1970 ACCOLADE

The Accolade is a long-standing symbol of merit and honor. In the age of chivalry, it was a high tribute bestowed by the ruler in recognition of an individual's brave and loyal service. To receive the accolade—a touch on the shoulder with a sword in the hands of the king—was to become a knight. So let us be dubbed for our devotion and service to Cave Spring—in this modern-day presentation of our own Accolade.

Like knights, we have fought an endless tournament of football games. We have cheered at jousts of basketball, baseball, and track. We have won and lost with chivalry and good sportsmanship.

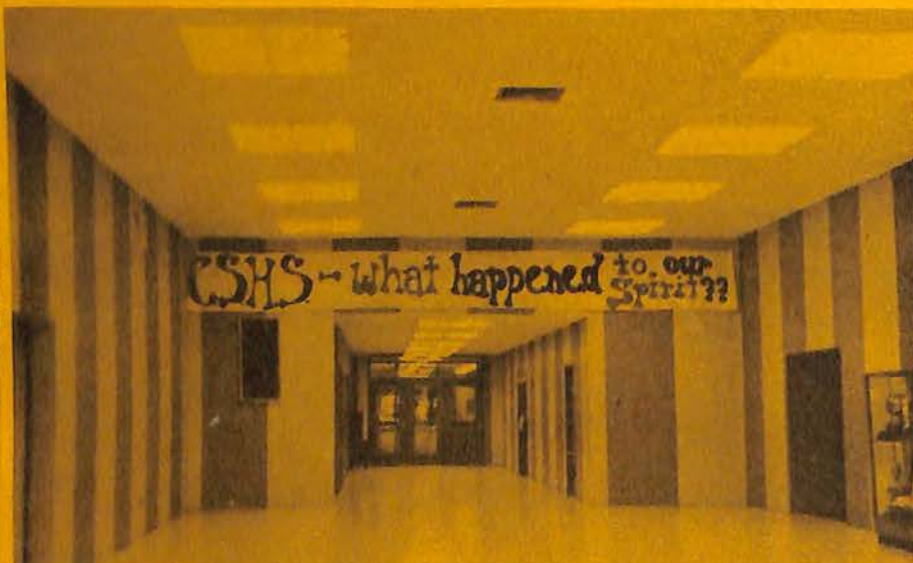

As true knights, we have defended and loved this legend called Cave Spring. We have been guided by its promise of academic fulfillment.

Each of us here has conducted a search for his own "Holy Grail"—here within the classrooms, and discussions of the present. If we leave older and more determined to find it, it is because we have been armed for the battle. Armed with knowledge, reason, confidence, and hope. We cannot be defeated, because we have learned to go on trying.

“O brave new world
That has such people in it!”
..... Shakespeare

“I am a part of all that I have met.”
.... Tennyson

“We who are only undefeated because we have gone on trying.”

