Mrs. Miller brings Mr. Life work.

Mr. Life looks through his papers.

Deep within the Forest of Stretching over hill and

There came to travelers
passing by,
A mighty fortress, Cave

Scholars and scribes were seen entering glad-hearted,
But none it was said, had ever departed.

THE CASTLE

Another Day is completed.

A Volkswagon sputtered into the number one parking space the first day of school. To the amazement of many students, out came our new Principal, Mr. Garland Life, standing six feet four inches. This towering giant soon won the respect of all, as he became acquainted with the students and faculty. He said that "learning is the basis of a good future" and for this reason he is always willing to help students in every way possible. While out of school, Mr. Life enjoys reading and gardening; however, he cannot grow his favorite dish which is seafood. Mr. Life's greatest characteristic is his listening ability. He listens to all of the complaints and tries to find a solution. For these reasons, Mr. Life deserves the title "King Of Cave Spring High."

Mr. Life watches over the halls.

Mr. Life dubs Tim Hudson, Knight.

The Day of

Our Knight, Tim Hudson, arrives to begin another day.

Tim crosses the threshold into the halls of learning.

Tim needs a larger Knight deposit.

Standard equipment for a Knight: a sword, a shield, and a notebook.

With a beginning like this the day has to get better.

A Knight

Even the phone booth offers no privacy for a Knight.

Tim admits to Mr. Life, that being chosen the Knight is an honor.

A Knight is always number ONE.

For abiding within the far fortress court.
Was a King with a vision of enormous report.
A vision in time, not yet to
their knowing.
Of knowledge, truth, and
wisdom bestowing.
As seasons passed across
the land.
The vision had developed as it was planned.
One day the King threw open
the door of the hall
And proclaimed aloud to one and all: "The seedlings lie dormant. They can awaken in a moment."

STUDENTS ACT

Bobby Haskins, Andrew Trotter, and Barbara Harvey listen with contentment.

This unidentified student is waiting for the bell to ring.

"The saplings, unattended,
 Allowed their branches to be extended.
 Send us your joy,
 Each wonderful girl and boy.
 Lend us your young,
 The songs yet unsung.
 Bring us the youth,
 To be armored in knowledge and shielded
 with truth."
 They came from the forest,
 They came from the glen.
 Each had a spark.
 Each had a glow.
 In mind they were one,
 No fear did youth show.
 Mighty lords, wise old sages,
 Became mentors of all the ages.
 Bright ladies of fair being,

So we came with our dreams
of youth,
To be armored in knowledge

In the day of the Knight, we too shall go forth,
From our fortress, Cave

To claim for ourselves
"A Corner of the Sky."

KNIGHT PAGEANTRY

A new school year always brings new beginnings, but this year brought more than most and suddenly life was no longer the same within the halls of Cave Spring. Along with the return to traditional scheduling this fall, came some other changes which placed many upperclassmen into a state of disbelief. Gain time had become a thing of the past and much, if not all, of the daily traffic to McDonald's was eliminated. In previous years, touring of the school's halls has been a favorite pastime of students but this was no longer possible unless you possessed one of the magic keys, the infamous orange pass. Students were not only restricted from the halls but the smoking block also was declared off limits during the day except for lunch periods. Any student found to be in violation of the new rules was promptly reported by some diligent teacher.

Returning as seniors the class of '78 found that class halls were no longer in existence and many seniors much to their dismay, found themselves and their possessions relegated to the Annex. The once traditional "SENIOR LOUNGE" also went the way of modular scheduling and became a much needed classroom. Senior privileges consisted of a so called "drink Machine" and first choice in the "PARKING LOTTERY."

As if these indignities were not enough to create complete hysteria among the students, the administration, from their seemingly endless reserve of ideas, came up with a few more wonderful "improvements." The purpose of the "Cattle Pens," as the long black rails in the cafeteria were fondly referred to, was never clearly understood by the student body. Apparently it was intended that they should alleviate some of the chaos within the lunch room. Unfortunately, the students never quite grasped the idea and insisted upon climbing through, over, or under the rails creating more confusion than existed in the first place. The idea of a one way entrance into the cafeteria never really caught on either, so after a few weeks of guarding the doors the faculty gave up and students were able to enter into the lunch room with ease. The faculty was more adamant about the reversed lunch line though, so they remained throughout the year, causing a few problems at first but no major ones. (continued)

The new Career Planning Room can make finding a college a littler easier.

Although there is no more modular scheduling, the lobby is still considered a haven for wandering students.

Once the seniors realized that modular scheduling truly was dead and no amount of wishing could bring it back, things settled down to a somewhat calmer level. Life went on as usual but every now and then walking down the hall a "REMEMBER WHEN . . ." would be uttered with more than a shade of nostalgia . . . Yes, Those were the days!

Friends Are Forever

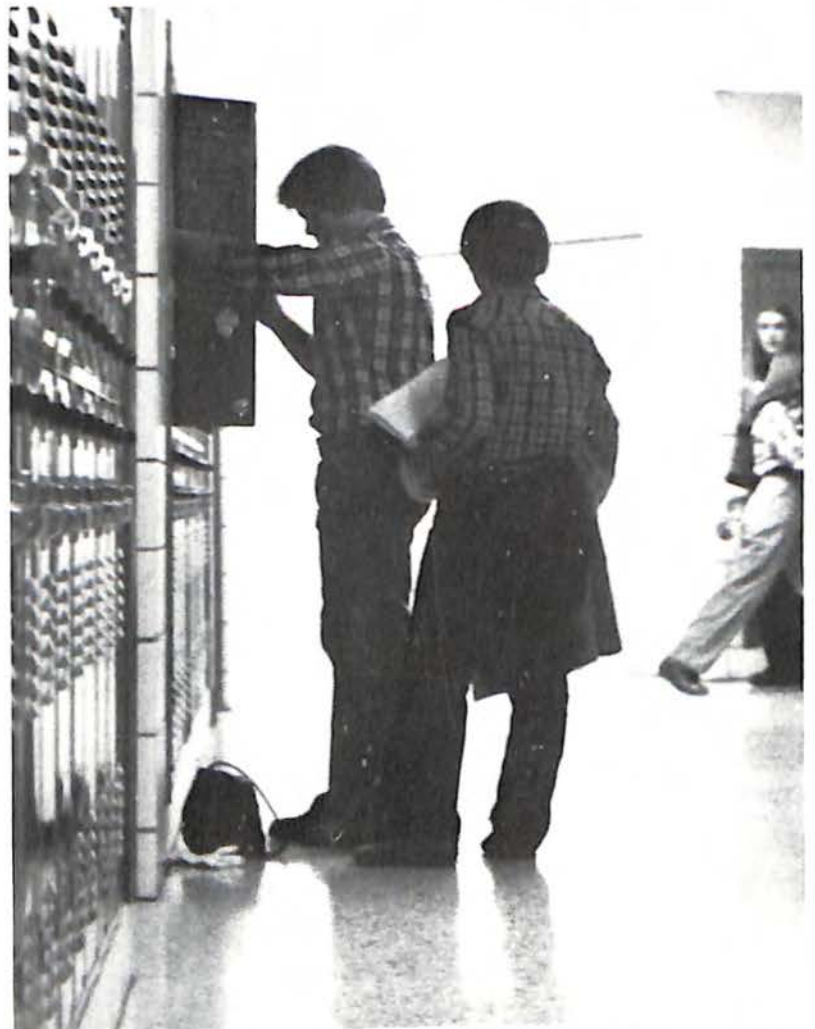

People who work together become friends as shown by Gloria Worrel, Shari Reid, and Susan Dickerson.

Confiding with a friend, Mr. Azzara discusses the daily events.

A ghastly friendship is shown by Laura Clower, Julie McCrary, Kathy Pillow, and their gracious host at a local "Haunted House" during Halloween.

Lasting friendships like Ricky Radford's and Christy Hale's are kept alive by the little things in life.

Many of the friendships which people remember and cherish for a lifetime are those formed during high school. Some friends from these years are kept and some are lost but none are forgotten . . . Because, Friends Are Forever.

The smile on the face of Mr. Shackelford shows a kiss can go a long way.

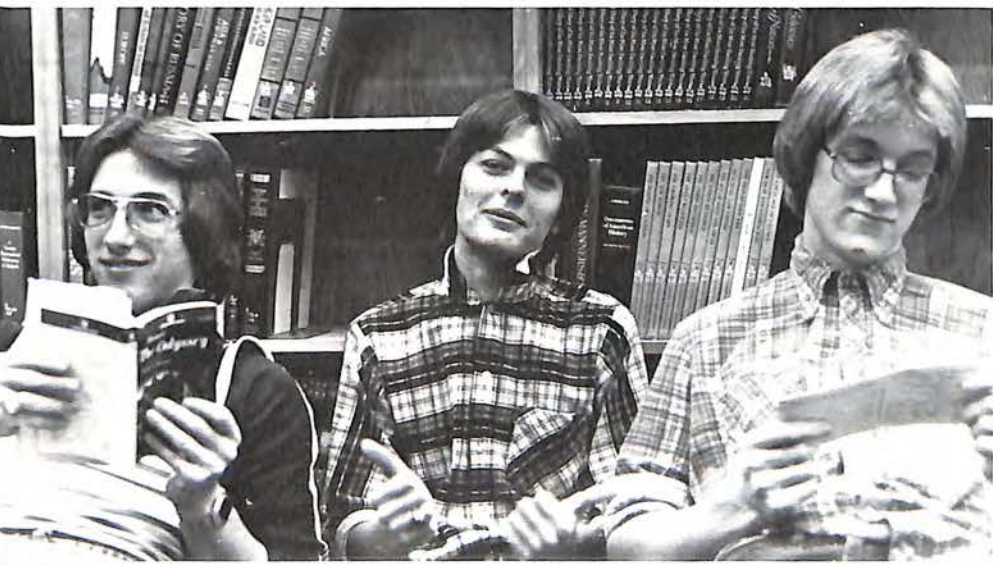

A friend is always close by; reach out and one may be found.

The departure for lunch makes the day shorter and more tolerable to live through.

