

"From our halls of truth and honor Let our light shine through." Alma Mater

Many lights shone at Cave Spring High School this school year—some were bright, some dim; but all these lights affected our lives.

The brightest of these lights, of course, was that of knowledge. Throughout our school day, the wisdom of our administration shone like a beacon, shedding light on our subjects clearly and concisely.

Another important light that permeated our school athletics was the light of sportsmanship. Cave Spring's coaches, in addition to training players in their respective sports, also stressed the importance of humility in victory as well as in defeat.

The most subtle, but possibly the most important to each student, is the light of friendship—that warm light that is radiated by a friendly smile or the warmth one feels in his heart caused by a slap on the back by a fellow classmate for a job well done.

These were some of the brighter lights that shone at Cave Spring the bright beam of the light of knowledge, the light of sportsmanship, and the deep warmth of the light of friendship.

Soon this school year 1963-1964 will be ended. For the underclassmen, these lights will be extinguished only to be relit at the beginning of next year. But for the Seniors, when this year ends, the lights of Cave Spring will go out for the last time, never to be seen again. But in every heart there remain the warm memories of the good and bad times, the work and the play, the strong friendships—all of which will linger in our hearts forever.

We of the Accolade staff know that these lights cannot be recaptured and true justice done to them. But throughout the school year, we have attempted to preserve a little of their brightness, radiance, and warmth in words and pictures. We present them to you now, students of Cave Spring High School, to rekindle the fires in your hearts for years to come—the Afterglow of a year gone by.

FRIENDS

Mrs. Johnson stiff-arms her way through the morning office rush.

After that team-teaching class, she rushes for home.

TYPICAL (?) DAY FOR OUR MRS. JOHNSON

Always being interrupted in her free period.

May Winn Johnson was born here in Roanoke on April 10, 19??. After graduating from Jefferson Senior High School she attended Longwood College where she majored in history. College over, Mrs. Johnson began work at Stewartsville High School where she taught physical education of all things! Her next post was at Bent Mountain High School where she taught history. When Cave Spring opened in 1956 Mrs. Johnson began work here as an American History teacher—a job she has been doing so well for these eight years.

Mrs. Johnson was married in 1942 to Wilton B. Johnson and is the proud mother of three sons—Sterling, Dee, and David.

With admiration—for your profound devotion to scholarship.

With love—for your contagious enthusiasm and sympathetic understanding.

With gratitude—for the high goals you have set for us in our work and for your skill in guiding us toward these goals.

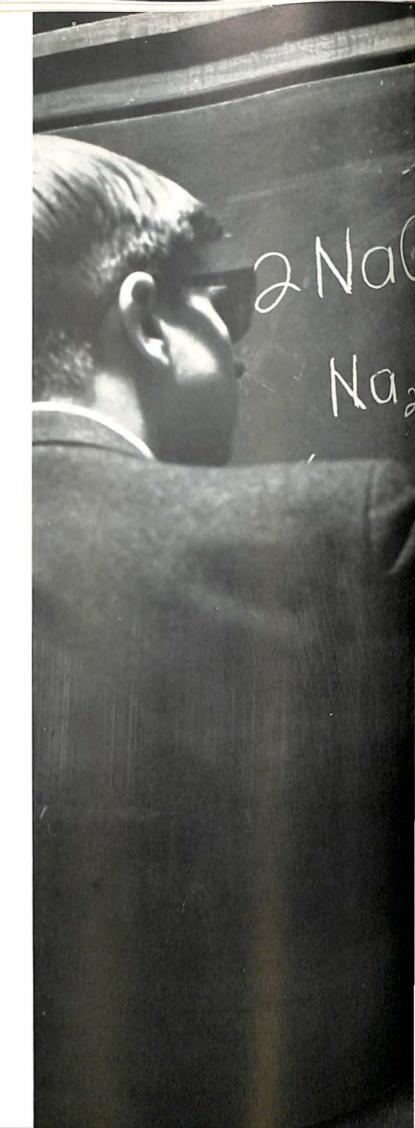

We proudly dedicate this our 1964 ACCOLADE to you, Mrs. May Winn Johnson—our teacher, guide, and friend.

ADMINISTRATION

The light of knowledge is directed into our minds and lives every school day by the efforts of our capable faculty. Their outstanding ability gave us this year not only an insight into the "Three R's", but also a greater understanding of our fellow man and of ourselves.

The administration of our school, under the leadership of our principal, Mr. Davis, is one of the best in the state. Various subjects are taught in the fields of natural science, foreign languages, English, vocational training, fine arts, and physical education.

These people, our teachers, are those who help to mold our minds and characters in order that we may better cope with the conflicts and responsibilities of our ever-changing world.

MR. DAVIS

Mr. Con A. Davis, our principal, will always be foremost in our memories of Cave Spring. Under his leadership, now in his eighth year, Cave Spring has received honors and recognition both locally and abroad.

Mr. Davis graduated from King College of Bristol, Tennessee, then receiving his Master of Education degree from Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1955. He coached basketball and football at William Fleming High School, McCallie Prep School, and Washington and Lee University before joining the administrative staff at Cave Spring.

Our principal is indeed a pillar of our school, looked up to by everyone with whom he comes in contact.

ASSISTANT

MR. SPIGLE

Our assistant principal, Mr. Jack R. Spigle, is also serving his eighth year at Cave Spring. In addition to his guidance duties, he also teaches. He graduated from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and earned his Master of Education degree from the University of Virginia.

Mr. Spigle is admired and respected by all of Cave Spring's students and certainly holds a place of honor in the memories of our school.

MR. SPIGLE

Mr. Spigle and his staff: First Row: B. Meador, S. DiGeronimo. Second Row: C. Jamison, J. Laustrup, R. Johnson, G. Stein, J. Harmon, L. Stone, K. Grizzard, Mr. Spigle, S. Paskert, P. Thor, C. McDowell.

PRINCIPALS

MR. EDMUNDS

Mr. Bill Edmunds is serving as assistant principal for the fourth year. Mr. Edmunds has been at Cave Spring eight years as head football coach. He graduated from Duke University and has studied during the summer at both Roanoke College and Lynchburg College.

Mr. Edmunds is especially noted for his efforts on behalf of our school's athletic department, but we as students will also remember and admire his work for the benefit of the entire school.

D. Fralin and M. Cox aid Mr. Spigel with report cards.

What would we do without our secretary, Miss Helen Emswiler, and her staff? They type, answer the phone, mimeograph, organize, announce, and generally aid in the smooth running of our school. Besides fulfilling these duties, Miss Emswiler helps give a good impression of Cave Spring to visitors who enter our main office.

OFFICE STAFF

Miss Helen Emswiler, Secretary

Around lunch time at Cave Spring, which comes four times a day, it is pretty safe to say that there are no more appreciated persons in the entire school than the ladies who prepare our hot meals, Mrs. Edna Sumner, Mrs. Helen Pearson, Mrs. Elsie Haynes, Mrs. Maggie Wimmer, Mrs. Gertrude Collins, and Mrs. Sally Thomas. We owe to them a big "thank you" for thousands of well-balanced meals, and the easement of countless pangs of hunger.

"Sure you can charge—you only owe for four lunches already"—says Mrs. Thomas.

DOMESTIC ENGINEERS

MRS. EDMONIA BOND

Another group that Cave Spring certainly appreciates are our custodians, who keep the school clean and in good repair. Sometimes that isn't easy, since it often seems that the students are working at cross purposes with our janitors and maids; that, however, is all the more reason why we are grateful for their efforts.

MR. LAVINDER

GUIDANCE

Our guidance department not only deals with such routine matters as attendance and scheduling, but is always ready to help students with individual questions, job and college applications, and other such items which pose problems for the student. The guidance staff is headed by Miss Grace Draper and includes Mr. Tisinger, Miss Kirkwood, Mr. Dupree, and Mrs. Matney. These advisors, as all students have found, are always ready to help whenever they can.

Mrs. Hunt serves as secretary for the guidance department. Among her many duties, she types much correspondence and sends out mountains of transcripts to colleges for our seniors. She also keeps the books for the cafeteria.

