This is your School...

What is school? What is the very essence of school which can make it fun or boring, happy or depressing? What makes it a help or hindrance in later years?

Whether it be a student reading an assignment, class competition in the magazine sale, or just showing up for class pictures, all of these are aspects of our high school life. YOU, the student can make it or break it. Cave Spring High is not only a building with 1327 students and 67 faculty members; it is a network of people working together for a common goal — education, which develops personalities, forms opinions and teaches skills. School is not strictly work as there are numerous activities to participate in and various clubs to join for individual interests. Becoming involved in Cave Spring and its activities is but a small preparation for adulthood. It is the testing period where students experiment with new ideas, discover old ones and make decisions which will influence their lives in years to come.

Spirit heightens at Cave Spring

1. Bumper stickers on cars are a common sight around the Cave Spring area.
2. For Homecoming 1973, an Andrew Lewis "football player" is hung in the front lobby.
3. Spirit signs, printed by the Pep Club, are evident everywhere around the school.
4. With Sophia Fulton adorned as the frightened fowl, the Future Teachers of America exhibit their homecoming float.
5. Principal James H. Daughtridge admires the Sportsmanship Award with a smile of pride.
6. A cheering crowd, encouraged by waving banners, supports the Knights in an exciting moment.
7. The Knight Castle, constructed by the Pep Club, provides a grand entrance for the football players.

SPIRIT IS CONTAGIOUS. ..WATCH OUT!..

School spirit and team support boosted the school's morale which helped to make the athletic season one of the best in this school's history. The increase in school spirit was partially attributed to longer pep rallies which honored each male and female sport; thus, the student body became more aware of who's who on Cave Spring's athletic teams, causing a rise in interest in competition. This interest was rewarded with the Sportsmanship Trophy awarded by the Roanoke Valley Civitan Club for the most courteous behavior shown in each football game by the team, coaches, cheerleaders, and crowd.

Cave Spring's first Booster Club was formed by interested parents. The Club contributed much to the school spirit by providing car bumper stickers sporting "Knight Power" throughout the Roanoke Valley. Besides promoting "Knight Power," the club donated much-needed blazers to the athletic department for use by all sports.

Throughout the year the cheerleaders worked closely with the pep club to raise Cave Spring's once dead spirit. The Pep Club built a Knight Castle through which burst a barrage of Knight football players at every home game. A team member slide show was also sponsored at every home basketball game. Signs on lockers of players predicting their success were a common sight on days of games. School support reached an all-time high at every pep rally as crowd cheers and class competition filled the gymnasium with each class competing to the most spirited in order to win the honored spirit stick.

Along with welcoming a new principal, Cave Spring prepares for evaluation

Of the many changes which took place at Cave Spring, the foremost was welcoming new principal, Mr. James H. Daughtridge, who replaced former principal Leonard V. Hale. With the change in leadership came a change in the school routine. To honor the new principal, "JD Day" was celebrated the Friday of the first football game with G.W. of Danville. Longer pep rallies and more assemblies were scheduled. The newest idea, and probably the most helpful for the students, was the installation of rap sessions between the classes and Mr. Daughtridge where complaints were aired. These rap sessions helped acquaint the students and the new principal, which increased the understanding of problems between the Administration and the Students.

Evaluation, a thorough self-study of what a school is actually doing for the students and community in view of its stated objectives, was experienced by everyone including students, teachers, administrators, and parents. Teachers and administrators evaluated every aspect of the school, including each educational department and all extra-curricular activities. Students and parents also participated in the evaluation. Everyone spent many hours evaluating themselves, students, teachers, administrators, and the school as a whole. The visiting committee was at Cave Spring for only four days, but it took almost two years to prepare the report.

1. Faculty members talk with students, other schools, and among themselves in an effort to prepare for evaluation.
2. Suzy Branch and Kathy Enyart perform an experiment in the Chemistry Lab, one of the many departments subject to study.
3. Steve Ferguson and Steve Fox do a little evaluating of their own — on comic books!
4. With a warm smile and a friendly handshake, Beverly Pugh greets new principal Daughtridge.

*Welcome
 Mr. Daughtridge

Are you ready?

Orientation day brought 525 sophomores to Cave Spring High where they quickly got lost trying to find their ways around the hexagon. Mr. Daughtridge also talked to the sophomores about the rules observed at Cave Spring. After the assembly, the students visited exhibits set up by the clubs.

On the first day of school everyone was thoroughly confused including our brand new principal, Mr. Daughtridge.

1. Our new principal, Mr. Daughtridge, greets students new to CS with a warm welcoming speech.
2. Attending an assembly on Orientation Day, Sophomores eagerly look forward to their first year of high school!?!?
3. Exciting signs welcome teachers, students, and a new principal to the year ahead.

SCA "Things go better with Coke."

"Things go better with Coke" was the theme of the SCA's campaign to get coke machines in the cafeteria. After weeks of prodding students to clean up the cafeteria, the machines finally arrived. The SCA sponsored the winter dance called the "Snow Fantasy." This was originally the Christmas Dance, but was postponed when a snowstorm hit the valley, cancelling schools. The SCA took up money for hams and collected canned foods in January, also delayed because of the snowstorm.

The magazine sale was held in the fall. Although not as much money was made as in the past years, the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes did profit. The SCA was in charge of all student body elections held this year, and gave several students oriented assemblies.

1. President Jamie Balzer talks to Mrs. Goodale about magazine sales.
2. Giving morning announcements is Vice President Harry Angel.
3. Reporter Nancy Eller creates a sign for the Winter Dance.
4. Recording Secretary Susan Teague takes time out to pose for the camera.
5. Mailing to other schools is Corresponding Secretary Cindy Kinzel.
6. Parliamentarian John Thrasher contemplates on SCA plans.
7. Getting the SCA balance from Mrs. Miller is Treasurer Debbie Gartzke.

Homecoming '73 Festivities not marred by tie game

Cave Spring Homecoming '73 began at 6:30 with the parade leaving from the high school to the Jr. High Football Stadium. The parade consisted of floats, cars and trucks from most of the clubs. At halftime Dawn Pierce was crowned Homecoming Queen, and Jamie Balzer, Maid of Honor. The game was concluded with a tie, Cave Spring — 12, and Andrew Lewis — 12. Shortly afterwards, the dance began with entertainment by 'Church.' Kent Bond was crowned Homecoming King when the court was presented. The dance ended too soon, but the memories of Homecoming will not be forgotten.

1. Homecoming Court: FRONT ROW, Beth Thomas, Robin Ervin, Carolyn Houseman, Sue Denton. BACK ROW, Steve Fox, Claire Elmore, Dave Sowder, Jamie Balzer, Kent Bond, Dawn Pierce, Doug Cross, Anne Summerson, Cooper Mattocks, Meg Higgins.
2. Girls, chosen for the court, ride on a float provided by the pep club.
3. During halftime, Jamie Balzer is crowned Maid of Honor.
4. Many cars were decorated and entered in the parade.
5. Nervously waiting for the outcome is Meg Higgins.
6. Thrill and happiness is expressed by Dawn Pierce after being chosen queen.
7. The lobby is decorated for alumni at dance.
8. Cheers were yelled by the crowd at the game.

Memories will not be forgotten

1. Expressions of fun are shown by Doug Cross and Anne Summerson.
2. The gym is filled with dancing students and music by 'Church.'
3. Homecoming King Kent Bond and Queen Dawn Pierce reign over the gym with a dance together.
4. Smiling with delight, Kent Bond is crowned Homecoming King by cheerleader Cindy Thomas.

Football Banquet Knights uphold sportsmanship

On December 10, football players, coaches, cheerleading, families, and friends met together to share the memories of the past season at the annual Football Awards Banquet. The highlights of the evening came when it was announced that Cave Spring had been awarded the Civitan Sportsmanship Award, elected by officials of games for the school with the most outstanding spirit and sportsmanship. Also awarded were outstanding backs and linemen and the Coach's Ray Waskey Award. Lettermen received their letters and positions on All-Metro, All-Regional, and All-State. Football teams were announced. Mr. Tom Fletcher, a recruiter from UNC talked to the boys on the ideals of football playing.

1. Outstanding Linemen are: Mark Duncan and Randy Cook.
2. Holding the Coach's Award is Senior Doug Cross.

Drill Team "We're kicking for you Knights!"

The smiles of the Drill Team brightened up the football field this year as they kicked their legs high. The girls traveled to Richmond in the fall where they were honored as the best Drill Team participating in the University of Richmond Band Festival.

1. Refreshing herself after halftime entertainment, Lisa Glover enjoys a nice, cold coke.
3. Kicking proudly, the Drill Team rejoices over a Cave Spring touchdown.
4. Enthusiastically, Drill Team members root for the Knights.
5. A gift of flowers to Drill Team officers express the appreciation of team members for a job well done.
6. The Flags pose prettily for the camera.
7. The 1973-74 Drill Team.

Marching Band C.S. Band sweeps awards

Practice for the Marching Band began early in August as newcomers learned and experienced high steppers tried to remember. Until the end of November, Mr. Svec drilled the band for two hours a day on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. The Band was honored several times during marching season for its outstanding performances. At the University of Richmond band festival, the band won second place in Division I for its halftime show. On November 28th the band was awarded first place in the Salem Christmas parade. To top the marching season off, the band held its annual Stadium Review show and played music used during halftimes.

1. Cave Spring High School Marching Band.
2. Drum Major Dewey Houck stands at attention during the National Anthem.
3. Band member Cliff Sutton toots a rootin' tune on his tuba.
4. Playing briskly at the Stadium Review are Jay Wallace and Terry Khone.
5. Adding to the music of halftime entertainment are Brian Cory, Jack Wilkie, and Jeff Golian.
6. Majorette Cindy Kinzel takes a breather after halftime entertainment.

Varsity Cheerleaders Cheerleaders ignite with 'Spark Plug'

After receiving the majority of votes from their fellow camp members, the Varsity Cheerleaders were awarded the 'Spark Plug' for their outstanding spirit and sparkle. Also at the NCA camp at Randolph-Macon College, the C.S. Cheerleaders received a spirit stick, nine superior blue ribbons, and were runners-up in the Coca-Cola Contest. The Varsity Cheerleaders were busy all year through with never-ending bake sales and car washes to raise money for Homecoming and other activities. The main activities for the squad were to cheer for Varsity sports: Football, Wrestling, Basketball, Tennis, and Track, and to support all others. The Cave Spring Cheerleaders worked their hardest, never forgetting their purpose — to promote school spirit.

1. Junior members prepare for the Homecoming Parade.
2. Leading the Varsity Cheerleaders is Captain Cindy Thomas.
3. Senior Piper Kersey watches as the Knights attempt another victory.

Greasy Fifties Day Nostalgia hits Cave Spring

GFD is coming, read the signs all around the halls as kids climbed up into their attics to bring down the memories of twenty years ago. New clothes' styles were paraded through the halls. Some of these included bobby socks, baubles, bangles and beads, and skinny black ties. The smell of Vitalis was thick in the air (as well as the hair). WCSH played "oldies but goodies" as the kids did dances in the cafeteria. The students weren't the only ones who slicked back their hair though: the teachers followed the fads as they proudly wore their letter jackets from high school. Several weeks later the signs still remained in the halls: "GFD is coming."

Pep Club You name it . . . they do it!

The efforts of the pep club could hardly have been improved as it greatly boosted the spirit of the student body. Throughout the year the club kept the halls filled with signs about athletic events, dances, and concerts at CSHS.

Before school began, many weeks were spent constructing the huge castle at the end of the football field. The pep club also made flags to wave at football games and showed slides of the basketball players at the basketball games. Contests sponsored by the pep club included the spirit chain and the "Mr. Legs" contest. The club also made money by selling doughnuts.

When Patrick Henry and William Byrd went to state and regional championship games, the pep club sent big cards wishing them luck.

1. Pep Club officers display a spirit sign. They are: Lee Hardin, Secretary; Jeanne McNeal, Treasurer; Lynn Atkinson, President; Laura Atkinson, Poster Chairman; Toni Shawver, Homecoming Chairman; and Annette Moore, Vice President.

2. Pep Club members chase the "Patrick Henry CHICKENS."

3. Making signs is one of the main duties of the Pep Club.

4. Tes Robinson readies herself for a pep rally skit.

5. Pep Club members hurry to get the castle ready for the first football game.

6. Sponsor Mr. Bostian shows excitement over a Cave Spring play.

7. Soon this philosophy sign will be moved from the halls of CSHS to the main lobby of the Roanoke County School Board.

WINTER

Red Cross "At your service"

Doughnuts were in season this fall as the Red Cross peddled them from door to door. Another money making project they held was a bake sale at Grant's.

For a service project the club held a Halloween party at Pinkard Court. The club members also gave a Christmas tree, a dinner, and some presents to a needy family as their Christmas project. On May thirteenth the club held its annual bloodmobile at Cave Spring. Seven delegates attended district leadership camp.

1. Peering through the rails are Red Cross officers: Linda Robertson, President; Debbie Gartzke, Secretary-Treasurer; Jan Jonas, Vice President; and Jo Leigh Tisinger, Historian.

Bands

Band ensemble groups multiply at CSHS

Anytime you went near the band room you could always hear a clarinetist or a trombonist practicing in a practice room as the band members prepared for another performance.

All-County band was held at Northside High School in January. Twenty-four Cave Spring students participated in this workshop. On January twenty-sixth the band was asked to be the demonstration band at a clinic for band directors held at Hotel Roanoke. The bands also attended district festival in February, and planned for a trip to North Carolina in May.

The stage band played at many home basketball games and at all the pep rallies. Some of the band members also played for Roanoke College's home basketball games. Both the woodwind and brass choirs made several guest appearances during the year.

Accolade Staff

New company brings confusion

Rat-a-tat-tat went the typewriters as the annual staff slaved over copy and layouts.

There were added problems publishing this book since the staff changed printers.

The main problem came with the "typer persons," who had to type directly on the layouts rather than separate sheets as in the past.

There were also the usual problems which beset the staff such as running out of trite expressions, spilling cokes on pictures, and having to crop pictures 10 times. Despite the problems, the staff worked its hardest getting out of classes, working on weekends, and half the summer to put this book into your hands.

1. Our representative from Taylor, Mr. Rose, talks with Editor Beverly Pugh about layouts.
2. Working on the sports section are Doug Cross, Mark Roush, Bill Schell, and Bill Poe.
3. Keeping busy with class sections, Teresa Handy, Mitzi McNeil, Kathy Robertson, and Stephen Ricketts attempt to write copy.

Winter Dance Christmas snow held over for "Snow Fantasy"

The SCA sponsored the Snow Fantasy Dance on January twenty-sixth. This was originally the Christmas Dance which had been postponed due to a snowstorm. The cafeteria was transformed into a winter wonderland with snow flakes falling from the ceiling. The pep club sat Frosty the Snowman up between the coke machines to watch over the dance. Candles and snow-drenched greenery also added to the decorations.

1. Holly Princess Nina Hunter.
2. Company Inc. supplies music for the dance.
3. Holly Princess Piper Kersey.
4. Dancing slowly, King Mark Duncan, Queen Cindy Kinzel, Princess Suzy Branch, and Prince Randy Cook perform the Court Dance.

Kinder, King Mark Duncan, Queen Cindy Kinzel, Prince Randy Cook, Princess Suzy Branch, Cindy Thomas, Richard Webster, Julie Severance, Mike Naff, Karen Wingate, Ed Wilson, Susan Hindman, and Neil All.
7. As the dance draws to an end, Beverly Pugh and Mike Naff enjoy one last dance.
8. 'Chaperoning' the dance are Bob Walker and Pam Kingery.

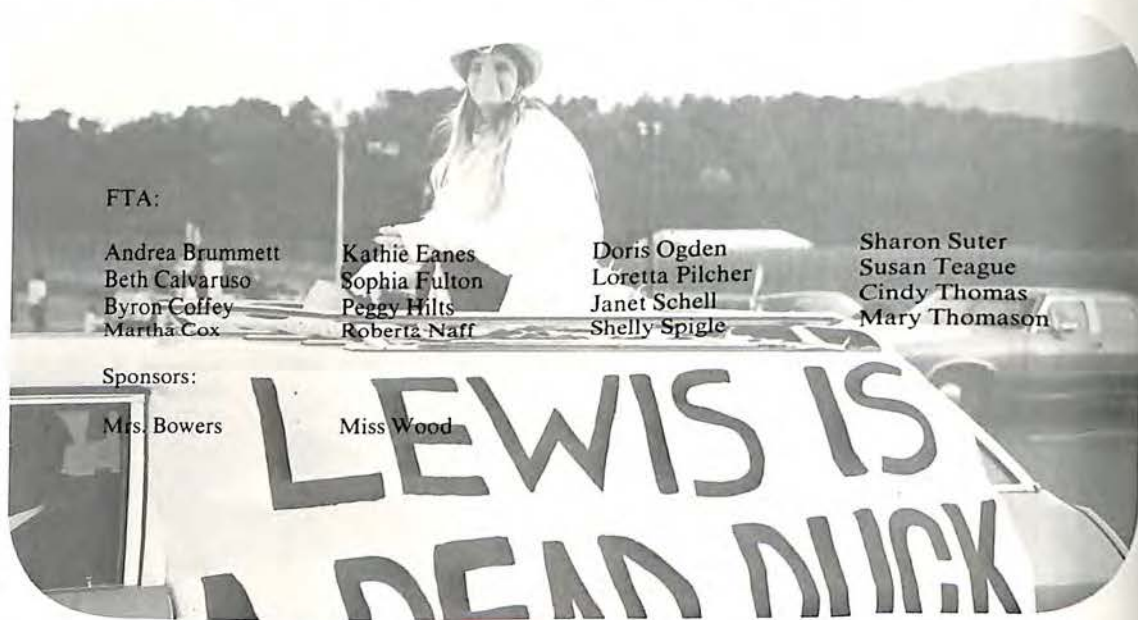

FTA Future teachers; better education

Many clubs were represented at Orientation Day in August, including the FTA. Several members of the club decorated a bulletin board in October, showing the clubs activities and purposes. Also during October, the FTA sponsored a float in the Homecoming Parade and held a breakfast for the teachers. A Christmas Party was planned in December to be held at the Baptist Neighborhood Home but this was cancelled due to snow. During the year the Future Teachers of America had many guest speakers and also aided the teachers in area elementary schools.

Knight Letter Newspaper teaches journalism

Writing copy and captions, making up headlines, and photographing interesting events are all a part of publishing a newspaper. KNIGHT LETTER staff members racked their brains each month covering news stories as they happened around school. All phases of newspaper work involved students in learning: all the way from layouts to contracts. The same headaches as every year popped up right and left, but each month the students at CSHS received their newspapers, unaware of the tremendous effort put into the publication of the KNIGHT LETTER.

1. KNIGHT LETTER members keep busy — at work.
2. Taking time out to smile for the camera are Leesa Sowder, Business Manager; John Montgomery, Editor-in-Chief; and Debbie Ware, Managing News Editor.
3. Newspaper members, Todd Orr and Paul Sherman, discuss articles for the next issue.
4. Editor John Montgomery takes time out to glance at his fine work.

French Club Frenchmen take on an active year

The halls were filled with the sound of Christmas Carols being sung in French, as the French Club prepared to sing at the Mary Louise Home. To raise money, the club members sold French Perfume. The club held a gala banquet which highlighted the year.

During Easter week, 16 French students also took a trip to France.

1. Officers of the French Club are: Ann Broadhurst, Secretary; David Brenton, Treasurer; Cindy Meredith, Vice-President; and Julie Severance, President.

Spanish Club Españoles prepare for next year

Though they got off to a late start, the Spanish Club had high hopes for the rest of the year, including: a Spanish Fiesta, an Easter Basket, and playing basketball with other CSHS clubs in the interclub council basketball tournament.

Sponsor Mrs. Carter says, "The members of the Spanish Club hope to learn from the mistakes of this year and improve their club next year."

2. Studying their Spanish are the officers of the Spanish Club. They are: Bill Meyer, President; Jimmy McAden, Treasurer; Suzanne Schumate, Secretary; Mike Naff, Program Chairman; and Kent Bond, Vice President.

