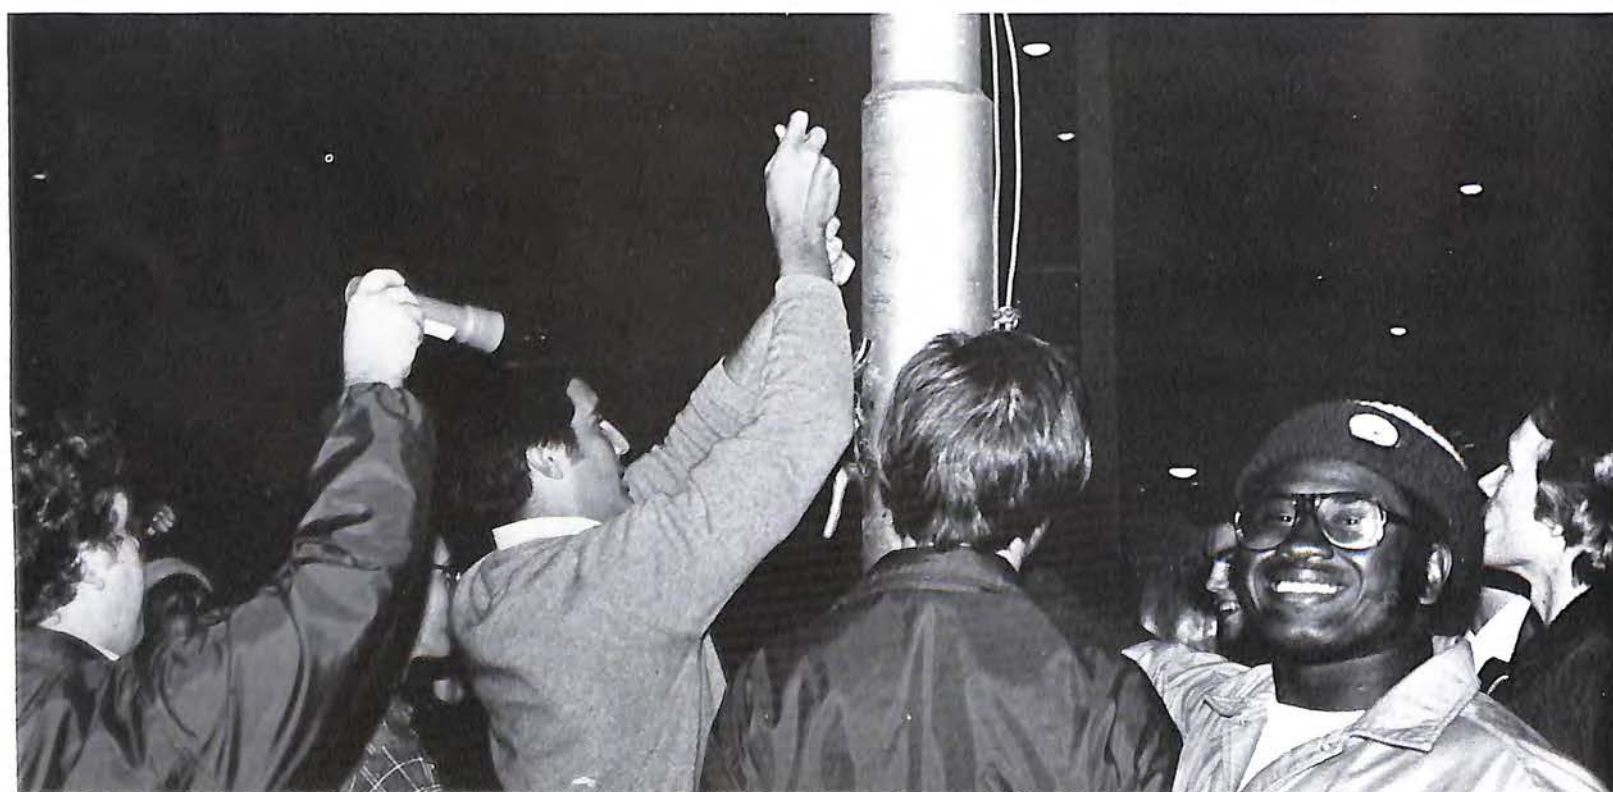

Modern

Maturity

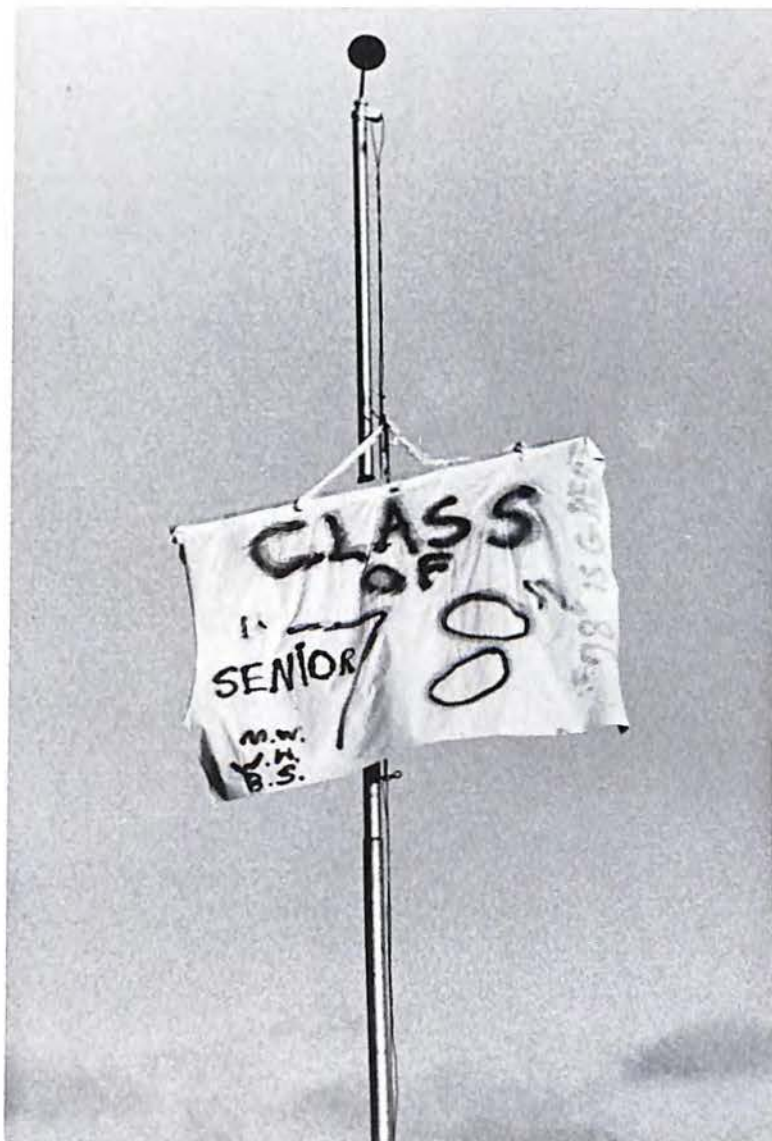

Senior Conspiracy

Top: Late one night on the campus of P.H. during Homecoming week, Frank Dent, John Canty, Lewis Johnson, Sam Hollingsworth, and Robert Poore, along with other classmates, got together to construct a senior flag.

Bottom: As the evening progressed, Senior Class President J. B. Gurley had the honor of raising the flag. Mitch Wheeler provides the light for the mid-night mission. Ron Bratton smiles, knowing he had nothing to do with the whole project.

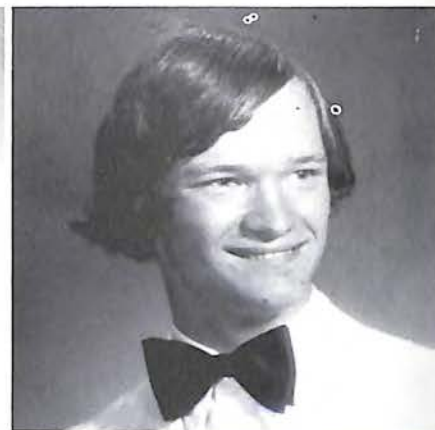

Above: The following morning the student body was greeted with the results of the past evening's activities. The class of '78 flag waved proudly above the school.

Top Right: In the midst of mass confusion, Reece Lambert valiently battles to lower the senior flag.

White: Patriots Head Coach for 1978-1979

Coach Willis White was chosen Head Football Coach by a committee of administrators and Dr. Pack. According to Mr. White he is "excited" about next year. He plans to make some changes on offense and hopes to continue their good record on defense.

Working with Coach Gainer was "the opportunity of a lifetime, to me he is the perfect example of what hard work and dedication can produce." Mr. White also hopes that Coach Gainer will be available for occasional advice. Having worked with the players before helps to gain insight where each of their talents lie.

Two of his goals for next year would be to have a winning record and perhaps to go to district.

Top Right: With script in hand and eyes bulging, Laban Johnson practices being Daddy for the faculty play, The Bad Children.

Bottom Left: Mr. Gerald Ciaffone and Miss Pam Willis work with zeal learning their lines as Hansel and Gretel, in the faculty play, The Bad Children.

National Honor Society

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to provide service to others in as many ways as possible. The 1978 N.H.S. chapter took food and gifts to a needy family at Christmas. The "Can-Can" Dance was a special service project in which the cans of food were given to the Salvation Army. The Honor Society sponsored the Honors Banquet, held for top graduates, and also sponsored a child to attend Camp Easter Seal.

