Have you heard of Patrick Henry lately?

Not much considering he died nearly 200 years ago.

No. . .not that Patrick Henry. The one I have in mind is very much alive!

I don't think I know another Patrick Henry.

Of course you know the school. . .Patrick Henry High School.

I don't see why I should have heard of it.

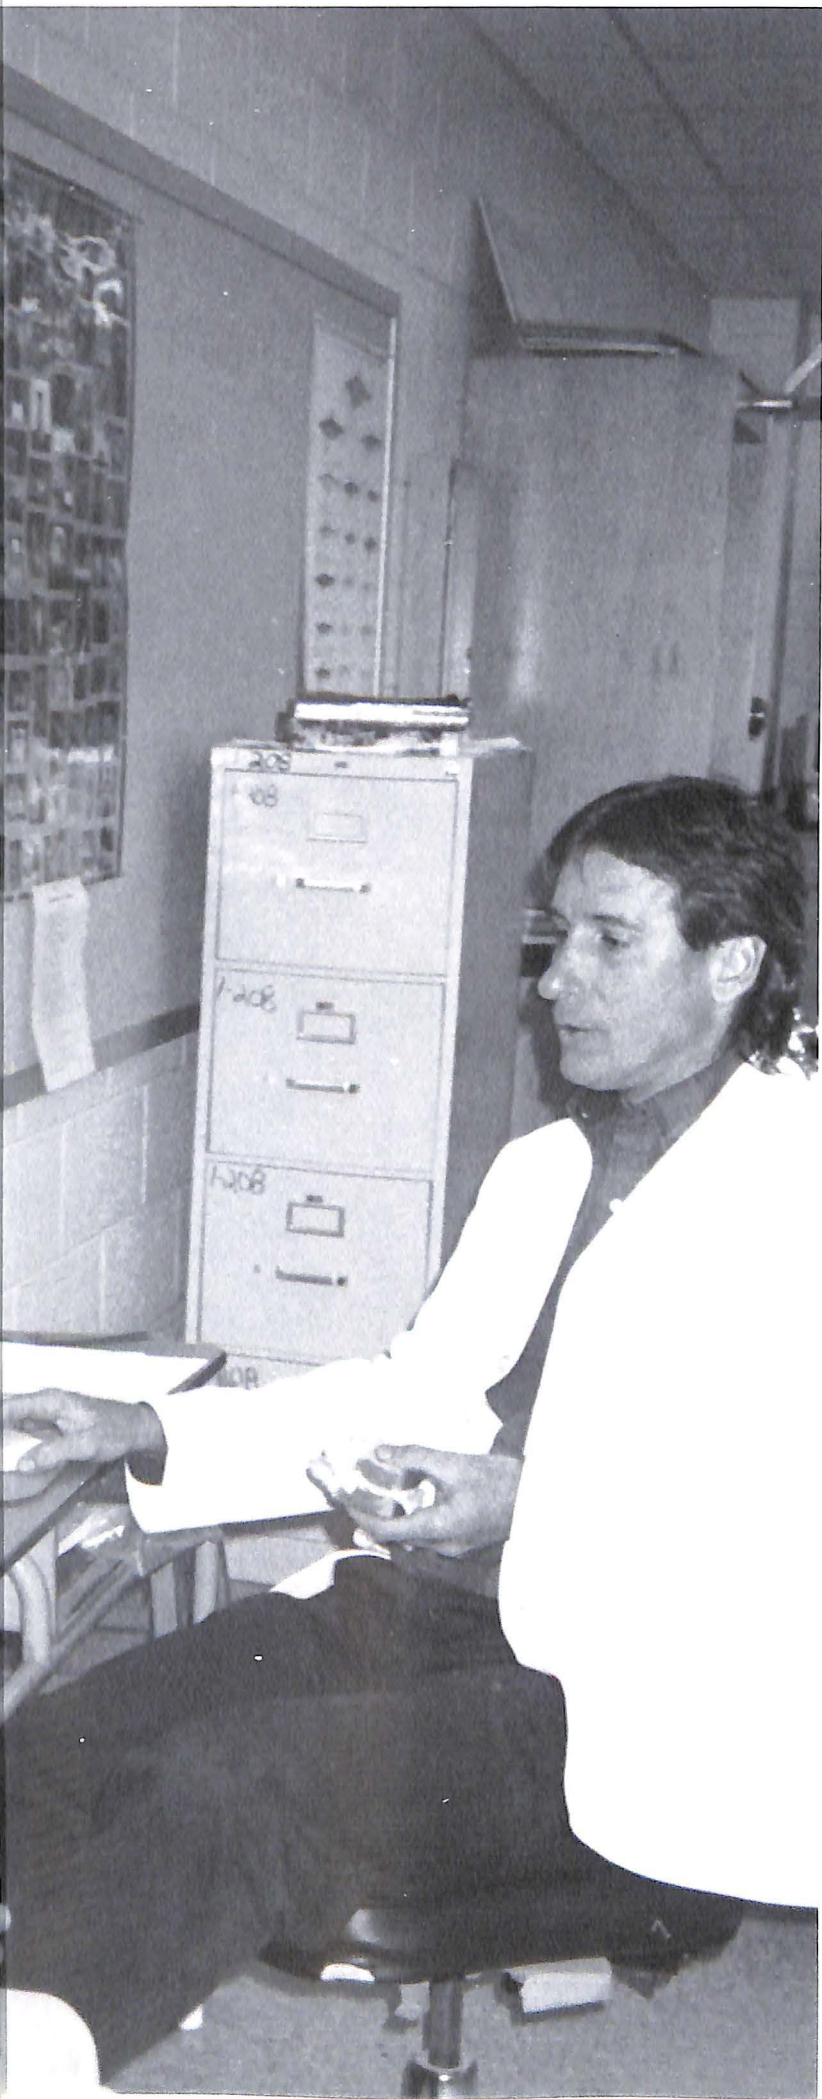

Maybe you've heard of the 1669 students and 137 faculty members that fill the halls. Or maybe you've heard of the city and state proclaiming Patrick Henry's 1992 basketball team number one in the state.

Now that you mention it, I have heard of the name Patrick Henry.

Of course you've heard of Patrick Henry.

STUDENT LIFE

What's hot and what's not, in school and out, stressed and relaxed. . .these words vaguely describe the wide range of activities in a student's life. From working for little pay at those jobs which are no more than a nuisance to Friday night relief and the weekend, students at Patrick Henry are known to have fun and make the best of situations. This year, students seemed to have a high degree of participation and enthusiasm regarding school activities.

"Don't your parents understand that you need to take a mental day off once in a while?", asks Ms. Bordeaux of the Center for Advance Studies. But students never take time off; some show up for class in the morning with a bag of breakfast and a drink in their hand just in time for first period.

- Muffy Feinour

Cram time — Jack Edwards and Elizabeth Collins study for tests and work on homework they forgot to finish the night before.

No way — Senior Courtney Lambert can not believe that this is her last year of school lunches as her friend Melody Watkins listens in on another conversation.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT Blowout By Clinton

This year was a crazy year in politics. The major presidential candidates were: incumbent Republican, George Bush; Democrat, Bill Clinton; and independent, Ross Perot.

During his term, George Bush appeared to have it all. As Commander-in-Chief, he won two wars: the Persian Gulf War and Panama. He was the incumbent, kept the U.S. strong abroad and he was very popular.

Ross Perot was the wealthy businessman. He got America to vote it's mind and to question our economic strength.

However, the winner of the race was Bill Clinton. He was the idealistic, moderate candidate. He focused on change. He called for changes to improve our economy and create new jobs. He wanted to put big government back into the hands of the citizens. Also, he was pro-choice. Abortion activists had a hard time accepting the new president.

Also, the Congressional race in the 6th. district was a good one with Democrat Steve Musselwhite losing to Bob Goodlatte, the Republican candidate.

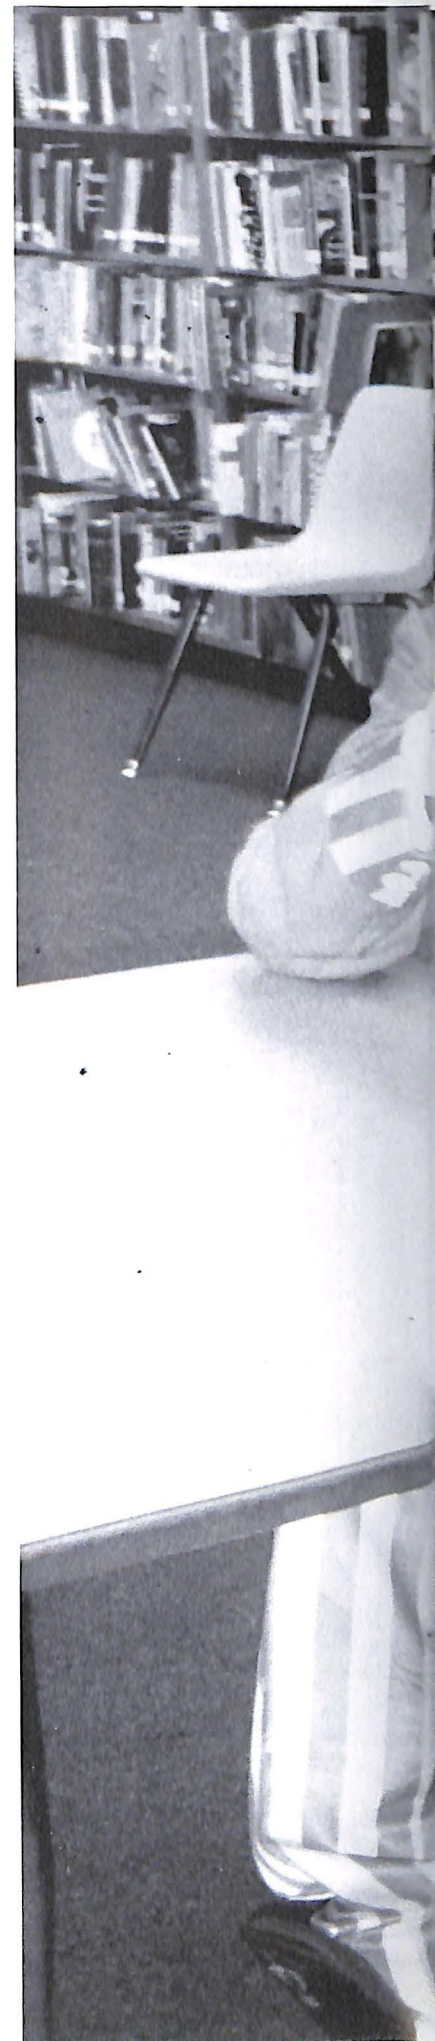

— Chris Andres

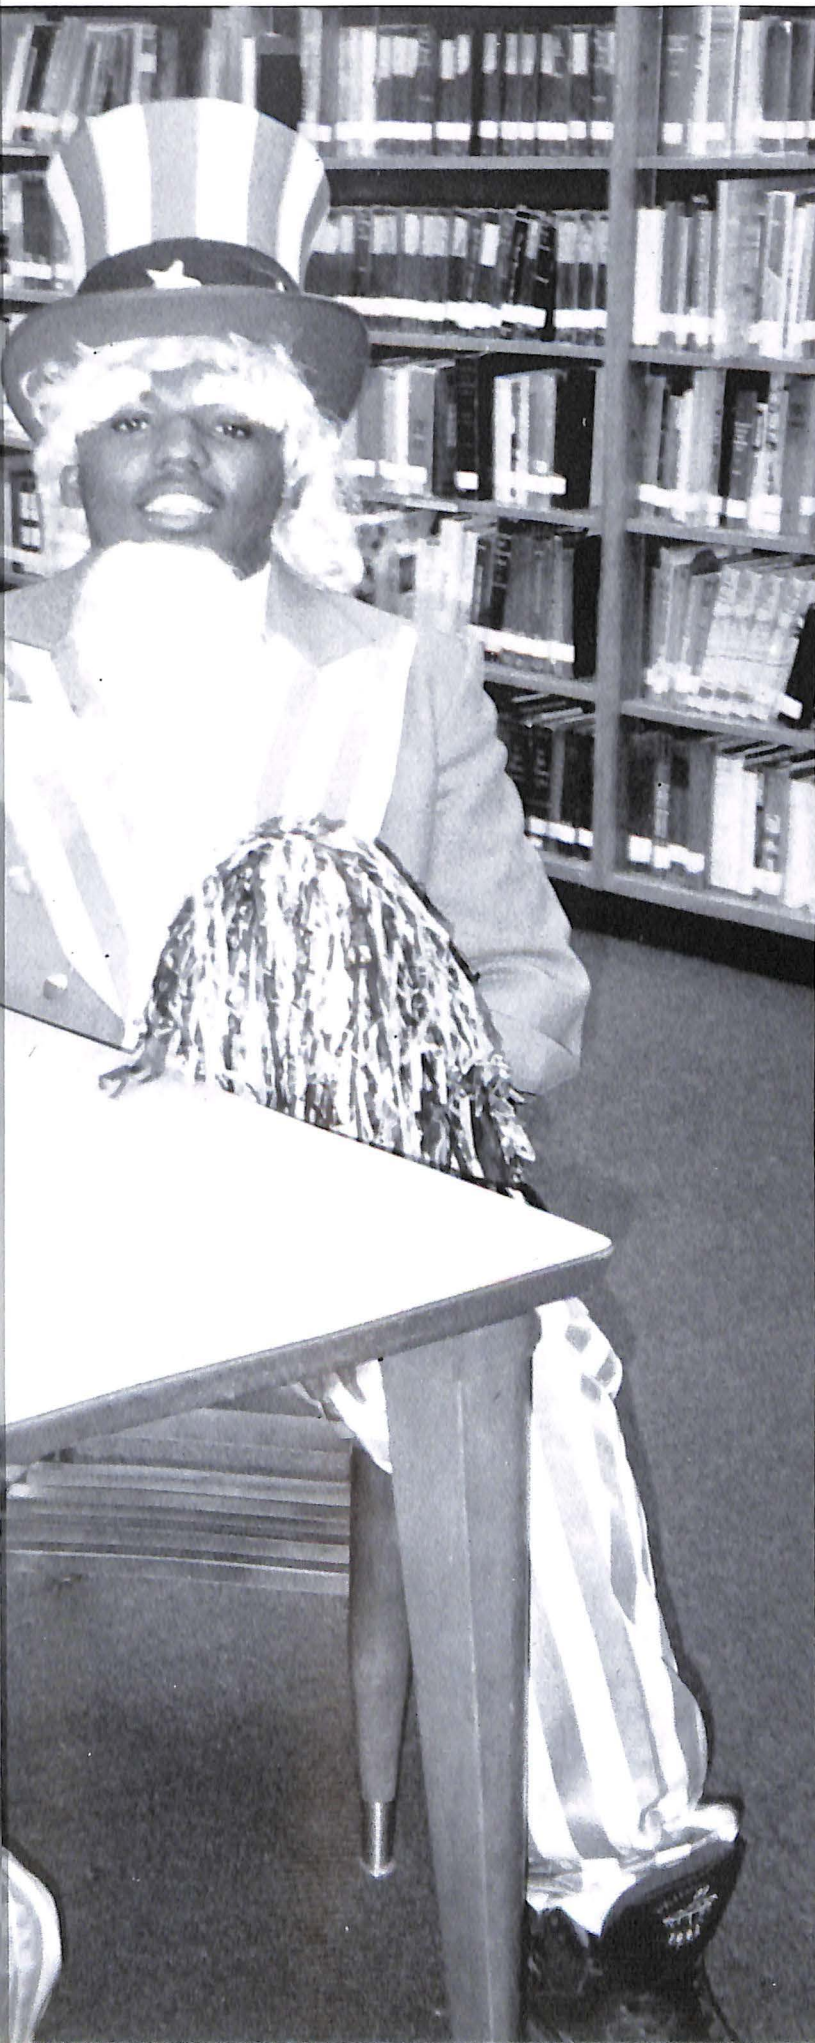

Inauguration Day — Many watched the Presidential Inauguration on T.V. but some students from the Center were able to experience the real thing.