Latin Club Volley enthusiasm in Latin stressed by CSHS Latin club

Carrying on many traditions of past years, the Latin Club held its spring banquet preceded by Latin week, the slave sale and two weeks of slavery. The club also held car washes and bake sales. Enthusiasm in sports joined the Cave Spring Latin Club with several others in the area in a basketball tournament. Club members also prepared for next year with the rewriting of the club constitution.

Disaster!

Dear Mr. Daughtridge:

We certainly appreciate your allowing students from your school to participate in our Disaster Drill on February 26th. They were excellent in their roles as casualties; and the seriousness which they displayed in the performance of their assignments was most noticeable.

Following the drill, we held a critique, which the students attended.

Several of the students gave reports of events in which they were involved during the exercise. These were excellent and some deficiencies were pointed out which will allow us to make alterations in our disaster plan prior to another drill. Without these reports, which reflected the interest and alertness of the students, the deficiencies would quite possibly have been overlooked.

We have heard many favorable comments from staff members about the maturity, poise and courtesy which your students fulfilled their assignments. If your students are willing, and you concur, we may possibly request their assistance in future drills.

Will you please convey our thanks to Mrs. Gary Goodale, teacher, and the students, who participated in our Disaster Drill.

Sincerely,
H. E. Davis

Exchange Week CS experiences new concepts

Roanoke High Schools held Exchange week from March 11-15. C.S. Juniors and Seniors participated by visiting the schools to which they were assigned.

Trying to explain modular scheduling proved interesting for CS students as they hosted students from other high schools on Thursday of that week. Visitors were asked to fill out an evaluation sheet on CSHS which revealed the varied impacts our school had on students from a different scholastic atmosphere.

Black History Week Soul train dance tops busy week

During the week of February 11-15 the Black History Week Committee put up bulletin boards with pictures bringing to the attention of the Student Body the accomplishments of blacks over the past decade. Members of the committee also helped out with a jointly sponsored bake sale for the District Wrestling Tournament in order to raise money.

Mr. Harmon from the Roanoke County School Board was the guest speaker for a rap session held in the study room. The Soul Train Dance, originally planned for February 16 was postponed and instead held on March 16. Music was provided by a tape from WTOY.

Also, Black art was displayed in the library and filmstrips were shown during the week. A Black History Week Court was also selected. These events made the student body more aware of the many contributions of blacks.

Idylls Staff Literary magazine develops creativity

The Creative Writing class made up the Idylls Staff, carefully compiling stories, poems, and other literary creations for publication in the IDYLLS. Editor, Susan Hindman comments on the staff, "With only four members returning from last year's staff, we feel that this year's magazine is almost entirely different from any that have been published before. The writing and creativity has improved with the addition of new members and the experience of the older ones. Mrs. Bowles has helped a great deal with her contributions, also."

SPRING

New clubs flourish at Cave Spring

There was a profusion of new clubs at Cave Spring this year adding to the already large amount of extracurricular activity taking place after school. Among these are the Chess Club, Bicycle Club, and the Guitar Club. The Chess Club members took part in many chess matches held around the valley and had several winners. Guest speakers also entertained the club members, demonstrating moves of the chess pieces. Bike hikes were the main activities of the Bicycle Club. Some of the hikes were held in conjunction with area bicycle shops. One of the first activities sponsored by the Guitar Club was a weekend camping trip, during which the members rehearsed for their upcoming programs, one of which was held at the V.A. Hospital.

Calamity Jane

March 28 was opening night for the musical "Calamity Jane." Practice was held every weekday for at least two hours and most Saturdays. During the last weeks of practice the band was added, which meant coordinating voices, piano, and instrumentation. During the week of production three matinees were held: for the Junior High, elementary pupils, and the High School.

Opening night brought much excitement to everyone participating. Excitement continued through the cast party held on Saturday night, which concluded 3 months of diligent work.

1. Putting on a show for the Golden Garter, Frances Fryer portays a "dazzling" young lady.
2. Dancers: Diane Jones, Peggy Sweisfort, Marcie Renner, Cindy Kinzel, and Cindy Sink depict a vision.
3. As Katie and Danny attempt a wedding kiss, they gaze into one anothers eyes.
4. Concluding the musical, Calamity sings of her love; Wild Bill Hickcock.

Juniors ready for prom

The traditional Junior-Senior Prom served as the ultimate goal for the Junior Class, and "Knights in White Satin" proved to be accurate evidence of the Juniors' hard work and determination. Painted hair, gluey fingers, peanut butter faces, carved thumbs and other casualties seemed to be the norm as they worked after school and on weekday nights to ready themselves for their long awaited dance. A great deal of success is due to Mr. James Laughlin and Prom Chairman Wanda Watts. The upcoming Junior Class is to be recognized also, as they helped to serve refreshments and clean up.

1. Prom Chairman: Alicia Crye, Table Decorations: Laura Larew, Theme and Decorations: Dana Ditman, Canopy Construction: Linda Bates, Refreshments: Wanda Watts, Prom Chairman: Tammy Toler, Printing and Karla Hagen pose for the camera after a hard day's work on the prom. Missing are Andy Askew, Leigh Harris, and Connie Cox.

2. Junior girls work on some last minute prom decorations.

4. The murals proved to be the pride of the prom.

Finally, on May 4, the long awaited prom arrived. Seniors, Juniors, and their dates walked through the drawbridge into the castle of medieval knighthood. They danced until midnight to the sounds of "Razzmatazz," enjoyed refreshments and decorations, and exchanged traditional kisses under the untraditional canopy. Unfortunately, the dance itself had to come to an end, but "Knights in White Satin" will never reach an end.

1. Sophomores anxiously volunteered to aid in serving refreshments.
2. Juniors Jim Lewis and Nancy McCrary greet the camera with a warm welcome.
3. Dancers enjoy the sounds of the band.
4. After taking a break from dancing, Dawn Paitsell and Bill Rich gaze into one another's eyes.
5. Providing dance music for the prom, "Razzmatazz" plays another popular tune.
6. Class officers, committee chairmen, and their dates await the theme song.
7. Prom Chairman Wanda Watts and Tim Crawford traditionally share a "kiss" under the canopy.

“We may

On June 7, 1974, 471 Seniors walked out of Cave Spring High School. It was Graduation Day. Commencement Exercises were held at 8:00 p.m. at the Salem-Roanoke Valley Civic Center with the theme: “We may never pass this way again.”

There were the usual mixed emotions from Seniors: some glad to leave, some not so glad. Tears rolled down many cheeks, even through the reception held after exercises in the high school cafeteria.

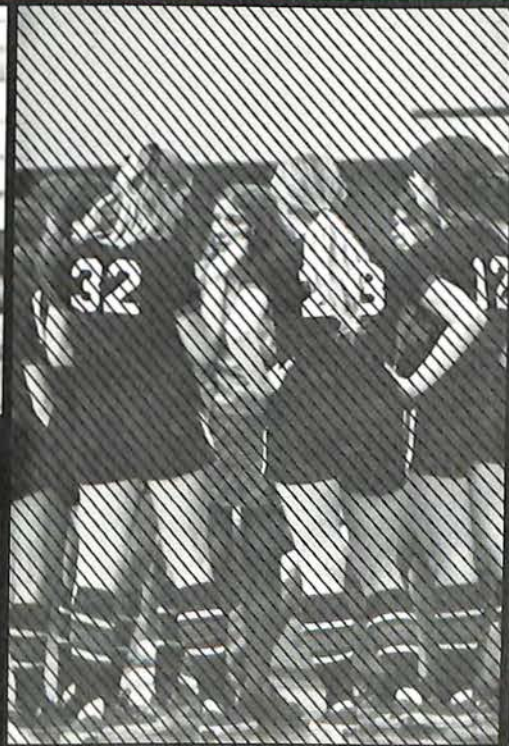

They may never pass this way again, but then, again they might, as: teachers, administrators, visitors . . .

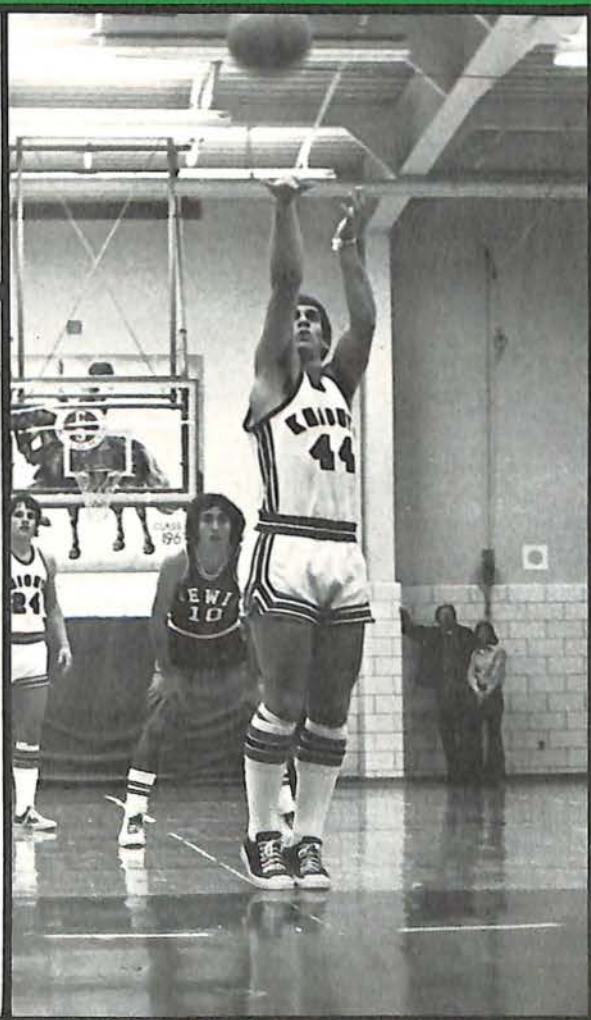

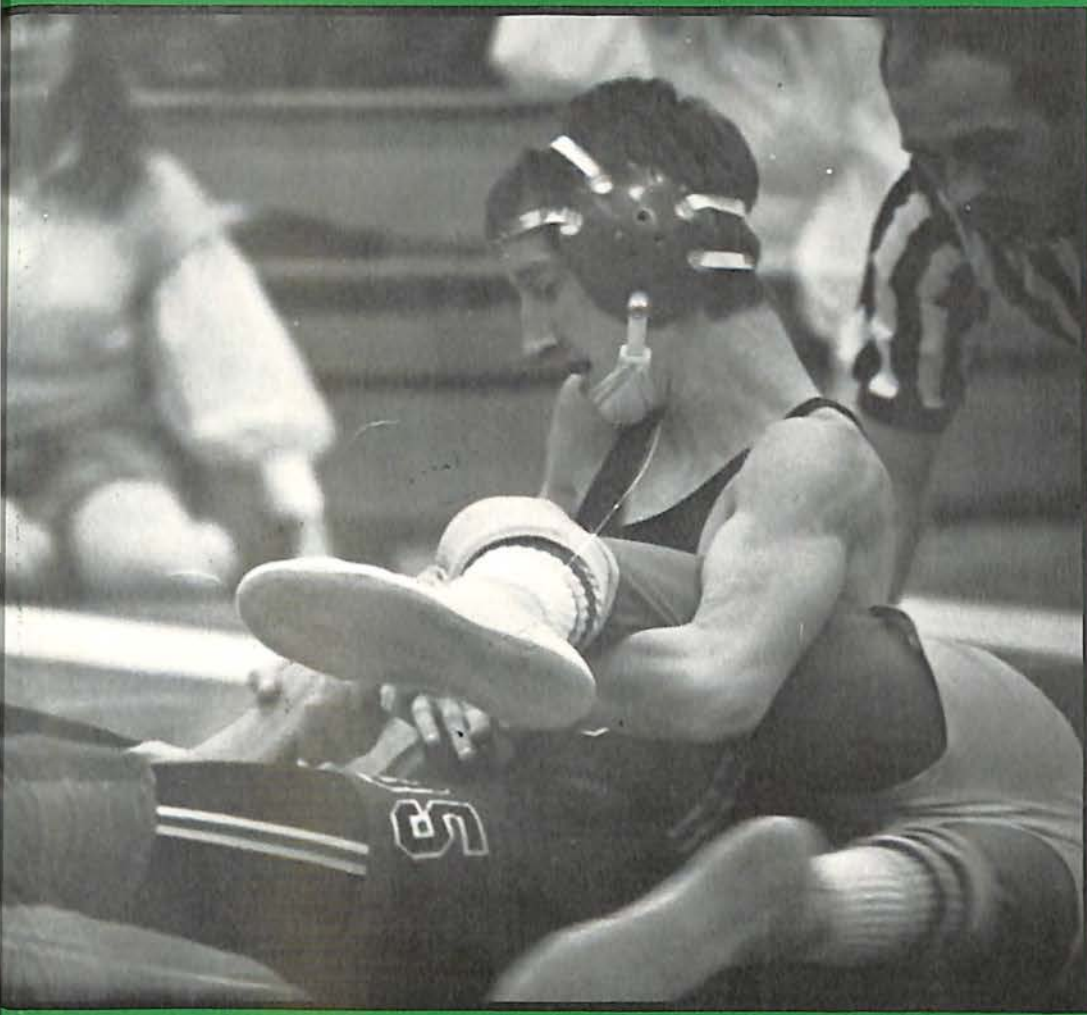

1. Valedictorian Susan Teague and Salutatorian David Dickerson address the audience.
2. Senior members enjoy refreshments at the Senior Reception.
3. Senior Beverly Pugh approaches the stand carrying her “graduation rose.”
4. After many years of hard work, Linda Robertson receives her diploma with great appreciation from Mr. Daughtridge.
5. Awaiting the arrival of graduating Seniors are members of the Faculty.
6. Graduates smile for the camera as they hug each other “goodbye.”

Knights open with upset of Danville

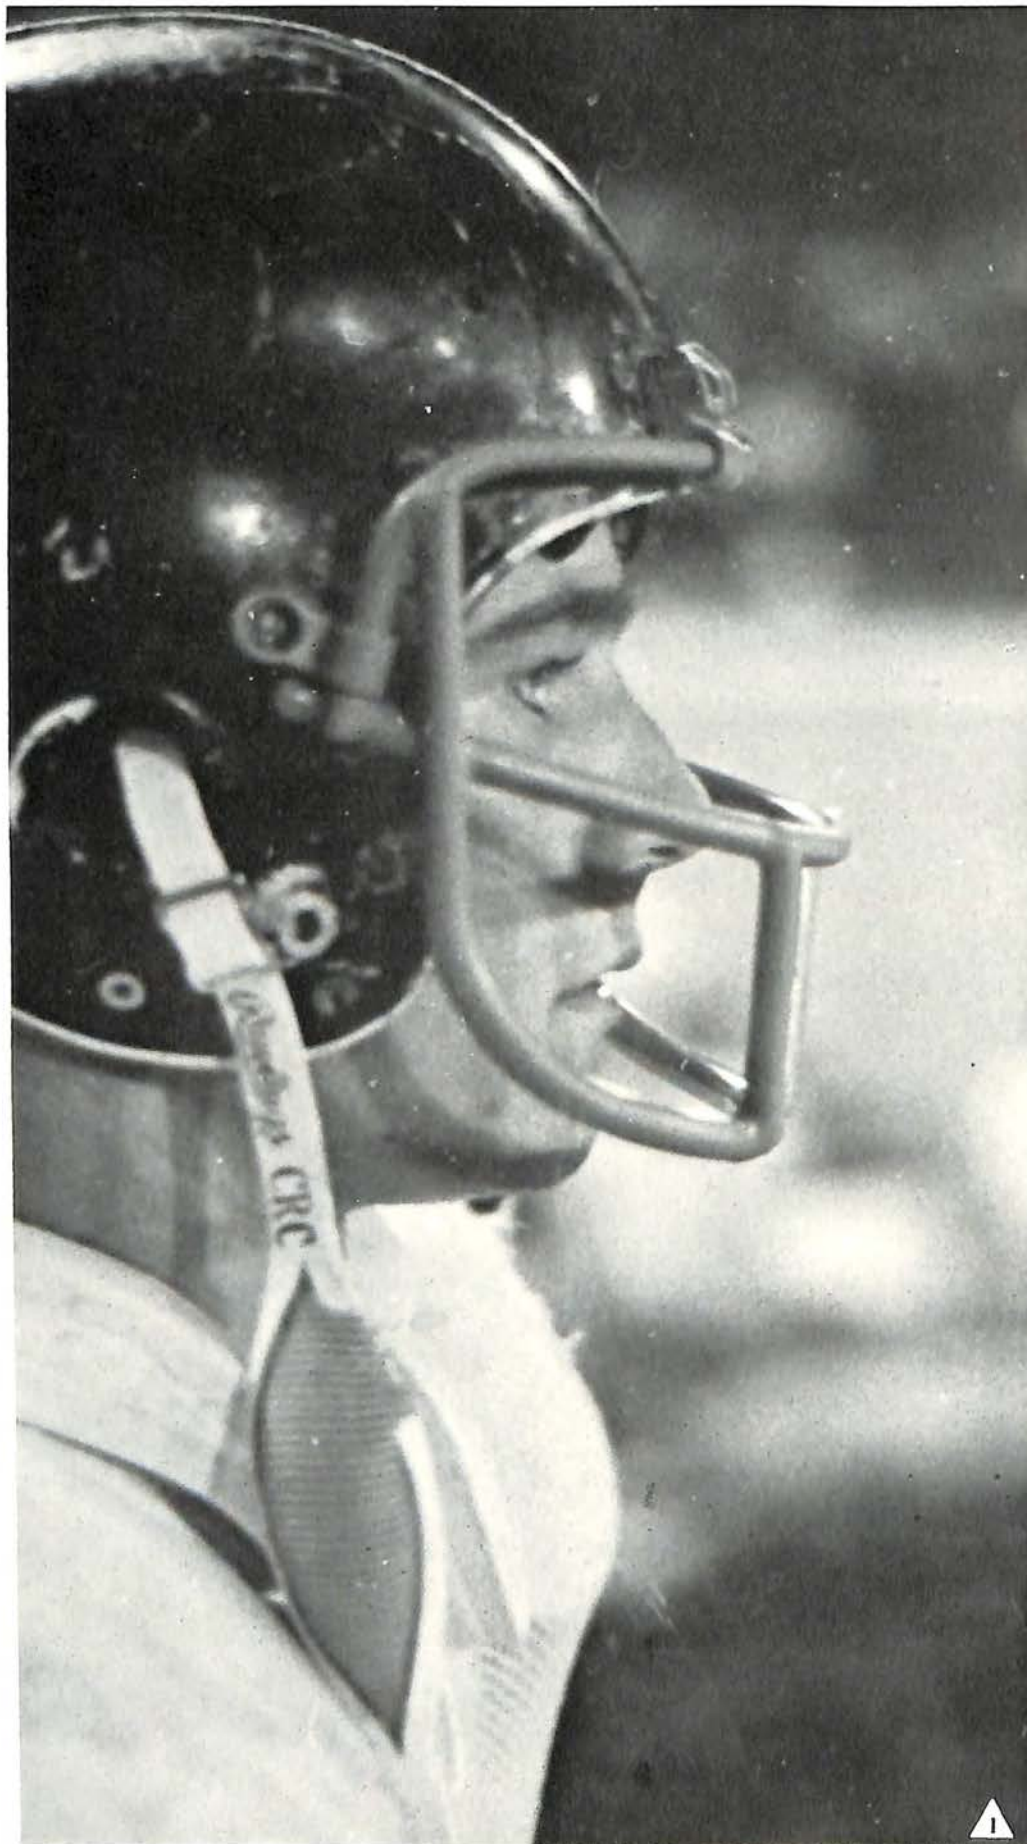

The Cave Spring Knights opened the 1973 gridiron season with a stunning upset over favored George Washington of Danville. The Knights scored twice quickly for a 14-0 lead, then turned the defense loose for a 14-12 win. Doug Cross won defensive honors of the week by "The Roanoke World-News" for his outstanding play.

Cave Spring lost a heartbreaker to the William Fleming Colonels the following week. After spotting the Colonels a 12-0 lead, the Knights rallied to take the lead 14-12 only to be defeated 20-14 in the last 30 seconds.

