CELEBRATING

Old Glory waved in the wind as the Constitution turned 200.

The choir waved as the ceremony came to a close.

On September 17, the Glenvar student body celebrated the 200th anniversary of our country's Constitution. A special ceremony was held in front of the school, and members of the Highlander band played the Star Spangled Banner. Mrs. Arnold, chair of the Social Studies Department, coordinated the event, and Mr. Harrison led the school in the reading of the Preamble. As the ceremony continued, Mike Semones, Vice President of the S.C.A., said the Pledge of Allegiance. When the ceremony ended, freshman Charles Cox raised the flag to full mast and G.H.S. honored the 200th anniversary of the Constitution.

Freshman Charles Cox raised the flag in recognition of the Bicentennial celebration.

Mike Semones, vice president of the S.C.A., leads the students in the pledge to the flag.

STUDENT LIFE

Take off with us!

In 1988, Glenvar students found themselves involved in many activities. They ranged from everyday homework to out of school field trips.

Time was a big factor when considering a student's priorities. He or she had to decide what came first, their school or their social life. Parents often made the decision for the student!

Student life at Glenvar, even with its ups and downs, was sure to be a blast!

Caught in the act, Kim Alford and Scott Wade pass the official G.H.S. hand check.

Love that food! Freshmen Jonathon Booth and Trevor Brammer show their enthusiasm during 3rd lunch.

A new experiment for G.H.S., Ami Smoake, Ashley Sakiey, Molly Eller and Joey Soltis took the new advanced chemistry class.

COMING ALIVE

Let's get fired up! Glenvar fans rose to the occasion. While pep rallies were coming alive, the football, basketball, golf, and cross country teams showed the student body that they were in top form.

Pep rallies showed the true Highlander spirit. In many of the games, this same spirit is a necessity in winning. Through the support of the teams and fans, Glenvar spirit took off!

Mrs. Martin has school spirit in her hands.

Some things speak for themselves.

Gym teacher Mr. Wood showed his spirit in a traditional Scottish kilt.

SPIRIT CHEERS

Many of the students got involved in pep rallies.

The GHS cheerleaders performed during a pep rally.

Glenvar football players got back into the routine by doing the "bunny hop" over the dummy roles.

"Here I go again" says Jamie Soltis as he paid his gym fees.

Kendra Parsons, Nickie Richards, Corie Goin, and Jeanie Beason were definitely not alone in their efforts to pass Mrs. Graham's Biology class.

HERE WE GO AGAIN BUT NOT ALONE

As summer ended, Glenvar students reluctantly were back into the routine. Whether it was practicing for sports or paying school fees, students found it hard to believe our summer vacation was over and we were getting back together again. Some seniors found it difficult to come back because of facing the reality that this is the end of their years at Glenvar High School. The rest of the student body dreaded the feeling of being alone with class assignments and homework after a fun-filled three months. However, every student at Glenvar made the best of the 1987-88 school year. The students took off with the life of a Highlander.

When Mr. Cromer spoke, Neil Swanson listened!

Highlanders pushed their way back into another great school year.

Showing off her casual style is Beth Wimmer.

Jojo Lentz and Chris Jones showed off their acid washed jeans.

Juniors stayed in up to minute fashions.

GO TO ANY

This year's fashion needed a personal touch. Using accessories or one or more of the many popular colors made the difference. With many popular colors to choose from, it was easy to show off your true colors.

Popular styles, such as Coke clothes and boat shoes, were seen everywhere. Acid washed, stone washed, and just plain faded were some of the many variations of jeans available. Jean skirts were as popular as ever, with lengths from way below the knee to way above it!

Being in style this year meant lots of color, lots of fashion, and lots of fun!

Wendy Stone dressed in hot colors and hot fashions.

Short skirts were the fashion for Allison Hendrix.

Let's get ready to have a blast! Rhonda Stump and her date; Barry Hurley, Tracy Graham, Missy McDaniel, and her date seemed to be ready to dance.

Learning Is an Experience

This year at Glenvar we took pride in being one of the highest academic schools in Roanoke County. At Glenvar students always studied hard to make good grades and high S.A.T. scores.

A 2nd period study hall did it the easy way; they worked in groups.

Christina Loyd looks at her book trying to figure out how to use one of these machines.

Kevin Hicks takes advantage of the Career Lab and got some of his studies done.

Mollie Eller was so caught up on her studies that she worked in the office during the year.

Jennifer Keller had the best seat in the house to study on.

"There she is!" said Homecoming King Neil Swanson as Twala Bratton showed her excitement at having just been crowned Queen.

The 1986 Homecoming queen, Miss Shonda Snider, returned to Glenvar from Ferrum College to turn over her crown to the new 1987 Homecoming queen.

Homecoming was a special time at Glenvar this year. In each Senior home-room, nominations were accepted for the Court. These nominations were then voted on by the Senior class and narrowed down to 10 Senior men and women. In turn these 10 young men and women were voted on by the entire school, therefore, producing the Homecoming King and Queen, and Prince and Princess. When asked how they prepared themselves for the special evening, Shelby Feury replied, "It seemed like it took me forever to get ready. I was so nervous. It took me at least two hours. All the time I put into it was worth it. It will always be a special memory to me when I think about my high school years."

Paul Helmandollar felt the event was to be long remembered in his life because it was a once in a lifetime experience. He will always look back on his high school days and remember this special event.

Overall, all of the members of the 1987 Homecoming Court found it a rewarding and memorable experience.

Some members of the 1987 Homecoming Court waited patiently for the announcement of the King and Queen.

"Look, Dad! I'm the Prince!" said Mike Semones as Nicki Sweeney accepted roses from the 1986 Homecoming Queen Shonda Snider.

Looking their best, some members of the 1987 Homecoming Court stood before an anxious crowd.

SPIRIT WITH STYLE?

During the week of October 26 to October 30, the Keyettes sponsored Spirit Week. Throughout the week students dressed according to the title of the day. Wendy Jones commented, "Twin Day was my favorite day because a lot of people dressed up and it looked neat." Missy McDaniel said, "I like Pajama Day the best because all the slippers people wore looked funny." Spirit Week was the week of the Homecoming game with Shawsville. During the week, SCA sold Spirit Links. The class who bought the longest chain of links won $25 to put in their class treasury. The Seventh grade proudly accepted the money for buying the most links. On Friday there was a Homecoming Pep Rally and students excitedly showed their spirit for the Homecoming game that night and throughout the week.

