HIS HOLINESS POPE JOHN XXIII

Second Vatican Ecumenical Council

On January 25, 1959, Pope John XXIII announced to the world his intention to convoke a General Council of the Church. On October 11, 1962, after more than three and one-half years of preparation, the Second Vatican Council was convened. 2,400 bishops from all parts of the world converged on Rome, and with the Holy Father presiding they gathered in St. Peter's Basilica to commence their deliberations.

In calling this vast assembly of bishops, the latest and humble successor of the Prince of the Apostles, John XXIII, intended to assert once again the Church's magisterium (teaching authority) in order that this magisterium, taking into account the errors, the requirements and the opportunities of our time, might be presented in exceptional form to all men throughout the world.

In an address before the opening of Vatican II Pope John XXIII, in brief, said he looks to the Council to reaffirm the social teachings of his encyclical, Christianity and Social Progress. The Holy Father noted several moral obligations which are fundamental to sound social order. He mentioned the basic equality of all peoples within the family of nations in the exercise of their rights and duties. By implication, he reproved both atheistic Communism and extreme Individualism. He called for the vindication of religious liberty. He feels the Council should help lead to the triumph of peace and foster a deeper application of fellowship and love.

Pope John XXIII sees in the needs and miseries of the world a challenge to Christian charity and brotherhood. And he sees in Vatican Council II an answer to this challenge.

Clearly there is need, in this uncertain world, of a strong rallying point for the forces of peace, brotherhood, and progress. The Pope has called upon the Council to satisfy this need by furnishing the world with unity in purpose and strength in leadership.

TRACK 3

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Leo J. Ryan, V.G., P.A., S.T.D. and Rev. Walter F. Sullivan bid farewell to Bishop John J. Russell, D.D., Bishop of Richmond and Auxiliary Bishop Ernest Unterkoefer as they prepare to leave for Rome to attend Vatican Council II. Monsignor Ryan, as Vicar General, is in charge of the diocese in the absence of the bishop. Father Sullivan is Secretary of the Tribunal of the Richmond Diocese.

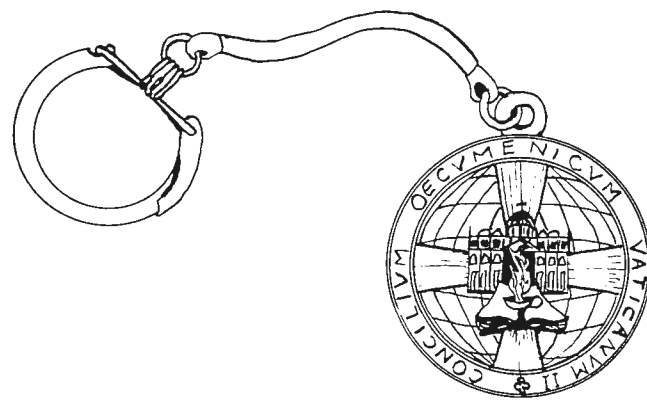

Dear Students,
I enclose my prayers

RICHMOND DIOCESE'S BISHOPS ATTEND VATICAN II

In early October, 1962, Bishop John J. Russell, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese of Richmond, and Auxiliary Bishop Ernest Unterkoefer, D.D., Titular Bishop of Latopolis, left the United States en route to Rome and the convening of the first Ecumenical Council to be held in almost 100 years. Pope John XXIII opened the Council on October 11, 1962 in St. Peter's Basilica. In the initial address, he stressed the fact that the Church must take a lead in the work of Christian unity. And therein lies the purpose of the bishops' trip to Rome.

After more than three years of preparation, the convention of bishops is faced with such subjects as the following: the basis of moral order; how best can the organizational work of the Church provide for the modern care of souls; or, the great question of the liturgy, to mention a few. Their duty is to deliberate upon these subjects until they arrive at a satisfactory conclusion.

The first session of the Council adjourned December 8, 1962, at which time the bishops returned home. The second session will convene in May, 1963, when the bishops will again return to Rome and resume their unfinished work.

It is impossible to predict a possible outcome of this Council. We can, however, as the Holy Father urges, pray: "O Sweet Guest of the Soul, strengthen our minds in truth and dispose our hearts to obey, so that we may accept with conviction and carry out with a ready will whatever is determined in the Council."

THE BASE

They that instruct many to justice (shall shine) as stars for all eternity.

OUR SPIRITUAL

Father John S. Igoe, Dean of Southwestern Virginia, was ordained from Belmont Abbey by Bishop Denis J. O'Connell on June 13, 1924. He came to Roanoke from Fort Monroe in 1950 and is pastor of St. Andrew's. Formerly, Father also served as chaplain at the Veterans Hospital in Salem.

Father Robert F. Beattie, pastor of Our Lady of Nazareth, was ordained on June 14, 1931. Formerly pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes Church in Alexandria, Virginia, he came to Roanoke, on January 1, 1954.

Monsignor Peter Rabil was ordained a priest of the Maronite Rite in 1907, in Lebanon, his original home. He came to the United States in 1913 for a "temporary" assignment, and has been pastor of St. Elias, Roanoke, for the past forty-six years! He is also a Chor-Bishop in the Maronite Rite.

PITONS

Father Bernard Krimm, C.S.S.R., was ordained on June 18, 1939. He came to Roanoke from Dalton, Georgia, in May, 1959, and is now pastor of St. Gerard's Church. Father's chief claim to fame is the fact that he was a missionary to Puerto Rico for ten years. Father teaches sophomore and senior religion at R. C. H.

Father Joseph T. Coughlin, C.S.S.R., was ordained on June 17, 1945. He came to Roanoke in February, 1962, from St. Mary's College, North East, Pennsylvania. Father is at St. Gerard's and helps at Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Salem. At present he is also chaplain at the Veterans Hospital in Salem, Virginia.

Father Edward P. Browne came to St. Andrew's in 1960, from Martinsburg, West Virginia. He was ordained in 1951. Father is in charge of the C. C. D. in Roanoke and is moderator of the Newman Club at Roanoke College. The golf team at R. C. H. is ably coached by Father Browne.