STRING ORCHESTRA HAS BANNER YEAR

The Patrick Henry String Orchestra had one of its best years ever. In November, six of their group qualified and attended Regional Strings at Lynchburg. They were: Linda Lemon, Virginia Powell, Henry St.Clair (violins); Lisa Stott (viola); Stephanie Cummings (cello); and Jim Joslyn (Bass). Stephanie was the first cellist for the 100 member orchestra. She also won the coveted Thursday Morning Music Club's scholarship to Brevard Music Camp. She is the principle cellist of the Roanoke Youth Symphony, and plays cello in the Roanoke Symphony. Others who made All-State Orchestra with her were Linda Lemon, Virginia Powell, and Lisa Stott. These are the only instrumental students qualifying to represent Patrick Henry at the All-State event.

At District Festival in March the Orchestra received Superiors from all judges, and this is the most difficult category of music.

Named to Who's Who in American High Schools in Music were Stephanie Cummins, Linda Lemon, and Virginia Powell.

Regional Champs

The girl's volleyball team began practicing in mid-August under the direction of Coach B. J. Patsel and Coach Woody Deans. The team had only two returning starters, therefore it had to rebuild.

After an opening win, which pushed its winning streak to 56 games, the team suffered a heart-breaking loss to William Fleming. The loss strengthened the character of the team and led to a unique closeness among the players. The loss also made the players more determined to win the remaining games of the season.

The team soon began to work as a unit and established itself once again as the district power in volleyball. The team, combining its traditional defense with a powerful offense, never lost a match again. In the district tournament, P.H. defeated Salem and Fleming. For the first time, a regional tournament was held, The Patriots won the regional title decisively in a game that took only 7 minutes and 25 seconds.

Senior co-captains, Mariann Jordan and Newnie Rogers were the top scorers for the team. Rogers scored 183 points and Jordan 100 points. Rogers was named to the first team all-district squad while Jordan, Ann Bondurant, Becky Rice, Sandy Gordge, and Phoebe Beckley were given honorable mention.

With a young team, the Patriots should be able to extend their 15 game winning streak and still rule as queens of volleyball next year.