Tommi Curd hugged her panda on Pajama Day as Carol Bryant and Stacy Bingham admire him.

Junior Sean Hayslett showed his spirit during Spirit Week by wearing his UNC shirt on College Day.

Seventh grader Jonathan Sparger showed off his shirt for Beach Day as Chris Thompson and friends chatted.

IN Anything 1988 GOES!

Ronnie Bingham and Donnie Stickley loved "Beach Day."

Junior Michelle Hartless proudly modeled her pajamas on Pajama Day.

Freshmen Jenni Mills and Yvette Allen showed off their beach attire which consisted of cool sunglasses and hats.

Learning In and Out of School

The 87-88 GHS year was a great year for field trips. To start the year off, the US Government and history classes went to Philadelphia. Many of the students had fun touring and seeing the Liberty Bell and other interesting sights in the City of Brotherly Love. The Ninth graders took a field trip to Arnold R. Burton Vo Tech School. "Considering it was one of the only field trips we took, it was a good one," said Freshman Erica Graham. The Choir also took a field trip to Tidewater. Jeff McDaniel said, "It was a great trip."

These girls enjoyed the trip to the Historic Museum in Philadelphia.

These Seniors in Philadelphia enjoyed a refreshing swim in the hotel pool.

DECA

COE

Marketing Education is an education program for students preparing for a career in the marketing of goods and services to the public. This program includes jobs in the retail, wholesale, and service businesses. Marketing Education combines classroom instruction directly related to your career objective with supervised on-the-job training in the community. Marketing Education students receive school credit and wages for their work experience.

Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) is a national organization which carries out both social and educational functions for Marketing Education. The functions include social, civic, and professional activities which involve both the school and the community. Student-centered programs are designed to develop leadership through participation in civic and social functions. DECA can't promise you fame and fortune, but there is room for recognition and awards.

Business Education can help you achieve attainment of basic business education, including occupational exploration and preparation for entering business/office occupations or additional business education. Business Education course offerings provide career training in occupational preparation, including personal employability skills, individual leadership training, basic business knowledge, and business career exploration.

The Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) is the co-curricular organization for secondary business education students. FBLA enhances business education students by helping them to develop business leadership skills, to build self-confidence, to establish career goals, and to facilitate transition from school to work.

These FHA members enjoyed their hot fudge sundaes.

Looking UP and DOWN GHS Halls

The lockers of GHS halls are very interesting!!!

- *Students met friends at LOCKERS.
- *Cheerleaders decorated LOCKERS.
- *Highlanders shared LOCKERS.
- *Wooden shelves were in LOCKERS.
- *"It is my home," quoted a student on his LOCKER.
- *Mirrors were in LOCKERS.
- *Pictures of friends were in LOCKERS.
- *Old chewing gum is stored in LOCKERS.
- *Bumper stickers adorned LOCKERS.
- *"Pin-ups" are taped inside LOCKERS.
- *Rock group pictures peeped out of LOCKERS.
- *Some students hid canned drinks in LOCKERS.

Students take a rest break and talk at their lockers.

Many GHS students found time to socialize before school and in between classes at their lockers.

Freshman Amy Howe finds time in her busy schedule to take a quick stop at her locker.

Students visit with friends at their lockers.

Locker decorations can show a lot about the owner!

Having a locker near the "freezeway" may have put a damper on these students' year.

MORBID MONDAYS...

Mondays at Glenvar High School are long and boring. Mondays always mean the beginning of a hard week at school. Everyone is accustomed to sleeping late on weekends and when Monday comes we have to wake up early. "Monday is the worst day of the week!" said Jennifer Brightbill. "Mondays are a bad end to a good weekend," replied Barry Garst. I think everyone will agree that Monday is a morbid day.

It looked like another long Monday for Kevin Hicks, Freddie Aldridge, Glen Bratton, and Lewis Pitts.

On another boring Monday, Steve Ferrell showed the perfect example.

David Hammel, Ricky Huffman, and Beth Hammel don't look too happy to go to school on a Monday.

And Those Fantastic Fridays!

Neil Horn, John Isenhardt, and Eric West had Friday night fun at a football game.

Fridays gave Seniors something to stand up and cheer about!

By the look on Jennifer Cyrus' face, this is definitely a Friday!

Everywhere you go, people are working toward the weekend. Fridays signify the end of a hard working week and the start of fun and relaxation. A short break is all most students need to get back in the routine of doing homework and not getting enough sleep.

Students at GHS counted down from those "Morbid Mondays" to "Fantastic Fridays," and everyone knows Fridays are well appreciated.

CHRISTMAS AT GLENVAR

Is it James Rose or Santa Claus? Either way, he made this little girl happy at the DECA Tap party.

The varsity cheerleaders showed the warmth of Christmas with their big smiles.

In 1987 Christmas at Glenvar meant fun, love, and sorrow. Students showed their Christmas spirit by dressing for the occasion in red and green, decorating their cars with wreaths, and exchanging gifts.

Students eagerly awaited that final bell, which meant "Christmas break is here." Of course the sad times came when Glenvar didn't get a white Christmas. But maybe we will have better luck next year.

Who says principals aren't fun. Mr. Semones took some time out to show the Christmas spirit with Mr. Claus.

Deck the halls with ... a tree? The Student Council did a good job decorating this year's tree — all 20 feet of it.

During lunch these two girls go to the Coke machine for a Coke.

Some students during their lunch, enjoy sitting next to the window.

Every day during the school year, the cafeteria staff managed to prepare enough food for three lunch periods. At Glenvar the students had a choice of school lunches, snack bar, salad bar, or the potato bar. There were some who wouldn't eat at all. "I never eat at school; I always wait to get home to eat," said Cameran Shiflett. Lunch also gives you a chance to talk and keep up with the gossip.

A t G l e n v a r''

Some teachers, like Mr. Myers and Mr. Martin, find time to observe the students.

Shannon McDaniel seemed to enjoy his lunch.

While others like hot lunches, some people prefer the snack bar.

Once in a Lifetime!

With all the fads of the 1987-88 school year, these stand out about the rest:

Movie: Dirty Dancing

Group: Whitesnake

Album: Slippery When Wet

Fad: Washed-out jeans

Disregarding the "two inch rule" are Chris Wood and Michelle Shupe.

See those snuggle bunnies? Kelly Grove enjoys the company of her date.

Placing the ring on Greta Hawley's finger is Patrick LaPlace.