Friends make the rough times easier.

First place float by the National Honor Society

Second place float by the Latin Club.

Third place float by the Art Club.

Homecoming was a time of confusion as the Knights scurried to have preparations completed. As floats began to take shape and the dance plans were made, the spirit of the students began to rise; therefore by Friday night everyone was ready for a victory. The awakening of spirit was assisted by the bonfire on Wednesday night, hall decorating, the spirit chain, and the pep rally on Friday.

Homecoming night began with the traditional parade led by the marching band and drill team. The long line of floats and decorated cars passed from the high school to the stadium at the junior high. The half-time entertainment provided by the marching band and drill team was unequalled by the performance of Franklin County's band. As Faith Corne was announced as the Princess, reigning Princess Kim Mitchell, presented her with a crown and a bouquet of roses. Reigning Queen, Susan Delawter, was present to crown her successor, Laura Lemon, Homecoming Queen.

Knights On Parade

Hopes were high as the traditional parade with its many floats wound down Merriman. The varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders, clubs, the marching band, and the drill team added voices and music to the already riotous Homecoming week. As the floats neared the field, the anxious students and club sponsors awaited the judges' decision. It was announced that the National Honor Society had taken first place, in the competition. Other winners were the Latin Club which was awarded second place, and the Art Club which took the third place award.

As the game was over Friday night and the victory was celebrated, there was yet the dance on Saturday night. As eight o'clock approached students began pouring into the cafeteria to dance to the music of "Helicopter." The Pep Club and the cheerleaders did a fine job of bringing across the theme "Traces." King and Queen — Greg Roush and Laura Lemon accompanied by Prince and Princess — Mark Minnick and Faith Corne danced with the rest of the court to the theme song. The Homecoming dance was a great ending to a fun-filled and exciting week.

Members of the court dance to the theme song "Traces."

During the festivities, Laura Lemon dances with her date.

Eric Hillman and date Jeanie Worrel dance together among fellow students.

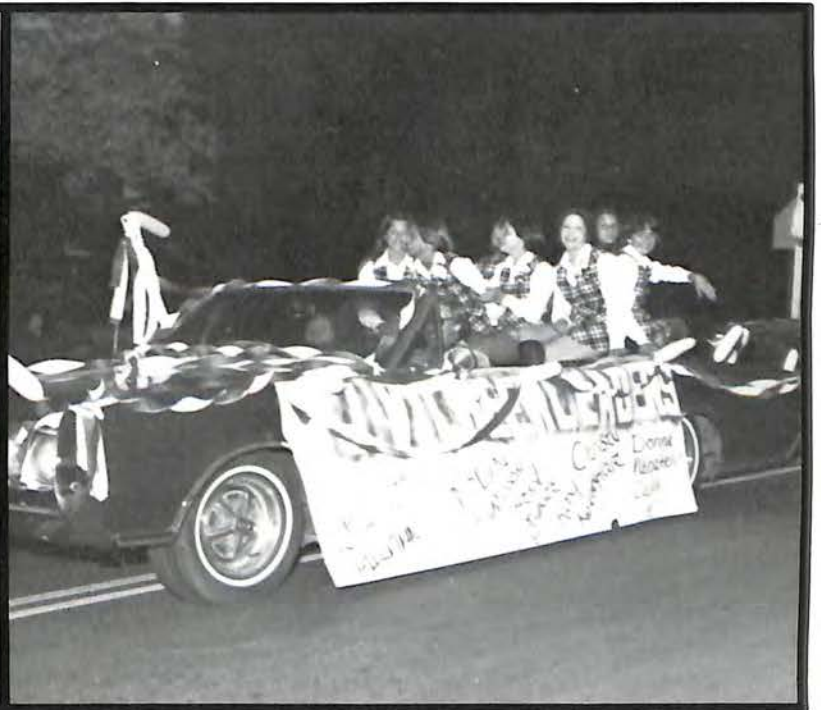

Zealous seniors show their spirit and abundance of energy as they ride the senior class float.

The juniors seem as lifeless as their "dead" eagle as the parade progresses.

Events

The Fall Festival was the best one ever due to the hard work and enthusiasm of the students and faculty. When Saturday, November the twelfth came, the school was turned into a carnival grounds. Some of the old favorites were around such as the cheerleaders' "Haunted House," the Grapettes' "Dunking Machine," and the S.C.A.'s auction. New highlights added were the FHA's jail and the square dancers that performed in the lobby. WROV broadcasted from the lobby while representatives from the Wood Shed styled the hair of teachers and students. Further excitement was added to the day when a helicopter landed in the middle of the track field thus bringing a close to a most memorable day.

Dancing amidst the brightly colored decorations, the student body and faculty enjoyed the Winter Dance as it bloomed into Spring.

Full of energy these students dance tirelessly to the music of Okaysions.

Smiling brightly, Mary Beth Hunt, Queen, Clay Lacy, King, are introduced to the people present.

Spring Was In The Air

Are our Winter Dances destined to always be held in the early part of Spring? It would appear so as our annual Winter Dance was again postponed due to adverse weather from January 28th to March 11th. Even though the time was wrong, the dance was an enjoyable affair for all those who stored away wintry colors and were brave enough to sport them in spring. The members of the Winter Court were announced, and was well represented by Allison Divers, Marcia Fanti, Leslie Gill, Mary Beth Hunt, Queen, Lisa Price, Brooke Overby, Susan Pierce, Debbie Potts, Princess, Julie Ward, and Jeannie Worrell; Doug Aliff, Victor Bradley, Keith Fariss, Bob Hicks, Lawrence Jessee, Clay Lacy, King, Paul Mustian, Brian Parker, Jeff Shawver, Prince, and Alan Woodrum.

Happy Days ?

As the morning progressed, the halls of Cave Spring High School looked as if the time had been turned back thirty or forty years. With the faint aroma of Vitalis and Brylcreem added to the sheen of Vaseline, the students found themselves gazing at each other with a look of wonder. Bobbie socks, ponytails, and the smear of red lipstick on a guy's cheek proved that hope was not to be lost. — The fifties were back once again! The sock hop was the high point of the day ending with the great songs of the fifties.

Alan Wade embodies the 50's idea of a "cool cat" surrounded by admirers Libby Harris and Karen Haley.

Talent Show Live !

On the night of March 22nd and the afternoon of March 23rd, the Senior Class of Cave Spring presented the very successful Talent Show Live. The show was the main fund-raising activity of the class of '78 and brought in $600 in two performances. Students from each class participated in the show which consisted of nine acts with Tim Hudson presiding as Master of Ceremonies. The exceptional talents of the participants made the judging difficult but the panel of judges finally reached their decisions. Third place went to Steve Janosko who played a John Denver medley on the guitar. Lisa Aliff took second with her rendition of "Our Love" and Bobby Haskins won first place with an original piano concerto which he both composed and performed.

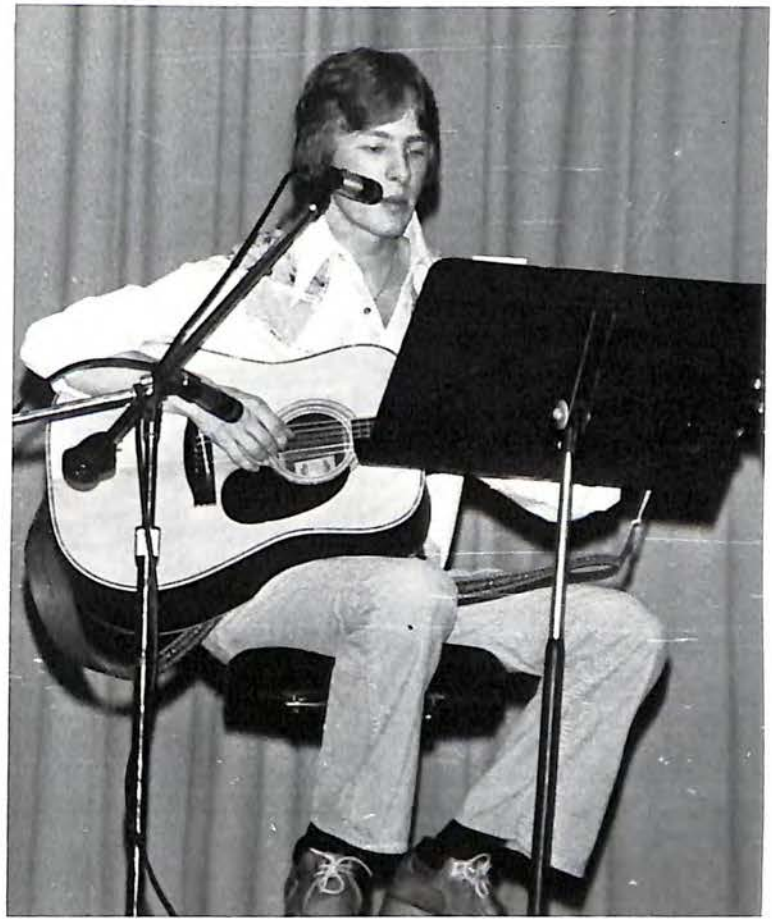

Second place winner, Lisa Aliff, sings "Our Love."

During the course of the show, Cave Spring was visited by the "Cone Heads."

Performing on the piano is Marsha Hatfield.

Third place winner, Steve Janosko, plays the guitar.

PROM '78

a tremendous success

On May 12th, as the sun went down, the night lit up as Cave Spring's knights and their ladies fair arrived at the Castle of Dreams. Under the dimmed lights an air of adventure and romance found in the days of lords and ladies pervaded the floor. From the golden crowns lying in state amid a shower of nosegays to the murals depicting knights, dragons and storybook characters the feeling of medieval England surrounded the couples attending the prom. As they entered through the castle walls and crossed over the drawbridge, into their world of dreams and fantasies the prom goers were greeted by the sounds of Alpacas.

The stirring sound of Alpacas was nearly impossible to resist and soon the dance floor was crowded with couples. The lords and ladies of Cave Spring danced through the night; pausing only to speak to friends or sip a cup of punch. Dances ranged from the hottest disco steps to the mellowest slow dances. Excited chatter and laughter filled the air as happy couples with glowing smiles moved under the shimmering lights.