THE R. C. H. S.

The faculty is the strength of a school and Roanoke Catholic is wealthy in this line. Besides the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth, Kentucky, who are superb, we have Mr. Thomas Harkins, Mrs. Roger Little, and Senora Gaston, all of whom are outstanding in their respective fields.

THE FIRST RUNG

The class of 1967, commonly known around R. C. H. as the sub-frosh, is the lowest rung on the five-rung ladder of the high school diploma. This fact does not seem to bother this group of energetic teens, who are the lifeblood of the school spirit.

These youngsters are active in almost every organization in the school. They maintain the major interest in the Junior Red Cross, the stamp drive, and the Catholic Student Mission Crusade's Study Clubs.

Although these "children" are a bit of a trial to the upperclassmen at times, if there is a job to be done, you can always find a sub-freshman willing to try. We salute these trying, but trying underclassmen.

The elite of the lowly are Student Council Representative George Simpson, President Tommy Ripley, Vice-President Penny Texter, Secretary Deborah Bost, Treasurer Mary Souma, and Student Council Representative Patty Kramer.

Helping others learn the fundamentals of the library are Peggy Bushway, Mary Ann Dill, Karen Meador, Elizabeth Brant, Annette Ragone, Brenda Ellis, Mark Duetsch, Debbie Bost, Penny Texter, Annette Scott, James Remmell, and Michael Funk.

Sam Stewart and Larry Mattox use the atlas in history class as Susan Wright, Anita Wilson, Cynthia Josey, Kelsey Reed, Mary Tankersley, and Bernie Crail look on.

Conducting a science experiment are Bruce Cranmer, C. J. Redburn, Pat Driscoll, Lelia Coleman, Beverly Waldis, Gary Chewning, and Pat Graybill.

Busy at work in the library are Robert Stanley, Betty Powell, Jo Anne Hughes, Carleen Grubb, Stanley Smith, John Keegan, Tony Sartini, Steve Tucker, and Larry Carter.

Eighth graders participate in a discussion of one of the Great Books which each student has read. Mrs. Harold Kyle is discussion leader of the group. The students striving higher intellectually are Mary Tankersley, Linda Nablo, Debbie Bost, Susan Wright, Richard Wright; Kelsey Reed, Sally Glenn, Mary Souma, Patty Kramer, Jo Anne, Hughes, Cynthia Josey, and Annette Ragone. Absent when picture was taken were Wanda Doss, and Mark Duetsch.

NEWEST TENANTS

Father Hannan directs an amusing question to Susan Dunagan during the freshman religion period.

The freshmen are the newest tenants in the new R. C. H. building. They have graduated from the old into the new look. Under the direction of Sister Helen Maureen and Mr. Thomas Harkins, these youngsters are getting into the "swing" of high school life.

They, too, are active in the school organizations. The Rosary Club, Catholic Students Mission Crusade's Study Clubs, Junior Red Cross, and others would cease to function without the energetic, active participation of these typical teenagers.

The freshest of the Fresh are Student Council Representatives Dewey George and Loretta Ogden, Treasurer James Huff, Secretary Paul Ripley, Vice-President Tommy Mitchell, and President Jacky Andrews.

Tommy Davis and Peggy O'Connor hold a map of Treasure Island while Mrs. Little explains its details to the class.

George Simpson recites "perfect" Latin I as Sister Helen Maureen and the class observe his "perfection."

Bobby Butler locates a position on the map for Robert Jones in World History class.

WISE FOOLS

Listening to her sentence is Jennifer Jacobs, as she phones home on report card day. Looking on are Sara Hartman, Laura Boush, Kathy Emerson, Gary Haase, and Pat Bergeron.

The "wise fools," or more commonly called the sophomores, have this year reached the exalted heights of being in the middle—higher than the underclassmen but lower than the upperclassmen. This "being in the middle" doesn't seem to hold the sophomores down, however, for they can be found in any activity or organization on the Hill.

This year they have added their voices to the Glee Club, making the number greater than ever. Besides Glee Club, the sophomores can be found in the Rosary Club, C. S. M. C., and the National Honor Society. They were among the founders of the R. C. H. band.

Certainly the sophomores can be called the Spirit of school spirit.

During a sociology field trip to St. Vincent's Home, Sister Maria Jude's class examines the Halloween handiwork of Senior Girl Scout Troop 16.

Looking for biology specimens on Catholic Hill are Helen Wilson, Mary Crail, Sharon Hammersley, John Skibinski, Steve Shufflebarger, and Judy Carroll.

This sophomore English class seems to be enjoying their story as much as Sister Kathleen Maria.

Kathy Brady and Reggie Meador explain the solution of an Algebra II problem to the rest of the class.

THE NEWEST LOOK

The Junior Class of R. C. H. this year finds itself a real part of the workings of the school. Besides being responsible for the Prom, they are part of the executive board of the student council.

The juniors are the "new look" at R. C. H. They will be the first class to graduate on the seven-five program. They also have had the accelerated courses throughout high school. Actually they were the guinea pigs for the experiment.

The Prom is the grand event at R. C. H. The juniors, during second semester, may be seen wearing secretive expressions, for all the preparations must be kept secret from the senior class.

In the spring of '63 the juniors will receive their senior class rings, making them, unofficially, the upperclassmen.

Juniors, like the underclassmen, are also active in the many organizations on the hill. They can be found in the Glee Club, newspaper staff, student council, National Honor Society, and C. S. M. C. They are certainly preparing themselves to accept the numerous duties of a senior class.

The Junior class officers are seen as they arrive on the hill for a day of hard work in school. They are Dick Hammerstrom, president; Willie George, secretary; Muriel Hurt, vice-president; Rosemary Price, treasurer; and Jim Collins and Jimmy Wood, Student Council representatives.

An amazed Father Hannan listens to the correct answer given by Becky Shedwell in junior religion class.

The American History class pays special attention as Mr. Harkins explains the European Powers with the aid of a map.

Sister Frances Jeanne looks on approvingly as Pat Wooddall, Liz Droppleman, and Mickey Lynch do their shorthand assignment correctly.