1. Senior Ken Behl leaves Wolverines in his path as he runs for yardage down the sideline.
2. Senior Quarterback Kent Bond fires from the pocket.
3. Coach Lindsey talks to his "line" during the heat of summer practice.
4. Junior Cornerback Ralph Knoebel smothers his opponent as he breaks up a Lewis pass.
5. Coach Hammes forcefully demonstrates on the "neck cruncher" machine.

Injuries take toll as season progresses

The next week the Knights were defeated by the No. 1 team in the state, Patrick Henry. The Patriots proved to the Knights that they were No. 1 (as their defense held the powerful Knight ground attack to just forty-five yards).

One week later the Knights rebounded from their crushing defeat as they stomped Halifax County 26-0. This brought the Knights' record to a respectable 2-2.

Jefferson was the next victim, as the Knights rolled up a 15-0 win. The defense was outstanding as Neil All, Mike Naff, and Randy Cook were in the Jefferson backfield almost the whole game harassing the Jefferson quarterback. Kent Bond returned to spark the Knights as he threw a touchdown pass and a 2-pt. conversion.

1. Senior Mike Naff reflects over an outstanding high school career.
2. R. E. Lee star, Preacher Maddox, attempts to tip away a toss intended for Sophomore receiver Bill Downie.
3. Halfback Ken Behl shakes off a Halifax tackler and rolls for valuable yardage.
4. Injuries plagued the Knights' quarterbacks early; pulled ligaments sidelined J. F. Kinder for the entire season and Kent Bond missed four games due to a bruised disc.

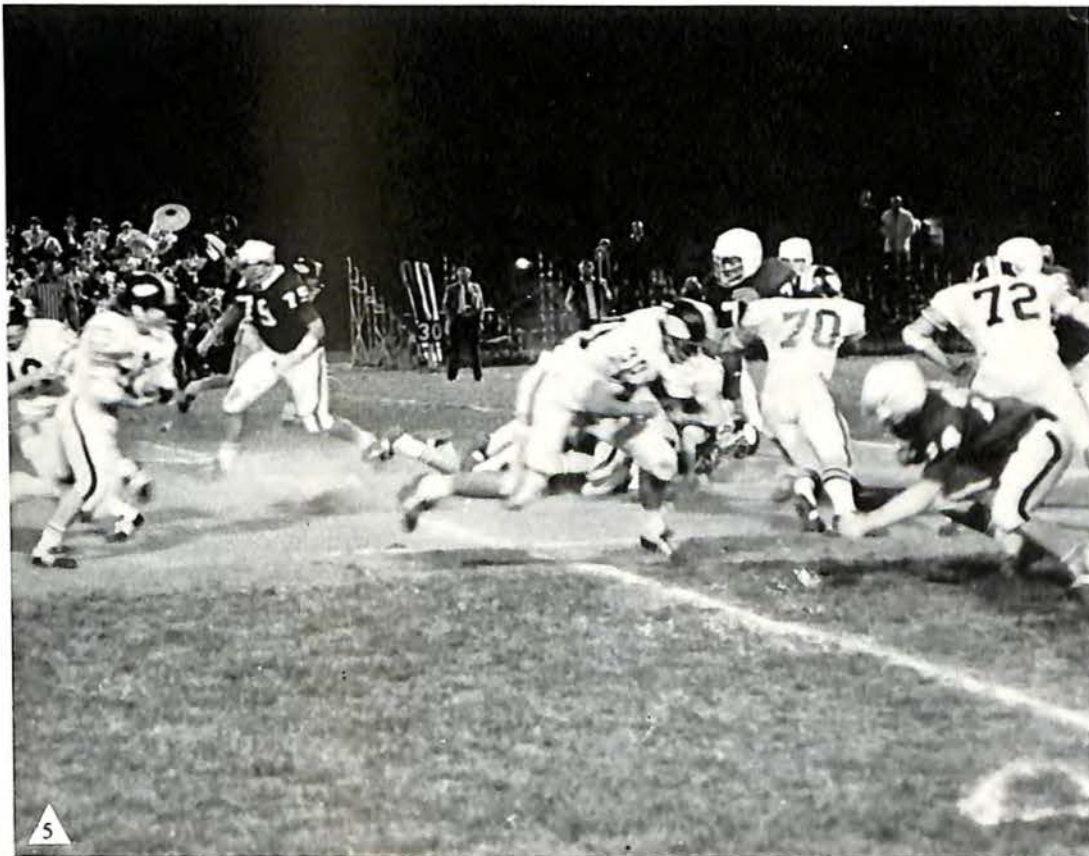

Cave Spring ties Lev in homecoming thrill

1. Sophomore Ricky Hall's breakaway speed is useless as he is pulled down from behind.
2. Receiving aid from a member of the dependable Cave Spring Rescue Squad, Junior Barry Meador takes a moment of relief.
3. Workhorse Ken Behl drives for the extra yard.
4. Sophomore wingback John White readies for the snap.
5. Behind precision blocking, Ken Behl takes the handoff from Kent Bond.

The Knights took a week off before disposing of R. E. Lee, 28-21. The entire offensive line of Mark Duncan, Bill Poe, Dave Sowder, Barry Meador, Randy Cook, and Mike Naff completely dominated the Leemen as the Knights ground out the yardage. This was Ken Behl's greatest game of the season as he gained 225 yards and scored four TDs for the Knight win. The Knights also proved they could pass as Kent Bond completed 56% of his passes for almost 100 yards.

Homecoming '73 was celebrated as the Knights tied perennial power Lewis. Lewis took a 12-6 lead early in the third quarter. Then late in the fourth quarter, Cave Spring drove for the tying touchdown. The extra-point was wide, thus dampening the Knights' homecoming.

Season finale impressive; Little Knights break even

The Knights 4-game unbeaten streak was broken the next week as they fell to Franklin County 3-0. The game was not decided until the closing minutes when Franklin County kicked a field goal. The Knights played a good game, but errors kept them from scoring.

Cave Spring closed out its season the following week with a 34-0 shellacking of Northside. The offense was outstanding as they moved the ball at will, and the defense stopped Northside cold as both Doug Cross and Dave Sowder returned interceptions for TD's. Thus, the injury-riddled Knights concluded a respectable 5-3-1 season.

The baby Knights had a disappointing two-game schedule. The J.V.'s opened the season with a narrow loss to Andrew Lewis. The Knights bounced back after this defeat, and soundly defeated the Eagles of Franklin County 20-0. Doug Carter led the way with two touchdowns; the first coming on the opening play from scrimmage. The baby Knights' schedule was shortened due to the number of sophomores on varsity.

1. An intended touchdown pass to sophomore Ricky Hall is broken up by a Jefferson defender.
2. Cutting around left end, Ken Behl eyes more yardage.
3. Junior Varsity runner Randy Meadows eludes tacklers for a substantial gain.
4. Coaching Staff: B. Lebow, D. Wymer, O. Dowdy, C. Hammes, J. Lindsey, W. Hyatt, R. Waskey.
5. Football Teams: Varsity and Jr. Varsity: R. 1, Dennis Behl, Jimmy Butcher, Jim Dickey, Tim Gravely, Robert Barksdale, Doug Carter, Steve Ferguson, Steve Abbatello, Marc Browning, David Dickerson, Kenny Behl, John White, Randy Meadows, Jack Humphrey. R. 2, David Koontz, John Mattocks, Kevin Foster, Steve Arledge, Dick Allman, Scott Mustian, John Walters, Bruce Peschel, Jim Lewis, Mike Cox, David Helm, Doug Cross. R. 2, Kent Bond, J. F. Kinder, Ed Willet, Ricky Reese, James Simmons, Ricky Hall, Steve Ferguson, Mark Duncan, Randy Wheeler, Dan Unger, Bill Poe. R. 4, Bill Downie, Jim Browder, Ralph Knobel, Charles Overstreet, Alan Weatherford, Eric Litz, Mike Dalton, Randy Cook, Mike Naff, Dave Sowder, Barry Meador, Ron White, Lloyd Beane.

The Cave Spring Varsity basketball team started slowly, losing its first two games. Plagued by injuries, the Knights' record dropped to 0-2 as Lewis nipped the cagers in the last minute. The team rebounded to hit a four game win streak highlighted by a 63-60 win over pre-season favorite William Fleming. In the early stages of the season it became apparent that the Knights' hopes lay on Ken Phelps' district dominance and Mark Fariss' floor leadership.

Knights attain winning form

1. Dribbling with ease, floor leader Mark Fariss has no trouble with the Glenvar press.
2. Captain Mark Fariss shoots unintimidated over a Lewis' opponent.
3. Going high for a lead pass, Ken Phelps proves his dominance in the Roanoke Valley District.
4. Hardcharging Junior Harry Graninger goes for two.
5. Good position enables Sophomore Ricky Reese to go high for a rebound.
6. Blurring the crowd with his moves, Paul Corne hits on a reverse lay-up.

1. Defending his opponent, Mark Fariss plays at both ends of the floor.
2. Senior Ken Phelps jumps skyward to tip the ball from an Andrew Lewis opponent.
3. In traffic, Mike Wade fights for a loose ball.
4. Dominating the boards, Ken Phelps pulls in another rebound.

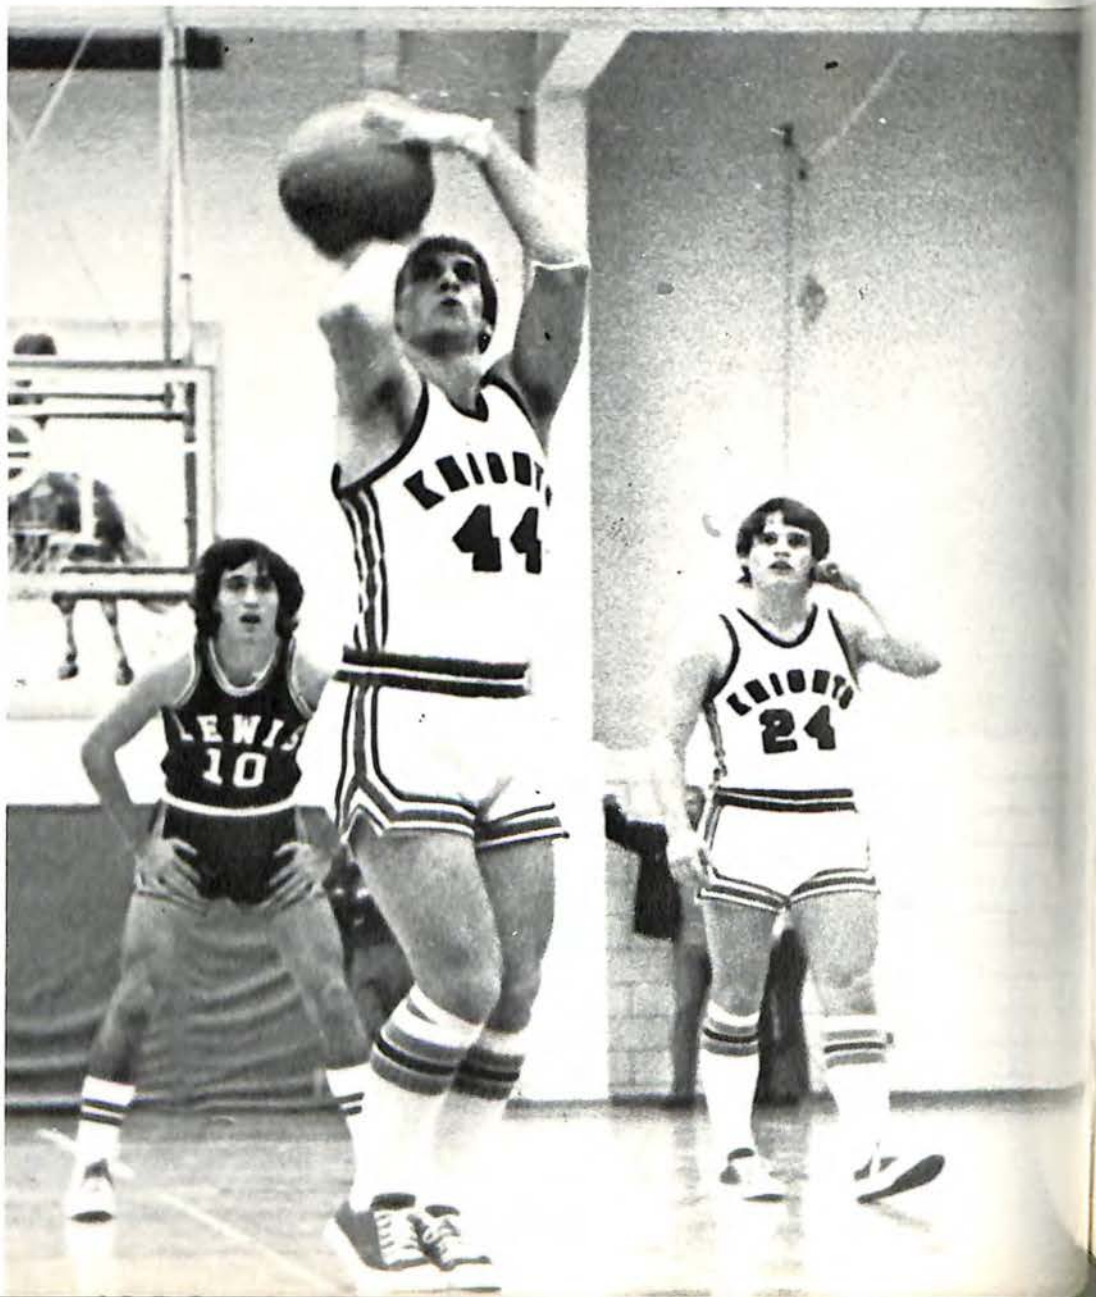

C.S. nips Lewis; falls short against league leading Pats

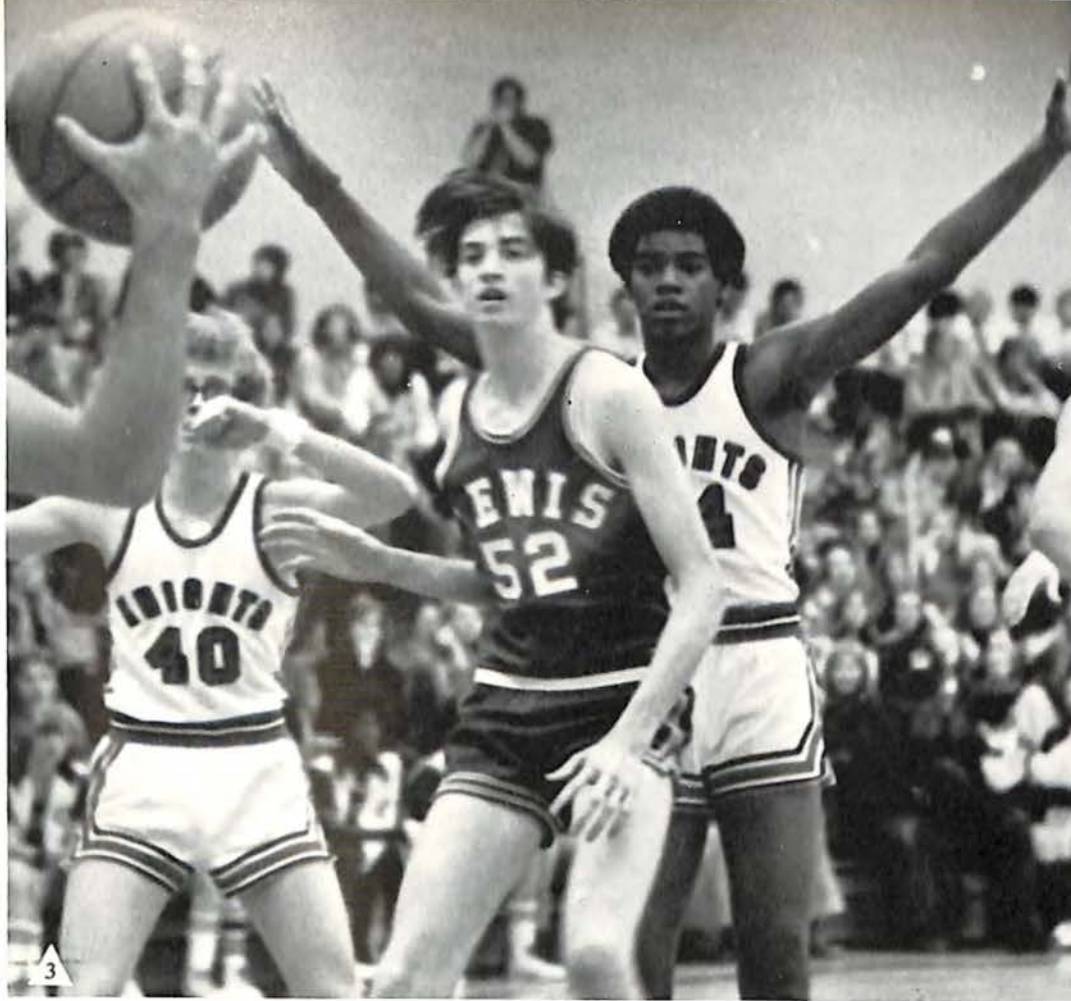

Cave Spring fell to Robert E. Lee before putting together another short win streak ignited by a 67-65 overtime thriller at Andrew Lewis. The record was improved to 7-3 as the Knight' potential began to be realized. The team then hit a mid-season slump losing to Western district power E.C. Glass and a crucial game to district leader Patrick Henry, 61-57. The Patriots' quickness spelled the Knights' doom in the closing minutes of this game. New stars began to bolster the Knight attack as a combined effort turned back Lord Botetourt, 72-62. Mike Wade, a surprising Senior starter, gave the Knights a new hope as the Knights looked ahead to the district tournament.

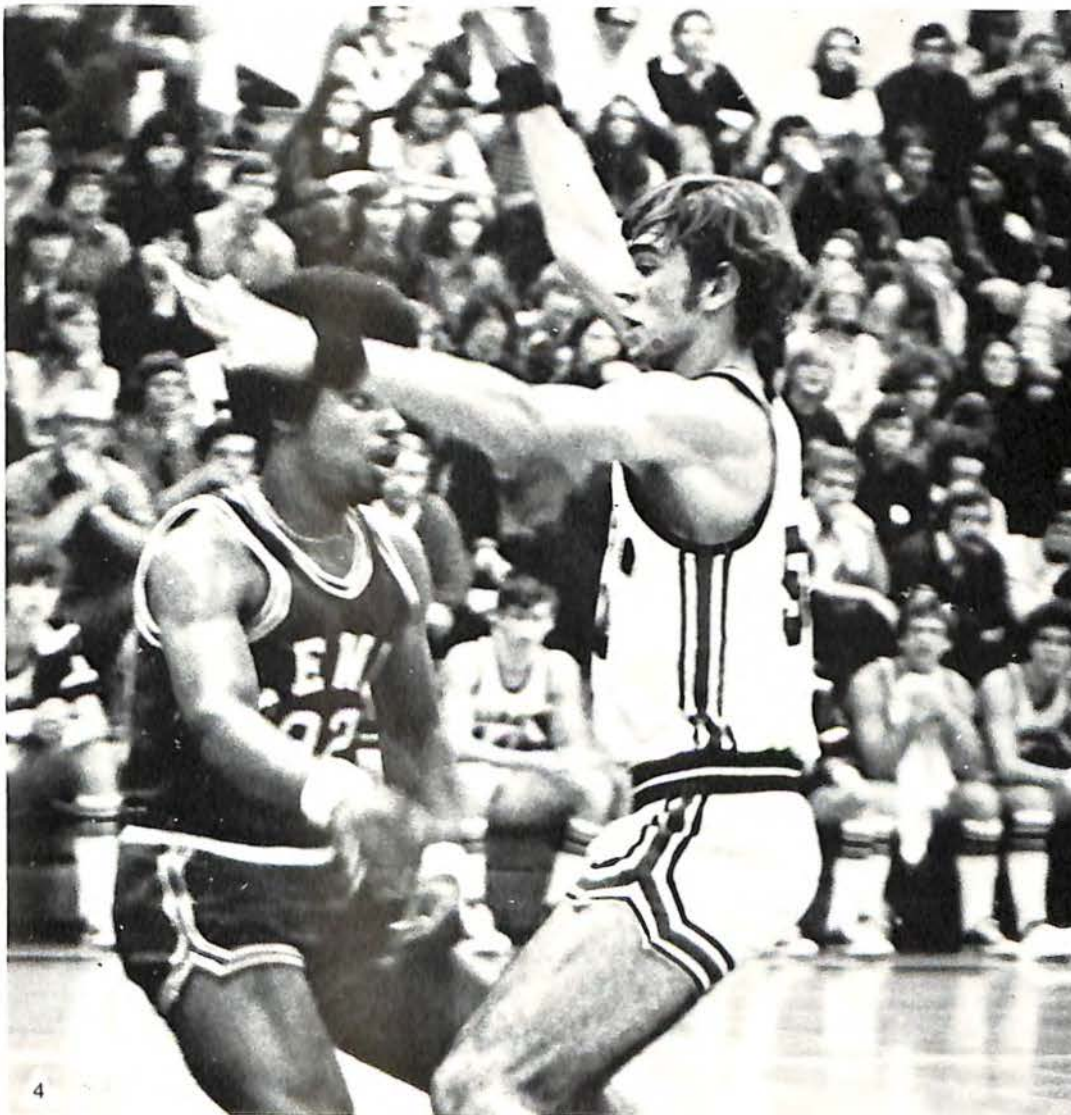

The Knights, suffering from the academic elimination of three starters, lost to eventual District Champion Jefferson, 44-43 at home. The cagers fought hard to win five of the final six regular season games. William Fleming fell 58-56 as Robert Blades hit a midcourt desperation shot at the buzzer. After a tough 72-70 loss to E.C. Glass, the Knights handily disposed of Lord Botetourt and Northside. Cave Spring put together their finest team performance in the regular season finale as they demolished Patrick Henry 70-55. The cagers hopes of a post-season district championship crumbled at the hands of Jefferson, 33-30. Post season honors went to Ken Phelps who made first team All-Metro and All District.