This past year at Glenvar to date or to double date had been the question. When Kent Layman was asked his opinion on dating he said, "It's best done alone!" For some Freshmen this feat could not be accomplished because their parents forced them to double date. However, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors seemed to prefer to double date. When Wendy Jones was asked to comment on double dating, she said, "I like to double date. I think it's a lot more fun." Still, the choice was left up to the couple as to whether they choose to double date or just single date. We hope all their dates were good ones and at least one made that love connection!

A Sense of PRIDE!

This past year the Seventh grade choir met during 7th period in the auditorium. Mrs. Hendrick kept them busy working on concerts and a musical called "Surfin USA." Overall the Seventh graders really seemed to enjoy choir. When asked to comment on her past year in choir, Angie Booth said, "It was a rewarding experience."

National Honor Society

Forensics

On October 22, 1987, 20 students were inducted to the National Honor Society, making a total of 47 members in the Glenvar Chapter. Certain traits that each member must show include scholarship, leadership, service, and character. In order to be accepted, one must fill out an application, listing such things as grade point average and extracurricular activities, which is reviewed by a panel.

Current members who tapped the inductees were Laura Foster, Neil Horn, Mike Semones, Kristi Bain, Ellen Bolt, Lee Johnson, Susan Walton, Tina Baldwin, Janet Peterson, and Stephanie Stanley. Dr. Kenneth Garren, Associate Dean of Roanoke College, gave a speech on "A Sense of Pride," and after the ceremony, members, guests, and faculty were invited to a reception in the library. Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors were invited to the assembly, and Freshmen Tammi Beamer, Terri Beamer, Kim Keffer, and Chris Winter served as Ushers.

Forensics is a club sponsored by English teacher Mr. Cromer with President Patricia Harwood, Vice President Tracy Williams, and Secretary Jeff McDaniel. The team participated in meets with such categories as prose, poems, and short stories, and the mood being either comedy or serious.

Cameron Shiftlett, Jill Strelka, Stacey Wygal, and Sam Walker worked during a club study hall in the Industrial Arts room.

"Learning to live in a technical world." This was the motto of the Technology Student Association sponsored by the technical education teachers, Mr. Coleman and Mr. Session.

Thirty active student members participated in club activities in order to learn more about their roles in the industrial-technical society. As with most clubs TSA had its group of club officers who helped plan activities and fund raising projects. President Cory Hargraves, Vice President Anthony Ferguson, Secretary Scott Highberger, and Reporter Matt Henderson all worked to plan activities. The club then participated in such projects as sponsoring Technology Ed students to Regional and State fairs in Blacksburg and Richmond, installing the school sign and entrance to the football stadium, and keeping our court yard beautiful.

The Future Homemakers of America, FHA, is a national service club that stresses leadership, family, future, caring for others, and citizenship. This year they participated in civic projects such as educating younger people for safety and having activities with the elderly.

The members of FHA had lots of fun while helping our community this year as well. When asked why she liked FHA, Kristi Bain, Vice President, said, "I like it because I have a fun time with my friends and Mrs. Markham while helping others. We plan activities that involve the community which makes you really feel good afterwards."

THE MUSIC OF OUR SCHOOL

Playin' for the GHS Band

The 1987-88 GHS band consisted of many members. Old as well as new members marked this year's squad. Mr. Grant said that this year's band was small in size but was large in sound. The band activities included performing at pep rallies, football games, parades, and had a fruit sale as a fund raiser. All together a small band turned into good sound, big spirit and fun.

WELL WORTH IT

This year's staff consisted of many new people who needed to be trained in the hard work of producing a yearbook. Editor-in-Chief was Missy McDaniel with her associate editor being Susan Steen, both seniors. Freshman Erica Graham and Sophomore Wendy Jones were assistant editors in training for being editors the following year. Kent Layman, Wayne Yopp, and Jennifer Brightbill made up the business staff, keeping up with receipts and making sure everybody was up on their payments. Seniors Jeff McDaniel and Brian Woodward spent many hours completing layouts, while Charmin Graham and Cindy Stump typed copy and captions.

In October, members of the Yearbook Staff attended a weekend trip to Charlottesville to take part in the Virginia high School League Publications Workshop at the University of Virginia. After attending the various classes offered, the staff had a new insight on the publication of a yearbook.

Special thanks was given to Patricia Harwood for the design cover, our staff photographers Shane Abercrombie, Kenny Main, and Marty Burris, our Yearbook Advisor Mrs. Cynthia Wagner, and to Mrs. Cindy Martin.

Wayne Yopp, Jennifer Brightbill, and Kent Layman, the business staff, showed their school spirit.

PEOPLE

Take off with us!

Whether it was getting homework done, participating in sports, or just spending time with friends, the students at Glenvar High always seemed to have something to do.

Seated in front of lockers before homeroom was a favorite place for students to finish their homework. Staying after school for practice or games involved many students, and going to the mall or meeting at a fast food restaurant was a great way to meet and spend time with friends.

Seventh graders Kelly Harman and Nancy Huffman talked in the hallway before school.

Study halls were as big as ever this year like this one during 6th period.

Ready for a great day at school were Julie Welford, Brad Poff, and Kim Vanney.

"Are you pushing or pulling?" asked Beverly Maxwell as she and Nicki Sweeney set up the spirit box for the pep rally.

"We're ready!" stated Crissy Tolbert, Nicole Price and Tracy Mills as they entered the gym.

Senior John Isenhardt seemed to enjoy using the computer during class.

Seniors enjoyed one of their privileges — walking in!

TOGETHER IN SPIRIT

The class of '88 had a busy year as Seniors. Many worked hard at both their jobs and school, doing their homework any chance they got — either at home or between classes. They also started looking towards the future and what they would do with their lives after graduation, whether to join the nation's work force or to go to college. For those who chose college, there were college applications to fill out and essays to write for scholarships. Most seniors still found the time to have fun — goofing off in school or going to parties on the weekends.

Above all, our Seniors found time to be together for they knew the time was coming when they would have to go their separate ways. But no matter how far apart the class of '88 will be, they will always be Together In Spirit.

RINGS
"GROOVY TEEN"

Perhaps there's a future in broadcasting (or football holding) for Michelle Hartless, as she demonstrated at this pep rally.

At Old Salem Days, there were plenty of interesting things to see. Junior Shane Abercrombie and Kenny Main decided to look at each other.

