Wolverines fall into place.

Roanoke County and Salem City had operated a joint school system for many years; however, Salem City Council decided to form their own school system in 1983 when their contract expired. This decision had a dramatic effect upon both school systems and especially, upon Andrew Lewis.

Many faculty members who had been at Andrew Lewis for several years transferred to county schools in 1982 thus causing an influx of many new teachers in various subject areas.

Student enrollment at Lewis increased dramatically. Students living in Salem who had previously attended Glenvar Junior High began their seventh grade year at Lewis, comprising the largest class, 374.

Andrew Lewis Junior High, once a high school, readied for the change to middle school status, housing grades 6-8. Eight and ninth graders looked forward to attending high school, yet realized that many longtime friends would be parting schools at the end of the school year either to Salem High or Glenvar High.

The school year had been a special year, a year of growth and change, a year for falling into place.

During a pep rally, Coach Sandy Hill announces the members of the wrestling team.

New players and new coach for basketball

Dribbling and dodging, Jami Long and Christy Martin try to avoid the opposition.

Lori Stanford reaches high for the jumpball to start the game's action.

They had spirit

"They had spirit." This expression speaks for itself.

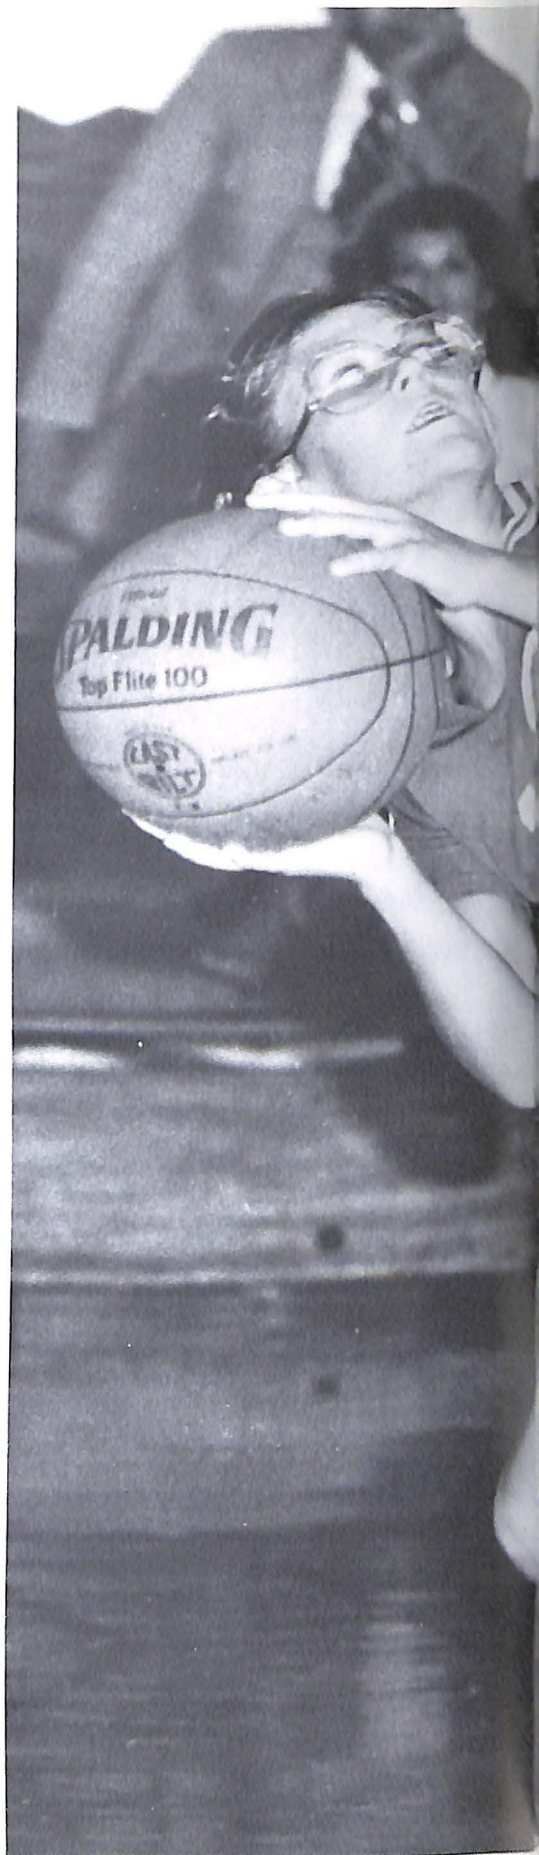

With youth and inexperience prevailing on the team, the girls got in there and gave it their all. Bouncing back time after time, they had many close decisions. The team's leading scorer and captain, Andrea Lucas, had a top game of 22 points against Northside. She was assisted by co-captains Jamie Long and Melanie Morris. Awards went to the following: most improved player — Carol Cobb, most rebounds — Andrea Lucas, most bloodpoints (steal, cause a jumpball, cause an offensive foul, etc.) — Jamie Long, coaches award — Melanie Morris. Though the team did not finish with an outstanding record, they did have SPIRIT!!!

Andrea Lucas appears stunned as the basketball drops into her hands.

Coach Leslie Unger and team anxiously await the game's outcome.

Volleyball team strives for victories.

The volleyball team was coached this year by Mrs. Mary Wright and assisted by Stacy Williams. This was Mrs. Wright's first year as head coach in volleyball after many years of coaching gymnastics. Mrs. Wright commented, "They were very inexperienced at first but as the season progressed they began to mold together."

Their season was four wins, six losses. Kara Walker received most valuable player and was elected to the district team. Leigh Ann Agee and Beth Chernault received coaches awards, and Debbie Nelson received the most improved player award.

Hot morning practices shape team.