..... T.S. Eliot

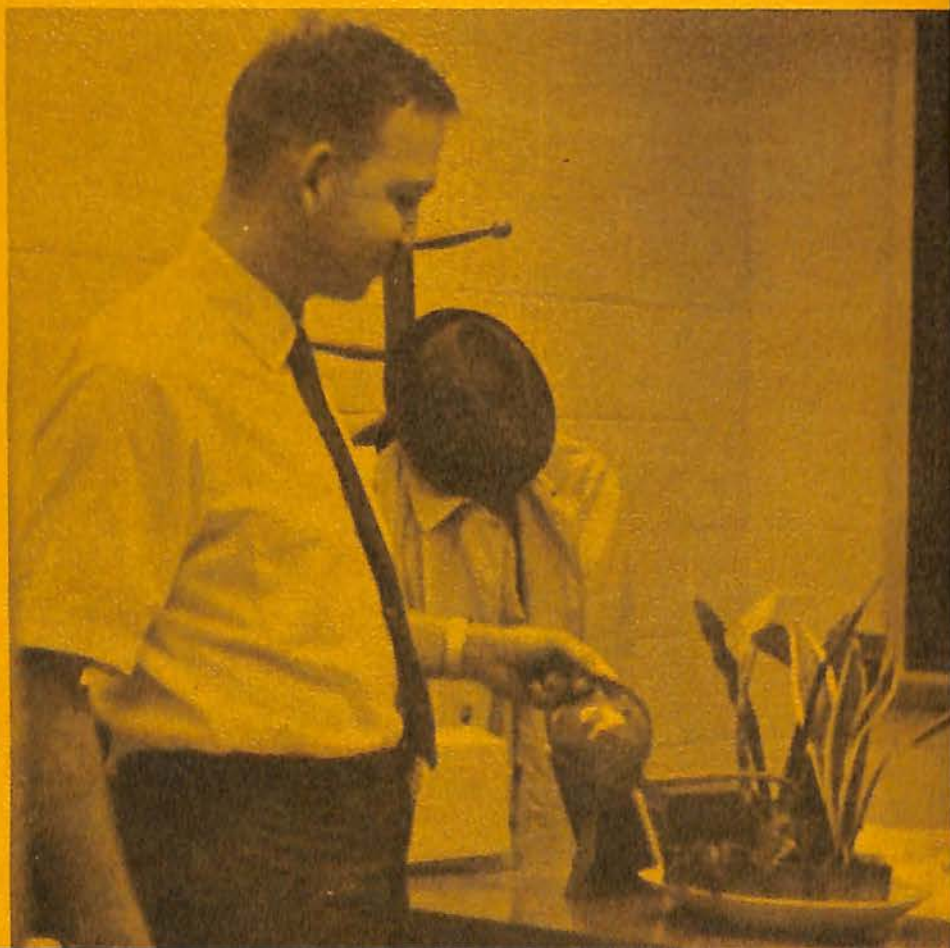

“To follow knowledge like a sinking star
Beyond the utmost bound of human thought.”

.... Tennyson

“To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield.”

... Tennyson

“Though nothing can bring back
the hour
Of splendor in the grass, of glory in the flower;
We will grieve not, rather find Strength in what remains behind.”
..... Wordsworth

Sir James Dale Herbert of Cave Spring . . . selected by the Barons of our noble land and knighted by the King in the year 1969. . . was because of his great qualities of citizenship, loyalty, scholarship, leadership, and honor that he became the champion of our court. With true spirit, he led us into many battles on the athletic field. Sir James, who would have been a welcome member to Arthur's Round Table, provides a worthy example for all to follow.

Sir James Dale Herbert

“And indeed he seems to me
Scarce other than my king’s ideal knight...” ..Tennyson

On the field during every game, James lends support to his team.

James, along with other Senior boys, was an usher at Graduation '69.

“Come here and say that!”

“Bet you can’t do this!”

With Love To You, Mrs. Gladys Orr Anderson

"Here's to the class of '70!"

"Two hours and thirty-seven minutes more, and I won't have to do this again for another year."