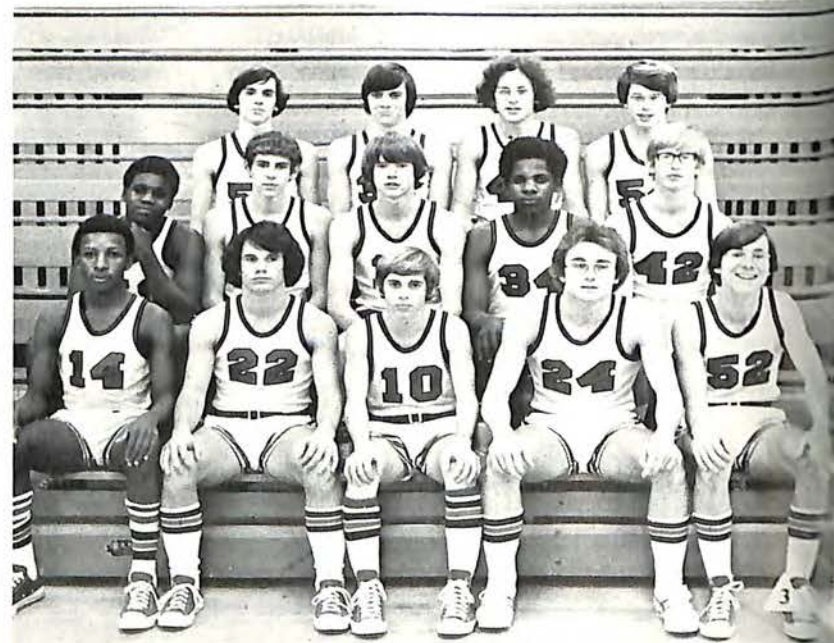

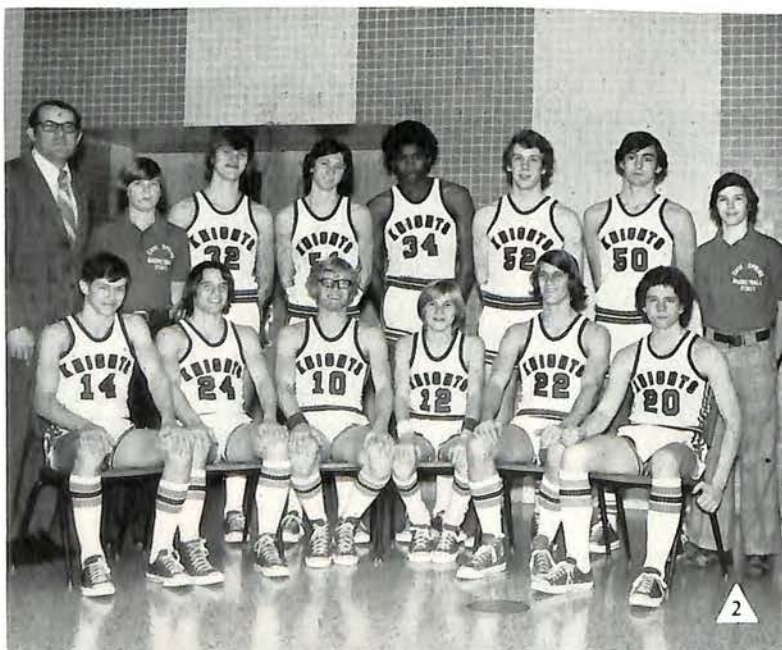

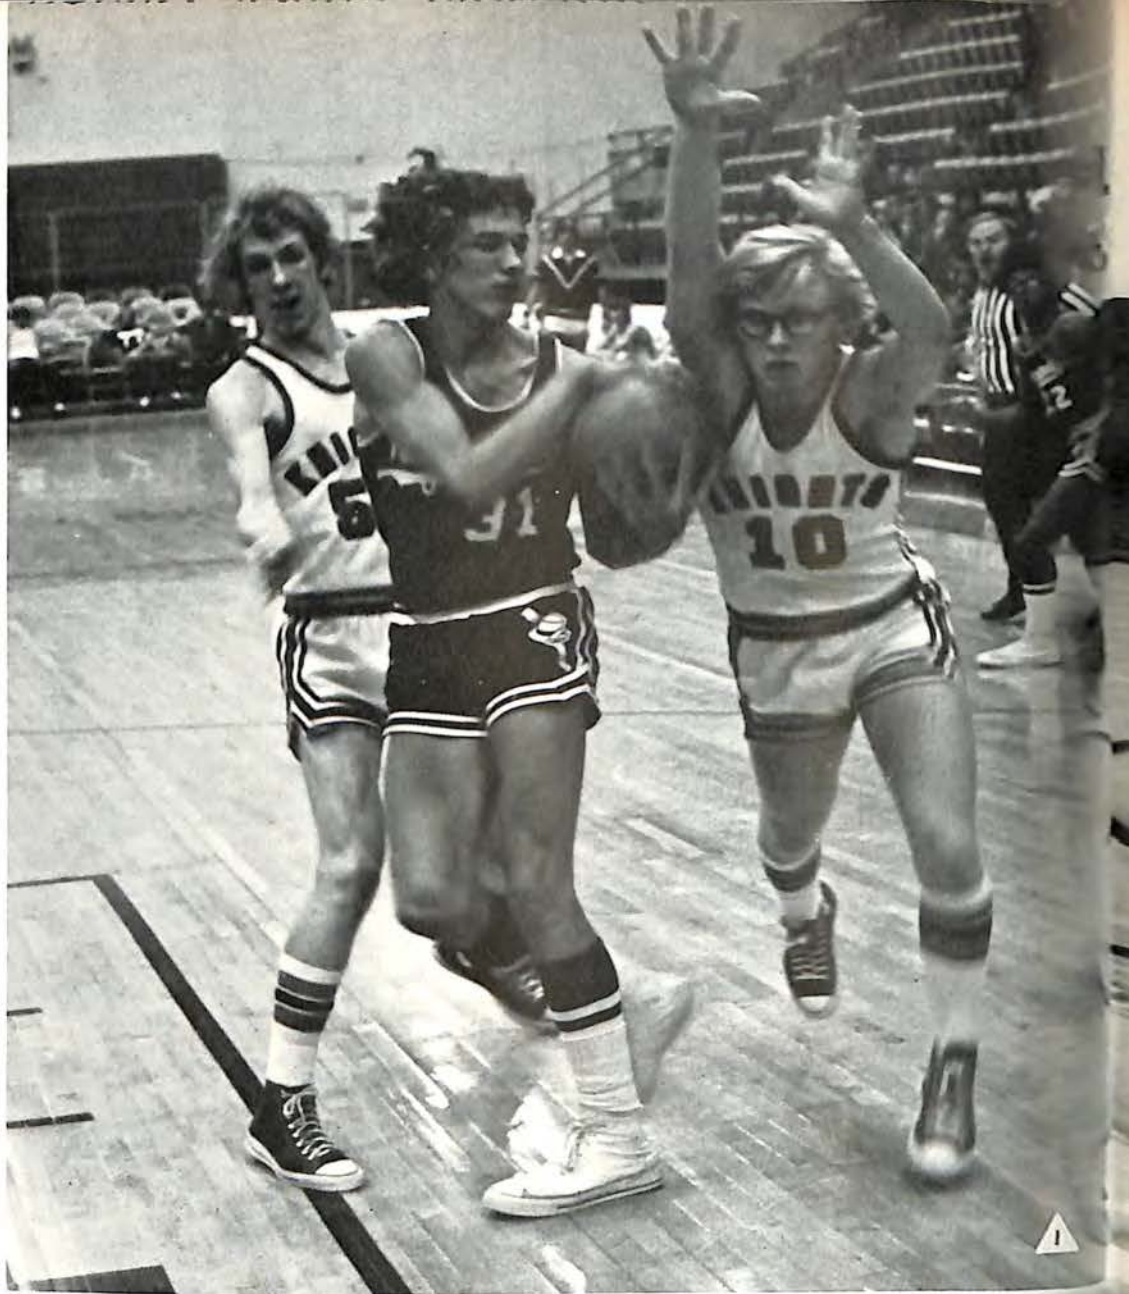

1. Towering over the opponent's center 6'7" Ken Phelps controls the tip.
2. Taking aim, Senior guard Paul Corne shoots from the foul line.
3. Playing excellent defense, Mike Wade and Ken Phelps follow the ball.
4. Smothering his opponent with defense, Sophomore forward Sy Bohon keeps the ball away.
5. Surprising Senior, Mike Wade, who developed into one of the Knights' leaders takes a baseline jumper.

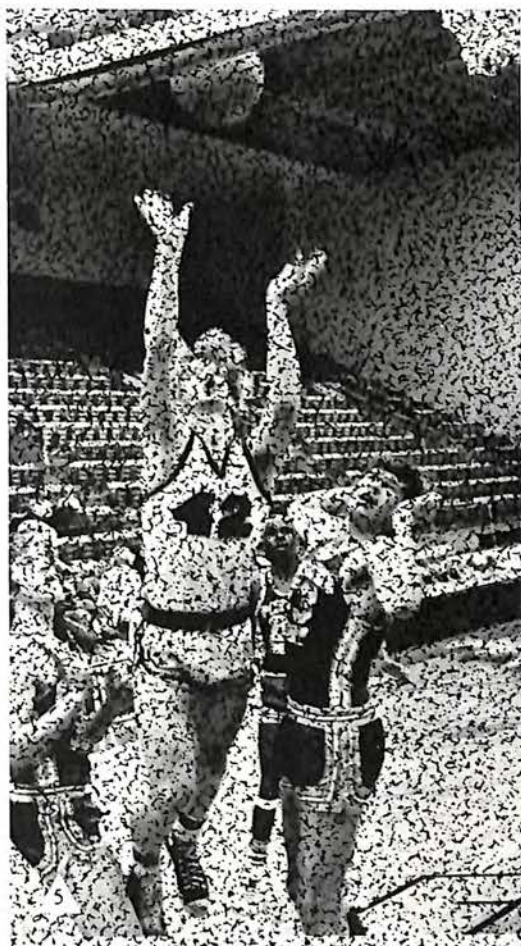

Overcoming setbacks, Knights finish strong

1. In the waning moments of the district tournament game with Jefferson, Greg Allen and Harry Graninger fight for the ball.
2. Varsity Basketball team: R. 1, Bob Blades, Mark Fariss, Harry Graninger, Mark Funderburke, Ricky Reese, Randy Harrison. R. 2, Coach Rudy Lacy, Craige Murray, Raymond Craighead, David Ford, Ken Phelps, Greg Allen, Sy Bohon, Jed Thomas.
3. J. V. Basketball team: R.1, Ron White, Jimmy Butcher, Howard Burgess, Mark Hunter, Frank Garrett. R. 2, John Gosney, Roy Lower, Bill Downie, James Simmons, Cris Lumsden. R. 3, Larry Penino, Chuck Kenzel, Mark Kendrix, David Hodges.
4. Positioning himself, Chuck Kinzel plays excellent defense.
5. Leading scorer Chris Lumsden puts up a shot between two helpless defenders.
6. Streaking Mark Hunter scores a fast break bucket in the Junior Varsity District Championship game.
7. Diminutive guard Howie Burgess overcomes his lack of size with aggressive defense and over all hustle.

Junior varsity captures district championship

The Junior Varsity Basketball team under the guidance of coach Garland Berry compiled an impressive 18-3 record on route to the District Championship. The little Knights won the regular season championship and the right to play the second place team, Patrick Henry, in the title game. The Patriots fell 57-45 thus bringing the title to Cave Spring for the second time in three years. The Knights were paced by Chris Lumsden who averaged 8 rebounds along with 17 points per game. The guard play of Howie Burgess and Mark Hunter also contributed greatly to the team's success.

Matmen record first victory over Northside

The wrestling team concluded another creditable season, posting a 7-4 slate.

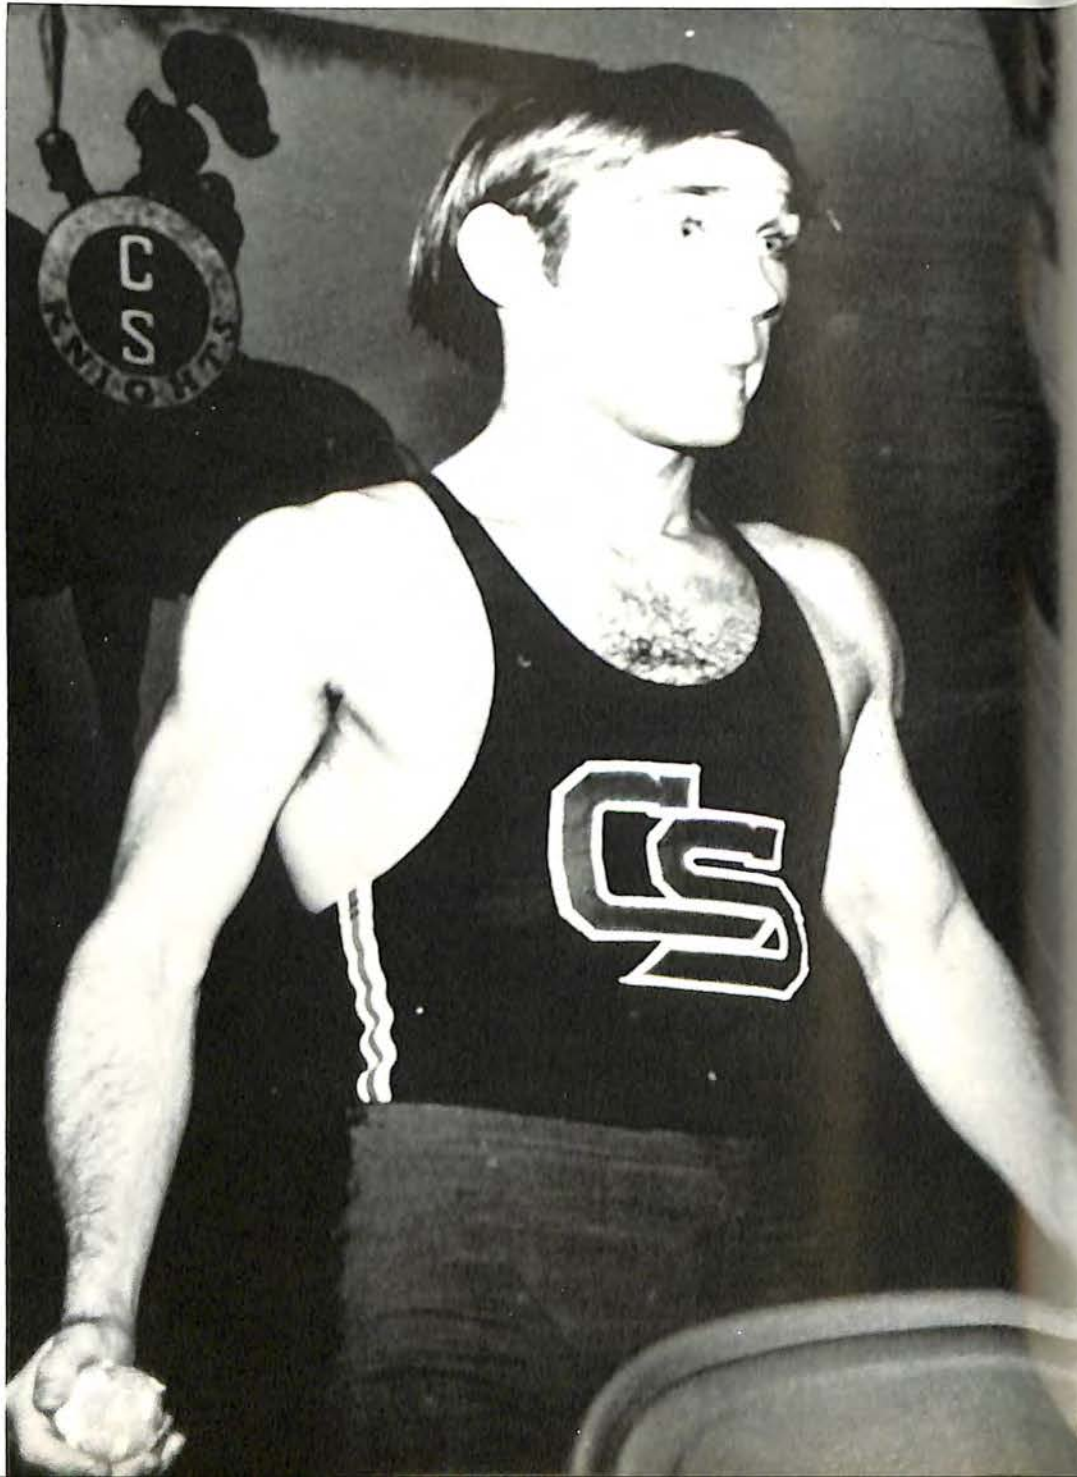

Under the direction of Coach Otis Dowdy, the year was marked by outstanding individual performances.