The football season opened in Mid-August with intense two-a-day practices. The season then continued on into late October; the Wolverines won their season finale by a decisive margin beating Cave Spring, 21-0. Although they finished with a fair record, 2-3-1, their record was a misinterpretation of the team's capabilities. During the season, there was a sense of togetherness and unity within the team that made even the rough times better.

The Wolverines had three players on the All-District team: running back Frank Morris, wide receiver Kevin Phepps, and lineman Robert Vaughn. These three men along with many other great ballplayers and a fine coaching staff provided an excitement each Thursday night. Head coach Ken Erickson summed up the season by saying, "A lot of people became better football players and better individuals."

The Lewis men go for the tackle.

Wide receiver Kevin Phipps races down the field with the help of Frank Morris, John Cobb, and Randy Foley.

The Wolverine team and Coaches Yuhas, Erickson, Mosser, and Hill watch the season's final game from the sidelines. The Wolverines beat the Cave Spring Squires, 21-0.

Frank Morris (20) chases down the opposition.

At the last game, football players and their parents line the field.

Thunder in the halls

The Andrew Lewis track team began practice with hundreds of students, but only ninety team members stayed for the season. Mr. Gwaltney and Miss Unger, both new to Andrew Lewis, coached this year's team.

When the team first started practice it was too cold to run outside, so the team ran laps around the second floor halls of Lewis and practiced hurdles on the third floor. Ten laps around the second floor equalled one mile of aches and pains. After the weather warmed, the track team ran to Roanoke College. After grueling workouts, the team completed their usual routine by running back to Lewis.

Team places second in the district

The Andrew Lewis Wolverine basketball squad tooted their own horn with a second place finish in the district tournament. A consolidated effort from both players and coaches produced not only a winning season, but a season with many accomplishments. Coach Yuhas believed that everyone who participated in the program benefited. The Wolverines' vigorous defense, along with good scoring proved to be a fatal combination for many district opponents. The Wolverines team provided us with some very interesting and exciting "roundball." Mr. Mosser said that he enjoyed his first year as coach of the Wolverines. The faithful fans enjoyed the season too.

The 82-83 Andrew Lewis wrestling team, which was coached by Mr. Hill, consisted of many experienced wrestlers as well as some newcomers. After a win in the opening match against Northside the team gained confidence and a winning spirit. One of the wrestling team's most difficult matches was against William Byrd. The Wolverines were defeated, but it was a close match. With a lot of hard work and determination the team ended the season with a 3 wins, 8 losses record. The Wolverines fought diligently and managed to receive a third place ranking in the district matches.

