Remember When—?

On a sultry Sunday afternoon, August 27, 1961, 39 scared little "probies" crossed the threshold of quiet home life into the hurry-scurry world of nursing. Everyone was so strange and deep in her own heart, each girl wondered what their roommate was going to be like. That night, behind the darkness, many pillows were wet with the tears of homesickness.

The next day dawned bright and EARLY. Oh, such a pile of books and notebooks that were passed out. Will we ever make it?

During the next few months, time passed slowly but surely, then the first grades were posted! Remember that terrible feeling of dread you felt when you stood outside O.M.C.'s office door every month waiting your turn?

By now, a few of our classmates had dropped by the wayside, each for her own reason.

Study hours! Oh, My! Every night we studied from 7-9:30; well, maybe not every night 'cause occasionally we played.

Wasn't dorm life great? Remember the nights the showers mysteriously came on full blast and the rides down the steps on the mattress? What about finding out that the sudden noise in the still of the night is an empty coke bottle making its way down the wooden stairs?

That first day on the floor! I'll bet that's the best bath those elderly men ever got, don't you? Wasn't it a frustrating feeling to have your bed free of wrinkles and then have your instructor tell you that your bottom sheet was on upside down?

March 2, 1962, we received our first caps! My, weren't we proud? The future looked so much brighter now.

Time passed and we began our special services. What about the first time you scrubbed alone with Dr. H. Trout? Remember how much a Kelly clamp resembled the straight? Do you recall seeing your first delivery and Dr. Groseclose telling you to shut your mouth before a fly flew into it?

Night duty--the moments when you thought each step was your last and that each shadow seemed to leap at you?

Emergency Room--remember how your heart did a double-triple summersault when you saw an ambulance pull up or the phone rang. WHAT NOW?

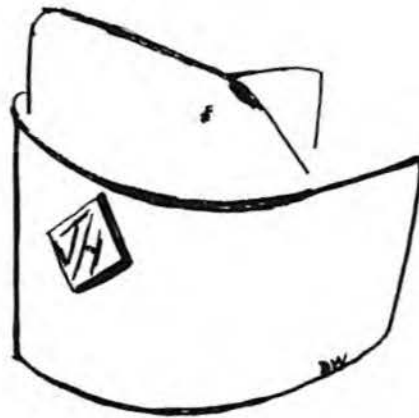

Yes, time has passed and is still passing. Quietly and swiftly, it moves gently over the ripples of our lives, leaving its scars and victories. At last, those scared little "probies" of long ago, are finishing up the training that will prepare them for their life's work.

Who knows where our roads will lead us and what obstacles we may meet? No matter what may happen we can always look back to the years at J.H. and to the memories which lie within these hallowed halls. And, should we ever meet along future pathways, we can always say "Remember when?"

My Cap

It's only a piece of white muslin
Perched on top of my head,
Its value to some may mean nothing,
To me it's a symbol instead.

A symbol of hope, cheer and comfort,
To those who are suffering and ill,
To me it gives strength unbelieving,
My work to perform with a will!