Sister Aloysia explains a problem to the Math IV class as Brian Messitt, with the help of Franny Surkamer, attempts to illustrate.

Kathy Mitchell and Mickey Hammerstrom listen attentively as Senora Gaston explains the verb divertir to her Spanish II class.

The Ecumenical Council is explained at a P. T. A. meeting by David Murphy, Ann Tankersley, Dennis Deane, Betty Jo Huffman. Marianne Montano, also a member of the student panel, was absent when the picture was taken.

The Junior boys exemplify a typical luncheon scene as they are served by Mrs. Eloise Wright, Mrs. Elsie Waldron, Mrs. Pernie Williams and Mrs. Louis Ribble.

THE PINNACLE

Let us stand, as it were, on a mountain top and look into the misty distances of the future, toward that Eternal Commencement which we hope one day to attain.

Constance,
It's been a long, hard climb for me, but now it's all over. We must go on to bigger things. Keep that honor Society going. Don't maybe you'll be first. Don't forget the class of
'63 and me! Hatched

CLASS of 1963

An Ode to our Alma Mater

Here is a song for you dear Catholic High.

The Senior Class of 1963 is proud to be able to say that we claim you as our Alma Mater.

We pledge our love and loyalty.

In the coming years we will look back upon our high school years as the best ever.

You're everything it takes to make a school—good times, fun, and books and lessons, games and parties.

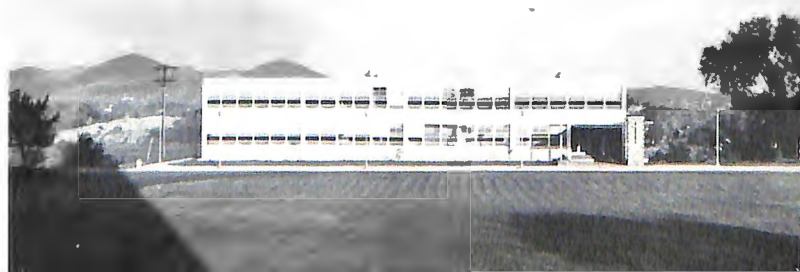

We will always remember the receiving of our class ring; our Christmas Dance, "December Delight"; the boys' "hop"; the girls' bake sales; and best of all—the Prom! Of course, we could never forget our Prom with all its planning, labor, and that wonderful night! Needless to say, the classes, and the teachers will forever be with us in mind and heart. The near explosions in chemistry lab, the mispronunciations in French, Spanish, and Latin classes, the struggles in the English, Math, and Religion classes will continue to cause a fond smile in the years to come.

There is no school that can compare with you in any way or anywhere.

Not even those schools that were lucky enough to beat us. Despite them RCH had a winning season mentally, physically, and spiritually.

So we'll stand by you, love you, 'til we die, Roanoke Catholic High.

Roanoke Catholic High School—PHASE ONE.

AMBITIOUS

Sister Jeannette lends a helping hand to chemistry students Bob Nablo, Libby Driscoll, Barbara Olander, Richard Barbarics, and Jack Carroll during the Wednesday lab class.

INDUSTRIOUS

Industriously working during typing class are seniors Joe Donckers, Barbara Olander, Kathy Atchison, Betty Barr, John Guzi, Emmaline Alley, Nan Stockton, Mary Shank, and Wanda Moses.

Sister Helen Maureen supervises the senior Government class as they board the school bus in preparation for a tour of the Roanoke City and County administrative facilities in conjunction with the City Municipal Days.

CONGENIAL

Pete Wood, Bob Kelley, and Eddie Haase listen attentively to Mr. Paul Sales, graphics instructor, as he explains certain aspects of a mobile.

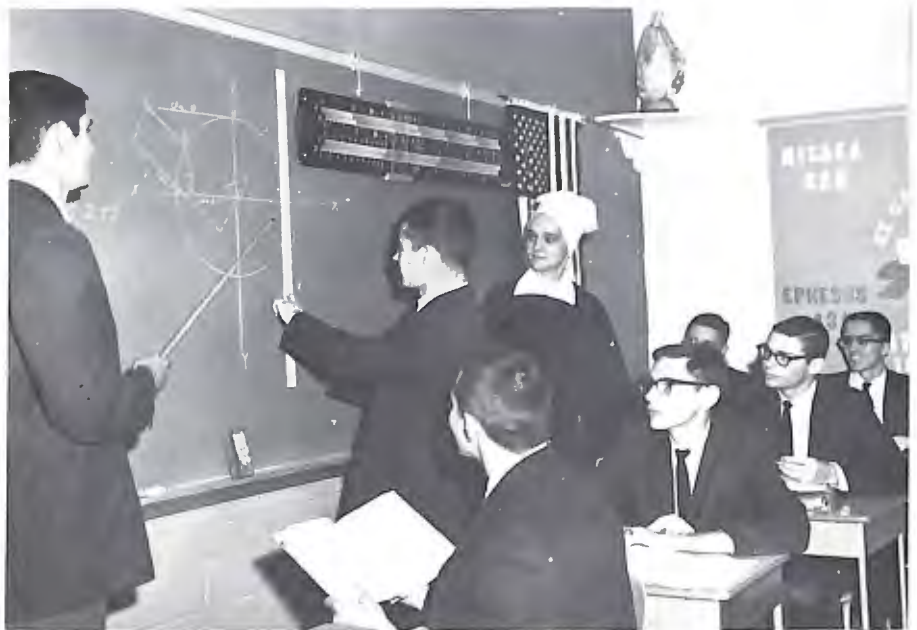

Cathie Kramer operates the tape recorder for the French II class. Enthusiastic students Sheila Murray, Judy Hedrick, Lee Wooddall, Eddie Haase, Sara Coleman, David Pillis, James Bier, Alice Svec, Billy Glenn, and Rosemary Griffin participate with the class in the pronunciation and comprehension exercises.

Seniors Mike McFadden, Tom Heilmann and Mike McMahon are seen as they hurriedly prepare to leave school after a hard day of study.