GHS Rings: A Junior Highlight

The 11th grade 1987-88 school year was exciting for the rising Seniors. They had a wonderful dinner at the Home Place. Receiving their rings was the highlight of the evening. All year the Juniors raised money for the Junior-Senior Prom by selling candy and sponsoring Groovy Teens. Many committees worked planning the invitations, food, programs, advertisements, tickets, and the band. With great enthusiasm, Juniors awaited the Senior privileges.

These students showed their spirit at the flag ceremony in different ways. Some raised their hands, and others, like Carol Bryant, opened their mouths.

Working hard to finish their homework were Sophomores Wendy Stone, Amy Stump, and LaTara Willis.

"What's up guys?" Tisha Richardson and Paul Logan were caught in an unusual position at the pep rally.

Making one thing clear was Jill Strelka — GHS is number one!

CLASS OF '91

$\frac{1}{2}$ WAY THRU G.H.S.

The Class of '91 had an exciting year during their first grade of high school. Being a Freshman and not being an eighth grader was a treat. Participating in sports on the J.V. and Varsity level and as a fan made Freshmen a special word. Fun, fellowship, funny business added to a wonderful year of Freshmen.

These 9th graders enjoyed the class competition during a pep rally.

Drew Taliaferro and Denny Stanley loved time spent at their lockers.

This group of Eighth graders listened attentively as Mr. Johnson explains his point of view.

Experimenting in Science class were Steve Ashworth and Scott Highberger.

EIGHTH GRADE

D V A N T A G E

This year the Eighth graders were proud of not being the youngest students in the school. They finally found someone that they could boss around. This was the first year for sports. Most of them as Seventh graders were not interested in after school activities. Now that Eighth graders are a year older, they want to be known as a sports player throughout the school. Being an Eighth grader has other advantages also. The Eighth graders were moved up on the bleachers at a pep rally this year beside the Seniors. That made the Eighth graders want to be louder. The Eighth graders could also stretch time getting to class and not have to worry about being late all the time.

During Physical Science class Jenny Dotson and Allison Bolt were mixing chemicals according to the formula.

The Class of '92 enjoyed cheering Glenvar to victory.

Great discussions, sitting on the curb, involved Seventh grade secrets.

Misty Dowdy bought a coke for Christy Phlegar to go with her Coca Cola shirt.

Amy Moses loved the pep rally game of passing the orange. Chris Thompson proved he had the "chin" for the game. Amanda Faulkner smiled her approval.

Seventh graders Darrel Rose and Rick Little took a rest in the gym.

CLASSES OF '93

This year's Seventh Graders showed up on the first day of school full of enthusiasm. Fresh from Glenvar Elementary, and Fort Lewis, they adapted quickly showing their school spirit through pep rallies and school functions. Learning to operate their locker and responding to the bell schedule was a big achievement for many along with adjusting to the freedoms of high school life.

CLUBS

Take off with us!

With the many clubs to choose from at Glenvar High, it was easy for students to get involved in the club of their choice.

Participation was the key to the club's success, and although some work was involved along with the payment of dues in certain clubs, they proved to be a fun break in classes.

Showing her enthusiasm for Spanish Club was Miss Fives.

"How long is this going to last?" seemed to be what Tracy Graham was saying during club period as Stephanie Stanley looks on.

Prepared to sell for their club fundraiser, the Monogram Club listened attentively to Mr. Martin.

CAPTURING IT ALL ON FILM

The Photography Staff kept themselves busy this year with Old Salem Days, homecoming, dances, spirit week, and other school events. Shane Abercrombie enjoyed photography but said, "Photography is harder than most people think; it is demanding and takes a lot of time." The staff consisted of Shane Abercrombie, Marty Burris, and Kenny Main.

Along with work, these Thistle and Photography Staff members took time off to goof around.

Nicki Sweeney spent time after school to finish some Thistle business.

A HARD JOB... THAT'S WORTH DOING

The Bagpipe Staff had another busy year in 1987-88. Along with spending many after school hours working on the Bagpipe, they also attended workshops in Charlottesville to get new ideas in production and fundraising of the magazine. Pat Harwood felt that teamwork and dedication on the part of the staff, other students, and faculty made the Bagpipe a success. Technology greatly improved the staff's efficiency. Computers and word processors cut down on much of the time and work which gave them extra time to design. Glenvar has many talented students, and the Bagpipe has been an outlet for that talent. As Pat Harwood said, "It isn't the Bagpipe Staff's magazine, it is the entire school's treasury of creativity, something that shows the pride we have in our school."

For the Thistle Staff, putting out the 1987-88 school paper proved to be a real responsibility. As Editor Amy Roberson said, "This year Mrs. Johnson wasn't there . . . Sometimes it's hard to keep everything together without a sponsor." The Thistle Staff put out 6 issues covering such topics as birth control and teen suicide. Many new ideas in spacing bylines and doing layouts were put into this year's Thistle. The Thistle Staff leaders were Amy Roberson, Editor; Nicki Sweeney, Assistant Editor; Lee Johnson, Sports Editor; and Kristi Bain, Business Editor.

The Future Lies Ahead

The FBLA, Future Business Leaders of America, is a club devoted to helping students learn through community involvement, leadership activities, and business knowledge and skills through competitive events with area schools. The club helped in furnishing food for a Thanksgiving basket, furnished Christmas for a child from an Angel tree, and furnished a meal for the Ronald McDonald House as special projects. The sponsors, Ms. Keenan and Mrs. Martin, both stated, "It gives us, as well as the students, fulfillment when worthwhile projects are done."

The officers for this year are Tracy Carroll, President; Tracey Bordenave, Vice President; Melissa Martin, Secretary; Connie Cox, Treasurer; Angie Hall, Historian; Christina Loyd, Reporter.

Tracy Carroll and Christina Loyd conduct an FBLA meeting as the members listened.

WORKING IN AND OUT OF SCHOOL

The DECA and SCA clubs spent all year working for the school and to benefit the public. DECA spent Christmas doing a TAP party for the kids from TAP. Jay Ritter said, "It was special seeing the kids enjoy Christmas."

SCA also had an eventful year, other than governing the student body. They sponsored sock hops and planned Homecoming week. Stacy Siler commented, "Homecoming week was exciting because we did what the students enjoyed doing." Other activities included Christmas card exchange and student exchange day.

The DECA officers are Jay Ritter, President; Tyler Zindorf, Vice President; Denise Hoge, Secretary, Malisa Altizer, Treasurer.