Lewis hosts district gymnastics meet

The 1983 Andrew Lewis gymnastics team, coached by Mrs. Mary Wright and assisted by Bob Fisher, showed steady progress during the season. The Lewis gymnasts lost three meets against Hidden Valley, Cave Spring, and William Byrd, but they came back to win two meets against Northside and Franklin County.

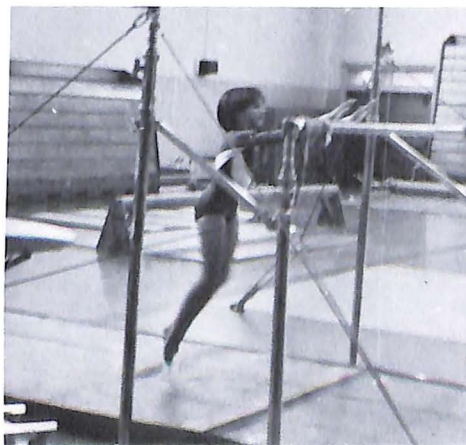

The District meet was held at Andrew Lewis on February twenty-third. Lewis competed with gymnasts from all the area junior high schools and made a creditable showing, with Lesley Hammersley placing fifth. The team had great support from the students and parents at all of their meets.

Mrs. Brookes our coach
 Held tryouts last year,
 She selected twenty-seven
 With spirit and cheer.
 We held many fund raisers
 We sweated and slaved,
 Near the end of the summer
 A small fortune was saved.
 During the summer, the practices
 Got a bit flaky,
 Our cheers were all wrong
 And our stunts were too shaky.
 We practiced lots more
 And went to camp,
 We worked out in the sun
 'Til our foreheads were damp.
 For girls' basketball and volleyball
 The eighth graders did cheer,
 And also for wrestling
 Eighth graders were busy this year!
 The ninth grade girls
 Cheered for football in fall,
 And in the winter, ninth graders cheered
 For boys' basketball!
 Before every game
 The locker room was a sight,
 With enough make-up and hairspray
 To last the whole night.
 Looking back on it all
 It's been too awesome a year,
 As we did our job
 To yell and to cheer!
 The players appreciated us
 Or so it seems,
 As we screamed our hearts out
 For the mighty WOLVERINES!

Yearbook editor, Melanie Morris, shoots on location in the ALJH halls.

Another deadline so soon??

No matter how different the year-book might have been, there was always the dreaded deadline. Sometimes this meant staying up a couple of hours past bedtime, but the satisfaction when it was all finished was well worth it.

The actual planning of the year-book started in October when staff members attended a workshop at Radford. The pace was slow at first as the "rookies" learned about crop-pers, layouts, and deadlines; as the year progressed, ideas rolled and pages began coming in.

The staff members hope you will enjoy and cherish these times that they have tried to capture for you — at least they enjoyed doing it.

Student Council Association

The S.C.A. and class officers began the school year with a baby picture contest. Teachers submitted pictures of themselves as babies, and students voted for the picture that they thought was the cutest. The S.C.A. then sponsored the annual Christmas Dance with local disc jockeys providing the music. Another activity that the students participated in was College T-shirt Day. Students voted and wore T-shirts representing their favorite college. U.Va. was the winner by a close margin. At the closing of the year the traditional Talent Show and Freshman Dance were held.

And the band played on

The Advanced and Beginning Bands contributed much to our school. The Wind Ensemble performed a Christmas program for the students along with the choir. The Advanced Band attended a festival in March where they competed with bands from all over the area. There they played three rehearsed pieces that they had practiced since the beginning of school.

The Beginning Band took an active role in the progress of our school. They gave concerts and performed at five elementary schools where they encouraged the students there to try band in their future years at Andrew Lewis.

This year 35 eighth and ninth grade band students joined the Salem High School Marching Band. Transportation was furnished to Salem High after the school day ended. The marching band practiced for 1½ hours each day. There were 8 trumpets, 6 saxaphones, 11 flutes, 3 clarinets, 2 trombones, 1 tuba, and 4 percussion, all from Andrew Lewis.

