Three cheers for the best school in the valley.

Time lost, time gained

Ending the summer and beginning the new school year had always been difficult, and this year proved no different.

This year all timing tones were changed meaning one minute less to get to class and five minutes during lunch. Students dreaded the loss of socializing time between classes and at lunch, but soon locker combinations were memorized and students got back into the swing of things.

An Evaluating Committee from the State Department of Education visited Lewis in October. Students, faculty, administrators, custodians, and parents prepared for this successful visit.

One month later, a week of rain hit the valley resulting in a devastating flood. Students and faculty at Lewis had no idea how serious the November flash flooding was until a constant stream of parents kept coming to pick up their children. By 7:00 p.m., most students had left; those remaining students were sent to emergency care areas. Several successful food and clothing drives were sponsored by the SCA for victims of the flood.

Life resumed the usual routine at Lewis resulting in yet another successful year.

Marvelous, simply marvelous!!

After finishing second the last two years in the tough Roanoke Valley Junior High League, this year's team dropped down a grade to face a demanding sixteen game schedule. Despite losing three starters off of last year's squad and the entire ninth grade class, their first season in the eighth grade circuit proved a most successful one. Led by tri-captains Lynn Holiday, Tracy Palmer, and Terri Robinson, they more than met their challenge. They rolled to a perfect 16-0 mark, and the mythical "Greater Roanoke Valley" Championship.

The campaign marked the first spotless season in ALMS's history: the lady Wolverines continued their improvement of the last two years. Since enduring two winless seasons in the early 1980's, the Cagers have compiled an overall mark of 34-12, including 17-4 in the Wolverine Den.

Season begins with a win

The Andrew Lewis Middle School Football Team, coached by Larry Bradley, Brian Hooker, and Jimmy Carter, began the season with a new eighth grade schedule and a 14-0 win over the Pulaski Orioles. The Wolverines defeated their next opponents, the Glenvar Highlanders, 24-0 with Jody Terry making two touchdowns. The third Wolverine victory came in a 26-0 win over William Byrd. The season closed with four losses in close games with Dublin, Clifton Forge, Blacksburg, and Botetourt.

Although the Wolverines did not post a winning season, all forty-six members of the team deserved commendation. All participated in practice and due to an extra quarter, all members of the squad participated in game action.

The Lewis Wrestling team was coached by Larry Bradley, Brian Hooker, and Jimmy Carter. Thirty two members, including many newcomers, gained confidence and spirit after winning the opening match against Radford. One of the most difficult matches proved to be Pulaski. Even though a loss was suffered, the Wolverines came back fighting to defeat Botetourt Intermediate.

At the annual Pulaski Winter Tournament, several Lewis wrestlers placed in their respective weight classes. Ricky Wells placed first while third places were clinched by Scott Dempsey, Donald Mullins, and Brian Thornhill. Brad Bradley, Brett Magenbauer, and Rodney Campbell wrestled their way to fourth places, and Roy Brown fought his way to a fifth place.

Young team, new coach

Ms. Brenda Orange volunteered to coach the girls' gymnastics' team for the first time after losing Mr. Greg Gallion to a trainers' position. Along with Ms. Orange were several newcomers and returning gymnasts.

The inexperienced team gained confidence by defeating its first opponent, Radford. The Lady Wolverines traveled to Radford next and defeated them again.

The toughest competition was met with Pulaski and Dublin; Lori Archer and Amy Webster placed; however the competition proved too difficult.

The Wolverines ended the season with Amy Webster placing as best all-around gymnast, and a 2-3 record.

Student Council Association

This year's SCA officers got a taste of hard work and leadership. They started out the year serving as guides for the sixth grade orientation and for the Back to School Night.

In October, elections were held for sixth grade class officers. All SCA members were then active serving as guides and providing refreshments for the October visit from an evaluating committee from the state department of education.

December proved to be a busy month also. A food drive sponsored by the SCA was extremely successful; the food was distributed to needy Salem families as a result of the devastating November flood.

In February, the SCA sold carnations for Valentine's Day and sponsored a Sadie Hawkins Dance on the 28th.

In the spring, several of Lewis' most talented students participated in and won awards for their performances in the talent show.

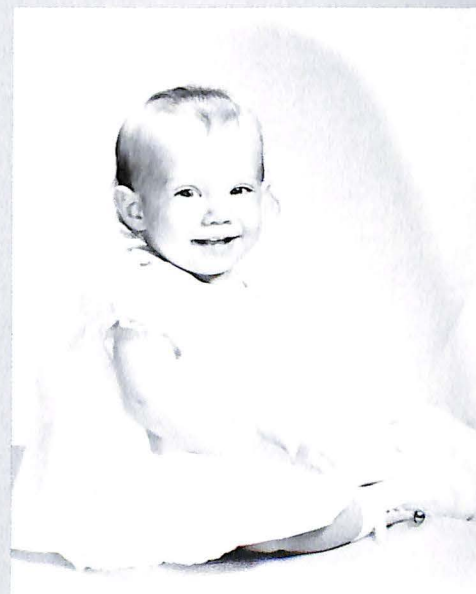

The SCA ended the school year electing new officers and planning for another successful year.

Dawn Downing, Michelle Keyes, Amy Dunn, and Angela Nuckols move to the beat at the dance.

Mr. Fielder and Mr. Akers stand ready to greet guests at the October banquet.

What will it be today Amy McDaniel, Amber Snead, and Gavin Fisher — milk, juice, or shake??

Trophy winners in an undefeated season include: Terri Robinson, Lynn Holliday, Tracy Palmer, and Stephanie Martin.

To each staff member who offered your time and energy, I sincerely thank you. Special thanks must also be made to Mr. Jimmy Carter for all the photographs, Gentry Studio, and Charlie Garrison of Hunter Publishing Company.