Proud Patriots Have Trying Season

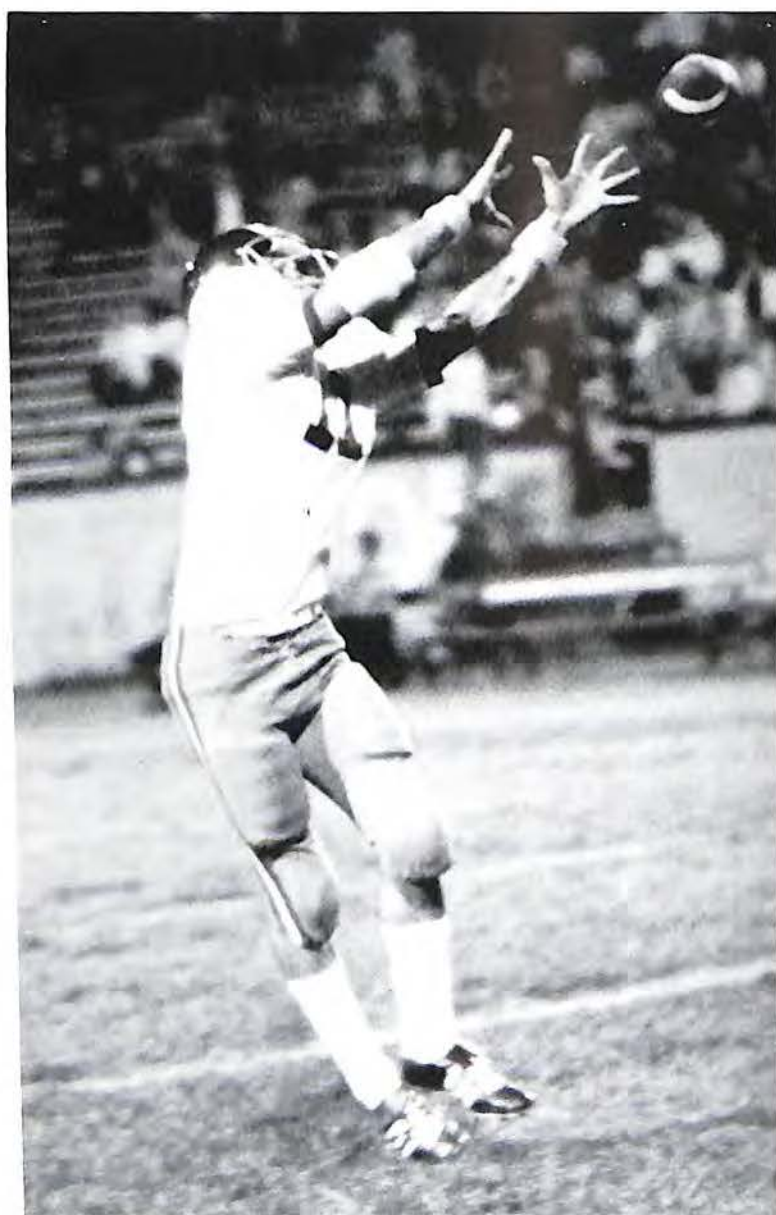

The 1977 Patriot football team posted a 3-5-2 record. The lack of a consistent offense hampered the team's chances for a good season. The following players received post-season honors: All-District: John Canty, Robert Mason, Zac Price, and Darryl Jones. All-Metro: Zac Price, Robert Mason, Eric Polfelt, Darryl Jones, Jack Nienke. All-Northwest Region: Zac Price.

The 1977 season marked the end of Coach Merrill Gainer's 9-year tenure at P.H. Under coach Gainer the Patriots reached the apex of sports by being crowned state champions in 1973.

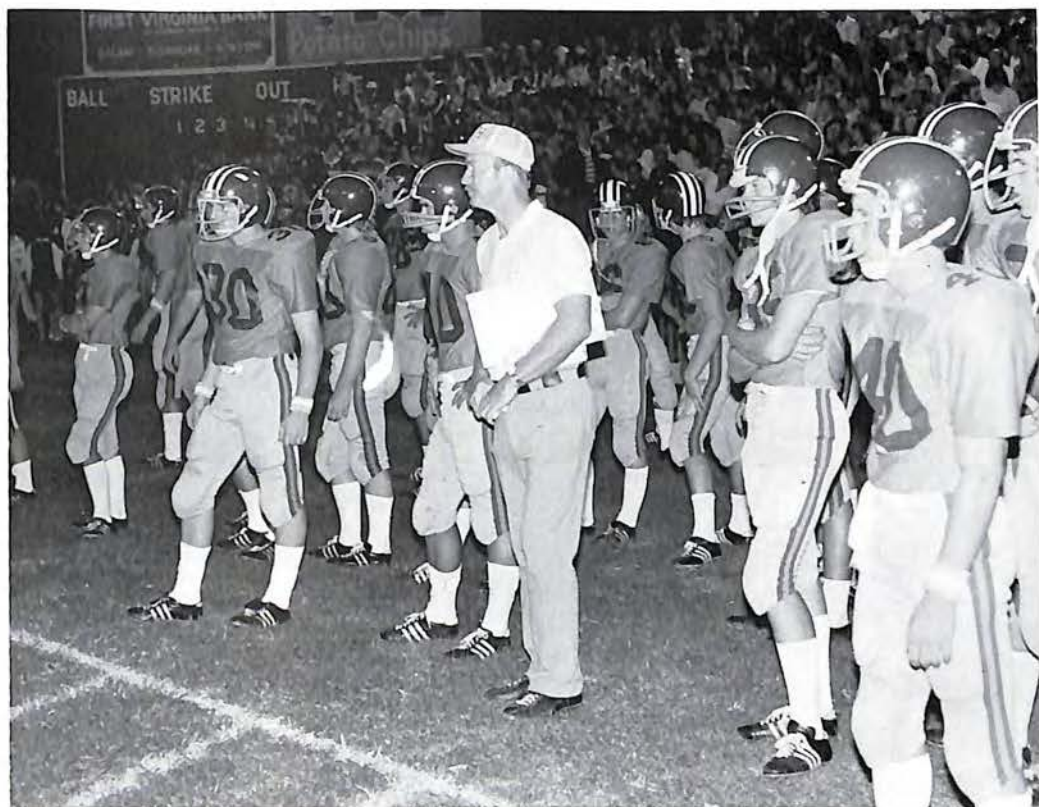

Any hope for a successful campaign in 1978 rests on the shoulders of 25 rising juniors.

Coach Merrill Gainer gives last minute instructions to Buddy Mitchell and other patriots before the Fauquier Co. game.

Jim Deyerle — He taught you that you must give 110% all the time because if one person fell short then the whole team would suffer. He's been at P.H. for so long I guess you could call his coaching era "Gainer's Dynasty."

Buddy Mitchell — He believed that in order to become a good team you must sacrifice yourself.

Tommy Avent — We really loved it. We weren't just out there for the heck of it; we really enjoyed what we were doing.

Henry St. Clair — Gainer demanded teamwork and sportsmanlike behavior from all of his players.

Kenny Mitchell — I learned discipline, leadership, and many other things that will be valuable in later life from Coach Gainer.

Louis Johnson — He gave everyone a chance to prove himself.

John Canty — Gainer wanted to win not for himself but for us.

