DEDICATION

To you who have brought immortal music to all of us, music that lingers everlastingly in every soul—

To you whose untiring efforts in the past years have brought widespread fame for your wonderful work in the choir and in the band—

To you who have always shown such great kindness, understanding, and friendliness toward every one of us—

It is to you, Mrs. Peery and Mr.
Christensen, as a token of our love and deep appreciation for all you have done, that we, the staff of '49, gratefully dedicate this edition of THE PIONEER.

*Dear Grace,
 I hope you are well. I miss you and hope to see you next year.
 Lots of love,
 Betty Thomas*

Dear Grace -

I sure have enjoyed knowing you and being in the same home room with you again. We probably will always be in the same home room.

FOREWORD

*Lots of luck to a real sweet and cute girl -
 Love ya,
 Pamela D.*

"The harvest is at hand"; the Class of '49, having completed five years of preparation, is now ready to reap the golden grain—"graduation." With high hopes for the future, the joys of new paths that lie before us, and perhaps also a sigh of regret for the past to be left behind, we pass on into the glorious sunlight of the future.

This land of the future as it flashes before us on the screen is different from that of our parents. There will be new scientific advances such as television, already introduced, new social ideas, new scenes—in a word, a new world. We seek our "Eldorado"—our place in the sun—the golden horde of experience, learning, and human companionship. Some of us will become the "electricians" and "technicians" of this new world; others will gain the spotlights; the opportunities are endless.

*Lots of Luck to a sweet
 a girl.
 Roy Byers.*

But, wherever Fate may send us, whatever may befall us, the memories of those early days at Andrew Lewis will be with us. For a few brief moments let us concentrate on the television screen flashing before us familiar scenes of the past as well as those which are to come.

May this '49 PIONEER help us to relive the fun, the rare moments of success and achievement, and the familiar, unsuspectedly dear routine of our high school days.

*Dear Grace
 It has been swell to know you me being in class with you.
 Also I remember the Sunday to Pig and it got you tickles, that was mean wasn't it?
 Best of everything is a cute, sweet,
 coming girl.
 Love
 Joyce Thomas*

TO THE READERS OF THE PIONEER—GREETINGS AND GOOD WISHES:

The broad purpose of the American high school is to promote the development of its students for effective personal and social living, and to help them become worthy members of a democratic society. To the accomplishment of this purpose Andrew Lewis High School dedicates itself anew. As the years pass and new groups of students come for instruction and guidance, the school shall attempt to do all that it can through its instructional program and extra-curricular offerings to promote the worth and dignity of each member who may become a part of the Andrew Lewis family.

To the Class of '49, I extend congratulations! Collectively and individually this graduating class has made its contribution to the ideals which Andrew Lewis High School cherishes. In the years to come may each of you be as good a citizen in the nation as you have been a good citizen in your high school.

Faithfully yours,

E. B. BROADWATER

Many important events have occurred in the "49's" throughout the centuries. In 1649 Charles I of England was beheaded; in 1749 the governor of Pennsylvania made Benjamin Franklin commissioner of the peace; in 1849 there was the great California gold rush; and now 1949 will be marked by a great event—our graduation.

This is the "Year of Jubilo" to us, this year of 1949. To some it is the Emancipation Proclamation, but to others it is the tolling of the death knell, for at the end of this school year they shall have to part with some of the friends they have grown to know and love.

But all is not sadness. In the years that lie ahead we shall recall our high school days, and their memory will be a source of joy to us. Some will remember going to the football games and cheering for our heroes and our school; others will recall the formals, club meetings on Wednesday mornings, "butterflies" before exams, and getting an "A" on the test "I just know I failed." We will never forget the Senior Program, the Senior Play, Senior Day, and the Junior-Senior Prom. These were ours alone and will always belong to us.

Yes, to some it will be the tolling of the death knell, but is it the end? This is just the beginning of our lives, and in the years to come when we have settled down, we will realize that these were the best years of our lives, only because they were the first.

Spelled backwards, her name is "I moan,"
But Naomi is cheerful at school or at home.

x plus $y^2 = U$
 x for all the things you do
 An' y^2 makes me now declare
 That I know U are no square.

Paris chose Helen—
 Oh, gay Paree!
 May you and your Helen Ever happy be.

At Smead and Webber's mixing cokes
 Alice is cracking nuts—or jokes!

Ellen's sweet and "Très petite,"
 Someone you would like to meet.

When over his books he should be porin',
 You'll always find our Dalton, snorin'.

