There is a season which is not quite summer, but yet not fall; a season when the air is calm, the temperatures are unpredictable, and the skies are clear. This season some people call Indian summer. And, at this time of year, students come "North by Southview," to an institution made of mere brick and mortar, but embracing within its walls a year of hope and memories. Here students find something to remember, but more than that, something to live by. There is no value in hours unless they are well spent, nor worth in labor divided in cause . . . so we have just one of the lessons which will remain through the years in the hearts and minds of those privileged to absorb them.

We look on the year past and remember its distinctness as having honored Northside with its first Senior Class. Herein we find memories, some of which are too intangible to relate in black and white, yet we recall each as priceless memories and joys of a year gone by. Look back . . . "North by Southview" . . . at the blended colors of our past and recollect the life and impressions of Northside High School, proudly presented as a picturesque filmstrip between the covers of this . . . the 1963 edition of our NORTH STAR.

The North Star Staff selected these two pages as a special treat for each of you to remember as a part of the funny incidents unknown to all, nevertheless, which occur.

Eric Rice and Bob Gorth try their hand at splish—splash.

"Now Phil (Catron) you know you can draw better than that," expresses Sandra Richardson.

Teachers really get wound-up or is it just leg action Mr. Koenig?

Wonder how you can get purple out of red and black?—Jean Mitchell.

"O-w-w-w, I'll have armitis from this," exclaims Joan Bennett.

Mr. Baird gave us quite a treat with his organ presentation.—remember that de-di-da-bit.

Caught—skipping in the halls is Robin Dearing—trouble is she seems so happy about it.

Dean Sutherland, clown of clowns, has the whitest eyeballs of anyone we have ever seen!

"Oh! For that early morning stretch", exclaims Sandra Richardson. (One of those pep Girls).

"Ah, Coach Pederson," explains Jesse Perdue, "anybody knows that B. B. doesn't know anything about football." Not making any comment are Roger Fore, Phyllis Anderson, and Mike Helvey.

"You have eight grey hairs Joan (Bennett)," exclaims Martha Nolan.

Teachers don't see everything that goes on—especially if seniors have anything to do with it. (Nancy Spraker, Frances Black, and Miss McElrath.)

Caught in the act of—well, being lazy, or shall we say goofing off?—Dean Sutherland, Mike Helvey, and Larry Garst.

Concentration??? No, just Jean Mitchell, Barbara Parker, and Sarah Wohlford.

Caught—in the change of classes.

Caught—Donnie Cregger examining the basketball uniforms in the "cage."

"One, two, three . . . Great Heavens! Have you ever seen a fly with seventeen legs?" microscopist student, Ray McDaniel exclaims.

"But I like to do the split. It's more fun when you jump off the building!" exclaims Sandra Shannon.

Mrs. Dulaney and Mrs. McDaniel fixed those mouth-watering rolls that we all loved.

"But I don't like pecan pie," exclaims Miss McElrath, as time was taken out on Saturday work period. S. Minnich, P. Alexander, M. Hinman, B. Parker, B. Kirby.

Miss Tarter and Miss McWhorter were playing around with a new experiment as usual.

John Stratton has an "out of this world" feeling.

Special scenes are snow, night, sunny, arial, cloudy, and dusk which predict our production of "North By Southview" and which our camera caught in some very unusual moments.

Corbie Craig entering school on a chilly morning.

As students of Northside High School, we found that weather in its various phases had a distinct part in our school life.

Those drizzly, rainy, foggy days (which came all together—too many times to suit the students), left a low-hanging cloud of sullen, irritable moods.

The sunny times at Northside came in bundles of happiness, as we froliced in the warm, severing sunshine.

Snow days were a delight to each of us as anxiously we awaited and hoped for just enough of those white flakes to close the school plant for the day.

Windy hours at N. H. S. gave a blistering air to the students, as we gained the initiative to work harder on those scholastic averages.

Certainly, weather does play a major role in our filming "North by Southview", as it effects the minds and mannerisms of the colossal Northsiders.

"But I like this color," exclaims Brenda Brown, as Mike Helvey tries to convince her that the girls are wearing white.

Looking into the future or just goofing off are Brenda Jackson and Sandra Light.

Voted by their classmates as "CUTIE PIES" are Pat Gravely and Pete Sarver.

identification: go to "Senior statistics"

The Senior Class of 1962-63 will always remain as a distinct and honored portion of Northside. Its undying enthusiasm and school spirit have been an inspiration to every other student. Amidst the most trying times, the members of this class were always there playing their best or giving their unfailing support to Northside High. The cooperation in all school activities has been an example to the underclassmen, who have constantly looked to the Seniors as ideals.

Yes, Seniors, yours is a class Northside will long remember. Even as this year fades into the past and is being placed in its proper place as the main attraction for Northside, we know that, in the years to come, you will fill your role as members of society as capably as you have executed your tasks as school leaders.

The dream you dared has come true—and so, with honor and congratulations we dedicate the 1963 NORTH STAR to the members of Northside's first graduating class . . . Seniors of 1963.

Mr. Passan has the "toe-position" as he reaches to help Tom Harris with his cap. William Loope is standing by for assistance if it is needed.

MISS NORTH STAR

MISS NORTH STAR

These frames were especially cut out and given special recognition by the North Star staff because we feel that we want to salute some of our top poise, beauty, and charm representatives among the girls at Northside. This is the third year to sponsor — MISS NORTH STAR — contest exclusively for Junior and Senior girls.

The North Star staff selected girls from the 11th and 12th grades who possess the characteristics listed above and then we presented the slate to the SCA who approved and added any additional names. A bulletin board was displayed in the cafeteria for students to review all nominees so that they could more easily decide on their seven votes from the 31 candidates.

The staff is proud to feature these beauties at Northside — Pat Gravely, Jean Mitchell, Sarah Wohlford, Mary Van Lear, Diana Coffindaffer, Sally Minnich, and Corbie Lou Craig. Two poses of each of these girls—formal and informal — were presented to our celebrity, Johnny Desmond in person at the Cerebral Palsy Telethon here in Roanoke on December 8, 1962. He graciously consented to judge the contest and we are very proud to announce his choice as—MISS MARY VAN LEAR—MISS NORTH STAR, 1963. We, the staff, extend congratulations!

Two weeks after the bulletin board was viewed by students, a ballot was given to each student who in turn marked their choices.

The seven top girls were announced and presented with a corsage at the annual North Star dance—AUTUMN STROLL—then one dance was given in honor of the finalists and their dates.

As we scurry from classroom to classroom in our daily routine here at Northside, seldom do we realize that we are participating in what is the main purpose of our filmed production.

Little do we notice the wide range of subjects that we take during our high school career. Right before our eyes we have everything from algebra to physics, English to physical education—yes, and even study hall.

Since the true reason that we have a high school at all is to obtain an education, it is only fitting that we present this very important aspect of our drama. As an added attraction to our curriculum, Northside worked with Radford College in the training of student teachers. These hard-working “students” served as ideals for those of us desiring a teaching career. Therefore, we now spotlight . . . CURRICULARS.

A daily task of principal, Mr. Counts, was to sign letters concerning procedures.

our DIRECTORS organized, coordinated and advised

MR. OREN R. COUNTS Principal

First, and remaining three-year principal of Northside, we find Mr. Counts keeping a close watch on the students here at NHS. The richness of his experience as principal of Northside comes with the first graduation exercises. With sincere guidance and leadership he has produced a class of Seniors mature enough and willing enough to undertake the problems of the adult world beyond Northside.

To these Seniors which he has so admirably led, he now gives this advice: "Follow the Golden Rule 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.'"

MR. FRANKLIN H. MORICLE Assistant Principal

Northside gained two assistant principals this year, one of which the students remember from the previous two years as our faithful Mr. Moricle. He serves as our Athletic Director and a very capable guide to students in modes of good citizenship.

Mr. Moricle has lived in this area for sometime, and became Northside's gain—a neighboring high school's loss.

He also was outstanding in his college days by being an all-state football player and as a result received a great number of college football scholarship bids. His advice to the graduating seniors: "A person should add enough to his life each day that he would not be willing to trade it for—yesterday."