Ron Bratton — He never looked back. Saturday, we started all over again, regardless of what happened Friday night.

J. B. Gurley — Coach Gainer was a proven winner throughout his great career, and his influence upon his co-workers and players was mystifying.

Zac Price — He taught you how to discipline yourself in the respect of how much work you have to put into something to make it a success.

Frank Dent — Gainer was not just a coach but also a father. You could talk to him about anything.

Robert Mason — After playing for a coach who has coached football teams for 30 years, you certainly learn to respect his ideas.

Tim Baldwin — Gainer taught me just to do my best always.

Girl

Cagers

Despite the losing record of 3-9 in the district, the Girls' Basketball team showed potential for the coming years. Senior co-captains Mary Holland and Terri Hairston along with returning juniors Faye Gunter, Anne Hoopes, Jennifer Lambert and sophomores Velvet Mook and Gloria Evans rounded out the 1977 team. Under new head coach, Sylvia Wright, the team was hampered by injuries all season. Although P.H. was host for the District Tournament, the girls were eliminated by Salem in the first round. Faye Gunter was named the teams' most valuable player while Terri Hairston was honored as the unsung hero.

Road Runners

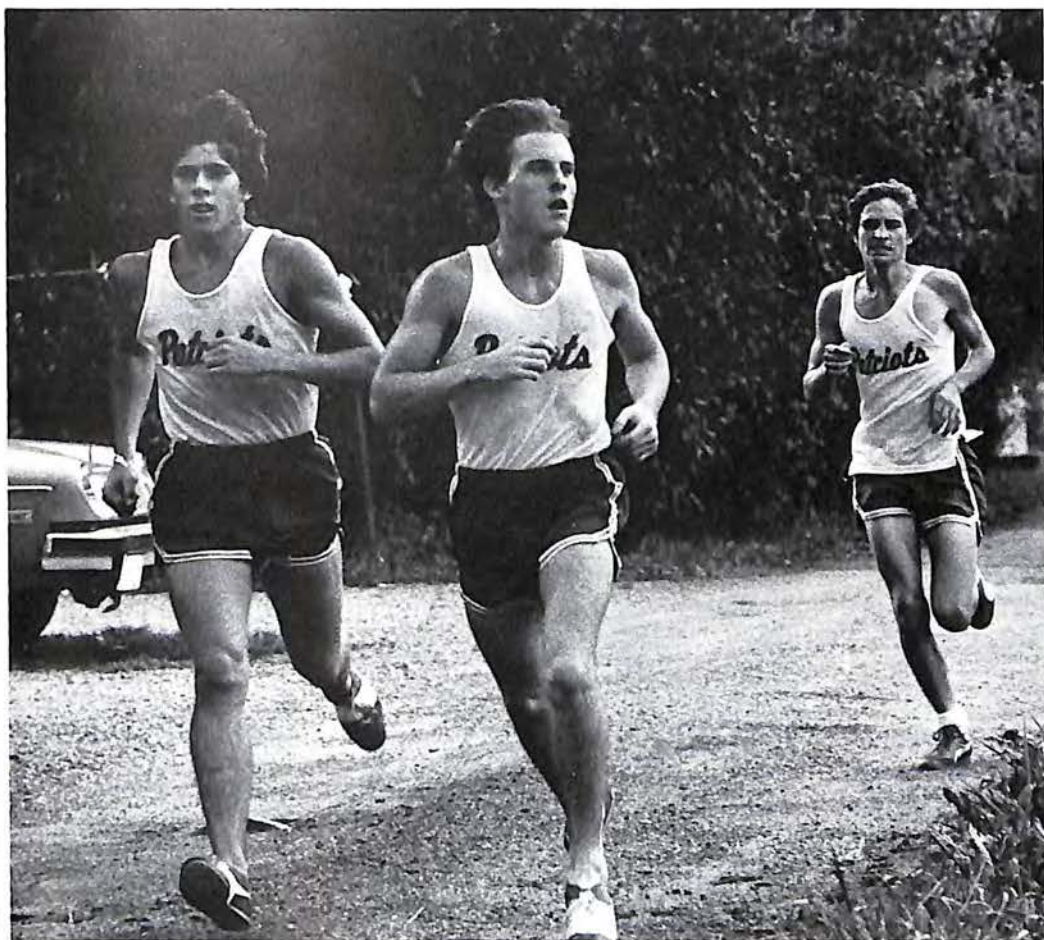

The inexperienced cross-country team had a rather disappointing season in 1977, winning only one meet. The young team, Tim Williams being the only senior, did have some outstanding talent. Richard Morrison was named All-Metro and finished sixth in the District meet. Tim Williams, Tedd Ashby and Richard Morrison were All-District and all had fine individual records. Other Patriot harriers were David Smith, James Elswick, John Shannon and Martin Young. Junior David Smith had an injury-ridden year and was unable to compete in several important meets. The cross-country team, under the able direction of Lloyd Woods, expects to improve their performance in 1978.

