Yearbook Staff

It took many long hours of work to get The Matador ready for publication, but somehow we made it. Thanks to these people it was a success. Good luck to next year's staff.

Dedication

We, the executive staff for the 1979 yearbook, chose to dedicate this book to one who is dedicated in her work. She is the art teacher here at Madison. Of course we are talking about Mrs. Marie Hoal, the hammer-banging art teacher, critic, and friend.

The art room is home away from home and she is the presiding Mom. She says that anyone who can write his name can do art. By this method, she has had 35 years of art students, and many have gone on to become successful artists.

So Happy 35th Year, Mrs. Hoal. This book is yours.

Administration

Mr. Benjamin L. Taylor
Principal

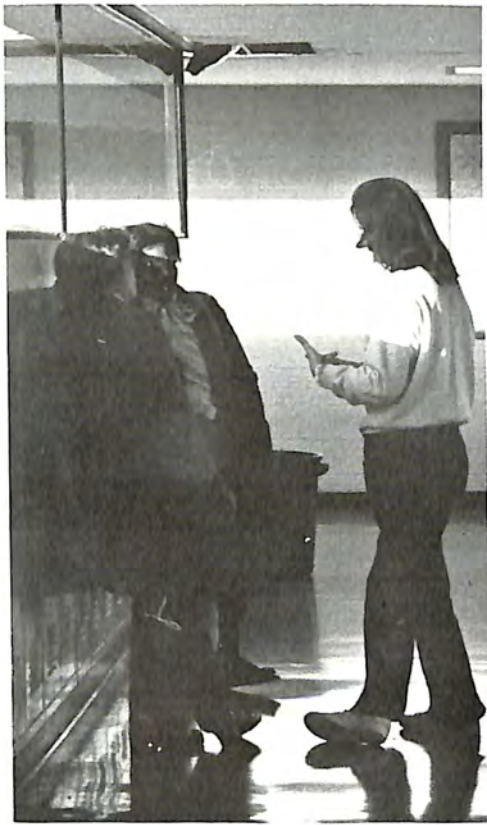

Mr. William R. Hackley
Assistant Principal

Guidance

Mr. John B. Laffel

Mr. Peter Lewis

There are three people in our school who will take time out of their jobs to care. These are, of course, the Guidance Counselors. They are: Mr. Laffel, Miss Bushcar, and Mr. Lewis. If you ever have a problem, they're the ones to see.

Miss Sophie C. Bushcar

FACULTY

TOP ROW: Larry W. Beer, Learning Disabled; Ms. Grace B. Bosworth, English; Miss Patsy Bowles, Band; Mrs. Judith M. Bristow, Latin; Mrs. Rebekah R. Buchanan, Physical Education. SECOND ROW: Edward C. Comer, Industrial Arts; Mrs. Charlotte T. Cooley, Mathematics; Joe Corne, Strings; Roslyn C. Dunn, Social Studies. THIRD ROW: Joe G. Frye, Mathematics; Mrs. Elizabeth Furrow, Science; Mrs. Mary F. Gill, Learning Disabled.

A very noteworthy collection of FOURTH ROW: Mrs. Ann S. Graybill, Business; Mrs. Inez S. Hanley, English; Mrs. Alice P. Haynes, Mathematics; Mrs. Marie U. Hoal, Art; Mrs. Pauline G. Hoover, Librarian. FIFTH ROW: Miss Joann Hughes, Physical Education; Mrs. Mary Sue Hurley, English; Mrs. Geneva K. Jenkins, Science; Miss Virginia T. Keller, Mathematics; Mrs. Betty Levine, Special Education.

Remembering them by seeing them come running by us trying to get someone to slow down, and hearing them yell at a class to be quiet is only part of the things we remember. We will also remember the days after school and the talks outside of the door trying to get us to straighten up. But we appreciate it anyway.

