THE STONEWALL

STONEWALL JACKSON JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL Roanoke, Virginia

"THE 1988 STONEWALL" is the twenty-second volume of captured memories and moments in the history of life at Stonewall Jackson Junior High School. This school has been very lucky to have received the services of two particularly fine individuals who have spent much of their time and attention on the students and staff here at Jackson.

THE 1988 STONEWALL" staff wishes to show its gratitude and appreciation to two great ladies for all of their help, kindnesses and love shared with us throughout the past years.

"THE 1988 STONEWALL is dedicated to . . .

Mrs. Lillian Larew

The beautiful colored chalk drawings which decorate the bulletin boards in The Information Center at Stonewall Jackson are indicative of the talents and sensitivities of our librarian, Mrs. Lillian Larew. Her personal collections of flags, models and kites adorn the walls, display cases and ceiling in the library and reflect her interest in flight and high ideals. Throughout her years at Jackson, Mrs. Larew has encouraged students to excel in many different ways. She has supported the faculty and administration through her willingness to help in the guidance and education of our youth.

"THE STONEWALL" Staff would like to show its appreciation to Mrs. Lillian Larew for her services and quality contributions to the students and staff of Stonewall Jackson Junior High School. We thank her for a job well done and wish her much happiness and success in the future.

Mrs. Virginia Callahan

The real heart of many homes is the kitchen. Here at Jackson, the same is true. Our cafeteria is managed by Mrs. Virginia Callahan who provides us with delicious and well balanced meals as well as warmth, kindness and a cheerful attitude. She has a lot of heart and she shares it with us on a daily basis. Mrs. Callahan has always been most helpful and willing to make custom lunches for field trips and special events like Spring Fling. She shares a certain pride for Stonewall Jackson and the Chargers.

For her dedication to the students, faculty and administration, "THE STONEWALL" Staff wishes to show its gratitude to Mrs. Virginia Callahan for her services to Stonewall Jackson Junior High School. We hope all of the best for her future and thank her very much for the time she so graciously shared with us.
