LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Seniors of Troutville High School, being of sound (?) minds, do hereby will our personal property:

First, we leave the Faculty, the honor of having taught such a fine class.

Second, we will to the Juniors the Senior room and Miss Potter as advisor.

Third, to Dorothy Gross, Lucille Shanks wills her personal art of mischief making.

Fourth, to Virginia Dare Weeks, Lillian Watkins wills her ability to play ball.

Fifth, to Samuel Berry, Hubert Overacre wills his job as mascot of Music II class.

Sixth, to Juanita Custer and "Tinky" Hicks, Ruth Kinsley and Edwin Murray will their ability to make love.

Seventh, to Lydia Howell, Viola Hambrick wills her job in the cafeteria.

Eighth, to Johnny Thompson, Clara Mae Kessler wills her job as "President" of the Senior class.

Ninth, to Rachel Graybill, Florence Morgan wills her shyness.

Tenth, to Eunice Dooley, Frances Calhoun wills her ability to talk (in class).

Eleventh, to Delia Haymaker, Nancy Wade wills one of her boy friends.

Twelfth, to John Edd Shanks, Bobbie Kinzie wills his bright sayings.

Thirteenth, to Glenn Haff, Russell Zimmerman wills his tall, dark and handsome-ness.

Fourteenth, to David Kahle, Wallace Deel wills his love for all new girls.

Fifteenth, to Leola Haymaker, Edith Brisentine wills her basketball suit.

Sixteenth, to Dorothy Lambert, Hilda Lucas wills her popularity.

Seventeenth, to Edna Barton, Dorothy Kinzie wills her red hair.

Eighteenth, to those who need it, Junior Rock wills his great mind.

Nineteenth, to Honoria Murray, Mae Rader wills her love for farmers.

Twentieth, to Lucille Haff, June Galliher wills her gracefulness as a "Big-Apple" dancer.

Twenty-first, to Janie Ruth Caldwell, Jackie Hundley wills her lovely voice.

Twenty-second, to Delmar Rogland, Samuel Rogers wills his popularity with the ladies.

Twenty-third, to Sylvia Minnix, Lois Abshire wills her good nature.

Twenty-fourth, to Mary Parks, Virginia Crouch wills her quietness.

Twenty-fifth, to Vera Cadd, Beulah Duncan wills her excess fat.

Twenty-sixth, to Virginia Rae Hundley, Frances Clinebell wills her "redhead".

Twenty-seventh, to Martha Kinzie, Eileen Cronk wills her dimples.

Twenty-eighth, to Kathleen Tomlinson, Shirley Starkey wills her "chuckles."

Twenty-ninth, to Tinky Hicks, Wesley DeVilbiss wills his position as center for the "Warriors."

Thirtieth, to Robert Layman, Fred Murray wills the honor of being "Girl pest No. 1."

Thirty-first, to Carlyle Hammond, Ashby Crawford wills the nick-name "Snuzzle."

Thirty-second, to Alcedine Bower, Lorraine Morgan wills her part in the Senior play.

We appoint Miss Marie Potter as executrix of this will, knowing that she will see that all of the above things are carried out to the best of her ability.

CLASS PROPHECY

May 24, 1940

Dear Diary,

While touring through Geneva, Switzerland today, I came upon a lovely lake, called "Lake of Memories." I was told that if you look upon this lake you could see into the past, present and future. The idea came to me that if this were true, I could see what my classmates of '38 were doing. I gazed and gazed and finally a spell came over me--I was in another world and strange things came to my sight. Why, Diary--

Lucille Shanks is the second woman ever to be in the President's cabinet.

Junior Rocke is President and the United States is on its feet again. (We're going there soon, eh, Diary?)

Ruth Kinsley and Edwin Murray are married. Edwin is Secretary of State.

Viola Hambrick is in China with her missionary husband.

Clara Mae Kessler has written a famous book, "Went With the Wind."

Frances Calhoun is keeping bachelor's quarters of which are the envy of all New York.

Nancy Wade has married a red-headed professional basketball player.

Just as Florence Morgan's face appeared the water rippled and all was lost.

Bobbie Kinzie is teaching Chemistry at Bridgewater.