IT'S FOREIGN

The French Club has been busy this year. The members planned a ski trip during the winter and to eat at a French restaurant, Fesquets, in the spring. The French Club has 35 members with Mrs. Nancy Cundiff as sponsor. The club plans to play volleyball with other clubs.

The officers are Ellen Bolt, President; Shane Abercrombie, Vice President; Paul Helmandollar, Treasurer; Heather Browning, Secretary, Mrs. Nancy Cundiff, Sponsor.

The Latin Club took off to other worlds as members learned about the Romans and the Greeks. The Latin Club members enjoyed the Saturnalia where Jim O'Malley was crowned Saturn. The students also enjoyed a Pizza Party for new members. The members also enjoyed Greek dancing which was done during one of the monthly meetings. The Latin Club participated in National Foreign Language Week with a Roman Banquet and other activities.

The officers are Stacy Bingham, President; Carol Bryant, Vice President; Christina Loyd, Secretary; and John Lowe, Treasurer.

The German Club had an exciting year. There were 25 members in the club with Mrs. Elaine Olson as sponsor. The club planned a field trip to Sunnybrook Inn, a restaurant with a German smorgasbord. The members sold gold jewelry and exchanged Christmas gifts. They also had Mrs. Dorthea Swanson as a guest speaker on German life at one of the club meetings.

Officers are Travis Brammer, President; Scott Kinsey, Vice President; Lisa Overcast, Secretary; Neil Horn, Treasurer.

The Spanish Club has been busy this year planning activities. The Spanish Club had approximately 50 members. The club exchanged Christmas gifts at a Christmas party in December. The club also planned to have a pinata party.

Officers are JoJo Lentz, President; Tracy Graham, Vice President; Stephanie Stanley, Secretary; Becky Ashworth, Treasurer; Mrs. Pam Fives, Sponsor.

Selling and Service

The Monogram Club has been involved in such activities as fundraising, planting shrubs, and furnishing jackets to members. The Monogram Club has done a lot of worthwhile activities to benefit the school. Some members planted shrubs in the stadium in the shape of a "G." They have also bought mirrors and weight benches for the weight room. Larry Hurley stated, "We are making the school look better." Brian Woodward exclaimed, "I enjoy having the opportunity to go out and sell donuts and trash cans for the benefit of the school." If you all hear a knock at the door on a cold Saturday morning, it is probably the Monogram Club selling something. So support the Monogram Club — it will benefit you.

The Keyettes Club is a service club which consists of many young ladies. The Keyettes made their annual trip to the McVitty House to visit the senior citizens.

During the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays, the Keyette Club collected cans of food for the needy. A main area of concern was to center around senior citizens. Michelle Shupe said, "I have been in Keyettes for two years and have been proud to be affiliated with such an organization."

The officers of the Keyette Club are Ms. Michele Wirt, Sponsor; Laura Foster, President; Amy Roberson, Vice President; Susan Austin, Secretary; and Teke Long, Treasurer.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes or FCA had really been on the go! FCA had approximately 40 members this past year, and it put them all to good use. They collected canned foods and put together food baskets for the needy at Christmas. They had Bible study meetings every Thursday at 8 a.m. before school in room 203. They also had area worship services at Calvary Baptist Church on the third Thursday of each month at 7 a.m. In the presidency there was Ellen Bolt, President; Stacy Siler, Vice President; Corie Goin, Secretary/Treasurer.

The Baseball and Football Card Club has a lot to do such as trading cards, discussing what's the most important, and the price ranges of cards.

Brandon Moulse commented, "The club is fun once you get the business out of the way and start trading." Barry Light stated that, "It's really difficult trading cards if you don't keep up with it; some people cheat you." So be careful if an experienced trader wants to trade.

S.A.D.D.

Students Against Drinking and Driving, better known as SADD, was started at Glenvar in the 1985-86 school year. This past year SADD was split into SADD for grades 9-12 and Jr. SADD for grades 7 and 8. SADD and Jr. SADD worked together this past year on many projects. They made posters to put up in the halls and worked on a float for the Homecoming parade. SADD also worked on activities for prom and graduation. This past year's presidency consisted of Susan Steen, Charmin Graham, Kim Alford, Executive Council; Mollie Eller, President; Andrea Hawks, Vice President; Amy Williams, Secretary; Mike Ferris, Treasurer.

The Junior SADD members are: Wes Blessard, Angie Booth, Melissa Casey, Trish Foster, Lori Miller, Chris Radford, Jason Peters, Kristy Phlegar, Brent Porythress, Lori Pruett, Chris Radford, Deann Smith, Stacy Tickle, Chris Thompson, Erica Winstead, Bobby Wright, Mark Adkins, Woody Allen, Clara Atkinson, Alison Bolt, Ronnie Bingham, Suzanne Compton, Doug Croy, Chasity Elliott, Michelle Ferris, Cara Havens, Adam Harrell, Stacy Keys, Sonya Mullins, Travis Prillaman, Kevin Reynolds, Travis Skelton, Donnie Stickley, Brian Sykes, April Watt, Jason Williams.

ACADEMICS

Take off with us!

Glenvar makes a difference was the theme of the 1987-88 school year. The students showed that they could succeed in all areas of academics. Whether it was Office Technology or Wood Technology, the student was sure to finish the class with a better understanding of the subject. With the many talented students of GHS, academics were sure to take off!

"No more worksheets, please!" stated this Junior as Mrs. Swartz handed out the assignment.

Calculus appeared to have caught the attention of these Seniors as Ms. Ankrom tried to explain the next problem.

"Come on you guys, let's get it together!" said Mr. Session as he explained the next technique to his class.

"GLENVAR HONORS ACHIEVEMENT"

This year's Honor Society consisted of 52 members meeting on Tuesday mornings once a month at 8 a.m. The President was Stacy Siler, Vice President Greta Hawley, Secretary Christina Loyd, and Treasurer and Historian were Michele Shupe and Mollie Eller. Some of the projects that faced the chapter of Glenvar were providing refreshments and taking charge of signing people up for the annual Bloodmobile and also revising the Honor Code. Planning the Induction Assembly for new members was an exciting event, and a breakfast was also held for teachers after Christmas. The Honor Society is open to Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors having a grade point average above 3.25 and displaying Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character in their activities.

Junior Len Cooper was inducted by Tina Baldwin.

Members lighted their candles in order to tap in new members.

