THE SCENE

A junior high school located in the heart of a peaceful valley. The action takes place in a warm, friendly classroom. As the scene opens we find the room filled with happy, excited students eagerly awaiting the hour to come. At the front of the room is seated the teacher. She is pleasant, enthusiastic, helpful, and an inspiration to everyone around her. Although she has been in the school for many years, she continues to radiate a freshness wherever she goes and is loved and admired by everyone as she remains an integral part of the school and its activities. The part of teacher is played by one who has performed in an awardwinning manner throughout her entire career, and it is to her, Mrs. Jackie Boeh, that we dedicate this production, BRIGADIER '72, with all our love.

SCHOOL LIFE

The Scene:

Here's What the Critics Say:

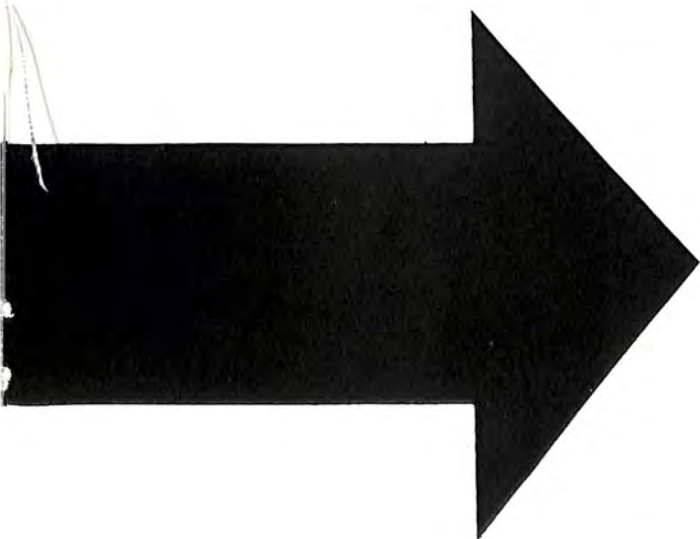

"The administration and faculty of Breckinridge Junior High School are to be highly commended for the excellence of the self study made in this school during the past year. The report of this study reflects the diligence and competence of the entire staff. It is noted by the committee that the preparation for this evaluation was carried out at a time when the school was occupied with the problems attending a period of reorganization and transition within the city of Roanoke. That a project of this magnitude and high quality was carried out in such an exemplary manner is a tribute to the staff of Breckinridge, and most certainly, to the central administrative and supervisory personnel."