We see them as teachers doing a good job but they have another side to them too. Sometimes they make us happy and make us laugh by remembering some of the things they do for us, such as singing in the Christmas Performance and dancing with us at the Christmas Dance.

people whom we will long remember

THIRD ROW: Raymond Perry, Science; Mrs. Martha F. Pitzer, Visually Impaired; Everett J. Rogers, Choir; Mrs. Leeta W. Sink, Science; Robert P. Steinmetz, Industrial Arts. FOURTH ROW: Mr. Luther Utt, Director of YET; Mrs. Ruth G. Valentine, English; Mrs. Jean C. Vandergriff, Home Economics; Mrs. Shiley Wheeler, English; Mrs. Janis D. Wertz, Library Aide.

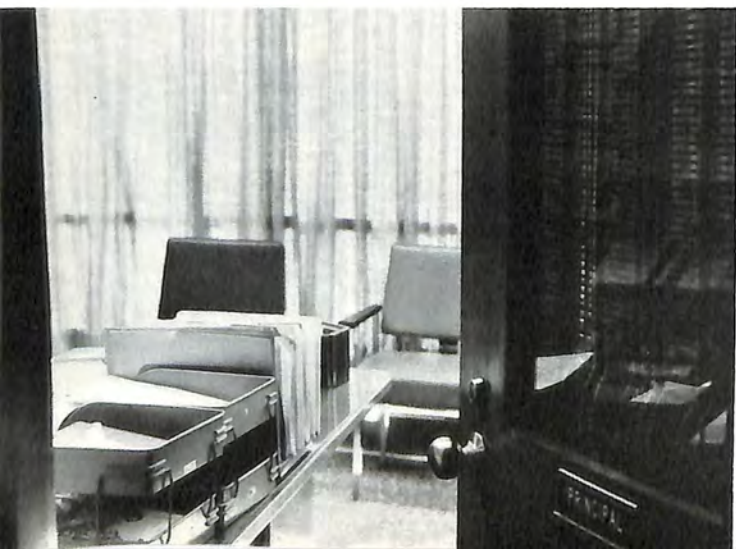

and at the front desk . . .

Mrs. Castleman
Secretary
She answers the phone, types, and lots of other jobs
for us.

Mrs. Belcher is the head of the office.
She keeps everything straight.

Mrs. Nave is not pictured.

Custodians

After the students leave, the custodians clean up for the next day. Thanks for a job well done.

Bus Drivers

They get us to school in the morning and home in the afternoon—Safely. Thank you very much.

Mrs. Maggie Scott will be stepping down this year after many years of service to this school and others. We would now like to express our gratitude.

Flag Crew

Patricia Waker, Mikel Maddox, Duayne Miller, and James Smith raise the stars and stripes every morning and take it down every afternoon.

Stage Crew

T.C. Whorley, Walter Rose, B.J. Dalton, and Geneo Graves are led in their un-failing attempts to set up assemblies and take them down again.

It's been three

After years of dedicated study (for the most part), the ninth graders are finally moving on to P.H. Even though this is great, the Matadors might have trouble making the change. They won't have the sound of rain coming through the ceiling to accompany their studies,

'79 Class Testament

I, Terry Black, being of insane mind and body, do will the following: to my brother, Mike Black, the ability to stay a whole day at school without skipping, and to Mary Ann Henebry, all the fun times I had at Madison.

I, Jennifer Andrews, do will Scott Waskey a seat on the bus and the ability to blow a horn, to Sut Edlich, another "Good Year Blimp" to kid around with, and to Marshall Langhammer, the ability to play football with all of those guys.

I, Amy Bridge, being of sound mind and body, hereby will the following: to Kris Edwards, another nextdoor neighbor like me; to Russell Atkinson, I leave my ability to twirl drumsticks; to Rob Duckwall and Kevin Thompson, I leave a pair of sandfilled shoes; to Carrie Bramblett and Robin Little, I leave Danny Hart; to Mrs. Buchanan, I will another Tennis Team that has to wait for rides; and, lastly, I leave to Mary Comer somebody like me to do impressions with.

I, Thomas Wilson, do will Miss Bowles another "Band Wrecking Crew" (The Drummers) like she had this year and the year before; to Paul (Joe Running-Back) Roller, the ability to become student-director next year; to Dana Billinsley, the ability to play football next year. Lastly, to all the coaches, a better football, baseball, and basketball team.

I, Eddie Israel, do will Kevin Helmtoller two boxes of Pop Tarts, Jimmy Cook the pencil I took by accident, and Jay Helms all the pencils I broke in 7th Grade.