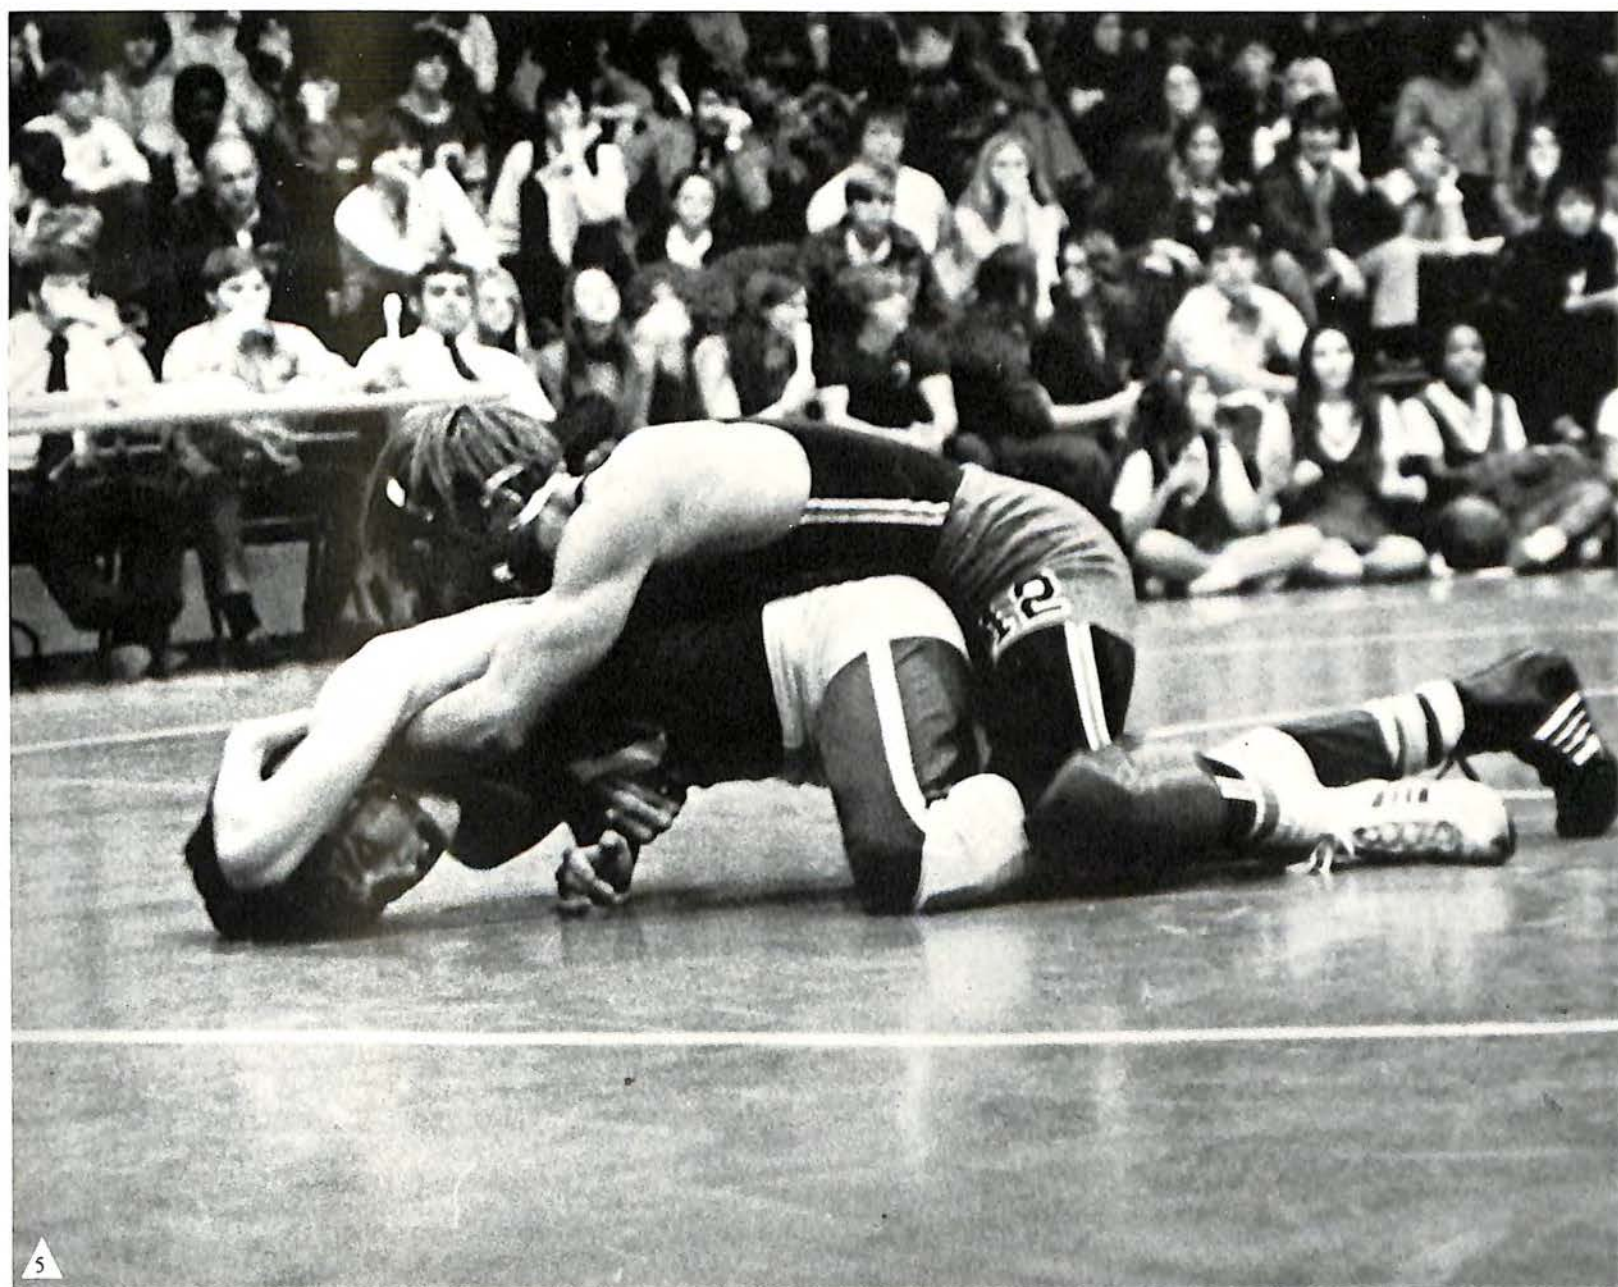

Cave Spring opened against a strong Dublin team, falling to the Dukes 32-31.

Trailing 26-13 late in the match, a courageous comeback by the Knights fell short.

The Matmen evened their record by crushing the Northside Vikings 31-15.

1. Junior 105-pounder, Robin Leonard, works on his cradle hold.
2. Hand raised in victory, Robin Leonard adds to the defeat of Jefferson.
3. Intensely watching the excitement on the mat, Tommy Tanner enjoys his orange after another victory.
4. Senior Mike Kenley works hard for a pin.
5. Using his strength, 11-pounder Tom Tanner gains position.

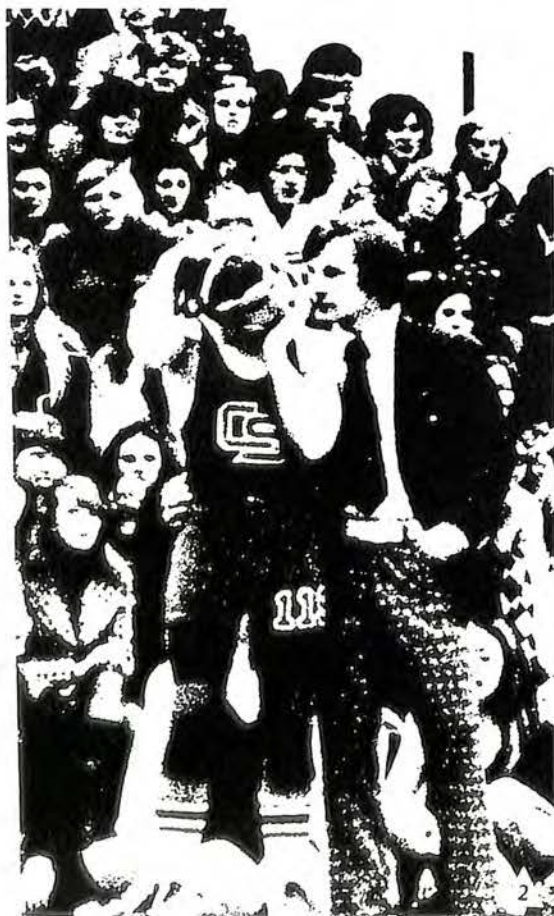

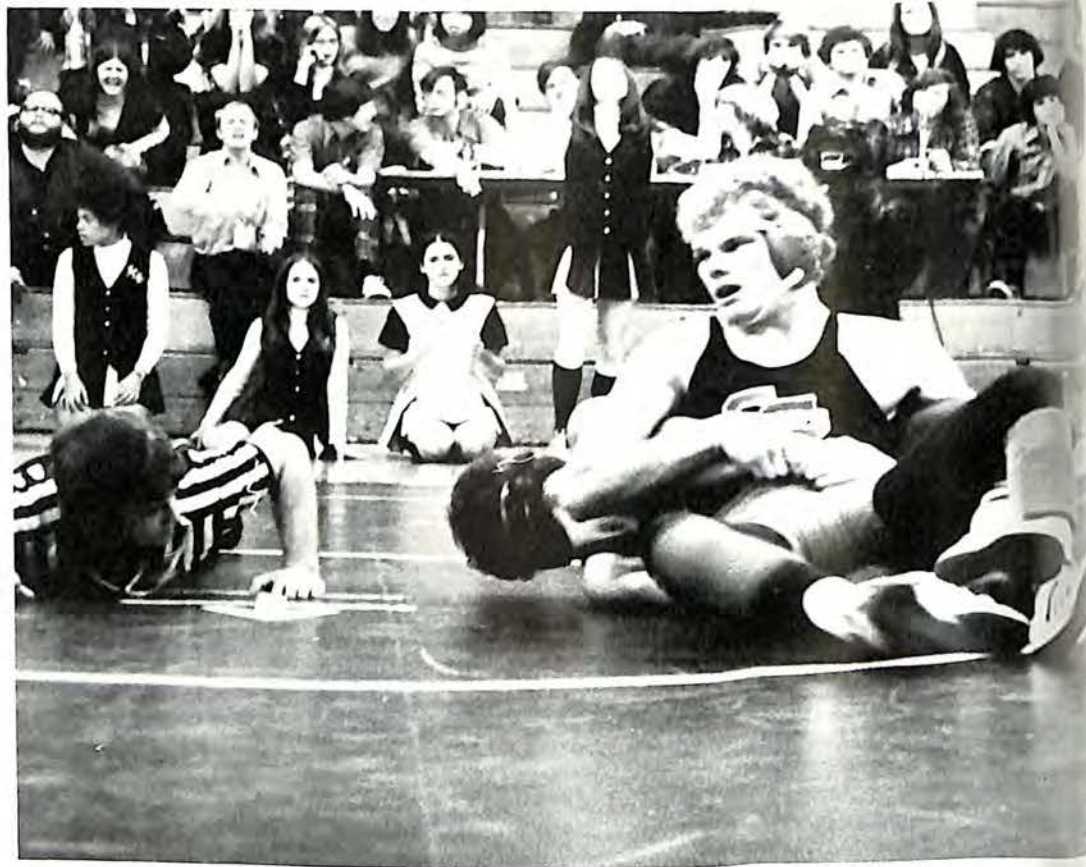

Knights show strength as season closes

Cave Spring encountered Jefferson in a match viewed by the Knights' student body. The Magicians were handily beaten 40-24. Tommy Tanner highlighted the event with a record setting pin in 12 seconds.

The following week, William Fleming defeated the Knights 30-19. Fleming hosted the Christmas Tournament, which saw the Colonels capture first place, as Cave Spring finished fourth.

The William Byrd Terriers soundly thrashed Cave Spring 37-18. The defending AA Sate Champions were held to an 18-18 score after the first eight contests, but poured it on in the final four matches.

The Knights bounced back with a 45-6 massacre of Patrick Henry, and most of the team looked extremely sharp.

Victory was to be short-lived, however, as a fine Lord Botetourt squad rolled up a 36-15 win.

Glenvar was the next opponent to feel Cave Spring's wrath, as the Highlanders dropped a 33-12 decision to the Knights.

CS's winning streak was extended to two with a 31-16 drubbing of the AL Wolverines.

Cave Spring travelled to Jefferson, for a rematch with the Magicians. With the aid of three forfeits, the Knights prevailed 36-15. Particularly satisfying was Donald Sutphin's 6-1 victory over Steve Tate, avenging a loss earlier in the year.

An overwhelming 46-7 win over Franklin County closed out the regular season.

1. Grappler Don Sutphin executes a Granby roll to perfection as he nearly pins previously undefeated Steve Witt of AL.

2. Coach Dowdy gives Mike Kenley pre-match instructions.

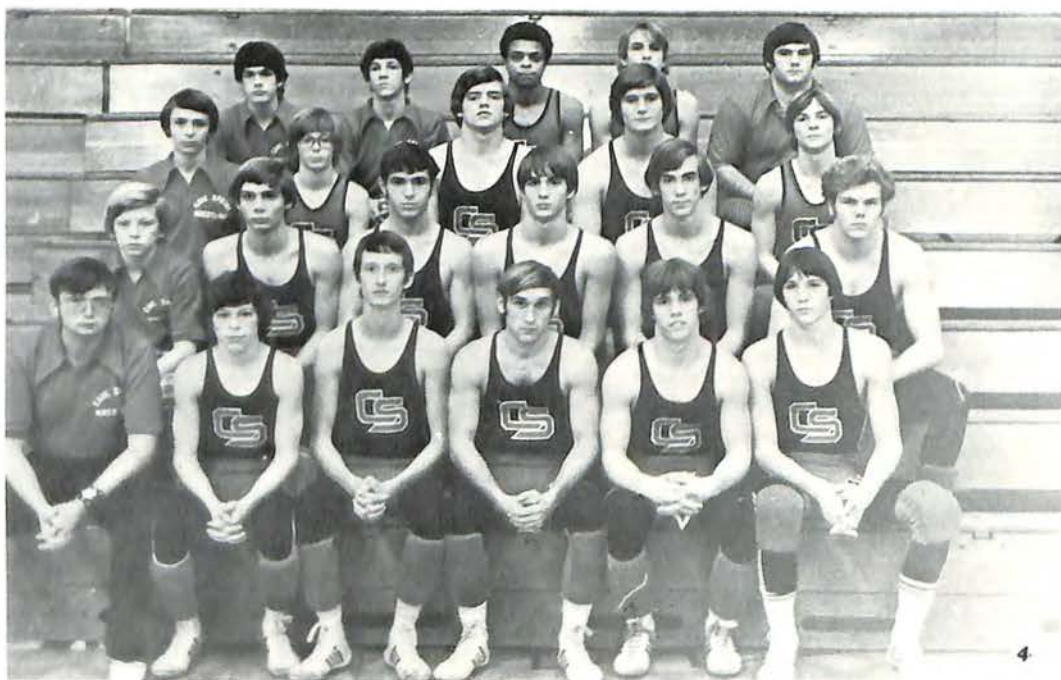

3. Receiving two points for a reversal, Robin Leonard gains control of his opponent.

4. Struggling laboriously, Senior heavyweight Ed Wilson moves in for a takedown.

5. Entangled with his opponent, Sophomore Mickey McKay fights hard for a pin.

Mat Knights capture Roanoke Valley District Title

Cave Spring, considered a darkhorse to undefeated and heavily favored William Fleming scored 103 ½ points to capture the first mat title in CS history. Micky McKay, Robin Leonard, Mike Kenley, Tim Crawford, and Don Sutphin, who placed first in each of their weight classes, paced the victory. Don Sutphin was named "The Outstanding Wrestler" with his fine performance. Robin Leonard won Cave Spring's first regional title ever at 105 lb., pacing the Knights to a third place finish.

1. Sophomore 132 lb. Larry Page hustles to gain control of his opponent.
2. Coach Dowdy gives Don Sutphin added confidence for his crucial match against Andrew Lewis.
3. Dominating his man, Mike Kenley inches toward a pin.
4. Wrestling Team: R. 1, G. Argabright, M. McKay, R. Leonard, T. Tanner, M. Kenley, J. Webb. R. 2, D. Koontz, B. Woodrum, R. Seay, T. Crawford, T. Lergen, D. Sutphin. R. 3, C. Kalbaugh, C. Cato, S. Arledge, M. Naff, C. Dinkler. R. 4, R. Kase, R. Fleshman, W. Taylor, R. Harless, E. Wilson.
5. Experience shows as Tim Crawford goes for a pin.
6. Sophomore Mickey McKay works for a takedown against Northside.

Exercising their bodies as well as their minds, this year's gym classes participated in activities ranging from archery to volleyball. The sophomore boys struggled through the usual routine of skills tests, tennis, volleyball, wrestling, weighttraining and softball; while the girls competed in gymnastics, ping-pong, badminton, field hockey and tennis. Advanced P.E., Physical Fitness, and Recreational Sport classes also competed in archery, badminton, basketball, flag football, volleyball, wrestling, and tennis as they strove to improve their physical fitness, agility, and coordination.

Gym classes develop fitness

1. Senior Ann Conner returns the serve from her opponent.
2. Sophomore Barbara Jackson practices balance beam routine while being spotted by Laura Price.
3. Showing good form, Donna Carroll vaults the horse.
4. Recreational Sports students Blake Smith and Mac Cooper volley for serve.
5. Gym teacher Mrs. Palmer distributes field hockey equipment to her class.
6. The muscle men of advanced P.E. try their hand in basketball.

Gymnastics proved to be Cave Spring's most successful sport in 1974. Coach Sarah Sink's team finished undefeated in two dual, one invitational and the district and regional meets. The gymnasts won the district and regional meets 151-116 and 154-149 over closest competitors, Northside and Woodbridge respectively. Team captains and most valuable gymnasts Pam Palmer and Robin Ervin led the team throughout the year and to a fourth place finish in the state meet, the highest finish of all the athletic teams in the school. Cave Spring's mastery of the sport seems to be insured for years to come as only one senior is graduated off the squad.

Gymnasts retain district and regional crowns

1. On the beam, three top junior performers are Wanda Watts, Tricia Shelor and Toni Isner.
2. Junior Captain Robin Ervin pauses at the top of her routine on the parallel bars.
3. Coach Sarah Sink willingly assists junior Sherri Gonzales on the bars.
4. With perfect form, Robin Ervin racks up many valuable team points on the balance beam.
5. Junior gymnast Pam Palmer demonstrates her graceful movements in the free exercise.
6. Gymnastic team: Lynn Hardy, Toni Isner, Melanie Woodford, Wanda Watts, Robin Ervin, Tricia Shelor, Cheryl Adams, Nancy Johnson, Pam Palmer, Lori Seidell.

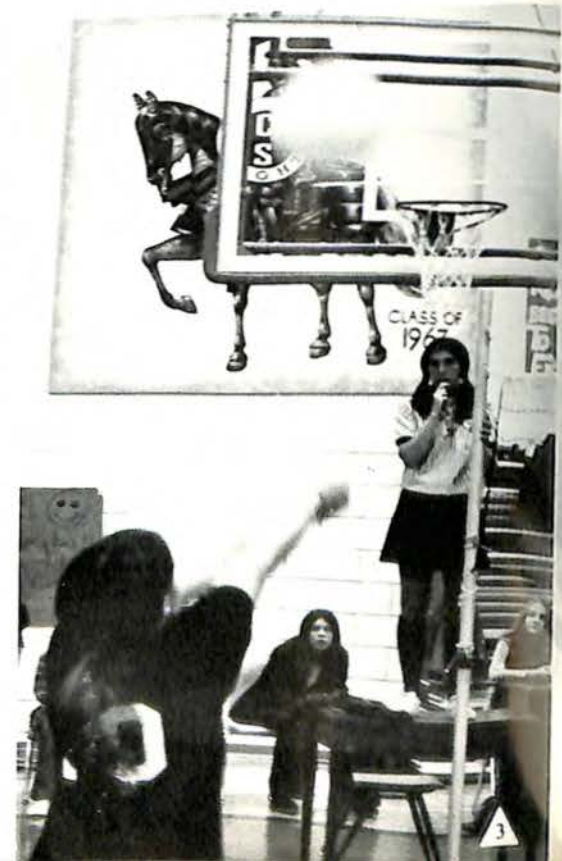

Girls' Sports Disappointment marks volleyball season

The girls' volleyball team paced by captain Susan Light fell to a 1-7 record.

The lone victory came as the girls defeated Glenvar two games to none.

Coach Joyce Palmer, also track coach, sees a bright future in the sport since three freshmen saw action on the varsity, and the junior varsity team compiled a 4-2 record.