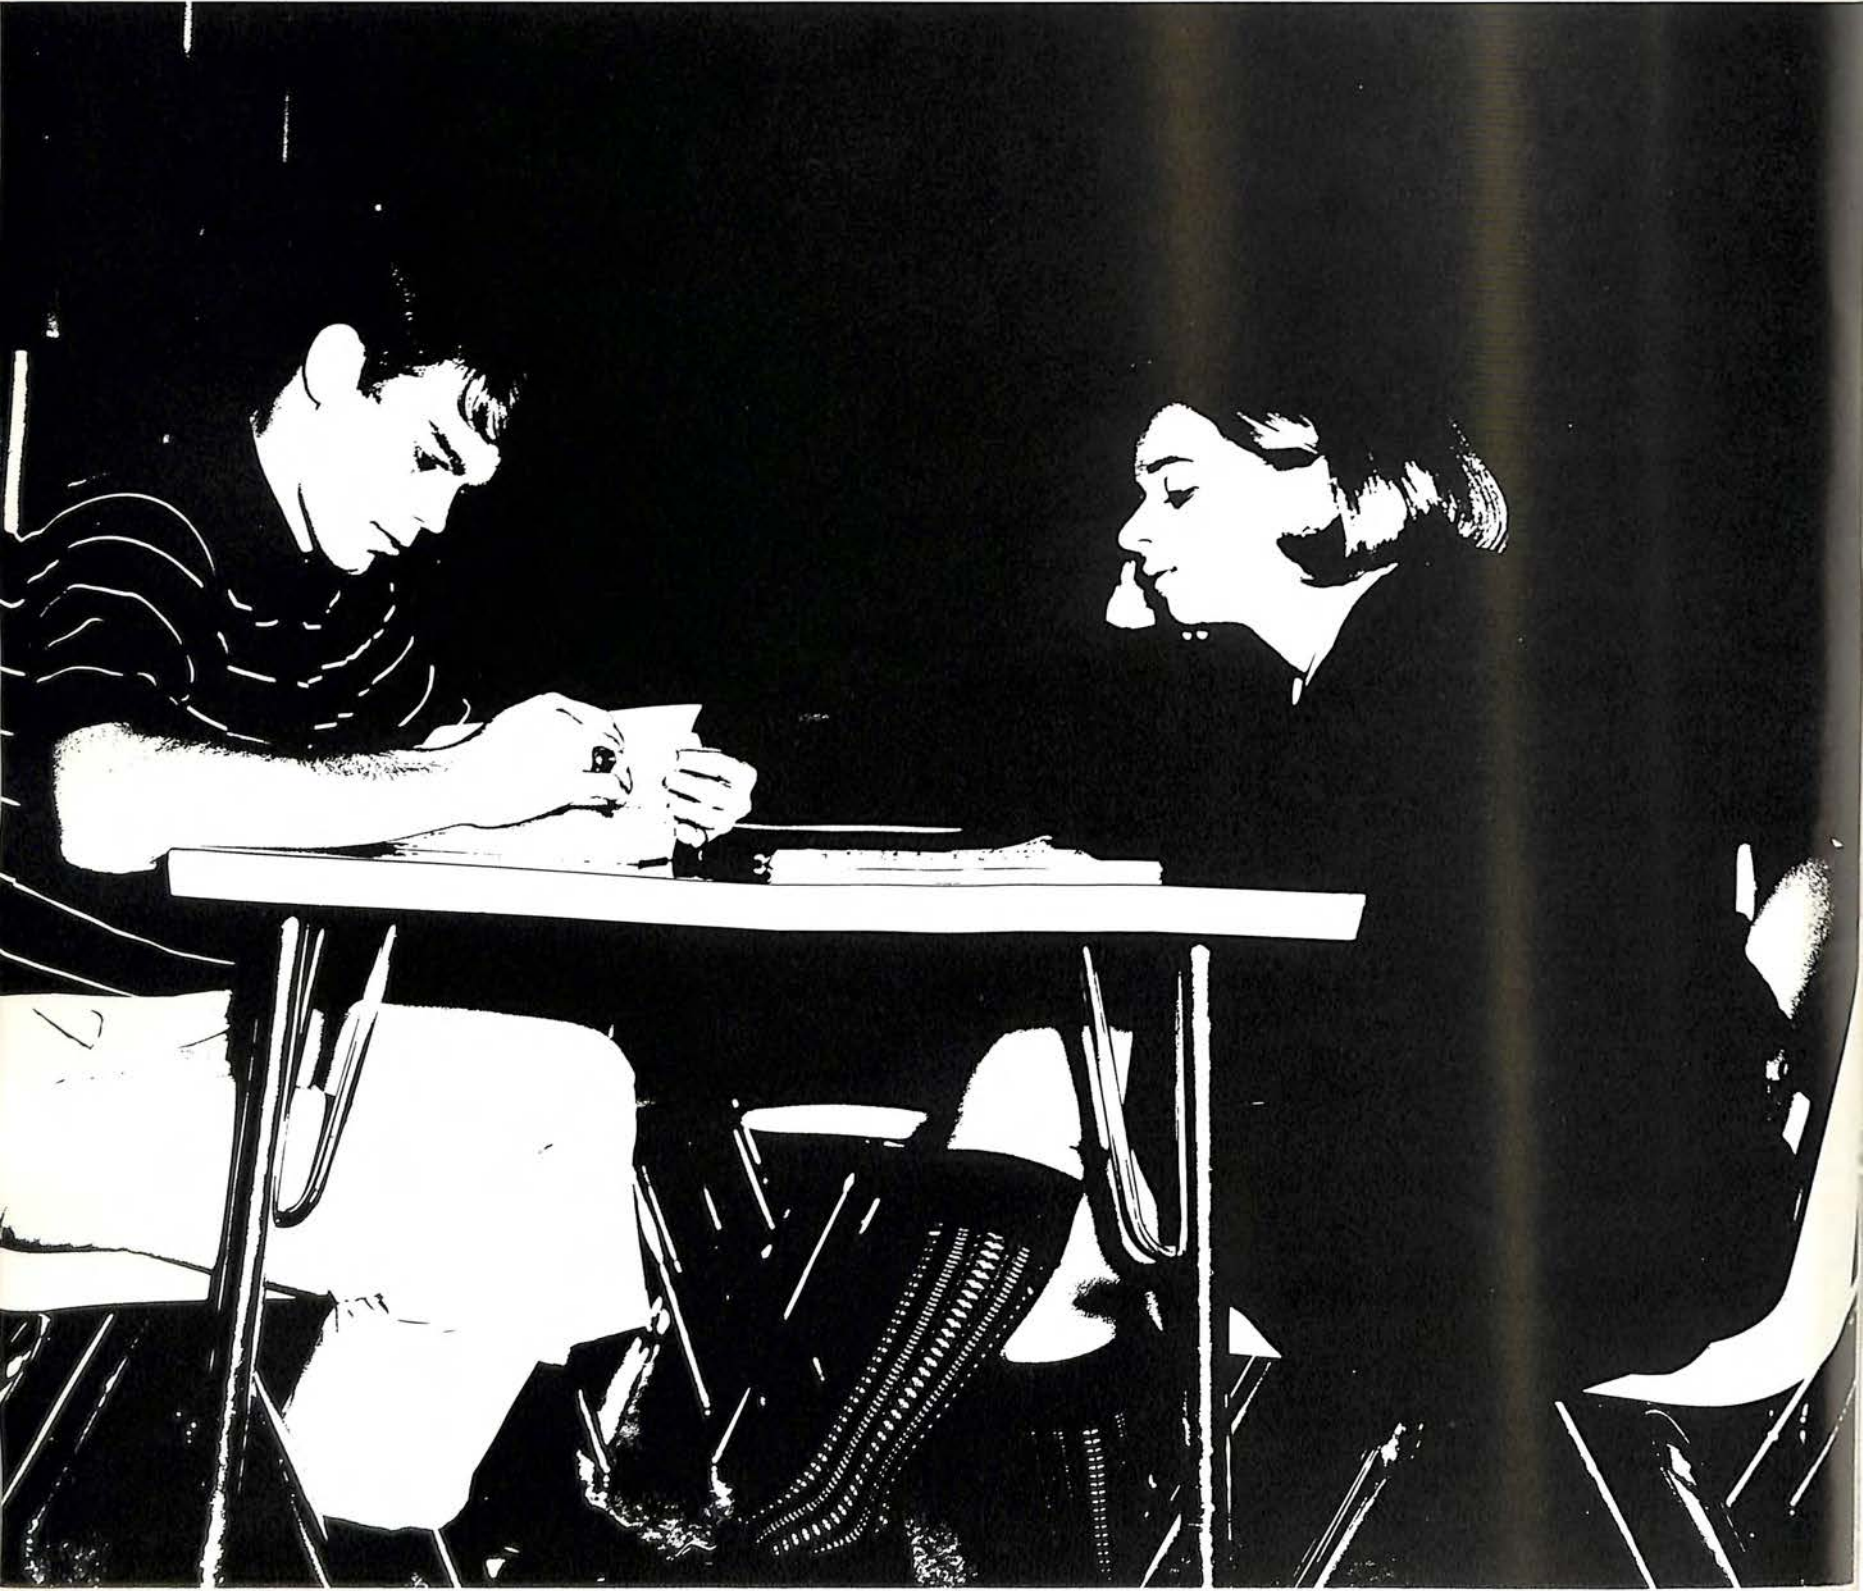

"Remember when . . .?"

"If one more senior fails an exam . . .!"