Parents enjoyed visiting at the reception after the ceremony.

Kendra Parsons was tapped in by Senior Lee Johnson as Wendy Jones looks on.

Dr. Kenneth Garren spoke at the ceremony.

Inductees awaited patiently as Stacy Siler spoke.

BEATLES STILL ALIVE

The Beatlemania Club was for people that wanted to learn about the Beatles. The Beatlemania club had 22 members. They enjoyed listening and learning about the Beatles during the club meetings. "It was a neat club!" said Seventh grader Wes Jones. All the members enjoyed and looked forward to each club meeting.

LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION

This year's Drama Club had many members. Everyone seemed to enjoy the classes and the meetings of the club. In class they learned to act in front of people, memorize lines for plays and be open in front of people. "Drama Club was a great learning experience to memorize lines and take away nervousness in front of big crowds," stated Wayne Yopp. Jennifer Brightbill said, "It was a lot of fun and I learned to open up in front of people." The Drama Club and classes proved to be a great learning experience.

Trying to figure out how the movie projector works, James Gunter, Wayne Yopp, and Eric Hickman look on.

Math Counts Peers Leading to Ultimate Success Aides

Math Counts is a club sponsored by Math teachers Mrs. Thomas and Mr. Barnhart, and including 14 Seventh and Eighth graders. President was Paula Kennedy, Vice President was Sebri Leah, and Lale Gokbudak served as Secretary-Treasurer. It is a cooperative project of the National Society of Professional Engineers, the CNA Insurance Co., National Council of Teachers of Math, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and the U.S. Department of Education. Math Counts met once a week and was designed to produce high levels of math achievement in junior high students. In February and March, a team was selected to represent Glenvar in Chapter, State, and National competition with other Seventh and Eighth grade students.

PLUS, Peers Leading to Ultimate Success, is a club sponsored by Mrs. Judy Ferguson with 51 members. Members must be teacher-recommended and were required to attend two training sessions before they traveled to either Glenvar Elementary or Fort Lewis Elementary. The four traveling teams worked with Sixth graders at both schools, while the Mentor team help group activities with the Seventh grade in the Career Lab. PLUS members who did not travel included Dan Allen, Corie Goin, Jojo Lentz, Mitch Semones, Jamey Watt, and Barry Hurley. Each team had a Christmas party with their group and on May 4 and 5 the Sixth graders spent a day at Glenvar High School.

Many students this year were needed to help out in the office, library, science lab, and math lab. These aides did such things as cleaning up the lab, helping students check out books or finish their math homework in the math lab, or run errands from the office. These students included Kenny Roach, Tracy Carroll, Robert Frontiero, Spring Hartwell, Fred Aldridge, Tracy Mills, Stephanie Stanley, Angie Crosier, Angie Horton, Karla Bratton, Peggy Akers, Beth Welford, Julie Welford, Mollie Eller, and Dana Vance. These students were greatly appreciated for their helpfulness throughout the year in their various duties.

Our school's Science Club allowed our students to learn more about the world of science this year. The members of the club involved themselves in science by inviting guest speakers to our school, such as Dr. Ben Huddle from Roanoke College, and Dr. Tom Olson from IT&T.

The Science Club also learned more about science by visiting Roanoke Valley's Science Museum and by watching programs on TV such as the video of the 1986 world competition of the "Olympics of the Mind." Our school's Science Club members had a busy year, learning more about science and coming to understand it.

The officers were Chris Burton, President; Donald Wheeling, Vice President; Darrell Rose, Secretary; Shannon Lovelace, Historian.

Could it be Elvis? No!! It's Jeff McDaniel and he's just rocking around the Christmas tree.

GHS HALLS RING WITH MUSIC

In the past few years the Glenvar High School choir has grown rapidly. This past year, the choir consisted of 112 students, 90 in grades 8-12 and 22 in grade 7. "I started out in 7th grade as the only male, and now we have 28. It's great! I feel it gives us more balance and better sound," said Jeff McDaniel a 6-year choir member.

The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Rebecca Hendrick, has really been on the go. In the past year they gave many concerts, sponsored the Highland Showcase, and went on tour to Richmond for the King's Dominion Choral Festival. In addition to all that, they practiced every day 1st, 3rd, 6th and 7th period. "I think choir is great, and I liked it so much that I skipped my study hall in my Freshman year to take choir without credit. I just couldn't live without it!" said Susan Steen a 5-year choir member.

With such a large number of students, Mrs. Hendrick decided to have officers for the advanced classes. Presidents were Ellen Bolt, Stacy Siler, Susan Steen; Vice Presidents were Sarah Williams, Missy Martin, Carol Bryant; Secretaries were Julie Welford, Beth Welford, Tommi Curd; and Treasurers were Lisa Russell, Christi Jones, Jenny Williams.

While on choir tour, Scott Ertel, Thomas Schwencke, and Robert Ferguson grab their chance to show off their stuff.

Is it Mr. Bee? No, it's Dana Vance and Michelle Lucado goofing around on the choir tour at Opryland.

Surprise! Mrs. Hendrick prepares choral gowns for the choir's graduation ceremony.

SPORTS

Take off with us!

Many GHS teams took off this year, along with the help of devoted players and dedicated coaches.

Much time was spent working out at practice, lifting weights, and preparing themselves mentally. The teams were held together by the captains and coaches with much help from the managers.

With the support of the fans and the cheerleaders, the team's second defense was in the stands.

This total combined effort provided the school with some winning teams.

"Please be careful!" stated Woody Allen as Robert Frontiero prepared to tee-off.

Together on the bleachers and together on the field, the GHS 1987 football team appreciated the approval of the students.

Introducing the Girl's Varsity Basketball team to the student body were the captains T. J. Beason and Twala Bratton.

"Come out and support your team!" Seniors Larry Hurley and Mike Semones said as they tried to gain support for the football team.

Above The Rest!

"Let's go!" The Varsity team got fired up during the pep rally.

Small in size, but big in heart was the best way to describe the 1987 Varsity football team.

The team proved to the whole school that they could take on teams like James River and Shawsville and still come out shining! "The year was a total team effort and everyone improved tremendously," stated Fred Aldridge. Although they were usually out-weighted, the line was the foundation for this year's team.

Many players blamed the team's 5 losses on not being mentally prepared. "We took North Cross and Roanoke Catholic too lightly," said Senior running back and captain of the team, Mike Semones. Senior lineman Scott Ertel agreed with Semones and also added, "We weren't mentally prepared. The team as a whole should have and could have done better." Semones also added, "We're better, a lot better than our record shows."