Richard Barbarics points as Jerry Tankersley measures and Sister Aloysia supervises a trigonometry illustration. The fascinated onlookers are seniors James Bier, Harris Wilson, Joe Walsh, Clarence Wright, and Jack Carroll.

Father Bernard Krimm, C.S.S.R., supervises Harris Wilson as he reads a selection from the Bible during senior Religion class. Listening attentively are Cathie Kramer, Libby Driscoll, John Guzi, Clarence Wright, David Courey, and Bill Bova.

Seniors Sara Gillespie and John Guzi are seen as they put the finishing touches on the Senior bulletin board display of the Ecumenical Council.

Eddie Haase and Charlie Boush raking leaves ?????

Lee Wooddall and Wyn Wilson keep the north bulletin board in the main hall attractively decorated.

The senior varsity lettermen are seen 'on the Hill' in their letter jackets. The proud owners are Mike McFadden and Bob Kyle in the foreground. Pete Wood, Gary Wingo, Bob Nablo, Jerry Tankersley are in the middle with David Pillis, Mike McMahon, and Joe Donckers at the top.

Libby Driscoll and Judy Hedrick are caught in a typical pose as they consult with Father Hannan on the Roanoke Valley Catholic High Development Fund.

R. C. H.'s disc jockey—Fred Frelantz of WROV—during one of the senior-sponsored hops.

Delightful Lee Wooddall devastatingly displays the latest in teen fashion as R. C. H.'s Miller & Rhoads' Fashion Model.

Joe Walsh is seen enjoying the work on his assignment for the weekly Teen-Talk page of the Roanoke World News.

SOARING

Billy Glenn listens as Judy Hedrick reads the current school news on WROV's weekly radio show "Teen-Town."

Beth Waldis, as student office assistant, is taking dictation from Father Hannan as her picture is snapped.

Sister Frances Edwin smiles congratulations to a proud James Bier and Clarence Wright as they receive news of the National Merit Scholarship. Jim was a finalist and Clarence received a letter of commendation.

Lee Wooddall and Judy Hedrick discuss their expectations of Girls' State while...

Tom Heilmann and Richard Barbarics anxiously await their transportation to attend Boys' State.

SENIORS

Clarence Wright bids farewell as he departs for the Roanoke World News Press Conference.

Sheila Murray is presented with the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award Pin by Sister Frances Edwin.

Mike O'Connor plays the organ with dance band "Ricky and the Romans."

Constance Mitchell steps into the car with Rosemary Griffin and Gary Wingo as they prepare to attend the 1962 Southern Interscholastic Press Association Convention in Lexington, Virginia.

THE RANGE

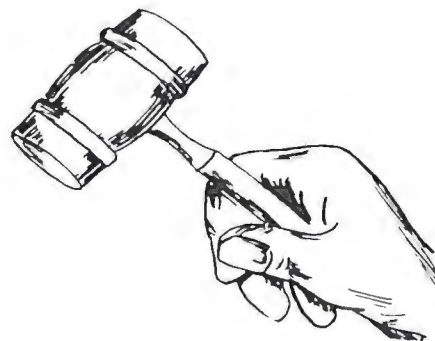

Every excellent work shall be justified and the worker thereof shall be honored.
Ecclesiasticus 14:21.

Student Council Treasurer, Mike Bentley, performs his favorite task of counting money while Vice-President, Mike McMahon, dictates a letter to Secretary, Franny Surkamer. President, Cathie Kramer, reads an announcement over the intercom system.

R. C. H. STUDENT COUNCIL

Under the capable supervision of President Cathie Kramer, the new demerit system was installed at R. C. H. during the '62-'63 school year. This year the school participated in the newly-organized Inter-School Student Council Association. A project of this group was the student exchange program. In conjunction with this plan, Jefferson High School's Student Association President, Robbie Baldwin, addressed a Student Council Assembly at R. C. H. on School Spirit.

Another activity of the Inter-School Council was the selection during Brotherhood Week of a senior boy outstanding in scholarship and activities. One student in each school was elected for this honor by the student body with the faculty making the final choice from the top three winners in this voting. Joseph Walsh was voted the R. C. H. recipient of this Brotherhood Award.

Mike as Treasurer of the Student Council has a mania for money-making projects. This year, these projects included a "Clock" Contest, the Christmas Tree Sale, the Campus Store, and the "Hops." Hopefully Mike will put the Treasury in the Black.

Not to be forgotten are Student Council Vice-President Mike McMahon, who is the capable substitute when Cathie is disabled, and Secretary Franny Surkamer, who faithfully records demerits each Friday.

Robbie Baldwin of Jefferson High.

Joseph Walsh—Brotherhood Award

The student body and the faculty of Roanoke Catholic are most interested in the Student Council Assemblies.

Pacelli Chapter at R. C. H.

Character, Scholarship, Leadership, Service. These are the four requisites for membership in the National Honor Society. This society functions at Roanoke Catholic through the Pacelli Chapter. Students who maintain an average of 90% and who are outstanding also in Character, Leadership and Service are eligible for membership. Qualifying sophmores become probationary members; juniors and seniors may qualify as active members.

Father Gabriel T. Maioriello, guest speaker at the Fall Convocation, told the students that the intellectual prowess of the Pacelli Chapter members demonstates the effective use of God's gifts to the best of their ability. Father concluded his impressive talk with the thought: "The race today is for brains—not brawn."

Catholic Students Mission Crusade

Stamp counting, a C. S. M. C. project, is carried on by Donald Spenser, Joseph Domiano, Bill Albert, Mary Ann Dill, and Richard Pagano.

C. S. M. C. President, Alice Svec, leads the student rosary before the grotto of the Blessed Mother. Assisting are Vice-President, Tom Heilmann, and Secretary-Treasurer, Becky Shedwell.

The C. S. M. C. started off the school year with active R. C. H. student participation in making rosaries, in collecting stamps and in "prayer, study and sacrifice" for the missions. During the Christmas season, RCH'ers gathered baskets of food which were delivered to the needy in Roanoke. The spiritual year at R. C. H. closed with the May Procession in honor of Our Blessed Mother.