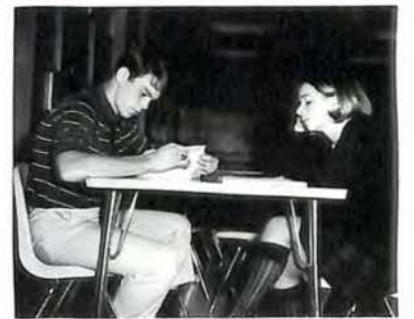

To teach: "to impart knowledge" . . . to give instruction . . . to explain . . . to sincerely want to help . . . to combine guidance and leadership with inspiration, compassion with encouragement, jocularly with seriousness—in just the right proportions, bathed in a warm glow of understanding and respect . . . to administer to the needs and thoughts of others—young and old, popular and lonely, weak and strong . . . to love . . . and be loved. With heart-felt sincerity, we honor your grasp and living representation of all that is teaching.

To you who has endeared yourself to the heart of every wandering, wondering senior at Cave Spring High School . . . to you who has each year grappled with the ever-rising problems of graduation and yet has retained your sense of humor . . . and to you who is one of the strongest, most cherished parts of Cave Spring's foundation on which the characters of so many young people have been built . . . to you, MRS. GLADYS ORR ANDERSON, we proudly and lovingly dedicate the 1970 ACCOLADE.

KNIGHTS

Senior Class officers Gerry Sue Davis, Treas.; Suzie Angle, V. Pres.; Anita Brock, Sec.; and Mark Carlin, Pres.

HAIL TO THEE, O CAVE SPRING HIGH SCHOOL

a beautiful new school was what we came to as sophomores, learning to live with the no-heat, no-room,
no-lunch and the no-windows . . .

WITH OUR KNIGHTS SO TRUE

believe it or not we are true . . .
whether it's with our noble shouts of being No. 1 or our defeated tears in being No. 2 . . .

FROM OUR HALLS OF TRUTH AND HONOR

through crowded halls we struggled against failure—fought for our rights and privileges . . .

LET OUR LIGHT SHINE THROUGH

may each of us go out into the world
prepared . . . knowing that our years here will prove fruitful and beneficial . . .

ALMA MATER, MAY OUR VOICES RAISE IN PRAISE TO THEE

may we always think of you as a friend—a friend who has prepared us to go out and meet the world . . .

BLESS THE GOLDEN DREAMS WE CHERISH IN OUR MEMORY.

and may we forever remember the good times we've had here—cherishing each dream of the past and our years at Cave Spring.

Junior Class Officers

The Juniors have a new name, "The Squires of the Court." Residing as the Squires, the year passes. We will soon be upper classmen. We must look to our futures—going to college, and choosing our career. From one American classic to another, we strive. . . . Through PSAT's and Algebra II. The excitement of receiving our class rings and the thrill of our own class yell. The Squires also planned the greatest Prom of all. All knowest that Squires art great! And next year we look to . . . more work, and being the greatest Knights ever!

Pages return to Cave Spring...

We sophomores returned to our second year at Cave Spring as Pages. We hurriedly ran down student-packed halls and worked our way through tons of homework to show just how sensational the sophomores were.

We went all the way to prove our talent at the magazine assembly and we continued to yell louder at the pep rallies in hope of having our own class yell the next year as squires, and look forward to our year as Knights!

BARONS

Mr. Leonard V. Hale, Head baron, received his B.S. from Roanoke College and his M.A. from the College of William and Mary.

“Scratch the green rind of a sapling or wantonly twist it in the soil, and a scarred or crooked oak will tell of the act for centuries to come. So it is with the teachings of youth, which make impressions on the mind and heart that are to last forever.”

Last Year's Defeat Avenged in Mud and Rain.

C. S. "muddobbers" avenge last year's defeat.

Through August and summer practice a young Knight team prepared for the forthcoming season. We learned through able coaches, and combined with hard work and desire, we mixed all the ingredients necessary for a typical winning season. As the games began, Byrd, Liberty, Covington, and Brookville fell before the Knights' power. After losing by a single point to Dunbar, we rolled to a big homecoming win over Glenvar and overcame Addison before stomping Christiansburg. A tie at Franklin County and a loss to Northside closed out the 1969 campaign. Through it all, the Cave Spring players showed that they were truly GREAT KNIGHTS!