Mrs. Dorothy Hunt Secretary

Mrs. Hunt prepares another transcript for an ambitious senior.

First Row: W. Beard, L. Metz, D. Wiggins, G. Showalter, S. Shepherd, M. Prillaman, C. Light. Second Row: M. Kendrick, R. Pratt, L. Davis, C. Simmons, J. Becker, Mrs. Richardson, Librarian. Third Row: C. Owen, I. Paul, K. Richards, S. Harmon, B. Reeves, J. Richards, J. Harrison, K. Johnson, C. Allen. Fourth Row: R. Salmons, M. Goodwin, S. Charles, D. Blevins, D. Robertson, B. McCoy.

LIBRARY

Cave Spring's excellent library with over seven thousand books and numerous pamplets and magazines at the student's disposal, is a great credit to Mrs. Richardson, our librarian, and her staff. They keep the library organized and attractive, with interesting bulletin boards and frequent new attractions. They make it a pleasure for students to study here.

MRS. ELIZABETH RICHARDSON B.S., Radford

Karen Carlin proves that some people do study in the library.

Mrs. Gwinn's geometry class shows typical enthusiasm after news of tomorrow's test.

MATHEMATICS

Miss Norma J. Abbott B.S., Madison

Teaching Cave Spring geniuses addition, subtraction, and/or other slightly more advanced skills is the duty of our math teachers. The math department offers two years of algebra, plane and solid geometry, and math analysis, in addition to basic math courses. This year our math teachers and students participated in the county's first annual Math Fair, which they hope will help increase interest in the world of mathematics.

Mrs. Beverly Abbott B.A., Radford

Miss Gayle Fitzgerald B.S., Madison

Mrs. Penny Goodall B.A., Northeastern State

NATURAL

"Better hold your nose they're having lab

today!"

Undaunted by such disrespectful comments, Cave Spring's future scientists persevere, ably guided by their biology, chemistry, physics, and general science teachers. This year the addition of a large lecture room and a new physics lab provided more space for scientific learning. A new system of teaching, team teaching, was used experimentally this year in our Chemistry classes.

"Are you sure this is how you make a still?", questions Henny Jordaans of her lab partners, Ulita Solonovich, Cindy Mongait, and Pat Borsum.

SCIENCE

Ninth grade science classes were divided into one semester of chemistry and the other semester for physics.

Earth science, geology, astronomy, mineralogy, were studied for the first semester in the eighth grade science class. The second semester consisted of elementary biology.

Students are encouraged to work on projects outside of class, as evidenced by Cave Spring's large representation at the Science Fair each year.

Mrs. Mable Peters B. S., Madison

Mrs. Delores Peters B. S., Massachusetts State

Mrs. Lucy Montague B. S., Auburn

Miss Elizabeth Cutcliff B. S., Mary Washington

MRS. GLADYS ORR B. S., Radford

READING

A directed study class, conducted by Mrs. Orr, is in its fifth successful year as a course of instruction. It is a nine weeks' course required of all eighth graders. The class consists of drills which are directed to the improvement of each student's reading speed and comprehension.

Mrs. Herley Hudson B. S., Lynchburg

Mrs. Edna Follmar B. A., Roanoke

MRS. JEANNE BLOCH A. B., Bucknell University

MRS. LINDA McCALL B. S., Longwood

ENGLISH

The job of our English teachers—instilling in their students the correct use of English and the love of good literature—is a necessary one which we soon come to appreciate very much, because a knowledge of the English language is necessary for communication with our fellow man.

English that is taught in the eighth, ninth, and tenth grades stresses a working knowledge of grammar, while Juniors and Seniors are introduced to the growth and flowering of American and English literatures respectively. There were some aids that helped students broaden their interests. Paperback books helped students by allowing them to read some of the better literature. Records by famous dramatists gave Seniors a better understanding of Shakespeare's play, "Macbeth."

"Parley-vous francais?" Any student in Mrs. Matney's or Mrs. Hosp's French classes this year would soon have been able to answer an emphatic "Oui"! to that question. In the four years of French offered at Cave Spring, students receive instruction not only in grammar but in conversation and French culture.

FRENCH

Mrs. Betty Hosp B. A., Mary Washington

Miss Wilson doesn't really seem to be too interested in what her students are writing—or do we dare translate it into English!

Mrs. Lurlene Todd B. A., Madison

Miss Penelope McElroy B. A., University of Mississippi

LATIN

Latin may be a dead language, but at Cave Spring it is still the most popular foreign language. Mrs. Todd and Miss McElroy provide four years of Latin, teaching classical civilization, the fundamentals of Latin grammar, and the influence of the Romans upon our modern language and times.

Things couldn't always be this happy in Latin class, could they, Mrs. Todd? Are you just "posing" in Latin?

SPANISH

Miss Dolores Wilson teaches Cave Spring's three years of Spanish. Students who take this language believe that a knowledge of the language of our neighbors to the south is necessary for settling border disputes, putting down riots, and overthrowing governments?

Miss Dolores Wilson B. A., Radford

"I regret that I have but one life to give to my country."—Mrs. Johnson boosts America in Junior History.

Miss Reba Wood B. S., Radford

SOCIAL STUDIES

Mrs. May Johnson B. S., Longwood

Almost every aspect of Social Studies—American history, geography world history, and American government—is taught by our social studies department. In these classes one may often find, besides conventional study, heated political debates and discussions of topics of contemporary historical significance.

Mr. Jerry Dupree B. S., Virginia Polytechnic Institute

Mr. Scott Quillen B. A., West Virginia Wesleyan

Mr. Charles Hammes B. S., Morris Harvey College

Miss Diana Thomason B. A., Hollins

Mr. Wilbur Grant

MUSIC

Miss Thomason is in her second year as director of our other musical organization, the choir. She has enlarged the choir and held afternoon choir sessions, and this year she organized the Knight Notes, a group of sixteen girls who specialize in singing popular music.

BAND

Cave Spring's renowned band, now under the baton of Mr. Wilbur Grant, this year continued to make those matchless musical sounds for which it is already famous. The band provided music and spirit at ball games and ably represented the school in many parades.

FINE ARTS

The art department has also progressed this year. Under the command of Miss Dunham Cave Spring's budding artists have exhibited their creations in various exhibits and have received commendation from many sources.

Miss Janis Dunham B. S., East Carolina

Mrs. Lois Cox B. S., Radford M. S., V. P. I.

BUSINESS

Business students at Cave Spring receive training in preparation for office positions by taking courses such as Typing I and II, shorthand, book-keeping, and office practice. Through Vocational Office Training, students are offered part-time work in local offices and receive valuable on-the-job training while still in school.

Mrs. Leona Robbins B. S., Mary Washington M. Ed., V. P. I.

Mrs. Esta Dew Catron B. S., Radford

HOME ECONOMICS

Sewing, knitting, cooking, decorating, and child care are just a few of the skills learned by girls who studied home economics this year under Mrs. Catron. This class endeavors to teach girls the art of being able homemakers, and gracious hostesses.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Industrial arts, electronics and mechanical drawing, taught by Mr. Spigle and Mr. Morrison, were offered to students interested in improving their manual training. These courses prepared students for work after school and were also prerequisites to many college engineering courses.

Mr. Morrison and Mr. Spigle give individuals instruction in Mechanics.

Mr. Keith Morrison B. S., West Virginia Tech

Mrs. Jill Jones B.S., Madison

Miss Grace Draper B.S., Radford M.Ed., University of Virginia

Mrs. Sarah Sink B.S., Radford

PHYSICAL

Cave Spring offers a varied program of physical activities for girls, including basketball, tumbling, baseball, modern dance and track. All of this is in addition to regular gym activity and classroom studies in hygiene and driver education.