Betty Jo Huffman, President; Diane Diamond, Secretary-Treasurer; and Darlene Brickhouse, Vice-President, of the Rosary Club, enthusiastically inspect the new rosary materials just arrived.

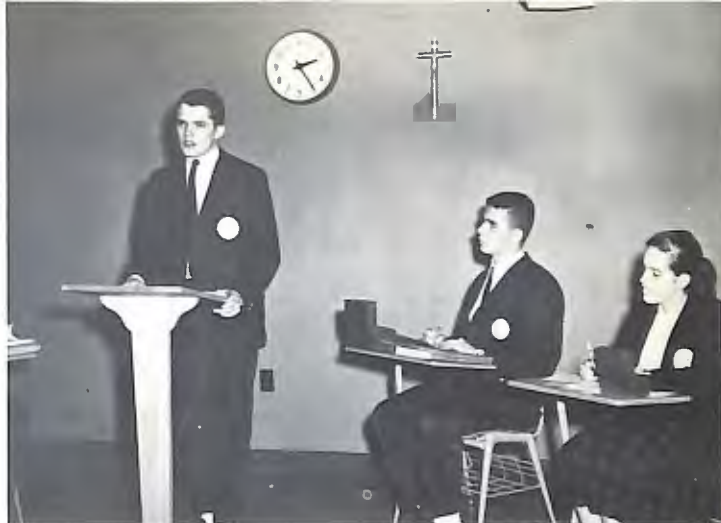

Mark Duetsch, and Penny Texter work on a mission rosary while Betty Powell and Jim Rimmell admire rosaries ready for the missions.

Jimmy Alouf, sophomore.

SPEECH at R. C. H.

Joe Riener explains his stand on the Common Market of the Western Hemisphere in a practice debate while the opposing team of Jimmy Alouf and Danielle Kain listens.

Debater, Mike Bentley, a junior.

Speech activities at R. C. H. include not only the Saint Thomas More Forensic Society for enthusiastic debaters, but also Extemporaneous Speaking, Original Oratory and Declamation.

The Forensic League was initiated at R. C. H. in 1961 by its present Adviser, Sr. Kathleen Maria. Just in its second year of existence, the Forensic League is realizing a second winning season. In the St. Vincent Invitational Tournament at Newport News, Virginia, February 16, R. C. H. amassed a total number of points to place sixth out of seventeen public and Catholic schools participating.

In Original Oratory, Jim Alouf placed third in the Roanoke Valley Voice of Democracy Contest held February 15.

In Original Oratory and Extemporaneous Speaking, Joe Walsh won first place in city competition, February 15, in the American Legion Oratorical Contest on the Constitution of the U. S. He also placed first in the district competition at Bedford, February 22, and in the Regional Contest at Cave Spring, March 15. Joe came second in State Competition, March 27, and was awarded $125.

Joe Walsh, senior.

Sister Kathleen Maria.

Sister Maria Jude directs the Glee Club. Members first row: Wyn Wilson, Wanda Albert, Diane Diamond, Judy Hagerty, Gwen Woody, Rosita Moses, Teresa Morefield, Karen Blackman, Marilyn Montano, Barbara Bentley, Jennifer Jacobs, Susan Kramer, Mike Agee, David Pillis, Michael Courey, Gary Haase, Donna Pironito, Mary Shank. Second row: Peggy McClure, Carol Bush, Betty Theimer, Debbie Pagano, Sara Gillespie, Judy Willis, Mickey Lynch, Lee Wooddall, Kathy Emerson, Marilyn Wilson, Jane Wooddall, Pat Godlewski, Mike McDonald, Edwin Howard, Diane Nunley, Sharon Hammersley, Libby Driscoll. Third row: Elizabeth Brant, Becky Shedwell, Gale Levesque, Sara Hartman, Eileen Giacobbe, Helen Nodzak, Sheila Murray, Liz Droppleman, Constance Mitchell, Candy Texter, Helen Wilson, Anna Marie Humphreys, Kathy Brady, Clare Duetsch, Pat Wooddall, Gordon Buchanan, Tim Moffitt, Beth Waldis, Becky Wiggins, Sara Coleman. Fourth row: Ruth Etue, Linda White, Joanne Skarbek, Betty Jo Huffman, Alice Svec, Cathie Kramer, Stella Piedmont, Nancy Biggs, Maureen Middlecamp, Laura Boush, Carolyn Forrest, Joanne Knott, Jimmy Alouf, Pat McDonald, Bob Kyle, Tom Craddock, Frank Ewald, Kathy Atchison, Joanne Milan, Muriel Hurt. Russell Prusak is seen seated in front helping with sound effects.

GLEE CLUB

The melodious voices of R. C. H. are the product of the laborious efforts of Sister Maria Jude in her capacity as director of the Glee Club.

In Spring 1963, the Glee Club travelled to Lynchburg for the Regional Music Festival. They then travelled to Richmond for the Diocesan Music Festival. In addition to these trips the concerts 'on the Hill' provided a grand display of their vocal talents to the students, faculty, parents, and relatives. This praise is well worth the labor.

Accompanist Judy Hedrick is also Student Director of the Glee Club.

Bob Kyle and Vice-President, David Pillis, arranged chairs while Co-Presidents Muriel Hurt and Lee Wooddall look over the music which is being passed out by Eileen Giacobbe and Sara Gillespie.

Accompanist Rita Wynn is caught in a familiar pose.

Constance Mitchell, accompanist, is surprised as she practices.

Snow Queen Shirley Moody reigned over the festivities of "December Delight" and represented R. C. H. in the city-wide Christmas Parade.

CHRISTMAS at R. C. H.

Christmas, 1962, found varied activities 'on the Hill': The Student Council's Christmas Tree Sale, the Glee Club's singing appearances, and the Seniors' Christmas Dance—"December Delight"—all added to the festive spirit of the season.

The real meaning of Christmas was commemorated by a Christmas Crib displayed in the main hall to emphasize the spiritual aspect of the season. The Cosmopolitan Club under the direction of Senora Gaston presented a history of Christmas in Spain where this season is the most revered of all.