Overall, this year's team worked very hard to earn its 5-5 record. With this year's Juniors moving up, next year's team is sure to take off!

The Glenvar line, Joey Soltis, Fred Aldridge, and Larry Hurley helped put the Highlanders on top 3-0 over Roanoke Catholic.

BUSTING THRU

The JV Football team had a successful season this year. The team's record was 4-3 with victories against Covington, Natural Bridge, New Castle, and Lexington. Each victory was the product of teamwork. The quarterback was Scott Highberger and the leading rusher was Denny Stanley. The second leading rusher was Danny Blevins with the leading receiver being Jonathan Booth with the help of Ryan Linkous. Coach Kennedy said, "I was a little disappointed in the number of players, but we did our best and managed to come out with a pretty good season."

"WE TRIED OUR BEST"

When asked how he felt about this year's cross country team, Jamie Soltis replied, "I think we all tried our best."

The '87-'88 cross country team was often seen running along the roads around Glenvar. Despite the weather you could always see members outside, racing down the halls, or doing drills up the lobby steps.

The team, with members ranging from Freshmen to Seniors, included Chris Arnold, Marty Burris, Kenny Roach, Kevin Radford, Jamie Soltis, Paul Helmandollar, Sondra Brackman, and Vickie Stone. Members who went to Regional Meet were Seniors Paul Helmandollar, Kenny Roach, Kevin Radford, and Scott Wade; Junior Marty Burris, and Freshman Jamie Soltis, who also placed 13th in the state. The cross country team showed a lot of their school spirit and GHS supported them all the way.

PAR GOLF at GHS

During a pep rally John Isenhardt introduced the golf team.

Everyone seemed to be warming up before the big competition, as Mitch Semones looked on.

Robert Frontiero and Woody Allen played their tricks again.

"Considering the size of the team, the season turned out well," said Senior John Isenhardt. This year's gold team only consisted of 10 members. They were: Seniors Kevin Campbell, John Isenhardt, Robert Frontiero, and Jason Price; Sophomores Dwayne Robinson and Mitch Semones; Freshman Phillip Isenhardt; and Eighth graders Woody Allen, Adam Harrell, and Micah Kerr. With such a small team, they managed to have a record of 7-4 and also placed 2nd in the District. The team defeated Covington, Parry McCluer, James River, and Bath County. Senior Robert Frontiero commented, "Everyone enjoyed playing and improved greatly." The team's medalists were Robert Frontiero, Mitch Semones, and Phillip Isenhardt. "The year proved to be successful for the entire team," said Senior Jason Price.

The sand trap caught Robert Frontiero once more.

This year's girls varsity basketball team consisted of: Seniors: Twala Bratton, Melissa Barnett, and T. J. Beason; Juniors: Allison Reese, Becky Beamer, Holly Peterson, and Greta Hawley; Sophomores: Karla Bratton and Heather Browning; and Freshman: Cammi Beason.

The girl's varsity basketball team had an outstanding year. They were undefeated and won 1st place in districts but lost regionals — but that did not keep them from doing a great job.

Twala Bratton was the star for the girl's basketball team since her 8th grade year and has scored over 1,000 points since she started playing. Twala's sister, Karla said, "It was a thrill to see my sister be one of the best basketball players at Glenvar."

Glenvar's Becky Beamer concentrated on a foul shot.

At one of our school's pep rallies, Twala Bratton introduces the basketball team.

With 6 minutes and 5 seconds left in the first quarter, Glenvar was already ahead 9 points.

They're Reaching Up

The girl's junior varsity basketball team remained undefeated this season when they won Districts at Natural Bridge. Coach Spike Harrison said, "Our whole starting team could have played on someone else's varsity team in this league. It is going to be a real fight for spots on the varsity next year."

Freshman Stephanie Martin was the leading scorer this year getting many assists from captain Sandy Neel. With one Eighth grader, eight Freshmen, and one Sophomore, there is bound to be competition for varsity next year.

The junior varsity have won 16 straight district games this fall. "I think our girls are the best of their age group, period," commented Coach Harrison.

"I'm ready for college ball. I never thought it would end in high school," said Bratton who is pleased with her career and appears set to move on to the next stage.

In addition to playing basketball, her goal in college is to become an interior designer. "My main goal is to get an education," said Bratton. "But I'm glad that I picked up a basketball (5 years ago). Now, it's a big item in my life."

THEY'RE THE PRIDE . . .

The 1987-88 cheerleaders were definitely our pride and spirit, but being a cheerleader involved a lot of work and time. Tryouts for the cheerleading squads were held in March, but the work began in the summer with learning new cheers and picking captains and co-captains. The varsity team was divided into two squads with eight people on each squad. The JV team consisted of eight people. Mrs. Cindy Martin, Ms. Linda Harrison, and Ms.

Michele Wirt sponsored the teams this year. Being a cheerleader involved dedication, planning, and countless hours of time, but the cheerleaders proved to be the pride and spirit of GHS.

The 1987-88 wrestling team had a successful season with a 10-1 record. There were 13 members on the wrestling team. The team was coached by Mr. Larry Long and Mr. Dickie Myers. The JV team had 13 members and was coached by Mr. David Miller. Each team has put a lot of time and effort into supporting Glenvar.

"It should have been better," stated Senior Jason Price reflecting his thoughts about the season. "I'm just sorry this is my last one." This attitude is also shared by the other three Seniors, Mike Semones, Cory Hargraves, and Barry Hurley.

This season's games proved to be very close. Losing games by a basket hurt the team's record, but with the ups and downs this season is one of the best seen at Glenvar in many years.

The Seniors will be missed by the team, but with the majority of the team being juniors, they have a fighting chance for winning districts next year.

Injuries at the beginning of the season kept Senior Leigh Ann Heninger from the court. Five-year player Angie Horton said, "I enjoy playing. It helps keep me in shape." Coach Stanley and Assistant Coach Edder from Virginia Tech held practices for the teams. Practices consisted of warm-ups, spiking, and scrimmages focusing on defense and playing positions.

Stephanie Martin, co-captain of the JV team with Sherri Barci, said, "I think that for our first year playing, we all did really good." Candy Heath is the coach of the eight-member team. Sophomore JV player Corie Goin also added, "We worked extra hard this year."