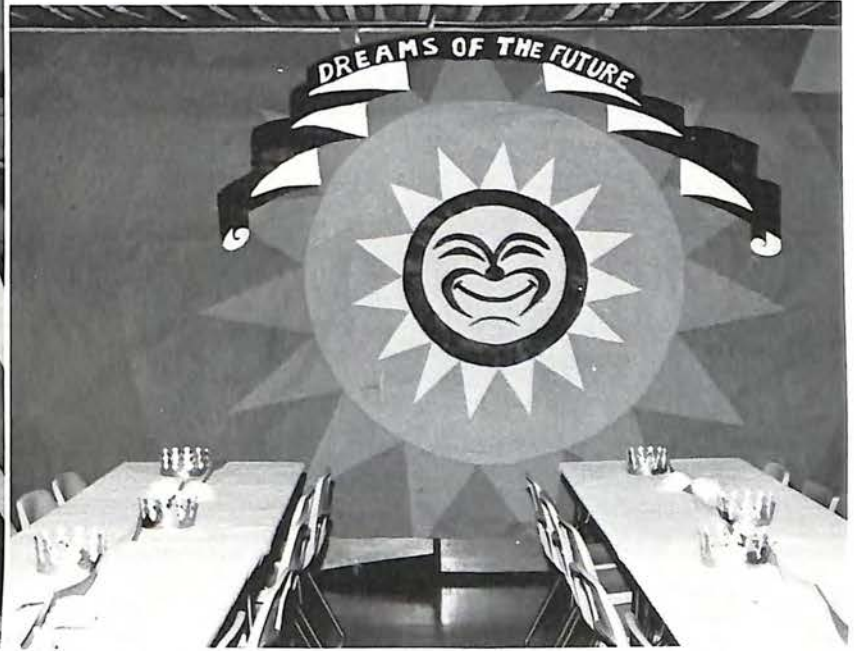

Dancing with his date, Mindy Cowan, Donald Dessey looks as if he is enjoying himself.

Seniors discuss their graduation plans with Polly McFarlane.

In the tradition of years past, the 1978 Seniors of Cave Spring High School began their graduation activities with the Capping and Awards assembly. On the morning of June 2nd this year's graduates filed into the auditorium to be capped by the top 15 juniors. Following the capping ceremony the outstanding seniors of 1978 were recognized for their achievements with awards presented by Mr. Life. The awards ranged from scholarships, the DAR award, to a newly created award presented to Sir Timothy Hudson, Cave Spring's Knight for 1978. On Sunday evening June 4th seniors, their parents and friends attended the annual Baccalaureate service at which Grady Nutt was the speaker. Finally the big night arrived on June 5th. After 12 long years of hard work and several days of rehearsal the seniors became the graduates of 1978.

To most seniors the event of graduation caused mixed emotions. It was an end but it also symbolized a new beginning. With this new beginning came smiles and tears, joy and sadness, freedom and fear, and hope for the future as Cave Spring's graduates embarked on their search for their own "corner of the sky."

Kristen Jaickes, Todd Stockstill and Lawrence Jesse received final instructions before graduation.

Monday night, February 6, 1978, six nervous contestants walked into the WDBJ TV-7 Station. George Bassett explained the rules of the game; Artie Levin encouraged the crowd to cheer; the lights went up; and Classroom Kwiz was on. It was Cave Spring challenging William Byrd; and representing the Knights were Greg Burbo, Lawrence Jessee, and Andrew Trotter. Cave Spring fell behind after the first round, but made a terrific comeback in the Blitz round. Cave Spring did not win, but we sure gave it a try!

The students representing our school, Lawrence Jessee, Greg Burbo, and Andrew Trotter, await the opening round.

Sophomores Advance

When the Class of '80 entered Cave Spring High, they became a part of a new world. They quickly adjusted to the transition from Seniority at the Junior High to the Sophomorehood they obtained as Knights. It was a year of getting lost in the halls and hit in the head with class rings, of dissecting frogs and crawfish, and of learning the feeling of sitting behind the wheel. As the Class of 1980, they were the beginning of a new decade, and they played an important part in the life of the Knights.

A Lot of Time and Practice

As the new school year began, sophomores anticipated an exciting year, one which hopefully, would include a drivers license and the final gym class of their lives. The January blizzards forced second semester drivers education classes to delay their daily practice of driving skills. Those sophomores who finally acquired drivers licenses, succumbed to the rules of C.S.H.S. and, because they did not have a "reserved" space in the parking lot, were forced to maneuver their vehicles on the "strip" (beside Chaparral Drive). In addition to these driving capers, sophomores enjoyed their last year of required physical education because they could make jokes at a member of the opposite sex in his or her gymsuit. However, this was only a small detail when they realized that there was only one more "600" to run.

Make Things Happen

We were caught in the middle — not a lowly sophomore and yet, not a superior senior. It was a year of new friends, new scheduling, and a new principal. This was a year of long awaited class rings, blackouts, early spring vacation due to snow, SAT's, the prom, Daisy Chain, and Ushers. It was a great year ending with anticipation of an even greater year for the "Seventy Niners."

The Junior class officers of 1977-78 are, Brad Chambers, president; Cindy Wagner, vice-president; Linda Meyer, treasurer; Kristi Burks, secretary; and Shari Reid, prom chairman.

Members of Cave Spring's ushers and Daisy Chain exerted themselves to provide the (graduating) seniors with a memorable graduation ceremony. The top (22) junior boys hosted car washes at local businesses in order to raise money for tuxedo rental. The Daisy Chair members, the highest ranking junior girls, were occupied with the selection of a dress pattern. Both the ushers and the Daisy Chain contributed much to the seniors' long-awaited graduation.

Leadership

During our three years at Cave Spring High School, the Class of '78 has shared the fun times as well as the bad. As sophomores, feelings of anxiety were widespread upon entering the high school for the first time. Upperclassmen seemed so tall making us feel even more inhibited and unimportant. After being upperclassmen at the Junior High, it was hard to accept being the babies once more and being made fun of by the Seniors. Modular scheduling was hard to get used to and everytime a tone sounded sophomores could be heard asking: "is that my tone?", but we finally got settled down and enjoyed the new scheduling especially the gain time. Other memories of our sophomore year include unsuccessful pep rallies from being too shy, Drivers Ed., dissecting frogs, and being comforted by knowing that after the year ended there would be no more running the gruelling "600" or being classified as the underclassmen.

Friends

As Juniors we had to face such problems as PSAT's and SAT's, paying class dues, and wondering if enough money would be raised to have a prom. Pep rallies went better, being able to spell out our class name helped a lot. The most exciting event was probably getting our class rings and our drivers licenses which were the symbols that ranked us among the upperclassmen. Making it through these two years was attributed to the knowledge that as "Seniors" the position of main importance with the most privileges would be achieved.

At last the class of '78 with high expectations, became the "Senior class" of Cave Spring High School, although the problems of readjusting to traditional 7 periods a day scheduling and a new principal had to be faced. These expectations were soon forgotten, discovering there were no designated Senior lockers, leaving half of us to find our lockers in the annex. The three pep assemblies, of which our loss was only one, were chances to prove our school spirit. Finding out that the study halls were to be relatively silent was one of our major complaints. Our few Senior privileges included having the first selection of parking places, Senior study halls and the buying of soft drinks. Regardless of all our lost privileges, the adjustment to our new scheduling and principal went smoothly; but only after realizing that gain time was gone for good and the Senior lounge was non-existent. The Class of '78 has managed to survive through a year of many changes by looking ahead to the beach and graduation. These are the years we'll remember most, the many good times spent with friends whose friendships will be long-lasting and treasured. Graduation means going our separate ways, however, our thoughts will be together in the memories of these special years.

Henry Scholz is astounded at Fall Festival.

Rivers belong where they can ramble,
Eagles belong where they can fly;
I've got to be, where my spirit can run free,
Got to find my corner of the sky.

In memory of the Seniors.

Heidi Dowdy searches for names of friends soon to be lost.