As fine in school as on the guitar,
 Her personality's never "bittar."

A beaming light for all to see;
 A nurse in white she longs to be.

Bill Shakespeare wrote about Hamlet—
We'll sing praises of Martha Bramlett.

When Dr. Brammer comes to town,
His pills and stuff don't make you frown,
They're pills of happiness, we've found

A hurry and a scurry
Almost not in time,
A bustle and a hustle
But cute as a dime.

Dr. Brown is a hit with the nurses,
He sends them all away in hearses.

A talking, walking cane,
A candy cane,
A sugar cane,
Evelyn Cain,
They're all the same!

Here's a girl that tops them all,
She's really slender, tender, and tall.

For every Snapp course she's the slave,
Poor girl! It's freedom she does crave.

 Why don't you meet a White House boy
 And have Martha there again?

 But always by some feminine tongue,
 You cannot help attract the Miss,
 Your fatal charms they can't resist.

They always say that daisies won't tell,
Tell me, Daisy, will you?

'15 for Tommy Tingler,
He's a real bell ringer.

Our football hero at "Andy Lou,"
He'll cry when he leaves, and so will you.

Negative or affirmative,
We're positive he's on top,
There's no debate about it,
He surely hits the spot.

Farmer Turner'll make his mark some day,
'Cause he learned his farmin' the "scientific"
way.

This shy lass with the rosy complexion
Has charms that spread like an infection.

This little Wheeler rolls to the goal —
She'd rate high in any Gallup poll.

He's the voice
He's on the ball
He's president
Of senior hall.

We're really, willy, nilly, silly,
About no sweller "feller," Billy.

Wirt worried, were it wise
A wife to woo for Wirt?
Wait, Wirt, a wife's a worry
Were she Wirt's, or were she weren't.

Were it sad, it yet were so,
From old A. L. we soon must go,
Come back sometime and say "Hello."

This wise little owl sits out on a limb,
The one thing she wants most is to be with HIM.

Some drink coffee, some drink cokes,
"But you're our cup of tea,"
In ole A. L. you sure can sell
Your personality.

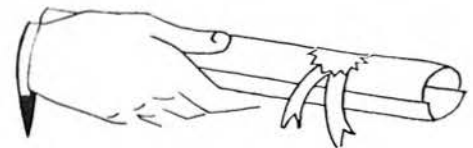

Here's a girl with a smile
That says "I'm your friend,"
Her wit and her charm
Win her friends no end.

