In the SPOTLIGHT

Ms. Barnette and Mrs. Bobbi Presnell help solve many problems each day. Students and teachers rely on their help.

Mrs. Manigault greets students and teachers with a smile each morning.

Mrs. Jean Thompson takes time to call students at home who are absent from school. She knows how important good attendance is to being successful.

Jackson's Faculty, Staff, and Volunteers are #1!

Cafeteria Staff: Ms. McGhee, Ms. Powell, Mrs. Bona, Mrs. Wilder, and Ms. Basham

Chef de cuisine greets students as they come through the lunch line. Bon appetit!

Mr. Haliburton, Jackson's building manager, spends long hours making our school look its best.

Night Building Staff: Mr. Drewery, Mrs. Bean, and Mr. Jones

Mrs. Shaver helps to liven up the halls of Jackson Middle School. She is an invaluable member of the Charger team.

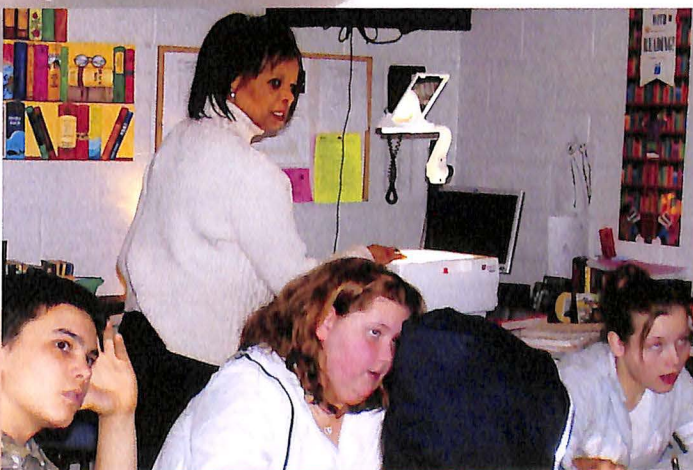

Mr. Beck spends many hours helping Jackson students and coaches.

Staff members enjoy time together before the Charger stampede.

Janice Jamison Masoncupp Phillips

Mrs. Phillips was born in Covington and graduated from Jefferson High School in Roanoke. She attended Madison College, where she received a BA degree in social science. During her teaching career of 33 years, she taught at Crystal Spring, Fishburn Park, Washington Heights, and Stonewall Jackson schools in Roanoke as well as Clearview Elementary and Albert Harris Elementary schools in Martinsville. We would like to thank her for her tireless efforts and dedication to her students. We know that she will enjoy her time with her husband, Rod, and their family. We wish her the very best of health and happiness as she discovers and enjoys new experiences in her retirement.

Sandy Garst Hunter

Mrs. Hunter graduated from Northside High School in Roanoke County. She received her BS degree from Longwood College where she majored in biology. She taught life science and earth science at Woodrow Wilson, James Madison, and Stonewall Jackson schools in Roanoke, as well as earth science at Patrick Henry High School. From fluttering butterflies to biting black snakes, from escaping hamsters to squealing guinea pigs, Mrs. Hunter's classroom has been a home for many interesting animals over the years. More importantly, Mrs. Hunter has influenced and impacted many young minds in the Roanoke City School system during her 31 year career. We wish her blessings on her retirement and may it be a long and happy one with her husband, George, and their family.

Jerry T. Williams, Jr.

Mr. Williams, a native of Lynchburg, graduated from B.C. Glass High School. He majored in biology at Lynchburg College, where he received a BS degree, and, in 1989, a masters degree. Mr. Williams taught earth science, physical science, and life science at William Ruffner from 1977-1996. He spent the past ten years at Stonewall Jackson as a physical science and life science teacher. Jackson Middle School students and staff will miss Mr. Williams, but we wish him a wonderful retirement. He has brought scientific insights, warmth, and laughter to the halls of our school for a decade. We know that he will enjoy spending more time with his wife, Karen, his daughters, Dawn and Heather, and Harriet, his pet tarantula.

times!

We wish the three of you the best of luck in your retirement. You have touched the lives of many people over the years. Count your blessings by smiles, not tears. Count your age by friends, not years. The best is yet to come.