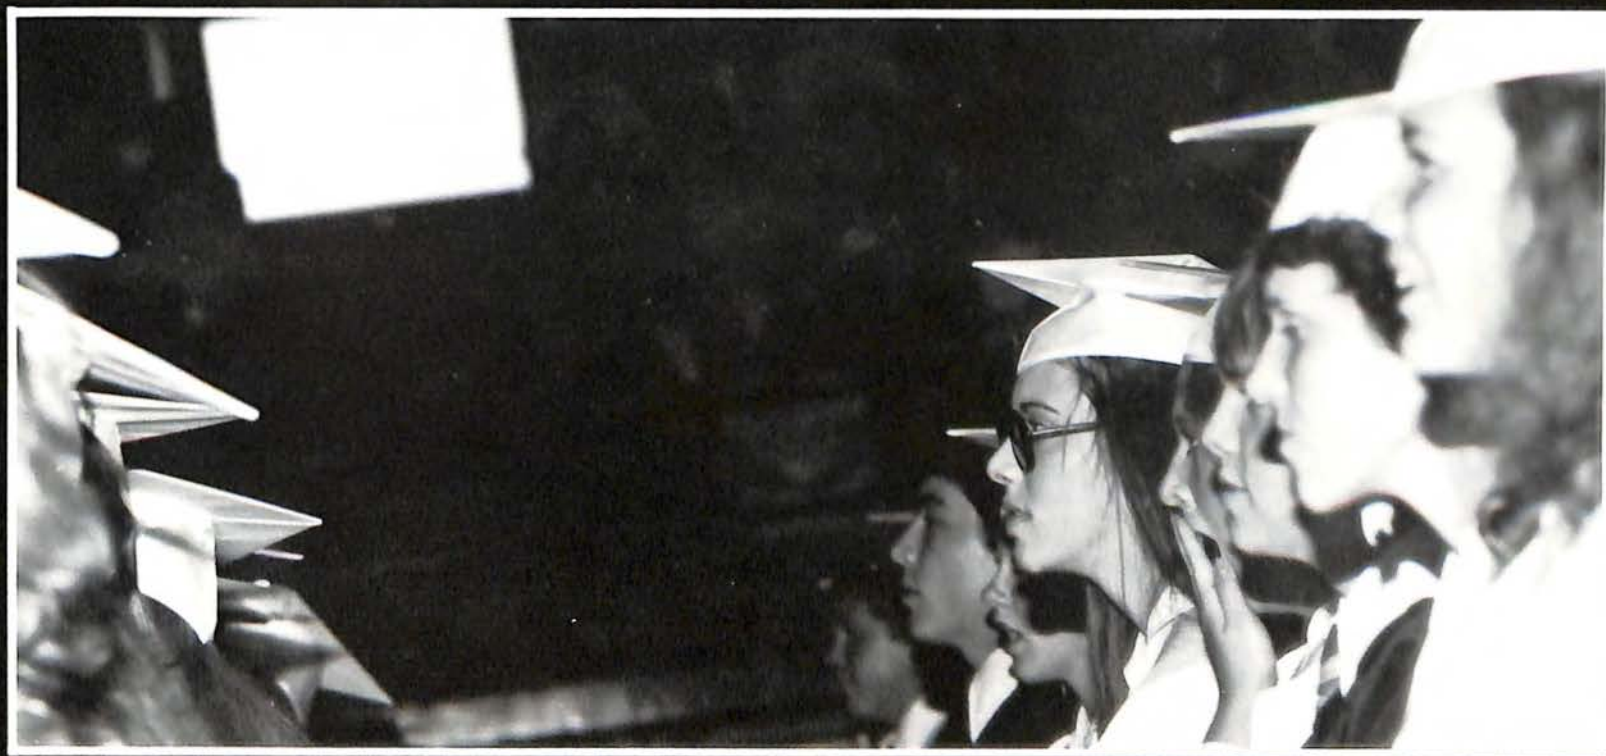

The administration enjoys the speech given by Grady Nutt.

Once upon a time we lived with hearts that raced and minds that dreamed and clocks that had no hour hands.

With common goals and common longings, we laughed, we loved, we played, we won. Those were our school days, our happy days. They were real because we made them real.
They were alive because we existed.

And then, as suddenly as they dawned, they faded into the less carefree days of adulthood. And finally they are now gone . . . those happy days in school.

Around the corner are the unknown days of tomorrow. Who knows the future that they will bring.

Latei Latini

As usual, the Latin club was one of the most active organizations at Cave Spring this past year. They started the year off well by winning second place in the Homecoming float competition. Their other fall activities included running a fortune telling booth at Fall Festival and attending the Latin banquet at Hotel Roanoke. At Christmas, the club sang carols at the Camelot nursing home.

The Latin Club also had the honor of possessing their own basketball team which competed against the teams of other area Latin Clubs. They again won the King Cupid contest, this year by default.

The fine arts display by the Art Club was never lacking customers during Fall Festival, as shown by these students.

The Art Club

The Art Club once again had a very successful year. Activities included placing third in the Homecoming parade with their castle entry, and participating in the Fall Festival with their fine arts booth, which offered original art work for sale. Various field trips, outdoor workshops, and other art related activities completed the art club's busy year. In the spring they planned to visit local scenic areas to widen their artistic abilities and strengthen their art club spirit.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes has been a well established organization at CSHS for many years. Their activities are directed toward the goals of encouraging fellowship among the athletic participants in the various school sports and promoting the spirit of good sportsmanship in all areas of school life. Their monthly breakfast meetings were held this year at the S&W Cafeteria.

Adding Pep to School

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Kathy Bostian, the Pep Club was active in many school events this past year. Their job is to support and encourage school spirit. They did this by helping in the organization of the Homecoming events and by promoting various school activities and sports events.

Active in the Election

The Teen-Age Republicans, which became an organized club only last year, have become an active group which participates in scholastic activities as well as community affairs. President Henry Scholtz led the club in a door-to-door poll for the 1977 state election. They also sponsored Representative M. Caldwell Butler's appearance at CSHS. As the election date approached, members encouraged citizens to vote and distributed information about Republican candidate John Dalton. They were invited to attend the inauguration of governor-elect Dalton and they also attended the inaugural ball which was held at the John Marshall Hotel in Richmond. The Teen-Age Republicans raised funds for their various activities at the Fall Festival where they offered games and prizes to Festival patrons.

Choirs Sing Their Way Through All Seasons

The Cave Spring Choirs have had a very entertaining year. During the Christmas season, the Concert Choir was featured at Hidden Valley and Cave Spring Jr. High Schools. They were also invited to perform at the First National Exchange Bank of Roanoke. The Knight Knotes, a group of young and talented girls, performed at Women's Club Banquets and appeared at the annual concerts.

Under the leadership of Mr. Larry Bixler, the choirs performed before a full-house at the annual Winter Concert. A successful Spring Concert also was held after many long rehearsals.

The Band Officers

The Bands this year at Cave Spring High have proven to be the best that this school has produced in recent years. Through much hard work and ceaseless practice the members have risen to unexpected heights. During the Christmas Season the band members sold citrus fruits in order to earn money to finance the band exchange Spring Tour. Showings in All-State and Regional Band Competition proved favorable for the Knight musicians. The concerts all year have been very enjoyable and had large attendance. The highest tribute the band received this year was at the Band Festival at William Byrd High School where the band received all superior ratings for their prepared and sight read selections. Let us hope that future bands will be comparable to the excellence that this year's bands have accomplished. They are directed by Mr. William Svec.

Under the expert guidance of director Bill Svec, this year's marching band contributed much to Cave Spring's school spirit and won the school many accolades. The band played at all the home games and many of the away football games of CSHS accompanied by the Drill Team. Attesting to the band's skill and excellence was the invitation they received to play at Washington and Lee's opening season football game and their participation in an invitational band competition at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland.

DRILL TEAM MARCHES ON

Cave Spring's Drill Team, possibly the most well known school symbol, once again marched their way through another successful year in 1977. Their own special combination of enthusiasm and hard work resulted in well deserved acclaim by students and faculty alike.

Under the direction of Bill Svec and accompanied by the marching band, the Drill Team produced many excellent half-time shows at the CSHS football games.

They traveled to Washington and Lee University and Annapolis, Maryland with the marching band and finally culminated their busy year with their Stadium Review appearance. The Drill Teams final activity for the year was their annual banquet held in December where they presented Mr. Svec with a gift in appreciation for his patience and assistance.

An Active Year for National Honor Society

The National Honor Society, with their enthusiasm and dedication, contributed much to Cave Spring this past year. They started the new school year off well by winning the first place in the Homecoming float competition with their giant eagle. The next event in which the NHS participated was Fall Festival with their international smorgasbord. The annual induction banquet, for both old and new members, was held this year at the Holiday Inn in December. Later that month the NHS also sang Christmas Carols at the South Roanoke Nursing Home. During February they sponsored a Disco Dance for all the students at Cave Spring.

The members of the F.H.A.

The Future Homemakers of America, under the advisorship of Mrs. Cobble and Mrs. Harrison, had a very active year at Cave Spring. They sold candy apples at all home football games and entered a float in the Homecoming parade. They also ran the jail at Fall Festival where they gladly held hardened criminals for a nominal fee. A Valentine's Day program was presented by the FHA at the South Roanoke Nursing Home.

Their annual banquet, which concluded this year's activities, was held in April.

They had a bake sale at Fall Festival and car washes during the year to raise money. With the money they earned, they attended the state competition for club members in Richmond. There were competitions in both spelling and typing. Club member Rebecca Mays, won a regional award in the spelling contest.

The S.C.A., the student government organization of Cave Spring High, once again this year continued their tradition of service to both the school and its students. The S.C.A. was involved in many school activities including Fall Festival and sponsorship of the Winter Dance which, as in the previous year, became the Spring Dance due to severe winter weather. The S.C.A. also organized a program to determine the allotment of spaces in Cave Spring's overcrowded parking area. This had been a major concern with many students but thanks to the efforts of Senior Class President, Mark Torre and the rest of the Executive Council, the problem of limited parking was solved with the majority of the students satisfied. One of the S.C.A.'s many activities was the Student Exchange Day. Through this program, Cave Spring students were given the chance to observe the daily life at other area high schools. The S.C.A. concluded their active year with the election of next year's S.C.A. and class officers in May.

Cave Spring's French Club was very active throughout the past year. The club participated in Fall Festival with a Christmas Crafts Boutique and Pastry Shop. During Christmas and Easter, the members visited the Mary Louise Home where they sang carols and presented the ladies with gifts. In the spring, the French Club celebrated Mardis Gras week and held their annual banquet at the Gourmet Restaurant in May.

ACTIVE SCIENTISTS

The Science Club was very active during the past year. Throughout the year, they had many qualified and interesting speakers. The club went on various backpacking and camping trips. They also had several members participate in the regional Science Fair. The club also visited Washington, D.C., where they saw the Smithsonian Institute. This year's Science Club accomplished their goal to create enthusiasm for science among Cave Spring's students. They ended their successful year with a picnic.

The "bad" guys plot the "good" guys' end in the play Stone Soup.

The Thespians, CSHS' drama club, had another successful year in 1978. The members worked diligently this year to present many excellent plays and skits. Possibly their most outstanding production was that of the one-act play, Stone Soup, which was performed before the student body.

The Idylls staff.

An Idyll, by definition, is a short description in poetry or prose, usually of a simple and charming scene or event. Each year, the Idylls staff produced a student art-literary anthology as a way of recognizing the creative talents of the student body. Shortly after Christmas vacation, students submit material for consideration in the magazine. This material is read, selected, and edited by the staff. Then, much time outside of school goes into "laying out" the magazine. The Idylls staff then sells and distributes the collection of short stories and poems to the student body.

At Fall Festival, the Idylls Staff sponsored a clown make-up room.

VARSITY GREAT AGAIN

The Varsity cheerleading squad, composed of ten juniors and seniors, spent the year of 1977-78 involved in activities to promote school spirit. They cheered at all football, basketball, and baseball games, as well as sponsoring the Homecoming week events. To raise money, the cheerleaders held car washes and constructed the Haunted House at the Fall Festival which many students enjoyed.