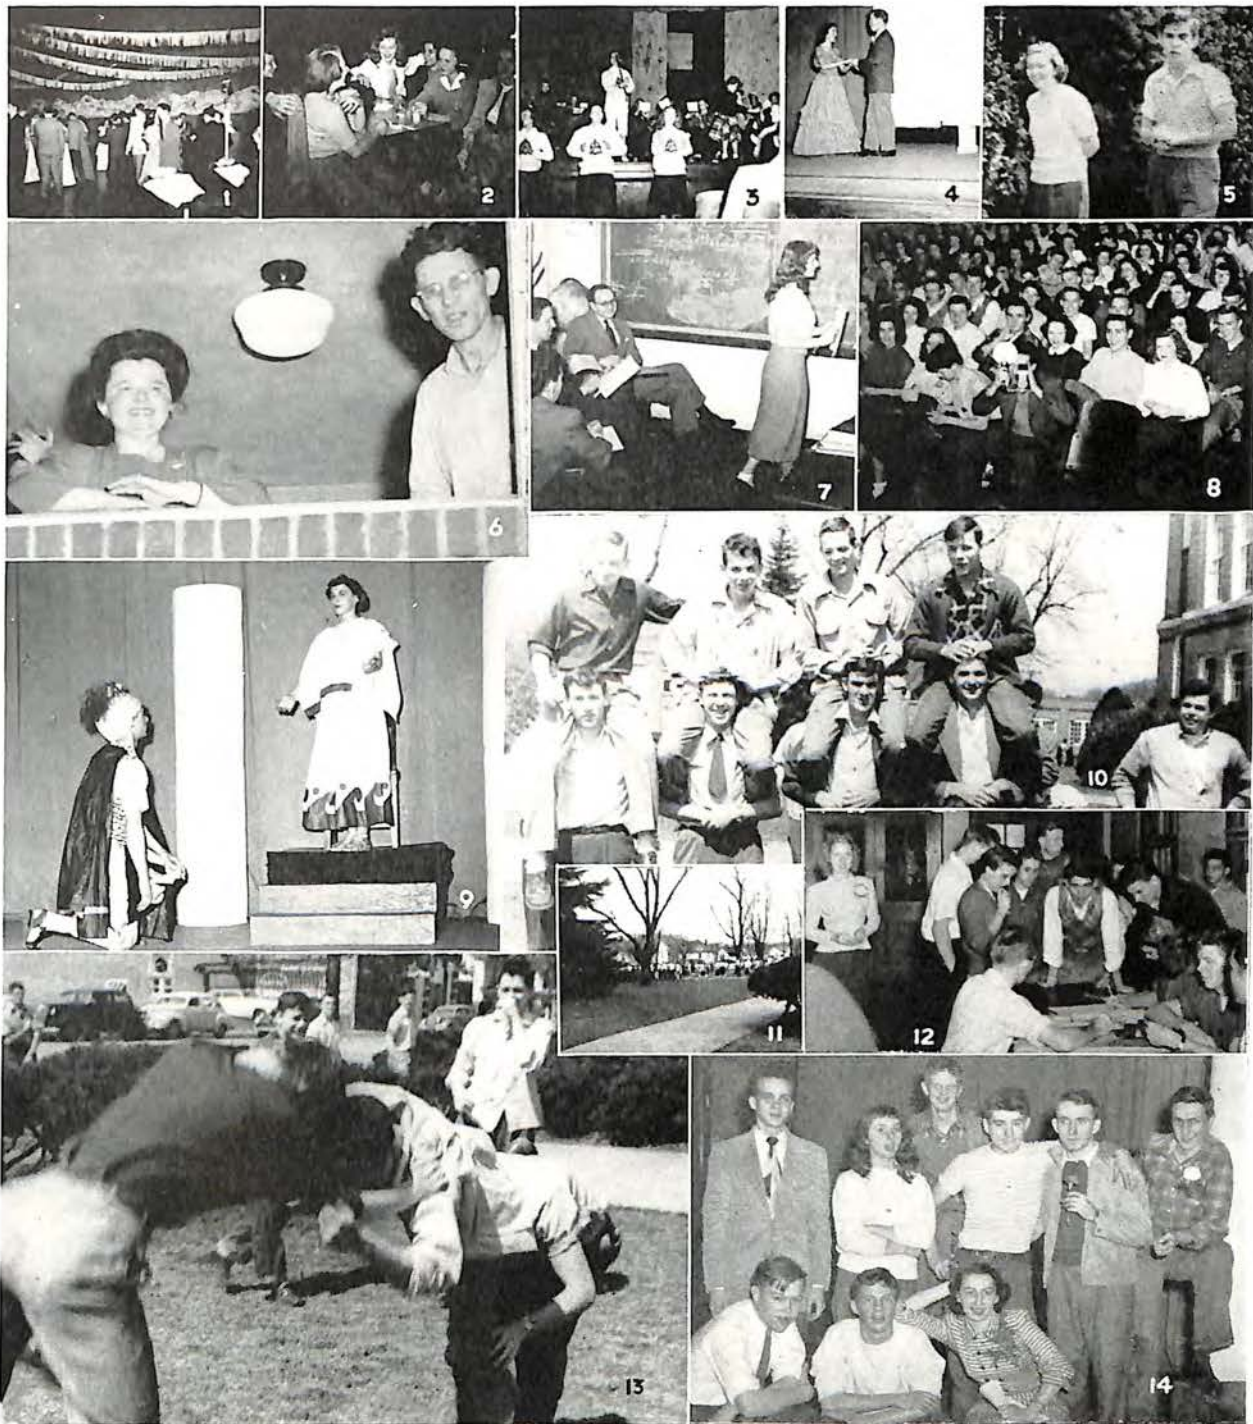

Here's to a gal who'll really go! !
A second Michelangelo.

Whether she's a Mrs. or a Miss
Diana's heart's all gold;
We're sure of this.

Honey chile, jes' don't you fret,
The last is always best, we'll bet.

DALTON BAUGESS—PAT SMILEY

A button is cute, and so is a bug,
But neither's so cute as they,
They add loads of charm and pep
To everything each day.