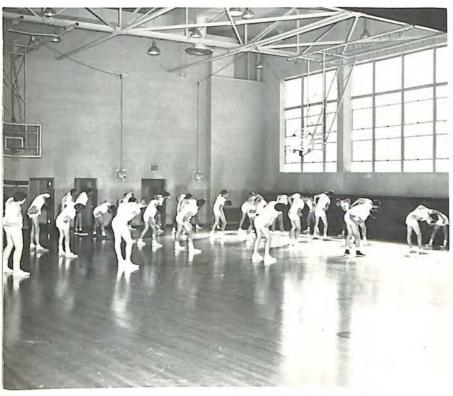

Mrs. Sink explains to her "cell-mates" how a cell mates.

SENIOR GIRLS VS. WOMEN

In the Senior-Faculty game, "The Lady Beatles" sparked by Mrs. Jones' 22 points beat the Senior girls (AS USUAL) 41 - 18.

EDUCATION

Boys at Cave Spring have many sports from which to choose, such as football, basketball, baseball, and track. They also participate in tumbling and receive instruction in health and driver education.

CLASSES

As you turn the pages of the "Classes" section we have no doubt that your heart will be warmed by the radiance of the light of brotherhood as you see again the faces of your classmates-that "best" friend, the "cool guy," the passing acquaintances, that "special" someone. Here, on the pages of the Accolade, are captured the pictures of those who shared your locker, sat next to you in English, or let you up in the lunch line. These are people who were part of your life at Cave Spring High and those whom you will never quite forget.

You see before you the commencement exercises of the Senior Class of 1962-63. It was at this time that our Senior Class 1963-64 came into being. Theirs was truly a busy year.

Class meetings, the Senior Play, College Boards, applications, picture proofs, physics tests, government class, Macbeth, final exams, Class Day, graduation . . . these are but a few of the activities that filled the year of our Senior Class. Yes, it was a busy year, filled with joy, anxiety, bewilderment, and anticipation.

As the year's end approached, the seniors began to emit large sighs of relief to think that their high school years were almost over. In the heart of each one, however, was the feeling that they were giving up something very dear—the school into which they had poured themselves for the last five years.

Fear not, seniors! You bring with you the fondest memories of your high school years and you leave behind the contributions of the greatest Senior Class ever!

JUNIOR CLASS

"Can't you tell me anything about Overstreet's test?" This was the well-known cry of our industrious Junior Class. Much hard work evolved, including the annual doughnut sales, to sponsor the largest dance of the season—the Junior-Senior Prom.

Led by their fearless leaders, Musser, McCall, Johnson, Wilson and Pack, the class struggled to bring about one of the most prosperous years ever. The Junior Class play was presented—a huge success well-deserved by all the hard-working cast members. New rings graced the seniors-to-be, and proud grins were worn as the rings were displayed—some being held on by wax.

June 5 was a day of glory; although not graduating, these students had at last reached the top:
Seniors of 1965.

ORGANIZATIONS

School is not "all work and no play."
Here at Cave Spring there are many organizations which students may join where they meet people with similar interests and abilities.

Some organizations, such as the Honor Society, Monogram or Thespian Clubs, are selective and offer membership to students exceptional in certain fields.

Other clubs are open to anyone who is interested in learning more about subjects they have studied in school. Some very good examples are the Latin Club or the Fine Arts Club.

One more type of club found at Cave Spring is the organization that prepares students for careers after high school or college. The Future Business Leaders of America, Future Teachers of America, and Future Home Makers of America are good examples of this type of club.

Though most are different in their formats, all the organizations succeed in their common goal to add variety and enjoyment to each student's school life through association with other students who have similar interests, abilities, and goals.

STUDENT COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

Under the leadership of Hal Hill, ably assisted by Marjorie Cox, Vice President; Secretary, Lorna Stone; Treasurer, David Price; and Reporter, Arena Hunter, and under the sponsorship of Mrs. Lucy Montague and Mr. Richard Tisinger, our Student Cooperative Association did much this year to promote better relations and understanding between students and teachers, and to promote good citizenship and sportsmanship in all phases of school and community life. To accomplish this, the S. C. A., all of whose members are elected from homerooms, sponsored an Orientation Day for eighth grade students. They prepared and distributed the Student Directory. The S. C. A. also cooperated with the American Field Service in sponsoring our foreign exchange student. A citizenship assembly was presented early in the year. A special Thanksgiving Assembly was another feature attraction.

The Cave Spring Student Cooperative Association this year did much toward achieving their goal of better relations among students, teachers, and parents. Officers: Marjorie Cox, Vice President; Arena Hunter, Reporter; Lorna Stone, Secretary; David Price, Treasurer; Hal Hill, President; Mr. Tisinger, Sponsor, Not Pictured: Mrs. Montague, Sponsor.

Dorothy Zieber taps Jeannine Creech into Honor Society as Jeannine wonders if they checked her physics grade.

The Honor Society is dedicated to the upholding of high scholarship and honor. The society stresses honor at all times, in all places as a vitally important part of life. These students are truly the brightest reflections of our faculty's shining light of knowledge. Only those students who are strong in character and high in their scholastic average are tapped for membership.

Each year the club awards a scholar-ship to an outstanding and deserving member of the Senior Class. To provide money for this scholarship, the Honor Society sponsors a hop. Besides this activity, the club presents a play called "The Empty Room" for a Christmas assembly.

THESPIAN SOCIETY

To be eligible for membership in the Thespians, a person must have at least ten points. These points are acquired by anyone who has performed in any dramatic presentation such as a play or dramatic reading. For example, ten points are automatically awarded to anyone with the lead in a three act play. Additional points are acquired by members for participation in activities which further the purpose of the club. This is to promote high standards and ideals in dramatic arts.

The club has a ceremony every spring for the installation of incoming members. These new members receive a certificate a membership card, and a card formally

FINE ARTS CLUB

The purpose of the Fine Arts Club is to instill in the students of Cave Spring High an appreciation of the arts—music, art itself, and the theatre—and to acquaint the students with the unlimited cultural opportunities available to them in this area.

This organization, sponsored by Miss Dunham and Miss Thomason, is an organization of about thirty-five members. These students must maintain a "C" average to stay in the club.

The members sell Christmas trees and cards and sponsor a hop as well as an assembly during the school year. These projects are carried out in order to make money for the annual cultural tour of a particular area.

Le Cercle de Français is one of the largest organizations in Cave Spring, consisting of about one hundred members. Our French Club of 1963-1964 was sponsored by Mrs. Matney and Mrs. Hosp. With their guidance and help, the club had a very festive year.

The first activity was a social gathering of all members in September. This get-together helped in acquainting the participants and the sponsors. Many special meetings were called in mid-December to practice French Christmas carols. After many rehearsals, the French Club visited the Roanoke Rehabilitation Center. Following the caroling, the tired but jubilant singers were served refreshments, provided by the members themselves. An annual picnic in the spring concluded the year, enjoyed by all concerned.

That's right it does go for French Foreign Aid, Mrs. Matney!

The Laeti Latini, sponsored by Mrs. Todd and Miss McElroy, has had a most exciting year. The first big event of the season is the annual slave sale, in which the first year students are sold to the cruel Patricians and Senators. These Plebians do "slavery" duties for one week, and a banquet concludes their grueling services. After this banquet, they are formally known as first-year members, a well-earned title after their harrowing initiation.

The monthly meetings of the Latin Club are of unusual interest. Special speakers, slides and skits add to the enjoyment after the general business is finished. Special centurions remain anonymous to the club members, for these are special officers who keep the meetings quiet and well-organized. The first-year Latin students are also represented in the meetings by Tribunes who have the right to veto any bill which would not be fair to the Plebians. All this leads to active but organized meetings.

Senators, First Row: P. Bosum, P. Sharpe, D. Wickline, J. Nunn, J. Fralin, D. Sigmon, M. Barranger, E. Turner, J. Wetsel, C. Price. Second Row: S. Grisso, J. Harvey, C. Grasty, A. Hunter, E. #### LATIN CLUB

The Patricians, or second year Latin students, have a busy schedule. They must plan the slave sale, give a Latin assembly, and sing Latin carols at Roanoke Memorial Hospital during the Christmas season.