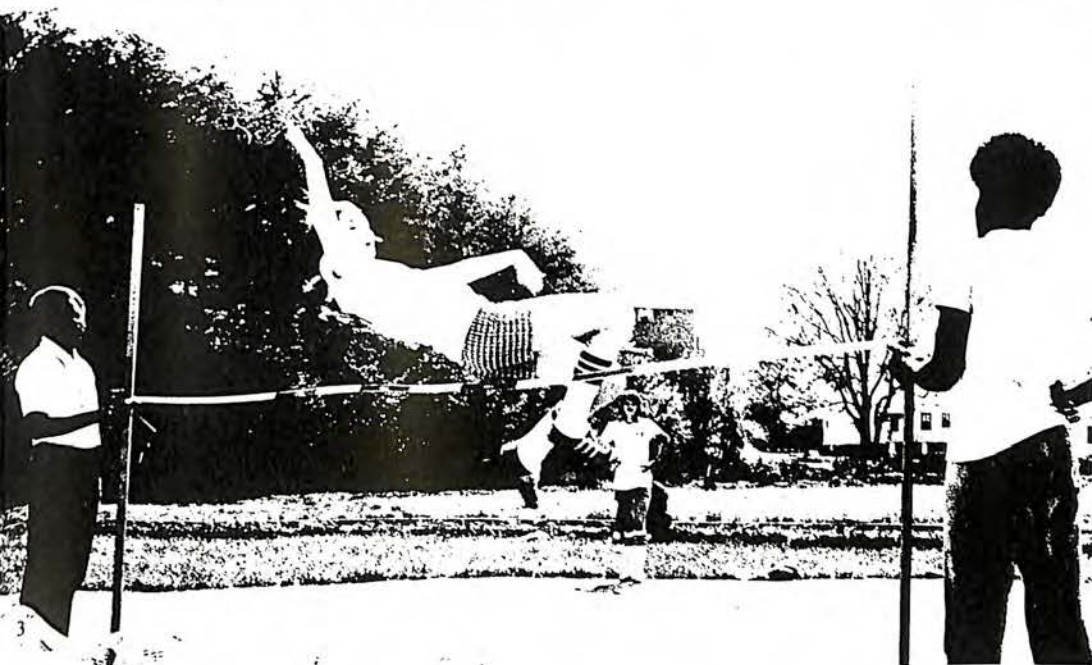

1. Struggling for points, captain Susan Light and Cheryl Scogin keep the ball in play.
2. Volleyball team: R.1, Susan Light, Alicia Purdy, Cindy Light, Eyvonne Leftwich, Jamie Slaughter; R.2, Cheryl Scogin, Sue Little, Judy McGuire, Beth Hosp, Leigh Siverling, Christie Fleming, Joyce Palmer.
3. With an underhand motion, Leigh Siverling volleys the ball across the net.

Track team posts 3-2 mark

The girls' track team, dominated by sophomores and possibly the best track team ever at C.S. posted a 3-2 record as they re-wrote the record book in several events. Tammy Claytor, Eyvonne Leftwich, Emily Moore, and Pam Palmer all set records as they, along with the 440 relay team, led the girls. The 440 relay team, which consisted of Leah Penn, Robin Ervin, Sharon Fleshman, and Ginger Harris, won the District and took second in the Regionals.

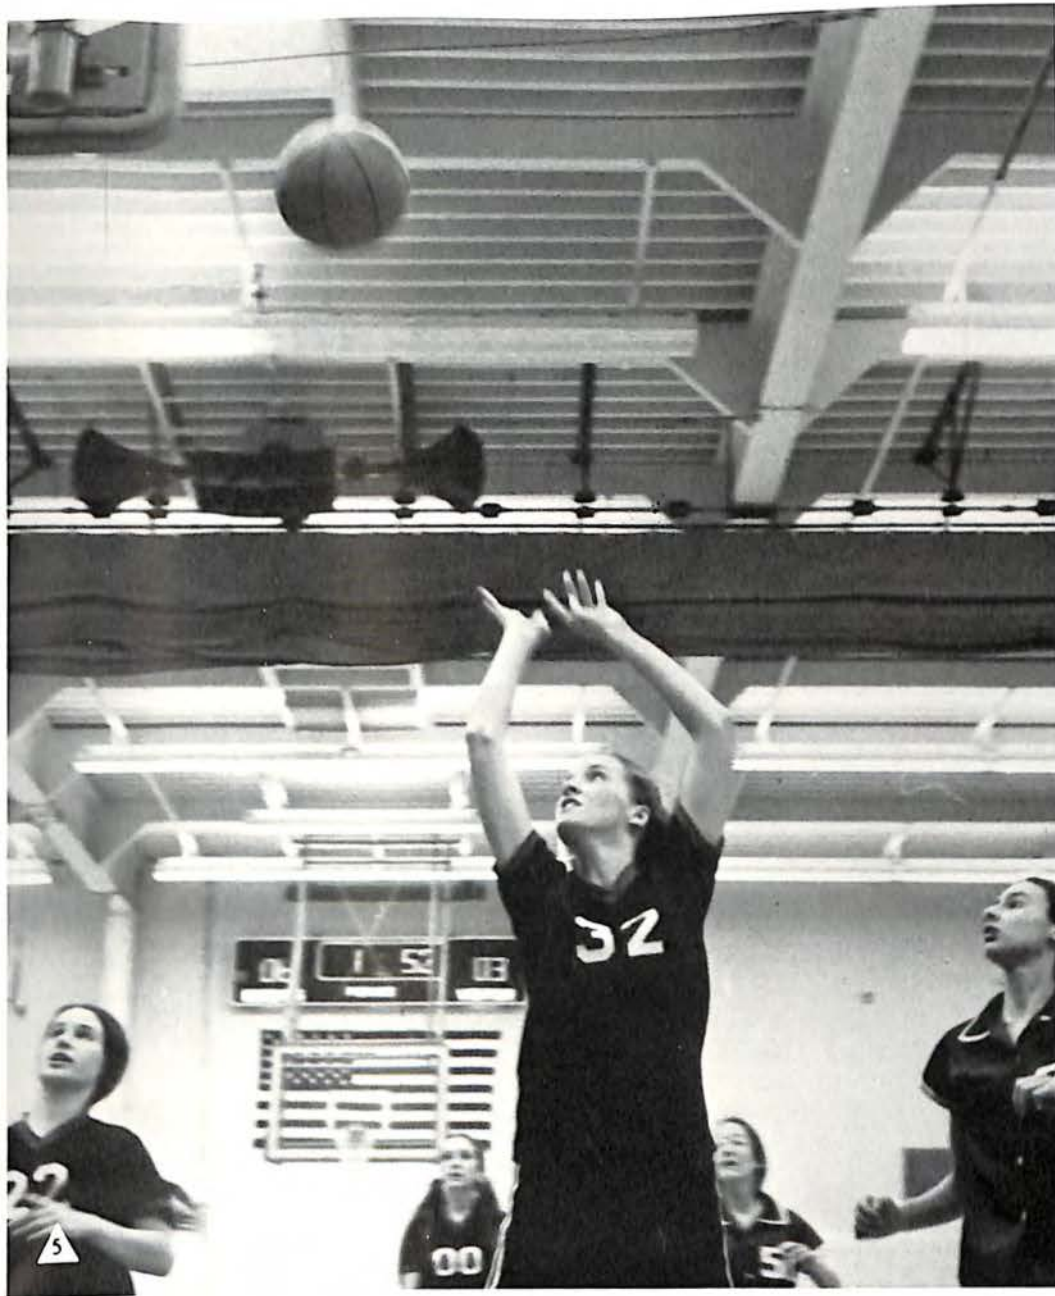

1. In a dual meet with Jefferson, Tammy Claytor winds up to throw the discus.
2. Girls' Track team: R.1, Robin Ervin, Pam Palmer, Leah Penn, Sue Denton. R.2, Tammy Claytor. R.3, Peggy Morse, Leslie Jones, Cindy Fleshman, Eyvonne Leftwich, Leigh Silverling, Teresa Strickland. R.4, Debbie Muncy, Teresa Handy, Teresa St. Clair, Ginger Harris, Sharon Fleshman, Emily Moore, Patricia Via, Beth Weisel, Donna Boush.
3. Demonstrating the form that carried her to a new school record, Emily Moore high jumps.
4. Team captain Leslie Jones and hurdler Sue Denton come over the last hurdle in first and second position.

Girl's b-ball tops patriots to highlight season

The Girls' basketball team under the coaching of Susan Dunagan posted a 4-6 won-lost record. Team captain Christie Fleming and floor leader Leigh Siverling led the Knights consistently throughout the year. The season was highlighted with a revengeful come from behind victory over Patrick Henry. Carolyn Houseman and Donna Boush added strong rebounding power as Leslie Jones, Beth Hosp, Sue Little, Laurie Seidell, and Gina Devoe pitched in.

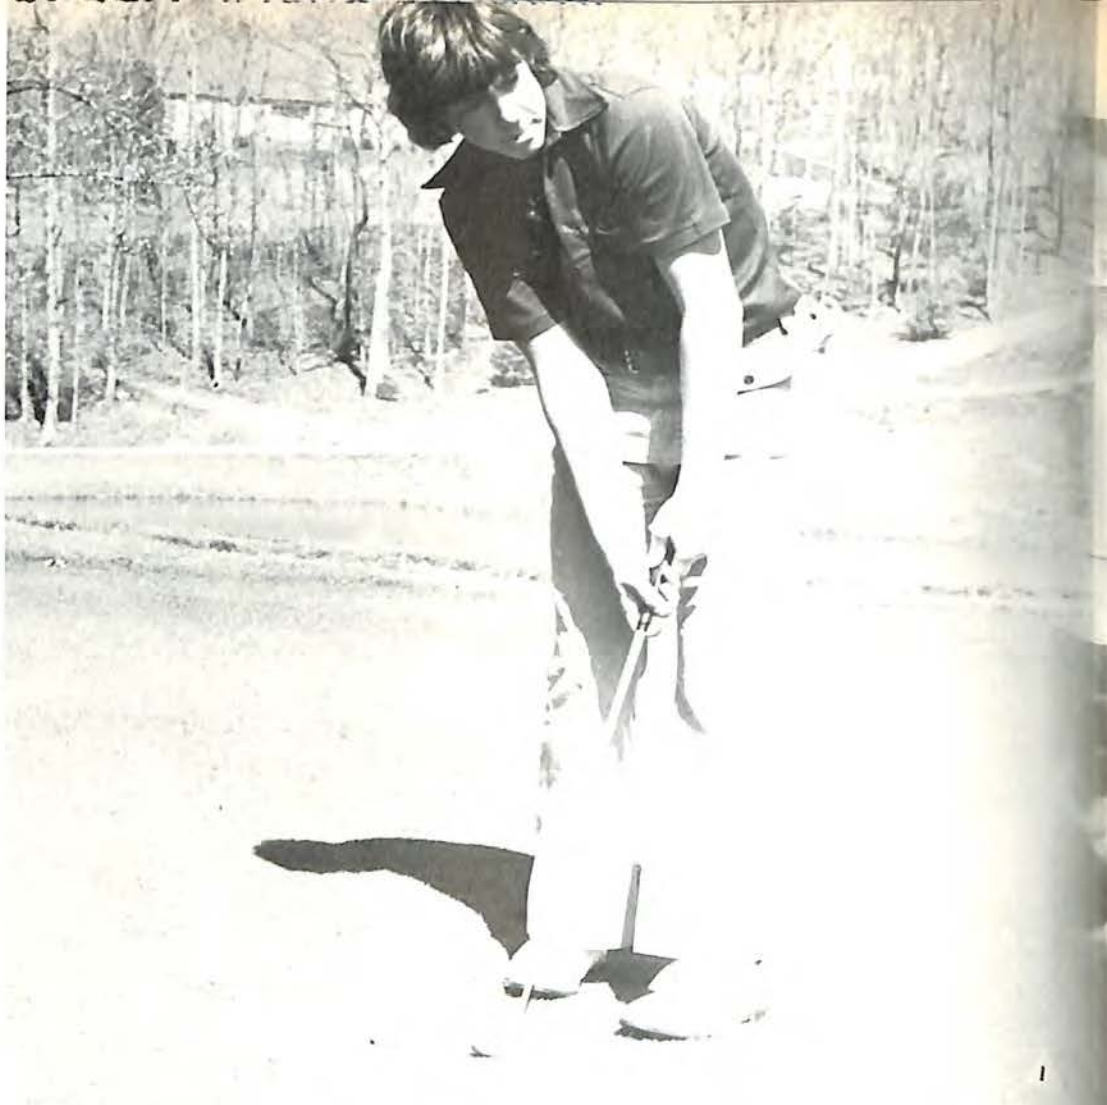

1. Sophomore standout Leigh Siverling starts a fast break against Andrew Lewis.
2. Junior Carolyn Houseman and Sophomore teammate Leigh Siverling play tough defense.
3. Girls' Basketball team: R.1, P. Brunson, P. Morse, Gina Devoux, L. Jones. R.2, J. Slaughter, C. Houseman, C. Fleming, L. Seidell, K. Hylton. R.3, Coach Dunagan, L. Siverling, B. Hosp, D. Boush, S. Little, K. Roe.
4. Cave Spring star Carolyn Houseman applies constant pressure as she shows her defensive prowess.
5. Team captain Christie Fleming fires up a jump shot as the Knights take an early lead.
6. The Knights turn to crash the boards, for rebounds, against Andrew Lewis.
7. Cave Spring's center, Carolyn Houseman, leaps high over an opponent for a clear jump shot.

Golf team bags district title; tennis excels with 8-2 mark

As in the two previous years, the 1974 golf team took the District Golf Match by 8 strokes over runner-up PH. They were led by Scott Berglund who shot a sizzling 69 to tie the school record. Berglund, along with Steve Burnette, Mark Funderburke, and Millard Radford posted a 4-1 over-all record. Joe Starnes also contributed to this record, playing in two matches, and Steve Burnette advanced to the State Finals as he shot an 80 in Regionals.

1. Cave Spring's only representative in the state match, Steve Burnette takes careful aim.
2. Golf team: R.1, Mark Funderburke, Steve Burnette, Millard Radford, Scott Berglund. R.2, Larry Hess, Howard Burgess, Alex Murray.
3. District medalist Scott Berglund systematically lines up a short putt.
4. Pitching to the green, Millard Radford closely follows his shot.

The Cave Spring Tennis team was led this year by Seniors Bill Skeen, and Bob Whitescarver who was voted MVP. They started well as they won their first two matches before falling to District Champ PH. The netters came back to win five straight matches over Andrew Lewis, Northside, Jefferson, and William Fleming twice, before being toppled by arch-rival P.H. The Knights finished the regular season with a win over A.L., compiling an 8-2 record. They then advanced to the Regionals only to be beaten by a powerful Lane team.

1. Tennis team: R.1, Billy Skeen, Carson Cato, Bo Hjorth, Bobby Hudson, Steve Stillwell. R.2, Dan Chrisman, Greg Caldwell, Pat Skeen, Mark Mallen, Stuart Futch, Bob Whitescarver, Bill Meyer, Tom Waldron, Frank Venning, Dave Wald.
2. Standout Sophomore performer, Stuart Futch displays a fine backhand.
3. Senior letterman, Bobby Whitescarver intently waits for the return.
4. Number one netman, Billy Skeen skillfully returns a volley.

C.C., second in district

The members of the Cross Country team compiled a 5-2 record for the 1973 season. The strong Knight team finished second in the district under Coach Sam Shackleford's leadership to end a fine season. The harriers were led by Juniors Doug Pierce, David Ford, and Standout Freshman Gary Barba.

1. Cross Country: R.1, G. Kaufman, C. Miller, M. Benson, M. Wood, J. O'Hara, R. Schmill, R. Ruby.
- R.2, M. Hunter, B. Styron, D. Pierce, D. Ford, M. Gaking, D. Chrisman, M. Oliver.
2. After finishing an antagonizing race, Mike Benson and David Ford catch their breath.
3. Junior Doug Pierce strides for the finish line in a cross country meet.
4. Coach Sam Shackleford urges Sophomore Bill Styron across the finish line.
5. Junior runner David Ford keeps up a constant pace on the cross country course.
6. Senior Jim Browder Stretches to attain a winning height in the high jump.
7. Pole vaulter Ralph Booth approaches the bar and vaults to a district championship.
8. Long jumper Kenny Ballard displays supreme effort to gain extra inches.

Track

Cave Spring's track team finished the season with a 6-4 record and a fourth place finish in the Cosmopolitan track meet. The Cindermen, coached by Otis Dowdy, were led by Barry Meador who consistently won the shot and set a school and district record in the discus.

Trackmen vault to a winning season

After taking second in a tri-meet with William Fleming and Franklin County the Knights lost to Robert E. Lee. A week later they defeated Jefferson, then lost once again, this time to Northside 66-65. The highlight of the season was the win over Northside and Andrew Lewis in a tri-meet. But unfortunately, the streak did not last long as they were demoralized a few days later by undefeated district champion William Fleming. Doug Pierce set a new school record in the mile, while Randy Cook smashed the old high-hurdles mark. The Knights were led also by pole vaulter Ralph Booth, who along with Cook and Meador placed in the District and advanced to the Regional Meet. Amid the stiff competition at the regional meet, Barry Meador took second in the discus and Ralph Booth tied for third place in the pole vault.

1. As Charlie Overstreet and Mark Hunter lead the pack in the 880, Todd Orr and Mark Fulcher struggle to gain ground.

2. Blowing over the hurdle, Randy Cook takes a commanding lead and displays the form which took him to a new school record of 15.1 seconds in the high hurdles.

3. Mile record holder Doug Pierce leads the pack of David Ford, Mike Benson and George Kaufman in the mile.

4. Track team: R.1. J. Price, D. Dew, P. Delpierre, R. Booth, J. Walters, B. Anderson, S. Ferguson, M. Hunter, M. Benson, B. Kaufman. R.2. T. Gravely, B. Downie, B. Styron, T. Orr, K. Ballard, G. Kaufman, K. Foster, L. Terry, A. Askew, D. Behl, M. Wood, R.2. R. Leonard, M. Fulcher, D. Pierce, D. Ford, J. Browder, B. Meador, D. Sowder, C. Overstreet, M. Duncan, R. Knoebal, R. Cook, B. Poe, M. Oliver.

5. District Champion Barry Meador explodes in the shot putt.

Baseball team slugs out winning year

The Cave Spring Baseball Knights finished second in the district as they posted a 9-5 seasonal record. The season started slowly as the Knights dropped a 3-2 decision to A.I.L. They bounced back, however, as they won 4 in a row and 7 out of 8 games to move into a tie for first place with a 7-2 record. However, all hopes of a playoff berth died as the baseballers hit a three game losing streak. Cave Spring ended the season with back-to-back wins as Neal All hit game winning home runs in both games. Mike Naff was the work horse of the pitching staff as he compiled a 7-4 record and an ERA of 1.51. Randy Harrison led the offensive attack as he hit at a .349 clip. He was closely followed by Roy Lower and Paul Huffman with .343 and .342 averages respectively. Neal All and Freshman standout Donny Ballard each had 2 HR's to lead the Knights in that category.

1. Second Baseman Randy Harrison cocks his bat as he strides into the pitch.

2. Junior Paul Huffman dodges a wild pitch against Robert E. Lee.

3. The Knights, showing infield prowess, pick off an unwary base-stealer at second base.

4. Sophomore catcher Roy Lower misses an infield hit by half a step in a closely contested game against Robert E. Lee.

5. Knight batgirl Beverly Pugh checks the scorebook as Richard Webster and Mike Naff watch Cave Spring put down Jefferson.

6. Proving that baseball is a gentlemen's game, the Knights meet the Leemen at home plate.

1. Junior Paul Huffman proves to be one of the top hitters on the team as he lashes out another hit.
2. Rounding third, Neil All looks to see if he can make it home.
3. Senior standout Mike Naff swings away in a pregame batting practice.
4. Adding another run to a victory, Richard Webster slides safely home.
5. Pitcher-shortstop Mike Lancaster fires to the plate in another excellent relief performance.

Happy faces are best for recording the good times

Teaching well is the goal of educators; learning, the goal of students; making learning interesting and easy, the goal of modular scheduling. The joys of getting ideas accepted, the satisfaction of a job well done, or the disappointment in failure to meet an assignment deadline all contribute to the day-to-day survival in a regular six day modular cycle.

Modular scheduling affords gain time for creative outlets or mere relaxation; it affords "lab" periods for discussions or completing assignments; it affords "IA" groups for analyzation of subject topics or test time; it affords — lectures for note-taking or note-passing; it affords . . . opportunity.

All work and no play is not the case, as ample time can be allotted for both. Whether it be a crazy senior dressed for WCSH's Greasy Fifties' Day, or a grimacing science teacher in a play, or a paraprofessional blushing like a school girl at the whistle of an admirer, the happy faces do reflect the good times and joyous occasions.