I, Sheila Cupp, being somewhat insane and fairly healthy, to will Debby Cupp to Miss Keller and to have better times in there than I had. To Diana Ring a Blackeye. To Belinda Meadows to lose a lot of weight and I also will Mark Aliff, the best years he ever had; But it won't happen here at Madison. (HA! HA!) and all the nice girls he needs. To the 7th and 8th graders as many good years at Madison as I had. And to Kenny Assente I will him Debby to turn over his knee.

I, Ruth Linkous do will the following: To Diane Grubbs, another person to say "Here kitty, kitty!" To Mr. Lovell, some more 9th grade girls to take his tobacco, to Duke Baldrige and John Stanley, another person to pinch their cheeks. To Mrs. Parker, my ability not to lose her marbles. To Cari Bramblett, I will my pom-poms (what is left of them), and to all the upcoming Geometry students, some more of Miss Keller's test.

I, Crozier Draper, do will the following: to Craig Turner, my ability to see Mountain Lions in my front yard, to Rob Duckwall the ability to run out of gas in the middle of the lake, and as good of a year as I had this year.

I, Allyson LePeter, do will the following: To Alec Apostolu a new 9th grader to boss around, to Baker Elliot, another year on bus 30, to all the girls on the tennis team, two mascots and to all Geometry students good luck in Miss Keller's class.

I, Alvin Comer do will my quarterbacking ability to Wayne Taylor, to Mary Comer I will you hard times in Latin.

I, Sharon Campbell, do wish the best year for Sharon Smith and Cheryl Ferrell in the Star City and at James Madison School.

I, Donna Mills, will the best of luck to: Karen and Connie Mills, Lawrence Mills, Jr., the upcoming 9th Graders, and the 9th Graders who have made it.

I, Deanna McGhee, do will: Robin Reynolds, Karen Mills, and Robyn McGeorge all the success I had in choir; Robin Junes all the luck I had in softball, basketball, etc.; and, to the leaving 9th Graders, give yourselves a hand; you made it!!!

I, Geneo Graves, will Brenda Smith my locker and Ponita Graves R.O.T.C.

I, Nancy Mabry, being of wishy-washy mind and strong body, do will the following: To Paul Roller, a chance at being Mr. Macho for another year; to Mr. Frye, someone to give him fudge at Christmas; to the 7th and 8th guys, more pretty girls like us to admire; and to the entire school, no more unexpected showers in the hall.

I, Dana Hancock, do make the following wills: to Melanie Gilmer, the ability to eat cotton candy fast; to David Anderson, another flute to put together; to Russell Atkinson, another person (like me) to take his hat; and to Cynthia Oakey (#2 Chickie), another fun week ON the Beach and a one way bus ticket to Hickory, NC.

I, Todd Lefkowitz, being of sound body (1 out of 2 ain't bad), do will Miss Keller some more Geometry students to confuse and drive crazy.

I, Linda Jackson, do will the following: Mrs. Hurley the sweetest teacher, to Mr. Lovell the sweetest man teacher. Madison should be number 1. To all 8th graders, have a nice time at Madison.

I, Lendy Owens, do will my beautiful rusty old locker to some unlucky 8th grader, all my books to Mr. Taylor, a better football team for next year, Mrs. Parker some new Spanish books, and all the good times I've had to the upcoming 9th graders.

I, Vic Dandridge, being of insane mind and body, do will the following: To the upcoming 9th grade wimps (especially Robert Bair) my seat on the back of the bus, and to the upcoming quarterback, not as many fumbles as Alvin Comer. To Amy Jo Wheeler, someone to "bump" into in the halls and classrooms, and to Marc Latsko, my pine scented gym suit.

I, William Boone being of half mind and fantastic body do make the following wills: To David Huggett all the puds he can eat. To Rodney Jones all the old plants in my locker. To Amy Jo Wheeler the best luck in the world in her last year at Madison.

I, Laurin deBeck, do will Mary Comer my lob serve, to Sara Beamer, rides with her brother in his Porsche, to Jill Eisenbeiss a jumpy dog, to Susan Leonard a dirty word.