P.H. Grapplers

Coach Donald Futen's wrestling patriots had a big season last year and repeated their success this year with an 11-1 record. P.H. finished third in both the district and Big Orange tournaments. Two wrestlers, Nathan Puckett and Daryl Jones, went on to the regional and state tournaments. Puckett was District and Regional champion in the 167 lb. class, and Jones upset the District champ in the regional tournament in the 145 lb. division. Mike Dearing, Stefan Hilton, and William Pierson were Honorable Mention in a poll by the sportswriters in the 105, 119, and heavyweight classes respectively.

Indoor Trackers

The very inexperienced indoor track team, featuring only one senior, had a comparatively successful year. The Patriots had a winning regular season and finished a strong second in the district meet. Reggie Hayes led the team in scoring, being a double event winner in the district while setting a school record in the long jump and high jump. Other high placers were Tim Eads with two first places in the district meet and Danny Thompson who was All-Regional in the pole vault.

Roanoke Valley District Champs

Patrick Henry's basketball team had the longest winning streak in the history of the school, winning 21 straight games before losing in the finals of the Northwest Regional tournament.

Robert Mason, Erik Polfelt, Kevin Skelley, and Ricky Wright returned from last year's team and the prospects for a successful season were predicted by pre-season newspaper polls.

The season opened with a win over Galax, but a trip to Heritage of Lynchburg resulted in a two-point loss. The team regrouped, however, and defeated Maggie Walker and John F. Kennedy of Richmond. This started the team on their 21 game winning streak with three wins over Fleming and Northside.

Starters for the Patriots included All-State Ricky Wright, All-District Kevin Skelley, All-District Reggie Long, Robert Mason and Drew Kepley. Other valuable members of the team included Keith Bailey, Paul Bowers, Erik Polfelt, who was a starter until sidelined by injuries, Chris McCoy, and Bobby Hackley. Juniors Stacy Baxter, David Nelms, Pete Hagins and Percy Martin added depth to the bench.

Congratulations to the team on their Roanoke Valley District Championship and to Ricky Wright who set an individual scoring record with 44 points in one game, as well as points for one season.

J. V. Basketball

For the second straight year, Coach Woody Deans guided the Junior Varsity Basketball team to another District Championship. The Patriots won the Regular Season title to earn the home court advantage in the district tournament. The Patriots beat Salem 55 to 49 to win the District title.

The season started off good with five non-district wins but the team later suffered close losses to Wm. Fleming and Salem. The Patriots came back to regain the district lead and clinch the regular season title with impressive wins over Wm. Fleming, Salem and Franklin County. P.H. met second place Salem for the J.V. District Championship. The Patriots took command and beat Salem to end another great season with 18 wins and 3 losses.

There were many outstanding players who contributed to the Patriots prosperous season. Ricky Wells averaged over 21 points and 10 rebounds a game to lead the team. Gerald Minnis lead the team in assists with 112 and recoveries with 42. Robert Brown, Glen Phillips, and Jimmy Henderson helped on the boards with Henderson leading the team with 26 blocked shots. The guard spots were handled by David Arnold, Mark Slayton, Thomas Brown and Sam Lowman with backup help from Ronnie Easley and the spirited Robert Kenney. The team's hope for next season was strengthened with three talented junior high players, Chuck Kepley, Tommy Wright and Eric Wade.

Poised Performers

The girls' gymnastics team, under the direction of Coach B. J. Patsel, had a balanced season this year with a 4-3 record. Captain Janet Hamrick, Mary Carter, Linda Pruett, Lisa Francis and Stacy Torian provided the backbone for the team with stable performances throughout the season. Lisa Francis was the only Patriot to qualify for the Regionals, placing fourth in vaulting in the District meet. Linda Pruett was high scorer with the most points accumulated during the season.

Batter Up!

David Lower bunts the ball foul back past the umpire.

Under the new leadership of Hank Hamrick and Nick Colobro, the Patriots expect to challenge Franklin County's long reign as District Champions in baseball. PH returns some outstanding talent from last year's club. Mark Furry, Buddy Mitchell, Robert Poore, Kenny Mitchell, and Jeff Hodges are senior starters, while Todd Blackwell, David Snead, David Willett, David Lower, and Chris Robertson are junior returnees. These upperclassmen are strongly backed by a new wave of sophomores, and the baseball team expects to have a banner year.

P.H. Netmen

The Men's Tennis Team, after winning the District Championship in 1977, is in the rebuilding stage this year. The '78 team is a young one, with Allen Cannaday being the lone senior. Kevin Skelley, David McGee, Mike Sawyers and Tom Donnelly are juniors, while sophomores Joe Carroll, Bob Martin, Curt Davis and Bill McDearman move up from the junior high level. This is Coach Carper's second year coaching the tennis team, and they are strong contenders with Cave Spring for the District title.