Russell Zimmerman is in jail for murdering his third wife.

Wallace Deel is still a bachelor, loving and leaving the girls as he always did.

Edith Brisentine is touring Japan on a peace campaign (they haven't gotten China yet!)

Ashby Crawford is coach at Hampden-Sydney.

Hilda Lucas is married to a coach and again the water rippled, so I don't know who the lucky guy is.

Mae Rader is teaching the first grade at Troutville High School.

June Galliher is deciding between three proposals she has lately received.

Jackie Hundley is art instructor at a Federal institution.

CLASS PROPHECY

Samuel Rogers is runner-up for the title of Public Lover No. 1. (Robert Taylor still has it.)

Lois Abshire is dancing instructor for IGH.

Virginia Crouch is nursing in John Hopkins hospital.

Beulah Duncan is a famous screen actress.

Frances Clinebell is busy cooking for a strawberry blond.

Shirley Starkey has taken the Philharmonic Orchestra under her direction.

Wesley DeVilbiss is a professional basketball player.

Fred Murray is a farmer and still has the girls worried because he won't marry.

Lillian Watkins is tennis champion of America. She just won the "Dixie Cup."

Hubert Overacre is still a bachelor because he is too bashful to propose.

Lorraine Morgan is married, but that doesn't surprise me, Diary.

As I turned away from the lake, I remembered the happy days of school life at Troutville. I'm getting restless, Diary, and I'm going back home this spring if all goes well.

SCHOOL SONG

Alma Mater

Here among the Blue Ridge Mountains
With its skies of blue,
Stands our noble Alma Mater,
Glorious to view.

Chorus:

Lift the chorus, speed it onward,
Loud our praises tell.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Hail! Oh, Hail! Troutville.

Far away the busy humming
Of a bustling town,
Reared against the arch of heaven,
Looks she proudly on,

(Chorus)

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

History is a matter of cause and effect. Causes are often obscure and effects are difficult to determine. Nevertheless, high school life has been a great cause in making our class what it is today.

Four long, "short" years ago, 84 rats crawled from holes in all parts of the county and enrolled as the Freshman class of Troutville High School. During that year, we became pals and started a class organization which has continued all through these years.

As Sophomores, we felt the importance of being called "upper classmen" and pushed forward with more vigor than before--one step nearer the final goal seemed to make the determination stronger.

In September, 1936, we found ourselves in the Junior room, a surprising (to some of us) and a very pleasant discovery. We were still bubbling with enthusiasm and tried to meet our obligations as rare opportunities. The one outstanding event of the year was the Junior-Senior banquet, a delightful occasion long to be remembered by us.

Now we have reached the closing act of our high school drama. We feel that we have accomplished something not only in the lessons we have learned from books, but also in the lessons taught us by living and working with others. These are the things that will help us most in shaping our lives.

During the four years of high school, our class has been well represented in all school activities. We have had winners in athletic and literary events and have always had a large number in musical events.

The class of 1938 concludes its history with this word of appreciation. We are indebted for many of our honors to the students who have joined our class since our Freshman year. To the future, we look with hopeful eyes. As a class, we disband, but we shall never forget those from whom and with whom we have learned. Now we must go forth from our Alma Mater into the unchartered future, with the words of our motto, "I wish, I can, I will," challenging us to live lives of usefulness.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

The Juniors, when entering high school, were a bunch of forty-five rats. We were divided into two groups, A and B. Group A had as their instructor, Miss Lackland, while group B were led by Mr. Camden. During our Sophomore year, we were well looked after by Mr. Kinzie. When we came to our Junior year we all turned our happy faces toward Mr. Moore, who was to tell us what was right and wrong. After several weeks with us, he found it necessary to leave. This departure grieved us all very much. While searching for a permanent teacher, Mrs. Sifford stood before us. Soon, Mr. Barron arrived and presided over us for the rest of the year.

As we have journeyed through high school, eighteen of our fellow classmates have decided to discontinue school.

Nine of our classmates have lingered back to join others. Three of our number have left our school to join other schools.

Our present class roll totals thirty Juniors. Fifteen of this number are members of the original class. Twelve of the present Juniors dripped to our class from preceding classes. Three of the thirty have moved in from other communities and joined our class.