I, John Henson being of sound body and mind do will: To Mr. Lovell, a better football team than we had this year. To Robert Woodrum, our lovable Latin teacher for another year.

I, Stephen Tenzer, being of sound mind do will, to Mary Comer, my ability to dunk to Craig Turner, my great ability in basketball, and to all 8th grade Geometry people, my ability to FAIL Miss Kellerrrrr's TESTS.

I, Cydney Conrad, do will the following: To Ms. Mushko, another crazy student and a one-way ticket to Mars. To Neil Conrad, I leave my grades. To Jane Gott, a frog. To Ann Gibson, someone else to call "Veener Snitzel". To Richard Cheadle, a lifetime supply of rubber bands, and to Diane Grubbs, a can of spray paint to use in the snow.

I, Cathy Duckwall, being of sound mind and body, do will the following: To Amy Jo Wheeler, someone in the halls to "push around" next year, and I give her my pom-poms. To Mr. Lovell, two other girls that would jump on a sinking ship together. To Mrs. Graybill, two girls to gabble all the time like Kim and I. To Miss Keller, some more straight "A" students. And to all the eighth graders, even including my brother Rob, the best year at Madison they ever had.

I, David Draper, do hereby will to Michael Brice my great trumpet playing abilities. To Miss Bowles, a great marching band next year.

I, Jimmy Cook, being of sound body and almost reliable mind, do will the following: To Alan Isreal, the money I owe him from 7th grade, to Libby Semones someone to walk with next year, and a good year to all the people in Madison next year.

I, Mark Boweman do will Mary Comer a tennis racquet, Rob Duckwall Mrs. Bristow next year, to James Madison Junior High a better football team, and to John Stanley, another nose guard like James Smith.

I, Mitzi Willingham, do will Miss Bowles a band that can march straight, to Mrs. Hoal, another talkative art class, and to Mrs. Jenkins more happy years at Madison.

I, Jay Bolling, being as close as can be expected to sane, do leave the following document. Let it be known that it is my will to leave: . . . to Ms. Mushko, 17 more students exactly like me; . . . to Paul Gee and John Funck, my briefcase (to share as they see fit); . . . to Cynthia Oakey, another fun-filled year of Latin); . . . to Stephen Barrett, all the stupid jokes I haven't had a chance to tell. To the Science Department, I leave my mind, and, to all the upcoming 9th Grade girls, I leave my body.

I, Sarah Hagan, being of sound mind and body, do make the following will: To Mary Comer and Cris Edwards, someone to pinch their cheeks; to Melanie Gilmer, a great rat next year (like I had this year), to Mr. Hackley two ninth grade girls like Cathy Duckwall and me to pick on, and to all the upcoming 9th Graders, lots of luck in Geometry.

I, Billie Lambert, being of sound mind, do will the following: to Missy Beckner, the best years you can have; to Alex Rose, another year at Madison; to Mr. Hackley, another troubled student like me; and for all the 7th and 8th Graders, have the best years you can here at Madison.

Spanish Club

Usually in the eighth or ninth grade you have your first run-in with a foreign language, whether it be Latin, French, or Spanish. They are hard, but in the end you find you have learned something.

Sponsors for the language clubs include Ms. Bristow, Latin; and Ms. Parker, French and Spanish.

MADISON EXPERIMENTING WITH HUMAN RELATIONS PROGRAM

by Tim White

There will be a big change at school in the near future. This change is not going to be because we are a "bad" school, but to help us get to know each other better. What's going to happen will probably help you in English, social studies, a police officer in the front door, I'm leaving by the back door." She says she was visualizing the kind of armed force some cities like Chicago and New York have resorted to. After returning from Charlottesville, her attitude has changed and she now supports the program. Mr. Lovell, also with an initial highly-negative reaction, said, "It is totally unnecessary, especially with the relationship we have between our student body and our faculty." Since the case has

The Bull's Pen's staff gets the Matadors' newspaper out as fast as they can. Regular features include a gossip column and Squee-Gee's Square. Different stories appear in each issue. The Bull's Pen's editor is Tim White and the sponsor is Mrs. Bosworth.

History Club

The History Club is one of the newer clubs, organized this year. The members of the club learned about the famous excitements of history.