A newspaper is published semiannually by the hard-working, industrious, and conceited Senators. These third and fourthyear students reign as the mightiest—as was proven in a fierce contest between the Senatorial girls and the Patrician girls in the form of a football game. This game, won, of course, by the Senators, was so popular and profitable that it will be a yearly event.

The greatest activity of the year is Latin Week, celebrated in April. Daily events take place in celebration of the mighty Romans. The grand finale is the huge banquet put on by the slaves. The first-year students become slaves for one last time, and Roman customs are carried out to the fullest.

Y-TEENS

Haynes, A. Tuck, M. Rothgeb. Third Row: B. King, M. Eastwood, J. Butcher, C. Allen, N. Hatcher, N. Powell, B. Willis, P. Bowers, J. Caldwell.

The Junior Y-Teens is a group of girls whose main goal is to set up a good Christian relationship among students in their school, community and throughout the world. These girls are members of the Y. W. C. A. and are privileged to take an active part in all its programs. The projects of Cave Spring's Y-teens include the maintenance of the summer camp at Kiwanianna. Surely, these girls are another ray in the bright light of Cave Spring.

PROJECTION CLUB

Any teacher who wished to show a film last year knew just where to go—the Projection Club. The organization, consisting of twelve boys and under the direction of Mr. Jones, operated the visual aid equipment for any teachers desiring it throughout the school day. Not only did these boys help the teachers but also helped themselves by gaining valuable experience in the use of such equipment as movie and slide projectors.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

The FHA is an active organization which sets for itself many goals which are more than reached. One of their major projects is sponsoring a foster child. They provide clothing and food for her every few months. Further realizing the importance of welfare in the community, they sponsor an Easter egg hunt at the Lutheran orphanage in Salem.

During the year each member must complete an individual project and cooperate in club projects. Some of these were to decorate the show cases in North Wing and second floor hall, to publish a yearbook of club activities, and decorate a float for the Roanoke Christmas Parade.

To finance these activities the club sponsored bake sales, a hop, and sold handmade decorations at Christmas.

Any regularly enrolled student of this high school who is taking at least one business subject may be a member of the Future Business Leaders of America.

The aim of the club is fourfold: First, to develop competent aggressive business leadership; secondly, to create more interest and understanding in an intelligent choice of a business occupation; thirdly, to participate in worthy undertakings for the improvement of business and community; and finally, to develop character and train for useful citizenship.

The clubs activities this year included: a Coke party for prospective members, the collection of toys for the Veterans to repair and distribute, and a tour of Roanoke Mills to develop production, distribution, and consumer trends.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Elizabeth Powell Chapter of the Future Teachers of America, sponsored by Miss Reba Wood and Mrs. Herley Hudson, did much to encourage students to make teaching their life's work and to familiarize them with the profession.

This year students in the club observed at Cave Spring Elementary School and substituted several times at various county elementary schools. They also taught for the teachers who went to the V. E. A. Convention. To familiarize the student body with the club and its purpose, American Education Week was observed at Cave Spring. At the end of this week an F. T. A. assembly was presented and a tea given to the teachers after school.

The club of about fifty members is made up of tenth, eleventh, and twelfth graders with a C average or better who are interested in teaching.

Mr. Mellon, Mr. Echols, and Mr. Coffendafer make an attempt at being "sagely" in the FTA assembly.

FUTURE SCIENTISTS OF AMERICA

The Future Scientists of America are students who have had a "C" or better in science subjects the previous year, have had good citizenship records, and above all have an interest in the world of science. The purpose of the club is to promote interest in scientific fields and to encourage individual achievements in those fields.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Dolores Peters, Mrs. Mabel Peters, and Mr. George Akers, the club did much to fulfill these aims this year. In addition to the monthly meetings, at which guest speakers were heard, the club also had many outside school activities. The Future Scientists took trips to the Peaks of Otter and a mushroom farm in Hollins. Two more extensive trips were taken to Richmond and Washington. The club sponsored a bake sale and sold Christmas wreaths to raise funds for these activities.

Though the club this year was small—about twenty members—it was very dynamic and looks forward to an even bigger and better future.

STAGE CREW

Behind every assembly, concert, or play presented at school is a group of efficient, responsible young men—the Stage Crew. The stage crew is responsible for lighting, special effects, and props used in every performance in the school auditorium. They are also in charge of keeping the backstage area clean.

A new addition to this year's stage crew is the group of girls working on make-up. They are in charge of putting make-up on characters for all plays presented at school.

These boys and girls are truly the unsung heroes of every successful performance.

MONOGRAM CLUB

The Monogram Club is one of the more selective clubs at Cave Spring. Membership is attained by boys who have earned a letter in any varsity Sport. Its aim is to promote athletics and Citizenship and to provide recognition for boys participating in varsity sports.

This year the club, of about 40 members, sponsored by Coach Edmunds, had a Pigskin Prom and an outing at the end of the year.

The monogram boys help the school by serving as hall monitors and picking up trash in the halls.

PEP CLUB

In many schools there is an organization for the purpose of providing spirit and zest at games and pep rallies. This year for the first time we had such an organization in our school. The response to this call for support was terrific, considering this was the first year for the club, and the membership still grows.

During the weeks previous to the opening of school, the leaders, along with the help of Ann Sizer, drew up a constitution. A meeting was called for those interested and officers were elected. After school started, the club was opened to all those willing to work and come to the games. This club was a big success and we hope it will continue to be a shining light of school spirit in future years.

The year began for the Cave Spring band during the month of August. These pre-school summer practices were necessary for the band to whip themselves into shape for the coming marching season. At the helm of this organization was Mr. Wilbur E. Grant, the new director. Under his leadership they performed snappy routines and spirited numbers at every football half time show. Roanoke and Salem music lovers heard the strains of "Winter Wonderland" in their respective Christmas parades.

As concert season rolled around, the band students got down to practicing for District Festival, a competition in which bands are rated on performances of concert numbers. After that came a spring concert for the school.

The big event of the year is the band's trip to Virginia Beach that is planned after school is out. There the band will perform marching drills and give a concert in competition with twenty-nine other Virginia bands.

MAJORETTES

Our six good-looking and well-coordinated majorettes added color and variety to the band's appearances this year. Led by head majorette, Judy Dart, they could be seen doing very unusual and entertaining routines. On a few occasions the girls shed their regular uniforms (new this year) and donned clown costumes and red velvet, fur-trimmed Christmas suits.

DRUM MAJOR

The responsibility of leading the band, majorettes, and drill team fell this year to Glenn Gliexner—and quite a large responsibility it was. His was the job of directing and leading the band through all of its numbers and precision marching on the football field and during the band's numerous parade appearances. His snappy baton and high stepping added dash and color to all marching performances.

CHOIR

The Cave Spring High School Choir, directed by Miss Diana Thomason, has had its most active year. They gave several concerts including the annual Christmas Program with the band and a television appearance on Lorrie Gregory's "Panorama." Also, at a spring assembly for the student body the choir presented several songs from the more popular broadway musicals, "The King and I," "South Pacific," and "Oklahoma."

A new addition to the Cave Spring Choir is its mascot, Troll. He is a little doll that has been dressed in a choir robe and always accompanies the choir to the various concerts and appearances.

A special new feature of the choir this year is the Knight Knotes. This choral group is composed of sixteen girls who were carefully selected for their musical ability. Their first appearance was at the Veterans' Administration and then the Naturalization Service in November. In the spring the Knight Knotes sang at the Roanoke Memorial Hospital and for two assemblies presented for the student body.

DRILL TEAM

Twenty-six girls are chosen yearly to participate as members of the Drill Team. The band director, sponsors, and the past year's captain act as judges and find it most difficult to select from the many qualified participants, the certain few to accentuate the beauty of the band.

Half-time shows, anticipated with much enthusiasm by the crowd, always add zest and

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

The varsity cheerleaders are elected each year to accompany the teams to all games and to promote school spirit at these games. They are chosen on the basis of grades and cheering ability.