Lost in the crowd — Holly Spraker watches the Inauguration from far back in the crowd as thousands of others watch Bill Clinton take the Presidential Oath of Office.

I want you! — Carlos Becks expresses the right to vote from the Deca/Marketing Class as he impersonates Uncle Sam.

Student representatives —

Congressional visitors — Bob Goodlatte, Steve Musselwhite and a representative for Ross Perot came to P.H. to talk about the election.

FASHION...

What do you like?

The Red Hot Chilli Peppers, House of Pain and Randy Travis. . . What do they all have in common? Nothing, other than the fact that they are just some of what's hot and what's not at P.H.

This years collection begins with a myriad of fads starting with shoes. Nike and Asics running shoes are always stylish when you are just cruising campus. But if you want to make your mark try on some boots. Leather is definitely hot this year.

Is your Fly Buttoned? Big Jeans, Relaxed Fit and 501's will always be around. . . and don't forget "Everything Evolves."

But for people who aren't into all that; they, too, are making a statement by wearing color co-ordinated outfits expressing favorite sports teams or just chillin' out in different forms of cross-colors.

Let us not forget the accessories (which dazzle our minds) such as hats, sunglasses, earrings, bracelets and nose rings.

Now that we're dressed, how about your stomach? Hungry? Pizza is good but it's not the only edible food around this Big Lickin' town of ours. When talking with some Roanoke natives, they ranked these delectable foods among the top: school fried chicken, Texas Tavern's "Cheesy Western" at 2:00a.m. and Cherry-flavored Peaches. These red hot chillin' fads keep P.H. in style, in the news and boomin'.

- Chris Anderson

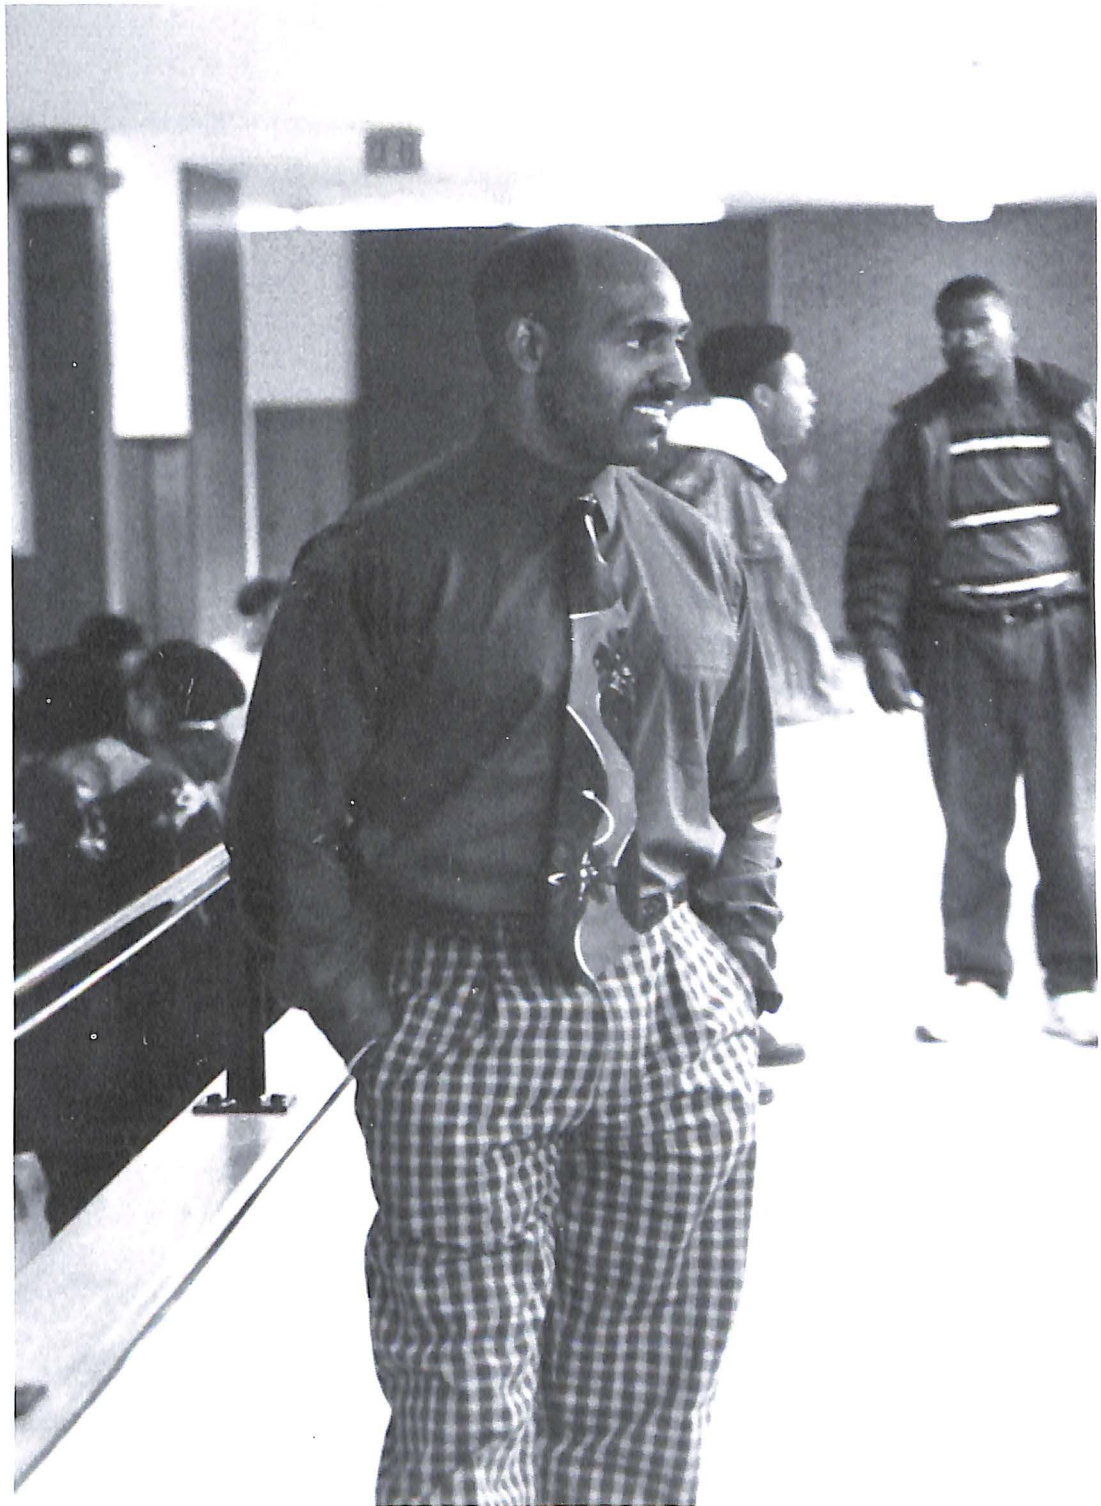

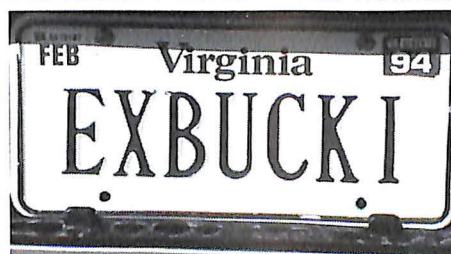

Tamahawk chop, chop, chop! — The Atlanta Braves were "in" along with great music and sexy lingerie.

Totally grossed out — Danny Graham and Quinton Twine display their cross-colors in a curious way. They seem to be trying to climb up and over a wall. Or are they merely holding it up?

Put your right foot in and shake it all about — Gone are the days of Hush Puppies and penny loafers. Today, around campus you'll find a variety of footwear, all of which is very fashionable.

PERSONALIZED

Stylin' and profilin' — Coach Dent stands tall and looks good. He is the epitome of style!

The bare necessities — Your boots! Your shades! Your bandana...and a bad attitude are all you need.

FRIENDS ARE FOREVER

You've been there for me for the times I've needed
you,
You stood by me through rain and sunny
weather,
You've encouraged me
to reach for my dreams, when I look at your face your eyes always gleam,
no one else in the world

could be better, just remember that we'll be friends forever.

- Ashley Whorley

This poem is to remind the students of Patrick Henry that... friends are and always will be friends forever.

Together forever — Rachel Lyman, Dexter England and Shelly Hutchins come together to show their spirit.

Best friends — Eva Wheeler and Jamie Webb casually talk about everyday happening. Even though it is always the same old things, they still enjoy each others company.

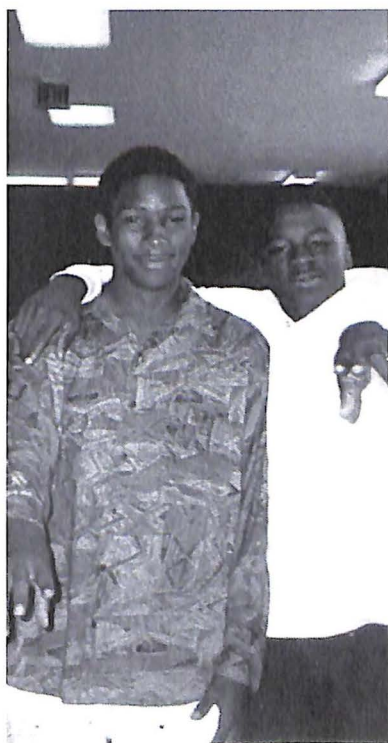

A clique? — Kenita Hood, Shannon Huff, Tosha Walker, Myisha Willis and Julia Hunter prove that the more the merrier is Patrick Henry's logo.

Siamese twins? — Diana Robinson and Becca Helscher try to join their heads together on a warm fall hike in the woods.

Four heads are better than one — Mikell Monahan, Mary Pat Huff, Ainsley Huff and Melody Watkins show that friends are friends forever.

Chill! — Patrick Jones and Jermaine Peeks take time out from lunch to show their friendship to the school as well as to each other.

Picture pressure!!! — Andala Zayas, Tosha Bonds, Kim Clark and Clarice Owens join together to show their best pal grins.

MIDNIGHT MASQUERADE

A Night Of Dresses, Tuxedos, Balloons And Flowers

Have you ever wondered what your date does in the few hours before the prom? Well, we have figured out what the majority of dates do. The ladies begin with nails. At 2:30 in the afternoon manicures are being done while the gentleman picks up the corsage. After the nails have dried and the corsages are in the refrigerator, the girls head for the shower while the guys shoot a few hoops with the buddies.

Next, the girls do their hair and the guys settle down to watch the TV. Now it's time for the fellows to shower while the girls redo their hair. It's now 6:00P.M. and dinner is at 7:00.

Pictures have to be taken at both homes (parental requirement) and he needs to pick her up at 6:30. She finishes her hair; he gets dressed. She puts on hose, earrings, makeup, shoes and then the dress. The doorbell rings. Surprise! He's on time. Both tell the other how nice they look. After 4 hours the girl looks nice and he looks handsome. After all ... that's prom!

- Muffy Feinour

Mmmm, mmmm, good! — James Andrews takes a break and visits the snack table after working up a thirst dancing.