Sponsored by Mrs. McCadden, the students of the F.H.A. learn how to keep a clean home, sew, and cook. They also learn everything from dry cleaning solvents to microwave cooking. Nutrition, shopping, and job skills are learned about in this club.

Junior Red Cross

Junior Red Cross is seldom a big club, but members learn useful information about health and safety, first-aid, and services to people around the world. Ms. Sink is sponsor.

Science Club members meet monthly to learn about everything from eclipses to photography, and occasionally take field trips. Ms. Jenkins sponsors the group.

R.O.T.C.

"Hut-two-three-four!" When that call goes off the first time each year, heads turn. It's a strange noise for a junior high school. But, we got used to it. U.S. Air Force Officer Training Corps members are earning credits and looking at possible career opportunities. Sgt. Reed is in command.

Aerospace

Aerospace Club offers all students an opportunity to learn the principles of flight, whether the subject is gliders or rockets. They have many films and projects. Mr. Steinmetz is sponsor.

Beta Club

The Beta Club is a non-secret, honorary service organization. Members must have a "B" average or better. Students are eligible starting in the 8th grade.

Officers are:
President—Dana Hancock
Vice President—Christy Poole
Treasurer—Robert Barnes
Secretary—Shelley Hostutler
Sponsor—Mrs. Valentine

The Student Cooperative Association is a rather large group of students who do many good things. They give a gift to the school at the end of the year, sponsor a Christmas dance and a Spring Formal, and work at any number of projects, from selling pencils and notebooks to fixing up the hall bulletin boards.

Officers for the year are: President, Scott Arnold; Vice President, Cathy Duckwall; Secretary, Kim Rider, and Treasurer, Donna Breedlove.

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders

Baseball

Baseball and softball don't start their seasons until spring, by which time this book has gone to press, so there can be no report on how their games have gone. Judging from past experience, the other five city junior high schools will have to look out for the fighting Matadors on the baseball diamond.

Softball

Girls' Varsity Basketball

Both of the Varsity teams put up a good fight in all of their games and had an all around good season. The girls' team came in at first place while the boys' team came in sixth.

Boys' Varsity Basketball

Boys' Junior Varsity Basketball

The Junior Varsity teams had a good season also. The girls' team was in third place while the boys' team came in at second. Everybody played well in the games and put in a lot of effort.

Girls' Junior Varsity Basketball

Gymnastics

The Madison Matadors gymnastics team has had a glorious season with a great record. The two outstanding gymnasts were Ann Gibson and Kris Edwards. Go Matadors!

Football

The fighting Matadors football team was not so good with a record of 1 win and 6 losses. They lost 30-12 to Breckinridge in the first round. Better luck next time!

Class Prophecy of '79

The Matador can foresee the future and knows what is in store for some of the ninth graders in the year 2000. It says:

James Smith won a scholarship to Duke for his drumming ability. He is now the biggest franchise owner of the Harlem Globetrotters.

Ann Gibson was a gold medalist in the 1984 Olympics. Her event was petit weightlifting.

Victor Gravely was a college graduate and is now located in Alaska mining "ice" blocks.

David Huggett is a photographer for the U.S. Department of Agriculture and is now in Kansas doing a study on pigs.

Lejuana Morgan is a famous disco dancer with her own group.

Sharon Campbell is a contented homemaker after an early career as a model.

Jay Bolling never completed high school, but is now living in Australia catching kangaroos for use in the manufacturing of briefcases.

Michael Parker now has his own night club in New Orleans in which he does a horn solo nightly.

Scott Ferguson is a famous novelist with Pulitzer prizes decorating his living room walls.

Andrew Guthrie is specializing in custom-made skateboards for wealthy patrons.

Scott Arnold, whose aspiration in junior high were to become a computer technician and a nuclear physicist, has gone for a higher income and is now a plumber in New York City.

Richard Contaste is up there with Hugh Hefner with his new magazine "Peek".

Nancy Mabry has an office on Madison Avenue and is president of the largest advertising agency in the nation.

Cydne Conrad is a famous and beautiful night club singer. She plays the disco joints in Paris, Rome, Monte Carlo, and at the Copacabana.

Gary Fisher is now in jail for his obscene work in photography.