During the year they sponsor such things as the bonfire at Homecoming and the hop following that game. Joining with the Monogram Club they help in putting on the Pigskin Prom.

These girls work hard in presenting pep rallies, making posters and, this year, started a Pep Club to aid them in cheering at games. Along with the student body they are responsible for our well known school spirit and good sportsmanship.

Naw, Mike, it's not raining at all!

J. V. CHEERLEADERS

Our J. V. teams need the support and spirit found at varsity games and the J. V. Cheerleaders help in making this possible.

The squad consists of four ninth grade girls and four eighth grade girls. At the beginning of each year, four new eighth graders are elected and the four who were eighth graders the year before remain on the squad.

were eighth graders the year before remain on the squad.

These girls are present at all J. V. football games and at all home basketball games and non-district "away" games.

They cheer the boys on to victory at varsity pep rallies during football season and have their own pep rallies in basketball season.

Top to Bottom: Beth Willis, Carol Allen, Gail Werner, Cindy Jamison, Co-Captain; Nancy Powell, Nancy Dahmer, Jeanne Butcher, Nancy Hatcher, Captain.

A friendship circle is typical of all games, both football and basketball, in which the cheerleaders become acquainted with those of other schools.

KNIGHT LETTER

The periodical that informed the student body each month of activities within the school was the Knight Letter. Fiery editorials, entertaining articles, and informative columns are just a part of the enlightening material that appeared in the newspaper.

Though putting out an interesting paper is not easy—as anyone on the staff will tell you—the task was made much easier by the direction of sponsors, Mrs. Todd and Mrs. Bloch. Also helping to oversee operations was editor-in-chief, Arena Hunter.

By working on the newspaper, the staff members gained valuable experience in writing techniques. This was achieved both through practical experience and participation in journalistic conventions.

Fun, work, and experience blended together into the smooth running of our much appreciated Knight Letter.

ACCOLADE

It was a hectic year for our ACCOLADE staff, one filled with deadlines that weren't met, pictures that weren't taken, ads that weren't sold, and mistakes that were made. But it would have been a much more confused and disorganized year had it not been for the combined efforts of our two sponsors, Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Robbins. If it had not been for their know-how, experience, and determination, and the hard work of our annual staff, this year's Ac-COLADE could not have been printed.

STAFF

The year for our annual staff anyway, began in the middle of August with meetings to decide the theme and cover design. September and October brought student pictures and the selling November consisted of ads. mostly of selling ACCOLADE subscriptions and making layouts. Fall sports were finished in December. And so it went throughout the year as ragged ends were drawn together by the unified efforts of sponsors and staff until this book was now completed for your enjoyment.

We hope we have succeeded in our endeavor to capture in words and pictures the moods and impressions of the year 1963-64.

ATHLETICS

The anxiety of a fourth down, and short yardage play, the exasperation of the missed free throw, the dejection that follows the game we almost won, the extra effort as the finish line is neared, the 3 and 2 count—tense moments all—are experienced by players and spectators alike during any one of Cave Spring's Athletic events, be it football, basketball, track or baseball.

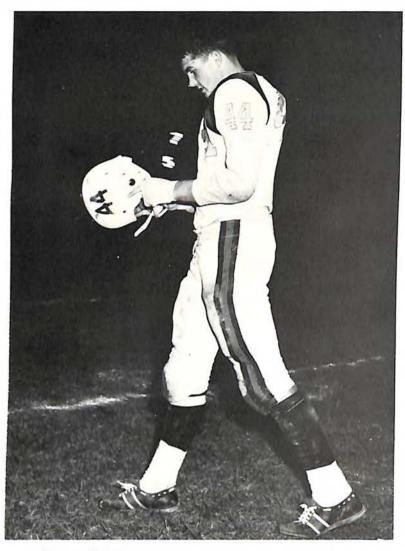

Through participation in any of these events, students develop wellcoordinated, strong, healthy bodies by extensive physical exercise.

Our able coaching staff stresses not only the building of strong bodies but the developing of a strong sense of sportsmanship and fair play among participants in their respective sports. It is the true athlete who can accept defeat as well as victory with humility.

In this Athletics section we have attempted to bring you in words and pictures the emotions of players and spectators as they strive for victory in such a way as to bring honor to their school.

CAVE SPRING 11-NORTHSIDE 6

The Cave Spring Knights kicked off the 1963 football season with a 14-6 decision over Northside. The game began on a low note for the Knights as Northside returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown. Cave Spring's defense rallied as they staved off the touchdown-hungry Vikings for the rest of the game. Cave Spring scored twice with runs by Allen Sackett and Rod Grigg. The gun sounded with a score of Cave Spring 14, Northside, 6.

Quarterback Rod Grigg (11) sweeps right end for extra yardage before being hauled down by Northside defenders.

CAVE SPRING 7-BEDFORD 6

Defense was the key to victory for the Knights as they downed Bedford, 7-6. An early touchdown by Allen Grigg, with the successful point—after kick by Gary Flora gave Cave Spring a 7-0 advantage in the first half. On the second half kickoff, Bedford's Bobby Booth ran 85 yards to paydirt. A bad snap from center prevented the point-after attempt. After that, the Knights defense proved too rugged for them as the Otters gained eight yards rushing.

Bedford Defense smothers Mike Thacker (33) just short of pay dirt.

CAVE SPRING 6-COVINGTON 20

The Knights put up a terrific stand for 3 quarters before going down to their first defeat of the season, 20-6, at the hands of the Covington Cougars. Late in the second quarter, end Chester Murphy blocked a Cougar pass in midair and scored the only Knight touchdown. The half ended with Cave Spring leading 6-0.

After the second-half kickoff, it took Covington 4 plays to score on a run by John Anderson. The point after was good, and the Cougars led 7-6 in the third quarter. In the fourth quarter the Cougars went on a scoring binge which gave them 13 points. As time ran out, Covington was on top by a score of 20-6.

CAVE SPRING 6-ANDREW LEWIS 24

For the fourth game of the season, Cave Spring journeyed to Salem for a gridiron battle with Andrew Lewis's Wolverines. In a torrential rain Cave Spring tried gamely to secure a touchdown. The Knights soon mired down on muddy field; at the half Andrew Lewis led Cave Spring by a score of 18-0.

Lewis led Cave Spring by a score of 18-0.

Late in the third quarter, Mike Thacker carried the pigskin for the only Cave Spring touchdown, but this brief hope soon faded in staunch Cave Spring fans as they watched the clock run out without another Cave Spring score. The game ended as Andrew Lewis downed the Knights 24-6.

Cave Spring's Mike Wohlford (25) tackles an Andrew Lewis player as Allan Sackett (26) and Mike Thacker (33) come to his aid.

CAVE SPRING 6-PATRICK HENRY 33

After losing to Andrew Lewis, Cave Spring returned home to face another defeat at the hands of Patrick Henry. The Patriots won the toss and elected to receive. On the second play of the game, halfback Vin Edwards broke free from Cave Spring defenders and ran for a 73-yard touchdown. Having an ineffective offense, Cave Spring soon surrendered the ball to Patrick Henry on their 1-yard line. A few plays later, Edwards struck again for a 95-yard touchdown run. Before the half had ended, The Patriots had again scored, and they led Cave Spring by a tally of 20-0 at the half.

In the second half, Cave Spring scored one touchdown while the Patriots chalked up two. All hope was gone for the Knights as the gun sounded on a score of 33-6.

CAVE SPRING 13-BASSETT 25

Cave Spring lost its fourth game of the season as the Bassett Bengals defeated the Knights 25-13. Bassett scored early in the game as they ran the ball over for a quick touchdown. The Bengals then kicked off to the Knights but the tide turned quickly as Bassett recovered a Cave Spring fumble which led to another Bassett touchdown. Cave Spring was also busy as end Ed Clowser and fullback Allen Sackett scored Knight touchdowns. Bassett scored again before the half ended and led Cave Spring by 6 points—19-13.

tackler after gaining first down.