HUBERT BAIN—LOUISE FRINGER

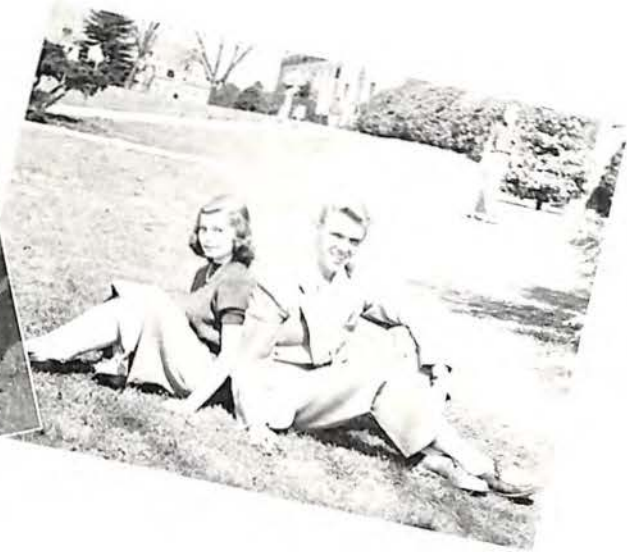

When climbing the ladder of success
They're likely to reach the top—
They always open up the door
At opportunity's knock.

MARTHA CRAWFORD—BILL ELMORE

The form, the face, the charming glance
Are in the Senior Mirror—
The whole reflection they enhance
And make our school days dearer.

JOE WILBOURNE—NORMA CUNDIFF

When Mother Nature gave her gifts
Of her music sublime—
These, the most talented, came around
For a second time!

Senior Mirror

BILL CHILDRESS—JEAN LUCAS

You know why they're a hit
And wanted everywhere—
They've got a bottomless pit of wit
That'll take them anywhere.

DONNIE SPOTT'S—JOHN TURBYFILL

They'll make their mark
In school or in town—
They're not schmocs or squares
'Cause they're best all-around.

MARTHA KIME—BILL ERVIN

The voice of the people makes its choice,
It cannot go amiss;
They all acclaim as with one voice,
Our most popular Mr. and Miss!

JIMMY McNUTT—DORIS ROOP

Sports they crave both day and night,
For these they need no rest.
In any game they put up a fight,
Their sportsmanship is the best!

Impossible, you say? Nothing is impossible at Andrew Lewis. And our proof for that is—we're going to be Seniors next year! Our Class had the same problem as every other Junior Class, that is, giving the most wonderful Junior-Senior Prom that ever enlivened the gym. Before this wonderful prom could be given, in order to raise money, our Class sponsored the annual basketball clash between the Junior and Senior boys. Next we sponsored an open house, and last, the school enjoyed our assembly, "Spring Variety of 1949."

Next year we hope to enjoy the "leisure" of Senior life and the dignity which characterizes all Seniors.

As Sophomores, we are beginning to realize the intrinsic value of our school. We are not only receiving knowledge from our books, but also a better understanding of the meaning of life.

A large number of our Sophomore Class is represented in many of our clubs. Out of two hundred and forty of our members, twenty two have been installed in the Beta Club.

Among many of our other honors, the Sophomore Class received the plaque in the Intramural Competition and also won first place in the Window Decorating Contest.

When the curtain rises for the Class of '51, we, as Seniors, will look upon our Sophomore year as one of the greatest of our years at Andrew Lewis.

We, the Senior Class of '52, are just starting, but we are making a fine beginning. Already many of our class are showing promise of future leadership. Two Freshmen hold important offices in the Latin Club, one is a cheerleader, one is connected with the newspaper circulation, and one is the second best speller at Andrew Lewis.

A genuine interest is shown in school activities by the Freshmen. We are well represented in the Student Christian Association, Latin Club, Library Club, Junior Y-Teens, F. F. A., Hi-Y and other clubs.

You can be sure that the '48-'49 Freshmen will be up front in the future.

No longer is the Eighth Grade a myth. To us it has become a reality. Just as the three Graces in days of old spun their web, so are we weaving our way into the pattern of life at Andrew Lewis. At first our hands trembled as we took hold of the shears; the thread easily tangled, and all was confused. But now our loom is more steady. We are trying to create a good pattern in various ways. The 4-H Club, the Projection Club, and the assemblies and meetings of the Eighth Grade are making the threads strong and colorful. We want our work to be creative. May our pattern be one of which Andrew Lewis may be justly proud.

The Student Council, consisting of sixteen members elected to represent the student body, is in its second year after a brief period of dormancy. Only plans were studied last year.