Members of the Key Club enjoy themselves while answering letters to Santa Claus.

The Key Club is a fairly new organization at Cave Spring but it has been extremely active in its three year career. The year of 1977-78 was no exception. The Key Club is primarily a service organization for both school and community, members are chosen for their scholastic and leadership abilities. Some of the activities in which members participated this year included assembling Thanksgiving food baskets for the underprivileged families in the Cave Spring area and answering letters to Santa Claus during the Christmas season. The Key Club also helped out at all P.T.A. meetings and worked in the "Clean Up Roanoke Valley" campaign.

LEADERSHIP AND SERVICE IN THE KEY CLUB

LAST YEAR BRINGS SUCCESS

This year was the second and last year that Cave Spring High had a Grapplette squad. The squad cheered at all wrestling matches, home and away. This job will be taken over by next year's varsity cheerleaders. Although the Grapplettes had a very short career, they were nevertheless active. They raised money through car washes and a dunking machine at Fall Festival. They also participated in a cheerleading camp where they won several ribbons and entered a float in the Homecoming parade. In addition to providing support for CSHS' wrestling team, they also helped with regional wrestling tournaments.

The PLUS group began their year by changing their name from SODA to PLUS. This club has been in existence only a few years but is growing each year. The purpose of the club is to make people's lives more enjoyable and to enlighten them as to how to live with other people. The members visit elementary schools and present a program for the students each time they visit. The lessons cover a variety of subjects from games for the students to serious discussions on human relations. PLUS has added much happiness to the lives of young children and taught them a few things about life along the way.

KNIGHT FORTITUDE

... To the Benchwarmers

"A team consists of a group of athletes working or acting together. In a team sport a talented athlete will play in front of a not so talented athlete. The not so talented athlete sits on the bench. These players are often called benchwarmers."

"Benchwarmers are found everywhere a team sport is played. They rarely share the glamour and the limelight that the starting team receives. Little is said about the benchwarmers because it is a known fact that the players who score the points get all the ink."

"But benchwarmers sweat and hustle just as much as the starters. They put their heart and soul into every practice, hoping one day they will be able to start. They are criticized if they play a few seconds and make mistakes. The errors they make seem to overshadow the starters' errors."

"Yet, benchwarmers play on. They wonder why they practice every day so when the game comes they can sit on the bench once again. They wonder if they will ever improve enough in their sport to become a starter. It soon dawns on them that it is not only their will to start on the team that keeps them playing everyday, but also their love for the sport."

"And so a benchwarmer gets little playing time and little recognition. But he learns brotherhood, sportsmanship and that he does not always get what he's striving for. He learns how to play a sport. But most of all, he learns how to play the game of life."

KNIGHTS' HOPES

The Knights returned with 14 seniors and appeared to have the depth that was lacked in previous years, needed to have a winning season. With a starting record of 4 wins and 0 losses in the District, the Knights appeared well on their way to a most productive season. But with a disappointing loss to William Fleming followed by another loss to Northside, any hopes for a District Title for the Knights had dissolved. Perhaps the year's sweetest victories came in a 17-14 win over the new heavily favored Salem High School and a 9-0 victory over Patrick Henry in which a lot of controversy had appeared in the newspaper. Throughout the year the Knights had been led by seniors Alan Woodrum, Greg Roush, Mike Jones, Jeff Maronic, Phil Foster, and Gary Palmer.

Dejected, Coach Hammes suffers a disappointing loss.

CROSS COUNTRY

After losing most of the team last year, Coach Shackelford had only three seniors returning this season. The team did not look very promising in the district, until a transfer student, named Steve Hetherington arrived. Steve had just completed running one thousand miles during the summer. With this type of dedication, as well as his leadership and running ability, Steve helped the Harriers to a winning season. The Harriers were a surprise in the district, finishing with a record of 4 wins and 2 losses, as they placed fourth in the district, while Steve took first. Lettermen on the team, with the exception of Chris Higgins, were all seniors. They were Steve Hetherington, Charles Sutton, Donald Dessey, Robbie Anderson, Francis Farrell, and Kevin Gartzke.

Netters

After many hours of hard work, the girl's volleyball team appeared ready for the season. The team started with a winning game and looked to be on their way to a very successful season. But they were soon met with some obstacles and couldn't seem to get things together as a team until late in the season. The team lost some very close matches to district rivals Patrick Henry and William Fleming. The team finished strong winning their last two out of three matches. With a final overall record of five wins and seven losses, the team will miss being led by seniors Pam Cropper, Brooke Overby, and Sharon Carper.

Winning! It has almost become a tradition for Dunagan and the girls. Coach Dunagan proved once again this year that height is not necessarily everything. Having one of the shortest teams in the District, she led the girls to a record of 14 wins and 3 losses. Returning as defending District champions from last year, it looked as if the girls had once again regained their title. But, they were unfortunately upset in the second round of the tournament, losing to the Northside by two points. Losing seniors Marcia Fanti and Carol Peschel could hurt the Knights next year, but if they stay with their tradition, the teams will continue to keep on winning.

Knights

Coach Lacy's men started their season on the right foot. Winning the Roanoke County Tip-Off Tournament, the first one of the season, Lacy's men looked awesome against Northside High School in the finals of this tournament. This awesome look soon dissolved when the Knights lost the first three games. Coach Lacy needed a man with leadership and assigned Tim Bradley with the role. Bradley answered Coach Lacy's leadership role but it was not enough. The Knights having a 10-11 record lacked the consistency they needed to keep on winning. Seniors on the team were Clay Lacy, Greg Roush, Doug Settles and Keith Fariss.

These players will be missed but with only four people graduating, Coach Lacy is promised a strong team for next year. Winning honors on the team were Clay Lacy, Most Valuable Player, and Tim Bradley, Unsung Hero Award.

The Knights Gymnastics team proved once again that they dominate the Roanoke Valley. Compiling a record of eight wins and no losses in the regular season, the gymnasts could sense capturing another State Title. When the District Meet was won by the gymnasts, the teams' talent began to shine. The outstanding gymnasts in the districts were Amy Waldron, Pam Cropper, Susan Pierce, Amy Lambdon, and Martha Murray. Amy Waldron and Amy Lambdon each placed in the All-Around event. Martha Murray and Susan Pierce captured places in the beam and floor exercises. Pam Cropper won a respectable fourth place in vaulting. The Regional Gymnastics Meet proved to be tougher competition for our gymnasts but they held on to win the meet. Amy Lambdon was fifth All-Around but did not qualify for the State Meet. Amy Waldron was the only gymnast on the team to qualify for the State Meet but a broken foot ended her season.

Knights

Have

What happens when you lack the hitting power, but have the pitching? Coach Berry sums it up nicely by saying, "Since we placed third in this district, we have the best district in the state." Compiling a record of seven wins and ten losses the Knights improved with each and every game. The outstanding hitters on the team were Bobby Garrett, Brian Stevens, and Dale Angle. The Knights went into the District Tournament with high hopes of winning it all. This determination was shown when the Knights beat Franklin County 8-0 in the first round of the District Tournament. Brian Stevens hit a homer in the first inning with none on. Gary Oyler pitched the whole game, with Bill Martin catching. The Knights lost the next district game, however, to Pulaski, 2-1.

This game was very disputable, for there were various calls throughout the game that were very crucial to the outcome of the game. Next year the Knights have a young but experienced team, and they could capture a district title.

Coach Berry looks for a winning hit against Pulaski County.

Pitching — Lack Hitting

Peter Mayo hurls another curve ball across home plate for a strike.

Shortstop Brain Stevens gets low to scoop up a grounder.

Dale Angle hits a hard thrown pitch for a single.

Knights Lack

With great effort, Junior Steve Fleming throws the shot put.

Having a rebuilding season this year, the Knights made many advancements. With Coach Shackelford in his first year as varsity head coach, the team appeared to be ready for the upcoming season. But with some injuries to some key athletes the Knights found themselves with a lack of much needed depth. This was to be a major scar throughout the season. The team had only a handful of seniors, the majority being sophomores or juniors. During the District meet the Knights had many surprises, among these were: Juniors, James White placing fourth in the 100 yard dash, "T" Maddox placing second in the High Jump, Steve Fleming placing second in the shot put, and Senior Greg Caldwell placing second in the discus throw. With so many talented Juniors returning, next year should prove to be very successful.

Finish

Ann Harwood sails through the air during a meet.

With perhaps the smallest team in the Roanoke Valley District, the girls had a rebuilding year for Coach Susan Dunagan. With only three seniors returning, the team worked hard to prepare for the upcoming season. Lacking in depth with only sixteen athletes, Dunagan's girls made up for this in spirit. The girls had tough meets against their opponents with the Northside meet probably being the closest. During this meet the girls lost by only the slightest margin. The girls were led by the seniors into the District Meet. Placing in the meet were seniors, Jane Jeffries taking fourth in both the mile and two mile run; Jodi Caldwell third in the 80 yard hurdles; Juniors consisted of both relay teams; and Sophomores Amy Lester taking third in both the long jump and the 220 yard dash, as well as fourth in the 100 yard dash. With the return of these talented athletes, next year should prove to be successful.

Sarah Varney goes over the bar with excellent form.

Knights

Finishing its season with a 15-2 record for the regular season and third place in the Roanoke Valley District Tournament, the Knights Golf Team proved to be a very strong team. The team was undefeated on their home course, Hunting Hills, and were very tough in the away courses. The highlight for the entire team was when the Knights ended Salem's unbeaten season by beating Salem by ten strokes in the last match of the regular season. Kenny Saunders and Wes Swope were surprises to the team by playing excellent golf at the beginning of the year. Monty Goff and Ray Foutz had a slow start, but played well near the last half of the season. This year three team members qualified for the Regionals at Keswick. These members were Steve Sewell, qualifying with a 73; Ben McCoy, qualifying with a 76; and Keith Myers, qualifying with a 74. Steve Sewell was later named most valuable player for his consistency in play.

