CLASS WILLS — CLASS OF '77

I, Sammy Lowman, do will to Mark Lowman a sucker, John Gurly a mouthpiece, Eddie Smith another Wendy day. Paul Anderson a rubber duck, Joey Pivot his own horsey and Mrs. Martin another David Grubbs.

I, Anna Gullede, do will Dee Clement the ability to find someone to check Geometry answers with. To Timmy Carr the ability to stop growing. To Mrs. Parker another brilliant Spanish II class like this year's. To the future Madison football players the ability to win at least the championship. To all of the 7th and 8th graders, for the rest of their time at Madison, all the best.

I, Sharon Moore, do will the following wills: To Mr. Bean, I will a lifetime supply of Ayds candy. To Mrs. Cornwell and Mrs. Dunn, a more organized cheerleading squad. To Rarl Klingerpeel, I will another ninth grader just like me to bug him. To Melanie Haner, my James Madison title as "The Cow", and last of all I will the 8th and 9th graders all the fantastic times I've had here. Lotsa Luck!

I, Kathy Evans, do will Jo Anne (Hughes) the ability to be a secret agent spy like me and the ability to laugh when Mary Fish and I try to be funny (and of course, we ARE). To Susan Goyette a carton of "Cheese Nips" and the ability to be a "Jamokeebee", some "How Do's" and the ability to know when to QUIT saying it over and over and over . . . To Martha Field I leave Ms. Kellerrr . . . and to Madame "Dottie" Parker "Minus 10" and a suggestion box. To Mrs. Hoal a year's supply of "Nixon Economy Paper".

I, Karin Burgess, do will Roger Katz 500 sheets of clean paper, artificial snow for all year round and a treasurer chest full of candy.

I, Becky Katz, being of insane mind and insane body, do will Mr. Bean a new 6th period and a toupe, Mrs. Beard a box of Baby Kimbies, to Melanie Haner all the boys in the world, Phyllis Dickey some new Miss Ingenue books, and to Katherine Baldrige, my big mouth and my ability to stay normal colored in any situation.

I, Toni Atkins, do will Mary Knighton a lousy time next year because we won't be able to share the fun with her, and to Cindy Overstreet, I will the ability to get dressed for school on time, and to next year's girls basketball team a year of success for them and Miss Hughes.

I, Stella Mitchell, being of sound mind and body (?), do make the following wills: To Melanie Haner, I will a new party house, a new bedroom door and LOCK; her only wish: J.P.!, and the ability to stand at the Post Office and miss the bus like Connie and me. To Jay Laprade, I leave the ability to stay calm (like lollipop) in any situation that may occur at Pebble Creek, the Ruster, or anywhere else; To Kitty Hagan I leave Mrs. Mushko, To Mrs. Mushko I leave Kitty Hagan, a new paddle, and another FABULOUS 6th period.

I, Connie Edlich, do will the following wills: To Mrs. Buchanan a letter from ex-convict, and Joan Linkous' ability put together to win a match. To Melanie Haner a window and door that opens. To Missy Lawton a bunch of Phillip Markley's. And to Constance Apostolou any ability to stay up all night.

I, Ginny Robinson, do make the following wills: To Ricky Gilliam, a pair of platform shoes to make him as tall as I, to Ann Gibson, my ability to make ALL "A's" in Algebra. To Mr. Carper, all the moustache he needs. To Mrs. Martin a pair of binoculars so she can make sure NO ONE gets in front of anybody in the lunch line and a lot of smart 9th graders who know how to spell. And to Mrs. Nave a lot of good helpers in the office.

I, Teresa C. Hogan, do will all of the 7-8th grade students my ability to do good artistry, to spend my time in art, and other classes, thoughts of friends and enemies, my free-heartedness, and my way of getting along with the boys and girls of James Madison Jr. High, and my thoughts on the fact that I probably will be missed at J.M.S., because my artistry has been seen by the Madison students, and think that I will pass on to fame and fortune. Good luck to my heirs and heiresses and to all students of Madison.

I, Floretta Good, do make the following will: To Richard Dent I wish all the fun and success I had over Madison my last year, to Wanda McGeorge and Nedra Gray I leave all the cute dudes over Madison, to the new Varsity Cheerleaders I leave very loud voices and my jumping ability, and to the next boys football team I wish the best of luck at the championship.

I, Allan Goldsmith, do will Mark Lowman my ability to do Latin next year in Latin I with the Gust and Kress Tisher a pair of Roller skates for transportation and my ability to eat Peanut Butter without water.

I, Deborah Smith, do will James Madison to my sister Vickie Smith. I hope she becomes as popular as I have but I hope she won't have to spend as many years as I had to. Four years at one of the best schools in Star City today.

I, David Ingles, do will Jimmy Brant my ability to get on the bus on time, to John Puckett all my guns when I die. Much peace and love to all the seventh and eighth graders at Madison.

I, Liza Field, do will Mr. Bean's girls, Lima and Butter, all the leftovers from the Beany Weeny, Has-Beens, Jelly-Beans, and Be-in loves parties; and Mrs. Marmion less noise and confusion; and to my cousin Martha, luck on the tennis team next year; and Mrs. Buchanan lots of song singers and noise makers.

I, Linda Thomas, do will Mr. Taylor my smile since Jr. High girls look so cute when they smile. To Mr. Hackley someone else to call Ricky. To Mark Myers 1,000,000 candy bars. To the 77-78 cheerleaders the ability to yell as loud as I can . . . And to the upcoming S.C.A. officers all the luck in the world (they need it!) To the faculty of J.M.S., the Matador Spirit. To Mrs. Martin another student council board like Gordon, Sammy, Michael, and I.

