THE STONEWALL

Stonewall Jackson Junior High School
Roanoke, Virginia

THE 1986 STONEWALL presents within its pages the memories of a very special year. We all had to encounter in various ways, the difficulties from such disasters as the flood in November, the explosion of the space shuttle, "Challenger," in January as well as the February flu which made our absentee list awesome. A certain spirit must prevail for a person to meet and overcome such obstacles. Jackson has a towering example of one with an unquenchable spirit and an undying enthusiasm.

The staff of THE STONEWALL wishes to acknowledge the dedication of a super human being who has spent many uncounted hours serving the needs of the students and staff of this school. With love and appreciation for everything, we dedicate THE 1986 STONEWALL to . . .

NINETEEN EIGHTY-SIX

DON BARTOL

It is with the deepest gratitude for the unrelenting devotion to Stonewall Jackson that we dedicate this modest volume of memories to one so deserving. Mr. Bartol, you have led us through rough times and you have shared our glories, you have stood strong and tall when we searched for the answers you provided. This school will long be remembered in connection with your name.

When you go from this place, let it be a pleasant journey because you have made our passages through the years of this institution so much more enjoyable. Thank you for everything. We wish you the best of luck and love always!

IN MEMORY OF STEPHEN CASTLEMAN

By special request of so many students, this page of THE STONEWALL is published in memory of a fellow classmate, Stephen Castleman. A victim of tragic circumstances, Stephen left us loving him and missing him. We knew him as a vivacious young man, full of curiosity and wonder. The wonder of such a life, however, has purpose and meaning. His love goes on . . . while we learn.