The greatest accomplishment of the current year has been the framing of a new Constitution through the concerted efforts of the Student and Class Councils. This Constitution was read and approved in all the home rooms. A vigorous clean-up campaign was held in the spring which developed a consciousness of cleanliness in and around the building. The Student Council also has worked to improve the integrity of the student body. A committee has worked diligently to provide better assemblies throughout the year. Several "open houses" have been sponsored by this organization, all of which have proved very successful.

The cooperation and perseverance of our chairman, sponsors, and the student body, have made the attainment of these things possible.

Class Council

The Class Council consists of the four class officers and the home room presidents. The purpose of the Class Council is twofold: (1) It is a connecting link between the student body and the Student Council, and (2) it serves as a board of directors for the classes.

MRS. ROSE F. LITTLE

The members of Sodalitas Latina have seen a variety of interesting programs this year. First, we saw our new officers and heard the revised Constitution . . . Then "We Were There," with C. B. S. at the last days of Pompeii . . . The first of the two grand picnics of the year was a special "feature" which the teachers attended . . . "The Haunted House" program was murdered by those "infantes horribiles," the first-yearers . . . A mock radio program on "Caesar and Cleopatra" was MC'ed "bene" by Joe Powell . . . but no chariots or pyramids given away . . . The Little ones showed us a film on "Roman Food" . . . "Saturnalia Day" was presented Christmas by the Virgil Class . . . Another "special" was the festive Christmas Party at the Woman's Club . . . Professor Masters opened the New Year with a superbly illustrated lecture spiced generously with his sparkling wit . . . In February the sixth-period boys captured the sixth-period girls in "The Kidnapping of the Sabine Women," and perhaps the same thing happened to the other members . . . at the Valentine Party . . . The second-year class gave a "Roman Romance and Wedding" . . . In the first of a series of lectures by professional people the Reverend Elliott warned us with "Flunko, flunkere', faculti, fixum," and followed with an interesting talk on, "The Classics and the Ministry" . . . Judge Pence enlightened us on "Latin and a Lawyer," and Miss Lovelace talked on "Mythology" . . . Our little eighth-grader, Mary Roberts, showed us her collection of Roman coins and poetry which she found in the East . . . A solemn and beautiful Easter Pageant was shown in assembly in conjunction with the Music Department . . . The Virgil Class gave its "Swan Song" by presenting "Dido and Aeneas" . . . In "Full Focas" the club gave its traditional and always dazzling May Day Formal and Court Presentation, as beautiful as a rose and as gay as spring itself . . . With sadness but satisfaction we closed our handbook for the summer and prepared "Tradere lampada vitae," to pass on the torch of life to another year.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Aminee Jones and Mrs. Louise Rice, the Senior Y-Teens have had a splendid year.

The year's activities began with a Recognition Service in the Salem Presbyterian Church. The spiritual influence of this program has been a light of guidance throughout the year.

Our assembly program in connection with the community fund campaign gave a boost to the campaign here at school. The program was presented in the form of a skit in which the girls in the club took part.

Senior Y-Teens

The annual "Hanging of the Greens" ceremony was undoubtedly a success. The "Gathering the Greens" party at the Fraziers' made this one of the most pleasant experiences of the whole year.

Our Christmas formal was a beautiful and festive occasion and was enjoyed by all participants.

Two open house dances were sponsored by our club at the "Y" in Roanoke. Delegates from our club attended four conferences, both local and district.

The annual Football-Basketball Banquet was held as a conclusion to our social program for the year.

As social service projects this year, donations to the Mercy House and a special overseas package were included. During April the girls carried on the Lily sales for the Virginia Crippled Children Society.

One of the most outstanding features of the Y-Teens' work has been the promotion of the Teen-Age Center.

The cooperation and enthusiasm displayed by the girls of this group have made possible this very successful year.

Hi Tracy,
 You're really a success and I like you! You're also one of the nicest girls I know. Be good & come & see me.
 Love,
 Jackie

The Junior Y-Teens, which was organized in February of 1948, consists of eighty freshman girls. The purpose of the club is to develop each girl mentally, physically and spiritually.

The Service Projects this year included sending Christmas boxes to the Mercy House and mailing boxes overseas to Y-Teen groups in Europe and Asia.

There were several social events also, including a cabin party in May which was held at the Y. W. C. A.'s Shawsville Camp.

With the careful planning and leadership of our sponsor, Miss Mitchell, we feel that 1948-49 was a very successful year for the Junior Y-Teens.