I, Don Baldwin, do will my locker, my mean teachers, my smelly gym shoes, my lousy piminto cheese sandwiches, and my ability to get into strange situations to my little brother, Bobbie.

I, Rachel Stephens, do will Denice Stephens Mrs. Keller for a math teacher and 3 wonderful years over James Madison Jr. High. I also will Mrs. Jenkins a better 6th period class, and last but not least, to Mr. Carper I leave the Ayds diet plan.

I, Linda O'Dell, do will, first to Kress Fisher my great sense of humor. To Alden Byrd and Martha Field, another year with Mrs. Keller, and at last to Ginnie Dubelle more Gin-Gin!

I, Doug Atkinson, do will my football helmet to be put in the trophy window because it is so beautiful.

I, Mike King, do will Wanda Hill my ability to stay in school and never get into trouble and to Ann Moore the permission to slap her everytime she does.

I, Vicki Maxey, do will Anne Levin, Mrs. Sigman for choir next yar, and to Mr. Bean, I will one case of Beanie Weenies.

I, Charlie Farrelly, being of sound mind and body, do will Jay Noce my ability to play the drums.

I, Robert Franklin Beamer, being of adequately sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath to John Cordora my skill for making people talk, to Jay Boling, the James Madison Star Trek Club (which we will check on monthly), to Mrs. Mushko another drama class just like ours, and finally to the complete faculty and school body, someone else just like me.

I, Chip Vail, being of mostly sound mind and body do make the following wills: To an upcoming American ninth grader, I leave my beautiful split level locker, the one with 30 rooms and a President Ford sticker in it. To the great Madison art teacher, Mrs. Hoal, I leave 19 left-handed paintbrushes. To Mr. Comer, I leave my one and only 9 ounce, blue-tinted glass hammer. To Mark Peake, I will the fasterst towel in the locker room. To Ward Stevens, I will one box of Ammo, and finally to Scott Petty, I leave a bowl of oatmeal with raisins.

Prophecy for Class of '77

My friends, I wonder if you have heard
Of Invention's latest great surprise,
A contraption occult and mysterious,
That gives wonderful power to the eyes?
In fact, this machine is so up-to-date
That when you look in it you plainly see
The things that are going to come to pass,
And what the events of the future will be.

Now, in order to free you from doubt,
And to prove that my statements are true,
I'm going to test this machine right here,
And show you what it's able to do;
I shall read you the clever foretellings
Of affairs that will come to pass
In the future of the pupils
Of this great and illustrious class.

Well! Well! This shows that ELTON PANGBURN
Whose pranks used to worry the teacher,
Has charge of a church in New York,
Where he is a much-beloved preacher.
Who'd have thought it?

What's this? Who would suspect that
MARGARET GUERRANT,
A gay leader in most of our fun,
Is slated to help run the nation,
And sit in Congress, in Washington?
She'll tell them things!

The next thing I see is a picture
Of CARY SMITH whose duty is plain;
She's to settle right here as a doctor
And relieve folks of their pain.
She won't kill off very many!

Next it shows MICHAEL LATSKO as a lawyer,
Winning cases and fame, without doubt;
Well, we're not surprised at his calling
He always did like to argue and spout.
I bet he'll charge big fees!

I see CINDY HOOVER a stenographer,
But her office days soon will be past;
She's engaged to a preacher in Kansas
And she's filling her hope chest fast.
She'll make him stand 'round!

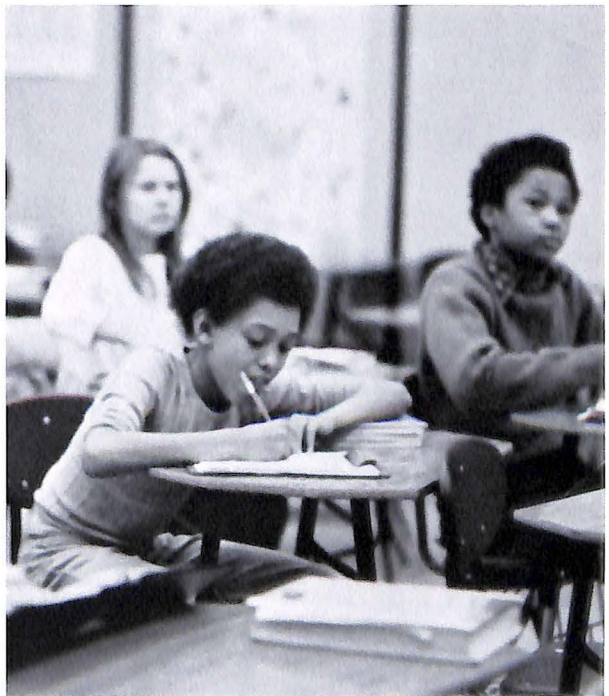

My sakes! WALTER ROSE is planning to run
Next election for the governor of state;
Well, our class always had a suspicion
That like as not he'd do something great.
I hope he wins!

Here's TONI ATKINS who didn't like boys,
And used to say she'd be an old maid,
With a husband and four sturdy children,
And looks very contented and staid.
She married a dentist over here at Roanoke.

PHILLIP MORGAN, I see in Chicago,
Where he started as clerk in a store,
But now he has bought out the business,
And each season his profits are more.
He married his best-looking clerk
And lives in style on Michigan's shore.
He always was lucky!

My friends, I hope you've been duly impressed
With this magic machine and its power,
That has plainly shown the future fate
Of the class that's before you this hour.
And I also trust you'll realize
Though we're modest and don't put on airs
That our members are destined to play
An important part in life's affairs.