MR. WILLIAM E. PASSAN Assistant Principal

The all-time favorite among Northside students, Mr. Passan, climbed up the ladder of success to the position of second Assistant Principal this year. In or out of his office his devotion to the youth was ever evident, as he never tired of helping students through the trying times of high school life. As a capable leader he was sponsor of the Northside Key Club; also, he honored the Senior class by serving as a tri-sponsor.

We find that our Mr. Passan was a man of the armed forces; he previously served with both the Marines and Navy as a hospital corpsman. Following his service career, he enrolled in college and graduated with a B. S. degree in History. As a part-time coach, he often helped our teams through those rough-spots.

To the seniors, which admire him so, he gives this bit of valuable advice: "If one could be guided by not what we want to do, but what we ought to do!"

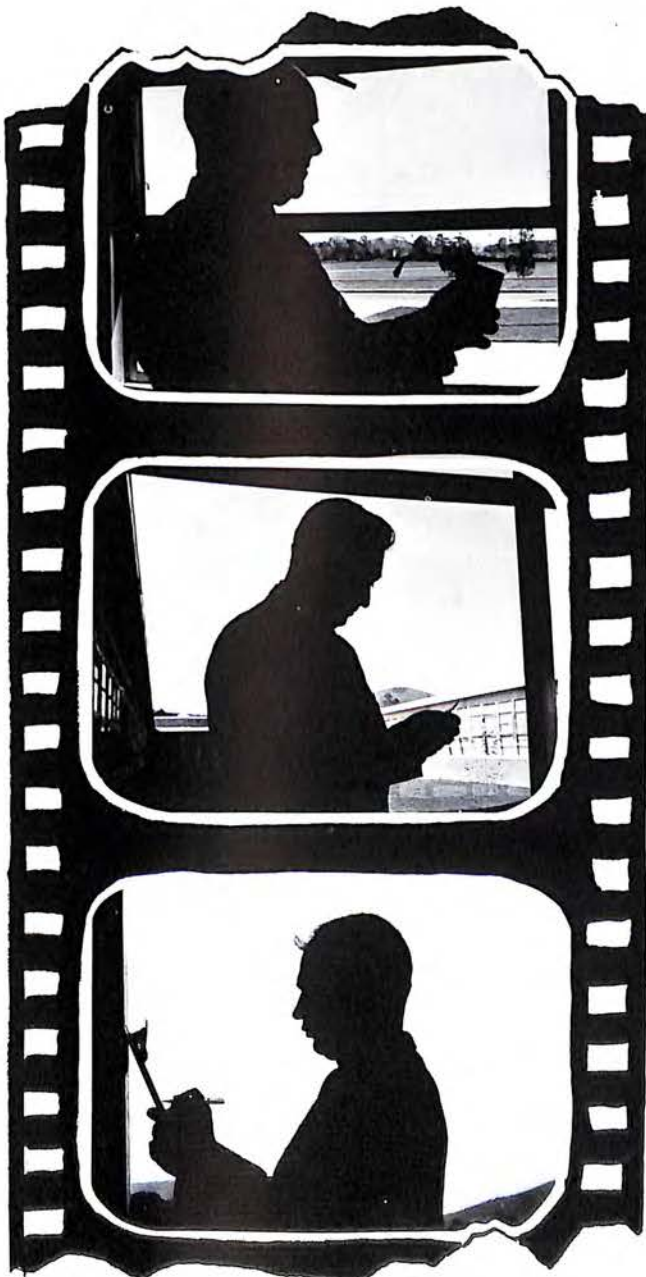

Gary W. Martin, and Jim Foreman wait their turn in line while Mr. Moricle makes out the necessary admittance pass due to absence from school.

Mr. Passan talks over schedule with student Rodney Farrar concerning his aptitude for his curriculum.

Mr. Counts takes time out from his busy schedule to clean his glasses.

Mr. Moricle seems to have difficulty in finding the master key for the rooms.

New assistant principal, Mr. Passan, takes time out for a note concerning test assignments given by guidance department.

Working behind the scenes to make Northside the well-run school it is, is found the efficient office force, precise maintenance crew, and capable cafeterial staff.

The office workers keep records in good order, mimeographed everything from tests to absentee notices, and run a lost-and-found department for the students. Herein we find the capable and never-tiring Mrs. Conner, who continues to aid Northside function smoothly.

Sandra Richardson
assistant

As other members of the office force, we had two of Northside's own Vocational Office Training students—Paula Larson and Deloris Harless. Aside from the regular office workers we had several student helpers to assist with the details of school business. These willing students forfeit study halls to be of aid in the office by carrying out such jobs as:

- typing absentee sheets
- distributing faculty notices
- filing student's schedules
- arranging college material for guidance office.

It is through the voluntary assistance of students such as these that Northside could function smoothly and efficiently.

In an effort to provide more effective career and personal counseling, the Guidance Department had added to its regular roster of tests, scholarship information, and job placements. The number of career speakers has been increased as Northside housed "College Day" not only for NHS but other high school students throughout the county. This gave a wider scope to student's choice of college or career. The Guidance Office, open throughout the day, abounds with pamphlets, catalogues, and bulletins gathered to present a picture of each state of life and every type of educational institution for the student's benefit. The Guidance Office also contains a special bulletin board designated to post information pertinent to scholarships, careers, and service opportunities. The Guidance Office is always open to those with special problems.

This year has been especially fruitful in guidance, for the staff now has three capable faculty members, working throughout the day in an effort to lead the students in understanding themselves as individuals and members of society. Also, they are influenced to make use of their abilities, and to strengthen their weakness.

students constantly use the LIBRARY

Barbara Orender is caught in the act of reading on an outside assignment for history under Miss Gregory.

Miss McDavid could be called upon for students' help and without her aid we would have not gotten those "extras" finished for our classes. Petite Nancy Henderson was found in the library often.

In our library students can find many volumes of books in different classifications for easy reference. Judy Sower's eye is focused on a book that is a little high for her reach.

Pam Jennings and Curry Wertz seem to be "studying" or maybe it's mental telepathy. Funny how little romances start in the library.

The Northside Library, growing to be one of the finest in the area, contains over 5,000 books covering everything from "cookery" to "Shakespearian Documents". Within the last year, the library has acquired books valued at $5,000 in an effort to provide for every literary need of the students.

Aiding in the librarian's task, are a number of student workers, who do everything from card cataloguing to cardboard carton carrying. These volunteers also spend their time in filing and emptying the magazine rack, checking in and out books and keeping the shelves in order.

Miss McDavid, our librarian, was always willing to lend a hand to some student seeking "extras" in a subject. The familiar ring of "quiet please" filled the library as she attempted to lessen the noise made by busily working students. Many thanks to the library staff as the spotlight shines on you.

Students constantly use the library as a place of finding resources—Joan Bennett, Ray Wiggs, Linda Haynes, and Don Seay.

The English department is the largest department at Northside High School. There are eight teachers who instruct the courses in English. All students must have five units in English for graduation.

A welcome addition to the department this year is the new series of textbooks. The teachers and students are delighted with the vivid, colorful illustrations and explanations given in them.

The emphasis is placed on the written and spoken word. In writing, there are sentences, paragraphs, themes, letters, poetry, vocabularies, and other types of prose. In speaking, there are oral reports, panels, discussions, and book reviews to develop poise and expression.

Senior English classes are organized for the first time this year and seek to stress the writing of research papers and themes in order to prepare the collegebound student for his future work.

Students learn by doing—result Junior play "Stage Door." Result of drama through classes.

The principals of color and design, which we all learn as freshmen, form the frame upon which advanced students build, communicating imaginations and inventive ideas. Advertising, poster-making, sculpture and set-designing are among the activities of the art classes.

The music classes provide an excellent fundamental education in the underlying doctrines of good music. The rudiments of composition and arrangement theory are offered on an informative and interesting level. Students review the lives and influence of various, prominent composers as well as the history and mechanics of certain instruments.

The fine arts department has set for their aim one idea, that is to give one an idea of what composes a work of beauty, the beauty of life and its wonders.

Homemaking through practical experience is taught to enterprising young ladies of Northside who wish to increase their knowledge of domestic living.