Cave Spring's Crafty Cagers Create Chaos

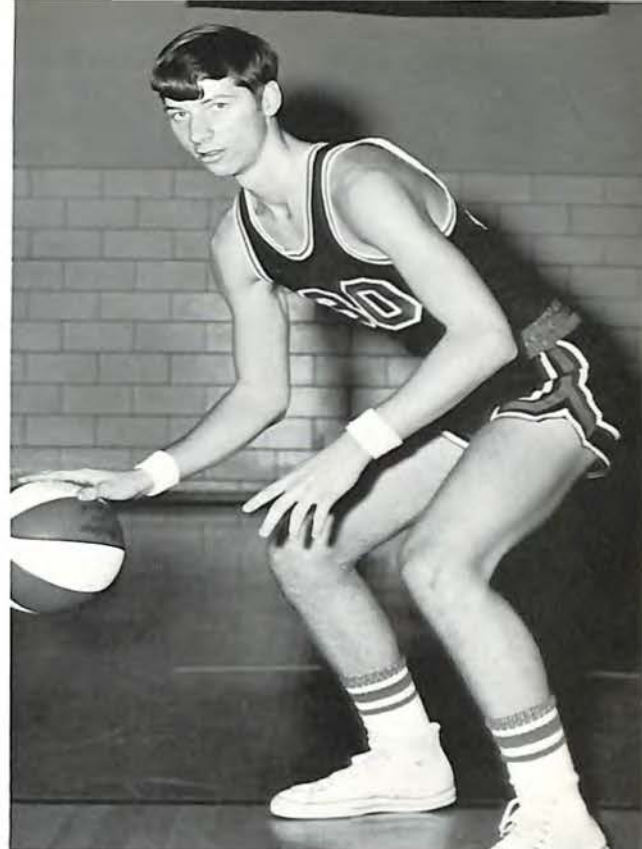

Addison can't stop Steve's bucket!

Wheeler hits a fall-away.