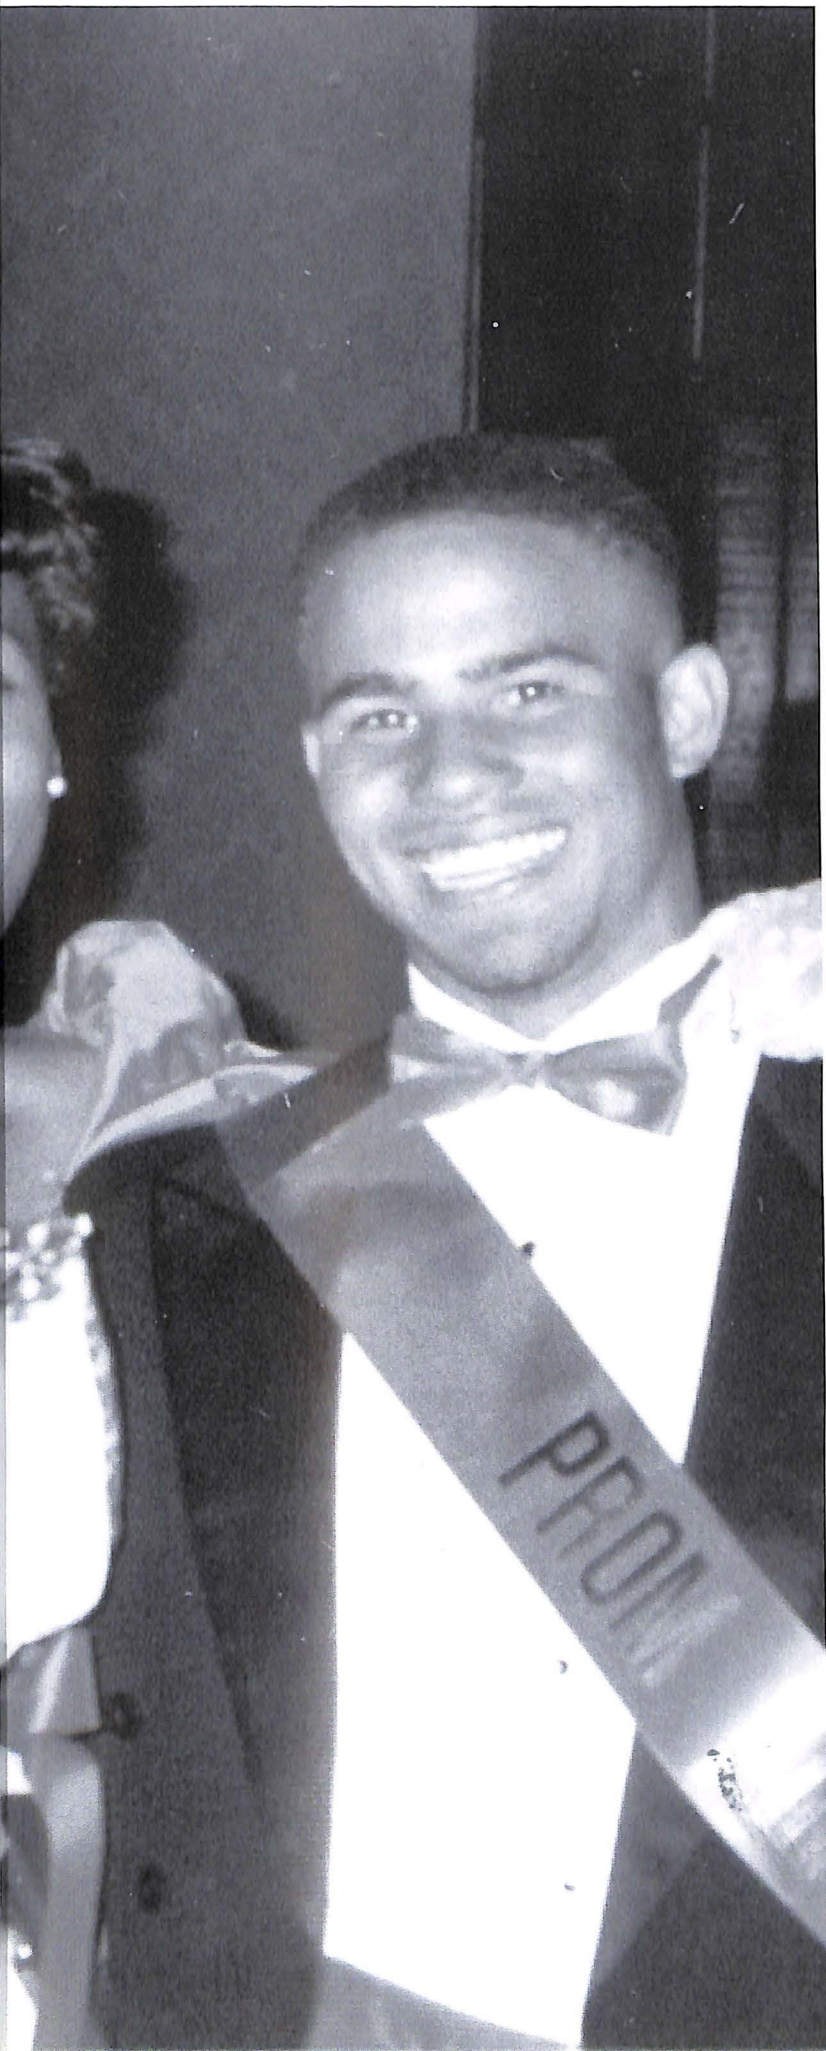

Tired from too much dancing? — Danny Cruff dozes off while still on his feet as Nicole Hedrick attempts to perk him up for more dancing the night away.

One & two & three & four — Mary Clemons and Evan Smith look smooth with their dance steps and show people how it's done.

Congratulations — Deidre Trigg and Walter West celebrate their selection as King and Queen of the 1992-93 Junior-Senior Prom.

All I want to do . . . — Juniors Asheley Kindsey and Lauren Willson get down and dirty at the Midnight Masquerade.

We're here! — Seniors Albert Nugue, Lesley Dodson, Jessica Gurley and Greg Haynes join the party after a wonderful dinner before the Prom.

Oh, my feet! — Junior Kelly Edwards and Sophomore Cannon Helsher rest after being in uncomfortable shoes for at least six hours.

HAPPY TRAILS

After-Prom Party

When the band was through and the lights were out, the party continued at the Market Square building in downtown Roanoke. Happy Trails was the 1993 theme and the music was country and western. Tee shirts designed by Michael Bullion were given to each party goer as they filed through the door. The food was just what a teenager would want — pizza, brownies, nachos and ice cream. At the end of the three hour party, prizes were awarded to those remaining. Overall, the prom will hold the most memories, but the after-prom party will linger in our minds for a long time, too.

- Katie McDonald

It's too early! — Kathryn McGrath, Natlie Dibling and Mrs. Regena Kanode prepare prom decorations Saturday morning.

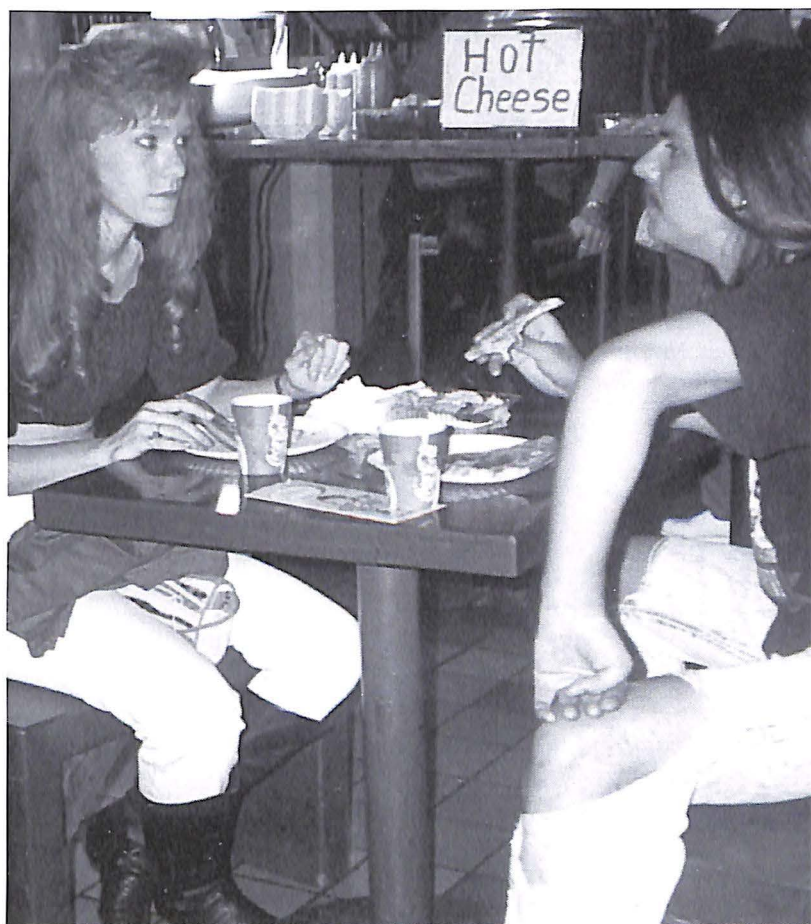

Swing your partners — Students enjoying themselves while learning how to country line dance at the after-prom party in the wee hours of the morning.

Where's my partner? — Tim Neal shows off his country dancing abilities. The party goers were excited to learn a new style of dancing.

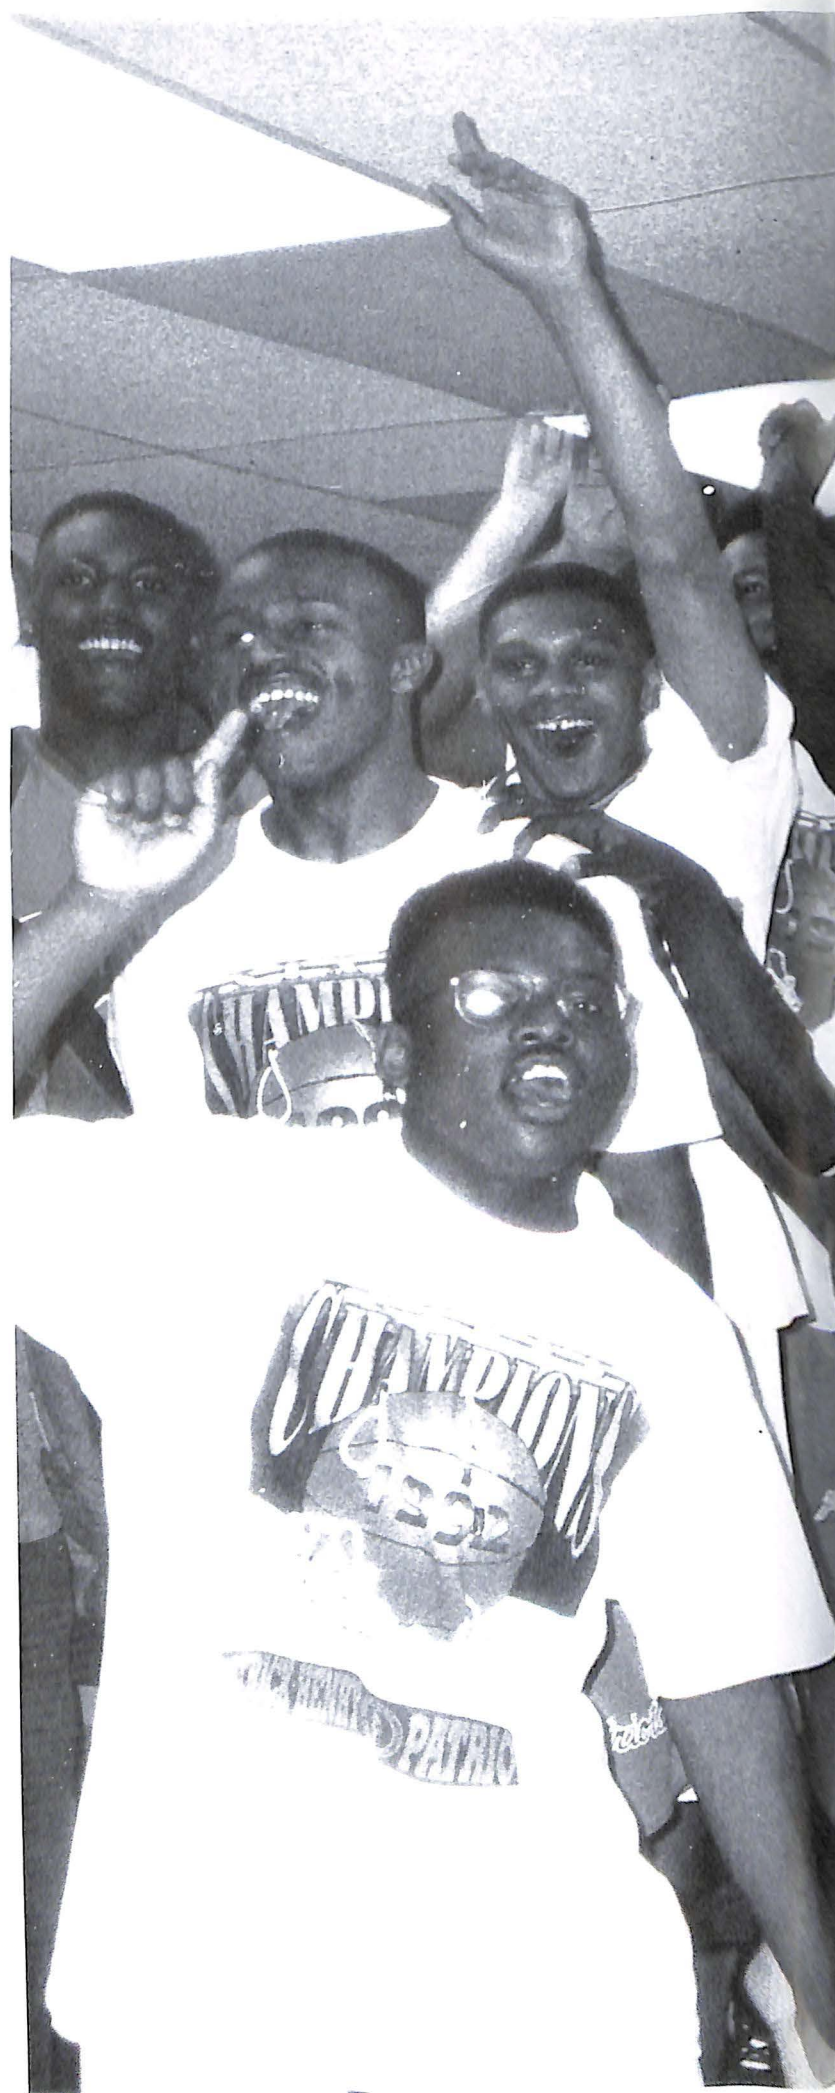

Pizza! Pizza! — After-prom partiers Mike Johnson and Stephanie Foutz are enjoying hot, delicious FREE food along with their conversation.

Happy Trails — The After-Prom Party provided a safe and fun place for lots of students to enjoy free food, dancing, prizes in the early morning

Did you see her dress at the prom? — Regina Johnson, Love Pate and friends discuss the beautiful dresses, hair do's and dates they saw at the prom.

CAVE SPRING WHO?

Patriots Trample Knights

28-3 In Homecoming

On October 19, 1993 one of the most exciting and fun-filled weeks at Patrick Henry began. This week, known to students as Homecoming Week, is one of the most memorable weeks out of the year to most students. Set, spike, slam!!! At the Junior-Senior volleyball game the Seniors thought they had it all in the bag, after they won the first game. But never the less, the Juniors overcame the Seniors in the second game. The last game was the tie breaker and, of course, those sturdy Seniors won.

Once again the Seniors dominated over the Juniors in the annual powder puff football game. Although there was never a final score, due to the non-stop arguing among the two teams, the Seniors would have beat the Juniors, no questions asked!

Friday night finally arrived. The BIG game! The Patriots would get their chance to shut out the Knights. The stands filled with anticipating fans, the cheerleaders took their places and the game was about to begin. The teams rushed out onto the field and...the kickoff! The crowd went wild with screams and cheers, which paid off in the end. The Patriots said "goodnight" as they overturned Cave Spring 28-3.

The game didn't end the week though. Flashy dresses, long and short, coats and ties, and flowers galore took the spotlight. The Homecoming Dance, Saturday October 24th., began at eight o'clock. Students were waiting in line outside the doors of the cafeteria, waiting to get inside and dance the night away.