This extensive training Home Economics presents, adds to the students' freedom of choice, not only in the problems of home life, but also in encounters with the business of planning well, buying economically, and preparing attractively.

Industrial arts, combined with mechanical drawing serves as an outlet for students to develop deeper into the fundamentals of business and domestic fundamentals.

The industrial arts department instructs the students in such a manner so as to prepare them to take their place in an industrial society, so that they may make a worth-while contribution to that society as adults.

Kitty Parker and Ann Porter finished up special cooking problems while they were enrolled in Home Economics II. Across the hall the photographer observed Tom Carper who just finished up a drawing in industrial arts class.

With added emphasis being placed on the physical fitness of American youth, the physical education department of Northside High has strengthened its course.

Repeatedly the importance of a strong and vital nation—of a physically fit young America has been stressed. As a result, more stress is being placed as one exercises and contact sports which help to develop a keen sense of coordination and a spirit of teamwork.

This department challenges each student's mind, ability, and skill; perfection is never reached, yet the attempts are rewarding and widening to the students' perceptive.

Science at Northside has kept abreast of new developments. This has been done through the introduction of revised textbooks, intensified observation of laboratory procedures and techniques, and an awareness by the students of the role they will play in this modern world in which science has such a prominent place.

This department hopes to broaden the knowledge of students in the principles of biology, chemistry, and physics—the latter being an addition to the department.

Sparks of interest stem from this department as many students further their knowledge by placing exhibits in the local Science Fair. This acknowledges to the instructors the gratitude of students for the many extra hours of work and planning which go to make the study of nature and its forms fascinating.

In the business department of Northside High, provisions are made for the student who anticipates a career in the business world. Other than the electric typewriters and manuals, students are trained in the fundamental use of adding, mimeograph, and dictation machines.

Enabling these future business workers to improve their abilities in typing and stenography, the department administers various tests which further the adeptness of students in these practices.

In order to become acquainted with the routine office techniques, senior students participated in the newly inducted Vocational Office Training program. This placed those qualifying students as job trainees in the local firms. This provides a basic understanding of the practices and procedures that are necessary to any citizen in our economic society.

New course in the business department was office practice procedures. Mrs. Penturff shows Jessica Miller procedures as Miss Amos looks on.

Salve! Bonjour! Hola! These are among the many greetings of Northside High linguists.

From the students of Latin I to those of Latin III, the Roman language has again come alive. This is exemplified in the varied activities of our Sodalitas Latina.

Spanish students find themselves amidst a romantic setting in historic Mexico, as they dive deeper into the traditions and customs this language so well relates.

French students represent the language department with their newly acquired poetic tongue. The La Massue de Francasis represents a continuing desire to learn more of the French nation, one which continues to create a picture of beauty and love.

exploring the part for the future SOCIAL STUDIES

The story of humanity, past and current, is presented to students through the social studies department. A deeper understanding of the effects of physical environment, society, and economic pressures upon man is stressed in this department.

Man, influenced by the natural features of the earth, is studied in geography; whereas world history traces the human race from its primitive origin to its present maturity in the modern world. Seniors analyze the many problems confronting our nation in the newly inducted government class. Each of the various phases of social studies dwell into world affairs and the study of human customs and their changes.

So vital is the knowledge of the study of man, that the courses for all students touch upon some aspect of social studies.

cheerful SERVICES around the clock

Each weekday the cafeteria meals are served by our diligent ladies of the kitchen who prepare a variety of nutritious lunches. By their earnest work and planning each lunch presents a tasty and diversified midday meal.

As any student can verify this menu is typical of a week at Northside:

- Monday—Hot dogs
- Tuesday—Meat loaf
- Wednesday—Spaghetti
- Thursday—Chili beans
- Friday—"Sloppy Joe's"

And as a special treat—we could always expect turkey or ham for holidays.

Lights up, as we salute the cafeteria workers..

Credit for making the halls and grounds of NHS "the cleanest in the area" goes to the Custodial Staff who are constantly on the job cleaning, polishing, and repairing. These faithful few continue year 'round in their attempt to keep order in the "school plant." Friends to students, as well as custodians, they are ever willing to aid with those trivial problems of our high school days.

Without them what would we do when:

- lockers jam?
- door locks break?
- pencil sharpeners grow dull?
- soap gets slack?
- towels disappear?

Custodians, with many thanks—we turn our spotlight on you . . .

his year's cast has shown superb ability, both in scholastic attainment and extra-curricular activities, and because of this, our production is a success.

The stars, our Seniors, were the foremost actors, but now must bow out as the curtain closes for the last time in front of them.

The co-stars, Juniors, eagerly look forward to next year's performance.

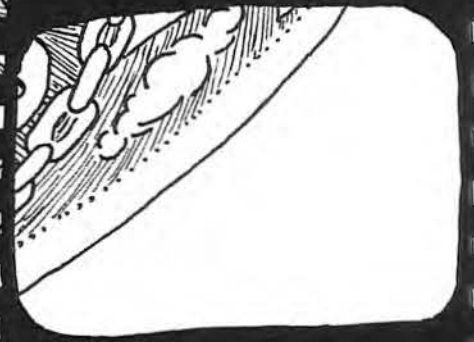

The supporting cast, known as Sophomores, while in the background of our drama have shown outstanding talent.

The understudies, or Freshmen, look forward to a greater participation in the filming.

The ingenues, our eighth grade corp, wait to learn the scrip and to take a few bows.

These characters have endeavored to present a colorful and realistic drama in "North by Southview," one which spotlights this year with pride.

senior personalities . . .

Senior class advisers for the first graduating class were Miss Marshall, Mr. Setzer, and Mr. Passan. They pause for refreshing lift before going in for practice with seniors on commencement exercises.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

A goal is reached, a milestone passed. We have come to the turning point of our lives. We are about to enter a world in which we may be accepted or rejected as individuals, depending on whether or not we use our new-found freedom to develop as mature adults.

Throughout high school, this has been the principal aim of our teachers—to prepare us to enter and become useful members of a Christian society, traveling to the highest summits possible.

Thoughtfully we ponder on our Northside years; they were difficult and trying times, as we had the responsibility to lay the corner stones upon which Northside must grow. The Senior Class was the first in many traditional activities such as: receiving the glistening class rings, producing a class play, attending the Junior-Senior Prom, and finally being graduated. These set 1962-63 apart from the years to follow.

Our years at Northside have been filled with events which will shape our lives. The happy times, the disappointments, the discoveries, the traditions—all these provide the raw material with which we will work.

Phil Catron in our classes was a very studious student and one to whom we wish much success through his life.

Sandra Richardson and Jerry Barnett were on the committee for senior rings. They spent many afternoons in connection with senior rings with Mr. Robertson.

The class rings were well-accepted and each member will cherish it with his days at Northside.

Mary Hinman and Joan Bennett see what "things" look like from the roof of NHS.

Senior Class Officers: Diane Dixon, Treasurer; John McAfee, Reporter; L. E. Wertz, Vice President; Jeanne Bayse, Secretary; Phil Catron, President; Mr. Setzer.

 L. E. WERTZ CAROL JONES ..... are named 1963 typical seniors
 by senior classmates

L. E. Wertz and Carol Jones were voted as being "typical seniors" of our first graduating class.

SPECIAL FEATURE Senior Wheels

The North Star staff, as a special feature, is presenting in the senior section our first feature of superlatives—Senior Wheels. These categories are: Typical Senior, Most Talented, Most Dependable, Most Athletic, Most Likely to Succeed, Most School Spirit, Best All Around, Best Looking, Best Personality, Friendliest, Wittiest, The Thinkers, and Cutie Pies.

The nominations were made by the staff and presented to the senior class for approval and the addition of other senior names. Seniors voted for only one boy and one girl for each category.

Don't you think that a good representation has been chosen to represent the 1963 graduating class?

CLASS OF 1964

As we collect and record each high school memory, you, the Junior Class, will certainly be an outstanding part. You have become accustomed to life at NHS and have worked zealously to improve the school. As you concentrate on being upperclassmen at last, the frolicty of former years was left behind, and you began to seriously realize your responsibilities.