Terror on the Court

"Terror on the Court" could well describe the P.H. girls' tennis team this year. The Patriots have dominated tennis in the Roanoke Valley District over the past couple of years, winning the district title last year. The girls have the skill and potential to be top contenders for the District as well as the Regional titles this year. Under the leadership of Coach Martha Sheperd, the '78 team is a relatively young one. The returning players are seniors Lynn Fleming, Newnie Rogers, and Mary Holland; juniors Ann Bondurant, Katie Wallace, Martha Branch, and Karla Williams. Several sophomores along with freshman Margaret Skelley prove to be promising for the team.

Top Right: Doubles partners Martha Branch (left) and Mary Hopkins rally to win the point.

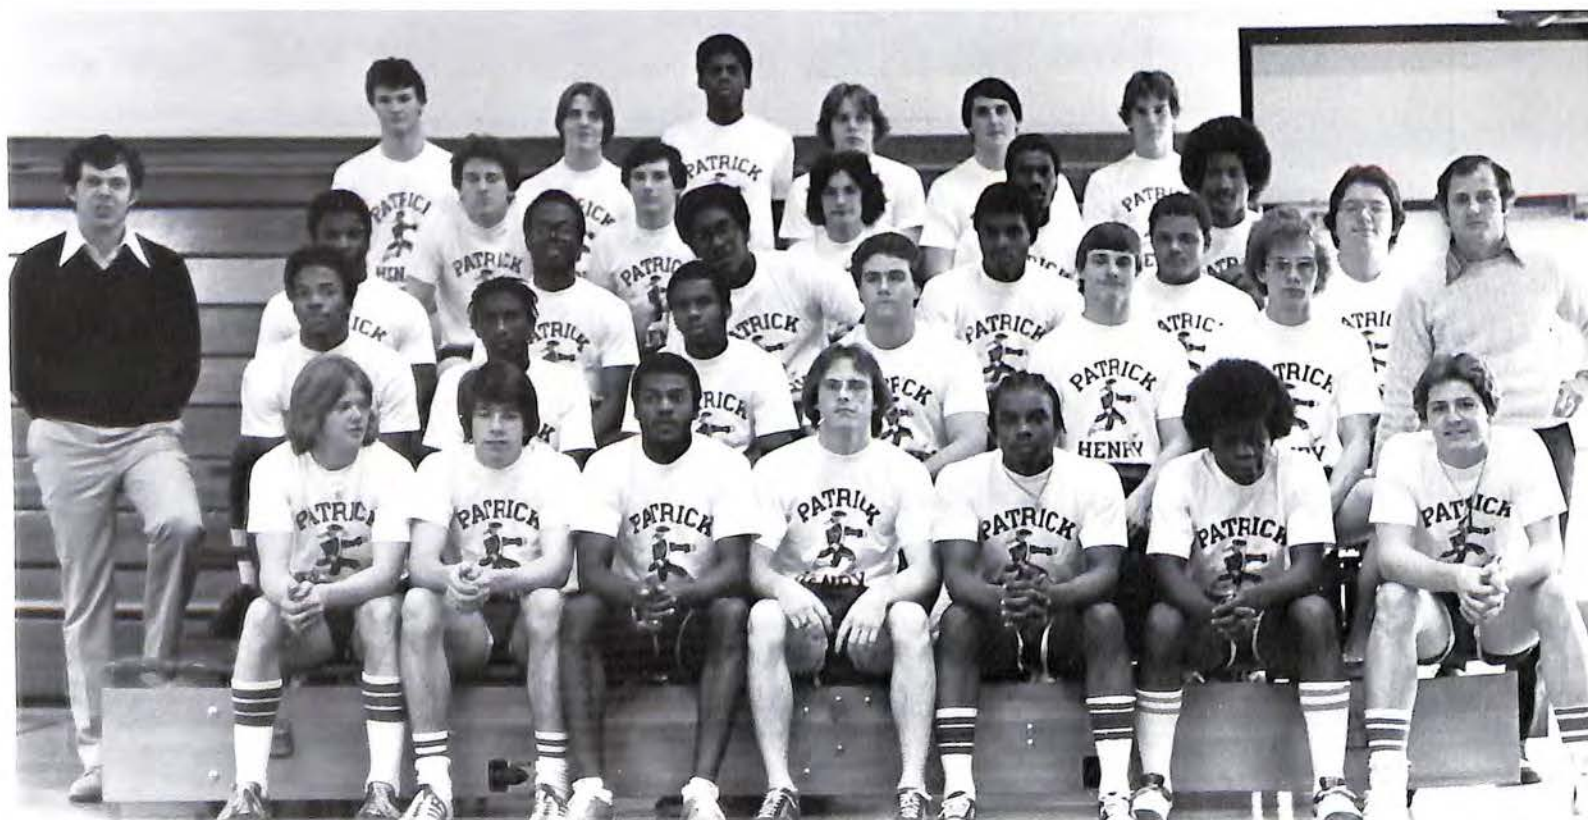

First Row: Deseree Taylor, Jan Haga, Lynn Fleming, Newnie Rogers, Mary Holland, Martha Branch.
Second Row: Ginny Tatum, Mary Hopkins, Ann Bondurant, Coach Martha Sheperd, Katie Wallace, Karla Williams, Margaret Skelley.

Runner's World

This year the outdoor track team faced the 1978 season with only a handful of returning trackmen. They are seniors Reggie Hayes, Tim Williams, juniors Tedd Ashby, Maxie Davis, Richard Morrison and David Smith. A large turnout of promising sophomores give the team hope for later season meets after gaining valuable experience in early season dual and invitational meets.

Right: Stacy Baxter, his head lowered, charges out of the blocks in the 100 yd. dash.

First Row Paul Cornett, Richard Morrison, Stacy Baxter, David Smith, Melvin Fralin, Curtis Easley.
 Second Row Coach Lloyd Woods, Micheal Scales, Percy Martin, Reggie Mayes, Tommy Avent, Stewart Sadler, Tedd Ashby, Assistant Coach Sam Hartman.
 Fourth Row John Childress, Tim Eads, Ralph Erke, Tim Williams, Ricky Wells.
 Fifth Row Glen Phillips, Danny Thompson, Chris McCoy, Bill Long, J. B. Gurley, James Bishop.

Keep on Trackin'!

The women's track team, coached by Miss Sylvia Wright, is one of quality instead of quantity. They expect to be in the thick of the battle for the District title. Top point scorers will be Jackie Shears in sprints, Ginger Noce in the jumps, Mariann Jordan in the shot and discus, and Virginia Powell in the distances. Bright new prospects are Charlene Rhodes, Lisa Wilson and Athena McCoy. Cave Spring transfer, Gabe Larew and junior Jill Cotton will be top contenders in the district in the high jump and 440 yd. run respectively.

Top to Bottom: Ginger Noce, Lisa Wilson, Virginia Powell, Margie Hicks, Carol Hudson, Angela Hinchee, Mariann Jordan, Dori Schultz, Charlene Rhodes, Velvet Mook, Jackie Shears.