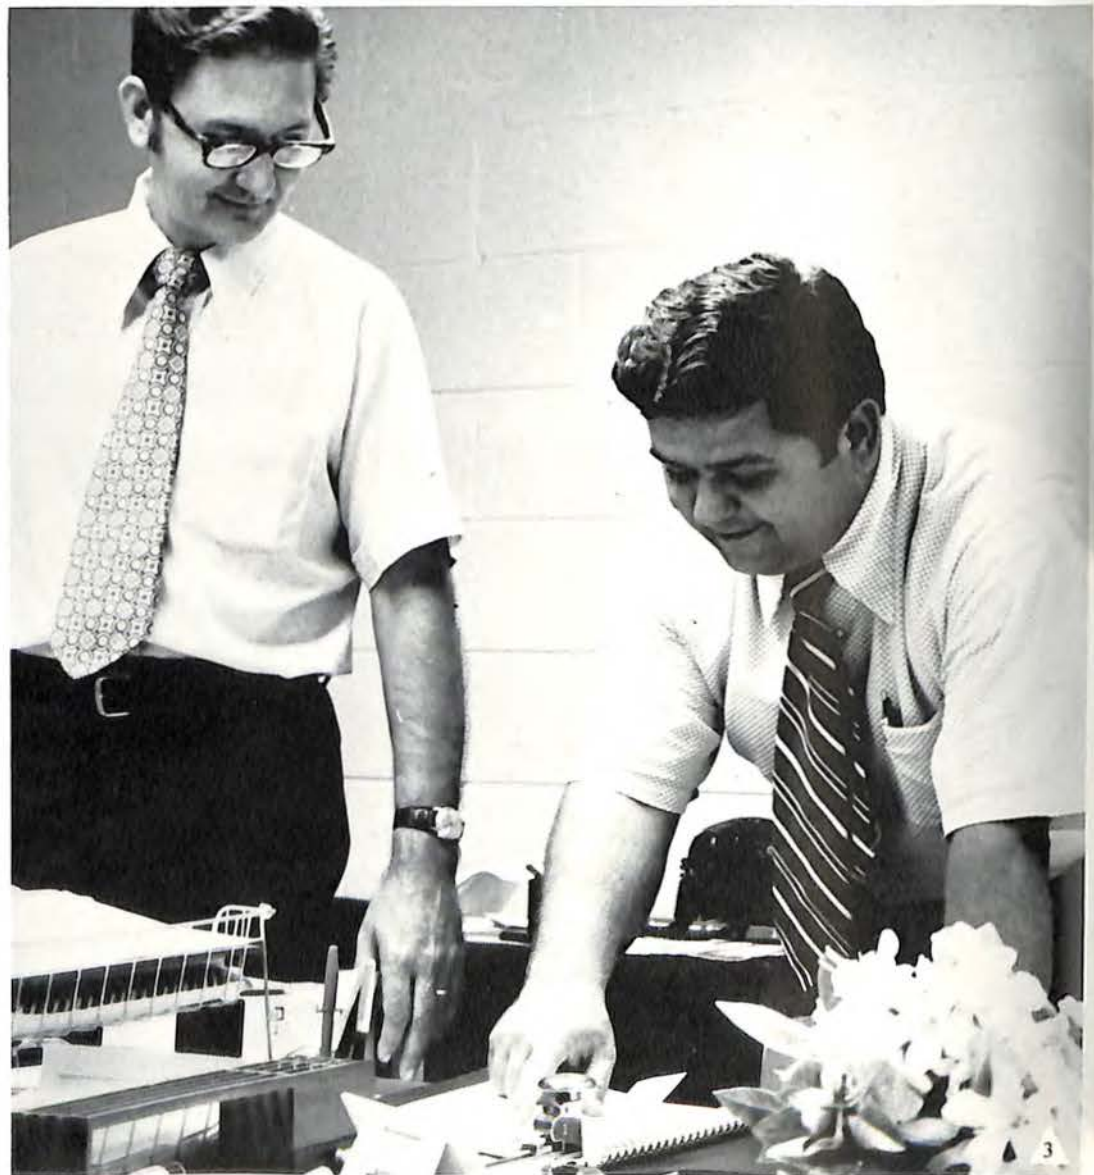

1. After reading one of her student's themes, Ms. Judy Russell is in hysterics.
2. Aghast, "Queen Dollalolla" Dechow receives the latest bad news in a scene from the comic play, A TRAGEDY OF TRAGEDIES.
3. After "jitter-bugging" in the cafeteria, Linda Robertson grins coyly in her greasy fifties attire.
4. Joking with Miss Rowe, Mrs. Pamela Whitlock takes time to exchange an amusing anecdote.
5. Amazed, Mrs. Juanita Mastrangelo turns around in the hall to see who whistled at her.
6. Enjoying his new position as principal, Mr. James Daughtridge stops to take a break in his busy schedule.

The Policy Makers

The administration of CSHS could be termed the hub of activity in the turning wheel of education. "Administration" was a word of many meanings. To some it meant assigned study halls, and no more smoking in the bathroom. But to others the Administration was the direction of all school-related activities, and the place to get a straight answer.

The office of the Administration was located in the center of the "school in the round." The master minds of the smooth operation of the school included Principal, James H. Daughtridge, who was noted for his, "This is Mr. Daughtridge speaking." Behind the scenes he handled parent conferences, faculty meetings, and the technical aspects of running a high school. Assistant principal, Henrietta Goodall, whose office was located in the guidance department, adeptly handled all school reports, and grade cards. Richard L. Tisinger, also assistant principal, promoted school athletics by handling all ticket sales. All of this took place in an atmosphere of 68°.

Offices hum with activity

The word "Guidance" meant "help and direction to a troubled soul." The guidance department strived to keep the overflow of problems to a minimum. Such obstacles encountered were PSAT's, SAT's, achievement tests, and college applications, all expertly handled in a day's work.

The duties of the secretaries ranged from the ordinary to the extraordinary. However, in spite of the voluminous paperwork involved, they managed to smile and lend help to students, faculty, and visitors.

1. Enjoying his new job, Mr. Daughtridge always has a cheerful smile for all visitors to his office.
2. Mrs. Penny Goodall speaks with Jamie Balzer about the last SCA meeting.
3. Mr. Tisinger lends a helping hand to Mr. Daughtridge on a busy day.
4. "So glad you could come," says Mr. Jack Lindsey to a tardy student.
5. Always eager to talk with students, Mr. John Millard explains PSAT scores to an interested Junior.
6. Brightening the office with their smiles, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Jones, secretaries; and Mrs. Miller, bookkeeper, keep everything running smoothly.
7. Guidance counselors, Miss Draper, Mrs. Hagen, Mr. Millard, and Mr. Engers, correct conflicts in student schedules.

Those who do the thankless jobs

A work force of custodians and cafeteria personnel served the school faithfully throughout the year. Eight members of the custodial staff had the nearly impossible job of maintaining cleanliness and orderliness in a school frequented by thirteen hundred students. The ten cafeteria workers strived to keep everyone content with the hot lunches available. This angle of high school life was rarely considered or thanked; however, each job was greatly appreciated.

1. Raving beauties, Mrs. King and Mrs. Robertson, are quite pleased with David Gibbs' compliments about their coordinated smocks.
2. Due to the efforts of Mrs. Earnestine Hairston, Mrs. George Meador, and Mr. Clay Forrester the school retains its order and neatness.
3. The cafeteria staff consists of Mrs. Annabelle Barnes, Mrs. Hazel Cochran, Mrs. Eleanor Robertson, Mrs. Edith Meador, Mrs. Edna Chockley, Mrs. Lucille Farmer, Mrs. Francis Poff, and Mrs. Elsie King.
4. Patiently, Mrs. Deitt waits on students buying ice cream.
5. Hard-working Mrs. Hairston takes time out to smile for a picture.

The core of knowledge reaches students

Of the 63 teachers at CSHS, only 63 of them participated in some school-related activity. Besides the 134 courses which were offered, our teachers sponsored 25 clubs ranging from the newly formed Guitar Club to the age-old Latin Club. They coached 15 teams, boys and girls, all competitive. All of these activities demanded extra hours working with students, but to our spirited teachers, the hours brought only satisfaction and happiness.

Our paraprofessionals provide valuable services

From effectively patrolling the cafeteria to taking attendance, Cave Spring's nine paraprofessionals proved to be the school's salvation. Both teachers and administration were aided by their invaluable assistance. In addition, students could always be sure that a paraprofessional eye was watching them during their gain time.

1. These little pads of notices reminding us to bring our overdue books back to the English lab are proof that Mrs. Morra keeps things in order.
2. Mrs. McCorkle selects copper tooling basic designs for use in the art department while Miss Lynn Garrett, student teacher, smooths out the rough spots in her clay model.
3. A godsend to both faculty and students are our paraprofessionals: Mrs. Rose Morra, Mrs. Juanita Mastrangelo, Mrs. Joyce Hawthorne, Mrs. Dorothy Simmons, Mrs. Rebecca Hall, Mrs. June McCorkle, Mrs. Mary Lotts, Mrs. Virginia Kauffelt.
4. Anyone who wants a demonstration in speed typing can see the champion, Mrs. Lotts, at work in the little room next door to the attendance office.
5. Mrs. Katherine Bostian gives Jody Hershey the evil eye for invading her cafeteria domain.
6. Always helpful, Mrs. Hawthorne replaces another lost schedule for Gayle Martin.

1. Besides teaching recreational sports and boys' PE, Coach Dowdy shares his time, strength, and energy with the wrestling team.
2. Technical drawing teacher, Mr. Morrison works on some of his own drawings.
3. Enthusiastically, Mrs. Wilkerson leads a group of teachers in a song they wrote for a football pep rally.
4. During a senior rap session, Mrs. Carter and Greg Allen pay particular attention to Mr. Daughtridge's comments concerning the energy crisis.
5. "Queen Dollalolla" Dechow, "King Arthur" Wymer and "Princess Hunkamunka" Kitchen are absolutely bewildered as "Messenger Noodle" Millard is slaughtered in a scene from A TRAGEDY OF TRAGEDIES.
6. Relaxing in the teachers' lounge, Mrs. Goodwin, Mrs. Kerr, and Mrs. Mooney discuss their shopping plans for the afternoon. After all, teachers are human too!

Outside of class, teachers devote time to “doing their own thing”

Teachers, too, did “their own thing.” So whether it was telling jokes in the teachers’ workroom, sipping a cold drink at their respective desks, singing school-spirited songs for a pep rally, or just propping up their feet for a few solitary minutes — even in the busy schedule of a teacher, there were a few moments of freedom before their next class.

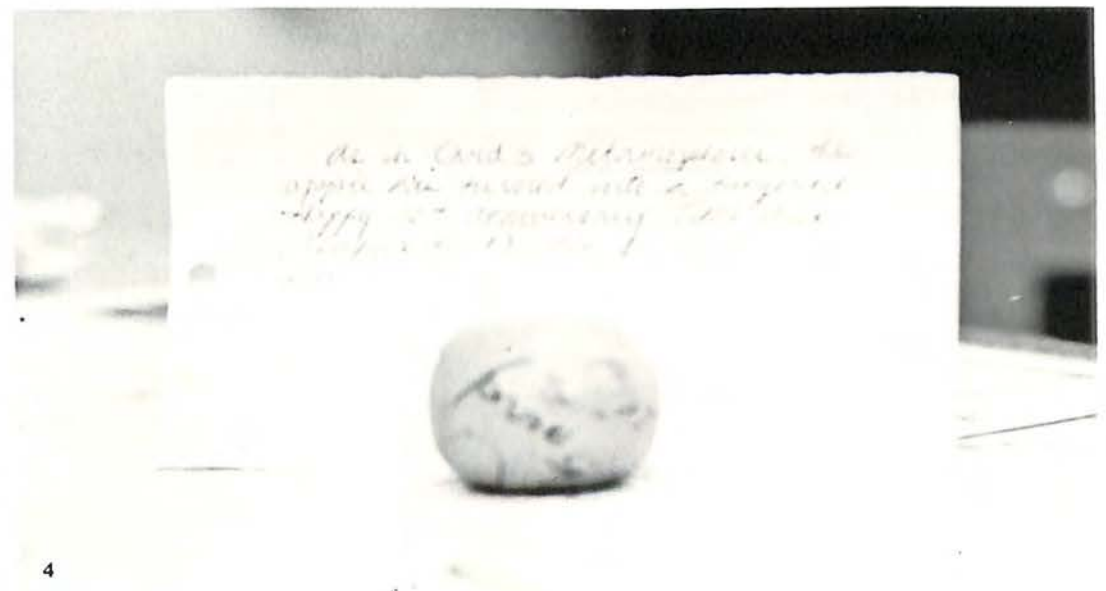

Fun falls into the scheme of things

1. Although a dedicated Latin teacher, Mrs. Lurlene W. Todd finds time to reign as 'Ms. Apple Butter of 1973-74.' She is shown here with her court, Mrs. Polly McFarlane and Ms. Donna Tucker.
2. Yearning for security, Mr. Lacy hugs his teddy bear, while Miss Wood and Miss Metz cuddle their poodles.
3. To celebrate 'Ms. Apple Butter's' crowning, Debbie Gartzke and George Griffith place a bruised tangerine on the new queen's desk. With a sinister look in her eyes, Debbie seems to say "I'm a little devil!", while George smiles approvingly.
4. A gift of love: a bandaged tangerine. "As in Ovid's METAMORPHOSES, the apple has turned into a tangerine. Happy 12th anniversary. Times flies (Tempus fugit) when you're having fun."

Teachers often broke away from rigid classroom instruction and found time to establish friendships with students, and very simply, to have fun. This type of deviation produced a better learning atmosphere and rounded out the students' total educational experience.

The fun activities were often simple, such as in-depth discussions between faculty and students, parties and beauty pageants for teachers, showing student admiration for faculty members. Mrs. Lurlene Todd was crowned 'Ms. Apple Butter of 1973-74' by Latin students. Clubs and activities were expressions of common interests that students and teachers shared. Thus, through love and understanding, teachers and students established long-lasting friendships.

Learning is the name of the game

Not only is there an art in knowing a thing, but also a certain art in teaching it.
— Cicero

There are many steps involved in becoming a well-educated individual. The necessary capacities are listening well, thinking critically, watching demonstrations closely, researching material, and seeking the aid of more experienced individuals.

Every construction project must have a foreman, someone who can lead the others, guiding them in difficult moments, correcting their mistakes and generally encouraging them. In this case, the foremen are the teachers, and each is trained in his field to help us develop our academic potential.

Although snowy fields and warm weather beckoned to us, somehow we managed to sit through humorous lectures, taking scrawled notes. Perhaps most of us realized that lecture was a basic method of acquiring factual information on which critical thinking must be built.

Many teachers find it helpful not only to explain information to a student, but also to show the student what he or she means. Classroom demonstrations give us a better understanding of material because we can actually see a principle at work. Just as drawing a landscape is easier to understand through an illustration, so is measuring chemicals.

1. Intrigued with Mrs. Bowles' English lecture, Gary Goad listens attentively.
 2. Surrounded by budding gymnasts, Mrs. Joyce Palmer reads out scores on gymnastic skills tests.
 3. While one of his shop students watches, Mr. Morrison illustrates the proper use of the jigsaw.
 4. With a critical eye, Mrs. Peggy Perdue evaluates Cathy Hall's typing prowess.
 5. Commanding attention, Mr. Bill Svec leads the band in a rehearsal.
 6. Using his gain time wisely, Lawrence Cahill "hits the books" in the library.

Learning packs its own spice

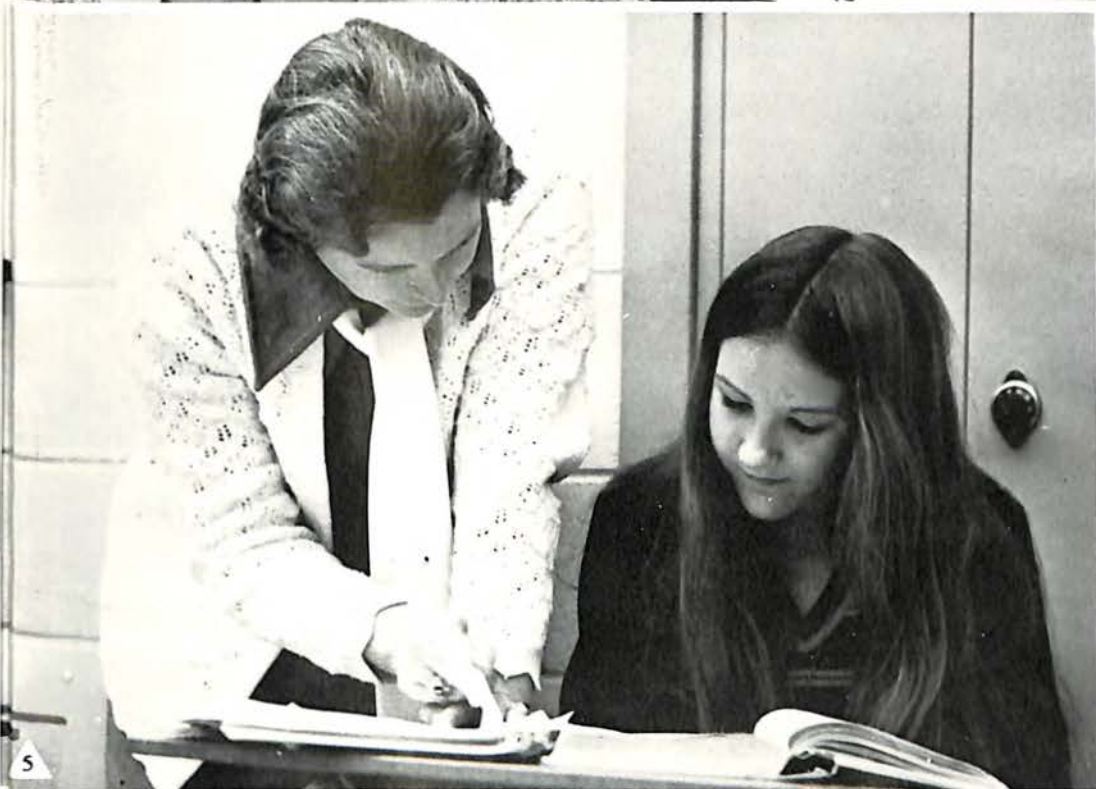

Merely listening to teachers, though profitable, is not enough. We had to work diligently ourselves, examining the merit of ideas presented and trying to find more information. Reading is a requisite of a knowledgeable person, and can give us a deeper understanding of what we hear in class. Researching also helps to prepare us for the next step in obtaining knowledge.

After we have heard the teacher's explanation, seen the actual process, and read on our own, we are ready to work alone. Under the supervisory eye of the teachers, we try to use our newly acquired knowledge.

Sometimes, however, all this work is not enough. Occasionally our solo attempts do not succeed. That is when we turn back to the teacher for more help. Sometimes only a few answers to some puzzling questions will help set us on the right track.

1. "Eyes on your book, curve your fingers deeply," Mrs. Leona Robbins instructs Melody Young and Connie Starrett.
2. Reflecting on the past candidate assembly, Miss Metz and Larry Terry agree that it was a success.
3. During an outdoor physics lab, Mr. Pugh shows Mike Mitchell and Yancy Sanders the techniques of using the parallax viewer.
4. Outside of class Miss Fore talks to Mike Cordell about making up a test.
5. Geometry teacher, Miss Margaret Byrd, re-explains the Pythagorean theorem to Laura Duncan.
6. Displaying her creativity and artistic talent, Sally Griggs finds ceramics class a way of expressing herself.
7. While adding last-minute touches to pottery, students in ceramics decide what their new creation will be.

It's Monday again

Although the exhausted faculty members survived the first confusing year of modular scheduling, various problems still waited to be solved as school began in the fall of '73. Just as the juniors, seniors, and faculty had settled into the new routine, a brigade of novices arrived from the junior high, causing, once again, disorganization and confusion. Trying to retain self-control while explaining an assignment for the fifth time to a day-dreaming class, and grading an ever-growing mound of papers, teachers felt their responsibilities and duties numerous. No wonder our teachers were glad when holidays and weekends finally arrived. Listening to the imaginative excuses of students as to why they were late and forgot their homework broke the monotony of the day. As the students' ingenuity increased, the teachers' equanimity decreased. The abrupt arrival of the energy crisis during the winter altered Cave Spring's life style. Now, both students and faculty, not only had to cope with modular scheduling, but also with dark halls and cold classrooms. For a short while, the school day began and ended one half-hour later than usual. But all in all, the initiative to work still prevailed and students, faculty, and administration performed necessary tasks, while unconsciously assimilating new ideas and learning the compassion of patience.