The Class of 1964 entertained the Senior Class royally with a prom, complete with the latest ideas in parties. The Seniors knew afterwards that the Juniors had left no stones unturned to find ways to give them the most memorable and up-to-date occasion that could be had.

The school is proud of the Class of 1964 and the records they are seeking to uphold, which the Senior Class has endeavored to set. The hope of every Junior is that his Senior year will prove to be as worth while and as commendable in all respects as the years past at Northside High School.

Junior class sponsors Mr. Orr and Mrs. Henderson check the club schedule in making plans for a meeting with the classes.

CLASS OF 1965

Sophomores study during one out of the seven class periods. Some of the study halls were held in the cafeteria due to limited space.

We, the Supporting Cast, assemble at Northside every morning to begin our daily performance. We are now half-way through our dramatic training and eagerly look forward to stardom. Although our roles, are minor, without us the play could not go on.

Now that we are actually on the stage, we realize that these last three years of our play will be the most memorable. We were the first class to enter Northside as ingenious and will be the first to graduate as a straight eighth through twelfth grade class. Anxiously we look ahead to the coming years when we will have better billing.

Sophomores enjoyed assemblies as the remainder of the student body shares this experience too—Mr.

Baird, organist, from Southeast School Assemblies—one of our favorite assemblies.

Miss McElrath and Sally Minnick are caught by the photographer working diligently on this publication as part of extras in school.

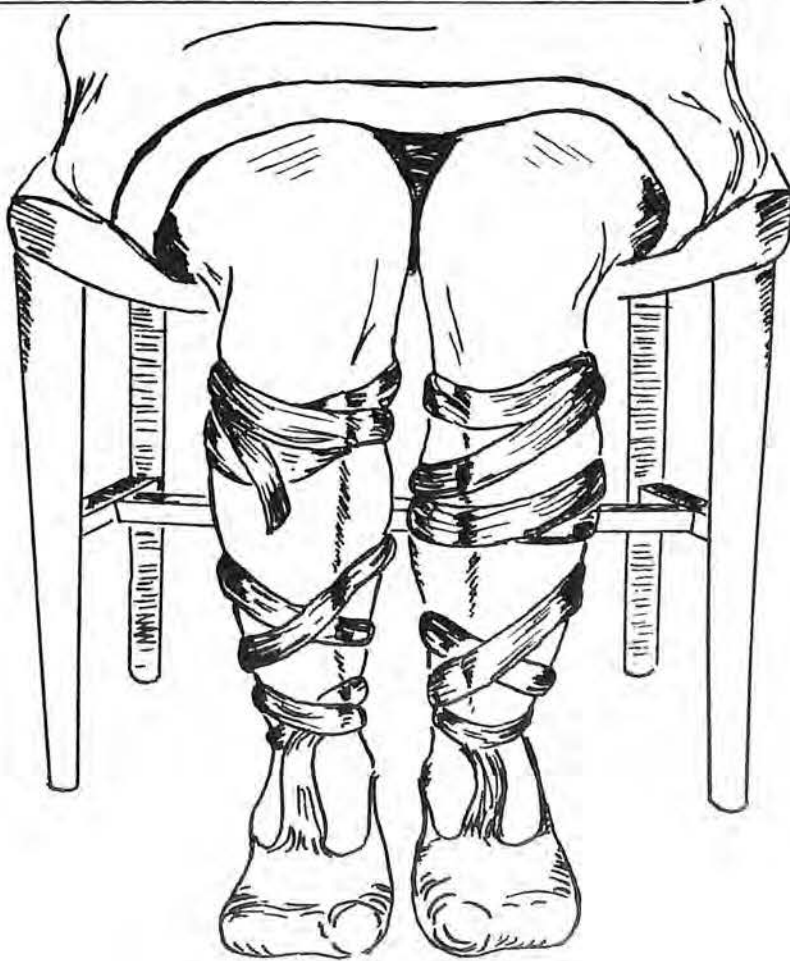

rganizations are our mainstay, for without their help our play could not go on. Lights, camera, and action are all expertly furnished by our groups which work faithfully in order to secure an excellent rating for our production. Most of this work is seldom recognized, but sometimes we take the lead when we sponsor hops, dances, and assemblies, to the delight of the other students. Before the lights go on and during the filming, our groups are scurrying to have everything ready for the big production—"North by Southview." And so we go on to highlight this year's CO-CURRICULAR.

Miss McElrath examines film used for this edition of the North Star.

This year saw the North Star Staff choosing their 1963 theme—NORTH BY SOUTHVIEW. We decided upon the film idea because it seemed to best present the many features here at Northside. The staff felt the school events could best be covered in this way.

The student body and staff voted for the spring edition which involved early preparation in the summer of 1962 in order to complete the layout. The staff has worked diligently every Tuesday and Saturday during the first semester to complete the layout and to bring the book which holds many fond memories for the school year 1962-1963.

We feel that we have been very active in our participation in school functions in many ways. First, we sent co-layout editor, Sally Minnich, to Southern Illinois University for a course in journalism. She brought back many interesting layout ideas as well as new enthusiasm for the staff. Secondly, we sponsored our annual event of the dance in honor of the seven MISS NORTH STAR finalists—the theme was "Autumn Stroll." Thirdly, ten members of the staff accompanied Miss McElrath to the DELMAR plant in Charlotte where we saw pages for the 1962 NORTH STAR in preparation to be run off on the press. We had a five-hour tour and talk with the director of publications; and procedures that we viewed have made this 1963 edition more workable and more understandable with the printers in connection with reproduction.

The staff can also say that we enjoyed working on this edition and in March we held a banquet and presented annual staff pins to members who had earned the necessary number of hours on this publication. Senior members would like to express, at this writing, their sad departure in leaving the staff and the work with the other staff members.

Leading our student body is our important organization known as the Student Cooperative Association. The S.C.A. strives for: (1) its council to act as the governing body over the student body; (2) to aid in production of assembly programs and preside over such programs; (3) to set up and enforce rules concerning the formation and activities of school clubs; (4) to keep the grounds and building of Northside as clean and attractive as possible; and (5) to settle student-faculty difficulties.

Some of our activities for this school session include delegates who attended the summer work shop held at Radford College. Also, members attended the district meeting on October 13 and the Virginia High School Forum in Richmond this year. Members of the S.C.A. were guides for PTA functions, college day, and for special tours concerning our school. The S.C.A. has worked toward getting a foreign exchange student for next year and we sponsored the collection of food, toys, and clothes for the white baskets at Christmas time. We also emphasize safety here at NHS through day to day activities; and finally one of our main functions was to sponsor and set up a pep committee which chartered buses and transportation to games away from Northside so that students could attend out-of-town games more easily.

The Northside Chapter of the National Honor Society, formed in 1961, has been limited to its activities because of getting the necessary charter and organization toward establishing the new chapter. One of our first activities was the school assembly for the induction of the members in which a neighboring school took part. We participated this year in the college day program held in October to help as guides and other needed matters. At the beginning of this school year, we inducted fifteen new members. Our aim and purposes are to create an enthusiasm for scholarship; to stimulate a desire to render service; to promote leadership; and to develop character. Requirements for members are academic excellency, outstanding character, leadership, and service. Members are chosen from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes, and selected by a faculty committee.

The "North Winds" staff is dedicated to the compiling and publishing of news, both factual and feature, for the students of our school.

To fulfill this goal and obligation, we tried to present a paper aimed at every interest group among our readers.

One definite part of our news coverage, the honor roll, provides an incentive for better academic achievement in the student body.

The staff enlarged the size of the publication at the beginning of the school year, thus increasing news space, added new features, and expanded the sports coverage.

Members of the organization attended the Southern Interscholastic Press Association Convention at Washington and Lee University in April to keep abreast of the latest concepts in newspaper publishing.

With the aid of regional and local workshops, the members developed proper techniques in writing and layout to produce a more pleasing newspaper.

Editorial and Business staff look over papers to be submitted to judges for rating at a journalistic convention. They are: Sarah Wohlford, FEATURE CO-EDITOR; Jerry Worley, SPORT EDITOR; Mildred Moore, CIRCULATION MANAGER; Ken Middleton, EDITOR; Carolyn Moomaw, BUSINESS MANAGER; and Carol Jones, CLUB EDITOR.