CAVE SPRING 12-WILLIAM BYRD 42

Cave Spring faced its fifth straight loss as William Byrd turned back the Knights by a score of 42-12. The Knights shook the Terriers by dominating the first quarter and drawing first blood in the second quarter. The Terriers came back strong and led the Knights 13-6 at the half. Cave Spring scored one touchdown in the second half. William Byrd totaled 22 points in the fourth quarter to down the Knights by a final score of 42-12.

Cave Spring offense proved too rugged for William Byrd as the Knights score off-tackle.

CAVE SPRING 0-MARTINSVILLE 25

Martinsville's unbeaten Bulldogs chalked up another victory as they beat the Knights 25-0. Halfback Billy Smith scored the first touchdown for Martinsville in the first period. Gary Wheeler added another touchdown for the Bulldogs during this period, making the score 13-0. Cave Spring maintained possession of the ball most of the second quarter but failed to score.

Allen Sackett drives for yardage.

CAVE SPRING 7-DREWRY MASON 6

Cave Spring returned to the winners' circle after a 7-6 homecoming victory over the Drewry Mason Spartans. Cave Spring's initial scoring march started on their own 17-yard line. Good passes and a long run by Rod Grigg put the Knights in scoring range. Seven plays later fullback Allen Sackett charged into the Drewry Mason end zone for a Cave Spring score. The point after was good.

Drewry Mason came back to score against the Knights in the fourth quarter but the pass for points after fell incomplete.

Mike Wohlford (25) intercepts a Drewry Mason pass and returns for long yardage.

CAVE SPRING 0-FRANKLIN COUNTY 0

Cave Spring and Franklin County battled to a scoreless tie as they ended their Blue Ridge District seasons.

The closest Cave Spring came to scoring was in the third quarter when the Knights drove to the Franklin County 12-yard line, but the drive stopped and Gary Flora's attempt for the field goal was short. Mike Thacker stood out for the Knights on offense, while Mike Wohlford was rugged on defense.

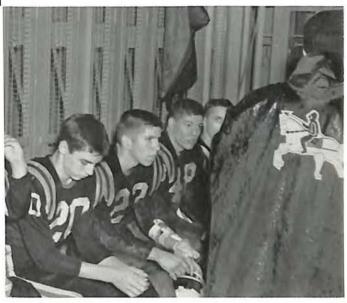

Tom Napier's punting for Franklin County kept the Knights back in their own territory most of the game. Roy Jarrett led the Eagle attack while Jimmy Law was outstanding on defense.

Chester Murphy outreaches Franklin County defender.

J.V. FOOTBALL

The Cave Spring Jayvees had a better than average season this year, winning four of their seven games.

Under the direction of Coach Scott Quillen, the Knights opened the season losing by the score of 7 to 6 to Andrew Lewis. The Knights, however, came right back and defeated Roanoke Catholic by a score of 25 to 0. The next game was with Patrick Henry, who beat us by a score of 18 to 6. # FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

COACH CHARLIE HAMMES

The "Baby Knights" had one of the best seasons that they have had in the last two years.

Under the new coaching of Charlie Hammes, the freshman team won its first game of the 1963-64 season by a score of 6 to 0 over Franklin County. The next game, however, was lost to Northside 19 to 0. William Byrd was next, falling to the Knights by a score of 20 to 0. The next game of the season was with Andrew Lewis, who defeated the Knights 12 to 7. At this point the Knights went up against Jefferson, their last game of the season, and came out on top 25 to 19.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Jim King (44) drives for two against Jefferson's Robertson (25).

Lacking depth and well-rounded shooting ability, Cave Spring began its 1963-1964 basketball season. It became evident that Jim King, senior forward, would be the Knights' key figure, with Bill Craighead, senior center, being joined by juniors Dennis Shockley and Jerry Wheeler in the rebound department. At guard the Knights started speedy senior Dwight Fralin, and Rod Grigg, a talented junior. Understudying these players were future Knight Stars.

In the first game the Andrew Lewis Wolverines proved to be a tough opponent and soon overpowered the Knights 53-47. Invading the home court of the Northside Vikings next, Cave Spring again was defeated 53-42. Profiting by their mistakes, the Knights displayed a more balanced attack, but succumbed to the powerful William Byrd team in a close 62-58 decision. Using a man-to-man defense and controlling the backboards, Cave Spring downed Franklin County Eagles 75-65, with King scoring 34 points.

Dwight Fralin (22) leads the fast break against Andrew Lewis.

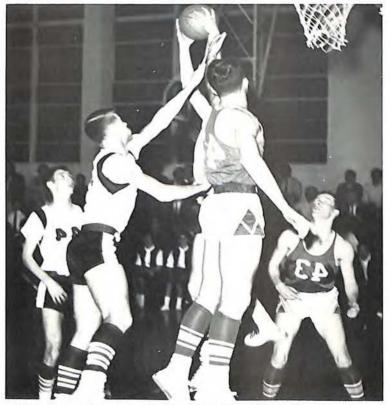

Jim King (44) stares down his opponent in the Lewis game.

Following the Christmas holidays, the Knights returned to action against the Bassett Bengals but could not buy a basket, the score being 75-54. The team then played Drewry Mason and was beaten 58-34. Re-entering winning column, Cave Spring sup-pressed the Bedford Otters, with Jerry Wheeler doing an excellent defensive job. We continued our winning streak by subduing Fieldale 70 to 40 and then mauled the Covington Cougars 79-49. Defense excelled again as Cougar high scorer Butch Reid was held to 9 points. The Knight winning skein snapped at the Lewis Wolverines' hands, as they lost an evenly matched battle 58-56.

Cave Spring play ebbed low again as the Knights encountered William Byrd again and were crushed 61-39. Excitement reigned as Jefferson frustrated the Knights 52-50 in double overtime. Poor rebounding against Patrick Henry injured Cave Spring's hopes of victory, although play improved in the last half. Having lost 60-43 to the Patriots, the Knights entertained Northside again and was victorious 56-51. Defeat loomed once more for the Knights as Franklin County quelled them 65-55. A close scoring battle followed with Bedford, with King suffering a broken nose but remaining to sink a foul shot with two seconds to play, making the score 47-46. Cave Spring ended the season in the Blue Ridge Tournament with Drewry Mason in which the Knights lost 60-43. Although the Knights did not have a winning season, experience was gained by those players new to varsity action.

Dickie Simpson (42) and Ronnie Martin (44) scramble for the rebound in the Jefferson game.

Feelings ran high this year as the baby Knights played the best season ever recorded by the C. S. Jayvee team. The team fought to a fine 12-6 season and made outlooks look promising for next year's varsity club.

Jay Sigmon led the Knights' scoring with a 13.8 point average, while Paul Caldwell and Ronnie Martin led the rebound average with averages of 7.3 and 5.6 respectively.

Coach Quillen discusses half time strategy with the disheartened Knights.

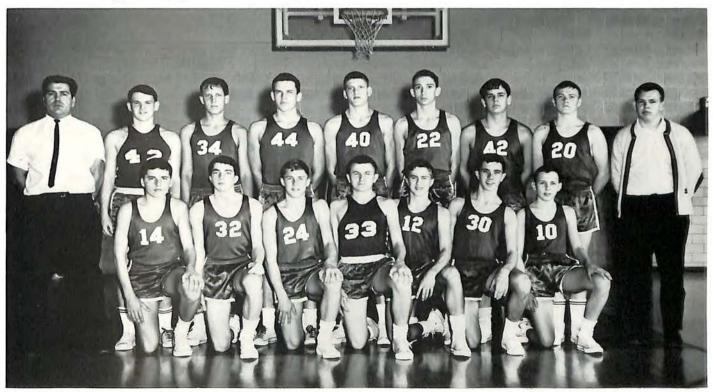

The Freshman Knights had a very good record for the 1963-64 season, winning eleven and losing three.

Jim Matheny led the Knights with an average of 17.4 points per game. Lyle Palmer was next in line with an average of 8.0 points per game.

The Knights, under the direction of Charlie Hammes, averaged 42.1 points per game; and held the opposition to an average of only 27.1 points per game.