- Amanda Bounds

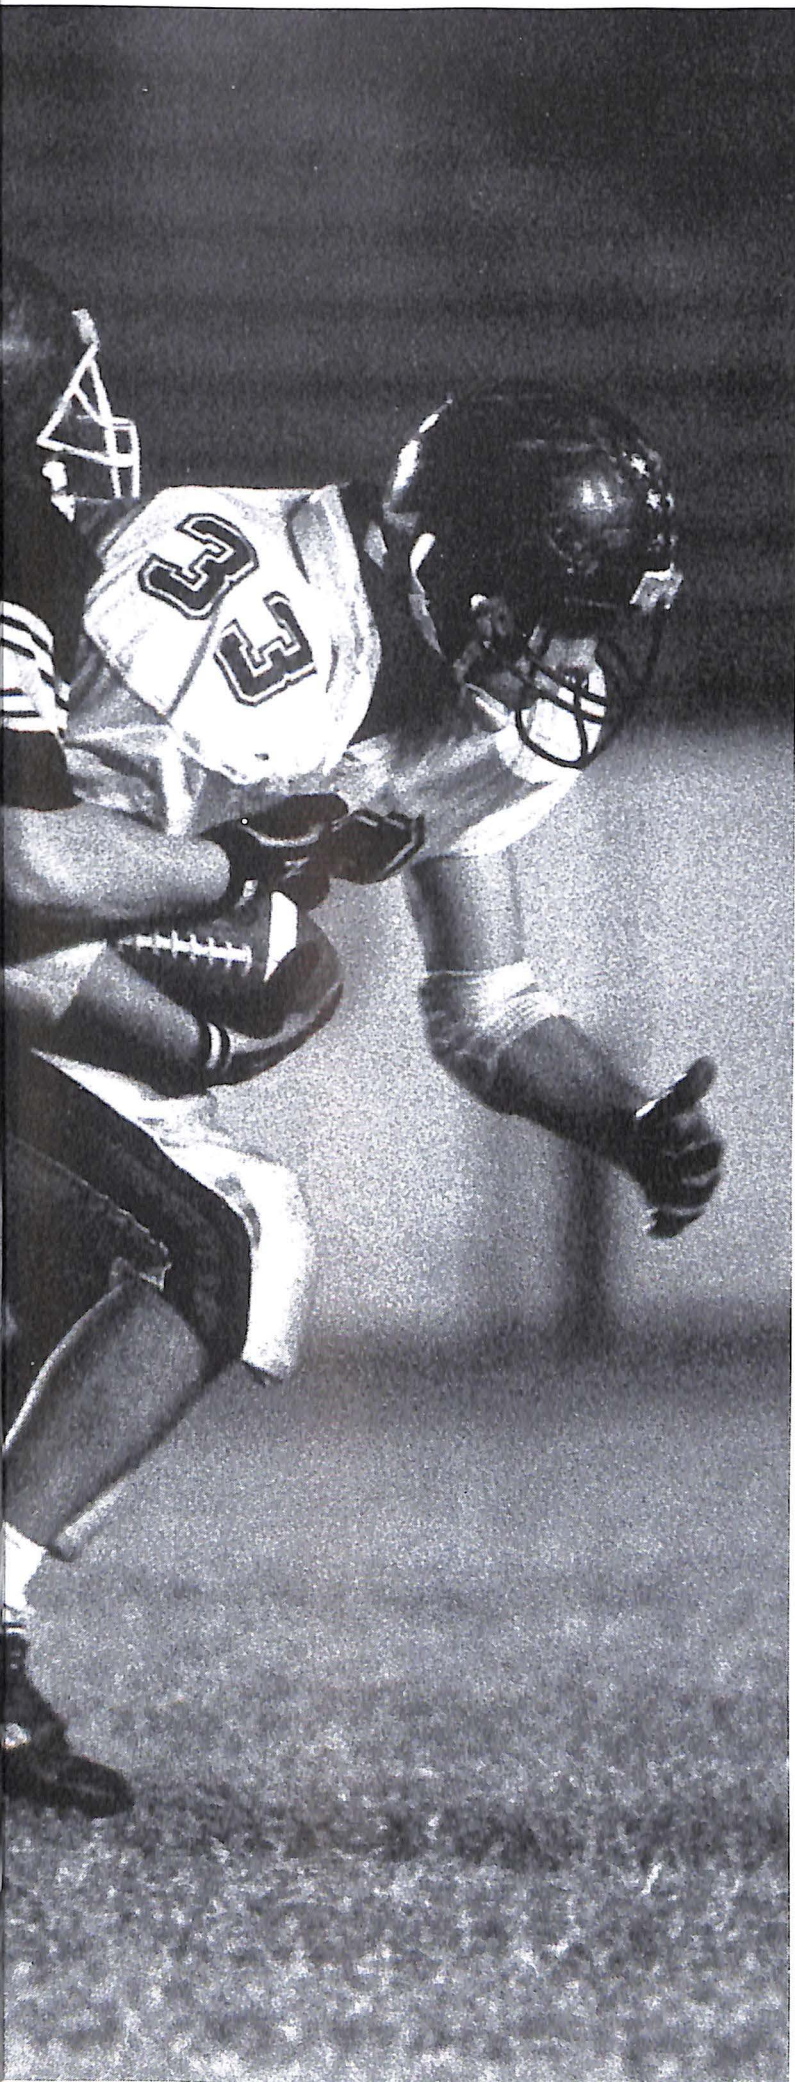

Say cheese! — The 1992 Homecoming Queen Nikki Price and Homecoming Princess Jessica Gurley being congratulated by Dr. Lee.

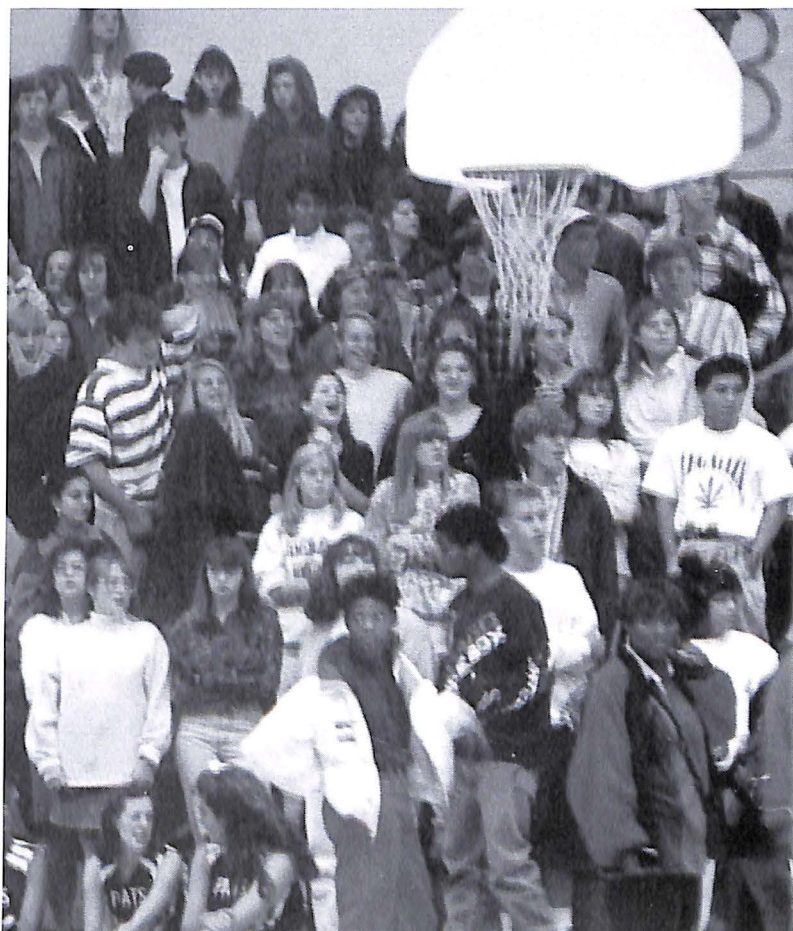

Yo, what's up? — Jimmy Mullens takes a break from all the excitement of the Homecoming Game as he seems to be anticipating victory.

You're mine! — Walter Sharpley takes out Ashley Valentine in the Homecoming Game on October 23, 1992. The Patriots beat the Knights 28-3.

Cheers! — Everyone stands as the seniors try to chant their cheer louder than the juniors at the Homecoming pep rally.

My turn — Ashley Sweet, Larry Hall, J.P. Wilson, Katie McDonald and Kerri Blackwell wait their turn to play in the Junior-Senior volleyball game.

Comin' down! — Mike Bullion attempts to spike the ball in the Junior-Senior volleyball game held during Homecoming Week. The seniors won 2 to 1.

MEMORIES OF THE PAST

DREAMS OF THE FUTURE

Seniors Practice Big One

Excitement and enthusiasm filled the gym as the seniors practiced their trial run for graduation. Faces of joy, sadness and anticipation spread throughout the crowd while friends remembered their good times at Patrick Henry.

The seniors chanted, clapped, listened and watched a slide show of memories, all the while, knowing that their high school days were all but over.

- Erin Donckers

S-E-N-I-O-R-S — Brooke Ramsey, Ashley Sweet, Heather Moore and Heather Hain take their last opportunity to scream the senior cheer.

Ready? Your turn now! — Muffy Feinour is sworn in as Senior Class President by the out-going president, Amy Weddle during Mock Graduation.

Cock-A-Doodle-Do — Walter Sharpley struts his stuff while carrying the mysterious Senior Class rooster.

Let's go! — Kristen Gustafson and Monica Haley patiently await their turn to walk through the gym door into their future.

When does it start? — Greg Smith, Todd Slaughter, David Sink and ShKree Simmons wait impatiently for the mock graduation ceremonies to begin.

Thanks, guys! — Dr. Lee expresses her appreciation to the Senior Class of 1993.

“HAVING FUN?” “Yea! We Had A Lot”

This was the final farwell to Patrick Henry from our 1992-1993 Senior Class. The graduation ceremony was held on Wednesday, June 16, 1993. Although the ceremony was nice, students seemed eager to head for the beach. There were great speeches by Ashley Berry, Amy Starr and Valedictorian Elizabeth Maxwell that seemed to grab everyone's attention. "The four years were a lot of fun but this is the time I've been waiting for. Let's go to the beach!," exclaimed Dave Feldman while leaving the Civic Center. Congratulations Class of '93 and good luck.

- Muffy Feinour

Hurry it up! — After these girls received their flowers and diplomas, they were ready to head to the beach and not wait for anyone else.

Is it our turn yet? — Danielle Cox and Sarah craft await patiently for their turn to walk across the stage and celebrate by moving that tassel.

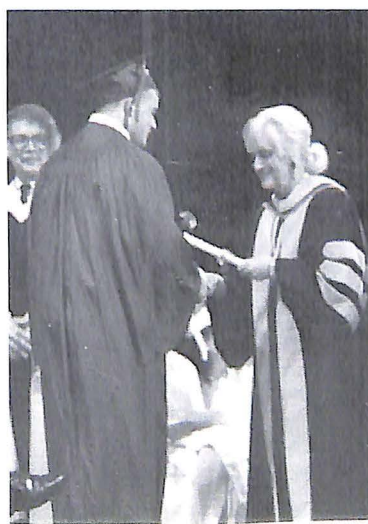

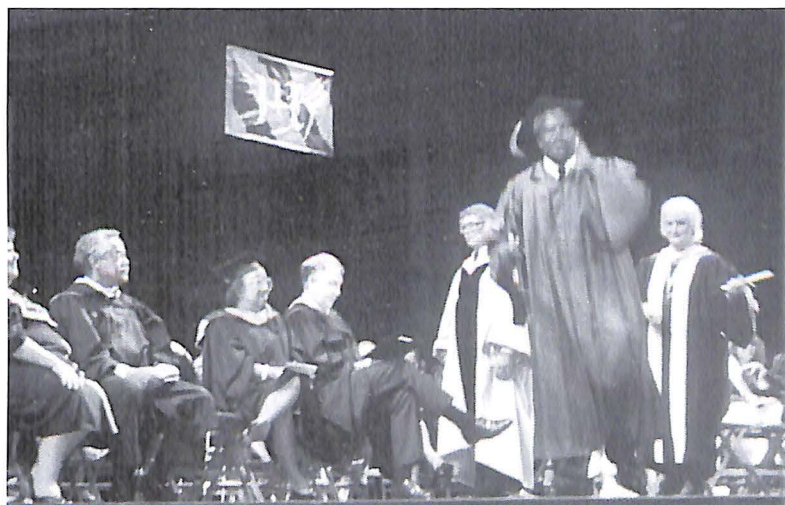

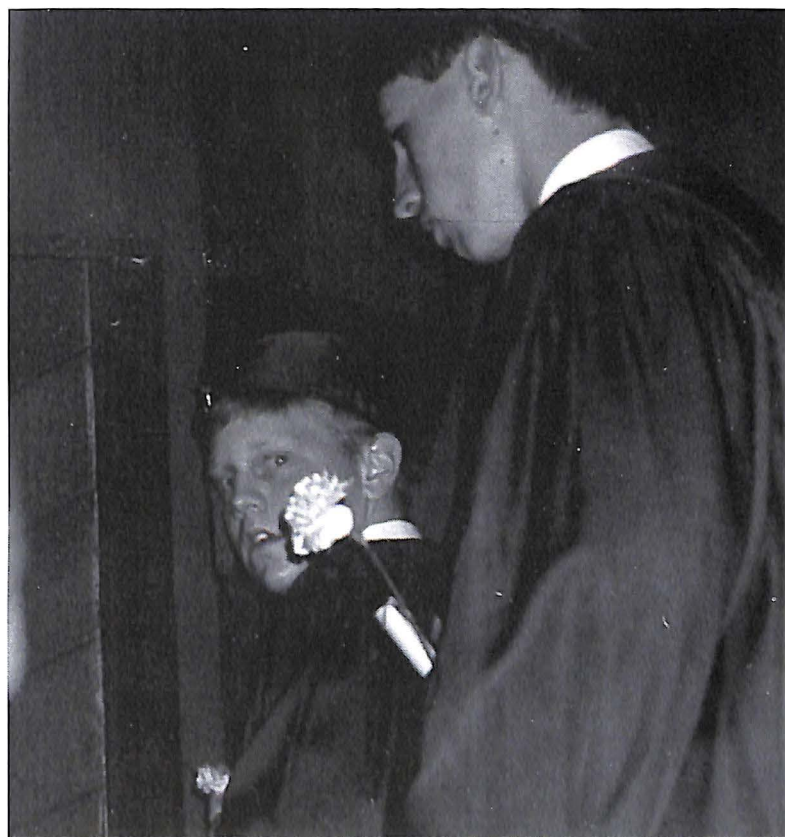

Congratulations — Dr. Lee presents Elizabeth Maxwell a prestigious Honor Graduate award during the ceremony.

Finally — Valedictorian Elizabeth Maxwell and Salutatorian Amy Starr sit through the final segments of graduation relieved that their speeches are over.

At last! — David Robinson takes one final look back to remember what it looked like while he and Jeffrey Rogers exit the stage.

And then he roared — After receiving his diploma, Shukri Simmons gives out an incredible yelp signifying his graduation or that the ceremony was near the end.

Yess!! — Walter Sharpley gets great cheers while shaking Dr. Lee's hand. There was no doubt, was there??

PEOPLE

Say “fromage”, “queso”, “kasestange”, or just “cheese”.
Anyway you say it, your smile comes out just perfect. Most people at P.H. hate school pictures, but in the yearbook they always hold value. Look back at the 3rd. grade pictures of your friends. They always seem to bring you a few laughs. So look at our class pictures and enjoy them now and save your year- book so that you can look back later and enjoy the memories. For now, grin and bear it. It’s worth it.

— Muffy Feinour

Model of the year — Mike Bullion gets an incredible urge to explore the opposite sex. Ask him what discoveries he made???

They would never understand!
— Greg Haynes dresses up for Mrs. Moore's class and the rest is just a mystery.

OFF THE RECORD

Teachers take time out

Mr. Penn must be wondering... after all those long hours at the RAC, if the shirt will fit or if it will be too small. Good deals are hard to get, but he's happy.