They performed at 10 football games and 4 festivals. They enjoyed the enthusiasm of the crowds and grew to love the band.

The students attended a week of band camp this past summer held at Salem High. This camp was both a harrowing and rewarding experience. All the students looked forward to future years with the "Pride of Salem."

Unified with both first and second year students, the Latin Club had a surprising fifty members. Mrs. Nancy Shaw, the Latin teacher at Andrew Lewis, was the sponsor. Elected officers included: president, Archie Pugh; vice-president, Brian Oetgen; secretary, Laura Hensley; and treasurer, Melanie Morris.

The Latin Club held a Roman banquet in the fall. Sarah Claytor, Laura Hensley, and Brian Oetgen did the production of "Rubra Cuculla" ("Little Red Riding Hood") all in Latin. Roman food was served to the members and their families. It was a great success! A Christmas party was also held at the Townclub in Salem. In the spring the annual picnic was held in Salem at Longwood Park.

The FHA program at Andrew Lewis was centered around home-making. The members served snacks they prepared to the parents at Back to School Night and provided refreshments at student honor roll parties. They also made Christmas goodies for the faculty members.

They aided the community by visiting nursing homes and nurseries. During Easter they made snacks for the elderly. They raised money for the Home Economics department to purchase tablecloths by holding bake sales.

The Andrew Lewis Chapter of National Junior Honor Society consisted of 23 members who were inducted in the spring of '82. In order to be considered for the National Honor Society a student must have completed the third nine weeks of the eighth grade. A student must have a cumulative academic average of 3.25 out of 4.0 on major subjects for the two semesters of the seventh grade, the first semester of the eighth grade, and the third nine weeks of the eighth grade to be eligible for membership. A member had to maintain a 3.25 average for each semester to continue membership in the society. Members were required to be of upstanding character and to observe all rules of the school and community. A member had to maintain a loyal school attitude and also demonstrate leadership in promoting school activities.

members visited the Veterans Hospital and helped patients make Valentines for friends and relatives. Additional trips were made to the Veterans Hospital to visit and present skits.

230 choir members and a new director

The 1982-83 choir had 230 members and a new director, Pam Elgin. The choir started the school year with a fall concert for parents and students. At Christmas, both the advanced and beginning choirs were busy performing concerts at Tanglewood Mall, various nursing homes, and the Salem elementary schools. The combined choirs finished 1982 with a Christmas concert for the PTA and the entire student body.

In the spring, both the advanced and beginning choirs presented the musical production of Teen for the Salem elementary schools and Andrew Lewis students.

The new show choir, The Lewis Singers, did many performances for social clubs and nursing homes. They also performed with the combined choirs. Members of the Lewis Singers were selected through individual audition.

22 new teachers join staff at Lewis.

This was a year of change for the faculty members at Andrew Lewis. Twenty-two new faces joined the staff in August. Teachers were not only having difficulty remembering new students' names, but fellow faculty members' names and faces as well.

For many faculty members, this was their first year teaching. Finding their way around the school building was a chore in itself. Many confused new teachers were even mistaken for students by the older staffers.

Mat maids

The Lewis wrestlers started the season with a new twist . . . six girls were added to the team as mat maids. The mat maids, Debbie Lipes, Margaret Dillon, Nancy Farris, Angie Meadows, Kristi Vernon, and Marlene Moore, were kept busy doing all kinds of jobs. When the wrestlers were thirsty, the maids were always there with orange slices and water bottles. They also straightened and cleaned the mats. Most of all, they gave their support for the team by yelling for the Wolverines.

Seed stomping fun

Science class students at ALJH collected dogwood seeds for an exchange program with Japan. The National Arboretum in Washington D.C., organized a nation wide drive to collect a million seeds in exchange for the same amount of Japanese cherry tree seeds. The cherry trees were to be planted throughout the United States. Soaking the fruit proved such a complicated process, the students had more success and fun stomping the red pulp off to free the seeds. The students collected more than 200,000 seeds.

A mysterious big foot stomps the red pulp to free dogwood seeds.

Audrey Gillespie counts and allows the dogwood berries to dry before shipment to Japan.

As time goes by . . .