GYMNASTICS

Cave Spring's recently organized gymnastic team has rapidly become one of our most active organizations. Members have appeared on television and in talent shows sponsored by many other organizations. At last year's City-County meet the team won 6 out of 12 trophies, placing first in two out of four events.

Mrs. Sink shows Judy Atkins proper form for a hand stand.

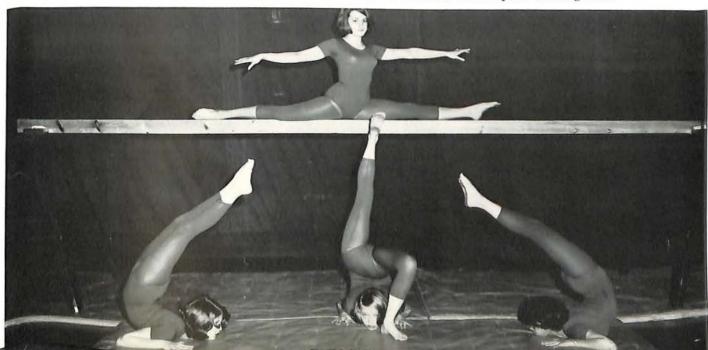

J. C. Garst exhibits perfect form on the parallel bars.

This year the team presented its annual show, gave half time basketball shows, performed at school assemblies, and entered the Girls' State Competitive meet at Longwood, April 11.

If its past activities are any indication, the future of the Cave Spring gymnastic team is certainly bright.

Lynn Hartigan, Susan Pybass, Beth Porterfield, and Gail Carr exhibit prize-winning form.

Cave Spring battles Roanoke Catholic for control of the ball.

The Cave Spring Girls Basketball team entered the 1964 season with high hopes. The first game found the girls playing the Vinton Whites. They slaughtered Vinton by an overwehlming score of 55 to 3. The next game against the Vikettes of Northside, was a real thriller in which our girls lost by a narrow margin of 13 to 12. Defeat came again with a loss to Patrick Henry 28-20. The Knights hit the winning column as William Fleming forfeited their game.

In the two following games Cave Spring was again defeated, first by Roanoke Catholic, 21 to 16; then by the Vinton Maroons, 29 to 22. The biggest thrill of the season came when the Knights won over highly-ranked Andrew Lewis, 26 to 18. Cave Spring ended their season with the defeat of Jefferson, 20 to 14. As a climax to an exciting season the team celebrated with a banquet at the Ponce de Leon Hotel at which time they honored their coaches, Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

The 1964 Cave Spring track team began its season on March 26, after long and strenous practice sessions. The team won its first tri-meet over William Byrd and Jefferson. Cave Spring scored 68 points with Jefferson scoring 53 and William Byrd 25.

Cave Spring grabbed first place honors in the 120 high hurdles, the 100 yard dash, the 880 relay, the high jump, broad jump, shot put, discus, 220 run and the mile relay. Individual honors went to Bruce Davidson and Tommy Hunt with 11½ points each.

Coach Lindsey expects the team to do very well in the remaining meets of the season.

Our up-and-coming baseball team was looked to this year for much exciting action. With all of last year's members back except four, who graduated, the future indeed looked bright.

With our top-notch pitcher Cecil Ashwell and hard hitting Allison Galliher backed by the experienced players returning from last year, the team proceeded optimistically into their 16-game schedule. Truthfully, they had a right to be optimistic after beating William Fleming in a pre-season scrimmage game.

Under the excellent supervision of Coach Jones the boys worked hard to improve their 2-14 schedule of last year. Their schedule included eight home games and eight away games.

AFTER FOUR

School activities were not ended by the last bell. After Four, out of school events filled many students' afternoons and evenings. Dances, scholarships, examinations, play rehearsals, and various other projects requiring hard work and extra efforts resulted in lots of fun while learning.

Some of the gayest festivities of the year were the dances distributed throughout the seasons. Fall brought the Pigskin Prom, while winter was graced by the annual Christmas Dance. Several hops took place throughout the school term. Many new dance steps appeared from the "bird" to the "dog." The most anticipated ball of the year was the Junior-Senior Prom, one of the most beautiful ones ever presented.

Awards and honors were earned by Cave Spring's more industrious students (there are a few left!). Seniors strived to capture one of the top five honors, while the Juniors yearned for the Optimist Award, Boys' and Girls' State, etc.

Many plays were given, under the patient direction of Mrs. Follmar. Nightly rehearsals bloomed into grand successes of the performances. "Spotlight on Youth" also was included in the performer's activities.

The year's activities were many and varied for the students who desired self-improvement, enlightening experiences, and most of all a good time.

DEAR JUKKA:

You came to us as a stranger, to visit us, to learn from us, and to teach us. You have known us in victory and defeat; in good times and bad; known us as citizens of the community and as citizens of the world. We hope that you have found something about us to admire, something which you will want to remember

We thank you, Jukka, for bringing Finland to us. As we have grown closer to you, we have become closer to your country as well.

It has been an honor for our school to host a member of the American Field Service Program this year, but we are even prouder to have been host to such a fine representative.

Our best wishes for your future, The Students and Faculty of Cave Spring High School To the Student Body of Cave Spring:

I would like to address my thanks personally to every one of you, but it would be unpractical. So I express my feelings to all together.

I know that during the following years in my thoughts I shall thank everybody personally when I look at the stories and pictures of this yearbook. At the same time I will live again my experiences here at Cave Spring.

I shall enjoy in my memories the greatest birthday of my life, the eithteenth one, which was celebrated with a large crowd and big noise caused by the nicest people in America.

I shall rehearse again my lines in a senior play and spotlight. I will never forget the homecoming nor the Christmas dance. I think I shall remember every photograph I took for the Knight Letter and the Latin Club. Often I shall think of the great events of school sports, although I never found time to participate myself.

During my stay here you have made me feel almost a part of your nation and so to share also the less joyful part of your life. By this I mean that I was here during the national, I would say universal, tragedy of November the 22nd, and I felt it as strongly as you did.

These all are memories, and for me very dear ones. But the greatest has happened inside of me; I have learned something for which the "thank you" goes to my American teachers and friends. Through my experiences I have found some new and good ideas to add to those of my native country. I have found something to fill my little boxes. I have been taught the goals of the American nation, and why they are what they are. I have learned to understand the Americans.

Shortly saying, for me my year at Cave Spring has been the most stimulating and surely the most memorable of my life.

I shall miss you all, JUKKA OKKSA

KNIGHT

Stemming from the medieval tradition of knighthood has come Cave Spring's coveted honor for a senior This knighthood is attainable only through strong citizenship, responsible leadership, and invaluable service to the school. This year's bestowal by the faculty of this award was made upon William Charles Beamer. Bill has distinguished himself by participation in sports, active work at Camp Easter Seal, selection to the Youth Seminar, as well as his display of school patriotism. He has proven to be no exception to the memorable standards established by his predecessors. For the future Knights, Bill is a ray of hope and encouragement for following the path of high ideals.

DAR

This year's recipient of the DAR Award is Miss Cindy Price. The award is given by the Daughters of the American Revolution to an outstanding senior girl selected by the faculty and is based on leadership, citizenship, scholarship and service.

OPTIMIST AWARD

Recipients of the Optimist award were Arena Hunter and John Lox. Winners were chosen from the Junior Class. Selection is based on outstanding scholarship and citizenship as well as high moral character.

TEEN TOWN

Representatives to the Radio program, "Teen Town," were Hal Hill, Cindy Price, Arena Hunter, and Don Holyfield. These people helped to tell the community of affairs at Cave Spring as well as to create good will among area high schools.

MERIT WINNERS

Dorothy Zeiber, Steve Thompson, Marjory Cox, and Celia Grasty received letters of commendation for their high rating in the National Merit Scholarship Examinations. These tests were given throughout the country during the spring of the Junior year.

B'NAI B'RITH BROTHERHOOD

Hal Hill was selected by the senior class for the 1964 Brotherhood award. He earned this honor by his outstanding citizenship, scholastic achievements, and athletic abilities. A brotherhood award is given to an outstanding senior boy from each school in the area. We can be proud to have Hal as our representative.