“To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character” has been this club’s full purpose this year. The Andrew Lewis Hi-Y Club got off to an early start. By sponsoring a football hop, assemblies, and other activities, the club has become a very popular one around the campus.

This club held joint meetings with the Y-Teens for the purpose of forming a youth center in Salem. It had the pleasure of sending one of its members as doorkeeper to the Model Assembly in Richmond, and two other members were sent as delegate and senator.

With the help of fine leaders and Mr. Paul Coffman, our sponsor, we believe that the influence of the Hi-Y has been far-reaching this year.

The Junior Choir consists of sophomores and juniors who are preparing for the Senior Choir next year. The Junior Choir furnished music for religious assemblies, gave a program at the Veterans Hospital, and assisted the Senior Choir in the operetta, "The Gypsy Rover."

Seven denominations are represented in the Junior Choir which sings in church choirs throughout the community.

The Band, under the excellent direction of Mr. I. Christensen, has had a very successful year. It played not only for all home games and for the Danville game, but also for several college games.

Several members of our band, Melvin Good, Harold Pillow, and Henry Holliday, represented Andrew Lewis in the All-State Concert Band. Norma Cundiff and Bobby Stanley were the representatives from Andrew Lewis in the All-State Workshop Band. The Band attended the State Music Festival at Martinsville, April 2. Three solos and the whole band received a rating of excellent, and the trombone duet received a rating of very good. The annual concert was presented in April.

Each Friday morning the latest news of Andrew Lewis comes in the Times-Register edited by Mr. John Thornton.

Mr. Thornton donates a page in the Times-Register for the Andrew Lewis News which is written on Monday afternoon by students of Andrew Lewis.

Along with the news comes the latest flashes from Watson about people and happenings in Watson's own famous column, Et Cetera.

The staff would like to join Watson in expressing its appreciation for the students' many nickels.

Girls over a decade ago learned homemaking from their mothers, or learned the "hard way" by experience after marriage. Today, we of the F. H. A. can appreciate the improvement over the schools of yesterday.

Under Mrs. Miller's and Mrs. Gordon's never-ending advice and supervision, we are better equipped to face our future in any phase of community life. Improvement within ourselves today, makes better homes and stronger family ties tomorrow.

The Future Farmers of America is the national organization of farm boys studying vocational agriculture in the public high schools throughout the United States. The primary aim of the Future Farmers of America is the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship. Through the leadership of these boys, we may expect a new agriculture—an agriculture lighted by science which will share with industry in the country's general prosperity.

Rural leadership is the greatest call of the hour. Our leaders who live up to the F. F. A. motto cannot fail in this task.

"Learning to do—doing to learn—earning to live—living to serve."

The Andrew Lewis Monogram Club consists of boys who, after winning a letter, have been initiated into the club.

The club, under the able leadership of Coach Spruhan, has enjoyed a very successful year.

The activities of the club included a Sadie Hawkins Day Dance with the Distributive Education Club, and an assembly in which letters were presented.

The club had a successful initiation program for new members, which we hope will become an annual event.

There is a club in Andrew Lewis High School
 And as to sports, its members you can't fool.
 Most all the girls are really on the ball,
 They even play soccer in the third-floor hall,
 For others they're always doing some kind deed,
 To some of these no one takes heed.
 Come Christmas time, weather rough or mild
 A party is given for every underprivileged child.
 Toward us the library should not sniff;
 To buy them a cabinet we gave a gift.
 The basketball playday was a big affair;
 Much fun was had by everyone there.
 The Playday, that was given in May,
 Was the Great Granddaddy of all playdays.
 Toward me is coming graduation day,
 But before I go I want to say:
 I hate to leave this club which is so thrifty,
 I wish I could be with you in 1950.
 So girls work hard and really strive
 To keep this wonderful SPORTS CLUB alive.

Debating Club

At the beginning of the spring semester ten students, under the direction of Mrs. Smith, gathered in Room 106 to start this year's debating class. The majority of the group's debating experience was zero, but now we practically cross examine in general conversation.

In preparation for the district meeting in May we debated with William Fleming, William Byrd, and Roanoke College. Our teams have debated commendably and often victoriously. The question this year is: "Resolved—that the United Nations now be revised into a federal world government." Whether or not our teams win, each of us will finish this year's debating class with something more valuable than trophies—a deep interest in and a feeling of responsibility in international relations.