We hope that the present number of students will be able to enter the Senior class and graduate together next year.

FOREIGN LEGION

In the morning when we go down under the ground,
 So deep we can hardly hear a sound,
 We feel like we'd been handled by the undertaker,
 And feted with a coat by the casket maker.
 But if we we've dodged "Rader" and feel real brave,
 We must look at Mr. Camden who doesn't shave,
 Then if we survive this terrible ordeal,
 And words cannot express how badly we feel,
 Just remember if we do live down in the cellar,
 Every had, or girl is a blame good speller.
 It makes the other Freshmen all wear a frown,
 For in the spelling match they all went down.

When you meet the Legion members, don't push or shove,
 If you do, your sign will be as above.
 Don't pick on the Legion, either hag or miss,
 If you do, your license plates will look like this.

The Warriors had a successful season under the instruction of Coach Harold Barron, winning 16 and losing only 6 games of the regular schedule. They finished the season by taking a trip to Pennsylvania where they played several games.

BOYS' SQUAD HISTORY

Forwards: Ashby Crawford--a forward for four years and a valuable player in contributing many points in the games for the Warriors. With his height as an assistance, he was able to ring in points from all angles.

Samuel Rogers--with his rugged work played a big part in the success of the games. With his ability to handle the ball and to follow up the shots of the other boys, he played with all the courage of a true Warrior.

Center: Wesley DeVilbiss--a tall, lanky fellow who played this one position for four seasons. Captain of the team most of the time, he was the main link that made up the ball team. He loved the game for the contest and the skill that is required in it.

Guards: Lewis Summers--a good guard and a crack shot. Played his first year as a regular. Being only a Junior, he has another year on the hardwood. Lew is fast and has plenty of stamina, which makes him a fine ball player.

Dee DeVilbiss--the hard fighting boy that holds down the other guard post. He is a good long shot and added some valuable points with his long ones. He is a Sophomore with several years to go. Dee was a good guard for his first year as a regular and a nice type of basketball player.

Coach Harold Barron--the boys looked to him as their sixth player. Usually trailing at the half, the boys came back from the locker room with determination in their hearts and the coach's words ringing in their ears. With this to spur them on, the boys usually turned out on the winning side. The boys were the "Warriors" and the coach the "Chief."

Quote Coach Barron: "I appreciate the effort the following boys have put out to help the Warriors have a better club by staying and practicing:

HISTORY OF THE WARRIOR

The "Warrior," the school paper, is four years old. It was first printed on December 3, 1935. The officers were as follows: Editor-in chief, Helen Kinzie; Social Editor, Wesley DeVilbiss; Art Editor, Jackie Hundley; Sports Editor, Edward Shively; Business Manager and Sponsors: Miss Lackland and Mr. Camden. The front page of every issue of the Warrior was the same the first year.