Smooch time! Mrs. Woolwine was heard saying, "They say cows can't kiss. It wasn't so bad. It was like kissing my husband." But did the cow like it?

If I could describe the feelings I have about leaving P.H., I would say. . .

"So long to the people,
good riddance to the place!" - Amy Davis

"Thank God it's over!"
- Michael Johnson

"I'm speechless!"
- Mary Clemons

"Goodbye, good riddanceforever!"

- Danny Cruff

"I was forced to do it and made it through it!"

- Heather Stephenson

"To this wonderful school I bid you adieu and I pray to God you won't be here 4 years, too."

- Mike Sink take you alive!!!!"

- Dave Aust

"Boo hoo hoo!"

- D.C. Dunnville

"It's been a short-long four years."

- Cole Keister

"I don't care. I haven't been here long enough care."

- Thomas Pow

"Yippee! Skippee! Hooray!
Hooray! Don't let them

Tuning In

Class discussion — David Krasnow and Cobey Ferguson are trying to listen to their teacher without distraction.

Payin' attention — Andrea Kockery, Moriah Donahue and Tonya Austin are paying attention to a movie in the back of the library.

Time out — Shawna Greenway is trying to catch up on some of her work before the bell rings.

Check it out — Lasandra Liggins and Jamie Robinson are talking about the African dance performers after the show.

If you could suggest one thing to President Clinton, WHAT WOULD IT BE?

Sophomores today are becoming more and more aware of the world around them. They're able to take in more and more information and form their own opinions.

Having the campaigning, election and first one hundred days so widely publicized has helped these sophomores make up their own minds.

- Jennie Wise

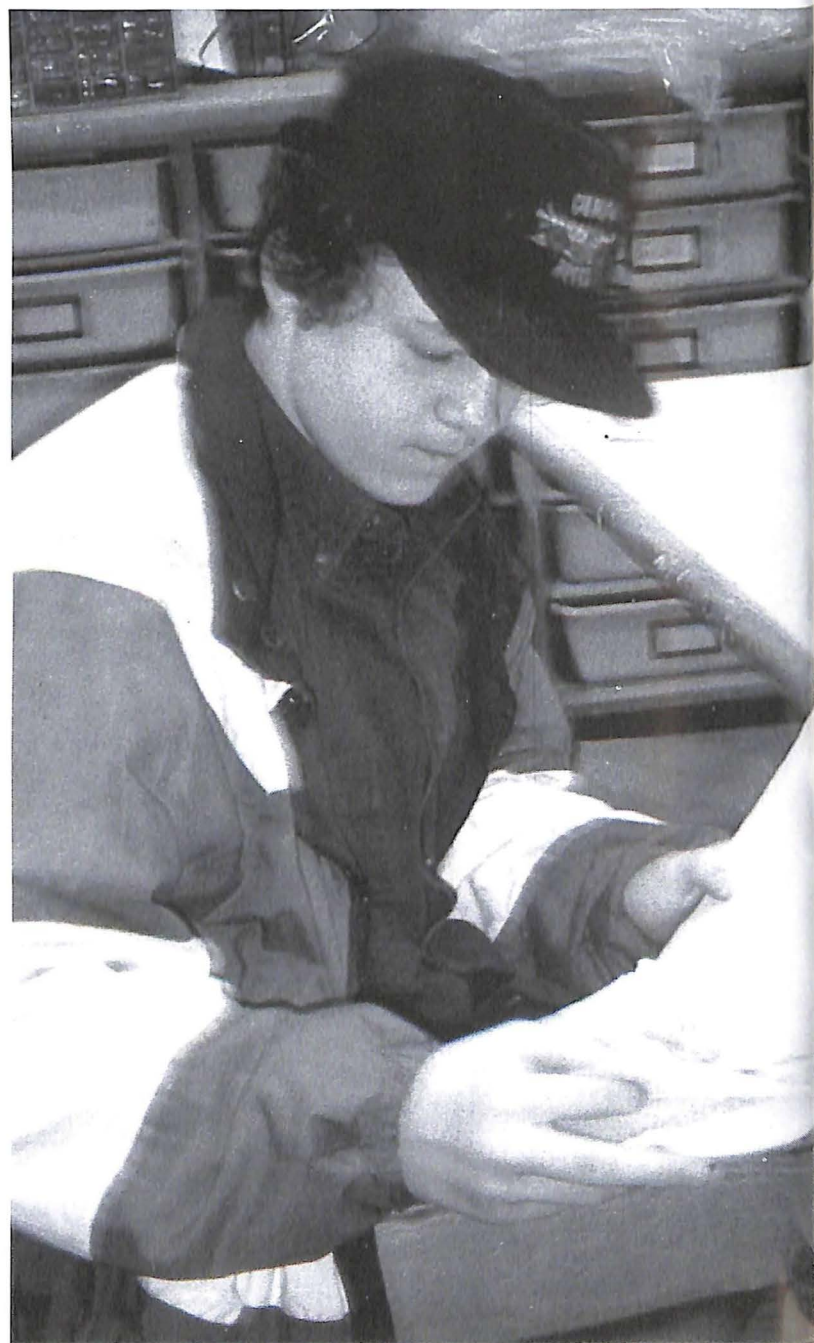

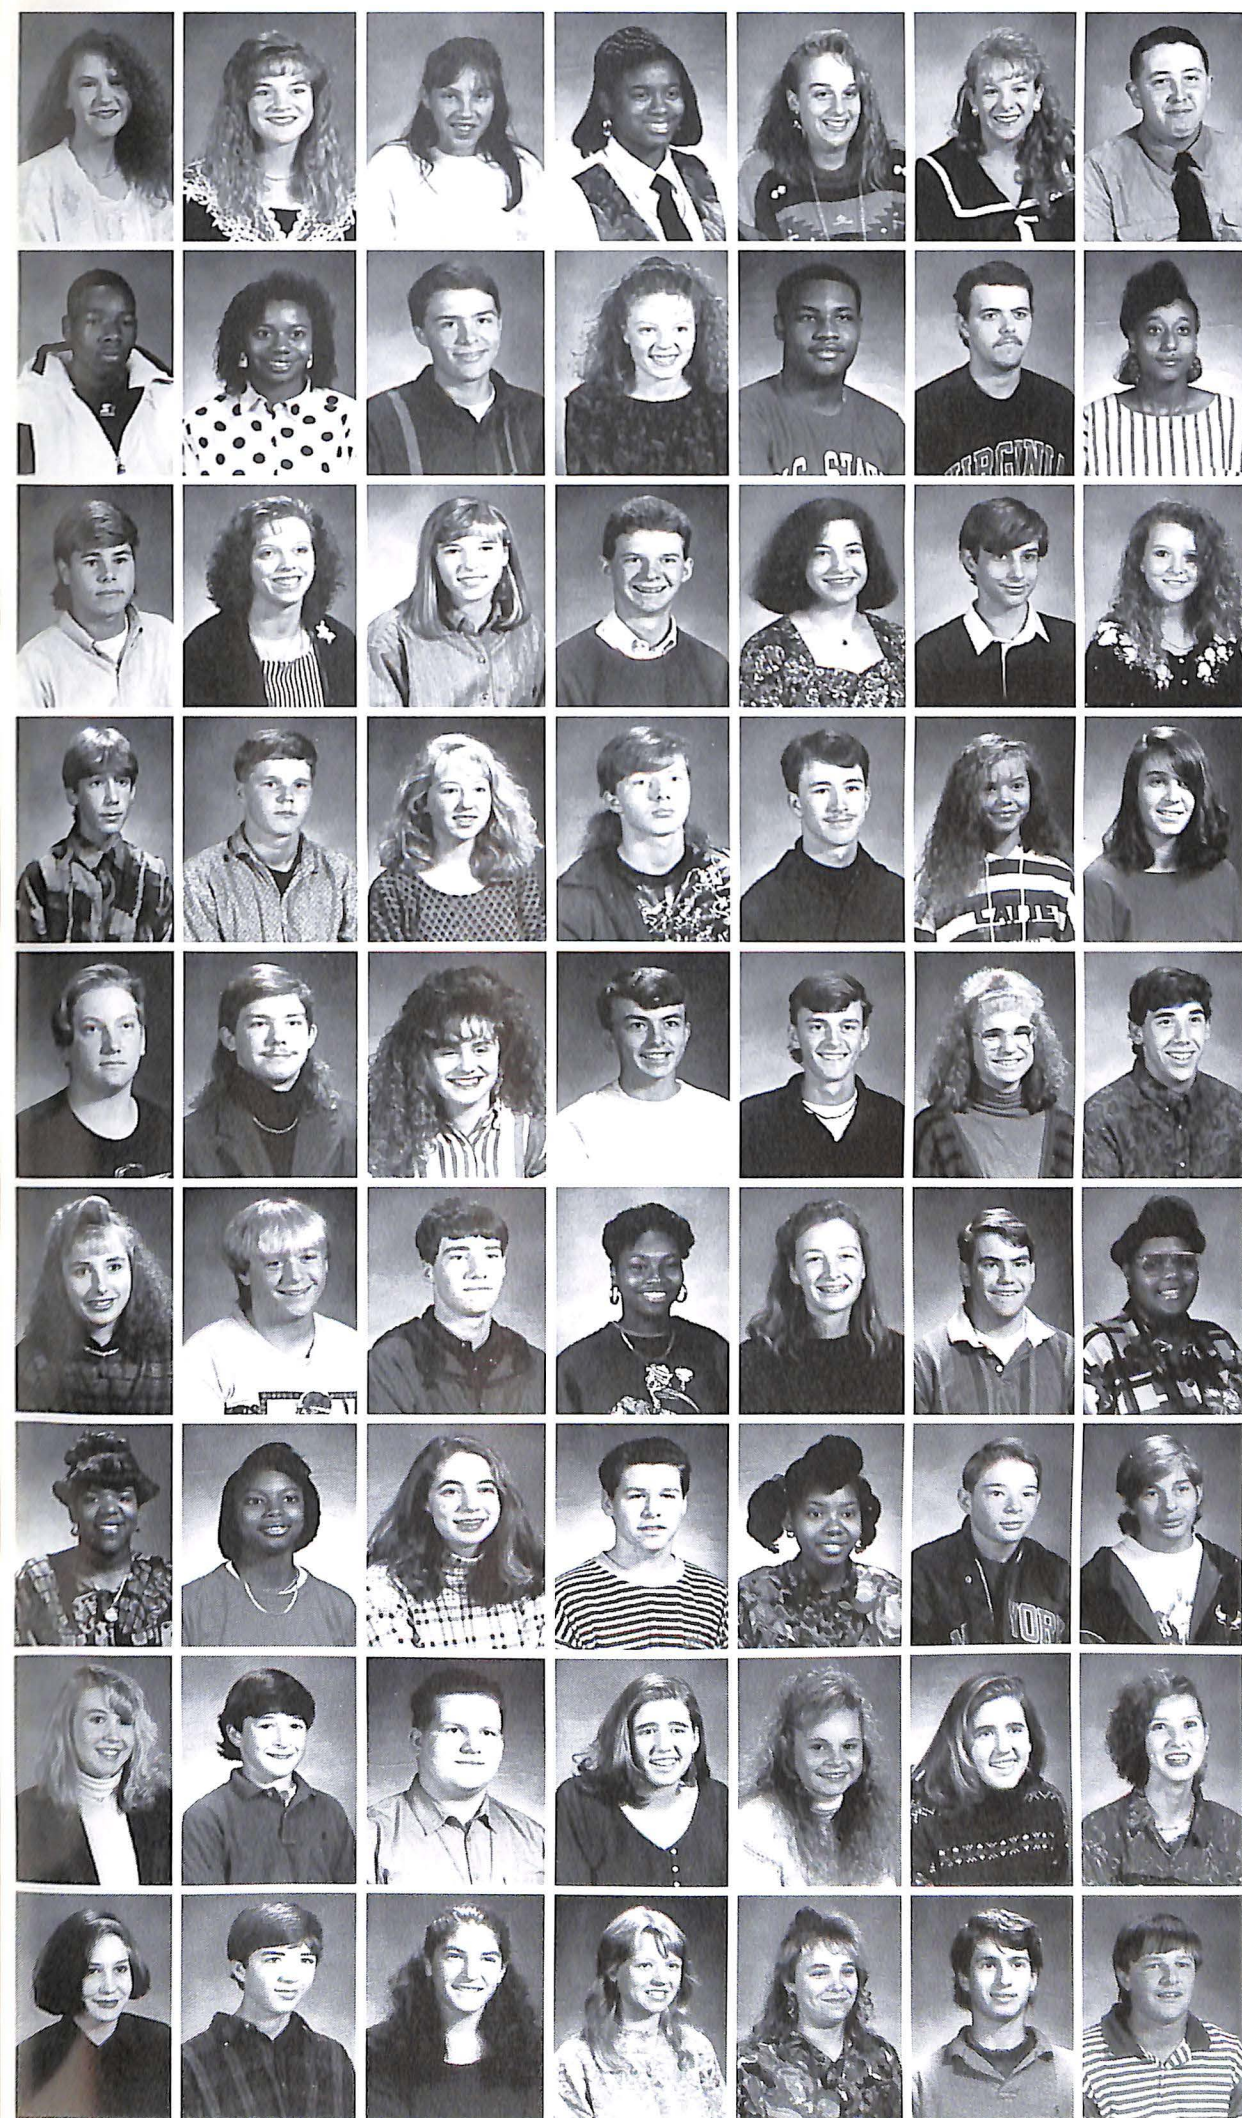

"What do you mean these aren't my gym clothes?" Sophomore Shannon Basham walks toward the gym hoping his gym suit will be missing when he gets there.

"This is real interesting!" Philip Walker and Enoch Williams watch a movie in the back of the library while Mrs. Arnold's classroom is being painted.

"Did I do that?" Brett Proffitt looks through his portfolio while he waits for Mrs. Wood's art class to begin.

Movin' On Up

Helping hand — Mrs. Rigby helps Jennifer Lackey find something in the encyclopedia while working in the library.

What I hate most about Being a Freshman

1. Being looked down on
2. Not knowing anyone
3. Being told Penn Hall is Persinger Hall
4. Having everyone know I'm a Freshman
5. Trying to fit in
6. Being picked on
7. Being told the drink machines are in the library
8. Having my Mom pick me up
9. Being treated like a baby
10. Nothing! I love being a Freshman

From service clubs . . . to fun clubs . . . to business clubs and many others, the students at Patrick Henry are very involved with the City, the Region and the State. The Interact Club raises money for Special Olympics, plants trees and other projects for the City and County. DECA placed second in the state alone with many other awards during a state competition in Richmond. The BETA Club works towards improving academic excellence and the FBLA strives to improve business leadership in students.

There are many other clubs on our campus, all of which are here to give students another way of achieving success as well as making school life much more enjoyable.