Hal was also our nominee for the B'nai B'rith award. The candidate for this honor is nominated by a faculty committee and is based on athletic achievement, scholarship, and leadership activity.

BOYS'-GIRLS' STATE

The purpose of Boys' and Girls' State is to teach young people the fundamentals of state and local government by actual participation in model city and state governments. Activities range from the election of officials to the preparation of an annual budget. Delegates to Boys' and Girls' States are selected from the Junior class by the faculty and attend the event during the summer preceding their Senior year. Those selected for 1963 were: Carolyn Sue Martin, Pete Trussel, Cindy Price, Hal Hill, Topper Ferris and Judy Dart.

Maid of Honor Trudy Porterfield is crowned by Bill Beamer while the yet unnamed queen, Susan Whitman, looks on.

HOMECOMING

"These are the times that try men's souls" thought nine girls on Homecoming court as cold winds whipped their new hairdos. Sophomore attendants were Eddie Lynne Young and Susan Martin. Ann Scott and Ann McCathern were junior attendants. The senior candidates nominated for Homecoming Queen by the football team were Susan DiGeronimo, Susan Whitman, Esther Whitman, Lorna Stone, and Trudy Porterfield. At half time, our Knight, Bill Beamer, crowned Trudy Porterfield Maid of Honor and Susan Whitman Queen. Mike Thacker was named Homecoming King by the cheerleaders. After a victory over Drewry Mason, the Knights celebrated at the Homecoming hop with the Divots furnishing the music.

The students celebrate at the Homecoming Hop, featuring Divots.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

SCA members worked hard all day under the able direction of Celia Grasty. Finally the sparkling lights of a huge Christmas tree, a cozy fireplace, and Santa's sleigh transformed our gymnasium into Christmas at the North Pole. As the Shades softly played Winter Wonderland, ten beauties elected by the Senior class were presented. Hal Hill crowned Esther Whitman Queen to climax the evening's events. After the crowning, the new Queen and Hal Hill led the royal dance.

ALL-STATE BAND

Each year high school musicians compete for positions in either All-State Symphonic or Concert Bands. This year, the try-outs were held at Patrick Henry High School in Roanoke with all District Six high schools competing. In February, the two bands, made up of the best of these musicians, performed in concerts at Giles High School.

DISTRICT CHOIR

Each year a few selected students from our choir are chosen to represent the school at District Six All-State Choir held at Dan River High School near Danville. Betty Wigington, Bob Russell, Tom Guerrant, and Sue Henry attended this year. Sue Henry received the honor of being selected soprano soloist for the choir.

O'Connor, H. Johannsen.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT

The Junior Achievement program gives high school students an opportunity to gain practical pre-business experience by organizing and operating their own small-scale businesses with the guidance of volunteer advisors from local business firms. Groups of about 20 students form companies, sell shares of nonregistered stock at a nominal price of 50 cents a share, select a product to produce, produce it, market it, issue reports to stockholders, distribute profits, and disband themselves at the end of a year.

LATIN TOURNAMENT

Fifteen students are selected annually by the Latin teachers to compete in the Latin Tournament which is sponsored by the Virginia Classical League. The representatives from first. second, third, and fourth year Latin classes are graded on the basis of a three-hour examination. Grades above 85 are awarded an honorable mention; scholarships are given to high-ranking seniors.

First Row: M. Cannon, L. Davis, H. McCullock, H. Crum. Second Row: J. Fralin, G. Forrer, B. Russell, J. Furrow. Third Row: S. Cox, M. Bailey, S. Marshall, G. Abshire. Fourth Row: Mrs. Todd, C. Martin, C. Price, Miss McElroy.

TOP FIVE

Judy Dart

Carolyn Sue Martin

Culminating twelve years of hard work, five seniors have been recognized for their scholastic excellence. Tying for first place honors are Miss Judy Dart and Miss Carolyn Sue Martin with perfect 4.0 averages. Judy attributes much of her success to her parents, teachers, and members of her community who stimulated her curiosity and enthusiasm for learning. She plans to attend Ohio State University in pursuit of science and mathematics. Carolyn Sue has made plans to attend Duke University where she would like to major in foreign languages, especially Russian. Like all the others Carolyn feels that her parents have been the major source of help during her school years. Third place is filled by an accelerated student, Miss Jackie Young. Jackie has been accepted at the Women's Division of the University of North Carolina. She would like to major in psychology. Topper Ferris, another accelerated student, holds the fourth position. Topper has been accepted at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He would like to major in metallurgical engineering. Miss Celia Grasty completes the top five positions. She too has been accepted at the Women's Division of the University of North Carolina where she will major in commercial art and minor in music. Celia feels that heredity, ambition, and a desire for perfection have been major influences on her high school career.

SENIOR PLAY

This year the Senior Class presented a unique play, "The Night of January 16th," the murder trial of Karen Andre, portrayed by Cindy Price. Defense Attorney Pete Trussell pleaded his case before the judge, David Cooper, while Carlton Brooks fought equally hard as the district attorney. Miss Andre was accused of the murder of her employer and lover, business tycoon Bjorn Faulkner. After testimony by Faulkner's widow, Esther Whitman, and her father, played by Bill Draper, the plot took many surprising twists. Susan Smith, Dorothy Zeiber, Topper Ferris, Reggie Wood, Judy Dart, Betty Wigington, witnesses for the state and the defense, offered interesting testimony. Twelve members of the audience were called by clerk Andy Caldwell to serve as a jury. After deliberation Mrs. Johnson, foreman of the jury, returned a verdict of not guilty. Mrs. Follmar directed the play and was assisted by Wendy Klienfield.

Judge Heath (David Cooper) listens to testimony of Susan Smith which seems quite interesting to Cindy Price and George Hill.

TALENT AND BEAUTY

Cave Spring was well represented in the department of beauty throughout the year, both in and out of school. Miss Ann Scott, a junior, was elected by the student body to serve as a princess in the Roanoke Christmas Parade. Later in the year, she was chosen from a slate of eight candidates nominated by the band to represent Cave Spring in the Dogwood Festival at Vinton.

Miss Carolyn Crump, a senior, was a semifinalist in the Miss Teenage America contest sponsored by a local department store. For her talent presentation, she gave a dramatic reading.

Misses Trudy Porterfield and Cindy Price were elected by the senior class to participate in the Christmas parade at Salem. Trudy was chosen over candidates from other schools to be queen. Cindy also participated in Roanoke's Junior Miss contest sponsored by the Jaycettes. Eighteen senior girls from area high schools were judged on appearance, poise, personality and talent. Cindy gave a dramatic reading and was named first runner-up in the local contest.

The Miller and Rhoades Teen Council Representative from Cave Spring this year was Miss Beth Eastwood. Each year the former representative suggests several girls for this honor. They are interviewed and one is selected to model from time to time throughout the year.

FRIENDS

Having reached the conclusion of this, the 1964 ACCOLADE, it seems appropriate that we express in our humble manner our deep appreciation to the many individuals without whose cooperation we could not have published this book.

To our sponsors, our faculty, our printers, and our photographers we say, "Thank you for your help, your cooperation, and your patience."

To those who helped provide the necessary capital—the ADVER-TISERS and the students of Cave Spring High School—we express our thanks. Without their loyal support and faith, the dream of this book could not have been realized.

Sincerely,

THE 1964 ACCOLADE STAFF

Opportunities Like Edison had are WAITING FOR YOU

The inventions of Thomas Edison have affected the lives of people everywhere. They have created entire industries — ours, for example.

Under America's Free Enterprise system, inventive people like Edison can expect special compensations — profit, honor and satisfaction.

The hope of attaining such rewards has been one of our nation's greatest incentives to progress. It is a goal that prods imaginative minds in their quests for new products and methods.

Not everyone can be a Thomas Edison. However, every trained, dedicated graduate can anticipate a full measure of our society's rewards. All it takes is a willingness to work harder and contribute more.