Clarence Wright, Alice Svec, Richard Barbarics, and Tom Heilmann prepare C. S. M. C. Christmas baskets.

Eddie Haase and Alice Svec discuss where to put this Christmas Dance decoration while Cathie Kramer adjusts the bow.

The R. C. H. Glee Club, directed by Judy Hedrick, performs at Crossroads Mall.

Key Business Manager Gary Wingo totals the accounts while Mary Shank, Lee Wooddall, Wyn Wilson, and Bob Kelley type and address bills, supervised by Assistant Business Manager Billy Glenn, standing.

Rosemary Griffin, Editor.

1963 KEY STAFF

Pages, pictures, pencils—this was the bewildered cry of the 1963 KEY staff in September, 1962. They tackled the task of putting together a yearbook enthusiastically, but with the passing days the staff began to realize the immense job facing them—to be completed by March!

With the supervision of Sister Jeannette, the KEY Adviser, the four girls on the editorial staff secured the necessary pictures of activities, classes, and students, and the necessary copy to compile this yearbook. Editor Rosemary Griffin and Co-Editors Libby Driscoll, Judy Hedrick, and Alice Svec labored diligently to meet the deadlines. On the financial end of the KEY Business Manager Gary Wingo secured the necessary funds to produce the 1963 KEY with the help of Assistant Billy Glenn.

Finally this day arrives when “pages, pictures, pencils” is presented to you as the 1963 KEY—the product of the proud Class of '63.

Cathie Kramer and Libby Driscoll provide the KEY with the efforts of their artistic talents.

Co-editors, Judy Hedrick, Alice Svec, Libby Driscoll, and typist Carolyn Forrest, work under the supervision of Adviser Sister, Jeannette and Editor Rosemary Griffin.

Photographer Dennis Deane is caught off guard.

The Celtic Crier

Adviser Sister Helen Maureen directs the layout staff, Kathy Mitchell and Ann Tankersley, as Becky Shedwell looks on.

The R. C. H. newspaper, the Celtic Crier, began the 1962-63 school year with Constance Mitchell as Editor-in-Chief and Sister Helen Maureen as Adviser. Under the capable supervision of Sister and the diligent labor of Constance the Crier improved steadily with every edition.

The finances were effectively handled by Debbie Pagano, in her function as Business Manager. Debbie's biggest duty, by far, was the securing of ads from the Roanoke merchants. But Debbie never seemed to be fazed by this task.

The KEY would like to salute its journalistic cohort 'on the Hill' for a job well done.

Crier typists Betty Jo Huffman, Carolyn Forrest, Sheila Murray, and Wyn Wilson inspect the fruit of their labors.

Constance Mitchell, standing, Editor-in-Chief, consults with her editorial staff. They are Bill Herbert, Barbara Bentley, Sara Gillespie, and Kathy Brady.

Business Manager Debbie Pagano receives the reports of assistants Donald Spenser, and Diane Nunley.

Richard Barbarics explains his project to Bruce Cranmer.

Clarence Wright's Fuel Cell attracted much attention.

SCIENCE FAIR

The ninth Annual Science Fair at R. C. H. was held on March 2 and 3, 1963, with 169 entries. The winning projects were as follows:

Boys' Physical Sciences: Clarence Wright, first place; Jerry Tankersley, second place; Steve Shufflebarger, third place.

Girls' Physical Sciences: Joanne Milan, first place; Cathie Kramer, second place; Kathy Brady, third place.

Boys' Biological Division: Mike McDonald, first place; Douglas Argabright, second place; Tim Moffitt, third place.

Girls' Biological Division: Gwen Woody, first place; Diane Nunley, second place; Candy Texter and Diane Diamond, a tie for third place.

Boys' Junior Division: Joe Darago, first place; Tony Sartini, second place; Bruce Cranmer, third place.

Girls' Junior Division: Carol Brickhouse, first place; Susan Wright, second place; Mary Tankersley, third place.

The Virginia Society of Professional Engineers awarded first prizes to Richard Barbarics, Cathie Kramer, and Tony Sartini. Runners-up were Clarence Wright and Steve Shufflebarger, Clare Duetsch and Jeanette Wadner, and Bruce Cranmer.

The five most representative entries chosen to participate in the regional fair at Roanoke College were Clarence Wright, Jerry Tankersley, Mike McDonald, Cathie Kramer, and Joanne Milan.

Eddie Haase, Debbie Washburn, Bill Glenn and Pam Divers stop to chat in the castle gardens.

Eileen Giacobbe and Harris Wilson stepping lively in the castle hall.

Joe Donckers, Susan Waldroup, Mike McMahon, Sarah Land, Libby Driscoll and Harris Wilson visit the refreshment table.

Stella Piedmont, Sara Gillespie, David Pillis and Bob Kyle at intermission.

An Evening

The ancient mystic land of Camelot was vividly personified in the 1963 Junior-Senior Prom on the evening of May 11. Complete with towers, drawbridge, armor, and shields, it inspired thoughts of days when knighthood was in flower and heroes rode into battle on white chargers. It was indeed a night to remember.

The festivities began with a welcome address by Junior Class President Dick Hammerstrom, followed by the coronation ceremony. Barbara Olander reigned as Queen of Camelot, with Muriel Hurt presiding as Princess, and a lovelier court could not be found, even in the original kingdom. Next was the singing of "Mother Beloved" by the assembled juniors and seniors and then the Camelot Waltz. The specially-written rendition of "Camelot" was performed by the juniors. Senior Lead-outs and senior and junior dances ended the formalities of the evening.

Music for the dance that followed was provided by the Divots. Finally sadly, at the magic hour of midnight, the "Loveliest Night of the Year" ended, and the majesty of Camelot was no more.

The entire court sings "Mother Beloved."