NAME

HELPING HANDS

We Work To Help Others

The BETA Club is both an honor club and a service organization. This year, the club was involved in four service projects: a Thanksgiving canned food drive, Christmas caroling at Friendship Manor Nursing Home, the Save-A-Sweetheart campaign around Valentine's Day to end smoking and the senior honors banquet. Membership in BETA Club includes everyone who achieves a 3.3 cumulative GPA and who is willing to serve others. Similarly, the Interact Club served their fellow students by paying for the cleaning of choir robes for the Afro-American Club as well as raised over $1000 to help sponsor the German exchange students' trip to PHHS. Also, Interact worked with the JAFROTC to sponsor the "spring fling" to raise money for the Special Olympics.

The Key Club members can be described as caring, helpful, energetic, dedicated and service-oriented. During the holiday season, members filled stockings for the Salvation Army to give to children in the community. Some members combined with the Cave Spring club to go caroling at Community Hospital. In April, a visit was made to the Raleigh Court Nursing Home to play bingo with the residents. At Mill Mountain Zoo, members taught children about the animals, performed puppet shows and read them stories. Like the other clubs, the SADD Club has been involved with helping others. They entered a float in the Christmas parade, made Christmas decorations and took part in the People Against Impaired Drivers Candlelight Vigil, a time to remember those killed by drunken drivers.

FREE YOUR MIND

MOST WILL FOLLOW

The Patriots know how to have fun and enjoyable times throughout the year. We have a serious side, too. For example, our PRIDE Team (Parental Resource Institute for Drug Education) has helped many kids in the Roanoke Valley to open up their minds to drug awarness. They presented their message using skits, song and dance in addition to a commercial they made on the new curfew time.

As for our enviroment, the Earth/Biology Club takes care of that. They keep our campus looking great. They gave a tree to every Patriot to plant in order to help green up our Earth.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) is a club that sends a positive message to the youth on our campus by showing that you don't have to give in to peer pressure to have a good time. "I like attending. I think it is a clean and safe way to have fun," said Todd Chatting.

Voices of Christian Youth (VCY) goes to elementary schools and voice their opinions on things that go on around the world and in our community.

Let your fingers do the walking ... or talking. This is a very interesting club if you want to learn a different way to communicate the English language.

So as you see ... if you free your mind, most people will follow. After all, there are over 75 people in these five clubs alone. Go figure!

ME, HOME TIME

If you've been runnin' around and hangin' out late at night, you should know that you could be breaking the law.

The City of Roanoke has passed a curfew ordinance that prohibits youth 16 years of age or younger from hanging out in a public place after 11 on school nights and after midnight on weekends. (Of course, there are exceptions to this rule if you are with a parent/guardian, or on an emergency errand, or on legitimate business directed by a parent.)

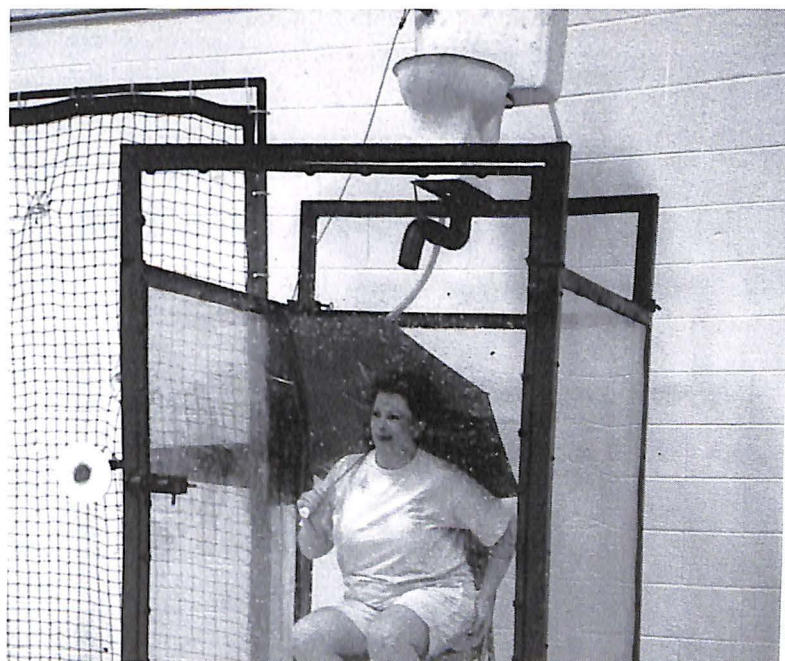

Violation of the curfew law is serious for both you and your parents. If your parents permit you to be out after curfew, they could face jail time or a fine up to $2,500.

Police officers will enforce the curfew ordinance. If you are 16 or younger and out after curfew, typically your parent(s) will be contacted first. In addition, you will be given a citation. Copies of the citation will be mailed to your parent(s) and school. If you get a second citation, a Juvenile Intake worker will contact your parents to warn both you and your parent of impending court action if a third violation occurs.

Please be safe and in compliance with the curfew law. For more information contact the Roanoke City Police Department at 981-2212.

Hard to handle — The new city ordinance states that all teenagers be home at midnight on weekends.

Hard Work Really Pays Off

With the beginning of the 1992-93 school year, the Statesman staff concentrated on national politics and the presidential election. That work culminated in a student survey and accompanying stories which revealed a majority of the student body supported Bill Clinton. Other coverage dealt with interviewing Supt. Frank Tota regarding his achievements during his tenure and the new teen health center to be built on campus.

The Quill, an award-winning literary-art magazine, presented the best creative writing and art work submitted by Patrick Henry's talented young authors and artists. In an effort to stimulate interest in writing, the staff sponsors an annual Creative Writing contest with cash prizes.

Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) is a co-curricular student organization that provides students with opportunities to explore the world of finance, credit and marketing. The Industrial Cooperative Training (ICT-VICA) classes combine academics with part-time employment to increase a student's employability. Students work in a variety of settings from retail to health care.

The Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) classes work with the public by volunteering to help people in need. This year, students prepared meals for the Ronald McDonald House and held a food drive for the Rescue Mission during Christmas.

The Future Teachers of America (FTA) is a club that encourages students interested in careers in teaching. The group attended a faculty and school board meeting, applied for teaching scholarships and talked with student teachers, faculty members as well as college representatives.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

WORK HARD TO SATISFY ALL STUDENTS

"It is all about student leadership and involvement," stated Dr. Lee during a class lecture. The Student Government Association plans and organizes many of the social activities that occur during and outside of school including the many and varied events surrounding Homecoming Week. Twice a year, the SGA and class officers take part in an Adopt-A-Highway clean-up program and collect trash along Grandin Road on Saturday mornings.

Because the SGA meets during zero period many people do not know of or acknowledge the workings of these student leaders. However, student leaders conduct class meetings, Senior officers conduct the Senior slide show and other Senior activities. Additionally, the Junior class officers conduct the prom committee meetings and other Junior happenings. Sophomore and Freshman officers jobs are limited but do have input into SGA decisions. Pep rallies are organized by the SGA as well as any privileges granted.

The SGA members of the 1993 graduating class and Senior class officers worked very hard throughout the year and are to be congratulated and thanked for the difference they made for all of us. Next year, the SGA will have some big shoes to fill and will welcome your input, suggestions or questions.

P.H. PLAYERS

Showcase Superb Talent

"Macbeth," "Wait Until Dark," and "West Side Story," along with a tremendous little play offered for the VHSL One Act Play Festival made up the season for the Patrick Henry theatre department.

Although it almost killed them, the P.H. Players produced the dreaded Scottish Play — Shakespeare's "Macbeth." "After eight weeks of rehearsals the cast agreed that the play is truly cursed, and if anyone asked them to do it again, they would run away very fast! Four accidents occurred in one performance, including two dislocated knees, a dislocated shoulder and a scraped arm," exclaimed Mr. Fuller.

The final production of the year was "West Side Story." Brilliantly directed by Senior Erin Thomas, the show was a dazzle of dance, music and acting.

- Kara Dickerson

Stars are born . . . — The P.H. Players under the direction of Mr. Frederick Fuller.

Not until you shave! — Senior Erin Thomas played Lady Macbeth to perfection and Sophomore Drew Dowdy turned in a forceful portrayal as Macbeth.

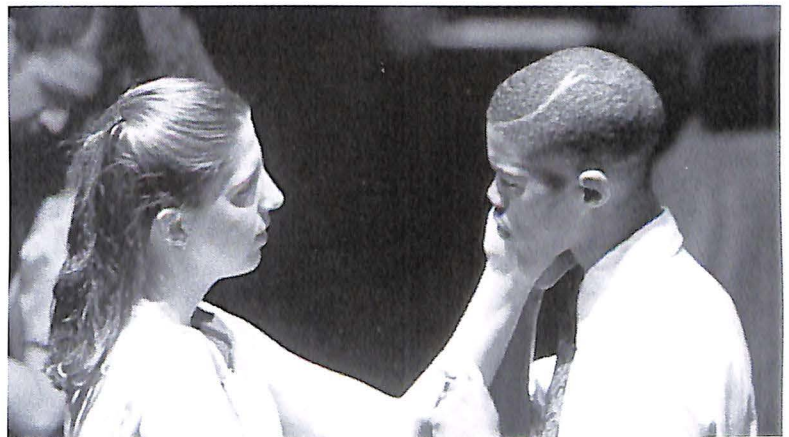

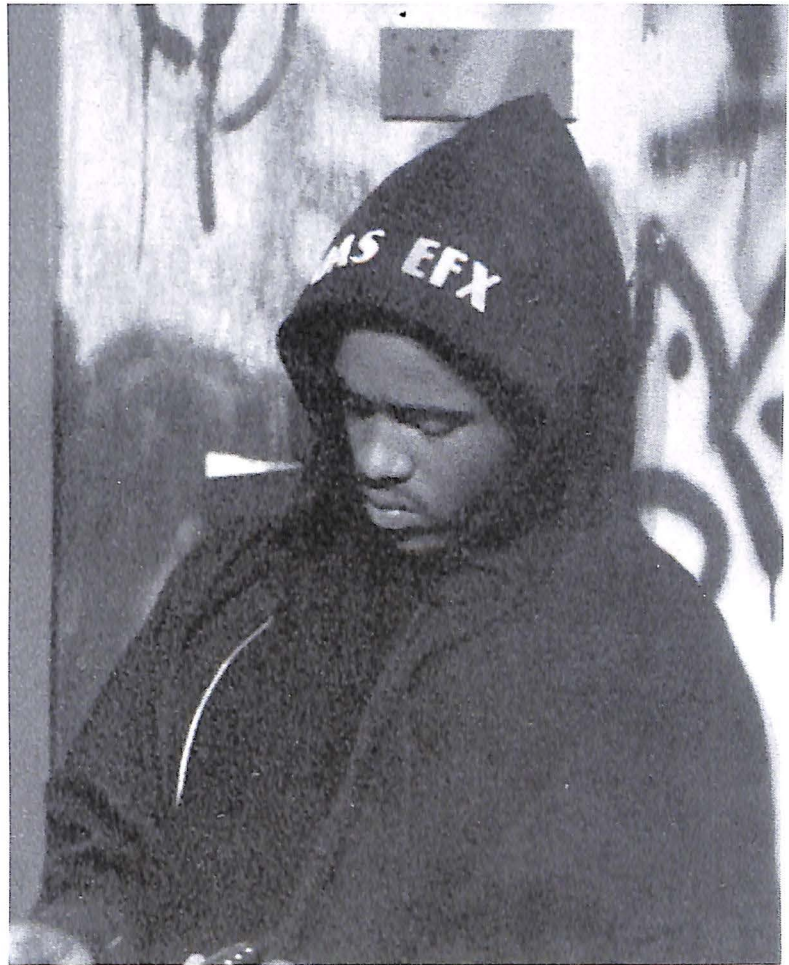

I knew I shouldn't have changed the razor blade — Junior Jonathan Hunley portrays the ghost of Banquo in Macbeth.

Eat your heart out! — Senior Amy Starr sang beautifully as she played Anita in "West Side Story."

Don't even think it! — Junior Jermaine Long debuted on the P.H. stage playing Action in "West Side Story."

What's my cue? — Leading the cast of "West Side Story," Mary Tosi and Wayne Hancock portrayed Maria and Tony, the star-crossed lovers.

Let's see . . . who was I with last night? — Junior Kristy Ratcliffe enjoyed strutting her stuff as a Puerto Rican party girl in "West Side Story."

PH Marching Band is . . .

Hittin' the High Notes!

This year the Patrick Henry band kept themselves busy. Most of their time was spent practicing for parades and competitions. Fortunately, all the hard work and determination paid off. With the marching band receiving an excellent and the color guard a superior in ratings, they proved to everyone how far they had come.

The band didn't just play at parades and competitions. There wasn't a home game that a spectator couldn't hear the band playing. Each member showed their spirit in psyching up the crowd and football team. No matter what their job was, they seemed to accomplish it very well.

As a reward, in April of this year they took a trip to Orlando.

Many people are returning to the band and many eighth graders are coming up to join them.

Numberwise, the Seniors are being replaced, but will always remain close to their friends.

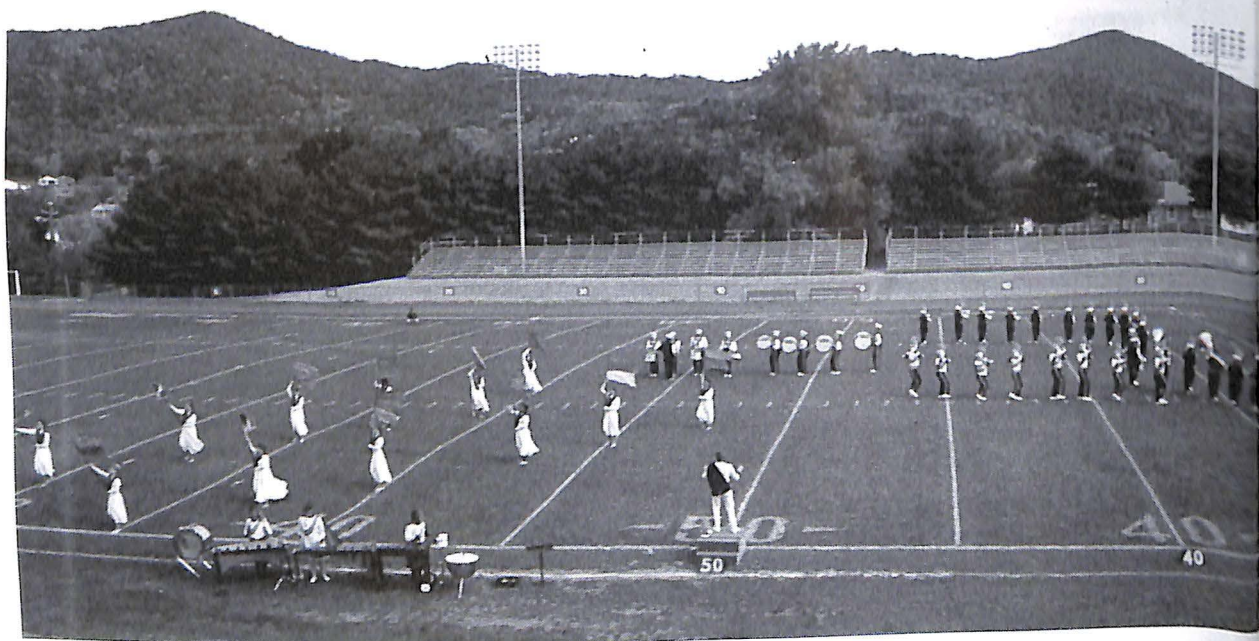

As the school year draws to a close, the band and Mrs. Johnson, are already preparing and practicing for next year's show. Now that's dedication!