The Key Club has as its sponsor, assistant principal, Mr. Passan. Members this year planted new shrubbery around the school in order to improve the grounds. We sold drinks at football games as a money-raising project and members attended the Key Club convention held in Roanoke.

One of our main projects is to compile, print, and sell the student directory or handbooks at the beginning of each school year. We also help in financing landscaping projects for our school. As you can see by our purposes, we try to be useful citizens to our community and school. Our purposes are: 1. to develop initiative and leadership; 2. to provide experience in living and working together; 3. to serve the school and community; 4. to cooperate with the school principal; and, 5. to prepare for useful citizenship.

FHA prepared students for homemaking while serving school

The activities and work for this year were devoted to two national objectives: discovering ourselves and our worth to others, and launching good citizenship through good homemaking. State projects selected were: 1. You and Your Values; 2. Action for Citizenship. Members viewed various films on "You and Your Values" as well as listening to speakers and various panel discussions. We observed here at Northside, National FHA week and helped serve at various school functions such as PTA functions.

The Northside chapter was represented at fall and spring federation meetings and also at the state convention. Miss Terry and Marsha Bohn, President, attended the state convention held at Fort Monroe, Virginia, on June 11-14, 1962. We think we have accomplished our purposes this year which were: 1. To help preserve the ideals of home life; 2. to learn to work together in a group for the common good; 3. to promote a program of state and community service; 4. to develop initiative and leadership; 5. to develop a wholesome type of recreation.

Miss Terry helped officers decide on types of fabrics that are best for them: They are Nancy Brawner, SEC.; Linda Swain, REPORTER; Kathy Catron, V. PRES.; Linda Neal, HIST.; Marsha Bohn, PRES.; Ann Griggs, TREAS.; and Carol Hancock, PARL.

Poly-Facets is the dramatics organization here at Northside which is in its second year of existence. We have as our purposes to better inform students and the community of drama and the forensics; to broaden the knowledge in this field and to build character, personality, and responsibility. Of course, we are organized to entertain and to provide an outline for students with talent, and our final purpose is to increase cultural aspects in the community. We had a play entitled, THE TWELVE POUND LOOK, which won a distinguished rating at the district play festival and the same play won distinguished at the state play festival. We helped with the production of the Junior Class Play in May, 1962, STAGE DOOR; and we produced the Senior Class Play in January, 1963, entitled YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU. An outstanding student in drama, Mary Van Lear, won distinguished in the district forensic meet in which she won a prose selection. Our play this past spring, 1963, A PHOENIX TO FREQUENT, won outstanding ratings at the festival.

All in all, the Poly-Facets think that they have had a very successful year with our productions.

Our organization is concerned with those students who are interested in becoming possible future teachers and who will enter college in preparation for this profession.

Here at Northside, members were selected to teach classes for teachers who were ill or who were absent because of attending conventions. This was an experimental program and many of the students who participated actually for the view from a teacher's stand point and as a result, three members of the graduating class and members of FTA will go on to college to become teachers. Members also attended the Future Teachers of America convention in December. We believe through being a member of FTA, we can bring about a closer relationship between the teacher and student. We also enjoy various activities given for good fellowship.

The Northside High School chapter of the FBLA was very active this year. We presented as a special attraction, a variety show in order to raise funds to carry on projects.

At Christmas time, the chapter entertained the polio-stricken children with a program and presented them with gifts; on December 15, the chapter members and their dates had a Christmas banquet at Traveltown. After the banquet, many members enjoyed the falls and tumbles that come with ice skating.

As a highlight, we presented our annual dance known as "Mardi Gras" and the first graduating class was honored by our dance given especially for them.

Paula Larson was elected Radford Regional President and presided at the workshop held in November 1962 and the Radford Regional Convention held in Radford College in March. She also was a state Vice President representing the Radford region and she attended the state convention at Richmond. Member Anne Early was appointed by Regional President and local chapter president as the Corresponding Secretary. As one of our projects, we held a special assembly on "Senior Dress Right Week" and also we distributed a specially compiled booklet on dress, personality, and character traits.

The Viking Discoverers club was divided into four groups which were based on student interest. These groups were:

- Ham Radio
- Astronomy
- Plant and Animal
- Parapsychology

Each group met and made their plans for the year for the projects and things of interest that they wanted to carry out. Some of the interests in these groups were:

Ham Radio

1. Sponsor free lessons in radio-telegraphy code
2. Buy ham radio receiver for the school

Astronomy

1. Plan a systematic study of our galaxy
2. Meet with astronomy groups from other schools
3. Start saving money for a 6" reflector telescope

Parapsychology

1. Experimentation of the visual activities of various animals
2. Experimentation on the running of mazes by various animals
3. Study of the effect of various chemicals on the development of tadpoles.

Plant and Animal Group

1. Plant flowers around school
2. Buy animal cage
3. Do a genetic study with guinea pigs

We sponsored many school activities including hops, field trips, tours to colleges. One that all of us enjoyed was our barbeque and hike up Tinker Mountain.

The club was very capably assisted by three sponsors: Miss Henderson, Miss Johnson, and Miss Lilly.

student magazine is published by CREATIVE WRITING CLUB

This makes the second school session for our club to be in existence. Members are composed of those who are interested in free expression of writing and we have as our purposes to interest other members of the student body in the creative arts; to provide Northside High School with a literary magazine, "As You Like It;" and to provide for its members proper literary criticism and instruction. We submitted our book to the Virginia High School League for competition with other high school magazines.

GAA scores on tournaments

practice schedule and activity notes

Girl's sport activities included exercises, learning new techniques, and activities, not scheduled in class work.

Schedule is not printed in this yearbook because activities were not complete upon the printing date. GAA members are provided a space for these.

Up one, two, three, down one, two, three—push-ups seemed rather difficult.

This is the third year for the organization as an extra-curricular activity in the Girls Athletic Association. The GAA has as its purposes: 1. to sponsor all-around intramural programs in athletics for all girls at Northside; 2. to create and develop interests in the welfare of others; 3. to create and develop proper ideals and attitudes; 4. to create and develop wholesome recreation; 5. to create and develop proper spirit in victory and defeat; 6. to create good character in leadership; 7. to provide recognition for athletic ability and efforts. Activities for this year were tournaments in hall ball, volley ball, and basketball. Recognition was given to members at the banquet in May for athletic abilities. We sponsored a faculty and student basketball game to raise money for the stadium and to purchase various needed equipment for our intramural programs. We also participated in extra mural play day with other schools in the county.

Our motto is: GAA girls are alert, active, and ambitious.

The Sodolitas Latina is an organization for the students who are taking Latin. It was organized into a social unit in which the members could better become acquainted with each other and other devotees of the classics. It also enabled members to consider at leisure the more interesting fazes of Greek and Roman life and customs. Through the many activities of banquets, get-togethers, and other planned activities, it is hoped that it may prove the value of the study of Latin here at Northside.

strived to uphold christian ideals

Hi-Y was formed in the school year 1961-62 and elected Roger Fore as president. Mr. Orr acted as adviser to the group. Our club has not been active in school. It has tried to maintain the motto of clean speech, clean scholarship, clean sportsmanship, and clean living. It is our aim to maintain good Christian character in the home and community.

The Y-TEENS has as its advisors, Mrs. Porter and Miss Peters. We cooperated with the teenage programs of the YWCA and we try to promote world fellowship. We also try to develop Christian ideals in our personal and social living.

In the fall, the Y-Teens held two bake sales and we sponsored a hop after our first home basketball game. In the spring we honored five girls who were outstanding in their participation in their Y-Teen activities. During the year, we participated in activities in central YWCA. These included the hanging of the greens and the get-acquainted parties and fun nights.

To stimulate interest in art, the new art club was formed — LES ARTISTES. The two faculty sponsors for this organization were Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Porter. With their efforts, we hope to provide extra art activities other than in class.

To begin the year we visited neighboring art departments in schools and colleges nearby, and one of our main projects was to design Christmas cards which were placed on sale for various interested individuals to purchase. Many of our individual paintings were exhibited at the Fine Arts Center in Roanoke, Virginia.