Our Queen Our Mother

On May 3, 1963, R. C. H. held its second annual May Procession with the newly-ordained Father John Paul Blankenship officiating. The procession began at 1:30 as the students walked around the mall reciting the rosary. The seniors, wearing their caps and gowns for the first time, formed a cross in the procession. As the student body sang Immaculate Mary, Alice Svec attended by Cathie Kramer and Judy Hedrick crowned Our Lady. Father Hannan's sermon on Mary and her month of May was followed by Father Blankenship's first Benediction.

Alice Svec crowns Our Queen.

Cathie Kramer and Judy Hedrick attend Alice Svec who crowned our Blessed Mother.

Father J. P. Blankenship gives his first Benediction at the R. C. H. May Procession.

The climax of the retreat was the blessing of the senior rings by the Bishop.

Harris Wilson, Clarence Wright, and Mike O'Connor are caught in a familiar retreat pose.

BISHOP UNTERKOEFLER HOLDS FALL RETREAT

On September 20 and 21, 1962, Roanoke Catholic High students were honored to have Bishop Ernest L. Unterkoefer conduct the Annual Retreat. The Bishop's talks, daily Mass and Communion, and the retreat stillness of the R. C. H. campus spurred everyone to a spirit of prayer. May the fruit of this retreat remain with the students and lead them through life and into a happy eternity.

Another familiar scene is struck by Altermease Willis, Loretta Odgen, and Franny Surkamer.

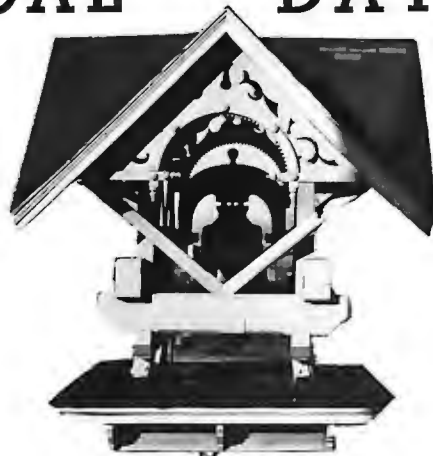

Bishop Unterkoefer talks to the juniors and seniors.

Around the grotto are found meditating students Jackie Andrews, Gary Chewning, and Francis Carroll.

ECUMENICAL DAY

On October 11, 1962, the students and faculty of Roanoke Catholic observed a special Ecumenical Day. The reason for this observance was to make the student body more aware of Vatican Council II called by Pope John XXIII and convened October 11, 1962.

At the Communion, as the student body asks to be made worthy to receive His Son, special remembrance is made of the intention of Pope John XXIII.

Joe Walsh, a R. C. H. senior, reads the Gospel at the Mass offered for the success of Vatican Council II.

Father John P. Hannan, R. C. H. co-ordinator, delivers a sermon explaining Vatican Council II and tells several ways in which the students can help toward its successful end.

Dennis Sharpe, Jack Carroll, and Bill Bova ring the church bell at noon on Ecumenical Day.

The R. C. H. senior class is seen at the special student Mass offered for the success of the Council.

AT R. C. H.

Cathie Kramer, president of R. C. H. Student Council, leads the student body via the intercom system in the recitation of the prayer for the success of the Ecumenical Council. This recitation is in compliance with the wishes of Pope John XXIII that this prayer be recited daily.

Debbie Pagano and Ruth Etue prepare the main bulletin board with an Ecumenical display for the month of October.

David Pillis, Tom Heilmann, Sheila Murray and Jerry Tankersley compare scrapbooks on the Ecumenical Council prepared for Father Bernard Krimm's senior religion class.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

Reaching the pinnacle is only the beginning. Decisions are now forthcoming. Shall it be college? If so, where? Seniors poring over catalogues are Bill Bova, Jack Carroll, Betty Barr, Sara Coleman, Sheila Murray, Lee Woodall and Bill Glenn.

Sister Mary Paul talks with Nan Stockton and Alice Svec about Nazareth College.

Professor John Garruto of Hollins College leads Mike Eunice, class of '62, Sheila Carney, class of '61, and Donna Powers, class of '60, in a panel discussion on the difference between college and high school life and studies.

Libby Driscoll and Joanne Knott interview Sister Corita, a Mission Helper of the Sacred Heart, after her visit with the seniors.

Pat Wooddall, Treasurer, reads her report during a meeting of the Future Business Leaders of America. The other officers are Eileen Giacobbe, historian; Stella Piedmont, vice-president; Sara Gillespie, president; and Judy Willis, secretary.

PHASE II

MacLane and Chewning's Architects, Mr. J. Allen MacLane and Mr. Morton R. Shiff, discuss the plans with Father Beattie.

March, 1963, work began on the gym-cafeteria-auditorium. Covering 117 square feet, Phase II will be the third largest building in the U. S. having an hyperbolic paraboloid roof design. When used as a gym the building will seat 1,000; as an auditorium, 1,750. Under the west stands will be the locker rooms; the cafeteria will be beneath the east stands.

The Celtics claimed the championship title in the Knights of Columbus Basketball Tournament at Charlotte, North Carolina, March 3. After defeating Holy Cross, 62-45, in the semi-finals, our Celtics whipped Charlotte Catholic, 61-36. Billy Herbert and Mike McMahon were named to the all-tournament team while Gary Wingo won a second-team position. These three victories gave R. C. H. a 12-10 season record for the best mark in recent years.

J. V. Basketball Team: Gary Haase, Dewey George, Joe Riener, Donnie Assaid, Pat McDonald, Mike McDonald, Tim Moffitt, John Skibinski, Bobby Butler, Jack Stanley, and Steve Shufflebarger. The J. V. Team was coached by Mr. Bob Ayersman.

Linkers Boast State Champion

Virginia's State Junior Golf Champion, Bill Herbert, proudly displays his trophy. Bill is a sophomore at R. C. H.

