ACADEMICS

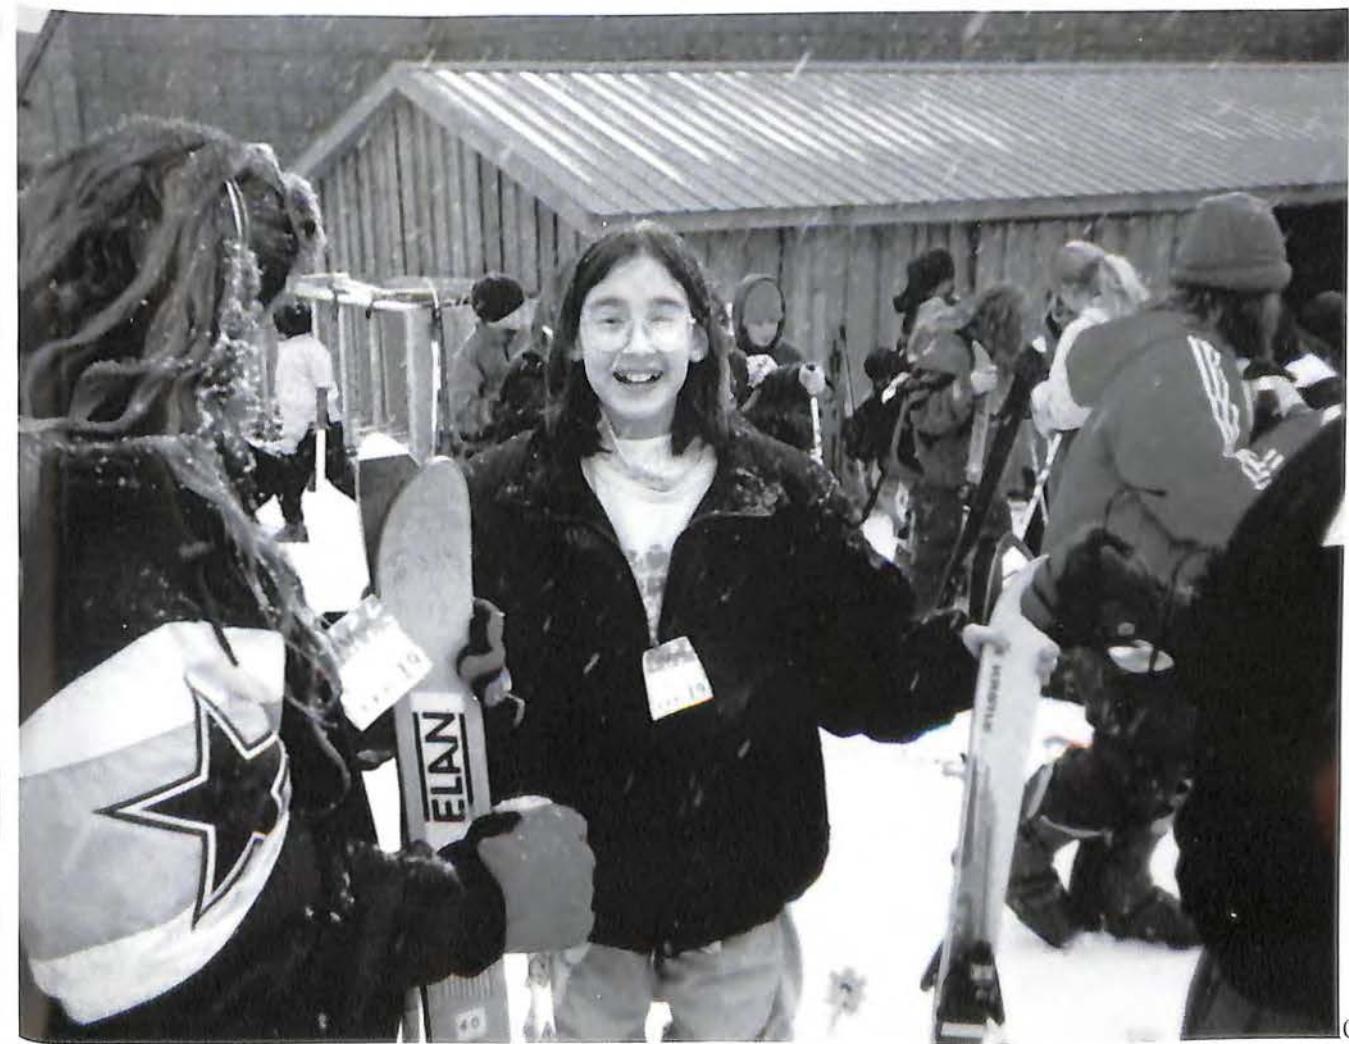

Outstanding learning took place throughout the year both in the classroom and in the field.

There wasn't much snow
in Roanoke, so the Jackson teachers
took the kids to it

Will someone please wake us when it is over?

Student Life

They told me this is where my class is supposed to be. At least, I think they told me this is the place.

I am not going to stand here all afternoon wondering if he is ever going to ask me to dance.

Hey, I know that girl in the weird hat!

Ms. Hopson, I feel like my life is complete now that I know all there is to know about ordered points.

Can we help it if we are gorgeous?

You better duck, Mr. Williams!

Do we really have to pose for this picture?

Oh, please, don't tell us Pre-Teen Magazine is not showing!

"Shannon, there is no way I am going to believe you swallowed your book," cries Mrs. Hoyt.

How many people can you identify? Whose feet are those anyway?

The Charger

The staff of the 1998-1999 Charger yearbook would like to thank several key people whose help was invaluable in getting this book published. We would like to thank Mrs. Louise CasHeman for book promotion and all financial matters. We would also like to thank Ms. Becky Hepler for her computer knowledge, photographs, and layout assistance. Once again, we must thank Mr. Moir Hill for all the wonderful photographs he has supplied us over the years. Finally, we would like to thank Mackenzie Farrell for the hours she spent putting together the collage. We hope you enjoy this yearbook and agree it portrays a great bunch of people who make Jackson Middle School a great place to learn.

"Mr. Farrell, let me show you how it's done," suggests David Jenkins.