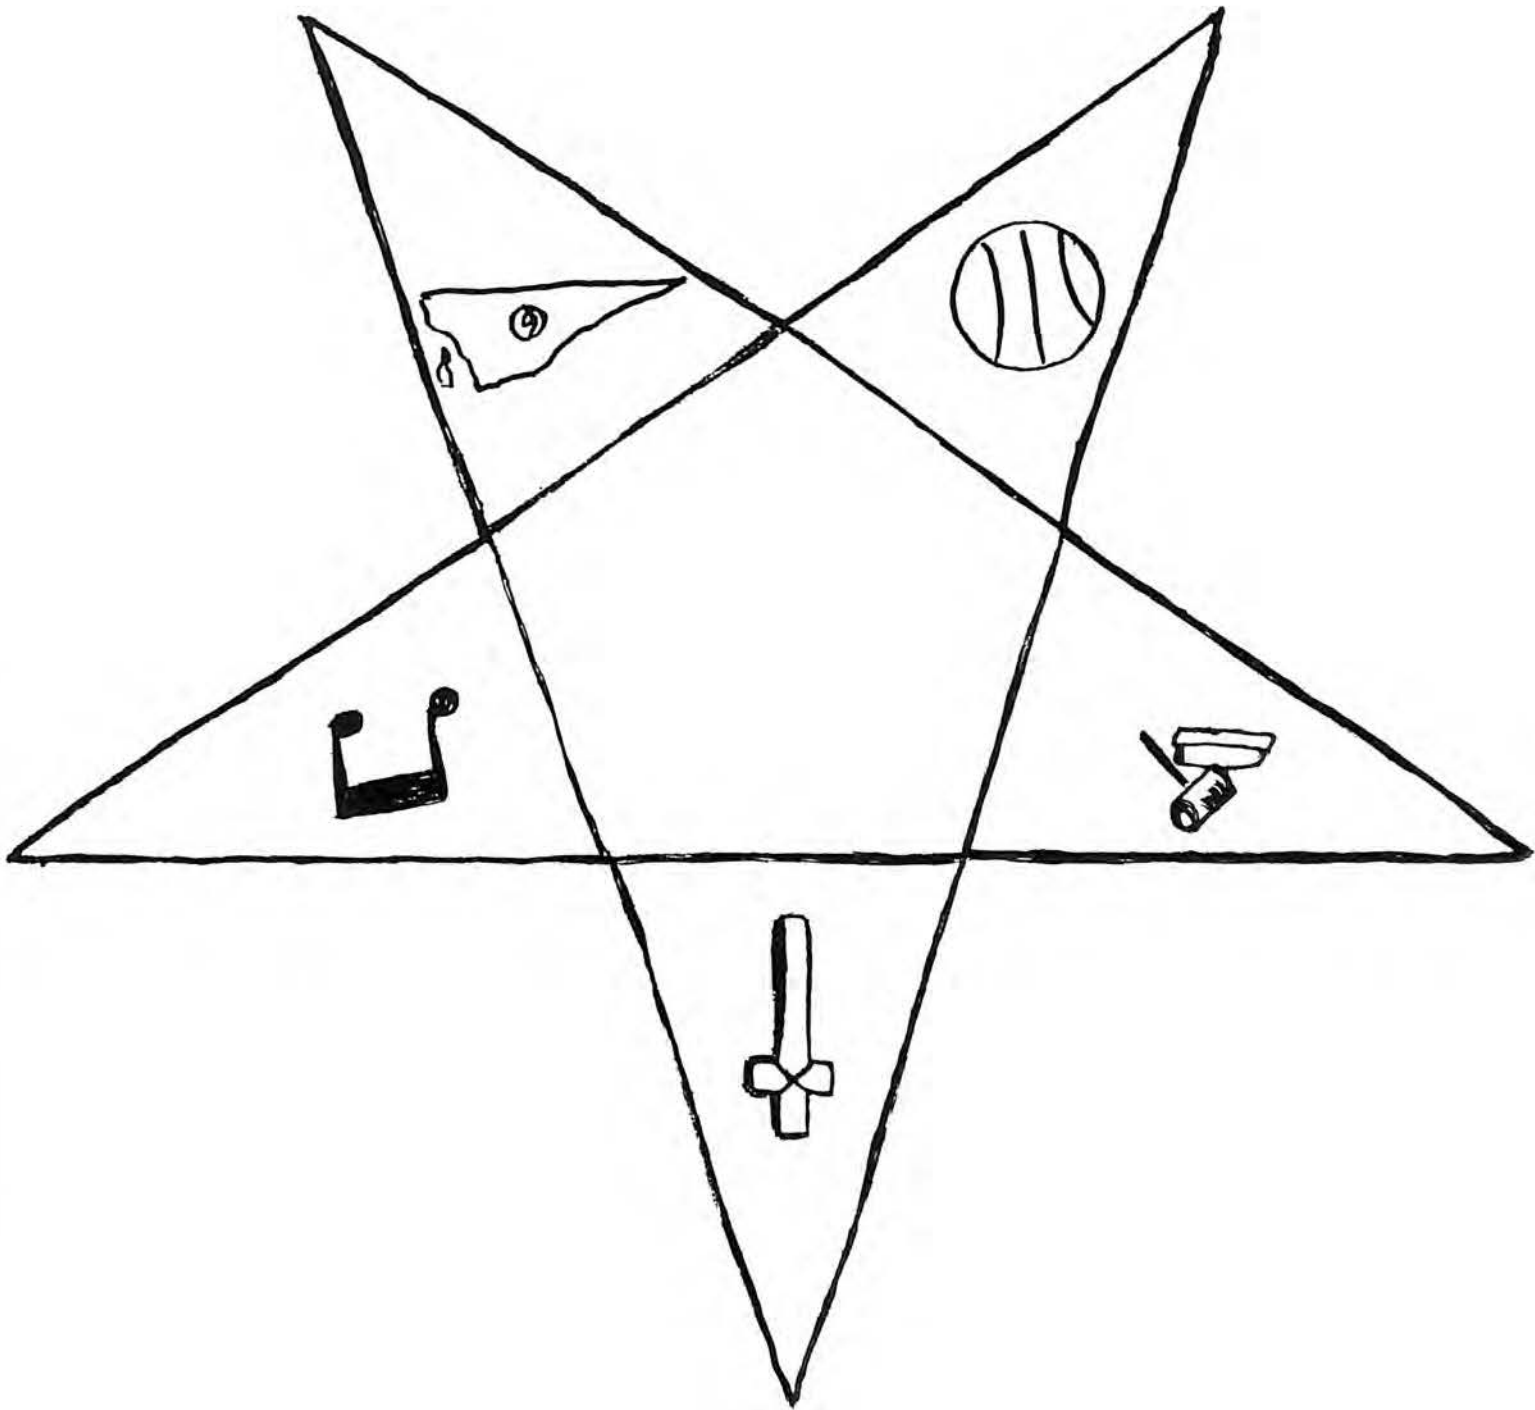

Sometimes I am discouraged, disheartened,
My task seem so hopeless to me,
My cap seems to speak of a promise
Of things I so want to be!

No jewels adorn its wide brim,
So simple and plain in its line-
Treat it with reverence and honor,
For there's only one cap of its kind!
Sally Hewitt, R.N.

Florence Nightingale Pledge

I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly, to pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully. I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous, and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug. I will do all in my power to maintain and elevate the standards of my profession and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my profession. With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work, and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care.

Philosophy

Jefferson Hospital School of Nursing

Nursing is a profession which, in cooperation with associated groups, seeks to promote human welfare through health teaching, ministering to the sick, and rehabilitation. The professional nurse acknowledges that the patient is her most important responsibility and that through effective interpersonal relationships with him, the physician, and members of the health team, she fulfills her role in meeting the patient's individual needs.

Education is a continuing process of growth and development whereby knowledge, ability, understanding, and appreciation are assimilated by the learner.

Nursing education is basically a scientific program of study which enables a motivated student to perform specialized skills and to acquire related knowledge to help her meet the health needs of society.

Learning is an active process whereby a change in behavior of the student occurs as the result of investigation and participation in selected experiences. It is recognized that the amount of learning for each student varies depending upon her level of maturity and her ability to relate past experiences to new situations.

The student should take advantage of all learning opportunities and accept the responsibility for her actions. The student should develop the ability to give care with compassion, be calm in emergency situations, and be sympathetic in the face of death.

It is the responsibility of the faculty to provide a flexible, dynamic program which is based on sound educational principles and which strives to make a contribution to mankind. It is their responsibility through a democratic atmosphere to offer guidance and counseling to students in order to help meet their personal and professional needs as individuals.