-Nicole Hedrick and Sheri Harris

Drummer God — Danny Cruff struts his stuff during competition enabling the band to receive a rating of Excellent.

Base, how low can you go? — Playing the Baritone Sax, David Talmadge was an important part of the lower Brass section of the band.

From a bird's eye view — The judges can watch the entire band, the specific group they are judging and the scenic background.

Year Is Masterpiece For P.H. Orchestra

The orchestra is a unique ensemble. Its members are often members of the Roanoke Youth Symphony. They are: Sally Orfield, Janemarie Ridenhour, Whitney Hanes, Michelle Eanes, Ellen Harris, Kia Price, Alex Wade and Carrie Mullen.

The orchestra performed two formal concerts and occasionally made appearances at area schools.

The orchestra has a certified record of competition at the most difficult level of concert performance (Grade VI) at District Festival. This year with the havoc of rehearsals, the orchestra achieved an award of Excellent in Grade VI music and maintained the reputation as one of the finest ensembles in the District which is another reason why you know our name.

- Sally Orfield

We're awake now! — Jamie Beard, Ellen Harris, Vonetta Webb, Mr. William Kinzie, Erica Cambell and Kia Price are full of liveliness as they string up a tune.

Two's better than one — Alex Wade and Jenny O'Brien play a piece together. Every contributing player is important for each section of the orchestra.

I think I've got it — Erin Hunter plays a new piece on her violin that the group has been practicing.

Practice makes perfect — Carrie Mullen practices the cello for an upcoming concert.

BUENOS DIAS! BONJOUR! GUTEN TAG! HELLO!

Being in an honor society is impressive, but what they stand for and do is even more so. At Patrick Henry, we have three honor societies: French, German and Spanish. All three promote awareness among students that study foreign language. You must maintain an "A" average for at least two consecutive semesters. Members are inducted in the Spring.

The Spanish National Honor Society has approximately 20 members and four officers. It fosters an increased understanding of Hispanic cultures. They sponsor an annual foreign language festival and help support a needy Central American fund raiser.

The German Club advances awareness of the German language at the middle and high school levels. Some activities held during the year were: Oktoberfest buffet at Sunnysbrook Inn and the annual Skate-A-Thon to help raise money for four students from Eastern Germany to visit Patrick Henry.

The French National Honor Society recognizes students who have distinguished themselves in the study of French. Many of the members were involved in the French Exchange Students program by being hosts themselves or finding host families. Some special highlights of the year were: the Annual Induction Ceremony for new members followed by a reception featuring authentic French delicacies.

So, as you can see . . . being in an honor society has many other benefits besides just being listed on your college application. It's another reason why you know our name.

STEP IN TIME

ROTC Marches Into P.H. History

The AFJROTC is devoted to the teaching and learning of the Air Force way of life. AFJROTC teaches the importance of the military and the many opportunities it offers. The cadets are committed to learning about military life and being an active community partner. The cadets participated in the Roanoke and Salem Christmas parades, Special Olympics fund raising, Marines vs. ROTC basketball game plus many more worthwhile activities. Being a member of Patrick Henry's ROTC requires hard work but each cadet continues to do more and more each year because they find it a rewarding experience.

FUN CLUBS

Show Your Brightness

There are many types of clubs at Patrick Henry but the fun clubs are the best. The Pep Club always shows school spirit at all the sporting events. Spread eagle, anyone? Snowboards, mogul busters, virgin snow, fighting bindings and ski poles are some of the things that may get you in the mood

... if you're in the Ski Club. The Teen Outreach Program (TOP) is based on teen volunteers working with younger children as well as career exploration, AIDS awareness, teenage sexuality and community awareness. The Chess Club is often involved in a match. P.H. can boast the fact that Clay Smith is a national champ and number one in Roanoke when it comes to playing chess.

SPORTS

Game, set, match! He shoots, he scores! Hop, skip and jump! Safe! These exclamations are heard often after school hours. Patrick Henry is often a leading contender in district, regional as well as state championships. Our athletes work very hard and enjoy many successes. All of our teams gave an all-out effort. With a homecoming win against Cave Spring, the enthusiasm for football this year was immense and as in many past years the track and cross country teams often came out on top. Athletics at Patrick Henry always catch a spectator's attention.

Patriots Have Tying Season

The varsity football team had a winning season with 5 wins and 5 losses. It was especially exciting that we won our homecoming game against Cave Spring.

Various team members racked up some pretty good statistics. Shannon Taylor lead the team in rushing yardage with 464 yards. He also lead the team in scoring with 8 touchdowns. Ben Johnson lead the team in pass receiving with 496 yards with 30 catches. Albert Nugue had a successful season kicking 16 of 20 extra points and 2 of 4 field goals. Jamie Price and Walter West shared the kick return duties with Jamie having gained 258 yards on kickoffs and Walter gaining 110 yards on punt returns.

All in all, it was a year of numbers for the Patriot football team. The offense gained 1236 yards on 282 rushing attempts and 1520 yards on 185 passes; very even-even numbers, too, for a balanced attack.

Defensively, the team was lead by Ben Johnson and Daniel Orfield with 47 and 43 tackles respectively, Daniel with 7 sacks. Walter West intercepted the most passes and gained a total of 63 yards after those interceptions. Shannon Taylor and Rod Akers each recovered 3 fumbles.

The Patriots played their best — win or lose. The fans were enthusiastic and supportive throughout the season.

The Building Years

It was a developmental year for Head Coach Tommy Jones and his players. The teams combined for one victory and twelve defeats as they gained valuable game experience.

Quarterbacks and Outside Linebackers Coach Adam Tarpley said, "the experience will make them better players for the varsity squad in the future."

"Although it was a tough year for the players they learned to handle defeat and that was the most important aspect of the game," claimed Varsity Head Coach Ed Scott.

LOVE MEANS NOTHING TO A TENNIS PLAYER

Patriots Serve Up Successful Season

Forehands, backhands, serves and volleys were the key to success for the 1992 Girls' Varsity Tennis Team. Tough mental concentration, time, and effort were given by every member on the team which helped boost the team to its regular season record of 8-1, 9-2 overall for the season.

Lead by Senior and Captain Kristin Wilhelm, the Patriots were unstoppable and stormed over Cave Spring, Franklin County, and any other competitors that got in their way. The Patriots winning streak did not end at the end of the season. Taking a 5-4 win over Cave Spring, the tennis team was crowned RVD Champions. Amy Speas was a finalist in the Roanoke Valley Individual Doubles crown. From the districts the duo advanced to the Regionals tennis tournament meeting Garfield in the first round. The duo soared over Garfield then meeting face to face with Albemarle High School where they fought hard and long, but lost in the finals. With the new ruling this year the duo still advanced to the states on November 20th. losing in the quarter-finals.

PH Cross Country is. . . KEEPING PACE

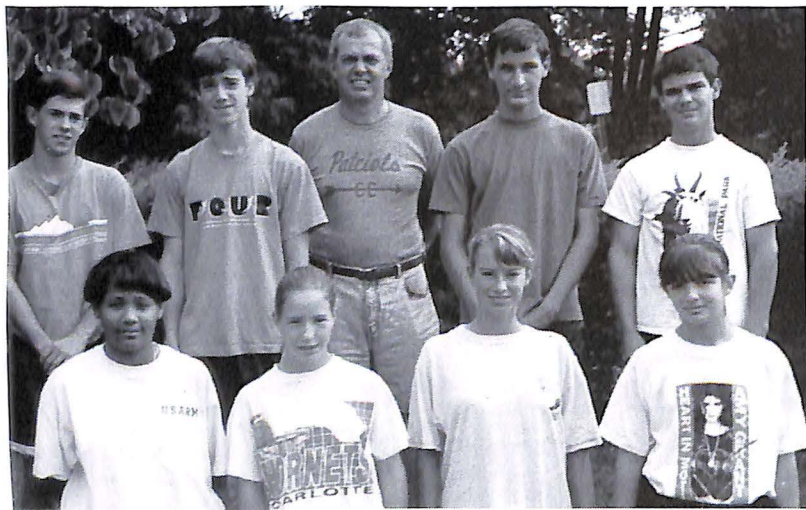

The Patrick Henry cross country team put a great amount of effort into competing this year. The team was one of the largest teams PH has had within the past few years. Team work, as it is in any sport, played a major factor in the cross country meets.

There was an even number of runners on each of the teams. Five runners were on the boys team. The same number of runners was also on the girls team. Each member gave encouragement to their fellow teammates. So despite the obstacles, they felt there was some support.

At the end of every meet, the cross country team knew they gave it their all. Sometimes their own personal satisfaction was enough to bring them to their next competition.

DIG, SET, SPIKE!

Successful year for Volleyballers

The Patrick Henry Volleyball Team consisted of many talented players which helped the team enjoy a successful 1992-93 season. A number of players on the team received honors. Ashley Sweet was named the 1992 Player of the Year which placed her on the 1st. all-district and the 2nd. all-regional teams. Two other teammates, Amy Mercer and Erin McCulley, made 2nd. team all-district.

The Patriots had a winning season with a solid 2nd. place finish at the districts against rival Cave Spring. In all-regional quarter-finals, the Patriots displayed their talent and placed 2nd. against a very worthy Woodbridge team. All in all, the season was a slamming success.

SHOOTIN' FOR THE FUTURE

Patriots begin to rebuild

The 1993 Patriots had a rebuilding year after losing all 5 starters from the 1992 State Championship team (see pages 16-17 for a tribute to that team). Brothers Chris and Chauncy Boyd were the only seniors on the team. The Patriots struggled to a 2-6 district record and 4-17 overall.

The Patriots were close in a lot of games, losing 7 games by 5 points or less. Shannon Taylor was the teams leading scorer and all-district selection. With only 2 seniors, the younger players gained a lot of valuable experience and playing time.

Maurice Preston handled the point guard position while Vince McGhee and Eugene Cook played the inside spots along with Shannon Taylor. Chris Combs, John Burrows and Quinton Twine held down the wing positions. With all these players coming back, along with the valuable experience and improvement shown throughout the season, the Patriots should be back on track next year. They finished strong winning 3 of their last 4 games along with their first-round tournament victory.

TIP IT OFF

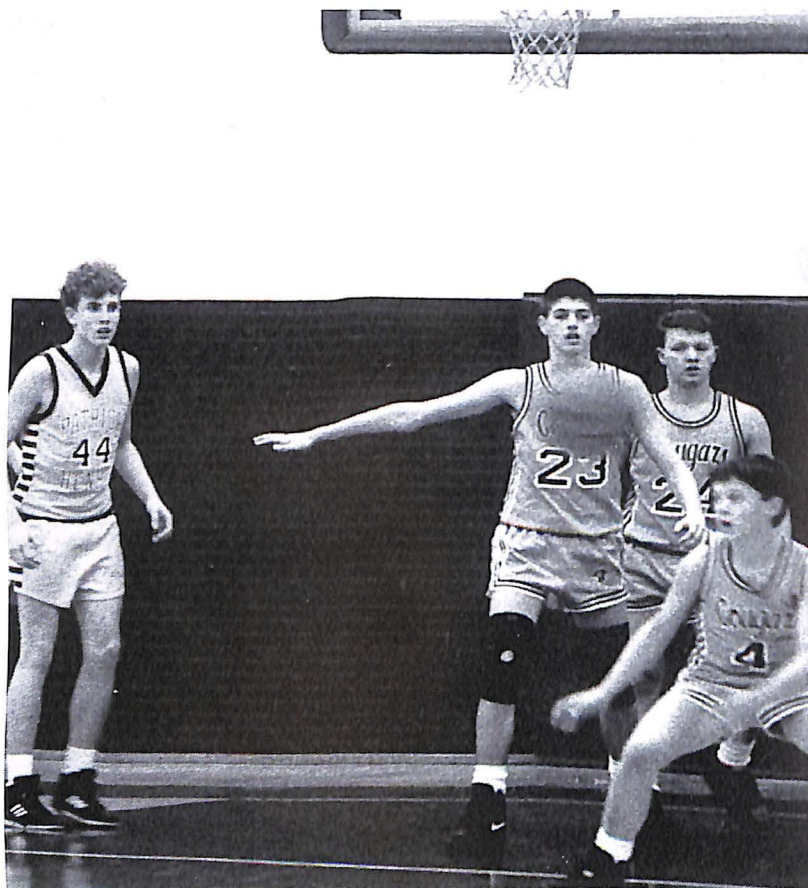

Tough Year Handled Well

The Freshman team continued to improve throughout the year. The team was characterized by hard work, dedication and a winning attitude. Led by Phillip Taylor and Brooks Berry, the freshmen won three of their last four games proving they were attaining some of the goals they had set for themselves at the beginning of the year. According to Coach Blankenship, Patrick Jones, the most improved player on the team, showed that you don't have to be the biggest player on the court to make a difference in the game.

The freshmen were never as tall or as big as the competition but played harder than anyone and finished on a winning note. No doubt, with the dedication and commitment these young men on both the freshman and junior varsity teams have, a state championship could be on the horizon.

Good sportsmanship means a lot when you're playing a high school sport and that's exactly what the Lady Patriots displayed. Although their winning record was not that good, the players tried their best and had one great win against Roanoke Valley Christian, 38 to 31.

There were no seniors on the varsity team. Two juniors, two sophomores and one freshman made up the starting lineup. Elisha Jones made first team all-district. With improved skills plus experience from this year, we'll look for a great comeback next year.

GO HARD OR GO HOME

Patriots Make Big Splash With Young Team

After graduating six or more seniors, the Patrick Henry Swim Team was swamped with new talent. With 15 new freshmen and 8 sophomores, the team was very young. The swimmers only had 8 seniors and juniors combined. Having so many newcomers really brought strength and depth to the team. With new swimmers and new coaches the team always remained optimistic and worked for the gold.

Working hard under the leadership of Coach Jean Brown and Coach Penny Williams brought many fun times and interesting stories. Practice time was limited to three days a week and the other two days were for lifting weights. The P.H. team was getting pumped up for the fierce and tough competitions ahead.

Cave Spring splashed

the first bit of tough competition into the faces of the girl's team along with E.C. Glass. Cave Spring would also bring problems to the girl's team in the District meet taking the crown.

The boys team was very young and had a bit of a problem keeping their heads above water. Again at the District meet, the boys saw Cave Spring take the crown.

In spite of any loses, both teams worked hard, had lots of fun and enjoyed the camaraderie of their teammates.

Patriot Athletes Qualify Nationally

The boys and girls Indoor Track Teams were very successful in carrying on the tradition of excellence for Patrick Henry Track. Both teams worked extremely hard in developing strength, speed and endurance throughout the season and carried that effort into District, Regional and State competition with the girls taking first place at the District meet.