The Distributors' Club is a club formed by those students taking the retail training course in the Senior Class. The purpose of the club is to learn about vocational opportunities in the field of distribution; to develop leadership; to integrate the Distributive Education program with other programs in the school; and to provide helpful participation by the members in civic affairs so that members may take their places in the community life after graduation.

Our club has had three outside speakers, made field trips to the Salem telephone office, the Mick-or-Mack warehouse (where we were served lunch), and to Kroger's new store in Salem to become more familiar with the problem of distribution.

Social activities have been a Sadie Hawkins Day Dance, a Christmas Party, and an Area Conference with the Distributors' Clubs of Christiansburg and Roanoke at Longwood in Salem.

Last fall a new club, the Andrew Lewis Chapter of the National 4-H Club, was organized. The purpose of this club is explained by the official pledge, "I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to larger service and my health to better living for my club, community, and my country."

The fifty members of our 4-H Club have met regularly in the gym under the capable leadership of Mrs. Jennings, sponsor, Mr. Douglas, county agriculture agent, and Mrs. Margaret Svoboda, home demonstration agent.

Our theme has been "Safety," and numerous talks and contests have been held centering around this subject.

This club has filled a definite need in the school and we believe that if we keep before us our motto, "To make the best better," our club will grow in quality as well as quantity.

S. C. A.

The club had a daily project of putting Bible verses on the board in each room. During the first semester our meetings were inspired with Biblical character sketches given by the Reverend John Elliott. During the last semester the club alternated programs by having student participation and visiting ministers. The meetings have been helpful to all who attended.

The S. C. A. sponsored a New Year's assembly. The club also has conducted the devotions in several other assemblies.

We have greatly appreciated the capable leadership of our sponsors, Miss Sarah Goodwin and Mrs. Jewell Boitnott. The future for the club looks promising.

The Library Club consists of twenty-four members, twenty of whom give their study halls to help with the routine duties of running the Library. These girls do the work of carding and shelving books, stamping and checking passes, writing and delivering fines, and they perform various other tasks which arise.

The Club meets on alternate Wednesdays in the Reference Room of the Library. The programs are of a literary nature, featuring outside speakers as well as students. The Library Club celebrated Book Week by sponsoring an assembly for the eighth-grade students. Miss Elizabeth Stiff of the Virginia State Library, Richmond, held a story hour for them. The club had its annual Christmas party at which time gifts were exchanged.

There are five office practice girls who type catalog cards, card pockets for books and business letters; they also cut stencils and file cards in the librarian's office. They are: Mae Hill, Nancy Johnson and Eloise Hannah, first semester; Keturah Pillow and Daisy Taliaferro, second semester.

Varsity Football

The Andrew Lewis football team started the season with a light and inexperienced squad. There were only six lettermen. The opening game, however, was a great success as the Wolverines shellacked Dublin 33-0. Wilson hit the line for three touchdowns, while Peters and McNutt added one each. Ervin kicked three out of five extra points.

Andrew Lewis lost the next two games to two of the most powerful teams in Virginia, T. J. of Richmond, and William Byrd, by scores of 27-0 and 26-7.

Lewis bounced back into the win column the next week with a 12-0 decision over Fleming. Lewis scored twice the first half and held on for the victory. Wilbourne, Ervin and McNutt starred for the Wolverines.