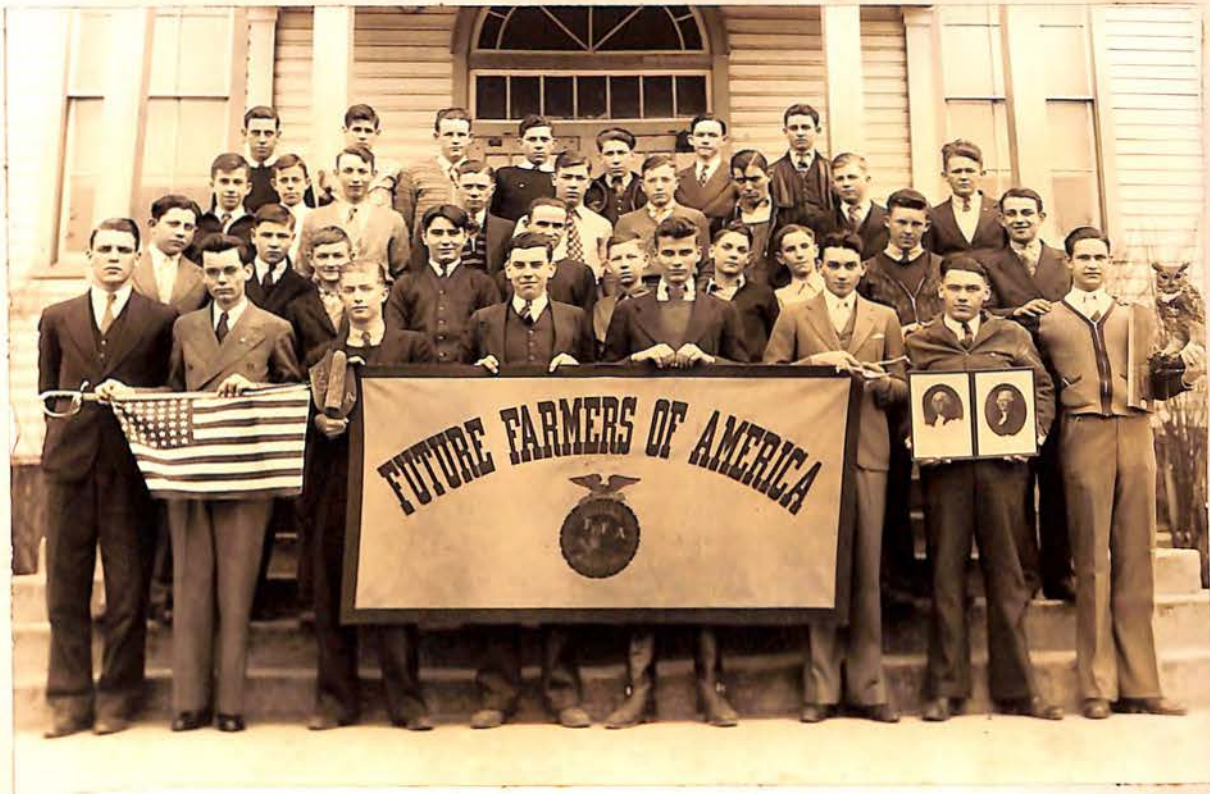

From the second year till now, there has always been a different front page. The officers were not changed until in the third year. In 1936 the offices and officers were changed except the Art Editor, which is still Jackie Hundley. The offices and officers were as follows: Editor, Ruth Crum-packer; Assistant Editor, Clara Mae Kessler; Organization Editor, Robert Layman; Sports Editor, James Moore; Class Editors, Frieda Rader and Edna Brugh; Miscellaneous Editor, Annie Shively; Business Manager, Ashby Crawford.

The Warrior

The Warrior staff would like to say,

In this somewhat poetic way, That--
 We worked and worked the whole day through,
 To find some news to interest you.
 We gave you the news both serious and gay,
 Of the teachers and pupils who toiled every day,
 Then we gave you the news from the school as a whole,
 And kept you informed as we strived to our goal,
 Now sometimes 'twas good and other times bad,
 But we did our best with the news that we had.
 We searched for some ideas that maybe would do,
 Some of them old, and some of them new,
 Ideas with wit to make you smile.
 Ideas to make the Warrior worth while.
 We made up the character (A. Brite Ladd),
 Hoping his writings would make you glad,
 Be honest, my friends, do you think 'twas a mess?
 Or were the Warriors you read a "howling" success?
 We hope that our efforts were not all in vain,
 And you'll subscribe to the Warrior again!

Song

On ye Warriors! On ye Warriors!
 Fight to win this game,
 You're the best team on the floor,
 So fight to keep your fame.
 Fight opponents! Fight opponents!
 Win so they can see
 The Warriors marching on to victory.

History

The Library Club of Troutville High School was organized in October, 1934, sponsored by Miss Marie Potter, with a membership of eleven. Since its beginning, it has included in its membership a goodly part of the student body of this institution.

During the school year of '36-'37, the Club was reorganized with a membership of twelve old members and eight new ones, under the sponsorship of Miss Violet Ramsey.

During mid-term of '37-'38, the club was saddened by the departure of its librarian and sponsor, Miss Ramsey, who accepted a position as librarian in Appomattox County, but was glad to welcome Miss Winnie Foster as its present sponsor and school librarian.

As a method of raising money, a Halloween Carnival, combined with a plate supper, was held at the school auditorium and with the funds made, we bought more books and library equipment.

The initiation party for the new members was held at the school and all present had an enjoyable evening.