As a special project we submitted paintings in the Junior Red Cross exhibit which is sent around the world. We give credit to our emblem as designed by Don West, and we stress our motto as art creates pleasure.

The Projection Club at Northside is a service organization under the supervision of Mr. Yates. President, Bob Henderson was very cooperative with faculty members and other groups who needed to use special equipment either in dramatics or as supplementary teaching materials. We also promoted education through audiovisual equipment and we saw that equipment was kept in good condition and tried to lengthen the life of equipment through its use. It was with these daily services that we learned special audiovisual techniques.

Assigned members checked the chart on the main office bulletin board each morning and distributed the needed materials to the classrooms.

We also help through our selling projects to buy sport uniforms, and we gave money to the library to buy needed books. All of our members are active in at least two sports. The Cube Roots were formed because of the interest shown in math and to further the understanding of mathematics. We are a new organization for this school year and encourage projects in the school science fair in the county. We will learn more math through prepared programs, tours, and field trips. As a result, we have toured IBM in Roanoke. We held a special math week, and we decorated a Christmas tree with geometrical figures. We submitted projects to the science fair.

To stimulate interest in mathematics we displayed bulletin boards throughout the math rooms and we offered a tutoring service for math. Our sponsors conducted a special class after school in slide rule. Our club is composed of interested members, and we hope to grow with the remainder of the years to come.

This mathematics club for the lower grades was formed this year and named The Square Roots. Our purposes are to cultivate a mathematical interest of the students; appreciation of values and beauties of the subject; responsibility to help students and teachers; pass mathematical interest to other students and to recognize mathematical achievement of the members.

We also presented projects in the science fair this year and we assisted other students and mathematics teachers at Northside. We also made mathematical models for classroom use and studied a particular unit and we invited guest speakers and took several field trips.

We also participated and assisted with the Northside and Roanoke County Science fairs.

The choir at Northside this year was divided into two groups: Girls Chorus and Mixed Chorus. We sang at various churches located in Roanoke and Salem area. We also present the annual concert at Christmas time at N.H.S.

One of our main attractions at Northside was the District Six Festival held here with some forty choirs represented. We were very proud to have five participants in All-State Choir. They are: Galen Plunkett, Rosemary Withers, Carolyn Miller, Carolyn Moomaw and Nancy Spraker.

Under the direction of Mr. Briggs who inspired us and encouraged us through each selection, we, the choir members, give our thanks for his talents and effects.

they participated at public functions

Marching, lots of practice, ensemble practices and much effect is the result of our band here at Northside. The band is divided into two features, marching and concert. This year special attention was given to ensembles which were brass, woodwind, and our dance band.

We performed in the All-Southeastern Marching Band Festival at Bristol, Tenn. and received a rating of excellent in group "B" Bands. Any member of the band is eligible to tryout for District Six All-State Bands—(symphonic or concert) which were held on December 8. Like all other organizations with school participation we were represented in various parades in Salem and Roanoke and we had a T.V. appearance on Channel 10 on (Profile.) We can say that we boosted school spirit because we were present at football games and to put on half-time shows.

We have as our motto; "Perfection is made up of trifles, but perfection itself is no trifle"!

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Always present with school spirit were our Varsity cheerleaders who led the sports activities and supported each and every game with their vitality and enthusiasm. Captain, Pat Gravely and co-captain, Sandra Richardson, worked hard to promote school spirit. The Cheerleaders were noted this year for having special bulletin boards, badges, pep rallies, and various money-raising projects.

"V.C.'s" were under the leadership of Mrs. Henderson who worked with the girls after school and who worked with the girls on new cheers. As is customary, the Varsity cheerleaders have tryouts and they must maintain a "C" average.

Our ever-faithful J. V. cheerleaders were: Anna Palma—Co-captain, Rosemary Hash—Captain, Katie Harless, Glenna Howery, Robin Sarver, Janie Arthur, Carolyn Howell, Rosemary King, and Patty Simmons.

J.V. CHEERLEADERS

Our J.V. cheerleaders were always willing and enthusiastic because they were chosen as a trainee team to support the J.V. activities and which lead the many crowds that attended all J.V. activities. Head Captain for the '62-'63 season was Rosemary Hash and working with her was Co-captain Anna Palma. These girls have the same purpose and standards as the Varsity girls. They held many money-raising projects and in the spring after-school sessions will be taken up to train new prospects for a new session. As you can see, the girls had to withstand all weather conditions to boost our boys.

NHS will long remember these girls with their spirit and winning smile.

Life as a high school student is not all work and no play, for as we recall the year past, we find that it was surrounded with a realm of gala events each of us hold dear.

The uniqueness of 1962-1963 was that Northside featured its first graduating class, which in itself brought many new opportunities to us all.

As time progressed and we got under way with the school curriculum, the North Star Staff sponsored the annual "Miss North Star Contest"; the seven finalists being announced at a fall semi-formal centered about the theme "Autumn Stroll." Aside from this contest, Christmas brought the selecting of "Snow Queen" candidates, "Holly Court" representatives and the formal initiation of winter with the Christmas Dance.

Spring came with a whirl of color and gaiety, as more dances approached, Easter peeped up from nowhere, and that final graduation day anxiously awaited by the Seniors.

The highlights of the entire year were the long awaited Senior activities, such as receiving rings, talent shows, honor days, the ever so longed for Junior-Senior Prom, and especially Commencement.

This portion of our filming was full of fond memories and laughter, color, and excitement, which we will always hold dear; which we now proudly spotlight as . . .

President John F. Kennedy is newsmaker of the Year for the third straight year. The President made the most news in 1962 on the two occasions he got tough—with Russia and with the steel industry. Faced with evidence that Russia was building and equipping bases in Cuba, Kennedy's reaction was get them out or else. Russia backed down.

Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba, over whose island America and Russia had the year's biggest Cold War showdown, was chosen newsmaker of the year in foreign affairs. Castro kept Premier Mikoyan in Cuba interpreting the Russian withdrawal of missile bases. Castro demanded the evacuation of the naval base at Guantanamo, called the quarantine the act of a pirate, readied his troops for an armed American attack and upped the price for release of the Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners.

Dr. Frances Kelsey discovered the effects of the sleep-inducing drug—thalidomide.

Billie Sol Estes is out on a limb over his vast financial empire.

Secretary of Labor worked closely with the President in the steel situation.

Pope John XXIII convened the 21st Ecumenical Council at the Vatican on Oct. 11, its goal being internal church renewal.

Sonny Liston became heavy-weight champion of the world in two minutes and six seconds.

Marilyn Monroe was found dead in her bed on August 5.

John Steinbeck received the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1962, for his novel, "The Winter of Our Discontent."

Jacqueline Kennedy has been chosen woman newsmaker of the year, for the second straight year.

And finally, America lost one of its most interesting women—Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt. This was one of our greatest losses this year.

"They could have danced all night feeling" were Ralph Hurt, Hazel Lambruscatti, Sandra Brown, Mike Helvey, but taking time out for refreshments were Pat Gravely and Mike Rieley.

Lynda Sowers seems to have been caught in that mood — a world of day-dreaming. Barbara Brown and Eddie Bennett tried their turn at the twist to the music of Little Rickey and The Romans.

Enjoying themselves at special function were Mike Rieley, Doug Pence, Pat Gravely, and Sarah Wolhford.

Jerry Barnett, Sally Minnich, Kitty Parker, Jimmie Tawney.

During this school year many students have focused their minds on wonderful memories of past activities and events at Northside.

Among these memories those held high were of the annual staff and Christmas dances.

The Christmas dance announced some of N.H.S.'s fairest as the Holley Court was elected.

Everyone remembers the many football games and also the exciting basketball games. After several of these, hops were held with popular disc-jockeys from W.R.O.V. and other popular radio stations emceeding these fun-filled occasions.

All the football boys remember the swell banquet given in their honor, where Va. Tech Coach Frank Moseley entertained them with some very sound advice on their favorite passtime.

There certainly were lots of "chats" at the lockers during the school day. These were held before, after, and during class breaks. Those little "chats" let everyone catch up on who was dating who and who were the latest "steadies."

Everybody at N.H.S. has made the short but familiar journey to Yoda's at least a hundred times. The hangout where everyone could gather information about who did what, where and when.