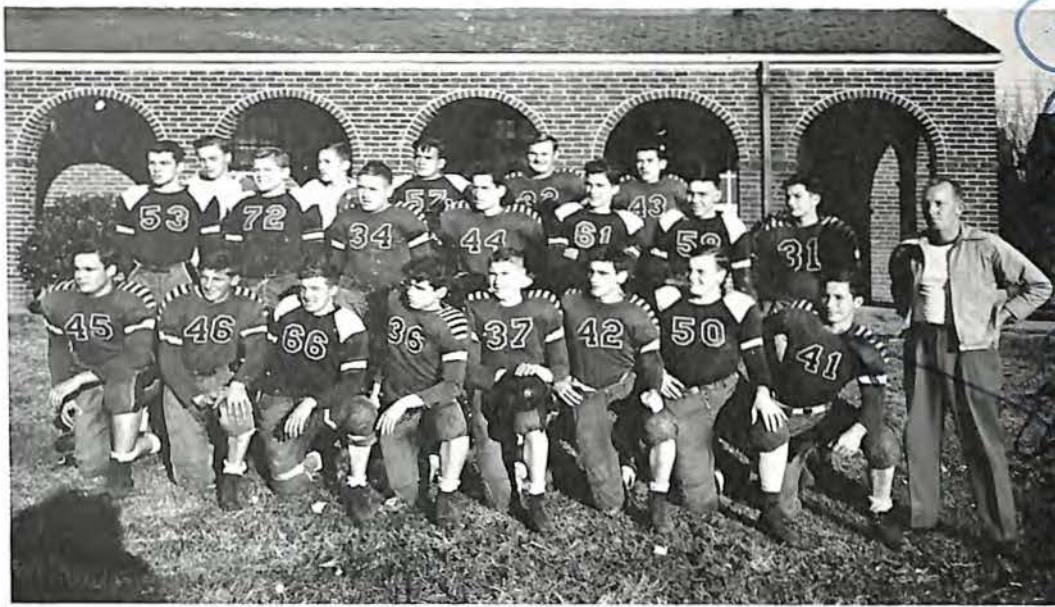

Even though Salem lost to Jefferson, the game was the highlight of the season. Lewis scored twice the first half, and it was only with long passes and old "Lady Luck" that Jefferson pulled the game from the fire. Garst's booming punts repeatedly set the Magicians back. Lack of reserves cost Lewis the game. The whole team was great, with McNutt, Peters, Moore, Ervin, Kittinger, Elmore and Garst particularly outstanding.

Because of the injuries sustained in the Jefferson game, the state champions from Hampton easily beat Lewis 32-7.

The Wolverines won their first Group I game over Lane High when Wilson took a short pass and went 60 yards behind beautiful blocking to score.

The Wolverines lost a heartbreaker to Glass, 7-6. Ervin scored the only Salem touchdown, but missed the extra point.

The following week the Wolverines ended the season by beating Danville 7-0. Wilson bucked the line to score in the final two minutes. Black, Wilson, McNutt, Peters and Perkins ended the season with good play.

The Junior Varsity got off to a bad start, but improved a great deal after the first two games. Toward the end of the season the Jayvees did very well under the excellent coaching of Mr. Copenhaver. The team won only two out of five games, but since both of these were with Jefferson, the season was a success.

Basketball

The Wolverines did a wonderful job this year considering the fact that all of them, with the exception of Wayne Shelor, were inexperienced. As the season went along and our team gained experience, we made a much better showing against our old rivals from all over the state.

Although the team didn't win any Western Conference games, it did win two in the Eastern Conference. But the number of games won is not what really matters; what counts in the long run is the fact that the players played good, clean games, games which showed lots of hard fighting and a spirit of sportsmanship that would be difficult to equal. Because of this, everyone is very proud of the boys on the team, and we mean it when we say—"Hats off! !" and "Fifteen for Team! !"

With several experienced players returning, the team can look forward to a good season next year.

Girls' Sports

This year at A. L. the Girls' Physical Education Department has really been busy.

In gym classes the girls have been very enthusiastic over square dancing. Everyone was busy promenading and swinging her partner. In addition to square dancing, basketball, and softball, other games were played. The fourth period was looked forward to by all the eighth-grade girls who had their own basketball tournament.

Playdays on Tuesdays and Thursdays every week were sponsored by the Sports Club. All girls who were interested were invited to come to the gym after school where they were instructed in shuffleboard, badminton, peteca, volleyball, deck tennis, basketball, ping-pong, and other games.

As usual, a great number of girls considered basketball the most interesting of all sports. There were two Odd and two Even teams. From these four teams, an honorary Odd and Even varsity was chosen. These teams played two out of three games for the championship. As last year the Odds won and thus gained 10 points toward the color cup.

Volleyball is rapidly becoming an important after-school game. Softball comes next, with all the girls yelling, "Let me bat."

Let us not forget the individual sports. Sheridan Carter won the badminton championship, with Lucille Lee as runner up. Next comes our instructor's favorite sport, tennis. This game takes a great deal of skill and patience, but under the leadership of Miss Watts, our girls will "come smiling through."

The competition between the Odds and Evens was very strong this year, and although the winner of the color cup has not yet been determined, we know it will be a close race.

Finis

It's all yours! The members of the staff have worked hard to bring you, the students and teachers of Andrew Lewis, this yearbook. It is our wish that you enjoy it to the fullest extent.

We are grateful beyond words to Mr. Cannaday of The Stone Printing Company for his advice and many suggestions; to our advertisers for their financial help; to Mr. Woodward for his photographic work; to our faculty sponsor and advisers for their assistance and careful planning; and to all others who helped to make possible the 1949 PIONEER.