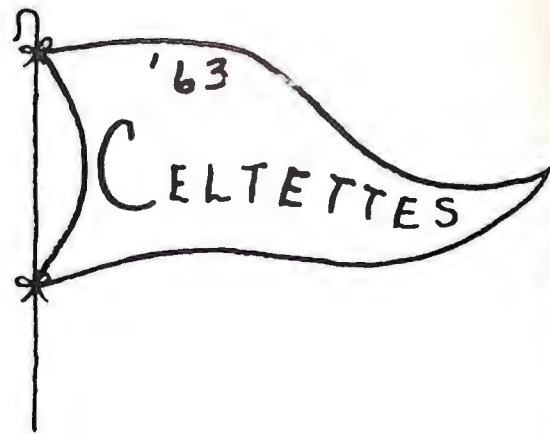

Father Edward P. Browne, Coach, watches the techniques of four of the six members of the 1963 team. They are Richard Barbarics, Bill Herbert, Tim Moffitt, and Jack Carroll.

Never can it be said that R. C. H. doesn't make an extraordinary showing in every phase of its extracurricular activities. A splendid example is the golf team. This small fraction of the student body—nine boys—ended the 1962 season with Bill Herbert capturing the Virginia State Junior Golf Championship.

Father Edward P. Browne is the capable Coach of the team which consists of seniors Richard Barbarics, Jack Carroll, and Gary Wingo; junior Gordon Buchanan; sophomores Tim Moffitt and Bill Herbert; freshmen Donnie Assaid and Robert Pope; and sub-freshman C. J. Redburn.

Contenders for the fifth and sixth places on the team were C. J. Redburn and Robert Pope; kneeling: Donnie Assaid, Gordon Buchanan, and Gary Wingo, standing. Donnie Assaid and Gary Wingo were the successful contenders.

Winning Season

The R. C. H. Cellettes, coached by Mrs. Roger Little, closed their '62-'63 basketball year with a winning season. The girls made several trips to meet their opponents. At Richmond they defeated Marymount only to be defeated by St. Gertrude's. The long, one-day trip to Williamsburg was rewarded by a victory over Walsingham.

On March 7, R. C. H. defeated Jefferson, 23-13, in the City-County Girls' Basketball Tournament semi-finals. In the final game, the Cellettes fought hard, but lost by only two points to Patrick Henry. The final score was 31-29.

Off to Richmond are Marianne Montano, Joanne Knott, Susan Kramer, Cathie Kramer, Stella Piedmont, and Nancy Biggs.

TRACK

Bob Kyle practices his discus form.

Mike and Pat McDonald hold the bar for Jack Stanley's high jump.

Track Coach Mr. Harkins announced that the Celtics participated in the City-County Track Meet May 4. Bob Kyle, Mike McMahon, and John Hurley are the Celtic disc men. Broad jumpers are Jerry Tankersley and Frank Turk; Jack Stanley is high jumper.

Dashmen are Jerry Tankersley, Bob Nablo, Frank Turk, and Donald Hall. The 440 men are Mike Stinnett and Jack Stanley.

Smiley Brown attempts a high jump.

Basketball trophies went to Dick Hammerstrom and Mike McFadden, Most Improved Players; Mike McMahon, Best Offensive; and Gary Wingo, Best Defensive.

After the Charlotte K of C Tournament victory, Billy Herbert and Mike McMahon, All-Tournament Team, and Coach Tom Harkins display their championship trophies.

Laurels

Admiring each others' football trophies are: Mike McMahon, Best Line-man; Jerry Tankersley, Most Valuable Player; and Gary Wingo, Best Back.

THE MOON... and beyond!

Bright, new horizons await today's students . . . new technologies . . . new medicines . . . even the moon and whatever lies beyond.

How far today's students go in this space age depends partly on their imagination but primarily on their training. Conquering new horizons will demand more of today's graduates — more knowledge, more skills, more training and more specialization.

Our Free Enterprise system, with its high living standards, gives everyone an opportunity to "shoot for the moon" in any field. Whether or not our target is reached depends on how well trained we are to launch ourselves.

MEN OF PROGRESS

"The men most sought after today are those who have the qualities of self-reliance, courage, resourcefulness and independence of judgment that all through history have distinguished superior men from their inferiors. Business needs the contributions of men who can escape the bonds of conformity to recognize emerging new problems and offer fresh solutions. What is progress but successful adaptation to new problems and opportunities?"

Today, as always, the C&P voice with a smile is as close as "Operator" on your dial. Intelligently, cheerfully, the "Operator" handles phone calls to faraway places and intricate day-to-day problems of telephone users. Her job is interesting, important, demanding and rewarding. She's an indispensable member of our C&P communications service team.

wish to thank all who helped to make this 1963 KEY a reality.

Dennis Deane and Sister Jeannette for their perseverance with us in the field of photography.

Our priests for their guidance and assistance to us.

Father Hannan, Sister Francis Edwin, the faculty members, and the students for their overwhelming support.

Our typists for their untiring patience in typing and retyping for us.

Our advertisers and patrons whose financial assistance was an absolute necessity.

Sister Jeannette, who was always ready to advise us.

God bless each and all of you.

Constance,
all the success
in the world to one of the scholars of the junior class. See you in Sept. Be good and God bless you.
always remember,
Mike Agee

Bonjour
Yellow award winner!
Always remember me - I will.
It's hard to be serious when
I'm so thankful - I always am!
I'm reminded of the words of Plato - "Nothing is human affairs is worth quarreling about."
Keep this in mind - as I often do (you see where the computer came in - unfortunately!)
Always remember me!

Dear Constance,

Well, this year, good or bad, is over (mostly bad I think) About the only thing I'm looking forward to next year is working on the annual, and the prospect of working with Sister Jeanette is not too inviting. Let's go forward with renewed vigor!

Good luck and God's blessing!

Betty Jo ('64)

Dear Constance,

The newspaper was certainly wonderful I only hope that we can do as well with the annual next year even with Sr. Jeanette. Have fun this summer and I'll see you next year when we'll be honest-to-goodness seniors!

Love ya always,
Joanne Milan

Constance,
I'll always remember how much fun we had in Richmond & all the conferences we had in history class.
See you next year
as a senior.
Love
Pat

Constance,
Best of luck
as co-editor of the annual. Remember all those long hours
we spent on the prom
& the reward we got afterwards. Remember those great gym classes & basketball. See you next year as a senior.