Eighth-grader April Watt said, "I love it. I'm really glad I made the team." The Seventh and Eighth grade team had 7 members, and Eighth grader Jennifer Donikowski served as captain.

"We had a very competitive team. I was proud of them going to regionals," remarked Susan Lockard, tennis coach. Practice, which started at the end of February, consisted of warm-ups, drills, and practice matches. The season ended in May, after the team took second place in the Regional Tournament. Practices were long and hard, especially under the hot sun, but the practice paid the 11 members off well. Senior Doug Adams, who was captain, with co-captain Kevin Campbell proved themselves to be excellent leaders. Also included in the team were Seniors Wally Jones, Bo Lawson, and David Holt; Juniors Travis Brammer, John Isenhardt; Sophomore Bobby Phlegar; Freshmen Jamey Watt and Mitch Semones; and Eighth grader Phillip Isenhardt.

Senior tennis player Doug Adams displayed his tennis racket as he prepared to practice.

SOCCER'S A KICK!

Last year's soccer team began practice in late February. As the track team jogged around the field, soccer players practiced their kicks, throw-ins, and learned their positions. "We had a great year," replied senior player Wally Jones. Other seniors were Ricky Huddle, David Holt, Jeff Walton, and Brian Williams. Ricky Huddle and Wally Jones both served the responsible role of captain. Foreign exchange students Jesper Bang and Guido Bernauts also contributed to the team, while last year was the team's second best season.

Run, Run, Run

WOW!!! is the first thing thought of when it comes to last year's boy's varsity track season. The Glenvar track team really dominated last season by blowing away some teams and barely beating others. They did finish with a super 8 and 1 season. It was one of the first almost undefeated seasons in many years. The one loss to Lexington at the end of the season was lost in points not in spirit or effort! This kind of season didn't come from a few months of practice; it had been building and building for years. Coach Dean Martin stated, "I feel the culmination of four years of hard work and development made last season what it was. Four years ago the track team started out with about 15 members mostly Eighth graders and a few upperclassmen. They have turned out to still be the basis of this year's team. I was very pleased at the excellent progress of the team. Even though there were a few difficult meets, there was still a great deal of pride, unity, and sportsmanship within the team." Coach Martin deserves a big congratulations on living up to his title. He was always there supporting each member after a race through thick and thin no matter if they won or loss. He has always been a great coach and it really shows in this year's results. Asst. Coach Lawrence was always there to contribute his input also. Last season was made with teamwork and a lot of it. Neil Swanson stated, "Last season turned out better than I expected. We did it as a team — there weren't really any individual stars." What Neil said is exactly right, but there were a few outstanding individuals. There were eight members to qualify for state and one member placed. Paul Helmandollar placed 6th in the 800 with a time of 2'3".

The girl's varsity and the girl's and boy's JV teams did well also. They pulled away with quite a few victories. From the looks of the JV's season, the varsity teams will be receiving a lot of new talent in the coming years. To sum it up Shane Abercrombie stated, "Glenvar's boy's track team had an unforgettable and perfect 1987 season and I was proud to be a member."

G.H.S. Succeeds

The baseball team consisted of 3 seniors and 13 underclassmen. The team suffered 7 losses in the last inning and also lost 2 games in extra innings. The team was 2-16 overall. Jason Price was first in hitting with sophomore John Lowe second. The best defensive player was Chris Allen. Coach Larry Wood plans to build from the 13 returning players.

Proudly showing the entire school the GHS mascot were Alan Luper and Cindy Stump.

Getting set up for the pep rally were Mrs. Martin, Beth Wimmer, Melissa Hodges, Lisa Overcase, and Averie Edwards.

Soaking wet, the GHS band still showed their school spirit.

Opportunities.

Health care is a profession continually changing. Rapidly expanding. Providing you limitless employment options and good pay. Offering chances to be constantly stimulated in your professional growth. To be creative in your thinking. To solve problems and make decisions that matter. And creating opportunities to see more real courage and human drama every day than most people see in a lifetime.

Roanoke Memorial Hospitals' accredited career schools can prepare you to meet these opportunities, whether your interests lie in nursing or even specialties like medical technology, radiologic technology, surgical technology, nuclear medicine technology and radiation oncology technology.

You'll find learning principles in the classroom and then practicing them in the hospital will reward you with the opportunity to make a difference in people's lives. The Blue Ridge Mountains and our area's spectacular seasons will make your life outside the classroom rewarding too.

If you're interested in health care, the largest teaching hospital in Southwest Virginia is interested in you. To learn more, write us at the Department of Public Relations, Roanoke Memorial Hospitals, P.O. Box 13367, Roanoke, VA 24033. Or call 703/981-7456.

A large black and white photograph of a group of students, likely a yearbook class or a school group, sitting on bleachers. The students are arranged in many rows, filling most of the frame. They are dressed in casual attire typical of the late 1970s or early 1980s. In the background, a building with windows is visible. The photo is positioned on the right side of the page, partially overlapping with the text on the left.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Producing the 1988 yearbook took a great deal of time and effort, due to an inexperienced staff. After learning quickly the production of a high school yearbook, the staff worked toward each deadline, drawing layouts, finding pictures, and identifying students.

Special thanks is given to Missy McDaniel, our editor who took much of her time to teach the staff the effort one must put into a yearbook, and took the time to go back and do what the staff didn't. The staff would also like to thank Mrs. Wagner for keeping the staff on top of the deadlines and taking her time and patience to be the yearbook advisor, and to our head typist, Mrs. Martin.

The Crusader is dedicated to showing the students and events of our school, and thanks is given to teachers, clubs, and organizations who, in respect of pressing deadlines, submitted their contributions on time.

One Glenvar student walked down an empty hallway after school hours.

Mrs. Blomberg took care of all the money in the office.

Colophon

The Crusader is an annual publication of the yearbook staff for Glenvar High School students. Consisting of 196 pages, 600 9x12 copies were printed by Taylor Publishing Company.

Theme copy is 24 point while the remaining body is 10 point Melior and the captions are 8 points. Headline types were various types ranging from 18 to 60 point.

Four color was used on pages 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, and 16.

Senior portraits, with a few exceptions, were taken by Gentry Studios in Salem. All club photos were also taken by Gentry Studios as were underclass portraits.

WE TOOK

As the 1988 year ended, we all took off in our own ways. For some it was graduation, for some it was getting a job, and for others it was simply making it through the year. Whether it was learning or laughing, we did it all together. So take off with us.