All these things and many, many more made up another wonderful year of after 3:30 p.m. at Northside High School.

Every NHS student that had a glimpse of the good times—remembers the annual staff dance, “Autumn Stroll”—surely one of the most fun-filled evenings. The dance began at eight and ended at twelve which gave four hours filled with many wonderful memories. At this dance, given yearly by the annual staff, the seven Miss North Star contestants were announced with their escorts. They were: Sarah Wohlford escorted by Doug Pence; Diana Coffindaffer escorted by Sammy Scott; Pat Gravely escorted by Mike Rieley; Mary Van Lear escorted by Richard Spencer; Jean Mitchell escorted by Bob Nablo; Corbie Lou Craig escorted by Phil Catron; and Sally Minnich escorted by Jerry Barnett. These girls were honored by a special dance in the finest fashion of Little Ricky and the Romans.

This dance was the first semi-formal of this year. We will remember the excitement as it was time to announce the finalists. The capable organization of the chairman, Nancy Palma, with much work—we, the staff give our sincere appreciation.

Members of the staff decorate for the dance: Martha Nolen, Katie Kelly, Galen Plunkett, Donna Sweeney, Joan Bennett, and Sherrie Sherwood.

Nancy Palma and Miss McElrath get their free cokes at the dance.

THE fifth act of our production was one of action as athletics played an important role in Northside High School's extra-curricular activities. The cast for this act was composed of students who enjoyed and partook in such sports as football, basketball, track, and now as a newly added feature—wrestling.

Fall brought the victory cries of football fans who filled the stands cheering our Viking team. Then came the echos of yells resounded through the gym as our basketball team "shot" for another win. At a basketball revue we saw that the empty Varsity director's chair left by the beloved Coach Mussleman has been filled by "rookie" Coach Jim Gallion. Side by side with basketball we have added wrestling, which proved to be rated top with the box office. Yes, Coach Ken Shelton gave a boost to Northside athletics with his wrestling team. Spring brought another season for the track team led by Captain Mike Duffy and coached by faithful Ralph Isbell.

In all these athletic events good sportsmanship, co-operation and fellowship has been shown. Win or lose we were ever ready to cheer our team on. The spirit, stamina, and will to win shown in this act make us proud to turn the spotlight on . . .

conditions during the season

Coach Johnston and Coach Pederson inspect uniforms before game time.

In the fall, our football team made its season's debut. Proudly, win or lose, we cheered the players on. The competition was tough as our now Senior Varsity Players moved into the 1-B Blue Ridge District. As the season neared its finale, honors were given the Viking team; our husky Captain Ray Meador and fast-moving Back Jesse Perdue were named its Most Valuable Players. Football is all American, and a sport Northside played well.

First string contenders in Northside's starting line-up were:

- Left End—J. D. Via
- Left Tackle—Phil Catron
- Left Guard—Dennis Mongan
- Left Center—Fred King
- Right Guard—James Stanley
- Right Tackle—Ray Meador
- Right End—Dean Sutherland
- Quarterback—Mike Rieley
- Halfback—Jesse Perdue
- Halfback—Mike Duffy
- Fullback—L. E. Wertz

In each game we found these boys earnestly attempting to reach the victory goal for Northside. Upon graduation many of these and other top players will be leaving the football squad; but new co-captains Fred King and Mike Duffy are sure to bring victories to Northside and close the lapse left by parting players.

J.V. squad consisted of: T. Sutherland, R. Shockley, R. Walls, B. Epperley, R. Childress, P. Bradford, J. Wertz, D. Donnie, P. Trout, W. Ferris, R. Thomas, J. Thomas, E. Trammell, D. Brammer, D. Seay, D. Meyers, R. Byrd, D. Nemeth, T. Taylor, M. Sloane, S. Davidson, C. Wertz, R. Stafford, D. Vaughn, S. Parker, J. Barber.

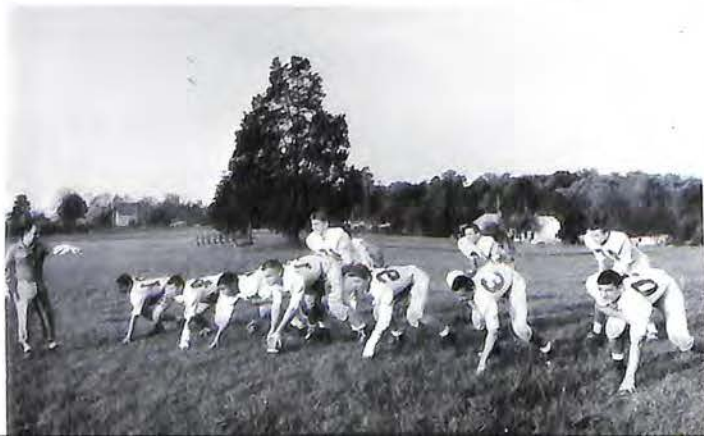

Every young man who tackled the football bug had to begin with hard work and determination.

The season began early with rigid exercises, planned plays and competition for positions. Every player sought the job which he considered himself most apt to fill well. The training programs began with concentrated practice on difficult plays. As the actual game season approached, each player entered with the skill and that desire to win which would enable him to reach the game goal of bringing honors to the Viking name. These boys worked toward the day when they would join their Viking brothers on the Varsity squad.

our main goal is to promote good sportsmanship

team, lots of practice equal VARSITY BASKETBALL

In the next scene, the walls of our new gym resound to the basketball teams fast action and our cries for victory. Basketball season brought on many new experiences with our new Coach Jim Gallion putting forth his best as the Vikings rose upward. Basketball proved to be rewarding and fulfilling as Coach and players learned together the difficulties of a new district. Yes, our Vikings played well the "round ball" game. Northside lost its better half as seven Varsity players graduated this June: Jesse Perdue, Roger Fore, Richard Spencer, Dean Sutherland, Mike Helvey, L. E. Wertz, and Tom Harris.

But the fast acting Junior Varsity boys will compensate the loss as they move up to the "big team".

J.V. Basketball team consisted of B. Gordh, D. Brammer, G. Shepherd, S. Hinchee, T. Sutherland, C. Trammell.

D. Ingram, B. Sanford, D. Stoneman, M. Kidd, S. Foutz, M. Harris.

The Junior Varsity and Freshman basketball teams are composed of lower classmen who are aspiring to membership on the Senior Varsity team next season. The team had a few chosen members of their team join the Varsity squad toward the end of this season to gain experience for the coming years.

The boys' hustle and desire to win was very evident from the beginning of the season. By seeing action on the court, boys gained valuable experience which will make them better athletes, and better sports.

Taking time out for various play procedure were D. Byrd, M. Emick, D. Kidd, M. Gauldin, E. White, M. Winston.

The boys were anxious to learn and worked with Coach Powell. Managers for the team were: A. J. Mitchell and B. Gordh.

Centers for Freshman team were: J. Harris, J. Cosmata, M. Atkinson.

new sport of WRESTLING a favorite for many

The Northside Vikings opened their first interscholastic wrestling season this year. Some 40 boys went out for the new sport. Tackling a tough 12 meet schedule the Vikings gained a very respectable showing to start the season although they lost as a team. By mid-season the Northside squad had been picked to become one of the better teams in the area and the dark horse in the Regional Tournament.

The team was composed of Varsity and preliminary wrestlers for each weight division; and, although the preliminaries do not count on the team score it does enable the boys to gain invaluable experience.

