*A Year Of Building
At Virginia Western*

Virginia Western Community College, Roanoke, Virginia, is finishing its third year as a community college. In July, 1966, the facilities of the Roanoke Technical Institute were taken over by the Commonwealth of Virginia as part of the State Community College System and renamed Virginia Western Community College. VWCC has the distinction of being the first college in the System to enroll a student.

German Language Club

The German Language Club, which is affiliated with the National Federation of Students of German, was organized to promote interest in the language, literature, history, and culture of the German people. Membership in the club is open to any regularly enrolled student in the German classes.

After the official club business is completed, only German is spoken during the rest of the meetings. Club activities vary from the presentation of German movies to playing German word games, group discussions, etc. The club's community project, presenting hand-puppet shows for the children of the Roanoke Valley, was very successful.

Members of the club publish a monthly German language newspaper. The name of the paper is "Der Fortschritt," which means "Progress," and that's what the German Language Club wants to make.