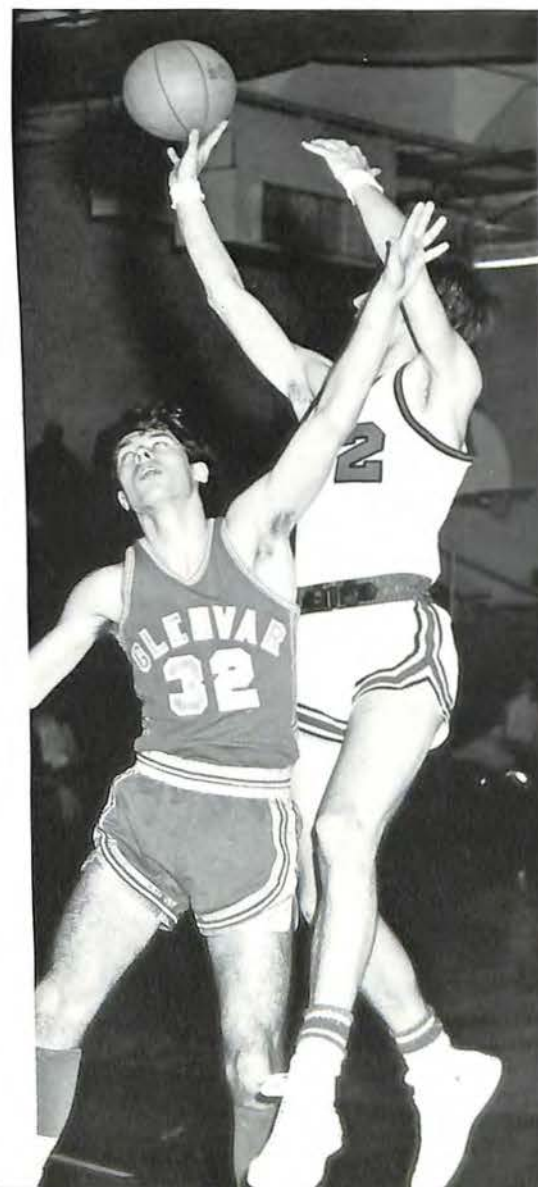

The 1969-70 Cave Spring Basketball Season was a case of the old heads leading the younger ones. With seniors Steve Wheeler, Phil Humphries, and Steve Henry exerting a steadying influence, the juniors rose to their tasks. Garland Henry, Bill Kenny, Ricky Caldwell, and Bobby Corvin will return with plenty of experience. Wins over William Byrd and Clifton Forge opened the season, but the Knights dropped the next four—three of them by a combined total of 7 points. Romps over Brookville and William Byrd followed by a loss to Franklin County for the second time. A big win over Addison in the Civic Center started a four-game win streak, including two victories over Glenvar and one over Clifton Forge. After losses to Northside and Liberty, the Knights avenged an earlier loss at Lord Botetourt and then beat Liberty on the home court to finish the regular season. An opening win over Clifton Forge started Cave Spring off in defense of its Blue Ridge Tourney Championship; but a close loss to Addison ended any Knight hopes, and the season closed with the final record standing at 12-8.

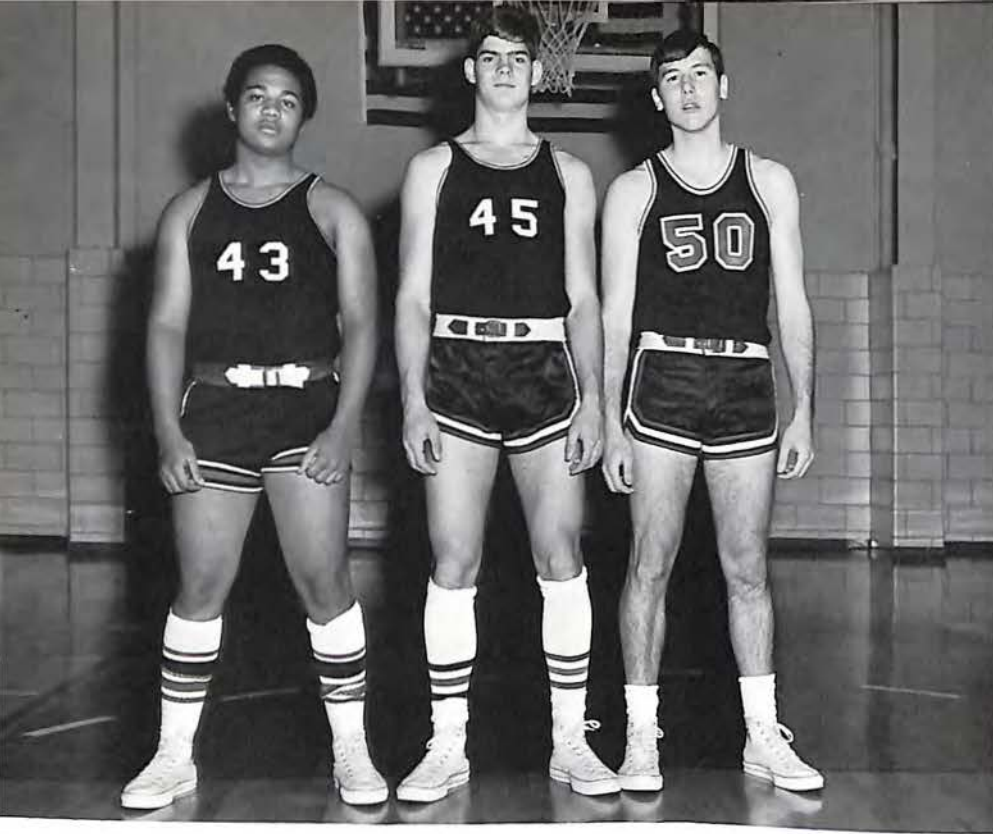

Henry drops in for a friendly basketball game.

Once again, the 1970 girls' basketball team is undefeated and looks as though it will remain so. Most teams have furnished little competition for the female Knights. Led in scoring by Suzanne Hosp, Sue Smith, and Betsy Reinicker, the girls have rolled over every opponent they have faced. Two new coaches have fashioned this winning combination—Miss Diane Toney and Miss Janice Hinkle. Only two seniors will leave this year, so future opponents will do well to beware of our girls.