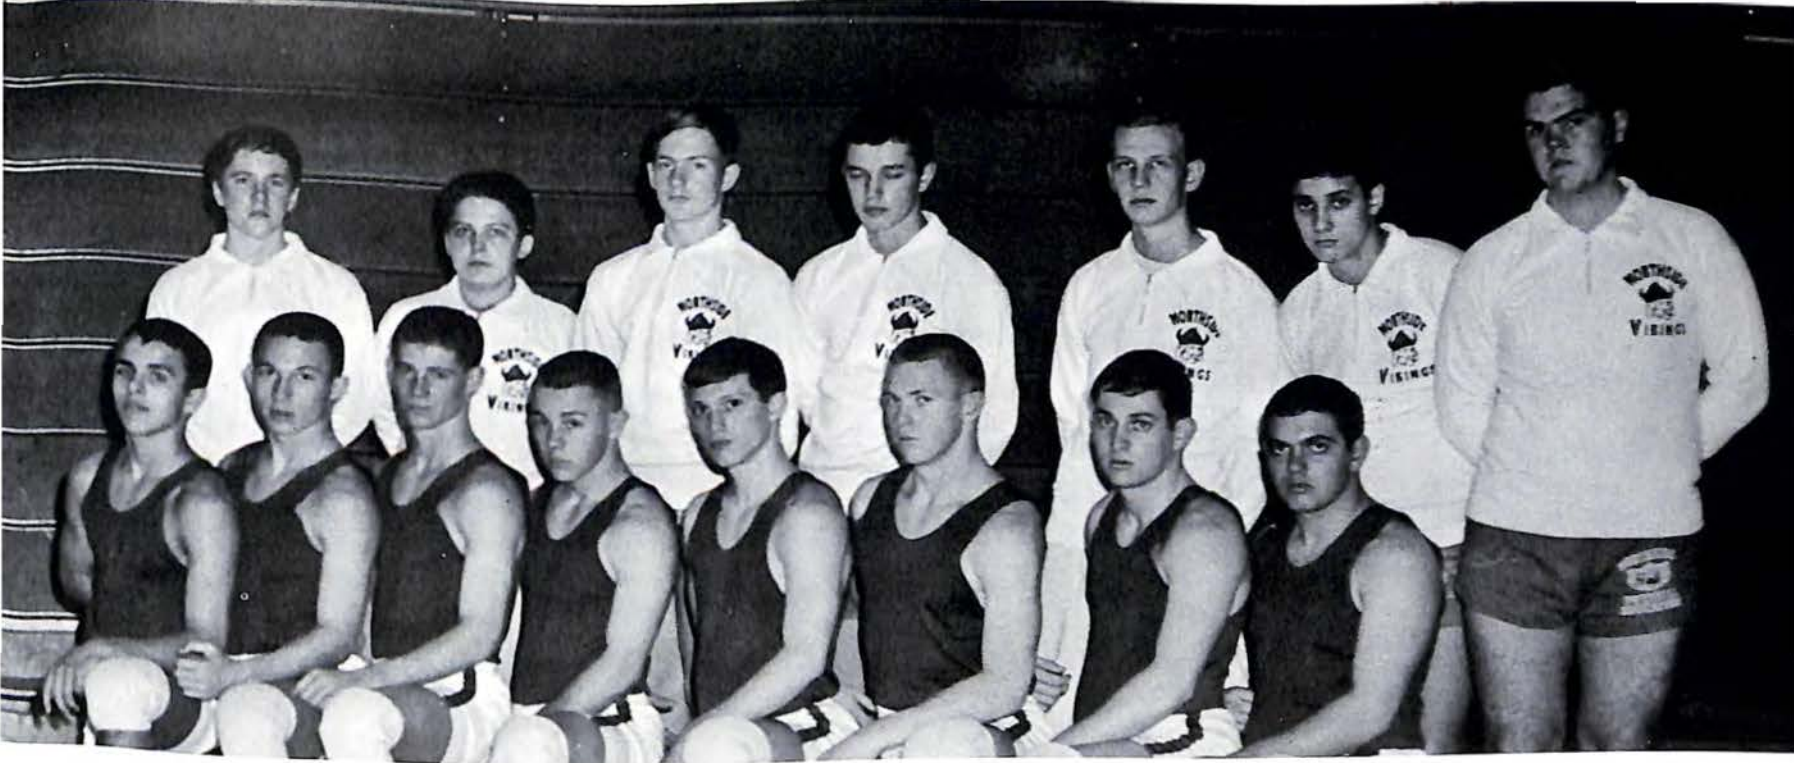

The Varsity wrestlers were led by Larry Hall, Bernard LaMay, Dickie Myers, and Bob Goodykoontz in the Lower Weights. Stand-outs in the Middle Division were Mike Duffy, Ron Childress, Stanley Parker, and Ivan Winston. In the Heavy Division we had Eddie Landrum, Dave Bayse, Phil Catron and James Stanley.

As Preliminary wrestlers, we had Roger Williams, Roy Schillings, Tommy Carr, and Henry Hungate in the Lower Weights. Jerry Wertz, Tommy Taylor, and Wesley Myers wrestle in the Middle Weights. And in the Heavy Division were Steve Davidson, Ken Kite, and Bob DeWhidt.

This new sport, Wrestling, has proved itself to be one of the more interesting. Coach Shelton and his rugged wrestlers . . .

THE MOON... and beyond!

Bright, new horizons await today's students . . . new technologies . . . new medicines . . . even the moon and whatever lies beyond.

How far today's students go in this space age depends partly on their imagination but primarily on their training. Conquering new horizons will demand more of today's graduates — more knowledge, more skills, more training and more specialization.

Our Free Enterprise system, with its high living standards, gives everyone an opportunity to "shoot for the moon" in any field. Whether or not our target is reached depends on how well trained we are to launch ourselves.

MEN OF PROGRESS

"The men most sought after today are those who have the qualities of self-reliance, courage, resourcefulness and independence of judgment that all through history have distinguished superior men from their inferiors. Business needs the contributions of men who can escape the bonds of conformity to recognize emerging new problems and offer fresh solutions. What is progress but successful adaptation to new problems and opportunities?"

The voice with a smile

Today, as always, the C&P voice with a smile is as close as "Operator" on your dial. Intelligently, cheerfully, the "Operator" handles phone calls to faraway places and intricate day-to-day problems of telephone users. Her job is interesting, important, demanding and rewarding. She's an indispensable member of our C&P communications service team.

Northside High School

April 24, 1963

Miss Reva June McElrath
Northside High School
Route 2, Box 414
Roanoke, Virginia

Dear Miss McElrath:

With heart heavy-laden this letter of good-bye is written. We remember, only three years ago, under your careful guidance, the North Star was born, calling for the formation of a new and untrained, staff. If you remember, we didn't remain unskilled long; you demonstrated, read, lectured, and willingly led us to compile an award-winning annual. We had our fun times; you always seemed to be brimming over with happiness. Difficulties also arose, but you helped us through the rough spots so that they are now forgotten.

After three years you've come to be close to each of us; you are no longer Miss McElrath, advisor, but "Miss Mac," our advisor and friend.

Those of us who are graduating are taking part of you with us. Every time a problem on the outside seems too hard to bear, we shall remember all you've taught us and carry on with a smile.

No, we can't say good-bye, for your memory will linger always; every time we turn the pages of the North Star a glimpse of our times with you will come to mind. We have been your staff, hoping only to accomplish your goals and make ourselves worth your while. Therefore, "Miss Mac," with all our love we dedicate these pages to you--hoping they may in some way express a million thanks.

Sincerely,
North Star Staff

APPRECIATION

Miss Mac and her last minute ideas!!!

Oh, for that power of concentration.

Miss Reva June McElrath

We, the students, feel that we can be proud of our accomplishments as we near the finale of this performance. We have started as ingenues and performed scene after scene on our climb to stardom. We feel a sense of gratitude to our directors, producers, and parents, who have so patiently guided us throughout our dramatic careers.

We have thoroughly enjoyed our many performances at Northside, and it is with a mixture of sadness and gladness that we must now bow out. We leave, knowing that we have obtained an excellent basis for our education, and, at the same time, we look forward with anticipation to beginning our roles in the drama of life.

We have been the characters behind those Greek masks of comedy and tragedy, as these Northside days have been combinations of emotions expressed by sadness and gladness. We have experienced victories and defeats, trying times and filling times, carefree hours and serious hours; these are typical of any high school. But somehow we feel, as our third year production has its last curtain call, that this filming will long remain broadly lit on the marquee sign of our hearts.

We, the yearbook "core" tired and saddened at this closing frame somehow feel that we have recorded this 1962-63 year especially with you in mind. Those leaving this production are Barbara Parker, Donna Sweeney, Mary Hinman, Nancy Palma, Betty Kirby, Miss McElrath, Sally Minnich, and Bonnie Bland.