Senior John Wilkes swings with deep concentration.

Girls

Tennis →

Being the first year in existence, the Girl's tennis team had a lot to prove to Cave Spring High School students. They did this by compiling a record of three wins, two losses, and one tie. The team consists of eleven players and coaches McCulley and Hough. The team competed in matches against Patrick Henry, William Fleming, and Franklin County, playing each school twice. Coach Sandra McCulley has high expectations for the upcoming team. She said with much excitement in her voice, "Next year we are going to win the district title." Rising sophomores Lee Custer, and Bettina Altizer hold number one and two spots on the team this year, and will be valuable assets again next year. The team is losing two valuable seniors this year — co-captains Jane Jefferies and Julie Ward.

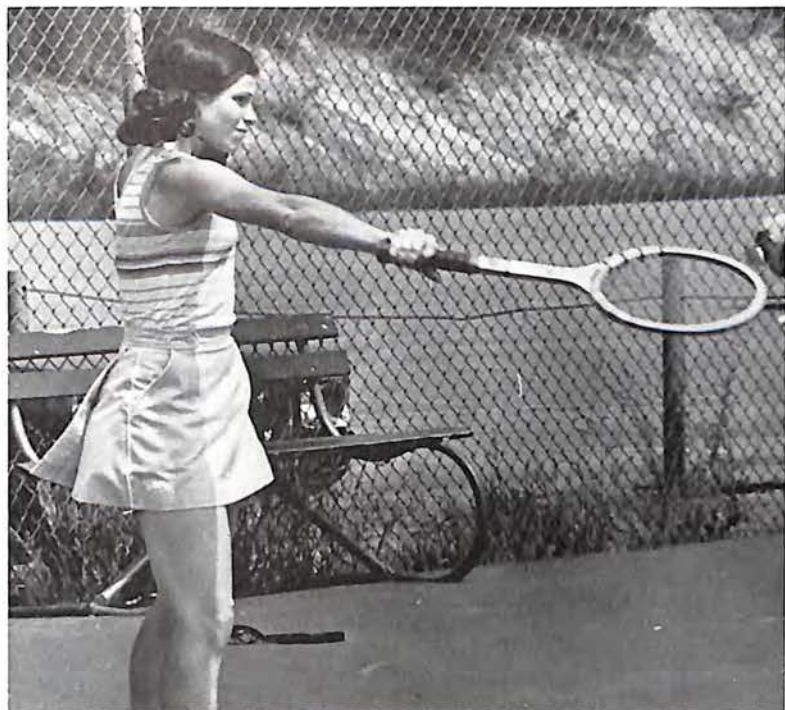

Senior Julie Ward awaits the return of her opponent's forehand.

Robin Birtt follows through for a winning forehand.

Robin Haley shows a two handed backhand to her opponent.

Knights

Excel

With new tennis coach John Millard taking over this year, the talented Knights were favored to win the District title. The top seeds were Paul Clark, Todd Stockstill, and Robert Camp. Billy Gallagher, Kent Boener, Tom Fariss, Matt Curbow and David Hamilton finished the starting eight. Led by seniors Todd Stockstill and Matt Curbow, the Knights were undefeated in District Competition. The team then defeated E. C. Glass to win the Regional title. Entering the state finals undefeated the Knights suffered their first loss of the season. Losing only two seniors, the team with the Coach of the Year John Millard, should be returning to the state finals.

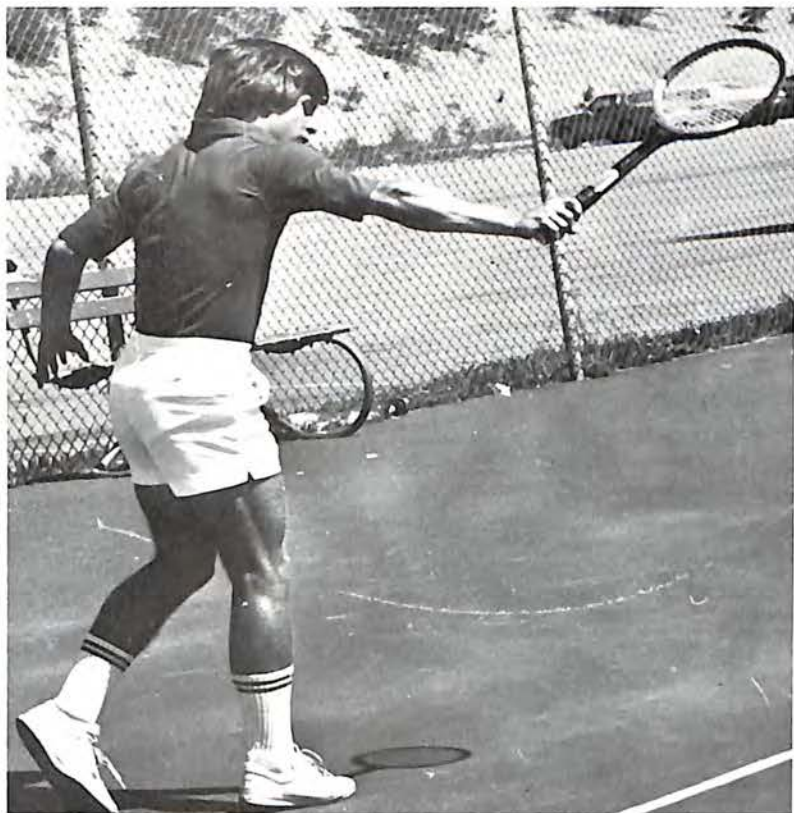

David Hamilton returns a shot on dejectedly.

“The spirit of truth and the spirit of freedom —
they are the pillars of society.”
— Henrik Isben