Every member of both teams contributed to the success of the entire program. Parents, coaches and peers were very proud of the teams' efforts throughout the season. "We were also very fortunate to qualify 4 boys and 6 girls to the National Scholastic Indoor Meet in Syracuse, New York," stated Coach Jeff Johnson. The girls placed 1st. at 9 of 12 meets and the boys placed 1st. at 4 of 11 meets. Way to go, Patriots!

Pin 'Em In Victory

The season was a boost for the future of Patrick Henry's wrestling program. The team was lead by a strong senior class (8) which produced good team wins.

Albert Nugue had a very good year. He was first in the Roanoke Valley District and first in the NWR tournament. Additionally, Albert posted a 29-5 season record and 62-12 career record. He was never pinned in high school competition.

The Patriot grapplers posted a proud 2-2 home record. Head Coach Scotty Smith stated, "I would like to thank all of the seniors for good leadership and toughness. Mark Anderson, Nick Saunders, Jerry Beckner, Richie Mason and a host of others give promise for more success next year."

PH LACROSSE TEAM . . .

Not To Be Reckoned With

The 1993 Patrick Henry Lacrosse team faced many challenges in their fourth year of competition and stood up well to complete a successful season. First year coach Bruce Mahan guided the Patriots to a 5-8 record. Six senior starters provided the leadership needed to play a demanding schedule. The Patriots dominated two new opponents and split regular season games with rivals Cave, Spring and Salem. They beat Salem in a 6-4 playoff. The win put them in competition with Vinton. They lost 5-3, providing the best lacrosse this area has seen.

Midfielder Mike Ford and defenseman Noval Wright earned All League honors. Sophomore goalie Richard Lesko was named All League midfielder and Ryan Mills earned MVP honors. Defenseman Lee Nitchman and Freshman Patrick Wright earned them Most Improved Player awards.

Boy's Soccer Team Regional Bound

This season was pretty exciting. The Patriots were led by 6 seniors. This is the first time in 3 years that Patriot soccer has played in the regional tournament losing 0-3 to a nationally ranked Woodbridge soccer team. When asked about his soccer team this year Coach Ed McMichael said, "The season was good, but probably would have been better if the team had better chemistry."

The Patriots 7-7-4 record was the best in the past 3 years. Sam Yosida, an exchange student from Japan, said he enjoyed the experience of American soccer and wishes to play another year with his soccer pals he has made this season. With such a successful season and a young team this year, we will definitely have a great season next year. We'll be back!

CLIMBING TO THE TOP

Future Title Is In Reach

Sweeper, stopper, half back and striker all brought the P.H. girl's soccer team together. Along with the other positions, the girl's team had a commendable year. With new faces on the team brought change, but the team greatly benefited from the newcomers.

Freshmen Carrie Moore led the scoring with 10 goals and was a key player for the team. The four seniors on the team all have played soccer for 9 years. The team will greatly miss their encouragement, enthusiasm and team work. Melissa Thomas, a senior, was named to the District and Timesland teams all four years. Winning 8 of their games, the girls were able to travel to Northern Virginia to meet Garfield, but lost to them.

Girl's soccer will come back strong next year and wins will go up. Girls next year will triumph over Cave Spring in the District next year!

BRING IT ON HOME!!

Baseball Team Has Progressive Season

Despite the teams 2-17 record, Patrick Henry's baseball team could have easily been 11-8 with a few breaks in some close ball-games. The team lost 7 games by 2 runs or less. Coach Mark Hairston claimed, "I contribute those losses to the players being young and inexperienced." There will be 3 graduating seniors with 9 players from this years team returning in addition to a bunch of good, young junior varsity players.

Coach Hairston goes on to say, "We will be young again next year, but if the players continue to play together the program will grow into a winner within the next 2 years. We have a very solid nucleus returning with 1st Team All RVD players Brad Wright and Mike McMahon."

“WHEN I SAY PATRICK... YOU SAY HENRY...!”

The 1992-1993 Patrick Henry varsity cheerleading squad yelled their cheers and encouraged fans and players alike this fall. They performed their traveling cheers before Fleming, George Washington, Franklin County, Albemarle, E.C. Glass, and Pulaski County. The cheerleaders not only cheered the football team to victory for away games, but they enthusiastically supported our team at home games for Halifax, Heritage, Cave Spring, and Fleming.

The highlight of cheers came from cheerleaders, fans, players, coaches and parents during our Homecoming game against Cave Spring, when P.H. trounced the Cave Spring Knights. The cheerleaders stunts, chants, and jumps taught to our squad by Virginia Tech sponsors gave them a real learning experience. “I like cheerleading because it’s a challenge, having practice and games throughout the week. I like performing in front of people and getting the crowd involved,” says Michelle Cadd.

Gibboney Hall is a Vocational Technology Center that gives students an opportunity to get a head start on their career. Students can choose a class in Cosmetology, Auto-Body, Welding, Auto-Mechanics, Printing, Wood Technology, Electronics, or even Small-Engine repair. The class that most students seem to like is Cosmetology.

Cosmetology is a good class for girls who like fixing hair and keeping up with the latest styles. Also, guys can enroll in this class, too. Manicures are a big part of a student's training

BRIGHT LIGHTS — BIG CITY

Senior Heaven

Located downtown, CITY School is a special program for students from Patrick Henry and Fleming which meets everyday for classes in government and English. These classes are taught through VWCC so students are given the opportunity to receive college credit as well. Not only is CITY School a place to learn in a different setting, it also provides a relaxing environment for seniors and a head start in the business world.

Brooke Ramsey said, "CITY School gave me the skills I will need to get through college." Tate Guelzow's view on CITY School is, "I have expanded my appetite by experimenting with international cuisine in the Market Building."

— Katie McDonald and
Robin Masinter

Blah, blah, blah ... — Kyle McMahon, Tate Guelzow, Brooke Ramsey, Kristin Wilhelm and Ashley Berry are taking notes frantically from their guest speaker.

Whoa ... check that out! — Anne Bunker and Ellen Nedrow admire a piece of art work on a field trip.

Seven score and seven years ago ... oops! — Jimmy Mullens delivers a speech on government at CITY School, an acronym for Center for Intellectually Talented Youth.

CENTERED ON EXCELLENCE WITH FUN THROWN IN

The Center for Advanced Studies in Humanities is centered on excellence. Students are given the chance to explore new ways of learning while they expand their knowledge in history and English. This year students in the 11th grade had the opportunity to visit New York City. While there, they watched a Broadway play, visited the Statue of Liberty and saw the New York Stock Exchange. The 10th graders went to Atlanta and became stranded during the Blizzard of '93. Time was spent goofing around, but they did get to see a NBA game and visit the CNN studios. The 9th grade class went to the Chesapeake Bay area, visited museums and studied the water ways as well as methods to prevent the pollution of the bay.

The Center offers tough courses, but there are lots of fun and enjoyable field trips along with a variety of creative projects which make the program so meaningful to the students involved.

Opening in 1985, the Roanoke Valley Governor's School for Science and Technology specializes as a regional center for the advanced study of science, math, computer applications and technology.

The school serves 200 students in grades 9-12 for a half day program. Students must apply for admission.

The curriculum is designed to prepare students at or above college entry level. Special emphases include cooperative learning, extensive lab research, experimental design and the relationship between science and society.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE 'ROUND THE WORLD

The School Exchange Program is a scheduled class working together to bring student delegates to America for a 3 week homestay. During this time special activities such as a welcome reception, day trips to special places around Virginia, Washington, D.C. tours and a farewell reception are planned for our visitors. Three committees work with these students from other lands: the selection committee selects the host family with whom the foreign student will be staying, the activities committee decides where the students might like to visit and organizes the welcome reception, and the finance committee is in charge of raising money to help send our students to other countries.

Students visited Patrick Henry from the following schools/countries during the second semester:

COMMING TOGETHER

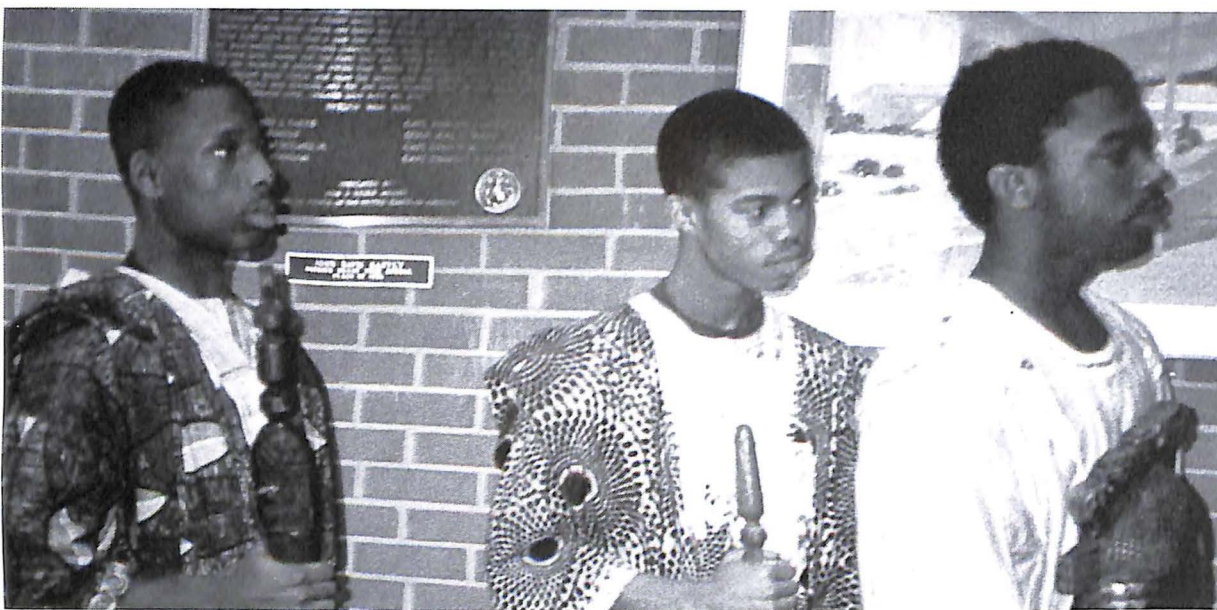

The African-American Culture Program, developed by Robin Neamo-Parker and Fletcher Nichols is currently in its fourth year. Team-taught by Mrs. Parker, Mr. Nichols and Mrs. Sharon Johnson, the program covers a wide variety of historical, cultural and political aspects of life as an African-American. Topics range from ancient African Empires to interracial dating, from segregation and Jim Crow to drug abuse and gang violence, from history to current affairs. One thing about the program is that it is never boring! Also, it is NOT intended for black students only.

Included in the program is a performing arts component which includes dance, drama, percussions and the Gospel Choir. Among the events sponsored by the program this year was a Family Reception held at the Harrison Heritage Museum, performances for Black History Month at Forest Park and Alternative Education Center. The program has also presented the black history performances for P.H. as well as sponsoring the exciting presentation "A Journey to Africa" by the Ishangi Family Dancers of Ghana, West Africa.

Awaiting the procession — Phillippe Randolph, Wayne Hancock and Danny Graham wait to go on stage as part of the entourage for the Ishangi Family Dancers presentation.

All together now — Cheryl Mosley, Kenika Brown, Arminta Crosby and Heather Moore sing together in the Gospel Choir as they entertain the students and faculty.

Looking proud — Corey Freeman and Veronica Borders stand together to show everyone how involved they are in their culture.

Sing out — Fletcher Nichols leads the Gospel Choir as they perform during Black History Month before the student body.

A YEAR OF PROGRESS, ADVANCEMENT

“Don’t Stop Thinking About Tomorrow”

During this year we elected and innagurated our 42nd President of the United States and selected a new superintendent. We also have discussed the option of a new scheduling system for Patrick Henry. These are great changes that will move our school a few steps ahead of the others.

’93 graduates also have discoveries and changes to look forward to — college, new friends, larger campuses and new freedom. Still your days at Patrick Henry will never disappear in your new experiences. You have given encouragement to the underclassmen, led the way in school spirit and shown great sportsmanship in facing our rivals. When you move on to college there will be new rivalries, but not ones like Cave Spring and Fleming.

The 1992-1993 school year has finally come to a close and the next one will not be the same. They always tell you to move on and move forward. On your way, don’t just leave P.H. behind. Take a look back once in a while and remember the good times you had at . . .

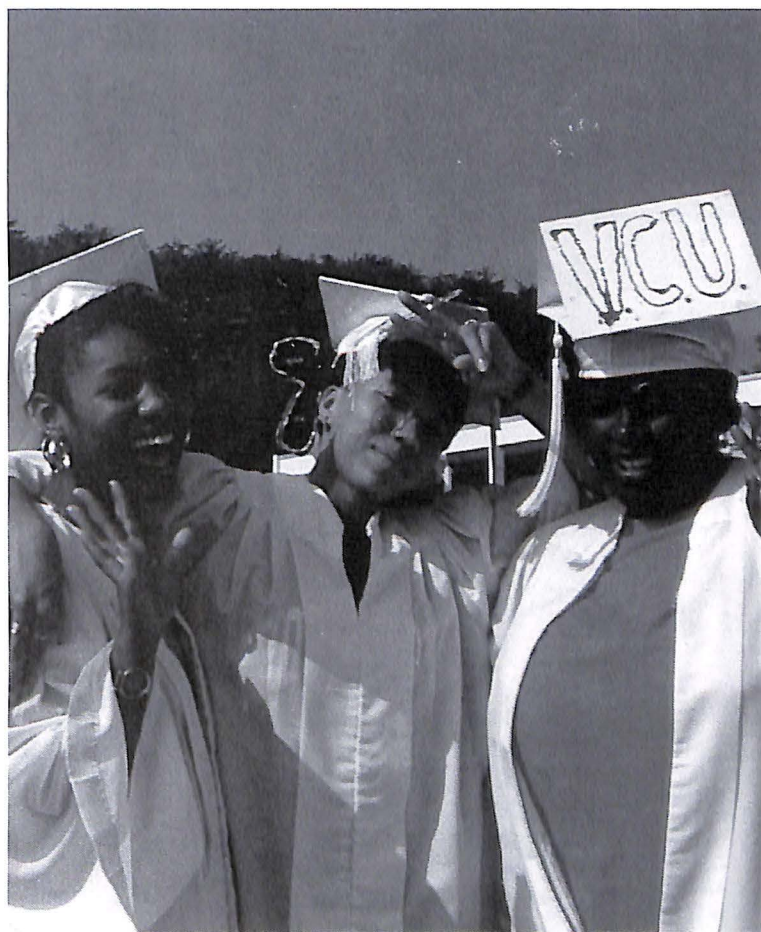

Patrick Henry High School.

- Muffy Feinour

These things are heavy! — Paul Laurey and Mike Ford leave their marks on Patrick Henry by having the largest hat decorations at Mock Graduation.

Peace — While lining up for Mock Graduation friends Renee Walker, Erica Smith and Kacelia Ferrell celebrate their graduation.