Pars and Birdies

The golf team hopes to better its losing record of last year and to compete strongly for the District Championship. Allen Patterson, Chuck Dyson, and Tommy Humphries provide a solid nucleus for this year's team. They will be aided by senior Liz Waynick and two budding junior prospects, Bill Fisher and Will Angle. Other team members are Tim Orr, Nato Evans, Donna Housman, David Arnold, Russ Berry, and Allon Byrd. The Patriot golf team is coached by Gene Ferguson, and its home course is at Hunting Hills Country Club.

Top Right: Faced with an uphill lie, Chuck Dyson pitches the ball up and onto the green with his wedge.

Bottom Right: The sight every golfer loves to see, his ball falling into the cup in the regulation number of strokes.

ROANOKE VALLEY MERCHANTS

At Roanoke Memorial Hospitals, we offer complete medical training in six schools: School of Laboratory Assistants, Radiologic Technology, Nuclear Medicine, Medical Technology, Practical Nursing, and Professional Nursing.

In these schools, we teach the latest advances in medical science and the most modern procedures and techniques.

But while diseases and disorders respond to sophisticated equipment and drugs, people respond to people.

That's why we're looking for people who are sensitive as well as inquisitive.

We know that students who care for people will do a better job of caring for patients.

Don't wait to apply. Find out the courses you need to take now.

the Challenge

From the atom to the sun — the universe pulsates with energy in many forms.

The challenge is to find ways — new ways — to utilize the earth's vast storehouse of fuels in providing the energy needed for this nation to continue to be great.

The means — innovative technologies, exotic engineering, dynamic architecture — exciting advances that must come if man is to tap Nature's store for the energies he needs.

From the smallest part of the universe to the largest — that's the scope of the energy field today. The opportunity for personal achievement is infinite. The challenge — one that must be met.

The end of our high-school years always seems to sneak up on us. It's a time of mixed emotion, the end and the beginning. The last closing bang of our lockers corresponds with the opening snaps of our suitcases, waiting to be filled with our beach paraphernalia.

Soon we'll be off in many different directions — beach, work, college, or training school.

It is my hope, and the hope of the entire yearbook staff, that this year's book will be an enjoyable, accurate, and lasting record of all the time we have spent together.