“In the long run men hit only what they aim at.”
— Henry David Thoreau

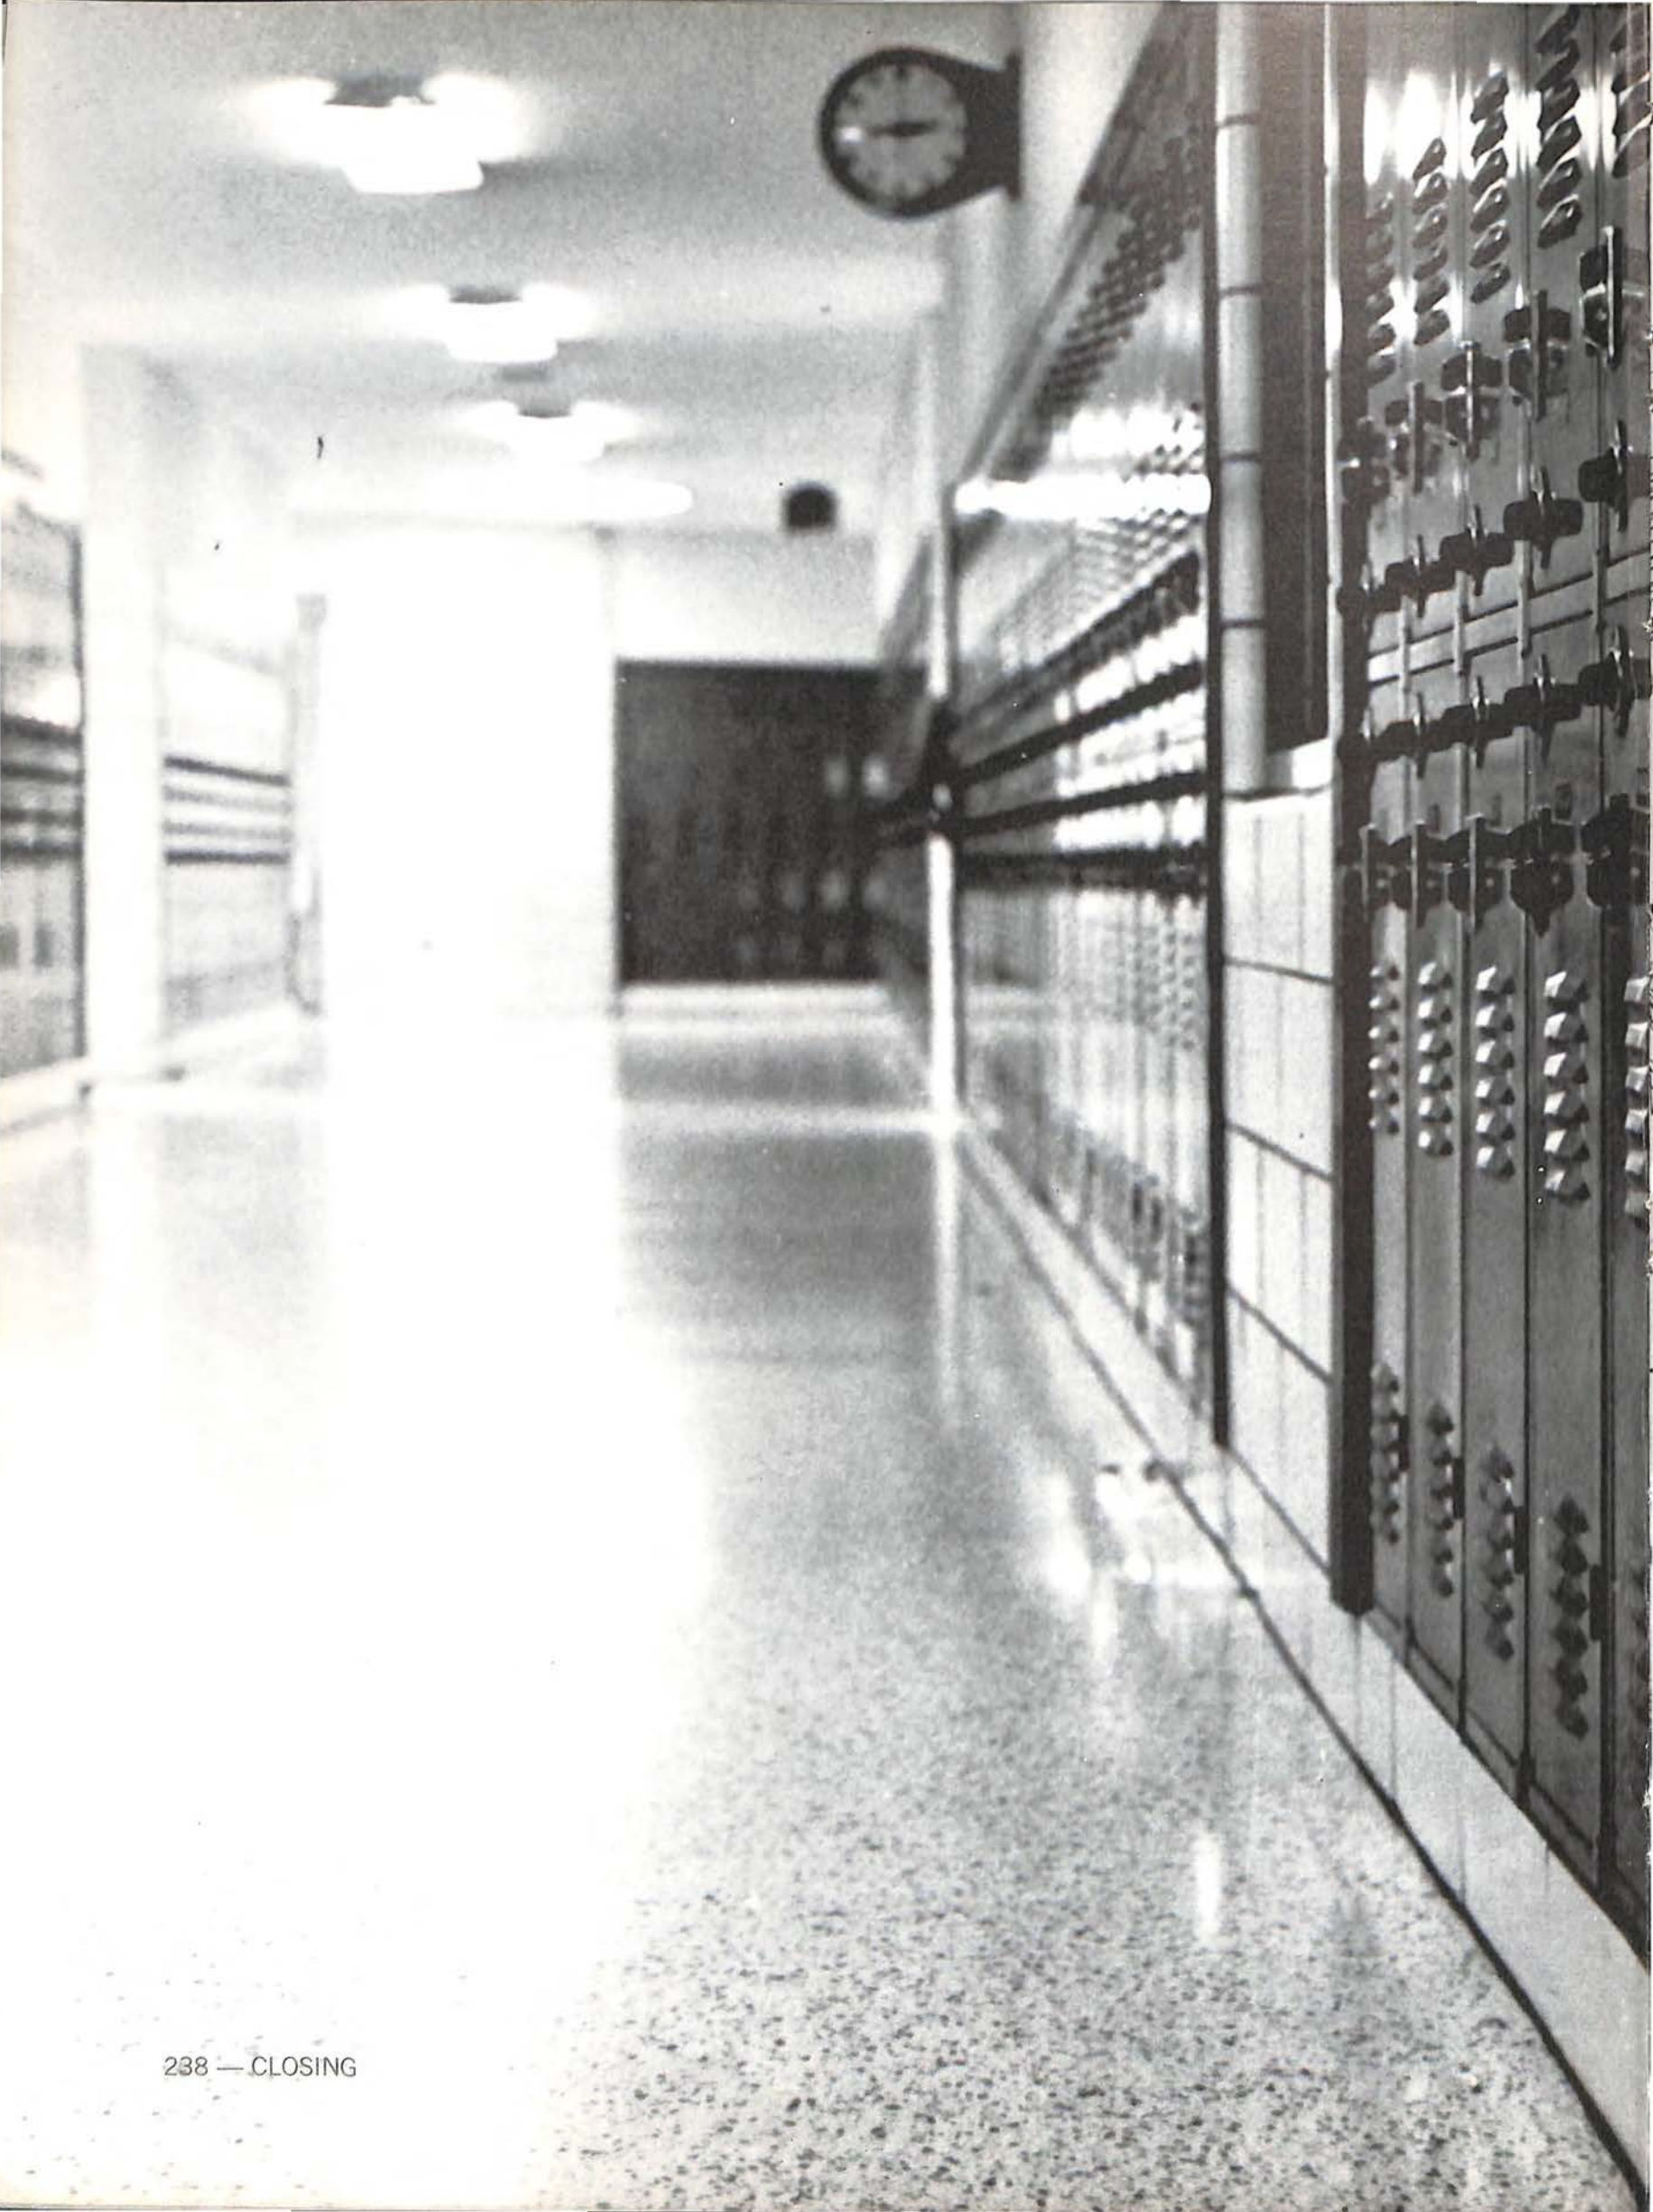

“Ignorance never settles a question.”
— Disraeli

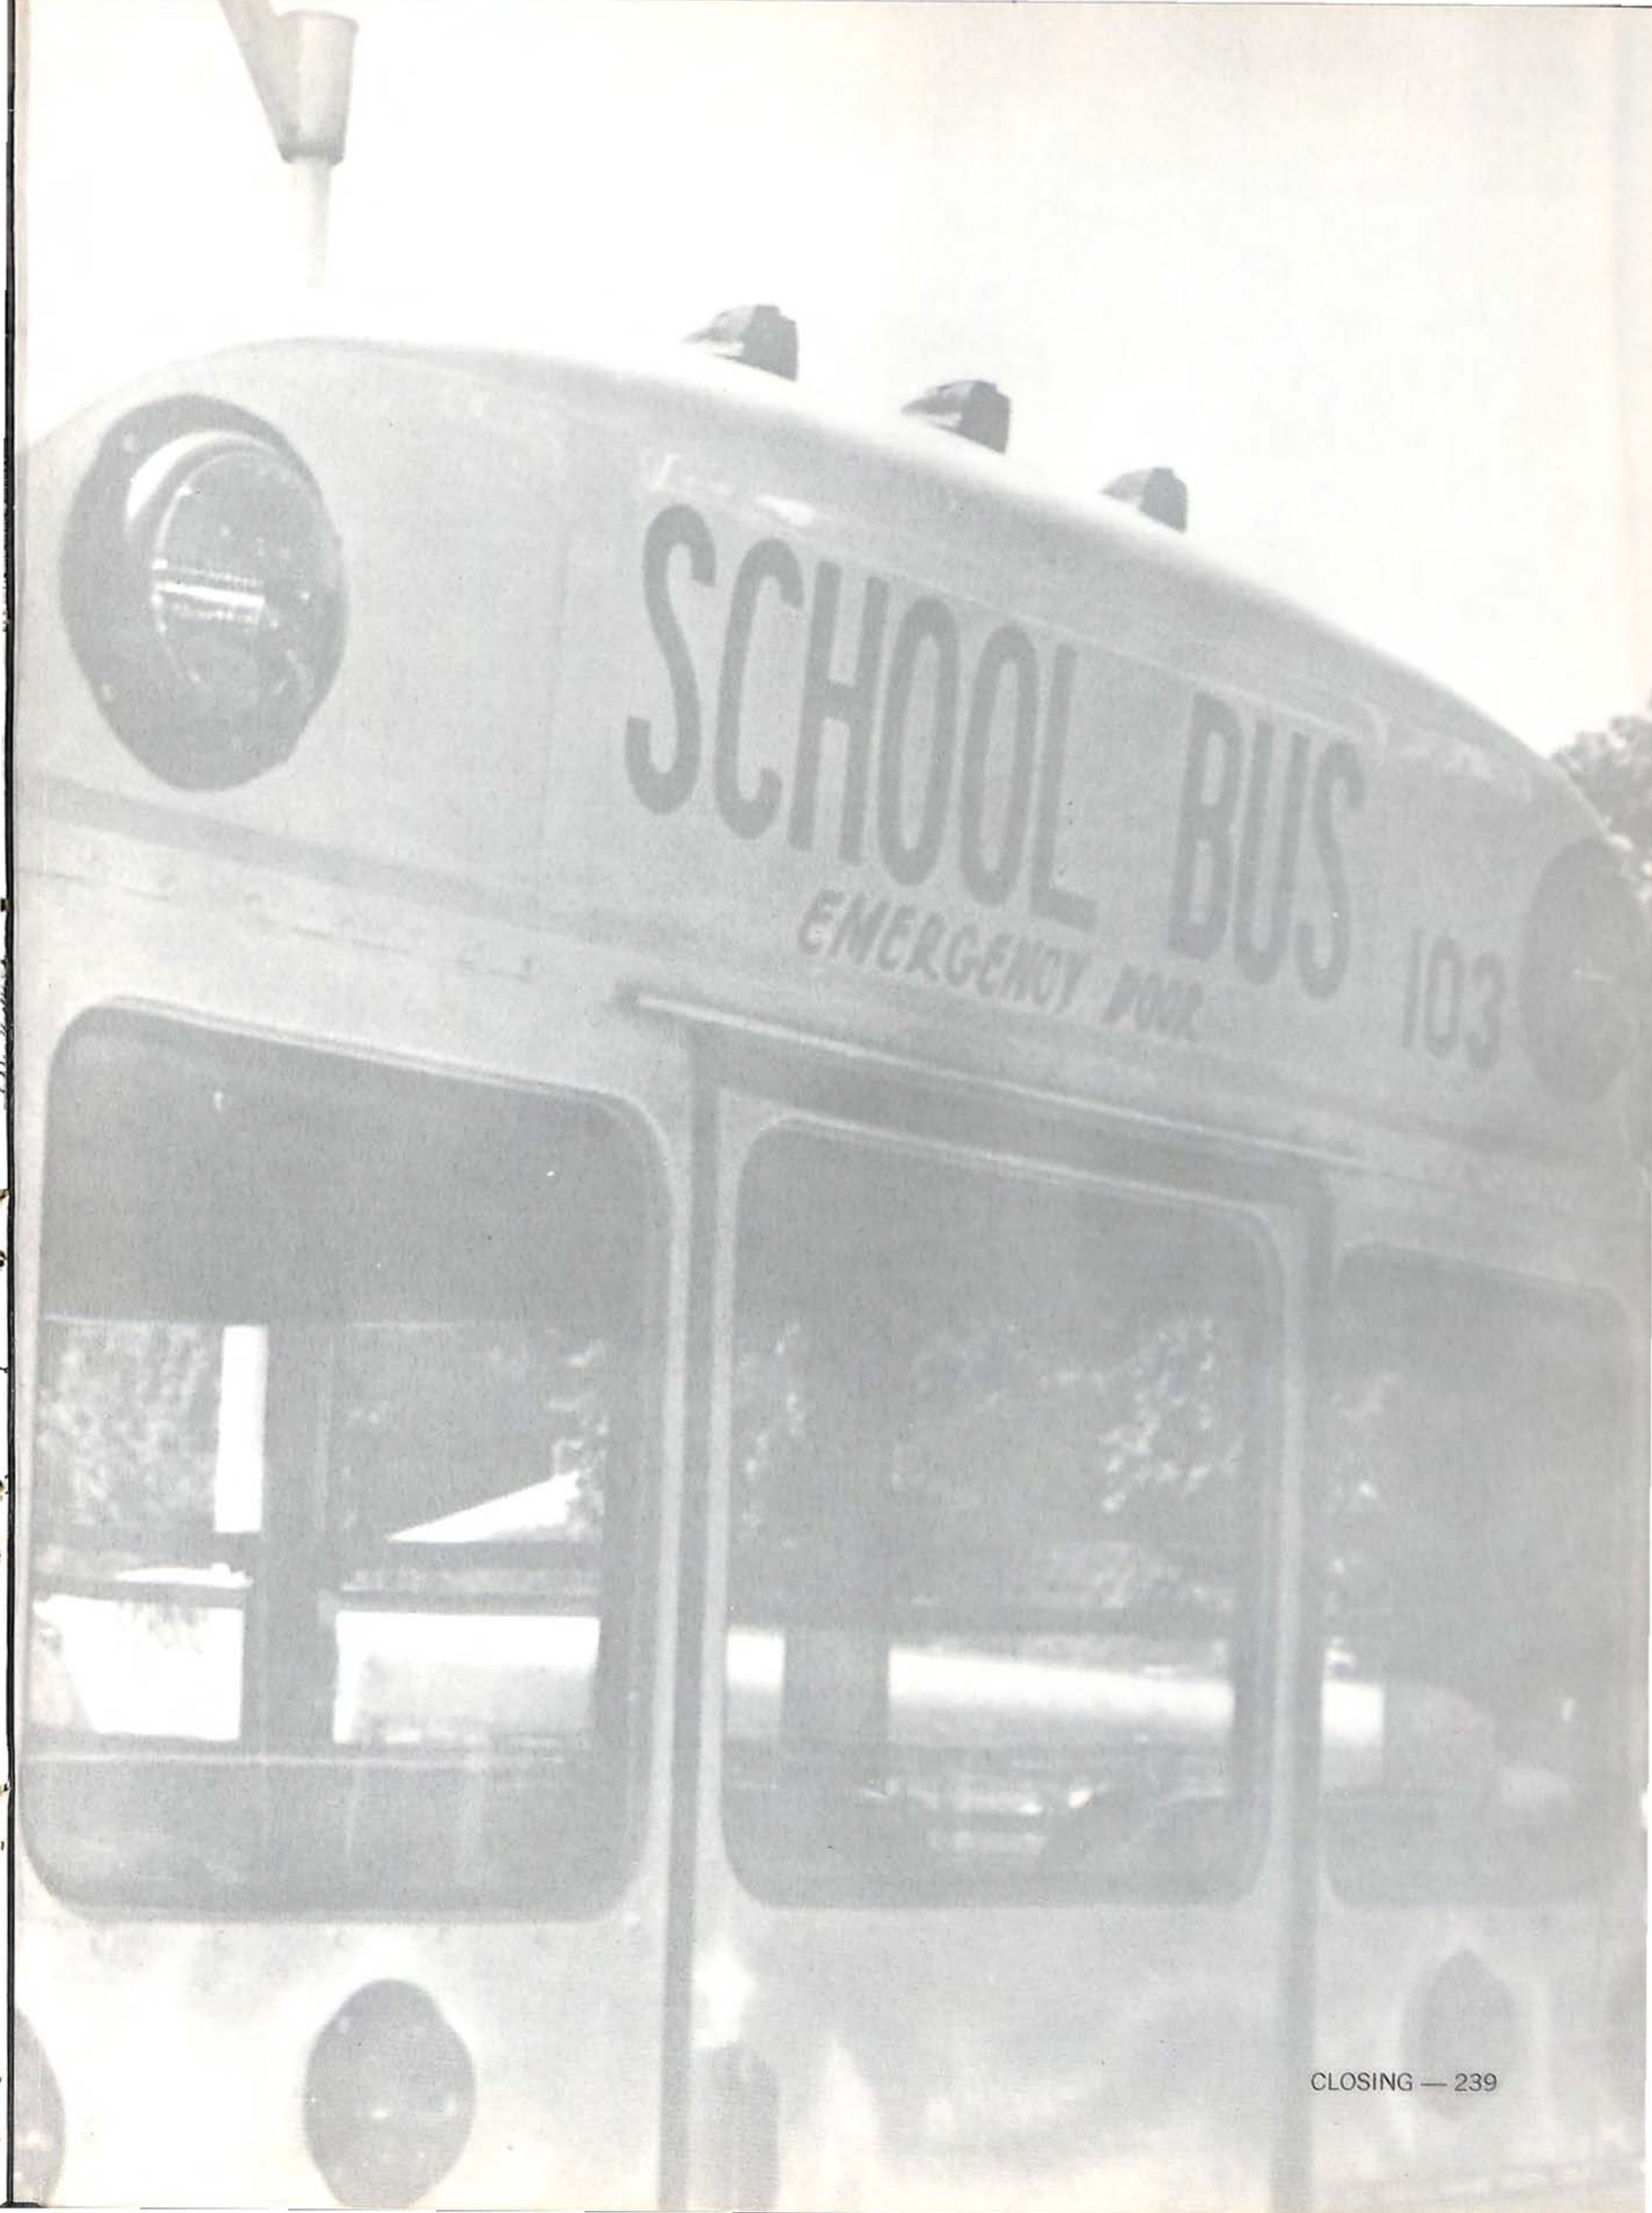

“Solitude is as needful to the imagination as society is wholesome for the character.”
— James Russell Lowell

“That it will never come again is what makes life so sweet.”
— Emily Dickinson

“The only reward of virtue is virtue; the only way to have a friend is to be one.”
— Ralph Waldo Emerson

The 1978 Accolade Staff has attempted to establish "The Day of a Knight" throughout the pages of this book. I would like to express my sincere appreciation to each member of the staff for all their time and effort in meeting deadlines. I want to thank Mrs. Sue Harris for sticking by my side with suggestions for every problem. I also want to thank Mr. Dave Kinton, our representative from Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas, for his many trips to school. Much thanks goes to Robin Dixon for all the art work and to Wayne Sowder, along with the other photographers, for all the pictures which were printed.

Many of the pictures were taken by Mr. Bob Tavner of Max Ward-Delmar Studios and by Mr. Lynwood Atkins of Atkins Photography. I wish to thank them for all their time.

I hope the staff has succeeded in capturing a moment which every student can keep as a memory of his years at Cave Spring High.