1. Starting off the new week, Mrs. Sarah Sink explains how she will grade gymnastic routines.
2. Senior Class sponsor, Mrs. McFarlane, scans her hectic list of things to do in preparation for graduation.
3. Half-asleep, Mr. Laughlin directs a student in the procedures of frog dissection.
4. "It's Monday again," says Greg Meisenzahl to Mr. Graybeal.
5. "Is it 3:45 yet!" What a day it has been for Mrs. Wilkerson and Paul Sherman.
6. After a tiring weekend, Mr. Lindsey dreads the start of a new week.

The key word for teachers is

W'ORK

CSHS teachers handled much more than grading papers, planning lessons, and conducting classes. All teachers were given a round of hall duty which consisted of patrolling the crowded morning halls to keep an eye on students' activities. They were also assigned bus duty to safeguard the entrance of bus-riding students each morning. Frequently a teacher would alter a lesson routine and show a film. For the mere wrestling with a movie projector or any piece of audio-visual equipment, teachers should be commended.

1. That calculator is a life-saver for Miss Julia Goodman and Mrs. Suellen Fore when preparing a key for their math test.
2. Mrs. Elaine Shafer gives last-minute instructions to her student teacher, Miss Sandra Goolsby, before she tackles her first French class alone.
3. That government report is quite amusing to Mrs. June McCorkle, but Mr. David Wymer isn't so sure that it should be accepted.
4. Psychology teacher, Mrs. Jackie Wilkerson, experiences her Monday morning blahs' as her lab students switch seats while she is taking role.
5. Biology team, Mrs. Ellen Holtman, Mrs. Rebecca Dechow, Mr. Benjie Lebow, and Mr. James Laughlin plan a biotic happening for the next lecture.
6. While Mrs. Peschel keeps the library quiet, Mrs. Kitchen and Mrs. Simmons prepare new books for circulation.
7. To give that garment the professional touch, Mrs. Esta Catron shows Mary K. Thomas how to make that special stitch.

Sharing brings growth and maturity

In learning there is growth and maturity. Growth on the part of both teacher and student, but maturity mostly in the student himself.

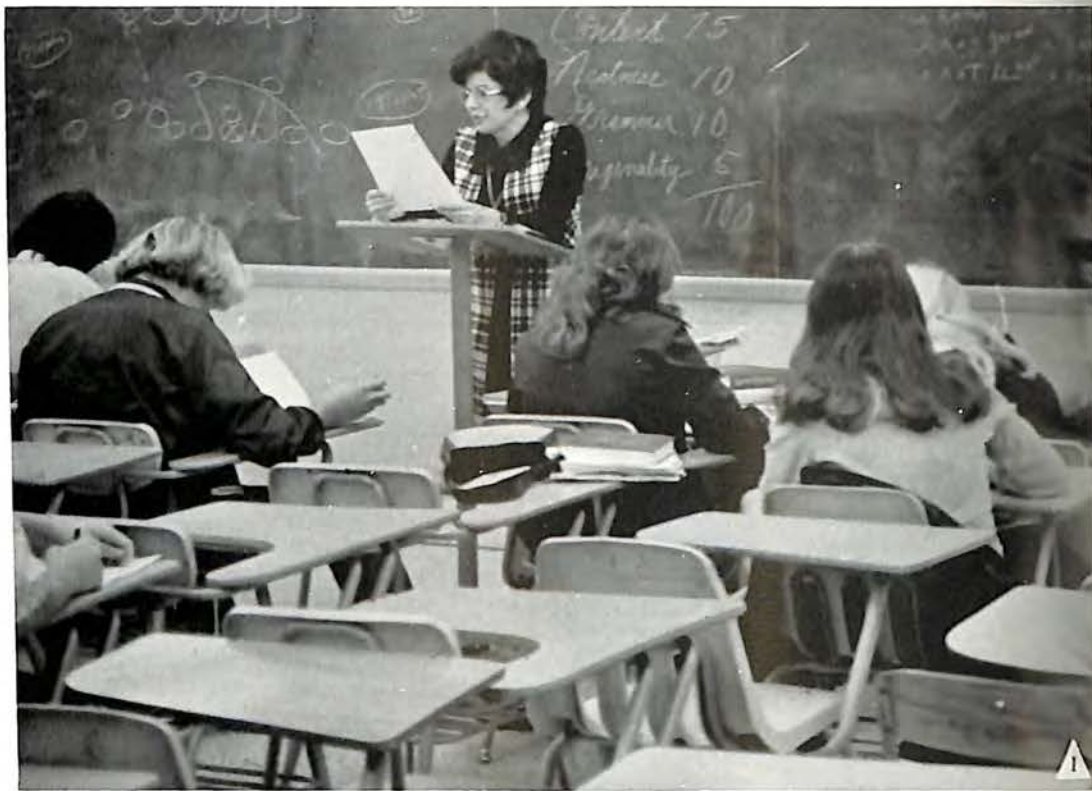

As one grows, sharing is an important aspect of life. The sharing of knowledge by a teacher with a student is the major part of formal education. That's what education is all about. Without sharing, learning could not take place.

Sometimes deep relationships are formed between teacher and student. Even so, there still exists respect for what knowledge the teacher has to give, and an exchange takes place as the students give the teachers a fresh point of view.

"A Teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops."

— Henry Adams

1. During General Business class, Mrs. Self reviews a worksheet.
2. After class, Mrs. Catron grades test papers.
3. Latin Club slave Diana Cooper labors over her master's homework.
4. In the English office Ms. Tucker and Mrs. Bowers discuss the difference between teaching English 11 and English 12.
5. During DE, Mr. Tesh goes over a few notes with his class.
6. With the halls empty, Leesa Sowder realizes she must be late for class.
7. Using a 16th century French painting, Mrs. Hosp points out some differences between the French and Spanish cultures to Miss Baldwin.

They said,

“Curiosity and confusion are preludes to learning” —

I was confused.

They lectured,

I took hundreds of pages of notes.

They gave tests —

I studied till 1:00 a.m.

They drilled and drilled and demonstrated experiments —

I watched and listened, but still I didn't understand.

They sponsored my clubs —

I washed cars.

They tried to make me physically fit —

I ached all over.

They sat beside me at our games —

I was glad they were there.

They explained and re-explained —

I finally understood.

They pleaded, encouraged, stressed, demanded, questioned —

I LEARNED.

1. The happy face of Mrs. Gladys Powell, substitute teacher, is seen so often in the classrooms of Cave Spring High that everyone thinks of her as a member of the faculty.

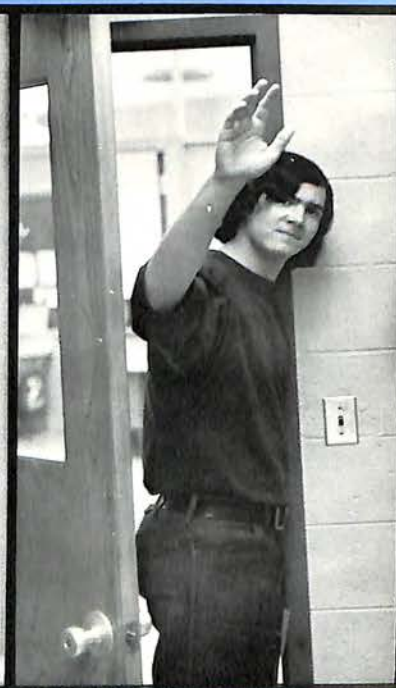

2. He lectured and we listened; he explained and we understood — that happened when Mr. Samuel Shackleford taught our history classes.

3. Effective planning of Spanish lectures, labs, and IA's with Mrs. Linda Carter make student teaching fun for Miss Hembry.

4. Redox equations become perfectly clear to Ralph Knoebal when Mrs. Billie Reid explains them for the eleventh time.

5. Nobody skips Miss Rebecca Peirce's government IA — not even Diane Boardman.

The '73-'74 Sophomore class is the first new class to arrive at CSHS in two years. In October, they had rap sessions to become acquainted with the new principal. After hearing many campaign speeches, sophomores took part in the mock elections. . . . As usual, sophomores are struggling through their last year of gym class and impatiently waiting for their Driver's Ed to end, in order to get their license.

Sophomores showed their spirit during homecoming by decorating a float and hanging signs in the hall. They surprised CSHS by winning the first spirit stick of the year.

As the year comes to an end, the sophomore class looks forward with anticipation to becoming upperclassmen.

“Twenty dollars! Sophomore Robbie Fender wins, and this is not all. Three Hershey bars and seven keys are additional gifts for selling six magazine subscriptions,” announced the campaign representative.

Robbie was not even top salesman. Other members of the Sophomore Class contributed their share and more, and helped place the Sophomore Class at the top of the chart.

The Junior and Senior classes tied for second place.

The school received forty per cent of the total sales. The profits of the magazine sale are divided among the anxious clubs and organizations to carry out their activities.

The Junior Class looks forward to being Number One at Cave Spring High

With high hopes and determination, the Junior Class went on to be the best class ever.

Having survived the first year of modular scheduling, the class adapted easily to the routine of a new school year. Even though there were many problems ahead, the Juniors adjusted to them beautifully. They were plagued by thoughts of PSAT's, Step and Scat tests, and College Boards, all of which they surprisingly survived. Their days were filled with hard work and worry but there were compensating rewards: class rings, prom activities, the Prom itself and finally the vision of someday having senior status.

The Women's Lib Officers of the Junior Class are: Kathy Baker, Treasurer; Suzie Holt, President; Diane Boardman, Secretary; Kathy Enyart, President; and Wanda Watts, Prom Chairman.

The Juniors produced a memorable Prom

The Class of '75 worked hard throughout the year. The various social activities throughout the year would not have been possible had the Juniors not worked hard to put them together. The class was instrumental in keeping the school's activities going at their usual high pace.

After many months of hard work, the committees produced a memorable prom for the Senior Class. The theme, "Knights in White Satin," was carried out beautifully by the imaginative Juniors. The band played great background music for a prom that many juniors and seniors will remember throughout the years.

Finally!! After four years of impatient waiting, we became "big Seniors." We enjoyed our status by using the special privileges of leaving early to pep rallies, having our own assembly, and the greatest of all, our Senior lounge. Led by our president Ed Wilson, the idea of a lounge became a reality, and it was enjoyed daily before and after lunch.

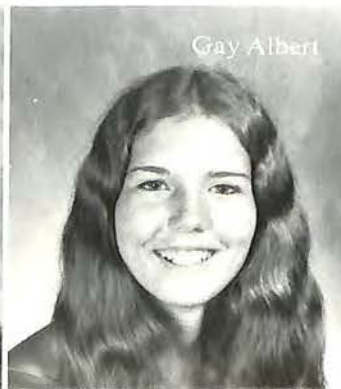

Pep rallies, the Senior float at Homecoming, college applications, college boards, picture proofs, graduation announcements . . . these were but a few of the activities that kept us busy. We showed our great spirit at all the games and matches, and our pride shone when we won the spirit stick at pep rallies.

Even though we were impatient to graduate, we now go on to face the world with fond memories of Cave Spring. But we must be reminded as we reminisce that graduation is not the end, but the beginning of the end.

We May Never Pass This Way Again
 Life — so they say
 Is but a dream and they let it slip away.
 Love — like the autumn sun
 Should be dying but it's only just begun.
 Like the twilight in the road up ahead,
 They don't see just where we're goin'.
 And all the secrets in the universe
 Whisper in our ears and all the years will come and go
 And take us up, always up.
 We may never pass this way again.
 Dreams — so they say
 Are for the fools and they let them drift away.
 Peace — like the silent dove
 Should be flyin' but it's only just begun.
 Like Columbus in the olden days
 We must gather all our courage,
 Sail our ships out on the open sea,
 Cast away our fears and all the years will come and go
 And take us up — always up.
 We may never pass this way again.
 So we wanna laugh while the laughin' is easy.
 We wanna cry if it makes it worthwhile.
 We may never pass this way again.
 We may never pass this way again.

Mass confusion occurs as practice for graduation begins.

A class prophecy

Ten years from now, when you pick up this annual, you will have access to at least 15 new electric appliances that don't even exist today!

Electrical innovations will "make the scene" (as we say in 1974) to benefit health, education, industry and our social lives. You'll also see in the next decade more electronic equipment to purify, filter, recycle and generally clean up America.

Electricity is doing a lot of things for you now. It's going to do a lot more tomorrow. Our prediction: Life will keep on getting better — electrically.

Students participate in government

1. On her gain time, Holly Stockstill entertains herself with the latest news on Watergate.
2. Governor Linwood Holton lectures to State and Local Government classes.
3. After hard work on arranging the election assembly, Larry Terry casts his ballot.
4. Registration for 18-year old students is sponsored by the League of Women Voters.
5. House of Representative candidates Ray Robrecht, Ed Kidd, and C. Cranwell explain their platform for election.

This past year was not only a year of education, it was a year of campaigns, speeches, politicians, and elections — a year of competition.

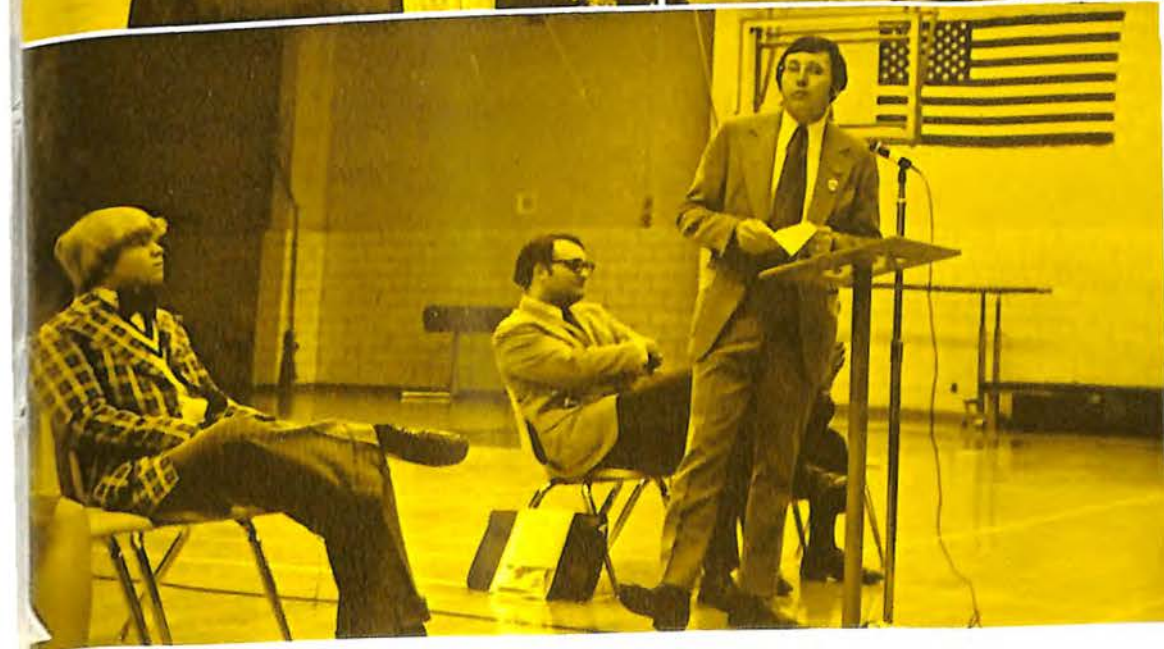

Student involvement in politics ran an all-time high this year with numerous politicians presenting platforms in special assemblies and lectures. Politically active himself, Junior Larry Terry arranged for candidates to the House of Delegates, Democrats Richard C. Cranwell and Edwin Kidd, Jr., and Republicans Robert Frank and Raymond R. Robrecht, to speak to CSHS students in an October assembly. Social Studies teacher, Mrs. Mae Johnson, arranged for former Governor Linwood Holton and Republican Senator Raymond Garland to speak to separate "State and Local Government" lectures, in mid-year.

Following the October assembly, the social studies department sponsored a mock election within the school for the offices of Governor, Lt. Governor, Attorney General, and representatives to the House of Delegates. Along with the state elections, CSHS mock election returns were: Godwin for Governor, Dalton for Lt. Governor, Miller for Att. General, and Robrecht and Cranwell for House of Representatives.

Aside from the state and local levels, political interest on the school level was sparked by the annual SCA elections in April. Students learned the procedure for using voting machines in the election of SCA officers, by casting their votes in public voting machines erected in the high school lobby.

In mid-March, the drive to register 18-year old students was conducted by the League of Women voters complete with banners, informative booklets, and announcements regarding the citizen's right and obligation to vote in all pertinent elections.

Energy crisis hits Cave Spring

1. Due to the reduced lighting in the school, David Dickerson is forced to use a flashlight to further his studies.

2. In January, gas prices soared in the Roanoke Valley and surrounding areas, but later these prices proved to be inexpensive compared to the all-time high of 60 cents a gallon.

3. Automobiles form lines at the 419 Texaco for their 5 dollar limit of "liquid gold."

4. Gas rationing forced students to abandon their cars and ride school buses.

5. Students formed car pools to ease the pinch for gas.

The energy crisis brought many unexpected changes in the school format. The fuel shortage stopped the oil suppliers which reduced the building temperature to 68 degrees. It also dried up gas station pumps causing gas prices to sky-rocket and enormous lines to form at each station. To help alleviate the situation, a form of gas rationing was instituted in Virginia, prompting students to form car pools or ride buses. The energy crisis dimmed the school lights and caused some students to carry flashlights. The paper shortage provided that tests be copied off master sheets and completed on notebook paper. Daylight savings time, re-enacted in early January, caused the school system many pains with starting and closing times and tone schedules. Immediately after the installation of daylight savings time, school starting time was rolled ahead 30 minutes, causing school to begin at 9:15 and close at 4:15. After many complaints, the school system temporarily shortened the school day by 30 minutes thus starting time was 9:15 and closing time remained the regular closing of 3:45. Each change in school time was an inconvenience, for a new tone schedule was a necessity and one was printed for each student.

Hanging on to youth, seniors display antics

1. Defeated Richard Webster, hangs from the springs of the trampoline.
2. Heroic J.T. Keeler defeats the Mack truck with his might's strength.
3. Cave Spring's Hell's Angels, Julie Smith and Donna Forrest, fire up for a quick race.
4. Teresa Tunnell discovers a quick and easy way to make it to her class on time.
5. Ralph Elton Booth practices yoga on his gain time.

The Senior Class of "74" has struggled through its last year. Entering the school as freshmen, we felt small, young and unimportant. As the year progressed, our confidence grew. Quickly the year passed, and we returned to school in September crying "Another year!" Now, as seniors, we experience the same excitement and disappointment that we did in the previous years. The only things that change throughout high school are the students and their attitudes. This year the students exhibited their maturity by cleaning up the cafeteria and were thanked by the new principal when he had several Coke machines installed. The Class of '74 also acquired their much coveted Senior Lounge, which enabled them to contemplate without the interruption of underclassmen.

Knight Spirit was still strong in '74, despite dim halls lit by students' flashlights and freezing temperatures in the classrooms. However, most Cave Springites felt that the disadvantages of the energy shortage were compensated for when the school day was shortened. The whole student body became more involved this year. New clubs were formed and new activities were initiated. The students, this year more than others, learned to observe while others publicly exhibited their "streaks" of genius. The 1974 ACCOLADE has attempted to capture all of these important moments. I would like to express appreciation to Mr. Bud Rose, the yearbook representative from Taylor Publishing Co., Mr. Terry Ayoub, our faithful photographer from Olan Mills Studios, and Leesa Sowder for assistance. But most of all, a special thanks goes to the entire staff for devoted service and even occasionally meeting deadlines. On behalf of the other staff members, I would like to give extra thanks to the student body for making '73-'74 a memorable year. I also would like to say a final farewell and good-luck to the Class of '74.
