THE STONEWALL

Stonewall Jackson Junior High School

Roanoke, Virginia
Volume XXIII

In this nineteen eighty-nine volume of "The Stonewall" one will find many pictures of familiar faces and places often seen around Stonewall Jackson Junior High School. As we look back upon these frozen moments of time, let us remember the year we have shared. We have had our good times and our sad times, glad times and bad times but we will always cherish these times we have been together. Our fun and our friendships will carry on as Jackson becomes a middle school next year.

One very special face seen at Jackson this year is one of talent and humor. This teacher has charmed his students with wit and satire. For his unselfish contributions to Stonewall Jackson and the students, "The Stonewall" is dedicated to . . .

AND YOU THOUGHT CARTER WAS BAD!!!

PAID FOR BY BAGLIANI FOR PRESIDENT '88.

* PEOPLE WHO VOTE FOR THIS GUY MUST REALIZE THAT THEY ARE JUST WASTING PRECIOUS TIME.
WHO REALLY WANTS A PRESIDENT WHO WEARS THE SAME PANTS EVERYDAY?

Drawing by Eddie Johns

Mr. Edward Bagliani

"Mr. B" has been teaching at Stonewall Jackson since 1983. He has acquired quite a following of students over these years. Many Jackson graduates return often to visit Mr. Bagliani. He opens his students' eyes to science and nature through class work, field trips and his Outdoors Club. He lets students know that he cares that they care about our environment. For these traits of concern for our students and love of nature, "The 1989 Stonewall" is dedicated to you, Mr. Edward Bagliani. May your future be filled with love and life. May your skies be always blue and may your stoplights always be green.