Beverly Puch, Jennifer Riley, Andrea Lucas, Teresa Moles, Kim Beverly, Sally Logan, Kelly Goodwin, and Dena Reid clowning at the b-ball game.

Shelley Archer heads home on the bus after another day at school.

Mr. Leonard Butler and his staff keep our school spotless.

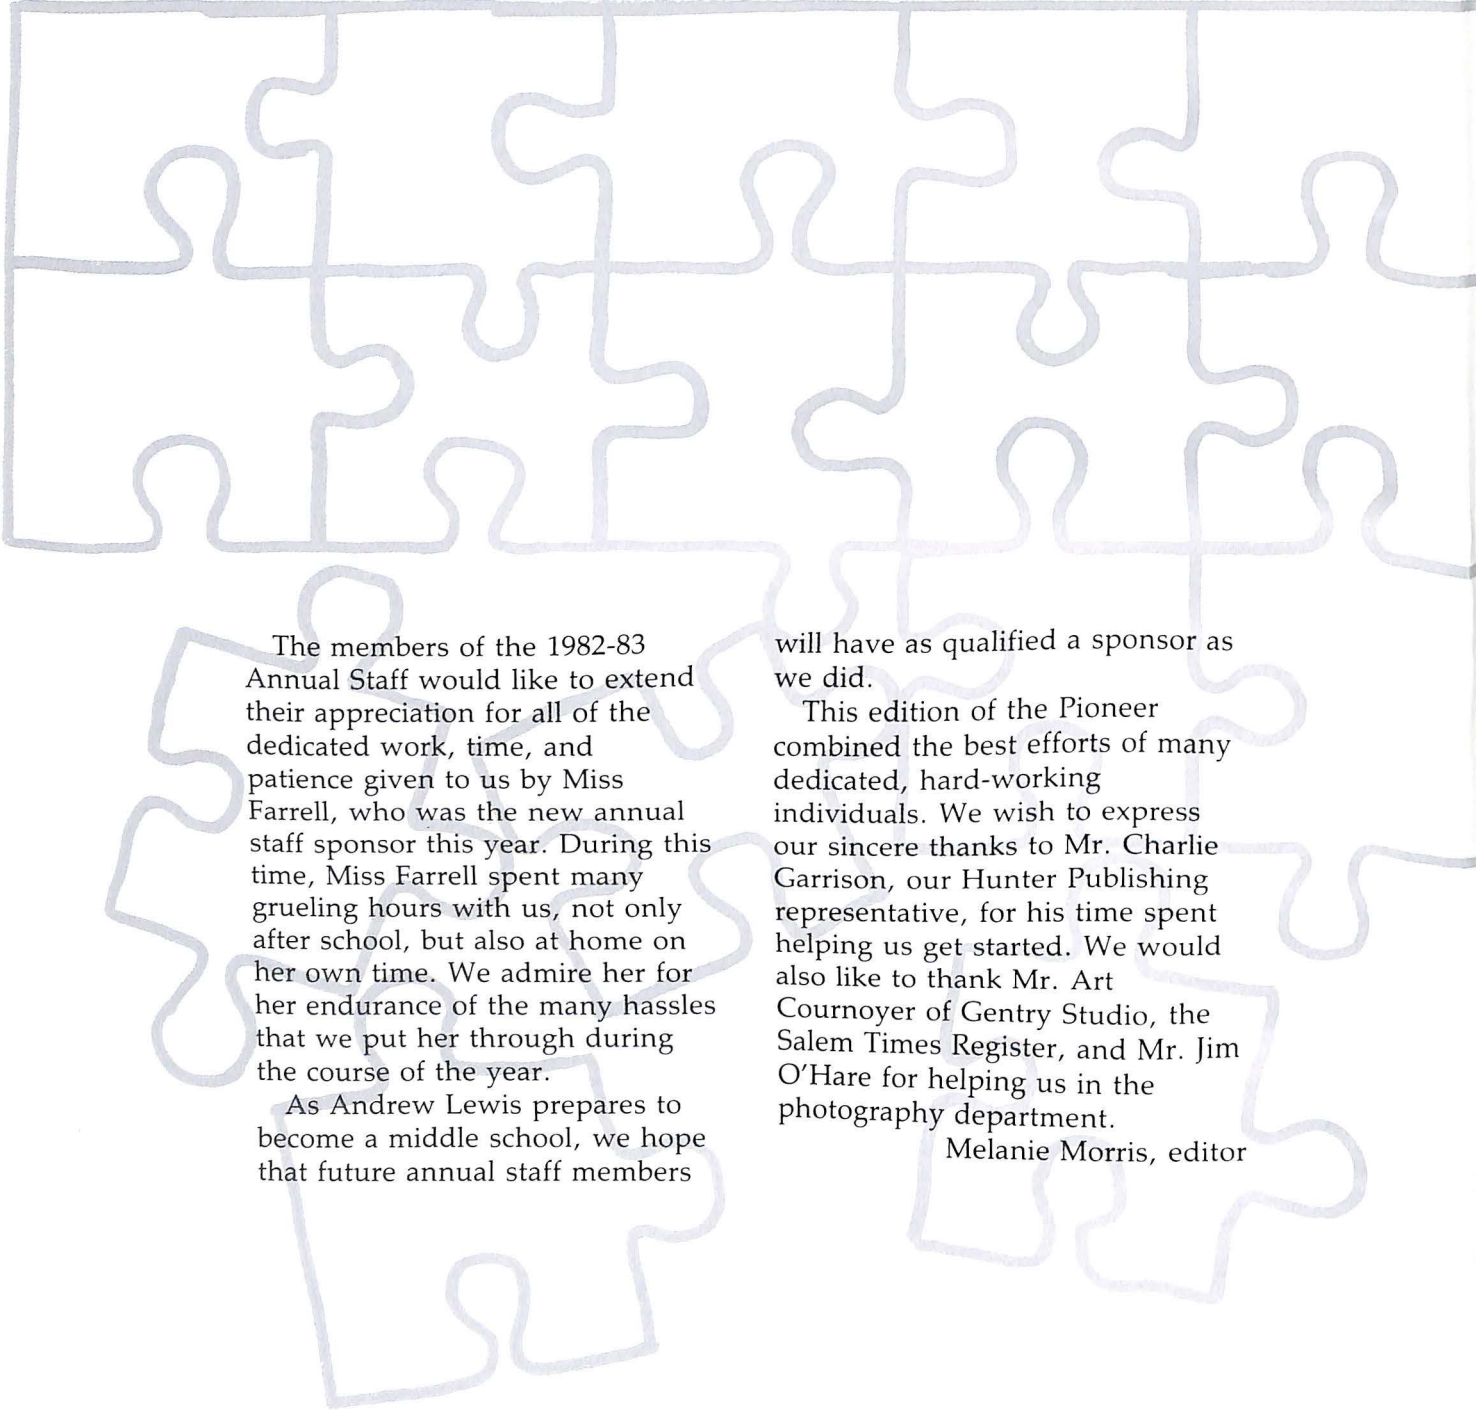

Bev Looney cranks-away to raise the hoops in the gym.

As time goes by, it's hard to believe that a year can pass so quickly. Some students have gotten used to their surroundings and feel comfortable here, yet it is time to go on. For others it still may seem confusing, but the feeling of excitement and curiosity to experience the year to come is always there. As each goes his own separate way, he will continue to meet new challenges and "fall into place."

The members of the 1982-83 Annual Staff would like to extend their appreciation for all of the dedicated work, time, and patience given to us by Miss Farrell, who was the new annual staff sponsor this year. During this time, Miss Farrell spent many grueling hours with us, not only after school, but also at home on her own time. We admire her for her endurance of the many hassles that we put her through during the course of the year.

As Andrew Lewis prepares to become a middle school, we hope that future annual staff members will have as qualified a sponsor as we did.

This edition of the Pioneer combined the best efforts of many dedicated, hard-working individuals. We wish to express our sincere thanks to Mr. Charlie Garrison, our Hunter Publishing representative, for his time spent helping us get started. We would also like to thank Mr. Art Cournoyer of Gentry Studio, the Salem Times Register, and Mr. Jim O'Hare for helping us in the photography department.
